- 1462 (1) in the case of the installation of apparatus, other than on a building³ or other structure, the apparatus, excluding any antenna⁴, would exceed a height of 15 metres above ground level;
- 1463 (2) in the case of the alteration or replacement of apparatus already installed, other than on a building or other structure, the apparatus, excluding any antenna, would when altered or replaced exceed the height of the existing apparatus or a height of 15 metres above ground level, whichever is the greater;
- 1464 (3) in the case of the installation, alteration or replacement of apparatus on a building or other structure, the height of the apparatus taken by itself would exceed:
 - 201 285. (a) 15 metres, where it is installed, or is to be installed, on a building or other structure which is 30 metres or more in height⁵; or
 - 286. (b) 10 metres in any other case;
- 202 1465 (4) in the case of the installation, alteration or replacement of apparatus on a building or other structure, the highest part of the apparatus when installed, altered or replaced would exceed the height of the highest part of the building or structure by more than:
 - 203 287. (a) 10 metres, in the case of a building or structure which is 30 metres or more in height;
 - 288. (b) 8 metres, in the case of a building or structure which is more than 15 metres but less than 30 metres in height; or
 - 289. (c) 6 metres in any other case;
- 204 1466 (5) in the case of the installation, alteration or replacement of apparatus, other than an antenna, on a mast⁶, the height of the mast would, when the apparatus was installed, altered or replaced, exceed any relevant height limit specified in heads (1) to (4) above⁷ in respect of apparatus;
- 1467 (6) in the case of the installation, alteration or replacement of any apparatus other than:
 - 205 290. (a) a mast;
 - 291. (b) an antenna;
 - 292. (c) a public call box;
 - 293. (d) any apparatus which does not project above the level of the surface of the ground; or
 - 294. (e) radio equipment housing,
- 206 1468 the ground or base area of the structure would exceed 1.5 square metres;
- 1469 (7) in the case of the installation, alteration or replacement of an antenna on a building or structure, other than a mast, which is less than 15 metres in height, on a mast located on such a building or structure or, where the antenna is to be

- located below a height of 15 metres above ground level, on a building or structure (other than a mast) which is 15 metres or more in height:
- 207
295. (a) the antenna is to be located on a wall or roof slope facing a highway which is within 20 metres of the building or structure on which the antenna is to be located;
296. (b) in the case of dish antennas, the size of any dish would exceed 0.9 metres or the aggregate size of all of the dishes on the building, structure or mast would exceed 1.5 metres, when measured in any dimension;
297. (c) in the case of antennas other than dish antennas, the development, other than the installation, alteration or replacement of one small antenna⁸ would result in the presence on the building or structure of more than two antenna systems⁹; or
298. (d) the building or structure is a listed building¹⁰ or a scheduled monument¹¹;
- 208
- 1470 (8) in the case of the installation, alteration or replacement of an antenna on a building or structure, other than a mast, which is 15 metres or more in height, or on a mast located on such a building or structure, where the antenna is located at a height of 15 metres or above, measured from ground level:
- 209
299. (a) in the case of dish antennas, the size of any dish would exceed 1.3 metres or the aggregate size of all of the dishes on the building, structure or mast would exceed 3.5 metres, when measured in any dimension;
300. (b) in the case of antennas other than dish antennas, the development, other than the installation, alteration or replacement of a maximum of two small antennas, would result in the presence on the building or structure of more than three antenna systems; or
301. (c) the building or structure is a listed building or a scheduled monument;
- 210
- 1471 (9) in the case of development, other than the installation, alteration or replacement of one small antenna on a dwelling house¹² or within the curtilage¹³ of a dwelling house, on any article 1(5) land¹⁴ or any land which is, or is within, a site of special scientific interest¹⁵, it would consist of:
- 211
302. (a) the installation or alteration of an antenna or of any apparatus which includes or is intended for the support of such an antenna; or
303. (b) the replacement of such an antenna or such apparatus by an antenna or apparatus which differs from that which is being replaced,
- 212
- 1472 unless the development is carried out in an emergency;
- 1473 (10) it would consist of the installation, alteration or replacement of system apparatus within the meaning of the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989¹⁶;
- 1474 (11) in the case of the installation of a mast, on a building or structure which is less than 15 metres in height, such a mast would be within 20 metres of a highway;
- 1475 (12) in the case of the installation, alteration or replacement of radio equipment housing:
- 213
304. (a) the development is not ancillary to the use of any other electronic communications apparatus;
305. (b) the development would exceed 90 cubic metres or, if located on the roof of a building, the development would exceed 30 cubic metres; or
306. (c) on any article 1(5) land, or on any land which is, or is within, a site of special scientific interest, the development would exceed 2.5 cubic metres, unless the development is carried out in an emergency;
- 214

- 1476 (13) in the case of the installation, alteration or replacement on a dwelling house or within the curtilage of a dwelling house of any electronic communications apparatus, that apparatus:
- 215
307. (a) is not a small antenna;
308. (b) being a small antenna, would result in the presence on that dwelling house or within the curtilage of that dwelling house of more than one such antenna; or
309. (c) being a small antenna, is to be located on a roof or on a chimney so that the highest part of the antenna would exceed in height the highest part of that roof or chimney respectively;
- 216
- 1477 (14) in the case of the installation, alteration or replacement on article 1(5) land of a small antenna on a dwelling house or within the curtilage of a dwelling house, the antenna is to be located:
- 217
310. (a) on a chimney;
311. (b) on a building which exceeds 15 metres in height;
312. (c) on a wall or roof slope which fronts a highway; or
313. (d) in the Broads¹⁷, on a wall or roof slope which fronts a waterway;
- 218
- 1478 (15) in the case of the installation, alteration or replacement of a small antenna on a building which is not a dwelling house or within the curtilage of a dwelling house:
- 219
314. (a) the building is on article 1(5) land;
315. (b) the building is less than 15 metres in height, and the development would result in the presence on that building of more than one such antenna; or
316. (c) the building is 15 metres or more in height, and the development would result in the presence on that building of more than two such antennas¹⁸.

397. Class A; permitted development and conditions to which it is subject.

The installation, alteration or replacement on any building¹ or other structure of a height² of 15 metres or more of a microwave antenna³ and any structure intended for the support of a microwave antenna is permitted development⁴.

Development is so permitted, however, subject to the following conditions:

- 1479 (1) the antenna must, so far as is practicable, be sited so as to minimise its effect on the external appearance of the building or structure on which it is installed;
- 1480 (2) an antenna no longer needed for the reception or transmission of microwave radio energy must be removed from the building or structure as soon as reasonably practicable⁵.

In relation to Wales, as to classes of permitted development in respect of development by the crown, aviation development by the crown, crown railways, dockyards and lighthouses, emergency development by the crown and development for national security purposes, see the Town and Country (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, Sch 2 Pts 34-38 (added by SI 2006/1386). As to the erection of buildings for the purposes of housing poultry or other captive birds to protect them from avian influenza, see SI 1995/418 Sch 2 Pt 39 (added by SI 2006/765 (England), SI 2007/952 (Wales), and amended by SI 2008/502 (Wales)).

400 Development not permitted by Class B

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced.

Development is not permitted by Class B¹ if:

- 10 (1) the building² is a dwelling house³ or the building or other structure is within the curtilage⁴ of a dwelling house;
- 11 (2) it would consist of development of a kind described in Class A of Part 24 above⁵;
- 12 (3) it would consist of the installation, alteration or replacement of system apparatus within the meaning of the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989⁶;
- 13 (4) it would result in the presence on the building or structure of
 - 3 (a) more than two antennas;
 - 4 (b) a single antenna exceeding 100 centimetres in length⁷;
 - 5 (c) two antennas which do not meet the relevant size criteria⁸;
 - 6 (d) an antenna installed on a chimney, where the length of the antenna would exceed 60 centimetres;
 - 7 (e) an antenna installed on a chimney, where the antenna would protrude over the chimney;
 - 8 (f) an antenna with a cubic capacity in excess of 35 litres;
- 4 (5) in the case of an antenna to be installed on a roof without a chimney, the highest part of the antenna would be higher than the highest part of the roof;
- 15 (6) in the case of an antenna to be installed on a roof with a chimney, the highest part of the antenna would be higher than the highest part of the chimney stack, or 60 centimetres measured from the highest part of the ridge tiles of the roof, whichever is the lowest;
- 16 (7) in the case of article 1(5) land⁹, it would consist of the installation of an antenna

9. (a) on a chimney, wall or roof slope which faces onto, and is visible from, a highway;
10. (b) in the Broads¹⁰, on a chimney, wall or roof slope which faces onto, and is visible from, a waterway¹¹.

(Z) PART 26: DEVELOPMENT BY ENGLISH HERITAGE

401. Class A; permitted development and special condition to which it is subject.

Development by or on behalf of the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England (commonly known as 'English Heritage')¹, consisting of:

- 1499 (1) the maintenance, repair or restoration of any building or monument²;
- 1500 (2) the erection of screens, fences or covers designed or intended to protect or safeguard any building or monument; or
- 1501 (3) the carrying out of works to stabilise ground conditions by any cliff, watercourse or the coastline, where such works are required for the purposes of securing the preservation of any building or monument, is permitted development³.

Except for development also falling within head (1) above, however, development falling within head (2) above is so permitted subject to the condition that any structure erected in accordance with that permission must be removed at the expiry of a period of six months, or such longer period as the local planning authority⁴ may agree in writing, from the date on which work to erect the structure was begun⁵.

1 As to English Heritage see PARA 1058 post.

2 For these purposes, 'building or monument' means any building or monument in the guardianship of the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England or owned, controlled or managed by the Commission: Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 3(1), Sch 2 Pt 26 para A.3.

407. Class A; permitted development and special conditions to which it is subject.

The installation, alteration or replacement of system apparatus¹ by or on behalf of a driver information system operator² is permitted development³.

Development is so permitted, however, subject to the following conditions:

- 1507 (1) any system apparatus must, so far as practicable, be sited so as to minimise its effect on the external appearance of any building⁴ or other structure on which it is installed;
- 1508 (2) any system apparatus which is no longer needed for a driver information system must be removed as soon as reasonably practicable⁵.

1 For these purposes, 'system apparatus' has the meaning assigned to that term by the Road Traffic (Driver Licensing and Information Systems) Act 1989 s 8(6) (see ROAD TRAFFIC vol 40(2) (2007 Reissue) PARA 651): Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 3(1), Sch 2 Pt 29 para A.3.

In the case of any article 1(5) land¹, development is permitted by Class A² subject to the following conditions:

1511 (1) the developer must, before beginning the development, apply to the local planning authority³ for a determination as to whether the prior approval of the authority will be required to the siting, design and external appearance of the facilities for the collection of tolls⁴;

1512 (2) the application must be accompanied by a written description, together with plans and elevations, of the proposed development together with any fee required to be paid⁵;

1513 (3) the development may not be begun before the occurrence of one of the following:

325. (a) the receipt by the applicant from the local planning authority of a written notice of its determination that such prior approval is not required;

326. (b) where the local planning authority gives the applicant notice within 28 days following the date of receiving his application of its determination that such prior approval is required, the giving of such approval; or
327. (c) the expiry of 28 days following the date on which the application was received by the local planning authority without the local planning authority making any determination as to whether such approval is required or notifying the applicant of its determination;
- 230
- 1514 (4) the development must, except to the extent that the local planning authority otherwise agrees in writing, be carried out:
- 231
328. (a) where prior approval is required, in accordance with the details approved;
329. (b) where prior approval is not required, in accordance with the details submitted with the application; and DEVELOPMENT ORDER/(i) General and Special Development Orders/C. CLASSES OF PERMITTED DEVELOPMENT/(ZD) Part 30: Toll Road Facilities/411. Development not permitted by Class A.

411. Development not permitted by Class A.

Development is not permitted by Class A¹ if:

1516 (1) it is not located within 100 metres, measured along the ground, of the boundary of a toll road²;

1517 (2) the height³ of any building⁴ or structure would exceed:

332. (a) 7.5 metres excluding any rooftop structure⁵; or

333. (b) 10 metres including any rooftop structure;

1518 (3) the aggregate area of the floor space⁶ at or above ground level⁷ of any building or group of buildings within a toll collection area⁸, excluding the floor space of any toll collection booth⁹, would exceed 1, 500 square metres¹⁰.

1 le by the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 3(1), Sch 2 Pt 30, Class A: see PARA 409 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'toll road' means a road which is the subject of a toll order: ibid Sch 2 Pt 30 para A.3. For the meaning of 'toll order' see PARA 409 note 1 ante.

3 For the meaning of references to the height of a building see PARA 266 note 7 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 255 note 10 ante.

5 For these purposes, 'rooftop structure' means any apparatus or structure which is reasonably required to be located on and attached to the roof, being an apparatus or structure which is (1) so located for the provision of heating, ventilation, air conditioning, water, gas or electricity; (2) lift machinery; or (3) reasonably required for safety purposes: Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, Sch 2 Pt 30 para A.3.

6 For the meaning of 'floor space' see PARA 288 note 3 ante.

7 For these purposes, 'ground level' means the level of the surface of the ground immediately adjacent to the building or group of buildings in question or, where the level of the surface of the ground on which it is situated or is to be situated is not uniform, the level of the highest part of the surface of the ground adjacent to it: Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, Sch 2 Pt 30 para A.3.

8 For these purposes, 'toll collection area' means an area of land where tolls are collected in pursuance of a toll order, and includes any facilities for the collection of tolls: ibid Sch 2 Pt 30 para A.3. For the meanings of 'facilities for the collection of tolls' and 'toll' see PARA 409 note 1 ante.

9 For these purposes, 'toll collection booth' means any building or structure designed or adapted for the purposes of collecting tolls in pursuance of a toll order: ibid Sch 2 Pt 30 para A.3.

10 Ibid Sch 2 Pt 30 para A.1.

Class A; permitted development and special conditions to which it is subject.

(ZE) PART 31: DEMOLITION OF BUILDINGS

412. Class A; permitted development and special conditions to which it is subject.

Any building operation consisting of the demolition of a building¹ is permitted development². Development is, however, so permitted subject to the following conditions:

1519 (1) where demolition is urgently necessary in the interests of safety or health and the measures immediately necessary in such interests are the demolition of the building, the developer must, as soon as reasonably practicable, give the local planning authority³ a written justification of the demolition;

1520 (2) where the demolition does not fall within head (1) above and is not excluded demolition⁴:

334. (a) the developer must, before beginning the development, apply to the local planning authority for a determination as to whether the prior approval of the authority will be required to the method of demolition and any proposed restoration of the site;

335. (b) the application must be accompanied by a written description of the proposed development, a statement that a notice has been posted in accordance with head (c) below and any fee required to be paid⁵;

336. (c) the applicant must display a site notice⁶ by site display⁷ on or near the land on which the building to be demolished is sited and must leave the notice in place for not less than 21 days in the period of 28 days beginning with the date on which the application was submitted to the local planning authority⁸;

337. (d) the development may not be begun before the occurrence of one of the specified events⁹;

338. (e) the development must, except to the extent that the local planning authority otherwise agrees in writing, be carried out either, where prior approval is required, in accordance with the details approved, or, where prior approval is not required, in accordance with the details submitted with the application; and

339. (f) the development must be carried out either, where approval has been given by the local planning authority, within a period of five years from the date on which approval was given, or, in any other case, within a period of five years from the date on which the local planning authority was given the information referred to in head (b) above¹⁰.

1 For these purposes, 'building' does not include part of a building: see the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 2(2); and PARA 255 note 10 ante.

2 Ibid Sch 2 Pt 31, Class A. As to development not permitted by Sch 2 Pt 31, Class A see PARA 413 post; as to the general conditions subject to which such development is permitted see PARA 255 ante; as to directions restricting permitted development see PARA 258 et seq ante; and as to planning controls over demolition generally see PARA 218 ante. As to the authorisation of works affecting listed buildings see PARA 1109 et seq post; and as to control of demolition in conservation areas see PARA 1174 et seq post.

3 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante; and as to the use of electronic communications see PARA 257 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'excluded demolition' means demolition (1) on land which is the subject of a planning permission for the redevelopment of the land granted on an application or deemed to be granted under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended) (see PARA 217 et seq ante, PARA 419 et seq post); (2) required or permitted to be carried out by or under any enactment; or (3) required to be carried out by virtue of a relevant obligation; and 'relevant obligation' means (a) an obligation arising under an agreement made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 106 (as originally enacted) (agreements regulating development or use of land); (b) a planning obligation entered into under s 106 (as substituted and prospectively repealed) (planning obligations: see PARA 244 et seq ante) or under s 299A (as added and prospectively repealed) (Crown planning obligations: see PARA 251 ante); (c) an obligation arising under or under an agreement made under any provision corresponding to s 106 (as originally enacted or as substituted) or to s 299A (as added): Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, Sch 2 Pt 31 para A.3.

5 As to the fee payable see PARA 465 post.

6 For these purposes, 'site notice' means a notice containing (1) the name of the applicant; (2) a description, including the address, of the building or buildings which it is proposed be demolished; (3) a statement that the applicant has applied to the local planning authority for a determination as to whether the prior approval of the authority will be required to the method of the proposed development and any proposed restoration of the site; (4) the date on which the applicant proposes to carry out the demolition; and (5) the name and address of the local planning authority, and which is signed and dated by or on behalf of the applicant: Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, Sch 2 Pt 31 para A.3.

7 For the meaning of 'by site display' see PARA 303 note 16 ante.

8 Where the site notice is, without any fault or intention of the applicant, removed, obscured or defaced before the period of 21 days referred to in head (2)(c) in the text has elapsed, he is to be treated as having complied with the requirements of that head if he has taken reasonable steps for protection of the notice and, if need be, its replacement: Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, Sch 2 Pt 31 para A.2(b)(iv).

9 The events referred to in the text are: (1) the receipt by the applicant from the local planning authority of a written notice of its determination that such prior approval is not required; (2) where the local planning authority gives the applicant notice within 28 days following the date of receiving his application of the authority's determination that such prior approval is required, the giving of such approval; or (3) the expiry of 28 days following the date on which the application was received by the local planning authority without the local planning authority making any determination as to whether such approval is required or notifying the applicant of its determination: ibid Sch 2 Pt 31 para A.2(b)(v).

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(4) PERMISSION GRANTED BY DEVELOPMENT ORDER/(ii) Local Development Orders/419. Power to make local development order.

(ii) Local Development Orders

419. Power to make local development order.

A local planning authority¹ may by order ('a local development order') make provision to implement policies:

- 1538 (1) in one or more development plan documents²;
- 1539 (2) in a local development plan³.

A local development order may:

- 1540 (a) grant planning permission⁴:
241
 - 342. (i) for development specified in the order;
 - 343. (ii) for development of any class so specified⁵;
- 242 1541 (b) relate to:
 - 344. (i) all land⁶ in the area of the relevant authority;
 - 345. (ii) any part of that land;
 - 346. (iii) a site specified in the order⁷;
- 244

1542 (c) make different provision for different descriptions of land⁸.

A development order⁹ may, however, specify any area or class of development in respect of which a local development order must not be made¹⁰.

A local planning authority may revoke a local development order at any time¹¹.

A local development order is of no effect unless it is adopted by resolution of the local planning authority¹².

420 Preparation of local development order

NOTE 2--In relation to England, for the preparation and revocation of a local development order by a local planning authority and the type of development for which a local development order cannot grant permission, see the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419 art 2B (added by SI 2006/1062; and amended by SI 2007/1844, SI 2009/1304).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(4) PERMISSION GRANTED BY DEVELOPMENT ORDER/(ii) Local Development Orders/421. Intervention by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

421. Intervention by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

At any time before a local development order¹ is adopted by a local planning authority² the appropriate authority³ may direct that the order, or any part of it, is submitted to it for its approval⁴. If the appropriate authority gives such a direction:

- 1547 (1) the local planning authority must not take any step in connection with the adoption of the order until the appropriate authority gives its decision;

1548 (2) the order has no effect unless it, or, if the direction relates to only part of an order, the part, has been approved by the appropriate authority⁵.

In considering an order or part of an order submitted under these provisions the appropriate authority may take account of any matter which it thinks is relevant⁶; and it is immaterial whether any such matter was taken account of by the local planning authority⁷. The appropriate authority may approve or reject an order or part of an order so submitted to it⁸ and must give reasons for its decision⁹.

If the appropriate authority thinks that a local development order is unsatisfactory it may at any time before the order is adopted by the local planning authority direct that authority to modify it in accordance with the direction¹⁰. The local planning authority must comply with the direction¹¹ and must not adopt the order unless the appropriate authority gives notice that it is satisfied that that authority has so complied¹².

The appropriate authority may at any time by order revoke a local development order if it thinks it is expedient to do so¹³ but must, if it revokes a local development order, state its reasons for doing so¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'local development order' see PARA 419 ante.

2 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

3 For these purposes, the appropriate authority is: (1) the Secretary of State in relation to England; (2) the National Assembly for Wales in relation to Wales: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 61B(10) (s 61B added by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 40(1), partly as from a day to be appointed under s 121; at the date at which this title states the law, 6 August 2004 had been appointed for limited purposes only: see PARA 4 note 8 ante). (iii) Completion of Incomplete Development

425. Effect of revision or revocation of development order on incomplete development.

A development order¹ or local development order² may include provision permitting the completion of development³ if:

- 1549 (1) planning permission⁴ is granted by the order in respect of the development; and
- 1550 (2) the planning permission is withdrawn⁵ at a time after the development is started but before it is completed⁶.

This power to include provision in a development order or a local development order may be exercised differently for different purposes⁷.

(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES

(i) In general

426. Simplified planning zones.

A simplified planning zone is an area in respect of which a simplified planning zone scheme is in force¹.

The adoption or approval of a simplified planning zone scheme has effect to grant in relation to the zone, or any part of it specified in the scheme, planning permission²:

1551 (1) for development³ specified in the scheme; or 1552 (2) for development of any class so specified⁴.

Planning permission under a simplified planning zone scheme may be unconditional or subject to such conditions, limitations or exceptions as may be specified in the scheme⁵. However, no adoption or approval of a simplified planning zone scheme after 14 March 1999 grants planning permission for EIA development⁶ or grants planning permission for Schedule 2 development (within the meaning of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999)⁷ unless that grant is made subject to the prior adoption of a screening opinion⁸ or prior making of a screening direction⁹ that the particular proposed development is not EIA development¹⁰.

1 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 82(1). Except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'simplified planning zone' is to be construed in accordance with s 82: s 336(1). For the meaning of 'simplified planning zone scheme' see PARA 428 post.

427. Exclusion of certain descriptions of land.

The following descriptions of land¹ may not be included in a simplified planning zone²:

- 1553 (1) land in a National Park³;
- 1554 (2) land in a conservation area⁴;
- 1555 (3) land within the Broads⁵;
- 1556 (4) land in an area designated⁶ as an area of outstanding natural beauty;
- 1557 (5) land identified in the development plan⁷ for the district as part of a Green Belt⁸;
- 1558 (6) land within a site⁹ of special scientific interest¹⁰.

Where land included in a simplified planning zone becomes land of a description mentioned in heads (1) to (6) above, the above provisions do not, however, operate to exclude it from the zone¹¹.

The Secretary of State¹² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹³ may by order provide that no simplified planning zone scheme shall have effect to grant planning permission¹⁴:

- 1559 (a) in relation to an area of land specified in the order or to areas of land of a description so specified; or
- 1560 (b) for development¹⁵ of a description specified in the order¹⁶.

Such an order has effect to withdraw such planning permission under a simplified planning zone scheme already in force with effect from the date on which the order comes into force, except in a case where the development authorised by the permission has been begun¹⁷.

16 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 87(3). At the date at which this title states the law no such order had been made but, by virtue of the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 2 (see PARA 2 ante), the Town and Country Planning (Simplified Planning Zones) (Excluded Development) Order 1987, SI 1987/1849 (as amended), which came into force on 20 November 1987 (art 1) has effect as if so made. A simplified planning zone scheme does not have effect in England to grant planning permission for development of any of the descriptions which is a county matter; nor does it have effect in Wales to grant planning permission for development of any of the descriptions which would constitute a county matter in England: art 2(1), (2) (amended by SI 1996/525). For the meaning of 'county matter' see PARA 38 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES/(i) In general/428. Making of simplified planning zone schemes.

428. Making of simplified planning zone schemes.

Every local planning authority¹ had to consider, as soon as practicable after 2 November 1987, the question for which part or parts of its area a simplified planning zone scheme was desirable². Under the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 as originally enacted, it was then to keep that question under review³ and provision was made for the preparation, making and alteration of such a scheme⁴.

As from a day to be appointed⁵, if:

- 1561 (1) the regional spatial strategy for the region⁶ in which the area of a local planning authority in England is situated identifies the need for a simplified planning zone⁷ in that area, or any part of it;
- 1562 (2) the criteria prescribed⁸ by the National Assembly for Wales for the need for a simplified planning zone are satisfied in relation to the area, or any part of the area, of a local planning authority in Wales, the local planning authority must consider the question for which part or parts of its area a simplified planning zone scheme is desirable⁹. The local planning authority must keep this question under review¹⁰.

As from that day, a local planning authority must make a simplified planning zone scheme for all or any part of its area:

- 1563 (a) if as a result of the consideration¹¹ or the review¹² mentioned above it decides that it is desirable to do so;
- 1564 (b) if it is directed to do so by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, as the case may be¹³.

A local planning authority may at any time as from that day:

- 1565 (i) alter a scheme adopted by it;
- 1566 (ii) with the consent of the Secretary of State alter a scheme made or altered by him¹⁴ or approved by him¹⁵;

1567 (iii) with the consent of the Assembly, alter a scheme made or altered by it¹⁶ or approved¹⁷ by it¹⁸.

A simplified planning zone scheme for an area in England must be in conformity with the regional spatial strategy¹⁹.

1 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 See the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 83(1) (prospectively repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 45(1), 120, Sch 9, as from a day to be appointed under s 121; at the date at which this title states the law, that repeal was not in force). Except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'simplified planning zone scheme' is to be construed in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 83 (as prospectively amended): s 336(1).

3 See ibid s 83(1) (prospectively repealed: see note 2 supra).

4 See ibid s 83(2) (as originally enacted). If, as a result of its original consideration or of any such review, a local planning authority decides that it is desirable to prepare a scheme for any part of its area, it must do so; and a local planning authority may at any time decide: (1) to make a simplified planning zone scheme; or (2) to alter a scheme adopted by it; or (3) with the consent of the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales, to alter a scheme approved by him or by the Assembly: s 83(2) (as originally enacted). As to the Secretary of State and the Assembly see PARAS 19-20 ante.

5 Ie as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. At the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed.

6 For these purposes, and the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 83(3), Sch 7 (as prospectively amended), a reference to the regional spatial strategy must be construed in relation to any area in Greater London as a reference to the spatial development strategy; and a reference to a region must be construed in relation to such an area as a reference to Greater London: s 83(4) (s 83(1A)-(1C), (4) added, and s 83(2), (2A), (2B) substituted, by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 45(2), (3), (4), as from a day to be appointed: see note 5 supra). 429. Regulations and directions.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may³ make regulations with respect to:

- 1568 (1) the form and content of simplified planning zone schemes⁴; and
- 1569 (2) the procedure to be followed in connection with their preparation, withdrawal, adoption, submission, approval, making or alteration⁵.

Any such regulations may in particular:

- 1570 (a) provide for the notice to be given of, or the publicity to be given to:
140
 - 1. (i) matters included or proposed to be included in a simplified planning zone scheme; and
 - 2. (ii) the adoption or approval of such a scheme, or of any alteration of it, or any other prescribed⁶ procedural step,
- 141 1571 and for publicity to be given to the procedure to be followed in these respects;
- 1572 (b) make provision with respect to the making and consideration of representations as to matters to be included in, or objections to, any such scheme or proposals for its alteration;
- 1573 (c) make provision with respect to the circumstances in which representations with respect to the matters to be included in such a scheme or proposals for its alteration are to be treated⁷ as being objections made in accordance with regulations;
- 1574 (d) without prejudice to head (a) above, provide for notice to be given to particular persons of the adoption or approval of a simplified planning zone scheme, or an alteration to such a scheme, if they have objected to the proposals and have notified the local planning authority⁸ of their wish to receive notice, subject, if the regulations so provide, to the payment of a reasonable charge;
- 1575 (e) require or authorise a local planning authority to consult⁹ with, or consider the views of, other persons before taking any prescribed procedural step;
- 1576 (f) require a local planning authority, in such cases as may be prescribed or in such particular cases as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct, to provide persons making a request with copies of any document which has been made public, subject, if the regulations so provide, to the payment of a reasonable charge;
- 1577 (g) provide for the publication and inspection of a simplified planning zone scheme which has been adopted or approved, or any document adopted or approved altering such a scheme, and for copies of any such scheme or document to be made available on sale¹⁰.

Regulations so made may extend throughout England or Wales or to specified areas only and may make different provision for different cases¹¹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may¹² give directions to any local planning authority or to local planning authorities generally:

1578 (A) for formulating the procedure for the carrying out of its or their statutory functions¹³;

1579 (B) for requiring it or them to give him or the Assembly such information as he or it may require for carrying out any of his or the Assembly's statutory functions¹⁴.

Furthermore, at the date at which this title states the law the Secretary of State or the Assembly has power in certain circumstances to give a local planning authority a simplified planning zone direction requiring it to make or alter a simplified planning zone scheme¹⁵. The relevant statutory provisions are, however, prospectively repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004¹⁶. The new powers to direct the making of a simplified planning zone scheme have already been discussed¹⁷.

On payment of a reasonable charge, a local planning authority must provide a person making a request, as soon as practicable, with a copy of any document made available for inspection pursuant to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended) (see PARA 217 et seq ante, 447 et seq post) or the Town and Country Planning (Simplified Planning Zones) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/2414 (as amended): reg 21(1).

15 See ibid Sch 7 paras 3, 4 (Sch 7 para 4 amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 28(b), Sch 5 paras 4, 5) which provide as follows. If a person requests a local planning authority to make or alter a simplified planning zone scheme but the authority either refuses to do so or does not, within the period of three months from the date of the request, decide to do so, he may require the authority to refer the matter to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 7 para 3(1). A person may not, however, require such reference of the matter if: (1) in the case of a request to make a scheme, a simplified planning zone scheme relating to the whole or part of the land specified in the request has been adopted or approved within the 12 months preceding his request; (2) in the case of a request to alter the scheme, the scheme to which the request relates was adopted or approved, or any alteration to it has been adopted or approved, within that period: Sch 7 para 3(2). The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after a matter is referred to him or to it, send the authority a copy of any representations made to him or to the Assembly by the applicant which have not been made to the authority and notify the authority that, if it wishes to make any representations in the matter, it should do so in writing within 28 days: Sch 7 para 3(3). After the Secretary of State or the Assembly has considered the matter and any written representations made by the applicant or the authority and has carried out such consultations with such persons as he or the Assembly thinks fit, he or it may give the authority a simplified planning zone direction: Sch 7 para 3(4). The Secretary of State or the Assembly must notify the applicant and the authority of his or its decision and of the reasons for it: Sch 7 para 3(5). A simplified planning zone direction is: (a) if the request was for the making of a simplified planning zone scheme, a direction to make a scheme which the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers appropriate; and (b) if the request was for the alteration of a scheme, a direction to alter it in such manner as he or it considers appropriate; and, in either case, requires the local planning authority to take all the steps required by Sch 7 (as amended) for the adoption of proposals for the making or, as the case may be, alteration of a scheme: Sch 7 para 4(1) (as so amended). A direction under head (a) or head (b) supra may extend: (i) to the land specified in the request to the authority; (ii) to any part of the land so specified; or (iii) to land which includes the whole or part of the land so specified; and accordingly may direct that land shall be added to or excluded from an existing simplified planning zone: Sch 7 para 4(2).

Where a local planning authority is directed under Sch 7 para 3 to make a simplified planning zone scheme which the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers appropriate or to alter such a scheme in such manner as he or it considers appropriate, and the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied, after holding a local inquiry or other hearing, that the authority is not taking within a reasonable period the steps required by Sch 7 (as amended) for the adoption of proposals for the making or, as the case may be, alteration of a scheme, he may himself, or the Assembly may itself, make a scheme or, as the case may be, the alterations: Sch 7 para 12(1) (as originally enacted). As to the prospective substitution of Sch 7 para 12(1), and the provision made by Sch 7 para 12(2), (3) for the exercise of such default powers, see PARA 446 post.

430. Contents of scheme.

A simplified planning zone scheme¹ must consist of a map and a written statement, and such diagrams, illustrations and descriptive matter as the local planning authority² thinks appropriate for explaining or illustrating the provisions of the scheme³.

A simplified planning zone scheme must specify:

- 1580 (1) the development⁴ or classes of development permitted by the scheme;
- 1581 (2) the land⁵ in relation to which permission is granted; and
- 1582 (3) any conditions, limitations or restrictions subject to which it is granted; and must contain such other matters as may be prescribed⁶.

431. Conditions and limitations on planning permission.

The conditions and limitations on planning permission¹ which may be specified in a simplified planning zone scheme² may include:

- 1583 (1) conditions or limitations in respect of all development³ permitted by the scheme or in respect of particular descriptions of development so permitted; and
- 1584 (2) conditions or limitations requiring the consent, agreement or approval of the local planning authority⁴ in relation to particular descriptions of permitted development⁵.

Different conditions or limitations may be specified in a simplified planning zone scheme for different cases or classes of case⁶.

Nothing in a simplified planning zone scheme affects the right of any person:

- 1585 (a) to do anything not amounting to development; or
- 1586 (b) to carry out development for which planning permission is not required or for which permission has been granted otherwise than by the scheme⁷.

No limitation or restriction subject to which planning permission has been granted otherwise than under the scheme affects the right of any person to carry out development for which permission has been granted under the scheme⁸.

The statutory restrictions affecting planning permission for development where an environmental impact assessment is required have already been mentioned⁹ and are discussed in more detail below¹⁰.

433. Steps to be taken before depositing proposals.

An authority which decides to make or alter¹ a simplified planning zone scheme² or which, as from a day to be appointed³, is required to make⁴ or decides to alter⁵ such a scheme, must:

- 1587 (1) notify the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁷ of its decision as soon as practicable; and 1588 (2) determine the date on which it will begin to prepare the scheme or the alterations⁸.

Before determining the content of its proposals, a local planning authority⁹ proposing to make or alter a simplified planning zone scheme must comply with the following provisions¹⁰.

The authority must:

- 1589 (a) consult¹¹ the Secretary of State having responsibility for highways¹² or, in Wales, the Assembly, as to the effect any proposals it may make might have on existing or future highways;
 1590 (b) in England, if it is the district planning authority¹³, consult the county council:
 142 3. (i) as county planning authority¹⁴; and
 4. (ii) as to the effect which any matters the district planning authority is considering including in the proposals might have on existing or future highways; and 143 1591 (c) consult or notify such persons as regulations may require it to consult or, as the case may be, to notify¹⁵.

The authority must take such steps as may be prescribed¹⁶ or as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may, in a particular case, direct to publicise:

- 1592 (A) the fact that it proposes to make or alter a simplified planning zone scheme; and 1593 (B) the matters which it is considering including in the proposals¹⁷.

The authority must consider any representations which are made in accordance with regulations¹⁸.

Where a local planning authority¹ proposes to make or alter a simplified planning zone scheme², it must consult³:

- 1594 (1) where its proposals would permit any specified development⁴, the person named⁵ as consultee in relation to that development;
- 1595 (2) the council of any parish⁶ or community⁷ within whose area falls any land⁸ proposed to be included in the scheme;
- 1596 (3) the owners⁹ of the land proposed to be included in the scheme, except where the authority has failed to ascertain their names and addresses after taking all reasonable steps to that end;
- 1597 (4) any urban development corporation¹⁰ in respect of an urban development area which is likely to be affected by the scheme; and
- 1598 (5) the Urban Regeneration Agency¹¹ in respect of any designated area¹² which is likely to be affected by the scheme¹³.

The local planning authority must consider any representations made by the consultees before finally determining the content of the proposals¹⁴.

When the local planning authority begins such consultations, it must at the same time notify the Secretary of State¹⁵ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁶ that it is proposing to make or alter a scheme and of the content of its proposals¹⁷.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES/(ii) Procedure for Making Scheme/435. Procedure after deposit of proposals.

435. Procedure after deposit of proposals.

Where a local planning authority¹ has prepared a proposed simplified planning zone scheme², or proposed alterations to a simplified planning zone scheme, it must:

- 1599 (1) make copies of the proposed scheme or alterations available for inspection at such places as may be prescribed³;

- 1600 (2) take such steps as may be prescribed for the purpose of advertising the fact that the proposed scheme or alterations are so available and the places at which, and times during which, they may be inspected;
- 1601 (3) take such steps as may be prescribed for inviting objections to be made within such period as may be prescribed; and
- 1602 (4) in England, send a copy of the proposed scheme or alterations to the Secretary of State⁴ and to the Secretary of State having responsibility for highways⁵ and, if it is the district planning authority⁶, to the county council⁷;
- 1603 (5) in Wales, send a copy of the proposed scheme or alterations to the National Assembly for Wales⁸.

The authority must:

- 1604 (a) make copies available for inspection⁹ at its principal office and such other places within its area as it considers appropriate;
- 1605 (b) give notice by advertisement¹⁰ in the prescribed form¹¹;
- 1606 (c) serve a notice to the same effect on the persons consulted¹² by the authority, and on any other persons whom the authority considers should be given notice; and
- 1607 (d) display a notice to the same effect, on or near the land¹³ proposed to be included in the scheme, for a period of at least six weeks beginning with the date on which the notice given pursuant to head (b) above is first published in a local newspaper¹⁴.

Proposals for a scheme or for the alteration of a scheme may not be adopted by a local planning authority until the period given by the authority in its notice of intention to adopt¹⁵ or, as the case may be¹⁶, the period in the last such notice to be given by the authority, has expired¹⁷.

If a local planning authority decides not to proceed with a proposal to make or alter a scheme, it must give notice by advertisement in the prescribed form¹⁸ and must also notify any person who has duly made¹⁹ and not withdrawn an objection or representation with respect to the proposal and any other person whom the authority considers should be notified²⁰.

437. Dealing with objections; in general.

Where objections to the proposed simplified planning zone scheme¹ or alterations are made, the local planning authority² may:

- 1608 (1) for the purpose of considering the objections, cause a local inquiry³ or other hearing to be held by a person appointed by the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁵ or, in such cases as may be prescribed⁶, appointed by the authority; or
- 1609 (2) require the objections to be considered by a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁷.

A local planning authority must exercise the above power⁸ if directed to do so by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁹.

Regulations may:

- 1610 (a) make provision with respect to the appointment, and qualifications for appointment, of persons to hold a local inquiry for these purposes;
- 1611 (b) include provision enabling the Secretary of State or the Assembly to direct a local planning authority to appoint a particular person, or one of a specified list or class of persons;
- 1612 (c) make provision with respect to the remuneration and allowances of the person appointed¹⁰.

UPDATE

437 Dealing with objections; in general

TEXT AND NOTES--A local inquiry or other hearing held under the 1990 Act Sch 7 para 8 will be a statutory inquiry for the purposes of the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007 Sch 7 (functions etc of Administrative Justice and Tribunals Council): 1990 Act Sch 7 para 8(7) (added by 2007 Act Sch 8 para 11).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES/(ii) Procedure for Making Scheme/438. Procedure for consideration of objections.

438. Procedure for consideration of objections.

Where the local planning authority¹ decides to consider objections to its proposed simplified planning zone scheme² or to proposed alterations to an existing scheme, without causing a local inquiry or other hearing to be held, it must give notice to this effect to every person who has duly made³, and has not withdrawn, an objection or representation⁴.

Where the local planning authority decides to cause a local inquiry or other hearing to be held to consider objections to its proposed scheme or to proposed alterations to an existing scheme, it must, at least six weeks before the inquiry or hearing is due to open:

- 1613 (1) give written notice of its purpose and of the time and place at which it is to be held, and of the name of the person appointed to hold it, to every person who has duly made, and has not withdrawn, an objection or representation; and
- 1614 (2) in the case of a local inquiry, also give notice of the matters mentioned in head (1) above by local advertisement⁵.

A local inquiry for these purposes must be held in public⁶. Following a local inquiry or other hearing so held, the local planning authority must, after considering the report of the person appointed to hold the inquiry or hearing, prepare a statement of:

- 1615 (a) the decisions it has reached in the light of the report and any recommendations as to action to be taken, or not to be taken, contained in the report; and
- 1616 (b) the reasons for those decisions⁷.

Where objections to proposals to make or alter a scheme have been considered by a person appointed for that purpose⁸, the local planning authority must, after considering his report, prepare⁹ such a statement¹⁰.

Where the local planning authority itself considers such objections, it must prepare a statement of the decisions it has reached with respect to every objection made and not withdrawn and of its reasons for those decisions¹¹.

A copy of the report and of the statement of decisions and reasons¹² or a copy of the statement of decisions and reasons¹³, as the case may be, must be made available by the local planning authority for inspection together with, where applicable, a list¹⁴ of proposed modifications and reasons¹⁵.

Where, after considering all objections and representations duly made¹ and not withdrawn, a local planning authority² intends to adopt proposals to make or alter a simplified planning zone scheme³ without material modifications, when it makes the required documents available for inspection⁴, it must at the same time:

- 1617 (1) give notice by local advertisement⁵ in the prescribed form⁶ that it intends to adopt its proposals; and
- 1618 (2) serve a notice to the same effect on any person who has duly made and not withdrawn an objection or representation with respect to the proposals, and on any other person whom the authority considers should be notified⁷.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES/(ii) Procedure for Making Scheme/440. Procedure for modification of proposals.

440. Procedure for modification of proposals.

Where, after considering objections and representations with respect to its proposals, the local planning authority¹ proposes to modify its proposals to make or alter a simplified planning zone scheme², whether to comply with a direction³ by the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁵ or on its own initiative, unless it is satisfied that the proposed modifications will not materially affect the content of the scheme or the alterations, the authority must:

- 1619 (1) prepare a list of the proposed modifications, which must include its reasons for proposing them;
- 1620 (2) make copies of that list available for inspection at all places where the original proposals were made available⁶;
- 1621 (3) give notice by local advertisement⁷ in the prescribed form⁸; and
- 1622 (4) serve a notice to the same effect on any person who has duly made⁹ objections or representations with respect to the proposed scheme or alterations, and not withdrawn them, and on any other person whom the authority considers should be notified¹⁰.

Objections or representations with respect to proposed modifications considered by the local planning authority or, as the case may be, by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹¹, materially to affect the content of the scheme or alterations as earlier proposed, must be made in writing and sent to the principal office of the local planning authority in accordance with the details given in the notice by local advertisement¹² within a period of six weeks beginning with the date on which the notice mentioned in head (3) above is first published in a local newspaper¹³. The local planning authority must consider all objections or representations with respect to proposed modifications so made which have not been withdrawn¹⁴.

The local planning authority must make a copy of every direction given by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly¹⁵ available for inspection at the places mentioned in head (2) above, together with the list there mentioned, if any; and, where there is such a list, it must identify the modifications proposed in response to the direction and, if the authority does not comply with the direction in any respect, the list must include a statement of the authority's reasons for not proposing full compliance¹⁶.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES/(ii) Procedure for Making Scheme/441. Adoption of proposals by local planning authority.

441. Adoption of proposals by local planning authority.

After the expiry of the period for making objections or, if objections have been made in accordance with the regulations, after considering those objections and the views of any person holding an inquiry or hearing or considering the objections¹, the local planning authority² may³ by resolution adopt the proposals⁴.

The authority may adopt the proposals as originally prepared or as modified so as to take account of:

- 1623 (1) any such objections as are mentioned above⁵ or any other objections to the proposals; or
- 1624 (2) any other considerations which appear to the authority to be material⁶.

If, before the proposals have been adopted by the local planning authority, it appears to the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁸ that they are unsatisfactory, he or the Assembly may direct the authority to modify the proposals in such respects as are indicated in the direction⁹.

An authority to which such a direction is given may not adopt the proposals unless:

- 1625 (a) the authority satisfies the Secretary of State or the Assembly that it has made the modifications necessary to conform with the direction; or
- 1626 (b) the direction is withdrawn¹⁰.

As soon as practicable after proposals for a scheme or for the alteration of a scheme have been adopted or approved, the local planning authority which prepared the proposals must secure that printed copies of the adopted or approved scheme are made available for inspection at every place at which a copy of the adopted or approved scheme or alterations was made¹¹ available¹².

A local planning authority must continue to make copies of any scheme adopted or approved and made available for inspection or purchase¹³ so available until the scheme is altered or revoked¹⁴.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES/(ii) Procedure for Making Scheme/442. Notice of adoption of scheme or alterations.

442. Notice of adoption of scheme or alterations.

Where a local planning authority¹ adopts proposals for the making or alteration of a simplified planning zone scheme², it must give notice by advertisement³ in the prescribed form⁴ and serve notice to the same effect on any person who has asked the authority to notify him⁵. A copy of such notice and of the adopted scheme or alterations must be made available for inspection for at least six weeks beginning with the date of first publication of the notice at every place at which a copy of the proposed scheme or alterations was made⁶ available⁷.

Where the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁹ has given a direction to the local planning authority to modify its proposals¹⁰, any notice of adoption of the proposals so given¹¹ must state that the local planning authority has satisfied the Secretary of State or the Assembly that the authority has made the modifications necessary to conform with the direction to modify or that the direction has been withdrawn, as the case may be¹².

A copy of any notification by the Secretary of State or the Assembly that he or it is satisfied with the modifications made or that the direction is withdrawn must be made available for inspection from the date on which and at the places at which the adopted proposals are made available for inspection¹³.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES/(ii) Procedure for Making Scheme/443. Alteration of simplified planning zone scheme.

443. Alteration of simplified planning zone scheme.

The following provisions apply where alterations to a simplified planning zone scheme¹ are adopted or approved².

The adoption or approval of alterations providing for the inclusion of land³ in the simplified planning zone⁴ has effect to grant in relation to that land, or such part of it as is specified in the scheme, planning permission⁵ for development⁶ so specified or of any class so specified⁷.

The adoption or approval of alterations providing for the grant of planning permission has effect to grant such permission in relation to the simplified planning zone, or such part of it as is specified in the scheme, for development so specified or development of any class so specified⁸.

The adoption or approval of alterations providing for the withdrawal or relaxation of conditions, limitations or restrictions to which planning permission under the scheme is subject has effect to withdraw or relax the conditions, limitations or restrictions immediately⁹.

The adoption or approval of alterations providing for:

- 1627 (1) the exclusion of land from the simplified planning zone;
- 1628 (2) the withdrawal of planning permission; or
- 1629 (3) the imposition of new or more stringent conditions, limitations or restrictions to which planning permission under the scheme is subject, has effect to withdraw permission, or to impose the conditions, limitations or restrictions, with effect from the end of the period of 12 months beginning with the date of the adoption or approval¹⁰.

The adoption or approval of alterations to a scheme does not affect planning permission under the scheme in any case where the development authorised by it has been begun¹¹.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES/(iii) Calling in of Proposals and Default Powers/444. Calling in of proposals for approval by the Secretary of State of the Assembly.

(iii) Calling in of Proposals and Default Powers

444. Calling in of proposals for approval by the Secretary of State of the Assembly.

Before the proposals for the making or alteration of a simplified planning zone scheme¹ have been adopted by the local planning authority², the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁴ may direct that they are to be submitted to him or to the Assembly for approval⁵. If, before the local planning authority has adopted proposals for the making or alteration of a scheme, the Secretary of State or the Assembly directs the authority not to adopt those proposals until he or it has decided whether to give the authority such a direction in relation to the proposals, the authority must not adopt the proposals until the Secretary of State or the Assembly has notified the authority of his or its decision⁶.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly gives such a direction:

- 1630 (1) the authority may not take any further steps for the adoption of the proposals, and in particular may not hold or proceed with a local inquiry or other hearing or any consideration of objections⁷ in respect of the proposals; and
- 1631 (2) the proposals do not have effect unless approved by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and do not require adoption by the authority⁸.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must send to the local planning authority a list of any modifications he or it may propose to a proposed scheme or alterations so submitted for approval⁹ unless he or the Assembly is satisfied that his or its proposed modifications will not materially affect the content of the authority's proposals¹⁰.

10 Town and Country Planning (Simplified Planning Zones) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/2414, reg 16(1). The authority must comply with reg 12(1)(a)-(d) (see PARA 440 ante at heads (1)-(4) in the text) as if it were proposing the modifications itself, except that the notice to be published by local advertisement must be in regs 2, 16(1), Schedule, Form 6: regs 2, 16(1). For the meaning of 'by local advertisement' see PARA 435 note 10 ante. As to the documents to be sent to the Secretary of State or the Assembly see PARA 435 note 14 ante.

Regulations 8-10 (see PARA 438 ante) apply, with any necessary modifications, in relation to proposals submitted to the Secretary of State or the Assembly as mentioned in reg 16(1) as they apply in relation to proposals being dealt with by the local planning authority: reg 16(3).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES/(iii) Calling in of Proposals and Default Powers/445. Approval of proposals by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

445. Approval of proposals by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may, after considering proposals for the making or alteration of a simplified planning zone scheme³ submitted⁴ for approval, either approve them, in whole or in part and with or without modifications, or reject them⁵. In considering the proposals the Secretary of State or the Assembly may take into account any matters he or it thinks are relevant, whether or not they were taken into account in the proposals as submitted⁶.

Where, on taking the proposals into consideration, the Secretary of State or the Assembly does not determine then to reject them, he or it must, before determining whether or not to approve them, consider any objections made in accordance with regulations, and not withdrawn, except objections which have already been considered:

1632 (1) by the local planning authority⁷ or by a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly; or 1633 (2) at a local inquiry or other hearing⁸.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may:

1634 (a) for the purpose of considering any objections and the views of the local planning authority and of such other persons as he or it thinks fit, cause a local inquiry or other hearing to be held by a person appointed by him or by the Assembly; or 1635 (b) require such objections and views to be considered by a person so appointed⁹.

In considering the proposals the Secretary of State or the Assembly may consult¹⁰ with, or consider the views of, any local planning authority or any other person, but need not do so, or give an opportunity for the making or consideration of representations or objections, except so far as required¹¹ to do so under the above provisions¹².

The local planning authority must, on being notified by the Secretary of State or the Assembly of his or its decision on proposals submitted for approval:

- 1636 (i) give notice by advertisement¹³ in the prescribed form¹⁴;
- 1637 (ii) serve a notice in similar form on any person who has asked to be notified of the decision reached on the proposals and on any other person on whom the Secretary of State or the Assembly directs the authority to serve such a notice; and
- 1638 (iii) make a copy of the Secretary of State's or Assembly's notification and of the approved or rejected proposals available for inspection at any place at which the proposals were made available¹⁵ for inspection¹⁶.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(5) SIMPLIFIED PLANNING ZONES/(iii) Calling in of Proposals and Default Powers/446. Default powers.

446. Default powers.

As from a day to be appointed¹, the following provisions apply if each of the statutory conditions is satisfied². The first condition is that:

- 1639 (1) the regional spatial strategy for the region³ in which the area of a local planning authority⁴ is situated identifies the need for a simplified planning zone⁵ in any part of its area; or
- 1640 (2) the criteria prescribed by the National Assembly for Wales⁶ for the need for a simplified planning zone are satisfied in relation to the area of a local planning authority in Wales⁷.

The second condition is that the Secretary of State⁸ or the Assembly, as the case may be, is satisfied after holding a local inquiry⁹ or other hearing that the authority is not taking within a reasonable period the steps required¹⁰ for the adoption of proposals for the making or alteration of a scheme¹¹.

Where these provisions apply, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, as the case may be, may make or alter the scheme¹².

Where, under these provisions, anything which ought to have been done by a local planning authority is done by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the statutory provisions relating to the making and alteration of simplified planning zone schemes¹³ apply, so far as practicable, with any necessary modifications, in relation to the doing of that thing by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the thing so done¹⁴.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly incurs expenses under these provisions in connection with the doing of anything which should have been done by a local planning authority, so much of those expenses as may be certified by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to have been incurred in the performance of functions¹⁵ of that authority must on demand be repaid by the authority to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁶.

(i) Application for Planning Permission

A. IN GENERAL

448. Applications for planning permission; in general.

A development order¹ may make provision as to applications for planning permission² made to a local planning authority³. Such provision includes provision as to:

- 1641 (1) the form and manner in which the application must be made;
- 1642 (2) particulars of such matters as are to be included in the application;
- 1643 (3) documents or other materials as are to accompany the application⁴.

The local planning authority may⁵ require that an application for planning permission must include:

- 1644 (a) such particulars as it thinks necessary;
- 1645 (b) such evidence in support of anything in or relating to the application as it thinks necessary⁶;

but such a requirement must not be inconsistent with provision made⁷ by the development order⁸.

A development order must require that an application for planning permission of such description as is specified in the order must be accompanied by such of the following as is so specified:

- 1646 (i) a statement⁹ about the design principles and concepts that have been applied to the development;
- 1647 (ii) a statement about how issues relating to access to the development have been dealt with¹⁰.

It has been held that a landowner is entitled to make as many applications for planning permission as he wishes, each containing different proposals relating to the same piece of land, and that the local planning authority must deal with each application on its merits¹¹; however a local planning authority now has power in certain circumstances to refuse to determine an application¹².

Where outline planning permission has been granted¹³, the detailed application for planning permission with regard to the reserved matters¹⁴ must be within the scope of the outline permission¹⁵.

The opinion of a county planning officer cannot reasonably be taken as a binding representation that no planning permission is required¹⁶.

At the date at which this title states the law no such regulations had been made but, by virtue of the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 2 (see PARA 2 ante), the Town and Country Planning (Applications) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1812 (as amended), had effect as if so made. The local planning authority which is to determine an application may direct an applicant in writing to supply any further information and, except in the case of outline applications, plans and drawings necessary to enable the authority to determine the application, or to provide one of its officers with any evidence in respect of the application as is reasonable for it to call for to verify any particulars of information given to it: Town and Country Planning (Applications) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1812, reg 4.

UPDATE

448 Applications for planning permission; in general

TEXT AND NOTES--As to the scheme under which development consent is required for nationally significant infrastructure projects see the Planning Act 2008 Pts 1-8 (ss 1-173); and PARA 448A.

NOTE 3--Day now appointed for remaining purposes: SI 2006/1061 (England), SI 2007/1369 (Wales).

NOTE 9--In relation to England, an application for planning permission must be accompanied by a design and access statement specifying (1) the design principles and concepts that have been applied to the development; and (2) how issues relating to access to the development have been dealt with: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 4C(2) (added by SI 2006/1062). SI 1995/419 art 4C applies to an application for planning permission which is not an application for planning permission for (a) engineering or mining operations; (b) development of an existing dwelling-house; (c) a material change in the use of land or buildings; or (d) development that is the subject of an application referred to in art 10B(1)(b): art 4C(1) (amended by SI 2009/2261).

In relation to Wales, an application for planning permission must be accompanied by a design and access statement explaining the design principles and concepts that have been applied to the development and how issues relating to access to the development have been dealt with: SI 1995/419 art 4D(3) (art 4D substituted by SI 2009/1024). SI 1995/419 art 4D applies to an application for planning permission which is not an application for planning permission for (i) engineering or mining operations; (ii) development of an existing dwelling house, or development within the cartilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse as such; or (iii) a material change in the use of land or buildings provided that if the new use will necessitate access by an employee or involves the provision of services to the public or to a section of the public, with or without payment then art 4D applies to the application as if in art 4D(3), for 'a design and access statement' there were substituted 'an access statement', in art 4D(5), for 'a design and access statement must, in relation to access,' there were substituted 'an access statement must' and art 4D(3)(a), (4), (6) were omitted: art 4D(1). For the purposes of head (iii) 'the provision of services' includes the provision of any goods or facilities: art 4D(2). A design and access statement must, in relation to design (A) explain the design principles and concepts that have been applied to the following aspects of the development: environmental sustainability, movement to, from and within the development, character and community safety; and (B) demonstrate the steps taken to appraise the context of the development and how the design of the development takes that context into account in relation to its proposed use and each of the aspects specified in head (A): art 4D(4). A design and access statement must, in relation to access, explain the policy or approach adopted as to access and how policies relating to access in the development plan have been taken into account, how any specific issues which might affect access to the development have been addressed and how features which ensure access to the development will be maintained: art 4D(5). 'Amount' means, in relation to residential development, the number of proposed units for residential use and in relation to all other forms of development, the proposed floor space for each proposed use forming part of the development; 'character' includes any landscaping comprised in the development and the amount, layout, scale and appearance of the development; and 'context' means the physical, social, economic and policy context of the development: art 4D(6).

See further in relation to England art 4E (added by SI 2008/550; and amended by SI 2009/2261), which makes various provision in relation to applications for planning permission; and SI 1995/419 art 4F (added by SI 2009/2261), which makes provision in relation to applications for non-material changes to planning permission.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/A. IN GENERAL/448A. Development consent for nationally significant infrastructure projects.

448A. Development consent for nationally significant infrastructure projects.

1. The Infrastructure Planning Commission

There is to be a body corporate called the Infrastructure Planning Commission, which has functions conferred on it by or under the Planning Act 2008 or any other Act: Planning Act 2008 s 1(1), (2). As to provision for the constitution and procedure of the Commission see the Planning Act 2008 Sch 1. Provision is also made for the issuing of a code of conduct about the conduct expected of Commissioners (see the Planning Act 2008 s 2), for the registration of financial and other interests of the Commissioners (see the Planning Act 2008 s 3), and for charging of fees by the Commissioners (see the Planning Act 2008 s 4). In exercise of the power conferred by s 4, the Secretary of State has made the Infrastructure Planning (Fees) Regulations 2010, SI 2010/106.

2. National policy statements

The Secretary of State may designate a statement as a national policy statement for the purposes of the Planning Act 2008 if the statement is issued by the Secretary of State and it sets out national policy in relation to one or more specified descriptions of development: Planning Act 2008 s 5(1). The policy set out in a national policy statement may in particular (1) set out, in relation to a specified description of development, the amount, type or size of development of that description which is appropriate nationally or for a specified area; (2) set out criteria to be applied in deciding whether a location is suitable (or potentially suitable) for a specified description of development; (3) set out the relative weight to be given to specified criteria; (4) identify one or more locations as suitable (or potentially suitable) or unsuitable for a specified description of development; (5) identify one or more statutory undertakers as appropriate persons to carry out a specified description of development; and (6) set out circumstances in which it is appropriate for a specified type of action to be taken to mitigate the impact of a specified description of development: Planning Act 2008 s 5(5). If a national policy statement sets out policy in relation to a particular description of development, the statement must set out criteria to be taken into account in the design of that description of development: Planning Act 2008 s 5(6). A national policy statement must give reasons for the policy set out in the statement: Planning Act 2008 s 5(7). Provision is also made for (a) the Secretary of State to review each national policy statement when appropriate (see the Planning Act 2008 s 6); (b) consultation and publicity requirements (see the Planning Act 2008 ss 7, 8; and the Infrastructure Planning (National Policy Statement Consultation) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/1302); (c) the laying of a proposal before Parliament (see the Planning Act 2008 s 9); (d) the duty of the Secretary of State to exercise such functions with the objective of contributing to the achievement of sustainable development (see the Planning Act 2008 s 10); (e) the suspension of a national policy statement following a change in circumstances (see the Planning Act 2008 s 11); (f) the designation of pre-commencement national policy statements (see the Planning Act 2008 s 12); and (g) legal challenges relating to national policy statements (see the Planning Act 2008 s 13).

3. Requirement for development consent

Consent under the Planning Act 2008 is required for development to the extent that it is or forms part of a nationally significant infrastructure project: Planning Act 2008 s 31. For this purpose, 'development' has the same meaning as it has in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (see PARA 217), subject to specified modifications and exceptions: see the Planning Act 2008 s 32. 'Nationally significant infrastructure project' means a project which consists of any of the following: (1) the construction or extension of a generating station; (2) the installation of an electric line above ground; (3) development relating to underground gas storage facilities; (4) the construction or alteration of a liquid natural gas ('LNG') facility; (5) the construction or alteration of a gas reception facility; (6) the construction of a pipe-line by a gas transporter; (7) the construction of a pipe-line other than by a gas transporter; (8) highway-related development; (9) airport-related development; (10) the construction or alteration of harbour facilities; (11) the construction or alteration of a railway; (12) the construction or alteration of a rail freight interchange; (13) the construction or alteration of a dam or reservoir; (14) development relating to the transfer of water resources; (15) the construction or alteration of a waste water treatment plant; and (16) the construction or alteration of a hazardous waste facility: Planning Act 2008 s 14(1) (in force in part). The Secretary of State may add a new type of project to the list in s 14(1) if the project is one for the carrying out of works in one or more of the following fields: energy, transport, water, waste water and waste (Planning Act 2008 s 14(3), (5), (6)). Section 14 is subject to ss 15-30, which make particular provision in relation to (a) generating stations (see the Planning Act 2008 s 15); (b) electric lines (see the Planning Act 2008 s 16 (amended by SI 2010/277)); (c) underground gas storage facilities (see the Planning Act 2008 s 17); (d) LNG facilities (see the Planning Act 2008 s 18); (e) gas reception facilities (see the Planning Act 2008 s 19); (f) gas transporter pipe-lines (see the Planning Act 2008 s 20); (g) other pipe-lines (see the Planning Act 2008 s 21); (h) highways (see the Planning Act 2008 s 22); (i) airports (see the Planning Act 2008 s 23); (j) harbour facilities (see the Planning Act 2008 s 24); (k) railways (see the Planning Act 2008 s 25); (l) rail freight interchanges (see the Planning Act 2008 s 26); (m) dams and reservoirs (see the Planning Act 2008 s 27 (not yet in force)); (n) the transfer of water resources (see the Planning Act 2008 s 28 (not yet in force)); (o) waste water treatment plants (see the Planning Act 2008 s 29 (not yet in force)); and (p) hazardous waste facilities (see the Planning Act 2008 s 30 (not yet in force)). As to the requirement to carry out an environmental impact assessment in relation to such development see the Infrastructure Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/2263.

4. Effect of requirement for development consent on other consent regimes

To the extent that development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 448A.3) is required for development, none of the following is required to be obtained for the development or given in relation to it: (1) planning permission; (2) consent under the Green Belt (London and Home Counties) Act 1938 s 10(1), 11(1) or 12(1) (erection of buildings and construction of sewer main pipes, watercourses and electric lines on Green Belt land); (3) a pipe-line construction authorisation under the Pipe-lines Act 1962 s 1(1) (authorisation for construction of cross-country pipe-lines); (4) authorisation by an order under the Gas Act 1965 s 4(1) (storage of gas in underground strata); (5) notice under the Energy Act 1976 s 14(1) (conversion of generating station from one fuel to another); (6) to the extent that the development relates to land in England, consent under the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979 s 2(3) or 3; (7) to the extent that the development relates to land in England, notice under the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979 s 35; (8) consent under the Electricity Act 1989 s 36 or 37 (construction etc of generating stations and installation of overhead lines); (9) to the extent that the development relates to land in England, consent under the Listed Buildings Act s 8(1), (2) or (3); and (10) to the extent that the development relates to land in England, consent under the Listed Buildings Act s 74(1): Planning Act 2008 s 33(1).

To the extent that development consent is required for development, the development may not be authorised by any of the following: (a) an order under the Harbours Act 1964 s 14 or 16 (orders in relation to harbours, docks and wharves); (b) an order under the Gas Act 1965 s 4(1) (order authorising storage of gas in underground strata); and (c) an order under the Transport and Works Act 1992 s 1 or 3 (orders as to railways, tramways, inland waterways etc): Planning Act 2008 s 33(2). Section 33(2) is subject to the Planning Act 2008 s 34, which makes particular provision in relation to Welsh offshore generating stations.

If development consent is required for the construction, improvement or alteration of a highway, none of the following may be made or confirmed in relation to the highway or in connection with the construction, improvement or alteration of the highway: (i) an order under the Highways Act 1980 s 10 (general provisions as to trunk roads) directing that the highway should become a trunk road; (ii) an order under s 14 (supplementary orders relating to trunk roads and classified roads); (iii) a scheme under s 16 (schemes authorising the provision of special roads); (iv) an order under s 18 (supplementary orders relating to special roads); (v) an order or scheme under s 106 (orders and schemes providing for construction of bridges over or tunnels under navigable waters); (vi) an order under s 108 or 110 (orders authorising the diversion of navigable and non-navigable watercourses); and (vii) an order under the New Roads and Street Works Act 1991 s 6 (toll orders): Planning Act 2008 s 33(4). As to provision for directions in relation to projects of national significance see the Planning Act 2008 s 35.

5. Applications for orders granting development consent

An order granting development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 448A.3) may be made only if an application for it is made to the Infrastructure Planning Commission: Planning Act 2008 s 37(1), (2). The Secretary of State is authorised to prescribe model provisions that developers may use if required to prepare a draft order to accompany an application for an order granting development consent: Planning Act 2008 s 38. In exercise of the power under s 38 the Secretary of State has made the Infrastructure Planning (Model Provisions) (England and Wales) Order 2009, SI 2009/2265. The Commission has a duty to maintain a register of applications for orders granting development consent and to publish this register or make arrangements for its inspection by the public: Planning Act 2008 s 39. The Secretary of State may make regulations modifying or excluding certain statutory provisions in relation to applications made by the Crown for an order granting development consent: Planning Act 2008 s 40.

Where a person proposes to make an application for an order granting development consent, he is required to consult certain local authorities, persons with rights over the land and other prescribed persons: see the Planning Act 2008 ss 41-44 (s 42 amended by Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009 s 23 to make provision for the Marine Management Organisation); and the Infrastructure Planning (Applications: Prescribed Forms and Procedure) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/2264. The applicant must give each consultee a deadline for responding to the consultation: Planning Act 2008 s 45. The applicant must give the Commission a copy of the consultation documents on or before commencing consultation: Planning Act 2008 s 46. The applicant must also prepare and publish a statement setting out how he proposes to consult local people about the proposed application (Planning Act 2008 s 47), and publicise the proposed application in the prescribed manner (Planning Act 2008 s 48; SI 2009/2264). The applicant must consider any relevant responses he has received to the consultation and publicity, and take these into account before submitting an actual application to the Commission: Planning Act 2008 s 49. The Commission and the Secretary of State have the power to give guidance on how to comply with the requirements of the pre-application procedures: Planning Act 2008 s 50.

The Commission may give advice to an applicant, a potential applicant or others about applying for an order granting development consent or making representations about an application or proposed application: Planning Act 2008 s 51. The Commission may authorise an applicant or proposed applicant to serve a notice on specified persons, requiring them to give to the applicant the names and addresses of persons who have an interest in the land to which the application relates: Planning Act 2008 s 52. The Commission may authorise a person to enter a particular piece of land in order to survey or take levels in connection with various prescribed matters: Planning Act 2008 s 53 (amended by SI 2009/1307). Modified provision is made relating to rights of entry over Crown land: see the Planning Act 2008 s 54.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/A. IN GENERAL/6. Deciding applications: handling of application by the Infrastructure Planning Commission

6. Deciding applications: handling of application by the Infrastructure Planning Commission

An application for an order granting development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 448A.3) can be accepted by the Infrastructure Planning Commission only if it complies with the requirements of s 37 (see PARA 448A.5): Planning Act 2008 s 55 (amended by Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009 s 23(4)). Certain specified persons must be notified where the Commission accepts an order granting development consent: Planning Act 2008 ss 56 and 57; Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009 s 23(5); Infrastructure Planning (Applications: Prescribed Forms and Procedure) Regulations 2009, SI 2009/2264. The applicant must certify to the Commission that he has complied with the notification requirements: Planning Act 2008 s 58. Where the Commission has accepted an application for an order granting development consent that includes a request for authorisation of the compulsory acquisition of land or an interest in or right over land, the applicant must give the Commission names and other prescribed information in relation to persons with an interest in the land: Planning Act 2009 s 59. See also SI 2009/2264. The Commission is required to notify relevant local authorities of the acceptance of an application for development consent and to invite them to submit a report giving details of the likely impact of the proposed development on their area: Planning Act 2008 s 60. Where a Commissioner accepts an application for an order granting development consent, the chair must decide whether the application should be handled by a panel or by a single Commissioner: Planning Act 2008 s 61. Where an application for an order granting development consent is being handled by a single Commissioner, the chair can decide that it should instead be handled by a panel: Planning Act 2008 s 62. The chair has the power to delegate any of his functions under Pt 6 (ss 55-119) to one of the deputy chairs, subject to certain specified restrictions: Planning Act 2008 s 63.

7. Deciding applications: the panel procedure

A panel is to handle an application for an order granting development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 488A.3) where the Infrastructure Planning Commission accepts the application and it is decided pursuant to s 61(2) or 62(2) that the application is to be handled in that manner: Planning Act 2008 s 64. Provision is made for the appointment of the panel (see the Planning Act 2008 s 65), for when a person ceases to be a member, or the lead member, of a panel (see the Planning Act 2008 s 66), for when a panel member ceases to be a Commissioner (see the Planning Act 2008 s 67), for additional appointments to be made to a panel where the panel has fewer than three members (see the Planning Act 2008 s 68), and for the replacement of the lead member of a panel if the lead member ceases to hold that office (see the Planning Act 2008 s 69). A panel that considers an application relating to land in Wales must include, if reasonably practicable, a Commissioner who was nominated for appointment as a Commissioner by the Welsh Ministers or any other Commissioner notified to the Commission by the Welsh Ministers as being a Commissioner who should be treated as a Welsh Commissioner nominated by them: Planning Act 2008 s 70. If the chair of the Commission decides that an application that was being considered by a single Commissioner should instead be considered by a panel, the single Commissioner who has considered the case may become a member of the panel: Planning Act 2008 s 71. If the panel ceases to have any members, a new panel must be constituted: Planning Act 2008 s 72. The identity of the panel is not affected by changes to the membership of the panel or the lead member, or any vacancies: Planning Act 2008 s 73. Provision is made for the panel's role in relation to applications: see the Planning Act 2008 s 74. A decision of the panel requires the agreement of a majority of its members, with the lead member having the casting vote: Planning Act 2008 s 75. During the examination of an application the panel may allocate part of the examination to any one or more of its members: Planning Act 2008 s 76. The procedural powers of the panel may, unless the panel decides otherwise, be exercised by any one or more of the panel's members: Planning Act 2008 s 77.

8. Deciding applications: the single-Commissioner procedure

A single Commissioner is to handle an application for an order granting development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 488A.3) where the Infrastructure Planning Commission accepts the application and it is decided pursuant to s 61(2) that the application is to be handled in that manner: Planning Act 2008 s 78. In that situation, the chair or a deputy chair to the Commission must appoint a Commissioner to handle the application: Planning Act 2008 s 79. Provision is made for where a person ceases to be the single Commissioner: see the Planning Act 2008 s 80. A person can in certain circumstances continue to act as a single Commissioner although he is no longer a Commissioner: Planning Act 2008 s 81. When a person ceases to be a single Commissioner, a replacement Commissioner must be appointed: Planning Act 2008 s 82. The single Commissioner is responsible for examining the application and making a report to the authority responsible for determining the application: Planning Act 2008 ss 83, 84. At least five members of the Commission's Council (see Sch 1) must participate in any decision that requires majority agreement: Planning Act 2008 s 85.

9. Deciding applications: examination

The following provisions apply in relation to the examination of an application for an order granting development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 488A.3) by (1) a panel, under Pt 6 Ch 2 (ss 64-77) (see PARA 448A.7); and (2) a single Commissioner, under Pt 6 Ch 3 (ss 78-85) (see PARA 447A.8): Planning Act 2008 s 86(1). For this purpose the panel or the single Commissioner, as the case may be, is referred to as the 'examining authority': Planning Act 2008 s 86(2), (3). It is for the examining authority to decide how to examine an application: Planning Act 2008 s 87. The examining authority must make an initial assessment of the principal issues arising on an application, before holding a preliminary meeting with the applicant and any interested parties: Planning Act 2008 s 88. The examining authority must, in the light of the discussion at the preliminary meeting, make procedural decisions in respect of the examination of the application: Planning Act 2008 s 89. The examining authority's examination of the application should take the form of the consideration of written representations subject to any requirements in ss 91-93 and to any decision of the examining authority that it should take a different form: Planning Act 2008 s 90. The examining authority must arrange a hearing when it decides that it is necessary for its examination of a specific issue to receive oral representations, either to ensure the adequate examination of the issue or so that an interested party has a fair chance to put its case: Planning Act 2008 s 91. Where an application for a development consent order includes a request for authorisation of compulsory acquisition of land or an interest in or right over land, the examining authority must inform affected parties of a deadline by which they must notify the Commission that they require a compulsory acquisition hearing to take place: Planning Act 2008 s 92. The examining authority must also arrange an open floor hearing if at least one interested party informs the examining authority of a wish to be heard within the specified deadline: Planning Act 2008 s 93. General provision with regard to hearings is made: see the Planning Act 2008 s 94. The examining authority is empowered to exclude a person from a hearing if he behaves in a disruptive manner: Planning Act 2008 s 95. Where a person has asked to make an oral representation at a hearing, but has not done so, he can make a written representation, which the examining authority must consider as part of its examination of an application: Planning Act 2008 s 96. The Lord Chancellor or, in certain cases, the Secretary of State, may make procedural rules for the examination of applications: Planning Act 2008 s 97. The examining authority has a duty to complete its examination of an application within six months of the last day of the preliminary meeting held pursuant to s 88: Planning Act 2008 s 98. The examining authority must inform each interested party once it has completed its examination of the application: Planning Act 2008 s 99. The chair or a deputy chair of the Commission may, at the examining authority's request, appoint a suitably qualified assessor to help it examine an application: Planning Act 2008 s 100. The chair of the Commission may appoint a barrister, solicitor or advocate to provide legal advice and assistance to the examining authority: Planning Act 2008 s 101.

10. Deciding applications: the decision

The Secretary of State must decide an application for an order granting development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 448A.3) where he receives a report from the panel or a single Commissioner: Planning Act 2008 s 103. Where a panel or the Commission's Council (see Sch 1) is responsible for deciding an application for an order granting development consent, it must have regard to various specified matters, including any relevant national policy statement (see PARA 448A.2), the appropriate marine policy documents (if any), determined in accordance the Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009 s 59 (see WATER AND WATERWAYS) and any local impact report submitted by a relevant local authority: Planning Act 2008 s 104 (amended by Marine and Coastal Access Act 2009 s 58(5)). In deciding an application for an order granting development consent, the Secretary of State must have regard to certain prescribed matters: Planning Act 2008 s 105. The matters to which a panel, the Commission's Council and the Secretary of State must have regard when deciding applications for development consent are prescribed by Infrastructure Planning (Decisions) Regulations 2010, SI 2010/305. A person deciding an application for an order granting development consent may disregard representations that are vexatious or frivolous or relate to the merits of policy set out in a national policy statement or to compensation payable on the compulsory acquisition of land or of an interest in or right over land: Planning Act 2008 s 106. The decision-maker is under a duty to decide an application for a development consent order within a period of three months: Planning Act 2008 s 107. If the Secretary of State considers it necessary to review all or part of a relevant national policy statement before an application is decided, he may direct that the examination and decision of the application is suspended by the panel or Commission's Council until the review of the national policy statement has been completed: Planning Act 2008 s 108. In various circumstances the Secretary of State may intervene and decide an application in place of the Commission: see the Planning Act 2008 ss 109-112. Provision is made for the effect of such an intervention: see the Planning Act 2008 s 113, Sch 3.

At the conclusion of consideration of an application for an order granting development consent, the decision-maker must either make an order granting development consent or refuse development consent: Planning Act 2008 s 114. An order may grant development consent not only for development for which consent is required but also for associated development (as defined): Planning Act 2008 s 115. A statement of reasons for deciding to make an order granting development consent or to refuse development consent must be given to interested parties and published (see the Planning Act 2008 s 116), and certain formalities must be observed in relation to the order (see the Planning Act 2008 s 117). Specified decisions in connection with applications for development consent can be challenged only by way of judicial review: Planning Act 2008 s 118. Provision is also made for mechanisms by which the decisionmaker can correct errors in decision documents relating to an application for an order granting development consent: see the Planning Act 2008 Sch 4.

11. Orders granting development consent: content of orders

An order granting development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 448A.3) may impose requirements in connection with the development for which consent is granted: Planning Act 2008 s 120(1). The requirements may in particular include requirements corresponding to conditions which could have been imposed on the grant of any permission, consent or authorisation, or the giving of any notice, which, but for s 33(1) (see PARA 448A.4), would have been required for the development: Planning Act 2008 s 120(2). An order granting development consent may make provision relating to, or to matters ancillary to, the development for which consent is granted (Planning Act 2008 s 120(3)), and such provision includes in particular provision for or relating to any of the matters listed in the Planning Act 2008 Sch 5 Pt 1 (Planning Act 2008 s 120(4)). The panel or the Infrastructure Planning Commission's Council (see Sch 1) must send to the Secretary of State a draft of any proposed order that affects the application of statutory provisions: Planning Act 2008 s 121. As to provision for where an order granting development consent includes provision authorising the compulsory acquisition of land, see the Planning Act 2008 ss 122-135; and COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND VOL 18 (2009) PARAS 535-544.

12. Orders granting development consent: particular cases

No order granting development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 448A.3) can be made that extinguishes any public right of way over land unless the authority making it is satisfied that an alternative right of way has been or will be provided, or that such an alternative right of way is not required: Planning Act 2008 s 136. An order granting development consent may provide for the acquisition of land and authorise the extinguishment or diversion of a public right of way for non-vehicular traffic over land on which a statutory undertaker has erected apparatus or where electronic communications apparatus is kept installed only if the relevant undertaker or operator of the network has given its consent: Planning Act 2008 s 137. Provision is made for orders granting development consent that authorise the acquisition of land on, under or over which a statutory undertaker has erected apparatus or where electronic communications apparatus is kept installed: see the Planning Act 2008 s 138. An order granting development consent cannot include provisions that exclude or modify the application of a provision of, or made under, the Commons Act 2006, or authorise the suspension of, or extinguishment or interference with, registered rights of common: Planning Act 2008 s 139. An order granting development consent that authorises the operation of a generating station can be made only if the development to which the order relates is or includes the construction or extension of the generating station: Planning Act 2008 s 140. An order granting development consent may authorise overhead electric lines to be kept installed only if the development to which the order relates is or includes the installation of such lines: Planning Act 2008 s 141. An order granting development consent that authorises the use of underground gas storage facilities can be made only if the order authorises the development of such facilities: Planning Act 2008 s 142. An order granting development consent that authorises the diversion of a navigable watercourse can be made only if the new length of watercourse is conveniently navigable by vessels of a kind accustomed to using that part of the watercourse: Planning Act 2008 s 143. An order granting development consent may authorise the charging of tolls in relation to a highway only if a request for such provision was included in the application for the order: Planning Act 2008 s 144. In certain specified circumstances an order granting development consent may provide for the creation of a harbour authority, the modification of the powers or duties of an existing harbour authority or the transfer of property, rights or liabilities from one harbour authority to another: Planning Act 2008 s 145. Where an order granting development consent authorises the discharge of water into inland waters or underground strata, the person to whom the order is granted does not acquire the power to take water or require discharges to be made from the source of water mentioned in the order: Planning Act 2008 s 146. Where an order granting development consent includes certain prescribed provisions in relation to Green Belt land, the panel, the Commission's Council or the Secretary of State, as the case may be, must notify the relevant local authorities of the provision made by the order: Planning Act 2008 s 147. An order granting development consent may deem a consent under the Coast Protection Act 1949 s 34 to have been given in relation to operations in specified areas: Planning Act 2008 s 148. An order granting development consent may deem a licence under the Food and Environment Protection Act 1985 Pt 2 (ss 5-15) to have been issued for operations in specified areas: Planning Act 2008 s 149.

13. Orders granting development consent: general

An order granting development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 448A.3) may include provision removing a requirement for a prescribed consent or authorisation to be granted only if the relevant body consents: Planning Act 2008 s 150. An order granting development consent may not exclude or modify liability under any of certain specified statutory regimes: Planning Act 2008 s 151. A right to compensation arises in cases where, as a result of s 158 or the terms of a development consent order, a person would not be able to succeed in a claim for nuisance in respect of works authorised by a development consent order: Planning Act 2008 s 152 (amended by SI 2009/1307). Provision is made for mechanisms by which subsequent modifications or revocations can be made to orders granting development consent: see the Planning Act 2008 Sch 6 (amended by SI 2009/1307). After a development consent order is granted, the development must begin before the end of the period prescribed by the Secretary of State or such other period as is specified in the order: Planning Act 2008 s 154. Development is taken to begin as soon as any material operation comprised in or carried out for the purposes of the development begins to be carried out: Planning Act 2008 s 155. While a development consent order generally has effect for the benefit of the land mentioned in the order and all those for the time being interested in it, it is possible for the order to make provision to the contrary: Planning Act 2008 s 156. Where an order granting development consent grants consent for the erection, extension, alteration or re-erection of a building, the order may specify the purposes for which the building may be used: Planning Act 2008 s 157. Where nuisance proceedings arise out of the carrying out of a development for which consent is granted by an order granting development consent, a defence of statutory authority is provided for: see the Planning Act 2008 s 158.

14. Enforcement

A person commits an offence if he (1) carries out development for which development consent under the Planning Act 2008 (see PARA 448A.3) is required without such consent (Planning Act 2008 s 160(1)); (2) carries out development in breach of the terms of an order granting development consent (Planning Act 2008 s 161(1)(a); or (3) fails to comply with the terms of such a consent without reasonable excuse (Planning Act 2008 s 161(1)(b)). It is a defence for a person charged with an offence under head (2) or (3) to prove that the breach or failure to comply occurred only because of an error or omission in the order, and a correction notice specifying the correction of the error or omission has been issued under Sch 4 para 2: Planning Act 2008 s 161(3). As to the time limits for bringing charges in relation to the offences created by ss 160 and 161 see the Planning Act 2008 s 162. Local planning authorities and justices of the peace may authorise a person to enter land if he has reasonable grounds to suspect an offence is being or has been committed under s 160 or 161: Planning Act 2008 ss 163, 164. A person so authorised must produce evidence, if requested, of the authority and state the purpose for entry before entering the land: Planning Act 2008 s 165 (amended by SI 2009/1307). The rights of entry do not apply to Crown land: Planning Act 2008 s 166.

The relevant local planning authority may serve an information notice on the owner or occupier of land or anyone carrying out work on land or using it for any purpose: Planning Act 2008 s 167. A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he fails to comply with any requirement of an information notice within a period of 21 days beginning on the day the notice is served: Planning Act 2008 s 168. Where a person has been found guilty of an offence under s 160, the relevant local planning authority may serve a notice requiring the person to remove the unauthorised development and return the land to its previous condition: Planning Act 2008 s 169. Where steps have not been taken to comply with a notice of unauthorised development within the stipulated period for compliance, the relevant local planning authority may enter the land and carry out the works required in the notice and recover any expenses reasonably incurred in doing so from the owner of the land: Planning Act 2008 s 170. The relevant local planning authority may apply to the county court or the High Court for an injunction where it considers it necessary or expedient to prevent an actual or anticipated offence under s 160 or 161: Planning Act 2008 s 171. As to the application of the enforcement provisions to the Isles of Scilly see the Planning Act 2008 s 172.

449. Combined applications.

Regulations¹ may provide for the combination in a single document, made in such form and transmitted to such authority as may be prescribed², of:

- 1648 (1) an application³ for planning permission⁴ in respect of any development⁵;
and
- 1649 (2) an application required, under any enactment⁶ specified in the regulations, to be made to a local authority⁷ in respect of that development⁸.

Before making any such regulations, the Secretary of State⁹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰ must consult¹¹ with such local authorities or associations of local authorities as appear to him or to the Assembly to be concerned¹².

Different provision may be made by any such regulations in relation to areas in which different enactments are in force¹³.

If an application required to be made to a local authority under an enactment specified in any such regulations is made in accordance with the provisions of the regulations, it is valid notwithstanding anything in that enactment prescribing, or enabling any authority to prescribe, the form in which, or the manner in which, such an application is to be made¹⁴.

- 12 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 332(2).
- 13 Ibid s 332(3).
- 14 Ibid s 332(4). Section 332(4) has effect without prejudice to (1) the validity of any application made in accordance with the enactment in question; or (2) any provision of that enactment enabling a local authority to require further particulars of the matters to which the application relates: s 332(5).

450. Lodging the application.

Any application for planning permission¹ or for the approval of reserved matters² must be made³:

- 1650 (1) where the application relates to land⁴ in Greater London⁵ or a metropolitan county⁶ or to land in Wales, to the local planning authority⁷;
- 1651 (2) where the application relates to land in England which is in neither Greater London nor a metropolitan county and that land is in a National Park⁸ or the application relates to a county matter⁹, to the county planning authority¹⁰;
- 1652 (3) in any other case, to the district planning authority¹¹.

When the local planning authority with which an application has to be lodged receives the required documents and information¹² and the fee¹³, if any, required to be paid in respect of the application, the authority must as soon as is reasonably practicable send to the applicant an acknowledgement of the application in the prescribed terms¹⁴, or substantially in those terms¹⁵. Where, after sending such an acknowledgement, the local planning authority considers that the application is invalid by reason of a failure to comply with a statutory requirement¹⁶, it must as soon as reasonably practicable notify the applicant that his application is invalid¹⁷.

Where an application is made to a county planning authority¹⁸, that authority must, as soon as practicable, send a copy of the application and of any accompanying plans and drawings to the district planning authority, if any¹⁹.

Any application for planning permission which (a) is made to a local planning authority in Wales; and (b) relates to development²⁰ which involves the construction or installation of one or more antennas for the purpose of operating a telecommunications system²¹, must be accompanied by a written declaration²² that the equipment and installation to which the application relates is so designed that it will, when constructed or installed, operate, having regard to its location and the manner in which it has been constructed or installed, in full compliance with the requirements of the radio frequency public exposure guidelines²³ of the International Commission on Non-ionising Radiation Protection²⁴.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/A. IN GENERAL/451. Use of electronic communications.

451. Use of electronic communications.

The following provisions apply where an electronic communication¹ is used by a person for the following purposes:

- 1653 (1) fulfilling any requirement in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995² to give or send any application, notice or other document to any other person; or
- 1654 (2) lodging an application, certificate or other document³ with a specified⁴ authority⁵.

That requirement is not to be taken to be fulfilled, or, as the case may be, the application or other document is not taken to have been lodged, unless the document transmitted by the electronic communication is:

- 1655 (a) capable of being accessed by the recipient⁶;
- 1656 (b) legible in all material respects⁷; and
- 1657 (c) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference⁸.

Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is taken to have been received on the next working day⁹.

A requirement in the 1995 Order that any application, notice or other document should be in writing is fulfilled where the document meets the criteria set out in heads (a) to (c) above¹⁰.

Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for any purpose of the 1995 Order which is capable of being carried out electronically, he must give notice in writing:

- 1658 (i) withdrawing any address¹¹ notified to the Secretary of State¹² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹³ or to a local planning authority¹⁴ for that purpose; or
- 1659 (ii) revoking any agreement entered into or deemed to have been entered into with the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or with a local planning authority for that purpose¹⁵.

1 For these purposes, 'electronic communication' has the meaning given in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 1(2) (definition added, in relation to England, by SI 2003/956 and in relation to Wales by SI 2004/3156).

2 In any requirement of the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419 (as amended): see PARA 450 ante, PARA 453 et seq post.

3 In under ibid art 20(3): see PARA 532 post.

4 In an authority mentioned in ibid art 20(3): see PARA 532 post.

5 Ibid art 1(4) (arts 1(3)-(8), 27A added in relation to England by SI 2003/956 and in relation to Wales by SI 2004/3156).

6 For these purposes, 'the recipient' means the person mentioned in head (1) in the text, or the authority mentioned in head (2) in the text, as the case may be: ibid art 1(4) (as added: see note 5 supra).

7 'Legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the notice or document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: ibid art 1(6) (as added: see note 5 supra).

8 Ibid art 1(5) (as added: see note 5 supra).

9 Ibid art 1(6) (as added: see note 5 supra). For these purposes, 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: art 1(6) (as so added).

10 Ibid art 1(8) (as added: see note 5 supra). 'Written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: art 1(8) (as so added). In relation to the use of electronic communications or electronic storage for any purpose of the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419 (as amended) which is capable of being carried out electronically, references to documents, maps, plans, drawings, certificates or other documents or to copies of such things, include references to such documents or copies of them in electronic form: art 1(3)(b) (as so added).

11 In relation to the use of electronic communications or electronic storage for any purpose of the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419 (as amended) which is capable of being carried out electronically, the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purpose of such communications or storage, except that where the 1995 Order imposes any obligation on any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the obligation is not fulfilled unless the person on whom it is imposed provides a postal address: art 1(3)(a) (as added: see note 5 supra).

12 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

13 In the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/41 (as amended), and unless the context otherwise requires, 'Secretary of State' is to be construed, in relation to Wales, as meaning the National Assembly for Wales: art 1(2) (definition added by SI 2004/1434). As to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

14 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

15 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 27A (as added: see note 5 supra). Such withdrawal or revocation is final and takes effect on a date specified by the person in the notice but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: art 27A (as so added).

As to the similar provision made with regard to electronic communications for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Applications) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1812 (as amended), see PARA 448 note 8 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/A. IN GENERAL/452. Directions etc as to method of dealing with applications.

452. Directions etc as to method of dealing with applications.

Provision may be made by a development order¹ for regulating the manner in which applications for planning permission² to develop³ land⁴ are to be dealt with by local planning authorities⁵, and in particular:

- 1660 (1) for enabling the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁷ to give directions restricting the grant of planning permission by the local planning authority, either indefinitely or during such period as may be specified in the directions, in respect of any such development, or in respect of development of any such class, as may be so specified⁸;
- 1661 (2) for authorising the local planning authority, in such cases and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by the order or by directions given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly under it, to grant planning permission for development which does not accord with the provisions of the development plan⁹;
- 1662 (3) for requiring that, before planning permission for any development is granted or refused, local planning authorities prescribed by the order or by directions given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly under it shall consult¹⁰ with such authorities or persons as may be so prescribed¹¹;
- 1663 (4) for requiring the local planning authority to give to any applicant for planning permission, within such time as may be prescribed by the order, such notice as may be so prescribed as to the manner in which his application has been dealt with¹²;
- 1664 (5) for requiring the local planning authority to give any applicant for any consent, agreement or approval required by a condition imposed on a grant of planning permission notice of its decision on his application, within such time as may be so prescribed¹³;
- 1665 (6) for requiring the local planning authority to give to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, and to such other persons as may be prescribed by or under the order, such information as may be so prescribed with respect to applications for planning permission made to the authority, including information as to the manner in which any such application has been dealt with¹⁴.
- 1666 Provision may also be made by a development order:

1667 (a) for determining the persons to whom applications are to be sent and for requiring persons to whom such applications are sent to send copies to other interested persons¹⁵;

5. (i) enabling the Mayor of London¹⁶ in prescribed¹⁷ circumstances, and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed, to direct the local planning authority for a London borough to refuse an application for planning permission of a prescribed description in any particular case¹⁸;
6. (ii) prohibiting a local planning authority to which any such direction is given from implementing the direction in prescribed circumstances or during prescribed periods¹⁹; and
7. (iii) modifying any provision of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 relating to an appeal against a refusal of planning permission²⁰ and, in particular, any such provision concerning parties or costs in its application in relation to a refusal in compliance with such a direction²¹.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/A. IN GENERAL/453. Development affecting certain existing and proposed highways.

453. Development affecting certain existing and proposed highways.

Where an application is made to a local planning authority¹ for planning permission² for development³ which consists of or includes:

- 1669 (1) the formation, laying out or alteration of any access to or from any part of a trunk road⁴ which is either a special road⁵ or, if not a special road, a road subject to a speed limit exceeding 40 miles per hour; or
- 1670 (2) any development of land⁶ within 67 metres⁷, or such other distance as may be specified in a direction given by the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁹, from the middle of:

8. (a) any highway, other than a trunk road, which the Secretary of State or the Assembly has provided, or is authorised to provide¹⁰ and which has not for the time being been transferred to any other highway authority;

9. (b) any highway which he or the Assembly proposes to improve¹¹ and in respect of which notice has been given to the local planning authority;
10. (c) any highway to which he or the Assembly proposes to carry out improvements¹²; or
11. (d) any highway which he or the Assembly proposes to construct, the route of which is shown on the development plan¹³ or in respect of which he or the Assembly has given notice in writing to the local planning authority together with maps or plans¹⁴ sufficient to identify the route of the highway, the local planning authority must notify the Secretary of State or the Assembly by sending him or it a copy of the application and any accompanying plans and drawings¹⁵.

Such an application may not be determined unless:

- 1671 (i) the local planning authority receives a direction¹⁶ from the Secretary of State or the Assembly, and in accordance with the terms of that direction;
- 1672 (ii) it receives notification by or on behalf of the Secretary of State or the Assembly that he or the Assembly does not propose to give any such direction in respect of the development to which the application relates; or
- 1673 (iii) a period of 28 days, or such longer period as may be agreed in writing¹⁷ between the local planning authority and the Secretary of State or the Assembly, from the date when notification was given to the Secretary of State or the Assembly has elapsed without receipt of such a direction¹⁸.

B. CROWN LAND

(A) PROVISIONS BEFORE AMENDMENT BY THE 2004 ACT

454. Application for planning permission etc in anticipation of disposal of Crown land.

At the date at which this title states the law, the following provisions have effect for the purpose of enabling Crown land¹, or an interest in Crown land², to be disposed of with the benefit of planning permission³ or a certificate⁴ of lawfulness of proposed use or development⁵.

Notwithstanding the interest of the Crown in the land in question, an application for any such permission or certificate may be made by:

- 1674 (1) the appropriate authority⁶; or
- 1675 (2) any person authorised by that authority in writing; and all the statutory provisions⁷ relating to the making and determination of any such application accordingly apply⁸ as if the land were not Crown land⁹.

Any planning permission so granted applies only:

- 1676 (a) to development¹⁰ carried out after the land in question has ceased to be Crown land; and
- 1677 (b) so long as that land continues to be Crown land, to development carried out by virtue of a private interest in the land¹¹.

The Secretary of State¹² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹³ may by regulations:

- 1678 (i) modify or exclude any of the statutory provisions relating to the making and determination of any such application¹⁴ and any other statutory provisions in their application to permissions or certificates so granted or made;

- 1679 (ii) make provision for requiring a local planning authority¹⁵ to be notified of any disposal¹⁶ of, or of an interest in, any Crown land in respect of which an application has been so made¹⁷; and
- 1680 (iii) make such other provision in relation to the making and determination of such applications¹⁸ as he or the Assembly thinks necessary or expedient¹⁹.

As from a day to be appointed²⁰, however, the provisions set out above are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004²¹; but this does not affect any requirement made in pursuance of regulations made under head (ii) above²². The new arrangements for applications for planning permission by the Crown are set out below²³.

1 For the meaning of 'Crown land' for these purposes see PARA 11 note 1 ante; and for the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

2 For the meaning of references to the disposal of an interest in Crown land, and to a private interest in such land, for these purposes see the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 293(4) (prospectively repealed); and PARA 11 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

4 I.e. a certificate under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 192 (as substituted): see PARA 587 post. Any application so made for a certificate under s 192 (as substituted) must be determined as if the land were not Crown land: s 299(4) (s 299(1), (2), (5), (6) amended; and s 299(4) substituted, by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 46).

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 299(1) (as amended: see note 4 supra). Section 299 (as so amended) is not, however, to be construed as affecting any right to apply for any such permission or certificate as is mentioned in s 299(1) (as so amended) in respect of Crown land in a case in which such an application can be made by virtue of a private interest in the land: s 299(6) (as so amended). For the meaning of 'private interest' see PARA 11 note 19 ante; and see also note 2 supra.

6 For the meaning of 'the appropriate authority' for these purposes see PARA 11 note 20 ante.

7 For these purposes, 'statutory provisions' means provisions contained in or having effect under any enactment: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 299(7). For the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 2 note 11 ante.

8 I.e. subject to ibid s 299(3)-(5) (as amended): see note 4 supra; and the text and notes 11-19 infra.

9 Ibid s 299(2) (as amended: see note 4 supra). An application for planning permission made by virtue of s 299(2) (as so amended) must be accompanied by (1) a statement that the application is made, by virtue of s 299(2) (as so amended), in respect of Crown land; and (2) where the application is made by a person authorised in writing by the appropriate authority, a copy of that authorisation: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 4A (added by SI 1995/1139).

The use of the procedure under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 299 (as amended) is not mandatory: see R (on the application of Cherwell District Council) v First Secretary of State [2004] EWCA Civ 1420, [2005] 1 WLR 1128, [2004] All ER (D) 414 (Oct).

10 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

11 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 299(3).

12 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

13 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 299 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

14 I.e. the statutory provisions referred to in ibid s 299(2) (as amended): see note 7 supra.

16 For the meaning of 'disposal' see PARA 38 note 6 ante.

17 It is granted or made by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 299 (as amended). The appropriate authority must, as soon as practicable after disposing of, or disposing of any interest in, any Crown land in respect of which planning permission has been granted or a certificate has been issued under section 192(2) (as substituted) on an application made by virtue of section 299(2) (as amended: see note 4 supra), give notice of the disposal in writing to the local planning authority to which the application was made: Town and Country Planning (Crown Land Applications) Regulations 1995, SI 1995/1139, reg 3.

18 It is by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 299 (as amended).

19 Ibid s 299(5) (as amended: see note 4 supra). In exercise of the power so conferred, and prior to the transfer of functions in Wales to the Assembly, the Secretary of State made the Town and Country Planning (Crown Land Applications) Regulations 1995, SI 1995/1139, which came into force on 3 June 1995: reg 1(1). As to the provision made by the 1995 Regulations see notes 9, 17 supra: and PARAS 469 note 4, 522 note 8, 589 note 14 post (modifications of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 72(1)(a) and of the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 6 (as amended) and art 24). As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 3 ante.

20 It is as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. At the date at which this title states the law, 6 August 2004 had been appointed for limited purposes only: see note 21 infra.

21 See ibid ss 79(4), 120, Sch 3 para 10(2), Sch 9. In so far as it confers on the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales a power or imposes a duty to make or to make provision by rules, regulations, development order or other order or to give directions, or make provision with respect to the exercise of any such power or performance of such duty, Sch 3 para 10 came into force on 6 August 2004: see the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 1) Order 2004, SI 2004/2097, art 2; and PARA 4 note 8 ante.

455 Applications for planning permission by the Crown; in general

TEXT AND NOTE 1--Day now appointed: SI 2006/1281.

NOTE 4--The National Assembly for Wales Commission is to be treated as a Crown body for the purposes of the 1990 Act s 298A: National Assembly for Wales Commission (Crown Status) (No 2) Order 2007, SI 2007/1353, art 4(1), (2)(e).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/B. CROWN LAND/(B) Provisions introduced by the 2004 Act/456. Urgent Crown development; application for planning permission.

456. Urgent Crown development; application for planning permission.

Partly as from a day to be appointed¹, the following provisions apply to a development² if the appropriate authority³ certifies:

1681 (1) that the development is of national importance; and 1682 (2) that it is necessary that the development is carried out as a matter of urgency⁴.

The appropriate authority may, instead of making an application for planning permission⁵ to the local planning authority⁶ in accordance with the normal statutory provisions⁷, make an application for planning permission to the Secretary of State⁸ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁹ under the provisions set out below¹⁰. If the appropriate authority proposes to make the application to the Secretary of State or the Assembly it must publish in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality of the proposed development a notice describing the proposed development and stating that the authority proposes to make the application to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹¹. For the purposes of such an application the appropriate authority must provide to the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

1683 (a) any matter required to be provided by an applicant for planning permission in pursuance of regulations providing for consideration to be given to the likely environmental effects of the proposed development¹²;

1684 (b) a statement of the authority's grounds for making the application¹³.

If the appropriate authority makes such an application, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may require the authority to provide him or it with such further information as he or the Assembly thinks necessary to enable him or it to determine the application¹⁴. As soon as practicable after he or it is provided with any document or other matter¹⁵ the Secretary of State or the Assembly must make a copy of the document or other matter available for inspection by the public in the locality of the proposed development¹⁶, except to the extent that the document or other matter is subject to a direction¹⁷ relating to national security¹⁸. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must in accordance with such requirements as are contained in a development order¹⁹ publish notice of the application and of the fact that such documents and other material are available for inspection²⁰. He or the Assembly must consult:

1685 (i) the local planning authority for the area to which the proposed development relates; and 1686 (ii) such other persons as are specified or described in a development order, about the application²¹.

Before determining such an application the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the applicant or the local planning authority wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly for the purpose²²; but this does not apply to an application for planning permission referred²³ to a planning inquiry commission²⁴.

The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on any such application is final²⁵. Its validity may, however, be challenged on an application to the High Court²⁶ under the relevant statutory provisions²⁷.

456 Urgent Crown development; application for planning permission

TEXT AND NOTE 1--Day now appointed: SI 2006/1281.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/B. CROWN LAND/(B) Provisions introduced by the 2004 Act/457. Transitional provisions.

457. Transitional provisions.

Schedule 4 to Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 makes transitional provision with regard to the application of planning legislation to the Crown. Part 1 of that Schedule¹ applies to a development² if:

- 1687 (1) it is a development for which before the relevant date³ no planning permission⁴ is required;
- 1688 (2) it is not a development or of a description of development for which planning permission is granted by virtue of a development order⁵; and
- 1689 (3) before the relevant date, proposed development notice⁶ had been given to the local planning authority⁷.

If before the relevant date in pursuance of the arrangements made in relation to the development⁸ either the local planning authority or the Secretary of State⁹ has given notice to the developer that it or he, as the case may be, finds the proposed development acceptable, then the notice must be treated as if it is planning permission granted¹⁰ under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹¹; and if the notice is subject to conditions the conditions have effect as if they are conditions attached to the planning permission¹².

If before the relevant date the local planning authority has in pursuance of the arrangements kept a register of proposed development notices, the register must be treated as if it is part of the register kept by the authority in pursuance of the relevant provisions¹³ of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹⁴.

If either:

- 1690 (a) before the relevant date the local planning authority has notified the developer in pursuance of the arrangements that it does not find the development acceptable, and the matter has been referred to but not decided by the Secretary of State; or
- 1691 (b) before the relevant date the local planning authority has notified the developer in pursuance of the arrangements that it finds the development acceptable subject to conditions, and the matter has been referred to but not decided by the Secretary of State, then the Secretary of State must deal with the proposal as if it is an appeal¹⁵ by an applicant for planning permission¹⁶.

If before the relevant date proposed development notice has been given, but the local planning authority has not given notice to the developer as mentioned above¹⁷, then the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 applies as if the proposal is an application for planning permission duly made under the relevant provisions¹⁸ of that Act¹⁹.

At the date at which this title states the law, however, these transitional provisions were not in force²⁰.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/C. FEES/458. Power to make regulations.

C. FEES

458. Power to make regulations.

The appropriate authority¹ may by regulations make provision for the payment of a charge or fee to a local planning authority² in respect of:

- 1692 (1) the performance by the local planning authority of any function³ it has;
- 1693 (2) anything done by the local planning authority which is calculated to facilitate or is conducive or incidental to the performance of any such function⁴.

The regulations may prescribe:

- 1694 (a) the person by whom the charge or fee is payable;
- 1695 (b) provision as to the calculation of the charge or fee (including the person by whom it is to be calculated)⁵;
- 1696 (c) circumstances in which no charge or fee is to be paid;
- 1697 (d) circumstances in which a charge or fee is to be transferred from one local planning authority to another⁶.

The Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales may by regulations make such provision as he or it thinks fit for the payment:

- 1698 (i) of fees of prescribed amounts to him or to it and to the local planning authority in respect of any application for planning permission⁷ deemed to be made on an appeal against an enforcement notice⁸; and
- 1699 (ii) of a fee of the prescribed amount to him or to the Assembly in respect of any other application for planning permission which is deemed to be made⁹ to him or to it¹⁰.

No such regulations may be made unless a draft of the regulations has been laid before and approved by a resolution of each House of Parliament¹¹.

1 The appropriate authority is: (1) the Secretary of State in relation to England; (2) the National Assembly for Wales in relation to Wales; and in the case of regulations made by the National Assembly for Wales, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 333(3) (see PARA 3 ante) must be ignored: s 303(2A) (s 303(1), (2), (2A) substituted, s 303(4) amended, s 303(5A), (5B) added, and s 303(6) repealed, by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 ss 53(1)-(5), 120, Sch 9). As to the Secretary of State and the Assembly see PARAS 19-20 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'function' see PARA 2 note 1 ante.

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 303(1) (as substituted: see note 1 supra). Regulations made under s 303(1) (as so substituted) may, it appears, reverse the decision in McCarthy & Stone (Developments) Ltd v Richmond upon Thames London Borough Council [1992] 2 AC 48, [1991] 4 All ER 897, HL (a local authority may not impose a charge for pre-application planning consultations (decided under the Local Government Act 1972 s 111: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 462)). Regulations under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 303(1) (as so substituted) and s 303(3) (as amended) (see heads (i)-(ii) in the text) may provide for the remission or refunding of a prescribed charge or fee, in whole or in part, in prescribed circumstances: s 303(4) (as amended: see note 1 supra).

5 If the local planning authority calculates the amount of fees or charges in pursuance of provision made by regulations under ibid s 303(1) (as substituted) the authority must secure that, taking one financial year with another, the income from the fees or charges does not exceed the cost of the performance of the function or doing of the thing, as the case may be: s 303(5A) (as added: see note 1 supra). A financial year is the period of 12 months beginning with 1 April: s 303(5B) (as so added).

6 Ibid s 303(2) (as substituted: see note 1 supra).

At the date at which this title states the law no regulations had been made under s 303 (as amended) but, by virtue of the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 2 (see PARA 2 ante), the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193 (as amended) had effect as if so made: see PARA 459 et seq post. As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 3 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

8 Ie deemed to be made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(5) (as amended): see PARA 610 post.

9 Ie under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 or any order or regulations made thereunder.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/C. FEES/459. Fees for planning applications.

459. Fees for planning applications.

Subject to a number of exceptions¹, where an application is made to a local planning authority² for planning permission³ for the development⁴ of land⁵ or for the approval of reserved matters⁶, a fee is payable to that authority⁷.

Where a fee is due in respect of an application, the fee must be paid to the local planning authority with which the application is lodged and must accompany the application⁸.

Where the local planning authority which so receives the fee is not the local planning authority which has to determine the application, it must remit the fee to that authority at the same time as it forwards the application to that authority⁹.

Any fee so paid must be refunded if the application is rejected as invalidly made¹⁰.

1 Ie subject to the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, regs 4-9 (as amended): see PARA 460 post. 459 Fees for planning applications

NOTE 7--SI 1989/193 Sch 1 Pt II further substituted: SI 2008/958 (England), SI 2009/851 (Wales).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/C. FEES/460. Exceptions where fees for planning applications do not apply.

460. Exceptions where fees for planning applications do not apply.

The statutory provisions relating to fees for planning applications¹ do not apply:

1700 (1) where the local planning authority² to which the application is made is satisfied that it relates solely to:

12. (a) the carrying out of operations for the alteration or extension of an existing dwelling house³; or

13. (b) the carrying out of operations, other than the erection of a dwelling house, in the curtilage of an existing dwelling house,

1701 for the purpose, in either case, of providing means of access to or within the dwelling house for a disabled person⁴ who is resident in, or is proposing to take up residence in, that dwelling house, or of providing facilities designed to secure his greater safety, health or comfort⁵;

1702 (2) where that authority is satisfied that it relates solely to the carrying out of operations for the purpose of providing means of access for disabled persons to or within a building or premises to which members of the public are admitted, whether on payment or otherwise⁶;

1703 (3) where that authority is satisfied that the application relates solely to development⁷ which is within one or more of the Classes specified in the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995⁸ and that the permission otherwise granted⁹ does not apply in respect of that development by reason of, and only by reason of, a direction¹⁰ which is in force on the date when the application is made or the requirements of a specified¹¹ condition¹²;

1704 (4) where that authority is satisfied:

14. (a) that the application relates solely to the use¹³ of a building¹⁴ or other land for a purpose of any Class specified in the Town and Country Planning (Use Classes) Order 1987¹⁵; and

15. (b) that the existing use of that building or other land is for another purpose of the same Class; and

16. (c) that the making of an application for planning permission in respect of the use to which the application relates is necessary by reason of, and only by reason of, the requirements of a condition imposed on a permission granted or deemed to be granted¹⁶ under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹⁷;

1705 (5) where all the specified conditions¹⁸ are satisfied, to:

17. (a) an application for planning permission which is made following the granting of planning permission for development which the local planning authority is satisfied is development of the same character or description as the development to which the application relates, on an application for planning permission made by or on behalf of the same applicant; or

18. (b) an application for approval of one or more reserved matters which is made following the granting of approval of details relating to the same reserved matters authorised by the same outline planning permission, on an application made by or on behalf of the same applicant¹⁹;

1706 (6) where all the specified conditions²⁰ are satisfied, to:

19. (a) an application for planning permission which is made following the withdrawal, before notice of decision was issued, of an application for planning permission made by or on behalf of the same applicant;

20. (b) an application for planning permission which is made following the refusal of planning permission, whether by the local planning authority or by the Secretary of State²¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales²² on appeal or following reference of the application to him or to it for determination, on an application for planning permission made by or on behalf of the same applicant;

21. (c) an application for planning permission which is made following the making of an appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in default of a planning decision in relation to an application for planning permission made by or on behalf of the same applicant;

22. (d) an application for approval of one or more reserved matters which is made following the withdrawal, before notice of decision was issued, of an application made by or on behalf of the same applicant for approval of details relating to the same reserved matters authorised by the same outline planning permission;

23. (e) an application for approval of one or more reserved matters which is made following the refusal, whether by the local planning authority or by the Secretary of State or the Assembly on appeal or following the reference of the application to him or to it for determination, to approve details relating to the same reserved matters which were submitted in an application made by or on behalf of the same applicant and in relation to the same outline planning permission; or

24. (f) an application for approval of one or more reserved matters which is made following the making of an appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in relation to an application made by or on behalf of the same applicant for approval of details relating to the same reserved matters authorised by the same outline planning permission²³;

- 1707 (7) to impose a fee in relation to an application to a local planning authority for permission to carry out development consisting of the winning and working of minerals where the application is for permission which consolidates two or more subsisting permissions and does not seek permission for development which is not authorised by a subsisting permission²⁴.

1 Ie the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 3 (as amended): see PARA 459 ante.

2 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

3 For these purposes, 'dwelling house' means a building or part of a building which is used as a single private dwelling house and for no other purpose: Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 2(1).

4 For these purposes, 'disabled person' means a person who is within any of the descriptions of persons to whom the National Assistance Act 1948 s 29 (as amended) applies or a child who is disabled for the purposes of the Children Act 1989 Pt III (s 17-30) (as amended): Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 4(3) (substituted by SI 1997/37).

8 Ie the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 3(1), Sch 2 (as amended): see PARA 265 et seq ante. The reference to an application which relates to development which is within one or more of the Classes in Sch 2 (as amended) is to be construed as including an application for planning permission for the continuance of a use of land, or the retention of buildings or works, without compliance with a condition subject to which a previous planning permission has been granted, where the condition in question prohibits or limits the carrying out of any development which is within one or more of those Classes: Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, regs 2(1), 5(2) (reg 5(1), (2) amended by SI 1997/37). For these purposes, 'use of land' includes use of land for the winning or working of minerals: Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 2(1). For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante; for the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante; for the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante; for the meaning of 'buildings or works' see PARA 43 note 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'the winning and working of minerals' see PARA 16 note 2 ante.

17 Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 6.

18 The specified conditions are: (1) that the application is made within 12 months of the date of the grant of planning permission or grant or approval of details of reserved matters, as the case may be; (2) that the application relates: (a) in the case of an application for planning permission, to the same site as that to which the grant of planning permission related, or to part of that site, and to no other land except land included solely for the purpose of providing a different means of access to the site; or (b) in the case of an application for approval of reserved matters, to the same site as that in respect of which the approval was granted, or to part of that site, and no other land; (3) in the case of an application for planning permission which is not made in outline, that the planning permission which has been granted is not an outline planning permission; (4) that no application made by or on behalf of the same applicant in relation to the whole or any part of the site has already been exempted from the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193 (as amended) by reg 7: reg 7(2). For these purposes, 'outline planning permission' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419 (as amended) (see PARA 467 note 5 post): Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 2(1) (definition amended by SI 1997/37).

19 Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 7(1).

20 The specified conditions are: (1) that the application is made within 12 months of (a) the date when the earlier application was made, in the case of a withdrawn application; (b) the date when, by virtue of the relevant provision of the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419 (as amended), the period for the giving of notice of a decision on the earlier application expired, in the case of an application which is made following an appeal; or (c) the date of the refusal, in any other case; (2) that the application relates: (a) in the case of an application for planning permission, to the same site as that to which the earlier application related, or to part of that site, and to no other land except land included solely for the purpose of providing a different means of access to the site; or (b) in the case of an application for approval of reserved matters, to the same site as that to which the earlier application related, or to part of that site, and no other land; (3) in the case of an application for planning permission, that the local planning authority to which the application is made is satisfied that the application relates to development of the same character as the development to which the earlier application related, and to no other development; (4) in the case of an application for planning permission which is not made in outline, that the earlier application was also not made in outline; (5) that the fee payable in respect of the earlier application was paid; and (6) that no application made by or on behalf of the same applicant in relation to the whole or any part of the site has already been exempted from the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193 (as amended), reg 3 (as amended) by reg 8 (as amended): reg 8(2) (amended by SI 1997/37).

TEXT AND NOTES 18, 19--In relation to Wales, head (5)(a) omitted: SI 1989/193 reg 7(1) (substituted by SI 2006/948).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/C. FEES/461. Fees in respect of deemed applications.

461. Fees in respect of deemed applications.

A fee must be paid¹ to the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³ in every case where an application for planning permission⁴ is deemed to have been made in consequence of an appeal⁵ against an enforcement notice⁶.

The fee due in respect of a deemed application must be paid at such time as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may in the particular case specify by notice in writing to the appellant⁷ and is refundable in prescribed circumstances⁸.

1 The subject to the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 10(3) (as substituted) (see note 6 infra) and reg 10(5) (see PARA 462 post).

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

3 As to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

5 The appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(5) (as amended): see PARA 610 post.

6 Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, regs 1(2)(d), 10(1)(a); Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 2. A fee: (1) must be so paid in respect of such a deemed application by every person who has made a valid appeal against the enforcement notice and whose appeal has not been withdrawn before the date on which the Secretary of State or the Assembly issues a notice requiring payment of the fee; (2) is payable of twice the fee calculated in accordance with Sch 1 (as amended); (3) must be paid as to half to the Secretary of State or the Assembly and as to the other half to the local planning authority which issued the relevant enforcement notice: reg 10(2), (3) (respectively amended and substituted by SI 1991/2735). For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 44 note 1 ante.

The Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, regs 4-6 (as amended) (see PARA 460 ante) apply to a deemed application as they apply to an application for planning permission made to the local planning authority, with the following modifications: (a) references to the local planning authority to which the application is made are to be construed as references to the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and (b) references to the development to which the application relates are to be construed as references to the use of the land or the operations to which the relevant enforcement notice relates: reg 10(7). As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante; and for the meaning of 'use of land' for these purposes see PARA 460 note 8 ante.

7 Ibid reg 10(4).

8 In the event that the Secretary of State or the Assembly declines jurisdiction on the relevant appeal, dismisses it or allows it and quashes the relevant enforcement notice, any fee paid in respect of the deemed application must be refunded to the appellant: see ibid reg 10(8) (amended by SI 1991/2735). In the event of the relevant appeal being withdrawn with the result that there are at least 21 days between the date of withdrawal and (1) the date, or in the event of postponement, the latest date, appointed for the holding of an inquiry into that appeal; or (2) in the case of an appeal which is being dealt with by way of written representations, the date, or in the event of postponement the latest date, appointed for the inspection of the site to which the enforcement notice relates, any fee paid in respect of the deemed application must be refunded to the appellant: see the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 10(9) (as so amended). In the event of the local planning authority withdrawing the relevant enforcement notice before it takes effect or if the Secretary of State or the Assembly decides that the enforcement notice is a nullity, any fee paid by an appellant must be refunded to him: reg 10(11) (as so amended). In the event of the Secretary of State or the Assembly allowing the appeal against the relevant enforcement notice: (a) on grounds set out in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174(2)(b)-(e) (as substituted) (see PARA 603 post); or (b) the ground that the notice is invalid, or that it contains an informality, defect or error which cannot be corrected in pursuance of his or the Assembly's powers under s 176(1) (as substituted) (see PARA 609 post), save in the case of an application deemed to have been made in connection with an enforcement notice alleging a breach of planning control by the use of land as a caravan site, or where, on the determination of the appeal, the Secretary of State or the Assembly issues a certificate of lawful use or development, the fee paid by the appellant must be refunded to him: see the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 10(12) (as so amended; also amended by SI 1992/1817). Finally, in the case of an enforcement notice being varied otherwise than to take account of a grant of planning permission and where the fee as calculated would have been a lesser amount if the original notice had been in the terms of the varied notice, the fee payable is that lesser amount and any excess amount already paid must be refunded: see the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1989, SI 1989/193, reg 10(14).

The statutory provisions relating to fees for deemed applications¹ do not apply where the person who has appealed against the relevant enforcement notice² had:

- 1708 (1) before the date when the notice was issued, made an application to the local planning authority³ for planning permission⁴ for the development⁵ to which the relevant enforcement notice relates, and had paid to the authority the fee payable in respect of that application; or
- 1709 (2) before the date specified in the notice as the date on which the notice is to take effect, made an appeal to the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁷ against the refusal of the local planning authority to grant such permission, and, at the date when the relevant enforcement notice was issued, that application or, in the case of an appeal made before that date, that appeal, had not been determined⁸.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/D. REGISTER OF APPLICATIONS/466. Register of applications etc; in general.

D. REGISTER OF APPLICATIONS

466. Register of applications etc; in general.

Partly as from a day to be appointed¹, the following provisions apply. The local planning authority² must keep a register containing such information as is prescribed³ as to:

- 1714 (1) applications for planning permission⁴;
- 1715 (2) local development orders⁵;
- 1716 (3) simplified planning zone schemes⁶.

The register must contain:

- 1717 (a) information as to the manner in which applications mentioned in head (1) above have been dealt with⁷;
- 1718 (b) such information as is prescribed with respect to any local development order or simplified planning zone scheme in relation to the authority's area⁸.

A development order may require the register to be kept in two or more parts⁹. Each part must contain such information as is prescribed relating to the matters mentioned in head (1) above¹⁰. A development order may also make provision:

- 1719 (i) for a specified part of the register to contain copies of applications and of any other documents or material submitted with them;
- 1720 (ii) for the entry relating to an application, and everything relating to it, to be removed from that part of the register when the application, including any appeal arising out of it, has been finally disposed of¹¹;

but provision made under head (ii) above does not prevent the inclusion of a different entry relating to the application in another part of the register¹².

The register must be kept in such manner as is prescribed¹³ and must be kept available for inspection by the public at all reasonable hours¹⁴.

The register also contains information with regard to applications for certificates of the lawfulness of existing or proposed use or development¹⁵.

¹ ie as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. At the date at which this title states the law, 6 August 2004 had been appointed for limited purposes only: see PARA 4 note 8 ante.

2 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante. The functions of local planning authorities in England and outside Greater London under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 69 (as substituted) are exercisable by district planning authorities: see s 1(5)(a) (as amended), Sch 1 paras 14, 21(1).

3 Anything prescribed for these purposes must be prescribed by development order: ibid s 69(9) (s 69 substituted by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 118(1), Sch 6 paras 1, 3, partly as from a day to be appointed: see note 1 supra). For the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 252 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante. References to applications for planning permission in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 69 (as substituted: see note 3 supra) include references to applications for certificates under s 191 or s 192 (each as substituted) ('CLEUDs' and 'CLOPUDs': see PARAS 586-587 post): s 193(6) (substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 10(1)).

5 As to local development orders see PARA 419 et seq ante.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 69(1) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). As to simplified planning zone schemes see PARA 426 et seq ante. Section 61(1) (as so substituted) also contains a requirement for the register to contain such information as is prescribed as to requests for statements of development principles within the meaning of s 61E (see s 61(1)(b) (as so substituted)), but it is apprehended that this is a drafting error as there is no s 61E. The Planning and Compulsory Purchase Bill originally contained clauses (1) introducing the requirement for a statement of development principles; and (2) providing for the removal of outline planning permission; but both these proposals were dropped during the Bill's passage through Parliament: see HL Debates vol 659 col 895 (25 March 2004); HC Debates vol 420 col 1037 (29 April 2004).

7 The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 69(2)(a) (as substituted) (see head (a) in the text) also refers to information as to the manner in which requests mentioned in s 69(1)(b) (as substituted) have been dealt with; but see note 6 supra.

8 Ibid s 69(2) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

9 Ibid s 69(3) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

10 Ibid s 69(4) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). Section 69(4) (as so substituted) also provides that each part must contain such information as is prescribed relating to the matters mentioned in s 69(1)(b) (as substituted); but see note 6 supra.

11 Ibid s 69(5) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). Section 69(5) (as so substituted) refers to 'applications or requests' and 'an application or request': but see note 6 supra.

12 Ibid s 69(6) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). Section 69(6) (as so substituted) refers to 'the application or request': but see note 6 supra.

13 Ibid s 69(7) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

14 Ibid s 69(8) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). Prior to such substitution, s 69 (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 32, 84, Sch 7 para 13, Sch 19, Pt I) provided as follows: Every local planning authority must keep, in such manner as may be prescribed by a development order, a register containing such information as may be so prescribed with respect to applications for planning permission: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 69(1) (as originally enacted and as so amended). The register must contain: (1) information as to the manner in which such applications have been dealt with; and (2) such information as may be prescribed by a development order with respect to simplified planning zone schemes relating to zones in the authority's area: s 69(2) (as originally enacted). A development order may make provision for the register to be kept in two or more parts, each part containing such information relating to applications for planning permission as may be prescribed by the order: s 69(3) (as originally enacted and as so amended). A development order may also make provision: (a) for a specified part of the register to contain copies of applications and of any plans or drawings submitted with them; and (b) for the entry relating to any application, and everything relating to it, to be removed from that part of the register when the application, including any appeal arising out of it, has been finally disposed of, without prejudice to the inclusion of any different entry relating to it in another part of the register: s 69(4) (as originally enacted). Every register so kept must be available for inspection by the public at all reasonable hours: s 69(5) (as originally enacted).

15 See PARA 591 post.

UPDATE

466 Register of applications etc; in general

NOTE 1--Day now appointed: SI 2010/321.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Application for Planning Permission/D. REGISTER OF APPLICATIONS/467. Form of register of applications.

467. Form of register of applications.

Each local planning register authority¹ must keep, in two parts, a register of every application for planning permission² relating to its area³.

Part I of the register must contain in respect of each such application and any application for approval of reserved matters⁴ made in respect of an outline planning permission⁵ granted on such an application, made or sent to the local planning register authority and not finally disposed of⁶:

- 1721 (1) a copy, which may be photographic or in electronic form, of the application together with any accompanying plans and drawings;
- 1722 (2) a copy, which may be photographic or in electronic form, of any planning obligation⁷ or agreement pursuant to the relevant provision of the Highways Act 1980⁸ proposed or entered into in connection with the application;
- 1723 (3) a copy, which may be photographic or in electronic form, of any other planning obligation or agreement such as is mentioned in head (2) above entered into in respect of the land the subject of the application which the applicant considers relevant; and
- 1724 (4) particulars of any modification to any planning obligation or agreement such as is mentioned in head (2) above included in Part I of the register in accordance with heads (2) and (3) above⁹.

Part II of the register must contain, in respect of every application for planning permission relating to the local planning register authority's area:

- 1725 (a) a copy, which may be photographic or in electronic form, of the application and of plans and drawings submitted in relation thereto;
- 1726 (b) particulars of any direction given in respect of the application;
- 1727 (c) the decision, if any, of the local planning authority in respect of the application, including details of any conditions subject to which permission was granted, the date of such decision and the name of the local planning authority;
- 1728 (d) the reference number, the date and effect of any decision of the Secretary of State¹⁰ or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales¹¹ in respect of the application, whether on appeal or on a reference¹²;
- 1729 (e) the date of any subsequent approval, whether approval of reserved matters or any other approval required, given in relation to the application;
- 1730 (f) a copy, which may be photographic or in electronic form, of any planning obligation or agreement such as is mentioned in head (2) above entered into in connection with any decision of the local planning authority or of the Secretary of State or the Assembly in respect of the application;

- 1731 (g) a copy, which may be photographic or in electronic form, of any other planning obligation or agreement such as is mentioned in head (2) above taken into account by the local planning authority or by the Secretary of State or the Assembly when making the decision; and
- 1732 (h) particulars of any modification to or discharge of any planning obligation or agreement such as is mentioned in head (2) above included in Part II of the register in accordance with heads (f) and (g) above¹³.

Where, on an appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly against an enforcement notice¹⁴, the appellant is deemed to have made an application for planning permission and the Secretary of State or the Assembly has granted permission, the local planning register authority must, on receipt of notification of the Secretary of State's or Assembly's decision, enter into Part II of the register particulars of the development concerned, the land on which it was carried out, and the date and effect of the Secretary of State's or Assembly's decision¹⁵.

The register must contain the following information about simplified planning zone schemes¹⁶ in the area of the authority:

- 1733 (i) brief particulars of any specified action taken by the authority or by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁷;
- 1734 (ii) a copy of any simplified planning zone scheme, including any diagrams, illustrations, descriptive matters or any other prescribed material which has been made available for inspection¹⁸;
- 1735 (iii) an index map showing the boundary of any operative or proposed simplified planning zone schemes, including alterations to existing schemes where appropriate, together with a reference to the entries in the register under heads (i) and (ii) above¹⁹.

The information about applications for certificates of lawfulness of existing or proposed use or development which must also be included in the register is discussed in a later part of this title²⁰.

Every entry in the register must be made within 14 days of the receipt of an application, or of the giving or making of the relevant direction, decision or approval, as the case may be²¹.

To enable any person to trace any entry in the register, every register must include an index together with a separate index of applications for development involving mining operations²² or the creation of mineral working deposits²³.

The register must either be kept at the principal office of the local planning register authority or that part of the register which relates to land in part of that authority's area must be kept at a place within or convenient to that part²⁴. Where the register kept by a local planning register authority is kept using electronic storage, the authority may make the register available for inspection by the public on a website maintained by the authority for that purpose²⁵.

1 For these purposes and the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 26 (register of enforcement and stop notices: see PARA 554 post), 'the local planning register authority' means: (1) in Greater London or a metropolitan county or in Wales, the local planning authority (and references to the area of the local planning register authority are, in this case, to the area of the local planning authority); (2) in relation to land in a National Park (except in a metropolitan county or in Wales), the county planning authority (and references to the area of the local planning register authority are, in this case, to the area of the county planning authority within a National Park); (3) in relation to any other land, the district planning authority (and references to the area of the local planning register authority are, in this case, to the area of the district planning authority, other than any part of its area falling within a National Park): art 25(1) (amended by SI 1996/525). As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

3 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 25(2).

4 For these purposes, 'reserved matters', in relation to an outline permission, or an application for such permission, means any of the following matters in respect of which details have not been given in the application, namely (1) siting; (2) design; (3) external appearance; (4) means of access; (5) the landscaping of the site; and 'landscaping' means the treatment of land, other than buildings, being the site or part of the site in respect of which an outline planning permission is granted, for the purpose of enhancing or protecting the amenities of the site and the area in which it is situated and includes screening by fences, walls or other means, the planting of trees, hedges, shrubs or grass, the formation of banks, terraces or other earthworks, the laying out of gardens or courts, and the provision of other amenity features: ibid art 1(2). 'Building' includes any structure or erection, and any part of a building, as so defined, but does not include plant or machinery or any structure in the nature of plant or machinery: art 1(2). As to the meaning of 'amenity' see PARA 158 note 8 ante. The express definition of 'reserved matters' under art 1(2) is exclusive and specifically restricts 'reserved matters' to the examples given in heads (1)-(5) supra; thus a condition in an outline planning permission providing for subsequent approval of the provision of mitigation or substituted land was not a reserved matter for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419 (as amended): R (on the application of Murray) v Hampshire County Council [2002] EWHC 1401 (Admin), [2003] JPL 224, [2002] All ER (D) 260 (Jun); affd [2003] All ER (D) 174 (May), CA.

5 For these purposes, 'outline planning permission' means a planning permission for the erection of a building, which is granted subject to a condition requiring the subsequent approval of the local planning authority with respect to one or more reserved matters: ibid art 1(2). 'Erection', in relation to buildings as defined in art 1(2) (see note 4 supra), includes extension, alteration or re-erection: art 1(2).

6 For these purposes, an application is not treated as finally disposed of unless (1) it has been decided by the authority, or the appropriate period allowed under ibid art 23(2) (see PARA 532 post) has expired without its giving a decision, and the period of six months specified in art 23 (as amended) (see PARA 599 post) has expired without any appeal having been made to the Secretary of State (or in Wales to the National Assembly for Wales); (2) if it has been referred to the Secretary of State (or in Wales to the Assembly) under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended) (see PARA 483 post) or an appeal has been made to the Secretary of State (or in Wales to the Assembly) under s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 post), the Secretary of State (or in Wales the Assembly) has issued his (or its) decision and the period of six weeks specified in s 288 (as amended) (see PARA 47 ante) has expired without any application having been made to the High Court thereunder; or (3) an application has been made to the High Court under s 288 (as amended) and the matter has been finally determined, either by final dismissal of the application by a court or by the quashing of the Secretary of State's (or in Wales, the Assembly's) decision and the issue of a fresh decision without a further application under s 288 (as amended); or (4) it has been withdrawn before being decided by the authority, or an appeal has been withdrawn before the Secretary of State (or in Wales, the Assembly) has issued his (or its) decision: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 25(11) (amended in relation to England by SI 2004/3340).

7 For these purposes, 'planning obligation' means an obligation entered into by agreement or otherwise by any person interested in land pursuant to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 106 (as substituted; prospectively repealed) (see PARA 244 ante): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 1(2) (definition added in relation to England by SI 2002/828 and in relation to Wales by SI 2004/1434).

8 le a 'section 278 agreement' which means an agreement entered into pursuant to the Highways Act 1980 s 278 (as substituted) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 73): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 1(2) (definition added in relation to England by SI 2002/828 and in relation to Wales by SI 2004/1434).

9 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 25(3) (substituted in relation to England by SI 2002/828; amended by SI 2003/956; substituted (subject to minor variation) in relation to Wales by SI 2004/1434; amended by SI 2004/3156).

10 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

11 As to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. 14 le an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as amended): see PARA 603 post.

15 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 25(5). The particulars referred to in the text must be entered in the register together with a copy (which may be photographic or in electronic form) of (1) any planning obligation or section 278 agreement entered into in connection with the decision; and (2) any other planning obligation or section 278 agreement taken into account by the Secretary of State or the Assembly when making the decision: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 25(5) (amended in relation to England by SI 2002/828 and SI 2003/956; and in relation to Wales by SI 2004/1434 and SI 2004/3156).

UPDATE

467 Form of register of applications

TEXT AND NOTES--In relation to England, Part III of the register must contain, in relation to local development orders, (1) copies of draft local development orders which have been prepared but not adopted by the authority; (2) copies of local development orders which have been adopted by the authority; (3) particulars of the revocation of any local development order made by the authority, including the date on which the revocation took effect; and (4) particulars of the reversion of any local development order, including the date on which the reversion took effect: SI 1995/419 art 25A (added by SI 2006/1062).

NOTE 4--Definitions of 'reserved matters' and 'landscaping' substituted in relation to Wales: SI 2008/2336. In relation to England, heads (1)-(5) now (1) access; (2) appearance; (3) landscaping; (4) layout; (5) scale, within the upper and lower limit for the height, width and length of each building stated in the application for planning permission: see SI 1995/419 art 1(2) (amended by SI 2006/1062).

TEXT AND NOTES 10-13--Head (a) now includes, in relation to England, a copy of any accompanying design and access statement provided and, in relation to Wales, a copy of any accompanying design and access statement or access statement provided in accordance with SI 1995/419 art 4D (as substituted); head (d), in relation to Wales, refers also to an application for urgent Crown development: SI 1995/419 art 25(4)

(amended, in relation to England, by SI 2006/1062 and, in relation to Wales, by SI 2006/1386, SI 2006/3390, SI 2009/1024).

TEXT AND NOTE 21--In relation to Wales, a copy of any application made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 293A(2) and of any plans and drawings submitted in relation to it must be placed on the register within 14 days of the date on which the local planning authority is consulted on the application by the Secretary of State: SI 1995/419 art 25 (amended by SI 2006/1386).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(ii) Publicity for Applications/468. Notice etc of applications for planning permission; in general.

(ii) Publicity for Applications

468. Notice etc of applications for planning permission; in general.

A development order¹ may make provision requiring:

- 1736 (1) notice to be given of any application for planning permission²; and
- 1737 (2) any applicant for such permission to issue a certificate as to the interests in the land³ to which the application relates⁴ or the purpose for which it is used, and provide for publicising such applications and for the form, content and service of such notices and certificates⁵.

Provision must be made by a development order for the purpose of securing that, in the case of any application for planning permission, any person, other than the applicant, who on such date as may be prescribed by the order⁶ is an owner⁷ of the land to which the application relates, or an agricultural tenant⁸ of that land, is given notice of the application in such manner as may be required by the order⁹.

A development order may require an applicant for planning permission to certify, in such form as may be prescribed by the order, or to provide evidence, that any requirements of the order have been satisfied¹⁰.

A development order making any such provision may make different provision for different cases or different classes of development¹¹.

A local planning authority¹² may not entertain an application for planning permission unless any requirements imposed by virtue of the above provisions have been satisfied¹³.

If any person:

- 1738 (a) issues a certificate which purports to comply with any requirement imposed by virtue of the above provisions and contains a statement which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular; or
- 1739 (b) recklessly issues a certificate which purports to comply with any such requirement and contains a statement which is false or misleading in a material particular,

he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale¹⁴. A magistrates' court may¹⁵ try an information in respect of such an offence whenever laid¹⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 252 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

4 For these purposes, the reference to the interests in the land to which an application for planning permission relates includes any interest in any mineral in, on or under the land: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 65(8) (s 65 substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 16(1)).

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 65(1) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

6 The date so prescribed is the day 21 days before the date of the application: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 6(5)(a).

7 For these purposes, 'owner', in relation to any land, means any person who (1) is the estate owner in respect of the fee simple; (2) is entitled to a tenancy granted or extended for a term of years certain of which not less than seven years remain unexpired; or (3) in the case of such applications as may be prescribed by a development order, is entitled to an interest in any mineral so prescribed: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 65(8) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). The applications so prescribed are minerals applications, and the minerals so prescribed are any minerals other than oil, gas, coal, gold or silver: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 6(5)(b). 'Minerals applications' mean applications for planning permission for development consisting of the winning and working of minerals: art 6(6). For the meaning of 'the winning and working of minerals' see PARA 16 note 2 ante.

8 For these purposes, 'agricultural tenant', in relation to any land, means any person who: (1) is the tenant, under a tenancy in relation to which the Agricultural Holdings Act 1986 applies, of an agricultural holding within the meaning of that Act any part of which is comprised in that land; or (2) is the tenant, under a farm business tenancy (within the meaning of the Agricultural Tenancies Act 1995), of land any part of which is comprised in that land: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 65(8) (as substituted: see note 4 supra; s 65(2), (8) amended by the Agricultural Tenancies Act 1995 s 40, Schedule para 35).

9 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 65(2) (as substituted and amended: see notes 4, 8 supra). See PARAS 469-471 post.

10 Ibid s 65(3) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

11 Ibid s 65(4) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

12 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

13 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 65(5) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

14 Ibid s 65(6), (7) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). For the meaning of 'the standard scale' see PARA 53 note 10 ante. As to offences by corporations see PARA 55 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(ii) Publicity for Applications/469. Notice of application for planning permission; procedure.

469. Notice of application for planning permission; procedure.

An applicant for planning permission¹ must give requisite notice² of the application to any person, other than the applicant, who on the prescribed date³ is an owner⁴ of the land to which the application relates, or a tenant⁵:

- 1740 (1) by serving the notice on every such person whose name and address is known to him; and
- 1741 (2) where he has taken reasonable steps to ascertain the names and addresses of every such person, but has been unable to do so, by local advertisement⁶ after the prescribed date⁷.

In the case of an application for planning permission for development⁸ consisting of the winning and working of minerals by underground operations, instead of giving notice in the manner described above, the applicant must give requisite notice of the application to any person, other than the applicant, who on the prescribed date is an owner of any of the land to which the application relates, or a tenant:

- 1742 (a) by serving the notice on every such person who the applicant knows to be such a person and whose name and address is known to him;
- 1743 (b) by local advertisement after the prescribed date; and
- 1744 (c) by site display⁹ in at least one place in every parish or community within which there is situated any part of the land to which the application relates, leaving the notice in position for not less than seven days in the period of 21 days immediately preceding the making of the application to the local planning authority¹⁰.

The provisions set out above apply to any appeal to the Secretary of State¹¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹² against a planning decision or a failure to take such a decision¹³ as they apply to applications for planning permission¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'requisite notice' means notice in the appropriate form set out in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 6, Sch 2 Pt I (as amended) or in a form substantially to the like effect: art 6(6). It does not, however, include notice served using electronic communications: art 6(6) (amended in relation to England by SI 2003/956 and in relation to Wales by SI 2004/3156). As to the use of electronic communications see PARA 451 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'the prescribed date' is the day 21 days before the date of the application: ibid art 6(5) (a).

4 For these purposes and for the purposes of the certificates required by ibid art 7 (see PARA 470 post), where an application for planning permission is made by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 299(2) (as amended and prospectively repealed) (see PARA 454 ante), the applicant is to be treated as an owner of the land and no account is to be taken of any Crown interest or Duchy interest in the land or in any mineral in the land: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 6(7) (added by SI 1995/1139).

5 For these purposes, 'tenant' means the tenant of an agricultural holding any part of which is comprised in the land to which an application relates: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 6(6).

6 For these purposes, 'by local advertisement' means (1) by publication of the notice in a newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land to which the application relates is situated; and (2) where the local planning authority maintains a website for the purpose of advertisement of applications, by publication of the notice on the website: ibid art 1(2) (definition substituted in relation to England by SI 2003/956 and in relation to Wales by SI 2004/3156). As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

8 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

9 'By site display' means by the posting of the notice by firm affixture to some object, sited and displayed in such a way as to be easily visible and legible by members of the public: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 1(2).

10 Ibid art 6(2). The notice required by art 6(2)(c) (see head (c) in the text) must, in addition to any other matters required to be contained in it, name a place within the area of the local planning authority to which the application is made where a copy of the application for planning permission, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable hours during such period as may be specified in the notice: art 6(3). Where, however, a local planning authority maintains a website for the purpose of advertisement of applications for planning permission, the notice so required must (in addition to any other matters required to be contained in it) state the address of the website where a copy of the application, and of all plans and other documents submitted with it, will be open to inspection by the public at all reasonable hours during such period as may be specified in the notice, and the place on the website where such documents may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: art 6(3A) (added in relation to England by SI 2003/956 and in relation to Wales by SI 2004/3156.). Where the notice is, without any fault or intention of the applicant, removed, obscured or defaced before the period of seven days referred to in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 6(2)(c) has elapsed, the applicant is treated as having complied with the requirements of art 6(2)(c) if he has taken reasonable steps for its protection and, if need be, replacement: art 6(4).

11 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

12 As to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. See also PARA 451 note 13 ante.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(ii) Publicity for Applications/470. Certificates in relation to notice of applications for planning permission.

470. Certificates in relation to notice of applications for planning permission.

Where an application for planning permission¹ is made, the applicant must certify, in the appropriate prescribed form² or in a form substantially to the like effect, that the requirements relating to notice of application for planning permission³ have been satisfied⁴.

The provisions set out above apply to any appeal to the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶ against a planning decision or a failure to take such a decision⁷ as they apply to applications for planning permission⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

2 For the prescribed form of certificate see the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 7, Sch 2 Pt 2 (as amended). As to the treatment of the applicant as the owner for the purposes of such a certificate where an application is made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 299(2) (as amended and prospectively repealed) in relation to Crown land see PARA 469 note 4 ante.

3 Ie the requirements of the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 6 (as amended): see PARA 469 ante.

4 Ibid art 7(1). If an applicant has cause to rely on art 6(4) (see PARA 469 note 10 ante), the certificate must state the relevant circumstances: art 7(2). As to the effect of a factually erroneous certificate on the validity of a subsequent grant of planning permission in respect of the planning application see Main v Swansea City Council (1984) 49 P & CR 26, CA.

5 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

6 As to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. UPDATE

470 Certificates in relation to notice of applications for planning permission

TEXT AND NOTES 1-4--SI 1995/419 art 7(1) amended in relation to England: SI 2008/550.

NOTE 2--SI 1995/419 Sch 2 Pt 2 revoked in relation to England: SI 2008/550.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(ii) Publicity for Applications/471. Publicity for applications for planning permission.

471. Publicity for applications for planning permission.

An application for planning permission¹ must be publicised by the local planning authority² to which the application is made in the following manner³.

In the case of an application for planning permission for development⁴ which:

- 1745 (1) is an EIA application⁵ accompanied by an environmental statement⁶;
- 1746 (2) does not accord with the provisions of the development plan⁷ in force in the area in which the land to which the application relates is situated; or
- 1747 (3) would affect a right of way to which Part III of the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981⁸ applies, the application (a 'paragraph (2) application') must be publicised by giving requisite notice⁹ by site display¹⁰ in at least one place on or near the land to which the application relates for not less than 21 days and by local advertisement¹¹.

In the case of an application for planning permission which is not a paragraph (2) application, if the development proposed is major development¹², the application must be publicised by giving requisite notice by:

- 1748 (a) site display in at least one place on or near the land to which the application relates for not less than 21 days, or serving the notice on any adjoining owner or occupier¹³; and
- 1749 (b) local advertisement¹⁴.

In a case to which none of the above provisions applies¹⁵, the application must be publicised by giving requisite notice by:

- 1750 (i) site display in at least one place on or near the land to which the application relates for not less than 21 days; or
- 1751 (ii) serving the notice on any adjoining owner or occupier¹⁶.

If the local planning authority has failed to satisfy the requirements of the above provisions¹⁷ in respect of an application for the planning permission at the time the application is referred¹⁸ to the Secretary of State¹⁹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales²⁰ those requirements continue to apply as if such referral had not been made²¹.

1 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

2 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

3 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 8(1).

4 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

5 For these purposes, 'EIA application' has the meaning given in the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2 (as amended) (see PARA 491 note 8 post); and 'environmental statement' means a statement which the applicant refers to as an environmental statement for the purposes of those 1999 Regulations: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 8(7) (definition substituted by SI 1999/293). As to EIA applications see PARA 487 et seq post.

6 For the meaning of 'environmental statement' see note 5 supra; and as to such statements see PARA 497 et seq post.

7 For the meaning of 'development plan' see PARA 91 ante.

9 For these purposes, 'requisite notice' means notice in the appropriate form set out in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 8(7), Sch 3 (as amended): art 8(7).

10 For the meaning of 'by site display' see PARA 469 note 9 ante.

11 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 8(2), (3) (amended by SI 1999/293). For the meaning of 'by local advertisement' see PARA 469 note 6 ante. Where, however, the notice is, without any fault or intention of the local planning authority, removed, obscured or defaced before the period of 21 days referred to in art 8(3)(a), art 8(4)(a)(i) or art 8(5)(a) has elapsed, the authority is treated as having complied with the relevant requirements if it has taken reasonable steps for the protection of the notice and, if need be, its replacement: art 8(6).

Article 8(2)-(6) (as amended) is substituted for the purposes of the application of art 8 (as amended) to publicity for planning applications for development within the London Borough of Camden: see the Town and Country Planning (London Borough of Camden) Special Development Order 2004, SI 2004/1231, arts 3, 4 (as amended by SI 2004/2355).

12 For these purposes, 'major development' means development involving any one or more of the following: (1) the winning and working of minerals or the use of the land for mineral-working deposits; (2) waste development; (3) the provision of dwelling houses where (a) the number of dwelling houses to be provided is ten or more; or (b) the development is to be carried out on a site having an area of 0.5 hectare or more and it is not known whether the development falls within head (a) supra; (4) the provision of a building or buildings where the floor space to be created by the development is 1,000 square metres or more; or (5) development carried out on a site having an area of one hectare or more: ibid art 8(7). 'Waste development' means any operational development designed to be used wholly or mainly for the purpose of, or a material change of use to, treating, storing, processing or disposing of refuse or waste materials: art 8(7). For these purposes, unless the context otherwise requires, 'dwelling house' does not include a building containing one or more flats, or a flat contained within such a building; 'flat' means a separate and self-contained set of premises constructed or adapted for use for the purpose of a dwelling and forming part of a building from some other part of which it is divided horizontally; and 'floor space' means the total floor space in a building or buildings: art 1(2). For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 467 note 4 ante.

13 For these purposes, 'adjoining owner or occupier' means any owner or occupier of any land adjoining the land to which the application relates: ibid art 8(7).

14 Ibid art 8(4). See also note 11 supra.

15 Ie in a case to which neither ibid art 8(2) (as amended: see note 11 supra) nor art 8(4) applies.

16 Ibid art 8(5). See also note 11 supra.

17 Ie the requirements of ibid art 8 (as amended).

18 Ie under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 76A (as added) (see PARA 481 post) or s 77 (as amended) (see PARA 483 post).

19 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

20 Ie under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended): see PARA 483 post. As to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. See also PARA 451 note 13 ante.

21 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 9(2) (amended in relation to England only by SI 2005/2087). Where the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 9(2) (as so amended) applies, when the local planning authority has satisfied the requirements of art 8 (as amended) it must inform the Secretary of State or the Assembly that it has done so: art 9(3). As to failure to satisfy the requirements of art 9 when an appeal is made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) see PARA 600 post.

471 Publicity for applications for planning permission

NOTE 2--In relation to Wales, SI 1995/419 art 8 applies to applications made to the Secretary of State under the Town and Country Act 1990 s 293A (see PARA 456) as if the references to a local planning authority were references to the Secretary of State: art 8(7A) (added by SI 2006/1386).

TEXT AND NOTE 12--In relation to England, definitions of 'major development' and 'waste development' replaced: see SI 1995/419 art 1(2) (amended by SI 2006/1062).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(iii) Consultations Before and Restrictions on Grant of Planning Permission/472. Duty to respond to consultation.

(iii) Consultations Before and Restrictions on Grant of Planning Permission

472. Duty to respond to consultation.

Partly as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales¹, the following provisions apply to a prescribed requirement to consult² any person or body ('the consultee') which exercises functions³ for the purposes of any enactment⁴; and a prescribed requirement to consult is a requirement:

- 1752 (1) with which the appropriate authority⁵ or a local planning authority⁶ must comply before granting any permission, approval or consent under or by virtue of the planning Acts⁷;
- 1753 (2) which is prescribed⁸ for these purposes⁹.

At any time before an application is made for any permission, approval or consent mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above, any person may in relation to a proposed development¹⁰ consult the consultee on any matter in respect of which the appropriate authority or the local planning authority is required to consult the consultee¹¹. Before the end of the period prescribed for these purposes¹², or such other period as is agreed in writing between the consultee and the appropriate authority or the local planning authority, as the case may be, the consultee must give a substantive response to any such¹³ consultation¹⁴. A development order¹⁵ may:

- 1754 (a) require consultees to give the appropriate authority a report as to their compliance with this requirement to give a substantive response;
- 1755 (b) prescribe the form and content of the report;
- 1756 (c) prescribe the times at which the report is to be made¹⁶.

The appropriate authority may also prescribe:

- 1757 (i) the procedure to be followed for the purposes of these provisions;
- 1758 (ii) the information to be provided to the consultee for the purposes of the consultation¹⁷;
- 1759 (iii) the requirements of a substantive response¹⁸.

In relation to England only, each consultee who is, by virtue of the above provisions, under a duty to respond to consultation must give to the Secretary of State¹⁹, not later than 1 July in each year beginning with the year commencing on 1 January 2006, a report as to that consultee's compliance with the requirement²⁰ to give a substantive response²¹. The report must relate to the period of 12 months commencing on 1 April in the preceding year ('the report year')²² and must contain, in respect of the relevant report year:

- 1760 (A) a statement as to the number of occasions on which the consultee was consulted by a person other than a local planning authority;
- 1761 (B) a statement as to the number of occasions on which a substantive response was given to a person other than a local planning authority within the prescribed period²³;
- 1762 (C) a statement as to the number of occasions on which the consultee was consulted by a local planning authority;
- 1763 (D) a statement as to the number of occasions on which a substantive response was given to a local planning authority within the prescribed period;
- 1764 (E) in relation to occasions on which the consultee has given a substantive response outside the prescribed period, a summary of the reasons why the consultee failed to comply with the duty to respond within that period²⁴.

1 le a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. At the date at which this title states the law, the provisions set out in the text had been brought fully into force in relation to England but were in force for limited purposes only in relation to Wales: see PARA 4 note 8 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'consult' see PARA 2 note 1 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 2 note 1 ante (definition applied by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 117(1), (5)).

4 Ibid s 54(1). For the meaning of 'enactment' see PARA 2 note 11 ante (definition as applied: see note 3 supra). As to consultation in connection with planning applications see PARA 473 et seq post; and as to statutory consultees see also PARA 70 ante.

5 The appropriate authority is (1) the Secretary of State in relation to England; (2) the National Assembly for Wales in relation to Wales: Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 54(8). As to the Secretary of State and the Assembly see PARAS 19-20 ante.

6 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

7 For the meaning of 'the planning Acts' see PARA 2 ante.

8 Anything prescribed for the purposes of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 54(1)-(5) must be prescribed by development order: s 54(6). For the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 252 ante (definition as applied: see note 3 supra). The requirements to consult which are prescribed for these purposes are those contained in: (1) the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10 (as amended) (see PARA 475 post); (2) art 12 (as amended) (see PARA 478 post); (3) the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 3(1), Sch 2 Pt 24 para A.3(5)(a) (as substituted) (see PARA 395 note 30 ante); (4) the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 71(3) (see PARA 473 post); (5) Sch 1 para 4(2) (as amended) (see PARA 39 ante); (6) Sch 1 para 7 (as substituted) (see PARA 477 post); and (7) the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 4 para 3(b) (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 1111 post): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 11A(1), (5) (arts 11A, 11B added in relation to England only by SI 2005/2087).

12 The period prescribed for these purposes is the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which (1) the document on which the views of consultees are sought; or (2) where there is more than one such document and they are sent on different days, the last of those documents, is received by the consultee, or such other period as may be agreed in writing between the consultee and the consultor: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 11A(2) (as added: see note 8 supra).

13 Ie any consultation (1) mentioned in the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 54(2); (2) by virtue of s 54(3).

14 Ibid s 54(4). See also note 8 supra. The duty in s 54(4) to give a substantive response to any consultation mentioned in s 54(2) has, however, no effect in relation to an application for permission, approval or consent under or by virtue of the planning Acts received by a local planning authority in England before 24 August 2005: see the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 5 and Savings) Order 2005, SI 2005/2081, art 4(3).

15 See note 8 supra.

473. Consultations in connection with determinations.

A development order¹ may provide that a local planning authority² shall not determine an application for planning permission³ before the end of such period as may be prescribed⁴.

A development order may require a local planning authority:

- 1765 (1) to take into account, in determining such an application, such representations, made within such period, as may be prescribed⁵; and
- 1766 (2) to give to any person whose representations have been taken into account such notice as may be prescribed⁶ of the authority's decision⁷.

A development order making any such provision may make different provision for different cases or different classes of development⁸.

Before a local planning authority grants planning permission for the use of land as a caravan site⁹, the authority must, unless it is also the authority with power to issue a site licence¹⁰ for that land, consult¹¹ the local authority¹² with that power¹³.

29. (b) an adjoining owner or occupier⁵,
- 159
- 1769 within 21 days beginning with the date when the notice was served on that person, provided that the representations are made by any person who satisfies the authority he is such an owner, tenant or occupier; or
- 1770 (3) given by local advertisement⁶, within 14 days beginning with the date on which the notice was published⁷.

A local planning authority must give notice of its decision to every person who has made representations which the authority was required to take into account in accordance with head (2)(a) above⁸.

474 Representations to be taken into account

NOTE 8--SI 1995/419 art 19(3) amended: SI 2006/1386 (Wales).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(iii) Consultations Before and Restrictions on Grant of Planning Permission/475. Consultations before grant of permission; in general.

475. Consultations before grant of permission; in general.

Before granting permission for development¹ which in its opinion falls within a category set out in heads (1) to (29) below, a local planning authority² must, subject to prescribed exceptions³, consult⁴ the persons or bodies specified in those heads, as follows:

- 1771 (1) in the case of development likely to affect land⁵ in Greater London⁶ or in a metropolitan county⁷ or, in relation to Wales, land in the area of another local planning authority, the local planning authority concerned;
- 1772 (2) in the case of development likely to affect land in a non-metropolitan county⁸ in England, other than land in a National Park⁹, the district planning authority¹⁰ concerned;
- 1773 (3) in the case of development likely to affect land in a National Park in England, the county planning authority concerned;
- 1774 (4) in the case of development within an area which has been notified to the local planning authority by the Health and Safety Executive¹¹ for these purposes because of the presence within the vicinity of toxic, highly reactive, explosive or inflammable substances and which involves the provision of:

- 30. (a) residential accommodation;
- 31. (b) more than 250 square metres of retail floor space¹²;
- 32. (c) more than 500 square metres of office floor space; or
- 33. (d) more than 750 square metres of floor space to be used for an industrial process¹³,

1775 or which is otherwise likely to result in a material increase in the number of persons working within or visiting the notified area, the Health and Safety Executive;

1776 (5) in the case of development likely to result in a material increase in the character of traffic:

- 34. (a) entering or leaving a trunk road¹⁴, in England, the Secretary of State for Transport and, in Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁵;
- 35. (b) using a level-crossing over a railway, the operator of the network¹⁶ which includes or consists of the railway in question, and in England the Secretary of State for Transport and, in Wales, the Assembly;

1777 (6) in the case of development likely to result in a material increase in the volume or a material change in the character of traffic entering or leaving a classified road¹⁷ or proposed highway¹⁸, the local highway authority¹⁹ concerned;

1778 (7) in the case of development likely to prejudice the improvement or construction of a classified road or proposed highway, the local highway authority concerned;

1779 (8) in the case of development involving:

- 36. (a) the formation, laying out or alteration of any means of access to a highway, other than a trunk road, the local highway authority concerned; or
- 37. (b) the construction of a highway or private means of access to premises affording access to a road in relation to which a toll order²⁰ is in force, the local highway authority concerned and, in the case of a road subject to a concession²¹, the concessionaire²²;

1780 (9) in the case of development which consists of the laying out or construction of a new street²³, the local highway authority;

1781 (10) in the case of development which involves the provision of a building²⁴ or pipeline in an area of coal working notified by the Coal Authority²⁵ to the local planning authority, the Coal Authority;

1782 (11) in the case of development involving or including mining operations²⁶, the Environment Agency²⁷;

1783 (12) in the case of development within 3 kilometres of Windsor Castle, Windsor Great Park, or Windsor Home Park, or within 800 metres of any other royal

- palace or park, which might affect the amenities, including security, of that palace or park, the Secretary of State for Culture, Media and Sport;
- 1784 (13) in the case of development of land in Greater London involving the demolition, in whole or in part, or the material alteration of a listed building²⁸, the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage')²⁹;
- 1785 (14) in the case of development likely to affect the site of a scheduled monument³⁰, in England, English Heritage and in Wales, the Assembly;
- 1786 (15) in the case of development likely to affect any garden or park of special historic interest which is registered in accordance with the Historic Buildings and Ancient Monuments Act 1953³¹ and which is classified as Grade I or Grade II, English Heritage;
- 1787 (16) in the case of development involving the carrying out of works or operations in the bed of or on the banks of a river or stream, the Environment Agency;
- 1788 (17) in the case of development for the purpose of refining or storing mineral oils and their derivatives, the Environment Agency;
- 1789 (18) in the case of development involving the use of land for the deposit of refuse or waste, the Environment Agency;
- 1790 (19) in the case of development relating to the retention, treatment or disposal of sewage, trade-waste, slurry³² or sludge (other than the laying of sewers, the construction of pumphouses in a line of sewers, the construction of septic tanks and cesspools serving single dwelling houses³³ or single caravans³⁴ or single buildings in which not more than ten people will normally reside, work or congregate, and works ancillary thereto), the Environment Agency;
- 1791 (20) in the case of development relating to the use of land as a cemetery, the Environment Agency;
- 1792 (21) in the case of development:
- 166
38. (a) in or likely to affect an area of special scientific interest³⁵ of which notification has been given³⁶, or has effect as if so given, to the local planning authority by English Nature or the Countryside Council for Wales³⁷; or
39. (b) within an area which has been notified to the local planning authority by English Nature or the Countryside Council for Wales, and which is within 2 kilometres of an area of special scientific interest of which notification has been so given, or has effect as if so given,
- 167
- 1793 the body which gave, or is to be regarded as having given, the notice;
- 1794 (22) in the case of development involving any land on which there is a theatre³⁸, the Theatres Trust³⁹;
- 1795 (23) in the case of development which is not for agricultural purposes and is not in accordance with the provisions of a development plan⁴⁰ and involves:
- 168
40. (a) the loss of not less than 20 hectares of grades 1, 2 or 3a agricultural land which is for the time being used, or was last used, for agricultural purposes; or
41. (b) the loss of less than 20 hectares of grades 1, 2 or 3a agricultural land which is for the time being used, or was last used, for agricultural purposes, in circumstances in which the development is likely to lead to a further loss of agricultural land amounting cumulatively to 20 hectares or more,
- 169
- 1796 in England, the Secretary of State for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs and in Wales, the Assembly;
- 1797 (24) in the case of development within 250 metres of land which:
- 170

42. (a) is or has, at any time in the 30 years before the relevant application, been used for the deposit of refuse or waste; and
43. (b) has been notified to the local planning authority by the waste regulation authority⁴¹ for these purposes,
- 171
1798 the waste regulation authority concerned;
- 1799 (25) in the case of development for the purposes of fish farming, the Environment Agency;
- 1800 (26) in the case of development which:
- 172
44. (a) is likely to prejudice the use, or lead to the loss of use, of land being used as a playing field⁴²; or
45. (b) is on land which has been used as a playing field at any time in the five years before the making of the relevant application and which remains undeveloped, or which has been allocated for use as a playing field in a development plan or in proposals for such a plan or its alteration or replacement; or
46. (c) involves the replacement of the grass surface of a playing pitch on a playing field with an artificial, man-made or composite surface,
- 173
- 1801 in England, the Sports Council for England or in Wales, the Sports Council for Wales⁴³;
- 1802 (27) in the case of development likely to affect any inland waterway, whether natural or artificial, or reservoir owned or managed by the British Waterways Board⁴⁴ or any canal feeder channel, watercourse, let off or culvert which is within an area which has been notified for the purposes of this provision to the local planning authority by the British Waterways Board, that Board;
- 1803 (28) in the case of development:
- 174
47. (a) involving the siting of new establishments⁴⁵; or
48. (b) consisting of modifications to existing establishments which could have significant repercussions on major-accident hazards; or
49. (c) including transport links, locations frequented by the public and residential areas in the vicinity of existing establishments, where the siting or development is such as to increase the risk or consequences of a major accident⁴⁶,
- 175
- 1804 the Health and Safety Executive and the Environment Agency, and, where it appears to the local planning authority that an area of particular natural sensitivity or interest may be affected, in England, English Nature, or in Wales, the Countryside Council for Wales;
- 1805 (29) in the case of development in England which:
- 176
50. (a) involves or is likely to affect the provision of an existing or proposed strategic infrastructure project of which notification has been given to the local planning authority and which is likely to have a significant impact upon a policy in the regional development agency's strategy⁴⁷; or
51. (b) is within an area of which notification has been given to the local planning authority for the purpose of this provision and is likely to affect the implementation of a strategic regional investment or employment policy in the regional development agency's strategy,
- 177
- 1806 the regional development agency which gave the notice⁴⁸.

Additionally, the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the Assembly may give directions to a local planning authority requiring that authority to consult with any person or body named in the directions, in any case or class of case specified in the directions⁴⁹.

Where a local planning authority is required so to consult any person or body ('the consultee') before granting planning permission:

- 1807 (i) the authority must⁵⁰, unless an applicant has served a copy of the application for planning permission on the consultee, give notice of the application to the consultee; and
- 1808 (ii) the authority may not determine the application until at least 21 days in England or 14 days in Wales after the date on which notice is given under head (i) above or, if earlier, 21 or 14 days respectively after the date of service of a copy of the application on the consultee by the applicant⁵¹;

but in relation to England head (ii) above does not apply if before the end of the period referred to in that head either the local planning authority has received representations concerning the application from the consultee or the consultee gives notice that it does not intend to make representations⁵².

In determining the application the local planning authority must take into account any representations received from a consultee⁵³.

1 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

2 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

3 Ie except where (1) the local planning authority is the authority mentioned; (2) the local planning authority is required to consult the authority so mentioned under the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 11 (as substituted) (see PARA 477 post) or art 12 (see PARA 478 post); or (3) the authority or person so mentioned has advised the local planning authority that it does not wish to be consulted; or (4) in relation to England only, the development is subject to any standing advice provided by the authority or person so mentioned to the local planning authority in relation to the category of development: art 10(1)(i)-(iv) (amended in relation to England only by SI 2003/2047). The exception in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(1)(iii) (see head (3) supra) does not, however, apply where, in the opinion of the local planning authority, development falls within art 10, Table, PARA (zb) (as added) (see head (28) in the text): art 10(1A) (added by SI 1999/981). Nor does the exception in Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(1)(iv) (as added) (see head (4) supra) apply where (a) the development is an EIA development; or (b) the standing advice was issued more than two years before the date of the application for planning permission for the development and the guidance has not been amended or confirmed as being extant by the authority or person within that period: art 10(1B) (added in relation to England only by SI 2003/2047). For the meaning of 'EIA development' see PARA 488 post; and for the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'consult' see PARA 2 note 1 ante. As to the duty to respond to consultation see PARA 472 ante; and as to statutory consultees see also PARA 70 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

6 As to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29.

7 As to metropolitan counties see PARA 28 note 1 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'non-metropolitan county' see PARA 28 note 1 ante.

12 For the meaning of 'floor space' see PARA 471 note 12 ante.

13 For these purposes, 'industrial process' means a process for or incidental to any of the following purposes: (1) the making of any article or part of any article (including a ship or vessel, or a film, video or sound recording); (2) the altering, repairing, maintaining, ornamenting, finishing, cleaning, washing, packing, canning, adapting for sale, breaking up or demolition of any article; or (3) the getting, dressing or treatment of minerals in the course of any trade or business other than agriculture, and other than a process carried out on land used as a mine or adjacent to and occupied together with a mine (and for this purpose, 'mine' means any site on which mining operations are carried out): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(a).

14 For the meaning of 'trunk road' see PARA 453 note 4 ante.

15 As to the transfer of transport functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

16 For these purposes, 'network' and 'operator' have the same meaning as in the Railways Act 1993 Pt I (ss 2-83) (as amended) (the provision of railway services) (see RAILWAYS, INLAND WATERWAYS AND CROSS-COUNTRY PIPELINES vol 39(1A) (Reissue) PARAS 82, 83): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(b).

17 For these purposes, 'classified road' means a highway or proposed highway which: (1) is a classified road or a principal road by virtue of the Highways Act 1980 s 12(1) (general provision as to principal and classified roads: see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 26); or (2) classified for the purposes of any enactment by the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, by the Assembly by virtue of s 12(3): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(c).

18 For the meaning of 'proposed highway' see PARA 453 note 4 ante.

19 For the meaning of 'local highway authority' see PARA 39 note 21 ante.

20 For these purposes, 'toll order' has the same meaning as in the New Roads and Street Works Act 1991 Pt I (ss 1-26) (as amended) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 762): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(d).

21 For these purposes, 'road subject to a concession' has the same meaning as in the New Roads and Street Works Act 1991 Pt I (ss 1-26) (as amended) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 752): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(d).

22 For these purposes, 'concessionaire' has the same meaning as in the New Roads and Street Works Act 1991 Pt I (ss 1-26) (as amended) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 752 note 2): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(d).

23 For these purposes, 'street' has the same meaning as in the New Roads and Street Works Act 1991 s 48(1) (streets, street works and undertakers: see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 9), and 'new street' includes a continuation of an existing street: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(e).

24 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 467 note 4 ante.

25 As to the Coal Authority see MINES, MINERALS AND QUARRIES vol 31 (2003 Reissue) PARA 52 et seq.

26 For the meaning of 'mining operations' see PARA 467 note 22 ante.

27 As to the Environment Agency see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 45 (2010) PARA 68 et seq.

28 For these purposes, 'listed building' has the same meaning as in the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 1 (listing of buildings of special architectural or historic interest) (see PARA 1091 post): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(f).

29 As to English Heritage see PARA 1058 post.

30 For these purposes, 'scheduled monument' has the same meaning as in the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979 s 1(11) (schedule of monuments: see NATIONAL CULTURAL HERITAGE vol 77 (2010) PARA 1010 et seq): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(g).

31 le in accordance with the Historic Buildings and Ancient Monuments Act 1953 s 8C (as added) (register of gardens): see PARA 1070 post.

32 For these purposes, 'slurry' means animal faeces and urine (whether or not water has been added for handling): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(h).

33 For the meaning of 'dwelling house' see PARA 471 note 12 ante.

34 For these purposes, 'caravan' has the same meaning as for the purposes of the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960 Pt I (ss 1-32) (as amended) (caravan sites) (see PARA 1033 post): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(h).

35 For these purposes, 'site of special scientific interest' means land to which the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 s 28(1) (as substituted) (areas of special scientific interest) applies (see OPEN SPACES AND COUNTRYSIDE vol 78 (2010) PARA 674): Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(i).

UPDATE

475 Consultations before grant of permission; in general

TEXT AND NOTES--In relation to England, now head (16) in the case of development involving (a) the carrying out of works or operations in the bed of, or within 20 metres of the top of a bank of, a main river which has been notified to the local planning authority by the Environment Agency as a main river; or (b) the culverting or control of flow of any river or stream: SI 1995/419 art 10(1), Table para (p) (art 10, Table para (p) substituted, PARAS (zd), (ze) added, by SI 2006/2375). Also, heads (30) in the case of development in England, which, other than minor development, is to be carried out on land (a) in an area within flood zones two or three; or (b) in an area within flood zone 1 which has critical drainage problems and which has been notified to the local planning authority by the Environment Agency; (31) in the case of development in England, any development of land of one hectare or more: SI 1995/419 art 10(1), Table para (zd), (ze).

NOTES--In relation to Wales, ibid art 10 applies in relation to applications made to the Secretary of State under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 293A (see PARA 456) with modifications: see SI 1995/419 art 10A (added by SI 2006/1386).

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in this paragraph are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

NOTE 3--Also, in relation to England, head (5) the development is not EIA development and is the subject of an application in relation which SI 1995/419 art 10B applies: SI 1995/419 art 10(1)(v) (added by SI 2009/2261).

NOTE 42--In England, for '0.4 hectare' read '0.2 hectare': SI 1995/419 art 10(2)(l)(ii) (amended by SI 2009/453).

TEXT AND NOTES 50, 51--SI 1995/419 art 10(4) further amended in relation to England: SI 2009/2261.

FOR DEVELOPMENT/(iii) Consultations Before and Restrictions on Grant of Planning Permission/476. Notification of development of potential strategic importance in London.

476. Notification of development of potential strategic importance in London.

The local planning authority¹ of a London borough² must as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving an application of potential strategic importance³, send to the Mayor of London⁴ at his principal office a copy of the application and a copy of any plans, drawings or other documents submitted by the applicant in support of the application⁵. The local planning authority may not grant permission on an application which it was so required to notify to the Mayor unless:

1809 (1) the authority has sent to the Mayor:

52. (a) a copy of any representations made to the authority in respect of the application;

53. (b) a copy of any report on the application prepared by an officer of the authority; and

54. (c) a statement of the permission the authority proposes to grant and of any conditions the authority proposes to impose; and

1810 (2) either a period of 14 days has elapsed beginning with the date notified in writing by the Mayor to the authority as the date he received the items specified in head (1) above, or the Mayor has notified the local planning authority in writing that he is content for the authority to grant permission in accordance with the statement referred to in head (1)(c) above⁶.

Heads (1) and (2) above do not, however, apply where the Mayor has notified the local planning authority in writing that he does not wish to be consulted pursuant to these provisions⁷.

The local planning authority must, at the same time as it gives notice to an applicant of a determination on an application of potential strategic importance, send to the Mayor a copy of that notice⁸.

If the Mayor considers that to grant permission on an application which has been notified to him under the above provisions would be contrary to the spatial development strategy⁹ or prejudicial to its implementation, or otherwise contrary to good strategic planning in Greater London¹⁰, he may, within the 14-day period specified above¹¹, direct the local planning authority to refuse the application¹². Before giving such a direction, the Mayor must have regard to the following matters so far as material to the application:

1811 (i) the principal purposes of the Greater London Authority¹³;

1812 (ii) the effect that permission would have on the health of persons in Greater London and the achievement of sustainable development¹⁴ in the United Kingdom¹⁵;

1813 (iii) national policies and such international obligations as the Secretary of State¹⁶ may notify to the Mayor for the relevant statutory purposes¹⁷;

1814 (iv) any regional planning guidance¹⁸ issued by the Secretary of State so far as relating to an area which includes or adjoins Greater London;

1815 (v) the desirability of promoting and encouraging the use of the River Thames safely, in particular for the provision of passenger transport services and for the transportation of freight;

1816 (vi) any statement which contains the Secretary of State's policies in relation to the recovery and disposal of waste in England and which is made under the statutory provisions regarding a national waste strategy¹⁹;

1817 (vii) the objectives of preventing major accidents and limiting the consequences of such accidents; and 1818 (viii) the need:

55. (A) in the long term, to maintain appropriate distances between establishments and residential areas, areas of public use and areas of particular natural sensitivity or interest; and

56. (B) in the case of existing establishments²⁰ for additional technical measures in accordance with the relevant European Directive on the control of major-accident hazards involving dangerous substances²¹ so as not to increase the risks to people²².

Any direction so given must be accompanied by a statement setting out the Mayor's reasons for that direction²³.

At any time before the local planning authority has determined the application the Mayor may by a further direction cancel a direction given under the above provisions²⁴.

The Mayor must, at the same time as he gives a direction to a local planning authority²⁵, send to the Secretary of State a copy of that direction and, in the case of a direction to refuse the application²⁶, a copy of the required statement of reasons²⁷.

Subject to any direction given by the Secretary of State²⁸, the local planning authority must, as soon as reasonably practicable after receiving a direction from the Mayor to that effect²⁹, refuse the application and include with the decision notice given to the applicant³⁰ a copy of the statement setting out the Mayor's reasons³¹. The Secretary of State may, however, give a direction prohibiting a local planning authority to which a refusal direction is given by the Mayor³² from implementing that direction in such circumstances or during such period as are specified in the Secretary of State's direction³³. The Secretary of State must, at the same time as he gives such a direction to a local planning authority, send to the Mayor a copy of that direction³⁴.

An authority must place on Part II of the register of applications³⁵ a copy of any direction it receives under the above provisions³⁶.

1 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'London borough' see PARA 28 note 7 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'application of potential strategic importance' has the meaning given in the Town and Country Planning (Mayor of London) Order 2000, SI 2000/1493, Schedule: art 2(1). Subject to art 2(1), Schedule para 1(2), (3), 'application of potential strategic importance' means any application for planning permission for development which the local planning authority considers falls within a category set out infra: Schedule para 1(1). Schedule para 1(1) does not apply to an application under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 73 (as amended) (see PARA 524 post) or an application for renewal of planning permission, where the previous planning permission was granted pursuant to an application for planning permission which was received by the local planning authority on or before 2 July 2000; and for this purpose 'previous planning permission' means the planning permission in respect of which the application referred to is made: Town and Country Planning (Mayor of London) Order 2000, SI 2000/1493, Schedule para 1(2), (3). For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

If the local planning authority receives an application for planning permission for development, which it considers forms part of more substantial proposed development, on the same land or adjoining land, it must for these purposes treat that application as an application for planning permission for the more substantial development: Schedule para 2. In deciding, in accordance with Schedule para 2, whether an application for planning permission for development ('the relevant application') forms part of more substantial development, a local planning authority must take into account other development of the same land or adjoining land (1) in respect of which an application for planning permission has been made but not finally determined on the date the relevant application is received by the local planning authority; (2) in respect of which planning permission has been granted within the period of five years immediately preceding that date; (3) substantially completed within the period of five years immediately preceding that date: Schedule para 3. The date of receipt of an application is to be determined in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 20(3) (time periods for decision) (see PARA 532 post): Town and Country Planning (Mayor of London) Order 2000, SI 2000/1493, art 2(2). For these purposes, development occupies that area in respect of which the application for planning permission for the development seeks planning permission; and 'floor space' means the total floor space in a building or buildings, including the width of external walls: Schedule paras 4, 5. The categories of development which fall within the Schedule are as follows:

2 (a) Part I: large scale development:

18. (i) Category 1A: development which comprises or includes the provision of more than 500 houses, flats, or houses and flats or comprises or includes the provision of flats or houses and the development occupies more than 10 hectares;
18
19. (ii) Category 1B: development (other than development which only comprises the provision of houses, flats, or houses and flats) which comprises or includes the erection of a building or buildings in the City of London and with a total floor space of more than 30,000 square metres, or in Central London (other than the City of London) and with a total floor space of more than 20,000 square metres, or outside Central London and with a total floor space of more than 15,000 square metres; and for this purpose 'Central London' means the area bounded by the outer edge of the red line on a map entitled 'Map of Central London referred to in the Town and Country Planning (Mayor of London) Order 2000' of which prints, dated 25 May 2000 and signed by a department director, are deposited and available for inspection at the principal office of the Secretary of State, the Government Office for London, the principal office of the Mayor and the principal office of the local planning authority for each London borough;
19
20. (iii) Category 1C: development which comprises or includes the erection of a building in respect of which one or more of the following conditions is met: (A) the building is more than 25 metres high and is adjacent to the River Thames; (B) the building is more than 75 metres high and in the City of London; (C) the building is more than 30 metres high and outside the City of London; and for this purpose a building is adjacent to the River Thames if the building is wholly or partly on a site which falls within an area identified as a Thames Policy Area in the development plan, or where no such area is so identified in respect of the relevant part of the River Thames, if the building is wholly or partly on a site which falls within the Thames Policy Area being the area bounded by the outer edge of the red line on the set of maps numbered 1 to 3 entitled 'Maps of the Thames Policy Area referred to in the Town and Country Planning (Mayor of London) Order 2000' of which prints, dated 25 May 2000 and signed by a departmental director, are deposited and available for inspection at the principal office of the Secretary of State, the Government Office for London, the principal office of the Mayor and the principal office of the local planning authority for each London borough; and any part of a building below ground level is to be ignored;
20
21. (iv) Category 1D: development which comprises or includes the alteration of an existing building where the development would increase the height of the building by more than 15 metres and the building would, on completion of the development, be higher than a relevant threshold set out in Category 1C para 1 (see head (a)(iii) supra).

3 (b) Part II: major infrastructure:

22. (i) Category 2A: development which comprises or includes mining operations where the development occupies more than 10 hectares; and for this purpose 'mining operations' means the winning and working of minerals in, on or under land, whether by surface or underground working;
22
23. (ii) Category 2B: waste development to provide an installation with capacity for a throughput of more than 50,000 tonnes per annum of waste produced outside the land in respect of which planning permission is sought; and for this purpose 'waste development' means any operational development designed to be used wholly or mainly for the purpose of, or a material change of use to, treating, keeping, processing or disposing of refuse or waste materials;
23
24. (iii) Category 2C: development to provide an aircraft runway, a heliport (including a floating heliport or a helipad on a building), an air passenger terminal at an airport, a railway station, a tramway, an underground, surface or elevated railway, or a cable car, a bus or coach station, an installation for a use within the Town and Country Planning (Use Classes) Order 1987, SI 1987/764, art 3(1), Schedule,

Class B8 (storage or distribution: see PARA 230 ante) where the development would occupy more than 4 hectares, a crossing over or under the River Thames or a passenger pier on the River Thames;

25. (iv) development to alter an air passenger terminal to increase its capacity by more than 500,000 passengers per year;
- 25
- 4 (c) Part III: development which may affect strategic policies; and for these purposes land is to be treated as used for a particular use if it was last used for that use or it is allocated for that use in the development plan in force in the area in which the application site is situated, proposals for such a plan or proposals for the alteration or replacement of such a plan:
26. (i) Category 3A: development which is likely to result in the loss of more than 200 houses, flats, or houses and flats (irrespective of whether the development would entail also the provision of new houses or flats) or prejudice the residential use of land which exceeds 4 hectares and is used for residential use;
- 26
27. (ii) Category 3B: development which occupies more than 4 hectares of land which is used for a use within the Town and Country Planning (Use Classes) Order 1987, SI 1987/764, Schedule Class B1 (business: see PARA 228 ante), Class B2 (as amended) (general industrial: see PARA 229 ante) or Class B8 (storage or distribution: see PARA 230 ante) and which is likely to prejudice the use of that land for any such use;
- 27
28. (iii) Category 3C: development which is likely to prejudice the use as a playing field of more than 2 hectares of land which is used as a playing field at the time the relevant application for planning permission is made, or has at any time in the five years before the making of the application been used as a playing field; and for this purpose 'playing field' has the same meaning as in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(2)(l) (as added) (see PARA 475 note 42 ante);
- 28
29. (iv) Category 3D: development on land allocated as Green Belt or Metropolitan Open Land in the development plan, in proposals for such a plan, or in proposals for the alteration or replacement of such a plan and which would involve the construction of a building with a floor space of more than 1,000 square metres or a material change in the use of such a building;
- 29
30. (v) Category 3E: development which does not accord with one or more provisions of the development plan in force in the area in which the application site is situated and comprises or includes the provision of more than 2,500 square metres of floor space for a use falling within any of the following Classes in the Town and Country Planning (Use Classes) Order 1987, SI 1987/764, Schedule (as amended), ie Class A1 (as amended) (retail: see PARA 225 ante), Class A2 (financial and professional: see PARA 226 ante), Classes A3-A5 (as substituted) (food and drink: see PARA 227 ante), Class B1 (business: see PARA 228 ante), Class B2 (as amended) (general industrial: see PARA 229 ante), Class B8 (storage and distribution: see PARA 230 ante), Class C1 (as substituted) (hotels: see PARA 231 ante), Class C2 (residential institutions: see PARA 232 ante), Class D1 (non-residential institutions: see PARA 234 ante), Class D2 (assembly and leisure: see PARA 235 ante), or which comprises or includes the provision of more than 150 houses or flats or houses and flats;
- 30
31. (vi) Category 3F: development for a use, other than residential use, which includes the provision of more than 200 car parking spaces in connection with that use;
- 31
- 5 (d) Part IV: development on which the Mayor must be consulted by virtue of a direction of the Secretary of State:
32. (i) Category 4: development in respect of which the local planning authority is required to consult the Mayor by virtue of a direction given by the Secretary of State under the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10(3) (see PARA 475 ante).

UPDATE

476 Notification of development of potential strategic importance in London

TEXT AND NOTES--SI 2000/1493 replaced: Town and Country Planning (Mayor of London) Order 2008, SI 2008/580.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(iii) Consultations Before and Restrictions on Grant of Planning Permission/477. Consultation requirements regarding regional strategies and policies and county policies.

477. Consultation requirements regarding regional strategies and policies and county policies.

Except in relation to an application for planning permission¹ received by a local planning authority in England² before 24 August 2005³, the following provisions apply. A local planning authority in England must not determine an application for planning permission to which the consultation requirements apply unless it complies with the following requirements⁴. If the consultation requirements apply, the local planning authority:

- 1819 (1) must give notice to the regional planning body ('RPB')⁵ or county planning authority⁶, as the case may be, (the consulted body) that it proposes to consider the application;
- 1820 (2) must send a copy of the application to the consulted body; and
- 1821 (3) must not determine the application until the end of such period as is prescribed by development order⁷ beginning with the date of the giving of notice under head (1) above⁸;

but head (3) above does not apply if before the end of the period there mentioned either the local planning authority has received representations concerning the application from the consulted body, or the consulted body gives notice that it does not intend to make representations⁹.

The consultation requirements are:

- 1822 (a) consultation with the RPB for the region in which the authority's area is situated if the development¹⁰ is one to which one of the following descriptions applies:
- 182 (i) a development which would by reason of its scale or nature or the location of the land be of major importance for the implementation of the regional spatial strategy ('RSS')¹¹ or a relevant regional policy¹²; or
- 58. (ii) a development of a description in relation to which the RPB has given notice in writing to the local planning authority that it wishes to be consulted¹³;

1823 (b) consultation by a district planning authority¹⁴ with the county planning authority for its area if the development is one to which one of the following descriptions applies:

184

- 59. (i) a development which would materially conflict with or prejudice the implementation of a relevant county policy¹⁵;
- 60. (ii) a development in an area in relation to which the county planning authority has given notice in writing to the district planning authority that development is likely to affect or be affected by the winning and working of minerals¹⁶, other than coal;
- 61. (iii) a development of land in respect of which the county planning authority has given notice in writing to the district planning authority that it proposes to carry out development;
- 62. (iv) a development which would prejudice a proposed development mentioned in head (iii) above in respect of which notice has been given as so mentioned;
- 63. (v) a development of land in relation to which the county planning authority has given notice in writing to the district planning authority that it is proposed to use the land for waste disposal; or
- 64. (vi) a development which would prejudice a proposed use mentioned in head (v) above in respect of which notice has been given as so mentioned¹⁷.

The consultation requirements do not, however apply in respect of a development to which head (a) above applies if the RPB gives a direction¹⁸ authorising the determination of the application without compliance with the requirements¹⁹. Nor do they apply in respect of a development to which head (b) above applies if the county planning authority gives a direction authorising the determination of the application without compliance with the requirements²⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

2 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

3 See the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 5 and Savings) Order 2005, SI 2005/2081, art 4(4).

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 1(5) (as amended), Sch 1 para 7(1) (Sch 1 para 7 substituted by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 118(1), Sch 6 para 16(1), (4)).

5 'RPB' is to be construed in accordance with the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Pt I (ss 1-12) (see PARA 72 et seq ante): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 7(11), (12) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

6 For the meaning of 'county planning authority' see PARA 28 ante.

7 The period prescribed for these purposes is 21 days: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 11 (substituted by SI 2005/2087). For the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 252 ante; and for the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 16 note 5 ante.

8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 7(7) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

9 Ibid Sch 1 para 7(8) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

10 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

11 'RSS' is to be construed in accordance with the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Pt I (see PARA 72 et seq ante): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 7(11), (12) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

12 A relevant regional policy is (1) a policy contained in a draft revision of the RSS which has been submitted to the Secretary of State in pursuance of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 5(8) (see PARA 76 ante); or (2) a policy contained in a structure plan which has effect by virtue of Sch 8 para 1 (see PARAS 125-126 ante); Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 7(9) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

13 Ibid Sch 1 para 7(2)(a), (3)(a), (b) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

14 For the meaning of 'district planning authority' see PARA 28 ante.

15 A relevant county policy is (1) a policy contained in a local development document which has been prepared in accordance with a minerals and waste scheme and submitted to the Secretary of State in pursuance of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 20(1) (see PARA 108 ante) or adopted by the county planning authority in pursuance of s 23 (see PARAS 120-121 ante); or (2) a policy contained in a structure plan which has effect by virtue of Sch 8 para 1 (see PARAS 125-126 ante); Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 7(10) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

16 For the meaning of 'winning and working of minerals' see PARA 16 note 2 ante.

17 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 7(2)(b), (4)(a)-(f) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

18 Such a direction may be given in respect of a particular application or a description of application: ibid Sch 1 para 7(6) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

19 Ibid Sch 1 para 7(5)(a) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

20 Ibid Sch 1 para 7(5)(b) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). As to the giving of such a direction see note 18 supra.

In cases to which the above provisions do not apply, the district planning authority must consult the county planning authority for its area before determining any application for planning permission for the carrying out (1) of any development of land which would materially conflict with or prejudice the implementation of any policy contained in a structure plan which has been adopted or approved, or of other specified policies or proposals; (2) of any development of land which would, by reason of its scale or nature or the location of the land, be of major importance for the implementation of a structure plan; (3) of any development of land in an area which the county planning authority has notified to the district planning authority, in writing, as an area in which development is likely to affect or be affected by the winning and working of minerals, other than coal; (4) of any development of land which the county planning authority has notified the district planning authority, in writing, that it proposes to develop itself; (5) of any development of land which would prejudice the carrying out of development proposed by the county planning authority and notified to the district planning authority under head (4) above; (6) of any development of land in England in respect of which the county planning authority has notified the district planning authority, in writing, that it is proposed that it is to be used for waste disposal; (7) of any development of land which would prejudice a proposed use of land for waste disposal notified to the district planning authority under head (6) supra: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 7(2), (3) (as originally enacted; amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 27 Sch 4 Pt II para 35(2)). The district planning authority may, however, determine any such application without the consultation so required if the county planning authority has given it directions authorising it to do so: Sch 1 para 7(4) (as originally enacted). Such a direction may relate to a class of applications or to a particular application: Sch 1 para 7(5) (as originally enacted). As to structure plans see PARA 176 et seq ante.

Subject to Sch 1 para 7(7) (as originally enacted), where the district planning authority is required to consult the county planning authority before determining an application for planning permission, it must give the county planning authority notice that it proposes to consider the application and send it a copy of the application; and it must not determine the application until the expiration of such period from the date of the notice as a development order may provide: Sch 1 para 7(6) (as originally enacted). A district planning authority may determine an application for planning permission before the expiration of such a period as is so mentioned, however, if it has received representations concerning the application from the county planning authority before the expiration of that period or if the county planning authority has notified it that it does not wish to make representations: Sch 1 para 7(7) (as originally enacted). Where a district planning authority is required to consult the county planning authority before determining an application for planning permission, it must in determining it take into account any representations relating to it which the authority has received from the county planning authority before the expiration of the period so mentioned: Sch 1 para 7(8) (as originally enacted).

FOR DEVELOPMENT/(iii) Consultations Before and Restrictions on Grant of Planning Permission/478. Applications relating to county matters.

478. Applications relating to county matters.

A county planning authority¹ in England must², before determining an application for planning permission³, an application for a certificate of lawfulness of an existing or proposed use or development⁴ or an application for approval of reserved matters⁵, give the district planning authority⁶, if any, for the area in which the relevant land⁷ lies a period of at least 21 days, from the date of receipt of the application by the district planning authority, within which to make recommendations about the manner in which the application is determined; and the county planning authority must take any such recommendations into account⁸. This does not, however, prevent a county planning authority determining an application if before the end of the period referred to above:

- 1824 (1) the authority has received recommendations concerning the application from the district planning authority; or
- 1825 (2) the district planning authority gives notice that it does not intend to make recommendations⁹.

A county planning authority must:

- 1826 (a) on determining such an application, as soon as reasonably practicable notify the district planning authority, if any, of the terms of its decision; or
- 1827 (b) if any such application is referred to the Secretary of State¹⁰, inform the district planning authority, if any, of the date when the application was so referred and, when notified to it, of the terms of the decision¹¹.

1 As to county planning authorities see PARA 28 ante.

2 Ie subject to the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 12(1A) (as added): see the text and note 9 infra.

3 Ie an application under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 56-106B) (as amended) (control over development): see PARA 217 et seq ante, PARA 481 et seq post. For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

4 Ie an application under ibid s 191 or s 192 (each as substituted): see PARA 586 et seq post.

5 For the meaning of 'reserved matters' see PARA 467 note 4 ante.

6 As to district planning authorities (of which there are none in Wales) see PARA 28 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

9 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 12(1A) (added by SI 2005/2087).

10 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

11 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 12(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(iii) Consultations Before and Restrictions on Grant of Planning Permission/479. Duty to notify parish and community councils.

479. Duty to notify parish and community councils.

A local planning authority¹ which has the function² of determining applications for planning permission³ must, if requested to do so by the council of any parish⁴ in England or community⁵ or group of communities in Wales situated in its area, notify the council of:

- 1828 (1) any relevant planning application⁶; and
- 1829 (2) any alteration to that application accepted by the authority⁷.

Any request so made must be in writing and must state that the council wishes to be notified of all relevant applications or all applications of a description specified in the request⁸.

An authority must comply with the duty to notify a council of an application by:

- 1830 (a) sending the council a copy of the application; or
- 1831 (b) indicating to the council the nature of the development⁹ which is the subject of the application and identifying the land to which it relates; and any notification falling within head (b) above must be in writing¹⁰.

An authority must comply with its duty to notify a council of an alteration by sending a copy of the alteration to the council or by informing the council in writing of its general effect, but it need not notify a council of an alteration which in its opinion is trivial¹¹.

A development order¹² may require a local planning authority which is dealing with an application of which a council is entitled to be notified:

- 1832 (i) to give the council an opportunity to make representations to it as to the manner in which the application should be determined;
- 1833 (ii) to take into account any such representations;
- 1834 (iii) to notify the council of the terms of its decision or, where the application is referred to the Secretary of State¹³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁴, the date when it was so referred and, when notified to the authority, the terms of his or its decision¹⁵.

Where the council of a parish or community is so given information in relation to an application, it must, as soon as practicable, notify the local planning authority which is determining the application whether it proposes to make any representations about the manner in which the application should be determined, and must make any such representations to that authority within 21 days in England, or 14 days in Wales, of the notification to it of the application¹⁶.

A local planning authority may not, however, determine any application in respect of which a parish or community council is required to be given information before:

- 1835 (A) the council of the parish or community informs the local planning authority that it does not propose to make any representations;
- 1836 (B) representations are made by that council; or
- 1837 (C) the 21-day or 14-day period mentioned above has elapsed, whichever first occurs; and, in determining the application, the authority must take into account any representations received from the council of the parish or community¹⁷.

The district planning authority¹⁸ or, in a metropolitan county¹⁹ or in Wales, the local planning authority, must notify the council of the parish or community of the terms of the decision on any such application or, where the application is referred to the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, to the Assembly, of the date when it was so referred and, when notified to it, of the terms of his or the Assembly's decision²⁰.

1 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 2 note 1 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

4 As to the parishes in England and their meetings and councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 27 et seq.

5 As to the communities in Wales and their meetings and councils see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 41 et seq.

6 For these purposes, 'a relevant planning application' means an application which (1) relates to land in the parish or community or group of communities; and (2) is an application for planning permission or approval of a matter reserved under an outline planning permission within the meaning of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 92 (as amended) (see PARA 519 post): s 1(5)(c), (6), Sch 1 para 8(2), Sch 1A para 2(2) (Sch 1 para 8 substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 53; the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 1(6), Sch 1A para 2 added, and Sch 1 para 8(1), (2) amended, by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 ss 18, 20, 66, Sch 4, Sch 6 para 24, Sch 18; the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 1(5)(c), (6) amended by the Environment Act 1995 s 120(3), Sch 24). The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 8 (as so substituted) does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(iii) Consultations Before and Restrictions on Grant of Planning Permission/480. Directions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

480. Directions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may give directions restricting the grant of permission by a local planning authority³, either indefinitely or during such period as may be specified in the directions, in respect of any development⁴ or in respect of development of any class so specified⁵.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may also give directions that development which is both of a description set out in Schedule 2 to the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁶, and of a class described in the direction, is EIA development⁷ for the purposes of those Regulations⁸.

A local planning authority must deal with applications for planning permission⁹ for development to which a direction so given applies in such manner as to give effect to the direction¹⁰.

Examples of directions made under these powers are the directions made by the Secretary of State with regard to aerodromes, technical sites and military explosives storage areas¹¹; residential density in London and South-east England¹²; and playing fields in England¹³. Such directions may be set out in departmental circulars and are published in the same way as other policy guidance¹⁴.

(iv) Applications to be decided by the Secretary of State or the Assembly

A. MAJOR INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS IN ENGLAND

481. Major infrastructure projects; in general.

Except in relation to an application for planning permission¹, or an application for approval by a local planning authority² required under a development order³, received by a local planning authority before 24 August 2005⁴, the following provisions apply to:

- 1838 (1) an application for planning permission;
- 1839 (2) an application for the approval of a local planning authority required under a development order, if the Secretary of State⁵ thinks that the development⁶ to which the application relates is of national or regional⁷ importance⁸. They do not, however, apply to an application which relates to the development of land in Wales⁹.

The Secretary of State may direct¹⁰ that the application must be referred to him instead of being dealt with by the local planning authority¹¹. If the Secretary of State gives such a direction, he may also direct that any application:

- 1840 (a) under or for the purposes of the planning Acts¹²; and
- 1841 (b) which he thinks is connected with the application mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above, must also be referred to him instead of being dealt with by the local planning authority¹³. If the Secretary of State gives a direction under these provisions, the application must be referred to him and he must appoint an inspector¹⁴ to consider the application¹⁵.

If the Secretary of State gives such a direction the applicant must prepare an economic impact report which must:

- 1842 (i) be in such form and contain such matter as is prescribed by development order;

- 1843 (ii) be submitted to the Secretary of State in accordance with such provision as is so prescribed¹⁶; and for these purposes the Secretary of State may, by development order, prescribe such requirements as to publicity and notice as he thinks appropriate¹⁷. Where the Secretary of State has given such a direction, an economic impact report ('the report') prepared by an applicant in accordance with heads (i) and (ii) above must be in the prescribed form¹⁸ and must¹⁹ contain the applicant's estimates of the overall economic impact at local level²⁰, regional level²¹ and national level of the project for which planning permission or approval, as the case may be, is sought²². Without prejudice to the generality of these requirements, each estimate must include estimates specific to employment, investment and economic output²³ and must separately identify the costs and benefits falling on or accruing to the local, regional or national community as the case may be²⁴. The estimates must exclude factors which would lead to benefits being counted more than once²⁵. The report must state the assumptions made in preparing the estimates, state the sources of information used to produce the estimates and, where there is uncertainty as to any matter relevant to the estimates, must explain that uncertainty²⁶. The report must be submitted to the Secretary of State not later than 15 weeks after the date on which the applicant received from the Secretary of State a written request for its submission²⁷. The applicant must, on submitting the report to the Secretary of State, publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land to which the application relates is situated a notice stating:

- 1844 (A) his name and that he is the applicant for planning permission or approval, as the case may be;
- 1845 (B) the name and address of the local planning authority;
- 1846 (C) the date on which the application was made and that it has been referred to the Secretary of State for determination as a major infrastructure project;
- 1847 (D) the location and nature of the proposed development;
- 1848 (E) an address in the locality at which the report may be inspected, and the latest day on which it will be available for inspection, being a date not less than 21 days from the date on which the notice is published;
- 1849 (F) an address in the locality, whether or not the same as that given under head (E) above, at which copies of the report may be obtained, on payment of a reasonable charge;
- 1850 (G) the address of any website maintained by the applicant where a copy of the report may be viewed; and
- 1851 (H) that any person wishing to make representations about the report should make them in writing, before the date stated in accordance with head (E) above, to the Secretary of State and the address to which such representations should be sent²⁸.

The applicant must afford to any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity to inspect and, where practicable and on payment of a reasonable charge, take copies of the report²⁹.

The decision of the Secretary of State on any application referred to him under these provisions is final³⁰.

482. Major infrastructure projects; inspectors.

Except in relation to an application for planning permission¹, or an application for approval by a local planning authority² required under a development order³, received by a local planning authority before 24 August 2005⁴, the following provisions apply if the Secretary of State⁵ appoints an inspector ('the lead inspector')⁶ under the provisions set out in the previous paragraph⁷. The Secretary of State may direct the lead inspector to consider such matters relating to the application as are prescribed⁸ and to make recommendations to the Secretary of State on those matters⁹. After considering any recommendations of the lead inspector the Secretary of State may:

- 1852 (1) appoint such number of additional inspectors as he thinks appropriate;
- 1853 (2) direct that each of the additional inspectors must consider such matters relating to the application as the lead inspector decides¹⁰.

If the Secretary of State does not so act he must direct the lead inspector to consider the application on his own¹¹.

An additional inspector must:

- 1854 (a) comply with such directions as to procedural matters as the lead inspector gives;
- 1855 (b) report to the lead inspector on the matters he is appointed to consider¹²; and a copy of directions given as mentioned in head (a) above must be given to:

- 1856 (i) the person who made the application;
- 1857 (ii) the local planning authority¹³;
- 1858 (iii) any other person who requests it¹⁴.

In every case the lead inspector must report to the Secretary of State on his consideration of the application and the consideration of the additional inspectors, if any, of the matters mentioned in head (2) above¹⁵.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(iv) Applications to be decided by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/B. OTHER REFERRED APPLICATIONS/483. Reference of applications to the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

B. OTHER REFERRED APPLICATIONS

483. Reference of applications to the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may give directions requiring applications for planning permission³, or for the approval of any local planning authority⁴ required under a development order⁵ or a local development order⁶, to be referred to him or to the Assembly instead of being dealt with by local planning authorities⁷.

Such a direction:

- 1859 (1) may be given either to a particular local planning authority or to local planning authorities generally; and
- 1860 (2) may relate either to a particular application or to applications of a class specified in the direction⁸.

Any application in respect of which such a direction has effect must be referred to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly accordingly⁹.

Before determining an application so referred to him or to it, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the applicant or the local planning authority wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose¹⁰.

The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on any application so referred is final¹¹. The validity of such a decision may, however, be challenged on certain statutory grounds¹² or on an application for judicial review¹³ and it has been held that, notwithstanding the absence of a right of appeal on the facts, the decision-making process on planning applications referred under the above provisions, which are known as 'called-in applications', is not incompatible with the right to a fair hearing before an impartial and independent tribunal¹⁴ because the judicial review jurisdiction of the High Court constitutes a sufficient review of the legality of the decisions and of the procedures followed¹⁵.

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77(1) (amended by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 40(2), partly as from a day to be appointed under s 121; at the date at which this title states the law, 6 August 2004 had been appointed for limited purposes only: see PARA 4 note 8 ante). Prior to such amendment being brought fully into force, the words 'or a local development order' are omitted. Subject to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77(5) (see the text and note 10 infra), where an application for planning permission is referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under s 77 (as amended), s 70 (as amended) (see PARAS 484, 486 post), s 72(1), (5) (as amended) (see PARA 522 post), s 73 (as amended) (see PARA 524 post) and s 73A (as added) (see PARA 525 post) apply, with any necessary modifications, as they apply to such an application which falls to be determined by the local planning authority and a development order may apply, with or without modifications, to an application so referred any requirements imposed by such an order by virtue of s 65 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 468 ante) or s 71 (as amended) (see PARA 473 ante): s 77(4) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 18).

The power to call in applications for decision by the Secretary of State is exercised selectively and will normally only be exercised if planning issues of more than local importance are involved: see R (on the application of Hadfield) v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2002] EWHC 1266 (Admin) at [15]-[26], [2002] All ER (D) 47 (Jun).

Policy guidance issued to local planning authorities in England indicates that there is no presumption that all applications referred to the Secretary of State require environmental impact assessment, nor that all applications requiring such assessment will be so referred: see ODPM Circular 02/99 Environmental Impact Assessment para 35. As to environmental impact assessment see PARA 487 et seq post.

8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77(2).

9 Ibid s 77(3) (as modified: see note 7 supra). On so referring any application to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, pursuant to a direction in that behalf, a local planning authority must serve on the applicant a notice (1) setting out the terms of the direction and any reasons given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for issuing it; (2) stating that the application has been referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and (3) containing a statement that the Secretary of State or the Assembly will, if the applicant so desires, afford him an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose, and that the decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on the application will be final: Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 18. It has been held that failure to serve notice under what is now art 18 cannot be made the subject of an application under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 288 (as amended) (see PARA 47 ante) to quash the Secretary of State's decision: Davies v Secretary of State for Wales (1976) 33 P & CR 330.

The Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 19(1), (2) (representations to be taken into account: see PARA 474 ante) applies with modifications to applications referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended): see the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/418, art 19(3); and PARA 474 note 8 ante.

The Secretary of State may withdraw a direction to call in an application: R (on the application of Trustees of the Friends of the Lake District) v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2001] EWHC 281 (Admin), [2002] 1 P & CR 306, [2001] All ER (D) 19 (Apr).

10 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77(5). Section 77(5) does not apply to an application for planning permission referred to a planning inquiry commission under s 101 (as amended) (see PARA 704 post): s 77(6). As to the application of s 77 (as amended) in the case of applications for planning permission for development to which the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 3 applies see PARA 893 note 5 post. As to the timetable for decisions made by the Secretary of State in England see the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 55, Sch 2; and PARA 527 et seq post. 15 See R (on the application of Alconbury Developments Ltd) v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2001] UKHL 23, [2003] 2 AC 295, [2001] 2 All ER 929. Prior to the coming into force of the Human Rights Act 1998 it was held that the discretion of the Secretary of State to 'call in' an application for planning permission was purely administrative in character, and that he was not required to give reasons for refusing to exercise his discretion (R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Newprop [1983] JPL 386) although he must act reasonably in its exercise (Rhys Williams v Secretary of State for Wales [1985] JPL 29, CA; R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Middlesbrough Borough Council [1988] 3 PLR 52, DC; Lakin Ltd v Secretary of State for Scotland [1989] JPL 339, Ct of Sess). The administrative nature of the Secretary of State's role was restated by the House of Lords in R (on the application of Alconbury Developments Ltd) v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions supra (see eg at [60] per Lord Nolan and at [123] per Lord Hoffmann) and by the Court of Appeal in R (on the application of Adlard) v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2002] EWCA Civ 671, [2002] 1 WLR 2515; and it has been held that he is not prevented from declining to call in one of two competing applications where he has called in the other (R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Carter Commercial Developments Ltd [1999] PLCR 125). However, in R (on the application of Alconbury Developments Ltd) v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions supra the court recognised, applying eg Bryan v United Kingdom (1995) 21 EHRR 342, ECt HR, that such administrative decisions affect the civil rights protected by the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (1950) art 6, now set out in the Human Rights Act 1998 s 1(3), Sch 1 Pt I art 6, and that the overall process, including the availability of judicial review, must comply with art 6. As to the Secretary of State's duty to act reasonably see also Virgin Cinema Properties Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1998] PLCR 1 (in refusing planning permission for a called-in application, the Secretary of State erred in law in placing reliance on abstracts from a report, taken out of context, which could not reasonably support his conclusions when read in context).

(v) Determination of Applications

A. RELEVANT CONSIDERATIONS

(A) MATERIAL CONSIDERATIONS AND GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

484. Development plan.

In dealing with a planning application¹ the local planning authority² must have regard to the provisions of the development plan³, so far as material to the application, and to any other material considerations⁴. The application must be determined in accordance with the plan unless material considerations indicate otherwise⁵.

When exercising their functions in determining applications for planning permission received before 24 August 2005, local planning authorities in non-metropolitan counties in England are under a statutory duty to seek the achievement of the general objectives of the structure plan for the time being in force in their areas⁶. Subject to transitional provisions⁷, however, structure plans are no longer to be prepared⁸; accordingly this statutory duty is replaced⁹ by the consultation requirements with regard to regional strategies and policies and county policies which have already been discussed¹⁰.

1 For these purposes, 'dealing with' extends beyond 'considering' so as to include administrative acts done by the authority's delegated officers; furthermore, it is not to be limited to the particular acts of the authority in granting or refusing permission under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70(1) (see PARA 486 post): R (on the application of Kides) v South Cambridgeshire District Council [2002] EWCA Civ 1370, [2003] JPL 431, [2002] All ER (D) 114 (Oct).

2 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

3 For the meaning of 'development plan' see PARA 91 ante.

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70(2). The authority may, however, grant permission for development which does not accord with the provisions of the plan: see the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 17; and PARA 526 post. The development plan may not be relied upon without taking into account subsequent policy documents, in particular a new Use Classes Order: Wesson v Secretary of State for the Environment [1992] 1 PLR 36. For these purposes, 'material consideration' means a relevant consideration: Tesco Stores Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1995] 2 All ER 636, [1995] 1 WLR 759, HL. As to the weight to be attached to the development plan see Loup v Secretary of State for the Environment and Salisbury District Council (1995) 71 P & CR 175, [1996] JPL 22, CA. As to material considerations see PARA 485 post. Personal hardship to an applicant may constitute special circumstances so as to override planning policies: see South Bucks District Council v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2004] UKHL 33, [2004] 4 All ER 775, [2004] 1 WLR 1953.

See further the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 7(2)-(8) (as originally enacted and as amended); and PARA 477 ante. As to structure plans see PARA 176 et seq ante. Schedule 1 para 7 is, however, now substituted by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, subject to transitional provisions: see PARA 477 ante.

NOTE 4--See South Cambridgeshire DC v Secretary of State for Communities [2008] EWCA Civ 1010, [2008] All ER (D) 24 (Sep) (inspector had to decide whether or more material considerations outweighed the provision of the development plan and the harm which would be caused if the development was allowed to proceed).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/A. RELEVANT CONSIDERATIONS/(A) Material Considerations and General Considerations/485. Material considerations; in general.

485. Material considerations; in general.

Any consideration which relates to the use and development of land is capable of being a planning consideration, its materiality depending on the circumstances¹. There is no necessary dichotomy between public and private interests, the protection of the interests of individual occupiers being an important aspect of the public interest as a whole². Even where an individual's Convention rights³ under the Human Rights Act 1998 are engaged, the interference with those individual rights in the interests of the community as a whole is not necessarily disproportionate⁴.

Material considerations include the following matters:

- 1861 (1) development plans in course of preparation⁵;
- 1862 (2) ministerial policies⁶;
- 1863 (3) existing development rights⁷;
- 1864 (4) retention of existing use⁸;
- 1865 (5) fear of setting a precedent⁹;
- 1866 (6) availability of alternative sites¹⁰;

- 1867 (7) alternative powers of control¹¹;
- 1868 (8) previous appeal decisions¹²;
- 1869 (9) noise levels¹³;
- 1870 (10) fear of crime¹⁴;

but heads (1) to (10) above do not purport to constitute an exhaustive list. The extent to which the cost of a proposed development is a material consideration in the context of planning control is uncertain¹⁵. Planning permission should not be refused on the ground that the applicant has not offered to do that which should more properly be done by a local authority in some other capacity¹⁶.

1 Stringer v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1971] 1 All ER 65 at 77, [1970] 1 WLR 1281 at 1294 per Cooke J. The personal circumstances of an applicant may be a peripheral material consideration: New Forest District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment and Clarke [1984] JPL 178; cf Tameside Metropolitan Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment and Myatt [1984] JPL 180. The environmental impact of a clinical waste incinerator can be a material consideration in determining a planning application, even though some aspects of its operation are subject to regulation under the Environmental Protection Act 1990. Where there is an overlap between statutory provisions, it is for the Secretary of State, in the exercise of his discretion, to decide which should take precedence: Gateshead Metropolitan Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1993) 67 P & CR 179, DC. See also R v Leicester City Council, ex p Blackfordby and Boothcorpe Action Group Ltd [2000] EHLR 215, DC. The need for housing of a particular type in a certain area is a material consideration, and may be dictated by matters of cost and the type of tenure: Mitchell v Secretary of State for the Environment (1995) 69 P & CR 60, CA. Even where a particular planning policy does not apply to a developer's site, it can be treated by an inspector as a matter of considerable weight: ECC Construction Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1994) 69 P & CR 51, [1994] 3 PLR 5, DC. The impact of a proposed development upon the use of and activities upon neighbouring land may be a material consideration: West Midlands Probation Committee v Secretary of State for the Environment (1998) 76 P & CR 589, CA (planning permission for extension of bail and probation hostel refused); R v Broadland District Council, ex p Dove [1998] PLCR 119 (planning permission for building of hostel for single people with special needs granted). The potential expansion of a development proposal is capable of being a material consideration: British Aerospace plc v Secretary of State for the Environment (1997) 75 P & CR 486. See also FA Wellworth & Co Ltd's Application and related application (J Sainsbury plc, notice party) [1996] NI 509, NI CA. There is nothing to suggest that, when rejecting an application on the ground that a future use of the site exists which is more desirable than that proposed, it must be shown that such a future development, on the balance of probabilities, will be undertaken: Nottinghamshire County Council v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2001] EWHC 293 (Admin), [2002] 1 P & CR 389. The fact that residential use of a building is not viable in the short or longer term can be a material consideration: Hounslow London Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [1999] JPL 364. The test of a material consideration is an objective one: R (on the application of Kides) v South Cambridgeshire District Council [2002] EWCA Civ 1370, [2003] 1 P & CR 298, [2002] All ER (D) 114 (Oct).

2 Stringer v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1971] 1 All ER 65, [1970] 1 WLR 1281 (planning permission for development likely to interfere with the efficient working of Jodrell Bank telescope refused); RMC Management Services Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1972) 222 Estates Gazette 1593 (permission for a ready-mixed concrete plant on a site adjacent to a high precision engineering plant requiring especially clean air refused); Barratt Developments (Eastern) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Oadby and Wigston Borough Council [1982] JPL 648 (permission for the retention of a house where its siting was detrimental to another house refused). See also Rexworthy v Secretary of State for the Environment [1998] JPL 864 (the needs of gypsies ought to be given equal weight to other material considerations), and AL Wood-Robinson v Secretary of State for the Environment [1998] JPL 976 (planning permission for building likely to overlook other properties and obstruct residents' private views refused).

3 As to Convention rights see the Human Rights Act 1998 s 1(3), Sch 1; and PARA 7 ante. See also COURTS vol 10 (Reissue) PARA 316.

4 See PARA 7 ante, particularly the text and notes 25-26.

5 The authority is not compelled to wait for the approval of the plan before granting permission under it: see R v City of London Corpn, ex p Allan (1980) 79 LGR 223; Davies v Hammersmith and Fulham London Borough Council [1981] JPL 682, CA; R v Hammersmith and Fulham London Borough Council, ex p People before Profit Ltd (1981) 45 P & CR 364, [1981] JPL 869, DC. As to the materiality of a draft local plan see Thornville Properties Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Stafford Borough Council [1981] JPL 116; North Wiltshire District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment [1991] 2 PLR 67; Lewes District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment [1998] JPL 1093; Mitchell v Secretary of State for the Environment (1995) 69 P & CR

60, CA. The recommendation of the local plan inquiry inspector is a material consideration: Bath Society v Secretary of State for the Environment [1992] 1 All ER 28, [1991] 1 WLR 1303, CA.

6 The current policies of the Secretary of State, as stated in circulars to local planning authorities and elsewhere, are material considerations: JA Pye (Oxford) Estates Ltd v West Oxfordshire District Council and the Secretary of State for the Environment (1982) 47 P & CR 125, [1982] JPL 577 (the Secretary of State was held not to be entitled to disregard his own circular); Second City (South West) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Woodspring District Council (1990) 61 P & CR 498. He is entitled to take into account the policies of other Ministers where relevant, but he must make his own decision: H Lavender & Son Ltd v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1970] 3 All ER 871, [1970] 1 WLR 1231; Kent County Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1976) 33 P & CR 70; Leggat v Secretary of State for the Environment [1991] 1 PLR 103 (Secretary of State entitled to apply Department of Transport policy with regard to motorway service areas in determining planning application); and see Wandsworth London Borough Council v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2003] EWCA Civ 142, [2003] 08 LS Gaz R 31, [2003] All ER (D) 250 (Feb) (Secretary of State entitled to take into account a Parliamentary answer (the 'Caborn statement') clarifying government policy on retail development). A government policy that town centres ought to be sustained and enhanced requires that a local authority considers the effect of a proposed development, including an out-of-town development, upon a town centre only to the extent that the development might have a harmful effect: R v Hambleton District Council, ex p Somerfield Stores Ltd (1998) 77 P & CR 475, [1999] 1 PLR 66. Where the wording of a national policy is open to interpretation, provided the local planning authority applies a meaning to the words which they are capable of bearing at law, it does not matter that there are other possible meanings: R v Derbyshire County Council, ex p Woods [1997] JPL 958, CA. See also Boulevard Land Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1998] JPL 983 (inspector failing to refer to policy in his reasons).

As to the presumption against inappropriate development on Green Belt land see Doncaster Metropolitan Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2002] EWHC 808 (Admin), [2002] JPL 1509, [2002] 16 EG 181 (CS) (unexceptional educational needs of children do not justify inappropriate development); Williams v First Secretary of State [2004] EWHC 611 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 213 (Mar) (unmet need for local sites for gypsies not justifying such development); Marney v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 226 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 28 (Feb) (applicant did not come within the agricultural exemption allowing development); Samuel Smith Old Brewery (Tadcaster) v Selby District Council [2003] EWHC 856 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 288 (Apr) (previous planning applications for development in Green Belt failing on highway and not Green Belt grounds; the subsequent absence of a highway objection did not constitute very special circumstances justifying development after changes to national policy on the Green Belt); and see PPG2--Green Belts para 3.1 et seq.

As to development on a flood plain see eg Thomas Bates & Son Ltd v First Secretary of State [2004] EWHC 1818 (Admin), [2004] 30 LS Gaz R 30, [2004] All ER (D) 217 (Jul); and PPG25--Development and flood risk.

As to the interpretation of policy guidance on the installation of mobile telephone masts (ie PPG8--Telecommunications) see T-Mobile (UK) Ltd v First Secretary of State [2004] EWCA Civ 1763, (2004) Times, 16 November, [2004] All ER (D) 208 (Nov) (where the proposals meet international safety guidelines for public exposure to emissions, local concerns about possible health risks can only be taken into account in exceptional circumstances).

As to whether the consideration of an alternative site for residential development is a material consideration see Laing Homes Ltd v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions, Fareham Borough Council v Pelham Homes [2002] EWHC 1967 (Admin), [2003] JPL 559. The adverse impact of a particular development may outweigh a general policy, such as the desirability of prioritising previously developed land: see Crown Timber Group plc v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 867 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 461 (Mar). Conversely the local economic benefits of a proposed development may outweigh a national policy: see eg R (on the application of the Council for National Parks Ltd) v Pembrokeshire Coast National Park Authority [2004] EWHC 2907 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 281 (Dec); affd [2005] EWCA Civ 888, [2005] All ER (D) 277 (Jul).

As to ministerial guidance to local planning authorities in England and guidance issued by the National Assembly for Wales to local planning authorities in Wales see generally para 9 ante.

7 Permitted development rights and existing planning permissions for similar, although not identical, development are material considerations: Wells v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1967] 2 All ER 1041, [1967] 1 WLR 1000, CA; North Surrey Water Co v Secretary of State for the Environment (1976) 34 P & CR 140.

8 The desirability of preserving an existing use is a material consideration if refusal of planning permission would result in the retention of the use: Clyde & Co v Secretary of State for the Environment [1977] 3 All ER 1123, [1977] 1 WLR 926, CA. There is, however, no requirement to apply a competing needs test of whether in planning terms the desirability of preserving the existing use outweighs the merits of the proposed new use: London Residuary Body v Lambeth London Borough Council [1990] 2 All ER 309, [1990] 1 WLR 744, HL. As to the weight to be given to the presumption in favour of planning permission see Christchurch Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1993) 68 P & CR 116, [1994] JPL 661, CA. As to consideration of the 'fall back position' see South Buckinghamshire District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment [1999] PLCR 72.

9 The local planning authority is entitled to take account of the prospect of a proliferation of similar planning applications if permission were granted: Collis Radio Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1975) 29 P & CR 390, DC; Tempo Discount Warehouses Ltd v Borough of Enfield and the Secretary of State for the Environment [1979] JPL 97.

10 In some cases, depending upon the nature of the proposed development, the availability of alternative sites may be a material consideration: Rhodes v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1963] 1 All ER 300, [1963] 1 WLR 208 (airport); Brown v Secretary of State for the Environment (1978) 40 P & CR 285 (sites for gypsies); Ynystawe, Ynyforgan and Glais Gypsy Site Action Group v Secretary of State for Wales and West Glamorgan County Council [1981] JPL 874; Vale of Glamorgan Borough Council v Secretary of State for Wales and Rhys-Williams (1985) 52 P & CR 418, [1986] JPL 198 (sites for sewage treatment works); Scottish and Newcastle Breweries plc v Secretary of State for the Environment (1992) 64 P & CR 290, [1992] 2 PLR 147, CA (permission for development within the Green Belt refused on the basis that the proposed development could be carried out elsewhere). See also Trusthouse Forte Hotels Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1986) 53 P & CR 293; MJT Securities Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1996) 72 P & CR 342 (failure to have regard to the fact that a site proposed for a petrol station was the only suitable site); R (on the application of Jones) v North Warwickshire Borough Council [2001] PLCR 509, CA (requirement to consider alternative site only in exceptional circumstances). As to the particular considerations relating to gypsy sites see PARA 7 the text and notes 24-26 ante; and as to alternative sites for mobile phone masts see eg Phillips v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 2415 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 362 (Oct); St Leger-Davey v First Secretary of State [2004] EWCA Civ 1612, [2005] 2 P & CR 86, [2004] All ER (D) 08 (Dec); and PARA 395 ante.

11 The materiality of a matter is not affected by the fact that other statutory powers are available for its regulation or that the applicant would be entitled to compensation if the alternative powers were exercised: see eg Westminster Bank Ltd v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1971] AC 508, [1970] 2 All ER 734, HL (planning permission refused on the ground that land might be required for road widening); Esdell Caravan Parks Ltd v Hemel Hempstead RDC [1966] 1 QB 895, [1965] 3 All ER 737, CA (overlap between planning legislation and controls under the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960); Ladbroke (Rentals) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea [1981] JPL 427 (overlap between planning and gaming licensing controls); Hoveringham Gravels Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1975] QB 754, [1975] 2 All ER 931, CA (ancient monument).

12 North Wiltshire District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1992) 65 P & CR 137, (1992) Times, 21 April, CA. See also R (on the application of Rank) v East Cambridgeshire District Council [2002] EWHC 2081 (Admin), [2002] 42 EG 159 (CS), [2002] All ER (D) 90 (Oct) (failure to consider previous refusal of planning permission and concurring appeal vitiated planning decision). The judgment and discretion of the decision-maker is informed but not necessarily fettered by the previous history of the site: see R (on the application of Chisnell) v Richmond-upon-Thames London Borough Council [2005] EWHC 134 (Admin) at [19], [2005] 05 EG 203 (CS), [2005] All ER (D) 278 (Jan) per Newman J.

13 Newham London Borough v Secretary of State for the Environment and East London Housing Association Ltd (1986) 53 P & CR 98, [1986] JPL 607 (sound insulation in flat conversions a material consideration). The quality of building work is not, however, in general a matter for planning control: Sutton London Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1975) 29 P & CR 350, DC. As to building regulations see BUILDING vol 4(2) (2002 Reissue) PARA 306 et seq. An inspector hearing an appeal against a refusal of planning permission is not necessarily required to have regard to technical evidence before making any finding regarding noise in the surrounding area, and is entitled to make a finding, as a matter of impression, regarding the potential disturbance caused by peaks of noise: see R (on the application of Dubb) v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2003] EWHC 300 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 90 (Feb).

15 In some cases cost has been held not to be relevant: see J Murphy & Sons Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1973] 2 All ER 26, [1973] 1 WLR 560; Hambledon and Chiddingfold Parish Councils v Secretary of State for the Environment [1976] JPL 502; Walters v Secretary of State for Wales and City of Swansea (1978) 77 LGR 529, [1979] JPL 171. The contrary view was taken in Sovmots Investments Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1977] QB 411, [1976] 1 All ER 178 (affd on other grounds [1979] AC 144, [1977] 2 All ER 385, HL); Calfane Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Westminster City Council [1981] JPL 879. For a review of the earlier authorities see Sosmo Trust Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1983] JPL 806. Where a development plan provided that there should be no extension of temporary office uses in respect of premises which could reasonably be used or adapted for use for residential occupation, it was held that the cost of adaptation was a material consideration: Niarchos (London) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1977) 35 P & CR 259; but cf Sears Blok v Secretary of State for the Environment [1980] JPL 523; Bell and Colvill Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Guildford Borough Council [1980] JPL 823.

It seems that the financial consequences of the grant of planning permission may be a material consideration if there is a likelihood of some planning gain: Brighton Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1978) 39 P & CR 46 (proposal to apply the profits of a development of school playing fields to the restoration of school buildings). - 1871 (1) the authority may³ grant planning permission⁴, either unconditionally or subject to such conditions⁵ as it thinks fit; or
- 1872 (2) it may refuse planning permission⁶.

The local planning authority must consider each application on its merits⁷. The weight of an objection may, however, be affected by its authorship⁸.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70(1). Section 70(1) has effect subject to s 65 (as substituted) (see PARA 468 ante), s 70A (as added) et seq (see PARA 452 et seq ante, PARA 487 et seq post), the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 66 (as amended) (see PARA 1106 post), s 67 (as amended) (see PARA 1107 post), s 72 (as amended) (see PARA 1171 post) and s 73 (as amended) (see PARA 1173 post) and to the Health Services Act 1976 s 15 (repealed): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70(3) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 14).

It seems that there is no grant of planning permission unless and until written notice of the decision of the planning authority is given to the applicant; and, until such notice is given, the authority may withdraw its decision: R v Yeovil Borough Council, ex p Trustees of Elim Pentecostal Church, Yeovil (1971) 23 P & CR 39, DC; Slough Estates Ltd v Slough Borough Council (No 2) [1969] 2 Ch 305, [1969] 2 All ER 988, CA (affd [1971] AC 958, [1970] 2 All ER 216, HL); R v West Oxfordshire District Council, ex p CH Pearce Homes Ltd [1986] JPL 523.

7 See eg Rugby School Governors v Secretary of State for the Environment (1975) 234 Estates Gazette 371; Link Homes Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1976] JPL 430. A planning application was held to have been sufficiently considered by a district council where, after the matter had been considered by a committee, the plans were on the table so that any councillor could have looked at them before the resolution was passed: Ayles v Romsey and Stockbridge RDC (1944) 42 LGR 210. A resolution to refuse permission was held to be good although it stated that the committee's report was adopted and the committee, in fact, had not yet reported: Ayles v Romsey and Stockbridge RDC supra.

A local planning authority is not liable in negligence to neighbouring owners in respect of grants of planning permission which affect their interests: Strable v Dartford Borough Council [1984] JPL 329, CA; Ryeford Homes Ltd v Sevenoaks District Council [1990] JPL 36. 486 Grant or refusal of permission; in general

NOTES--Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in this paragraph are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

487. Power to make regulations.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may by regulations make provision about the consideration to be given, before planning permission³ for development⁴ of any class specified in the regulations is granted, to the likely environmental effects of the proposed development⁵.

The regulations may make:

- 1873 (1) the same provision as, or provision similar to, any provision made⁶ for the purposes of any Community obligation⁷ of the United Kingdom⁸ about the assessment of the likely effects of development on the environment; and
- 1874 (2) different provision for different classes of development⁹.

The environmental assessment of plans and programmes has already been discussed¹⁰ and the assessment of the environmental impact of certain projects which is required for other statutory purposes is discussed elsewhere in this work¹¹.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 28 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 71A (as added), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 71A(1) (s 71A added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 15). In the exercise of this power, and prior to the transfer of functions in Wales to the Assembly, the Secretary of State made the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293 (as amended), which came into force on 14 March 1999 (reg 1(1)) and apply throughout England and Wales (reg 1(2)) except that reg 14(2), (5)(a) (see PARA 502 post) does not apply to the Isles of Scilly and, in relation to the Isles of Scilly, the reference in reg 14(6) to reg 14(5) is to be construed as a reference to reg 14(5)(b) (reg 1(3)). As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 3 ante. See also the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 8(2) (as amended); and PARA 471 ante; art 14(2) (as substituted); and PARA 480 ante. As to the Isles of Scilly see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 36.

For guidance on the applicable principles arising from an interpretation of the Town and Country Planning (Assessment of Environmental Effects) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1199 (now revoked and replaced by the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293 (as amended)) see R (on the application of Burkett) v Hammersmith and Fulham London Borough Council [2003] EWHC 1031 (Admin), [2003] 21 LS Gaz R 31, [2003] All ER (D) 203 (May). For guidance issued to local planning authorities in England on the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293 (as amended) see ODPM Circular 02/99 Environmental Impact Assessment; and as to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

6 le under the European Communities Act 1972 s 2(2): see EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES.

7 For the meaning of 'Community obligation' see EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES. The Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293 (as amended) implement EC Council Directive 85/337 (OJ L175, 05.07.85, p 40) (as amended) and take into account the selection criteria in Annex III as amended by EC Council Directive 97/11 (OJ L73, 14.03.97, p 5). As to the obligations of member states under EC Council Directive 85/337 (as amended) with regard to carrying out environmental impact assessments of projects likely to have a significant effect on the environment see Case C-435/97 World Wildlife Fund v Autonome Provinz Bozen [1999] ECR I-5613, [2000] 1 CMLR 149, ECJ; see also R (on the application of Candlish) v Hastings Borough Council [2005] EWHC 1539 (Admin), [2005] All ER (D) 178 (Jul) and the authorities reviewed in that judgment.

8 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see PARA 60 note 5 ante.

9 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 71A(2) (as added: see note 5 supra). Where a draft of regulations made in exercise both of the power conferred by s 71A (as added) and the power conferred by the European Communities Act 1972 s 2(2) is approved by resolution of each House of Parliament, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 333(3) (see PARA 3 ante) does not apply: s 71A(3) (as so added).

UPDATE

487 Power to make regulations

NOTE 5--SI 1999/293 reg 1(2) amended, reg 1(4) added in relation to England: SI 2006/3295.

FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/A. RELEVANT CONSIDERATIONS/(B) Assessment of Environmental Impact/(a) In general/488. Meaning of 'EIA development'.

488. Meaning of 'EIA development'.

In the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999¹ 'EIA development' means development² which is either:

- 1875 (1) Schedule 1 development³; or
- 1876 (2) Schedule 2 development⁴ likely to have significant effects on the environment by virtue of factors such as its nature, size or location⁵.

1 In the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293 (as amended): see PARA 489 et seq post.

2 There is no justification for treating the word 'development' as used in the 1999 Regulations as though it means a project of some wider kind; the 'development' in relation to which an environmental impact assessment may be required is the development to which the planning permission in question relates: see R (on the application of Candlish) v Hastings Borough Council [2005] EWHC 1539 (Admin), [2005] All ER (D) 178 (Jul). For the meaning of 'development' generally see PARA 217 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'Schedule 1 development' see PARA 489 post.

4 For the meaning of 'Schedule 2 development' see PARA 490 post.

5 Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, art 2(1). The provisions enabling the Secretary of State or the Assembly to give directions which may be included in a development order by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 60 (see PARA 254 ante) include provisions enabling him or it to direct that development which is both of a description mentioned in the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2(1), Sch 2 para 2, Table col 1 (see PARA 490 post at heads (1)-(14) in the text) and of a class described in the direction is EIA development for the purposes of the 1999 Regulations: reg 33. In their application to Wales, the 1999 Regulations have effect, with any necessary amendments, as if each reference to 'the Secretary of State' were a reference to 'the National Assembly for Wales': reg 2(6) (added by SI 2000/2867). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

For these purposes, references to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly are not to be construed as references to an inspector: Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2(5). 'Inspector' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State in England or by the National Assembly for Wales pursuant to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 (as amended) to determine an appeal (see PARA 621 et seq post): Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2(1).

As to the Secretary of State's duty to give reasons for refusing to require an environmental impact assessment to be made prior to the grant of planning permission see R v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and Regions, ex p Marson (1998) 77 P & CR 202, [1998] JPL 869, CA (decided under the Town and Country Planning (Assessment of Environmental Effects) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1199 (now revoked and replaced)).

NOTE 5--SI 1999/293 reg 2(6) amended: SI 2008/2335 (Wales).

PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/A. RELEVANT CONSIDERATIONS/(B) Assessment of Environmental Impact/(a) In general/489. Meaning of 'Schedule 1 development'.

489. Meaning of 'Schedule 1 development'.

In the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999¹, 'Schedule 1 development' means development², other than exempt development³, of a description mentioned below⁴, that is, the carrying out of development to provide any of the following:

- 1877 (1) crude-oil refineries, excluding undertakings manufacturing only lubricants from crude oil, and installations for the gasification and liquefaction of 500 tonnes or more of coal or bituminous shale per day;
- 1878 (2) power stations as follows:
 - 186 65. (a) thermal power stations and other combustion installations with a heat output of 300 megawatts or more;
 - 66. (b) nuclear power stations and other nuclear reactors⁵, except research installations for the production and conversion of fissionable and fertile materials, whose maximum power does not exceed one kilowatt continuous thermal load;
- 187 1879 (3) installations:
 - 188 67. (a) for the reprocessing of irradiated nuclear fuel;
 - 68. (b) designed: (i) for the production or enrichment of nuclear fuel; (ii) for the processing of irradiated nuclear fuel or high-level radioactive waste; (iii) for the final disposal of irradiated nuclear fuel; (iv) solely for the final disposal of radioactive waste; (v) solely for the storage, planned for more than ten years, of irradiated nuclear fuels or radioactive waste in a different site than the production site;
- 189 1880 (4) works and installations as follows:
 - 190 69. (a) integrated works for the initial smelting of cast-iron and steel;
 - 70. (b) installations for the production of non-ferrous crude metals from ore, concentrates or secondary raw materials by metallurgical, chemical or electrolytic processes;
- 191 1881 (5) installations for the extraction of asbestos and for the processing and transformation of asbestos and products containing asbestos:
 - 192 71. (a) for asbestos-cement products, with an annual production of more than 20,000 tonnes of finished products;
 - 72. (b) for friction material, with an annual production of more than 50 tonnes of finished products; and
 - 73. (c) for other uses of asbestos, utilisation of more than 200 tonnes per year;
- 193 1882 (6) integrated chemical installations, that is to say, installations for the manufacture on an industrial scale of substances using chemical conversion processes, in which several units are juxtaposed and are functionally linked to one another and which are:

194

- 74. (a) for the production of basic organic chemicals;
- 75. (b) for the production of basic inorganic chemicals;
- 76. (c) for the production of phosphorous-, nitrogen- or potassium-based fertilisers (simple or compound fertilisers);
- 77. (d) for the production of basic plant health products and of biocides;
- 78. (e) for the production of basic pharmaceutical products using a chemical or biological process;
- 79. (f) for the production of explosives;

195

1883 (7) construction:

196

- 80. (a) of lines for long-distance railway traffic and of airports⁶ with a basic runway length of 2,100 metres or more;
- 81. (b) of motorways and express roads⁷;
- 82. (c) of a new road of four or more lanes, or realignment and/or widening of an existing road of two lanes or less so as to provide four or more lanes, where such new road, or realigned and/or widened section of road would be 10 kilometres or more in a continuous length;

197

1884 (8) waterways and ports as follows:

198

- 83. (a) inland waterways and ports for inland-waterway traffic which permit the passage of vessels of over 1,350 tonnes;
- 84. (b) trading ports, piers for loading and unloading connected to land and outside ports (excluding ferry piers) which can take vessels of over 1,350 tonnes;

1885 (9) waste disposal installations for the incineration, chemical treatment⁸ or landfill of hazardous waste⁹;1886 (10) waste disposal installations for the incineration or chemical treatment¹⁰ of non-hazardous waste with a capacity exceeding 100 tonnes per day;

1887 (11) groundwater abstraction or artificial groundwater recharge schemes where the annual volume of water abstracted or recharged is equivalent to or exceeds 10 million cubic metres;

1888 (12) works for the transfer of water resources other than piped drinking water:

- 85. (a) between river basins where the transfer aims at preventing possible shortages of water and where the amount of water transferred exceeds 100 million cubic metres per year;
- 86. (b) in all other cases, between river basins where the multi-annual average flow of the basin of abstraction exceeds 2,000 million cubic metres per year and where the amount of water transferred exceeds 5% of this flow;

1889 (13) waste water treatment plants with a capacity exceeding 150,000 population equivalent¹¹;

1890 (14) extraction of petroleum and natural gas for commercial purposes where the amount extracted exceeds 500 tonnes per day in the case of petroleum and 500,000 cubic metres per day in the case of gas;

1891 (15) dams and other installations designed for the holding back or permanent storage of water, where a new or additional amount of water held back or stored exceeds 10 million cubic metres;

1892 (16) pipelines for the transport of gas, oil or chemicals with a diameter of more than 800 millimetres and a length of more than 40 kilometres;

1893 (17) installations for the intensive rearing of poultry or pigs with more than:

- 87. (a) 85,000 places for broilers or 60,000 places for hens;
- 88. (b) 3,000 places for production pigs over 30 kg; or
- 89. (c) 900 places for sows;

203

1894 (18) industrial plants for:

204

- 90. (a) the production of pulp from timber or similar fibrous materials;
- 91. (b) the production of paper and board with a production capacity exceeding 200 tonnes per day;

1895 (19) quarries and open-cast mining where the surface of the site exceeds 25 hectares, or peat extraction where the surface of the site exceeds 150 hectares;

1896 (20) installations for storage of petroleum, petrochemical or chemical products with a capacity of 200,000 tonnes or more¹².

2 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'exempt development' means development which comprises or forms part of a project serving national defence purposes or in respect of which the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales has made a direction under the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 4(4) (see PARA 492 post): reg 2(1). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante; as to transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. See also PARA 488 note 5 ante.

4 Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2(1).

5 For the purposes of ibid reg 2(1), Sch 1, 'nuclear power station' and 'other nuclear reactor' do not include an installation from the site of which all nuclear fuel and other radioactive contaminated materials have been permanently removed; and development for the purpose of dismantling or decommissioning a nuclear power station or other nuclear reactor is not to be treated as development of the description mentioned in Sch 1 para 2(b) (see head (2)(b) in the text): Sch 1, interpretation. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/A. RELEVANT CONSIDERATIONS/(B) Assessment of Environmental Impact/(a) In general/490. Meaning of 'Schedule 2 development'.

490. Meaning of 'Schedule 2 development'.

In the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999¹, 'Schedule 2 development' means development², other than exempt development³, of a description mentioned below⁴ where any part of that development is to be carried out in a sensitive area⁵ or any applicable threshold or criterion⁶ is respectively exceeded or met in relation to that development⁷. The specified descriptions of development are carrying out of development to provide any of the following:

1897 (1) agriculture and aquaculture:
206

- 92. (a) projects for the use of uncultivated land or semi-natural areas for intensive agricultural purposes, where the area of the development exceeds 0.5 hectare;
- 93. (b) water management projects for agriculture, including irrigation and land drainage projects, where the area of the works⁸ exceeds 1 hectare;
- 94. (c) intensive livestock installations, unless included in Schedule 1⁹, where the area of new floor space¹⁰ exceeds 500 square metres;
- 95. (d) intensive fish farming, where the installation resulting from the development is designed to produce more than 10 tonnes of dead weight fish per year;
- 96. (e) all development consisting of reclamation of land from the sea;

1898 (2) extractive industry:
208

- 97. (a) in the case of quarries, open cast mining and peat extraction, unless included in Schedule 1, all development except the construction of buildings or other ancillary structures where the new floor space does not exceed 1,000 square metres;
- 98. (b) underground mining;
- 99. (c) all development consisting of the extraction of minerals by fluvial dredging;
- 100. (d) deep drillings, in particular (i) geothermal drilling, (ii) drilling for the storage of nuclear waste material, (iii) drilling for water supplies, with the exception of drillings for investigating the stability of the soil, where, in relation to any type of drilling, the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare or, in relation to geothermal drilling and drilling for the storage of nuclear waste material, the drilling is within 100 metres of any controlled waters¹¹;
- 101. (e) surface industrial installations for the extraction of coal, petroleum, natural gas and ores, as well as bituminous shale, where the area of the development exceeds 0.5 hectare;

1899 (3) energy industry:

210

- 102. (a) industrial installations for the production of electricity, steam and hot water, unless included in Schedule 1, where the area of the development exceeds 0.5 hectare;
- 103. (b) industrial installations for carrying gas, steam and hot water, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
- 104. (c) surface storage of natural gas, where the area of any new building, deposit or structure exceeds 500 square metres or a new building, deposit or structure is to be sited within 100 metres of any controlled waters;
- 105. (d) underground storage of combustible gases, where the area of any new building, deposit or structure exceeds 500 square metres or a new building, deposit or structure is to be sited within 100 metres of any controlled waters;
- 106. (e) surface storage of fossil fuels, where the area of any new building, deposit or structure exceeds 500 square metres or a new building, deposit or structure is to be sited within 100 metres of any controlled waters;
- 107. (f) industrial briquetting of coal and lignite, where the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres;
- 108. (g) installations for the processing and storage of radioactive waste, unless included in Schedule 1, where the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres or the installation resulting from the development will require an authorisation or the variation of an authorisation under the Radioactive Substances Act 1993¹²;
- 109. (h) installations for hydroelectric energy production, where the installation is designed to produce more than 0.5 megawatts;
- 110. (i) installations for the harnessing of wind power for energy production (wind farms), where the development involves the installation of more than 2 turbines or the hub height of any turbine or height of any other structure exceeds 15 metres;

1900 (4) production and processing of metals where, in each case, the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres:

212

- 111. (a) installations for the production of pig iron or steel (primary or secondary fusion) including continuous casting;

112. (b) the following installations for the processing of ferrous metals: hot-rolling mills; smitheries with hammers; application of protective fused metal coats;
113. (c) ferrous metal foundries;
114. (d) installations for the smelting, including the alloyage, of non-ferrous metals, excluding precious metals, including recovered products (refining, foundry casting, etc);
115. (e) installations for surface treatment of metals and plastic materials using an electrolytic or chemical process;
116. (f) manufacture and assembly of motor vehicles and manufacture of motor-vehicle engines;
117. (g) shipyards;
118. (h) installations for the construction and repair of aircraft;
119. (i) manufacture of railway equipment;
120. (j) swaging by explosives;
121. (k) installations for the roasting and sintering of metallic ores;
- 213
1901 (5) mineral industry where, in each case, the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres:
- 214
122. (a) coke ovens (dry coal distillation);
123. (b) installations for the manufacture of cement;
124. (c) installations for the production of asbestos and the manufacture of asbestos-based products, unless included in Schedule 1;
125. (d) installations for the manufacture of glass including glass fibre;
126. (e) installations for smelting mineral substances including the production of mineral fibres;
127. (f) manufacture of ceramic products by burning, in particular roofing tiles, bricks, refractory bricks, tiles, stoneware or porcelain;
- 215
1902 (6) chemical industry, unless included in Schedule 1:
- 216
128. (a) treatment of intermediate products and production of chemicals, where the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres;
129. (b) production of pesticides and pharmaceutical products, paint and varnishes, elastomers and peroxides, where the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres;
130. (c) storage facilities for petroleum, petrochemical and chemical products, where the area of any new building or structure exceeds 0.05 hectare or more than 200 tonnes of petroleum, petrochemical or chemical products is to be stored at any one time;
- 217
1903 (7) food industry, where in any case the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres:
- 218
131. (a) manufacture of vegetable and animal oils and fats;
132. (b) packing and canning of animal and vegetable products;
133. (c) manufacture of dairy products;
134. (d) brewing and malting;
135. (e) confectionery and syrup manufacture;
136. (f) installations for the slaughter of animals;
137. (g) industrial starch manufacturing installations;
138. (h) fish-meal and fish-oil factories;
139. (i) sugar factories;
- 219

1904 (8) textile, leather, wood and paper industries, where, in any case, the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres:

220

- 140. (a) industrial plants for the production of paper and board, unless included in Schedule 1;
- 141. (b) plants for the pre-treatment (operations such as washing, bleaching, mercerisation) or dyeing of fibres or textiles;
- 142. (c) plants for the tanning of hides and skins;
- 143. (d) cellulose-processing and production installations;

1905 (9) rubber industry: manufacture and treatment of elastomer-based products, where the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres;

1906 (10) infrastructure projects:

- 144. (a) industrial estate development projects, where the area of the development exceeds 0.5 hectare;
- 145. (b) urban development projects¹³, including the construction of shopping centres and car parks, sports stadiums, leisure centres and multiplex cinemas, where the area of the development exceeds 0.5 hectare;
- 146. (c) construction of intermodal transshipment facilities and of intermodal terminals, unless included in Schedule 1, where the area of the development exceeds 0.5 hectare;
- 147. (d) construction of railways, unless included in Schedule 1, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
- 148. (e) construction of airfields, unless included in Schedule 1, where the development involves an extension to a runway or the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
- 149. (f) construction of roads, unless included in Schedule 1, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
- 150. (g) construction of harbours and port installations including fishing harbours, unless included in Schedule 1, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
- 151. (h) inland-waterway construction not included in Schedule 1, canalisation and flood-relief works, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
- 152. (i) dams and other installations designed to hold water or store it on a long-term basis, unless included in Schedule 1, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
- 153. (j) tramways, elevated and underground railways, suspended lines or similar lines of a particular type, used exclusively or mainly for passenger transport, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
- 154. (k) oil and gas pipeline installations, unless included in Schedule 1, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare or, in the case of a gas pipeline, the installation has a design operating pressure exceeding 7 bar gauge;
- 155. (l) installations of long-distance aqueducts, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare or, in the case of a gas pipeline, the installation has a design operating pressure exceeding 7 bar gauge;
- 156. (m) all development consisting of coastal work to combat erosion and maritime works capable of altering the coast through the construction, for example, of dykes, moles, jetties and other sea defence works, excluding the maintenance and reconstruction of such works;
- 157. (n) groundwater abstraction and artificial groundwater recharge schemes not included in Schedule 1, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;

158. (o) works for the transfer of water resources between river basins not included in Schedule 1, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
159. (p) motorway service areas, where the area of the development exceeds 0.5 hectare;
- 223
1907 (11) other projects:
- 224
160. (a) permanent racing and test tracks for motorised vehicles, where the area of the development exceeds 1 hectare;
161. (b) installations for the disposal of waste, unless included in Schedule 1, where the disposal is by incineration, or the area of the development exceeds 0.5 hectare, or the installation is to be sited within 100 metres of any controlled waters;
162. (c) waste-water treatment plants, unless included in Schedule 1, where the area of the development exceeds 1,000 square metres;
163. (d) sludge-deposition sites, where the area of deposit exceeds 0.5 hectare or a deposit is to be made within 100 metres of any controlled waters;
164. (e) storage of scrap iron, including scrap vehicles, where the area of storage exceeds 0.5 hectare or scrap is to be stored within 100 metres of any controlled waters;
165. (f) test benches for engines, turbines or reactors, where the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres;
166. (g) installations for the manufacture of artificial mineral fibres, where the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres;
167. (h) installations for the recovery or destruction of explosive substances, where the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres;
168. (i) knackers' yards, where the area of new floor space exceeds 1,000 square metres;
- 225
1908 (12) tourism and leisure:
- 226
169. (a) ski-runs, ski-lifts and cable-cars and associated developments, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare or the height of any building or other structure exceeds 15 metres;
170. (b) marinas, where the area of the inclosed water surface exceeds 1,000 square metres;
171. (c) holiday villages and hotel complexes outside urban areas and associated developments, where the area of the development exceeds 0.5 hectare;
172. (d) theme parks, where the area of the development exceeds 0.5 hectare;
173. (e) permanent camp sites and caravan sites, where the area of the development exceeds 1 hectare;
174. (f) golf courses and associated developments, where the area of the development exceeds 1 hectare;
- 227
1909 (13) any change to or extension of development of a description listed in Schedule 1 or in heads (1) to (12) above, where that development is already authorised, executed or in the process of being executed, and the change or extension may have significant adverse effects on the environment, where:
- 228
175. (a) in relation to development of a description mentioned in heads (1) to (12) above, the corresponding thresholds and criteria set out above applied to the change or extension, and not to the development as changed or extended;

176. (b) in relation to development of a description mentioned in a specified paragraph in Schedule 1¹⁴, the specified thresholds and criteria¹⁵ applied to the change or extension, and not to the development as changed or extended;

1910 (14) all development consisting of development of a description mentioned in Schedule 1 undertaken exclusively or mainly for the development and testing of new methods or products and not used for more than two years¹⁶.

3 For the meaning of 'exempt development' see PARA 489 note 3 ante.

4 Ie mentioned in the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2(1), Sch 2 para 2, Table col 1: see heads (1)-(14) in the text.

5 For these purposes, 'sensitive area' means any of the following: (1) land notified under the Wildlife and Countryside Act 1981 s 28(1) (as substituted) (sites of special scientific interest); (2) an area to which the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10 (as amended), Table para (u)(ii) applies (see PARA 475 ante at head (21)(b) in the text); (3) a National Park; (4) the Broads; (5) a property appearing on the World Heritage List kept under the 1972 UNESCO Convention for the Protection of the World Cultural and Natural Heritage art 11(2); (6) a scheduled monument within the meaning of the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Areas Act 1979; (7) an area of outstanding natural beauty designated as such by an order made by English Nature as respects England or the Countryside Council for Wales, as respects Wales, under the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 s 82 as confirmed by the Secretary of State or by the National Assembly for Wales; (8) a European site within the meaning of the Conservation (Natural Habitats etc) Regulations 1994, SI 1994/2716, reg 10 (as amended): Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2(1) (definition amended by virtue of the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 ss 73, 76, 93, Sch 10, Sch 15 Pt II). As to the Secretary of State and the Assembly see PARAS 19-20 ante; and see also PARA 488 note 5 ante.

6 Ie any applicable threshold or criterion in the corresponding part of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, Sch 2 para 2, Table, col 2: see heads (1)-(14) in the text.

7 Ibid reg 2(1). The Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct that particular development of a description mentioned in the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293 reg 2(1), Sch 2 para 2, Table col 1 (see heads (1)-(14) in the text) is EIA development in spite of the fact that none of the conditions contained in sub-paras (a) and (b) of the definition of 'Schedule 2 development' in reg 2(1) is satisfied in relation to that development: see reg 4(8); and PARA 492 note 20 post.

8 For the purposes of ibid Sch 2, 'area of the works' includes any area occupied by apparatus, equipment, machinery, materials, plant, spoil heaps or other facilities or stores required for construction or installation: Sch 2 para 1.

9 Ie included in ibid reg 2(1), Sch 1: see PARA 489 ante.

10 For the purposes of ibid Sch 2, 'floor space' means the floor space in a building or buildings: Sch 2 para 1.

11 For the purposes of ibid Sch 2, 'controlled waters' has the same meaning as in the Water Resources Act 1991 (see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 45 (2010) PARA 289): Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, Sch 2 para 1.

12 As to authorisation under the Radioactive Substances Act 1993 see generally FUEL AND ENERGY vol 19(3) (2007 Reissue) PARAS 1453-1459.

13 It cannot be said that a storage and distribution facility, particularly when providing services to business and the community at large and not simply a private operation, however large and extensive, can never reasonably be regarded as part of the infrastructure for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning

(Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, Sch 2 para 2, Table item 10(b): see R (on the application of Goodman) v Lewisham London Borough Council [2003] EWCA Civ 140, [2003] 2 P & CR 262, [2003] All ER (D) 202 (Feb).

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/A. RELEVANT CONSIDERATIONS/(B) Assessment of Environmental Impact/(a) In general/491. Prohibition on granting planning permission without consideration of environmental information.

491. Prohibition on granting planning permission without consideration of environmental information.

The relevant planning authority¹, or the Secretary of State² (or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³), or an inspector⁴ must not grant planning permission⁵ pursuant to an application to which this provision applies unless it or he has first taken the environmental information⁶ into consideration, and must state in his or its decision that he or it has done so⁷.

This provision applies:

- 1911 (a) to every EIA application⁸ received⁹ by the authority with which it is lodged¹⁰;
and
- 1912 (b) to every EIA application lodged¹¹ by an interested planning authority¹².

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly grants planning permission in contravention of this provision, the validity of that decision may be challenged on an appeal to the High Court¹³.

1 For these purposes, 'relevant planning authority' means the body to which it falls, fell, or would, but for a direction under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended) (reference of applications to Secretary of State or National Assembly for Wales: see PARA 483 ante), fall to determine an application for planning permission for the development in question: Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2(1).

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante. See also PARA 488 note 5 ante.

3 As to the transfer of town and country planning functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. See also PARA 488 note 5 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'inspector' see PARA 488 note 5 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

6 For these purposes, 'environmental information' means the environmental statement, including any further information, any representations made by any body required by the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293 (as amended) to be invited to make representations, and any representations duly made by any other person about the environmental effects of the development: reg 2(1). For the meaning of 'environmental statement' see PARA 497 post.

7 Ibid reg 3(2). As to the construction of reg 3(2) see R (on the application of Richardson) v North Yorkshire County Council [2003] EWHC 764 (Admin), [2004] 1 P & CR 361, [2003] All ER (D) 268 (Apr); affd [2003] EWCA Civ 1860, [2004] 2 All ER 41, [2004] 1 WLR 1920. It has been held that the Secretary of State is not required as a matter of law to ignore proposals for remedial measures included in proposals before him when deciding whether an environmental impact assessment is necessary; however, devising a condition to be attached to the planning permission which is capable of bringing the development below the relevant threshold does not necessarily lead to a decision that an environmental impact assessment is unnecessary: see Gillespie v First Secretary of State [2003] EWCA Civ 400, [2003] All ER (D) 407 (Mar). Local opposition and controversy in relation to a proposed development are not relevant in deciding whether an environmental impact assessment is required unless the proposals actually have an adverse environmental impact and the statutory criteria for requiring such assessment are met: R (on the application of Lambert) v Southwark London Borough Council [2003] All ER (D) 389 (Jul).

8 For these purposes, 'EIA application' means an application for planning permission for EIA development: Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2(1). For the meaning of 'EIA development' see PARA 488 ante.

9 For these purposes, the date of receipt of an application by an authority is to be determined in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 20(3) (time periods for decision: see PARA 532 post): Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 3(1).

Screening; in general.

(b) Screening

492. Screening; in general.

A direction of the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales² determines³ whether development⁴ is or is not EIA development⁵. The Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct that particular proposed development is exempted⁶ from the application of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁷ and must send a copy of any such direction to the relevant planning authority⁸. Subject to the above provisions, the occurrence of one of the following events, that is:

- 1913 (1) the submission by the applicant or appellant in relation to that development of a statement referred to by the applicant or appellant as an environmental statement⁹ for the purposes of the 1999 Regulations; or
- 1914 (2) the adoption by the relevant planning authority of a screening opinion¹⁰ to the effect that the development is EIA development, determines¹¹ that development is EIA development¹².

Where a local planning authority or the Secretary of State or the Assembly has to decide whether Schedule 2 development¹³ is EIA development, the authority or Secretary of State or Assembly must take into account in making that decision such of the specified selection criteria¹⁴ as are relevant to the development¹⁵. Selection criteria are specified with regard to:

- 1915 (a) the characteristics of the development, which must be considered having regard, in particular to:

- 177. (i) the size of the development;
- 178. (ii) the cumulation with other development;
- 179. (iii) the use of natural resources;
- 180. (iv) the production of waste;
- 181. (v) pollution and nuisances;
- 182. (vi) the risk of accidents, having regard in particular to substances or technologies used¹⁶;

231

- 1916 (b) the location of the development; the environmental sensitivity of geographical areas likely to be affected by the development must be considered, having regard, in particular, to:

232

- 183. (i) the existing land use;
 - 184. (ii) the relative abundance, quality and regenerative capacity of natural resources in the area;
 - 185. (iii) the absorption capacity of the natural environment, paying particular attention to the following areas: wetlands; coastal zones; mountain and forest areas; nature reserves and parks; areas classified or protected under domestic or relevant Community legislation¹⁷; areas in which the environmental quality standards laid down in Community legislation have already been exceeded; densely populated areas; and landscapes of historical, cultural or archaeological significance¹⁸;
- 233
- 1917 (c) characteristics of the potential impact; the potential significant effects of development must be considered in relation to criteria set out under heads (a) and (b) above and having regard in particular to:
- 234
- 186. (i) the extent of the impact (geographical area and size of the affected population);
 - 187. (ii) the transfrontier nature of the impact;
 - 188. (iii) the magnitude and complexity of the impact;
 - 189. (iv) the probability of the impact;
 - 190. (v) the duration, frequency and reversibility of the impact¹⁹.
- 235

Where a local planning authority adopts a screening opinion or the Secretary of State or the Assembly makes a screening direction²⁰ to the effect that development is EIA development:

- 1918 (A) that opinion or direction must be accompanied by a written statement giving clearly and precisely the full reasons for that conclusion; and
- 1919 (B) the authority or the Secretary of State or Assembly, as the case may be, must send a copy of the opinion or direction and a copy of the written statement so required to the person who proposes to carry out, or who has carried out, the development in question²¹.

10 For these purposes, 'screening opinion' means a written statement of the opinion of the relevant planning authority as to whether development is EIA development: Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2(1). It is not appropriate to engage in a paperchase in order to assemble documents which collectively might be said to be a composite screening opinion: R (on the application of Lebus) v South Cambridgeshire District Council [2002] EWHC 2009 (Admin) at [38], [2003] 2 P & CR 71, [2002] All ER (D) 96 (Aug) per Sullivan J. 19 Ibid Sch 3 para 3.

20 For these purposes, 'screening direction' means a direction made by the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales as to whether development is EIA development: ibid reg 2(1). The Secretary of State or the Assembly may make a screening direction irrespective of whether he or it has received a request to do so (reg 4(7)); and may direct that particular development of a description mentioned in reg 2(1), Sch 2 para 2, Table col 1 (see PARA 490 ante at heads (1)-(14) in the text) is EIA development in spite of the fact that none of the conditions contained in sub-paras (a) and (b) of the definition of 'Schedule 2 development' in reg 2(1) (see PARA 490 ante) is satisfied in relation to that development (reg 4(8)). Policy guidance issued to local planning authorities in England indicates that the Secretary of State may use the power under reg 4(8) in exceptional cases with regard to small developments which nevertheless give rise to significant environmental effects: see ODPM Circular 02/99 Environmental Impact Assessment paras 31, 77. The Secretary of State is not, however, obliged to make a case by case examination of whether an environmental impact assessment ought to be carried out: Berkeley v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and Regions (No 3) [2001] EWCA Civ 1012, [2001] 1 P & CR 264, [2001] All ER (D) 345 (Jun); distinguished in R (on the application of Newsum) v Welsh Assembly (No 2) [2005] EWHC 538 (Admin), [2005] 16 EG 144 (CS), [2005] All ER (D) 76 (Apr). 493. Requests for screening opinions of the local planning authority.

A person who is minded to carry out development¹ may request the relevant planning authority² to adopt a screening opinion³. A request for a screening opinion must be accompanied by:

- 1920 (1) a plan sufficient to identify the land⁴;
- 1921 (2) a brief description of the nature and purpose of the development and of its possible effects on the environment; and
- 1922 (3) such other information or representations as the person making the request may wish to provide or make⁵.

An authority receiving a request for a screening opinion must, if it considers that it has not been provided with sufficient information to adopt an opinion, notify in writing the person making the request of the points on which it requires additional information⁶. An authority must adopt a screening opinion within three weeks beginning with the date of receipt of a request made pursuant to the above provisions or such longer period as may be agreed in writing with the person making the request⁷. An authority which adopts a screening opinion pursuant to this provision must forthwith send a copy to the person who made the request⁸.

494. Requests for screening directions of the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

Where a relevant planning authority¹:

- 1923 (1) fails to adopt a screening opinion² within the relevant period³; or
- 1924 (2) adopts an opinion to the effect that the development⁴ is EIA development⁵, the person who requested the opinion may request the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁷ to make a screening direction⁸. The person may make such a request even if the authority has not received additional information⁹ which is sought¹⁰.

A person who so requests the Secretary of State or the Assembly to make a screening direction must submit with his request:

- 1925 (a) a copy of his request to the relevant planning authority¹¹ and the documents which accompanied it;
- 1926 (b) a copy of any notification¹² which he has received and of any response;
- 1927 (c) a copy of any screening opinion he has received from the authority and of any accompanying statement of reasons; and
- 1928 (d) any representations that he wishes to make¹³.

When a person so makes a request he must send to the relevant planning authority a copy of that request and of any representations he makes to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly¹⁴.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if he or it considers that he or it has not been provided with sufficient information to make a screening direction, notify in writing the person making the request of the points on which he or the Assembly requires additional information, and may request the relevant planning authority to provide such information as it can on any of those points¹⁵. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must make a screening direction within three weeks beginning with the date of receipt of a request pursuant to the above provisions or such longer period as he or it may reasonably require¹⁶ and must send a copy of any screening direction so made forthwith to the person who made the request¹⁷.

(c) Procedures concerning Applications for Planning Permission

UPDATE

492-500 Screening; in general ... Procedure to facilitate preparation of environmental statements

For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, in relation to England only, an undetermined ROMP application must be treated as if it were a ROMP application received by the authority with whom it is lodged on or after 15 November 2000, and SI 1999/293, subject to certain modifications, applies accordingly: see the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (Mineral Permissions and Amendment) (England) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/1556, reg 2. 'Undetermined ROMP application' means a ROMP application which was received by the authority with whom it was lodged before 15 November 2000 but which was not determined by 22 July 2008; 'ROMP application' means an application to a relevant mineral planning authority to determine the conditions to which a planning permission is to be subject under (1) the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 2(2) (PARA 720); (2) the Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 para 9(1) (see PARA 734); or the Environment Act 1995 Sch 14 para 6(1) (see PARA 750).

495. Application made to a local planning authority without an environmental statement.

Where it appears to the relevant planning authority¹ that:

- 1929 (1) an application for planning permission² which is before it for determination is a Schedule 1 application³ or Schedule 2 application⁴; and
- 1930 (2) the development⁵ in question has not been the subject of a screening opinion⁶ or screening direction⁷; and
- 1931 (3) the application is not accompanied by a statement referred to by the applicant as an environmental statement⁸ for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁹, the relevant provisions¹⁰ apply as if the receipt or lodging of the application were a request¹¹ for a screening opinion¹².

Where an EIA application¹³ which is before a local planning authority¹⁴ for determination is not accompanied by a statement referred to by the applicant as an environmental statement for the purposes of the 1999 Regulations, the authority must notify the applicant in writing that the submission of an environmental statement is required¹⁵. An applicant receiving such a notification may, within three weeks beginning with the date of the notification, write to the authority stating:

- 1932 (a) that he accepts its view and is providing an environmental statement; or
- 1933 (b) unless the Secretary of State¹⁶ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁷ has made a screening direction in respect of the development, that he is writing to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly to request a screening direction¹⁸.

If the applicant does not write to the authority in accordance with heads (a) and (b) above, then unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly has made a screening direction to the effect that the development is not EIA development, the permission sought is deemed to be refused at the end of the relevant three-week period, and the deemed refusal:

- 1934 (i) is treated as a decision of the authority for the purposes of entry in the register of applications¹⁹; but
- 1935 (ii) does not give rise to an appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly by virtue of the statutory right to appeal²⁰ against planning decisions and failure to take such decisions²¹.

An authority which has given a notification that the submission of an environmental statement is required²² must, unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly makes a screening direction to the effect that the development is not EIA development, determine the relevant application only by refusing planning permission if the applicant does not submit an environmental statement and comply with the requirements²³ concerning publicity²⁴.

2 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

the relevant provisions¹² apply as if the referral of the application were a request made by the applicant¹³ for a screening direction¹⁴.

Where it appears to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly that an application which has been referred to him or to it for determination is an EIA application¹⁵ and is not accompanied by a statement referred to by the applicant as an environmental statement for the purposes of the 1999 Regulations, he or the Assembly must notify the applicant in writing that the submission of an environmental statement is required and must send a copy of that notification to the relevant planning authority¹⁶. An applicant who receives such a notification may within three weeks beginning with the date of the notification write to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly stating that he proposes to provide an environmental statement¹⁷. If the applicant does not write in accordance with this provision, the Secretary of State or the Assembly is under no duty to deal with the application; and at the end of the three week period he or the Assembly must inform the applicant in writing that no further action is being taken on the application¹⁸.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has given a notification that the submission of an environmental statement is required¹⁹, he or the Assembly must determine the relevant application only by refusing planning permission if the applicant does not submit an environmental statement and comply with the requirements²⁰ concerning publicity²¹.

RELEVANT CONSIDERATIONS/(B) Assessment of Environmental Impact/(d) Preparation of Environmental Statements/497. Meaning of 'environmental statement'.

(d) Preparation of Environmental Statements

497. Meaning of 'environmental statement'.

For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999¹, 'environmental statement' means a statement:

1939 (1) that includes such of the information referred to in heads (a) to (g) below as is reasonably required to assess the environmental effects of the development² and which the applicant can, having regard in particular to current knowledge and methods of assessment, reasonably be required to compile; but 1940 (2) that includes at least the information referred to in heads (i) to (v) below³.

The information mentioned in head (1) above is:

1941 (a) a description of the development, including in particular a description of the physical characteristics of the whole development and the land-use requirements during the construction and operational phases, a description of the main characteristics of the production processes, for instance, nature and quantity of the materials used, and an estimate, by type and quantity, of expected residues

- and emissions (water, air and soil pollution, noise, vibration, light, heat, radiation, etc) resulting from the operation of the proposed development;
- 1942 (b) an outline of the main alternatives studied by the applicant or appellant and an indication of the main reasons for his choice, taking into account the environmental effects;
- 1943 (c) a description of the aspects of the environment likely to be significantly affected by the development, including, in particular, population, fauna, flora, soil, water, air, climatic factors, material assets, including the architectural and archaeological heritage, landscape and the inter-relationship between the above factors;
- 1944 (d) a description of the likely significant effects of the development on the environment, which should cover the direct effects and any indirect, secondary, cumulative, short, medium and long-term, permanent and temporary, positive and negative effects of the development, resulting from the existence of the development, the use of natural resources and the emission of pollutants, the creation of nuisances and the elimination of waste, and the description by the applicant of the forecasting methods used to assess the effects on the environment;
- 1945 (e) a description of the measures envisaged to prevent, reduce and where possible offset any significant adverse effects on the environment;
- 1946 (f) a non-technical summary of the information provided under heads (a) to (e) above;
- 1947 (g) an indication of any difficulties (technical deficiencies or lack of know-how) encountered by the applicant in compiling the required information⁴.

The information mentioned in head (2) above is:

- 1948 (i) a description of the development comprising information on the site, design and size of the development;
- 1949 (ii) a description of the measures envisaged in order to avoid, reduce and, if possible, remedy significant adverse effects;
- 1950 (iii) the data required to identify and assess the main effects which the development is likely to have on the environment;
- 1951 (iv) an outline of the main alternatives studied by the applicant or appellant and an indication of the main reasons for his choice, taking into account the environmental effects;
- 1952 (v) a non-technical summary of the information provided under heads (i) to (iv) above⁵.

It is inappropriate to approach an environmental statement on the basis that activities are included in it unless expressly excluded⁶.

497 Meaning of 'environmental statement'

NOTE 5--SI 2000/1973 replaced: Environmental Permitting (England and Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/3538.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/A. RELEVANT CONSIDERATIONS/(B) Assessment of Environmental Impact/(d) Preparation of Environmental Statements/498. Scoping opinions of the local planning authority.

498. Scoping opinions of the local planning authority.

A person who is minded to make an EIA application¹ may ask the relevant planning authority² to state in writing its opinion as to the information to be provided in the environmental statement³ (a 'scoping opinion')⁴. Such a request must include:

- 1953 (1) a plan sufficient to identify the land⁵;
- 1954 (2) a brief description of the nature and purpose of the development⁶ and of its possible effects on the environment; and
- 1955 (3) such other information or representations as the person making the request may wish to provide or make⁷.

An authority receiving such a request must, if it considers that it has not been provided with sufficient information to adopt a scoping opinion, notify the person making the request of the points on which it requires additional information⁸. An authority may not adopt a scoping opinion in response to such a request until it has consulted the person who made the request and the consultation bodies⁹, but must¹⁰, within five weeks beginning with the date of receipt of that request or such longer period as may be agreed in writing with the person making the request, adopt a scoping opinion and send a copy to the person who made the request¹¹. Where, however, a person has, at the same time as making a request for a screening opinion¹², asked the authority for an opinion under the above provisions, and the authority has adopted a screening opinion to the effect that the development is EIA development¹³, the authority must, within five weeks beginning with the date on which that screening opinion was adopted or such longer period as may be agreed in writing with the person making the request, adopt a scoping opinion and send a copy to the person who made the request¹⁴.

Before adopting a scoping opinion the authority must take into account:

- 1956 (a) the specific characteristics of the particular development;
- 1957 (b) the specific characteristics of development of the type concerned; and
- 1958 (c) the environmental features likely to be affected by the development¹⁵.

An authority which has adopted a scoping opinion in response to a request under these provisions is not precluded from requiring of the person who made the request additional information in connection with any statement that may be submitted by that person as an environmental statement in connection with an application for planning permission¹⁶ for the same development as was referred to in the request¹⁷.

9 For these purposes, 'the consultation bodies' means: (1) any body which the relevant planning authority is required to consult, or would, if an application for planning permission for the development in question were before it, be required to consult by virtue of the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10 (as amended) (consultations before the grant of permission: see PARA 475 ante) or of any direction under art 10 (as amended); and (2) the following bodies if not referred to in head (1) supra: (a) any principal council for the area where the land is situated, if not the relevant planning authority; (b) where the land is situated in England, the Countryside Commission and English Nature; (c) where the land is situated in Wales, the Countryside Council for Wales; and (d) the Environment Agency: Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 2(1) (definition amended by virtue of the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 s 73(2)). 499. Scoping directions of the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

Where a relevant planning authority¹ fails to adopt a scoping opinion² within the relevant period³, the person who requested the opinion may⁴ ask the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁶ to make a direction as to the information to be provided in the environmental statement⁷ (a 'scoping direction')⁸; and this applies notwithstanding that the authority may not have received additional information⁹ which it has sought¹⁰. A request so made must include:

- 1959 (1) a copy of the relevant request to the relevant planning authority¹¹;
- 1960 (2) a copy of any relevant notification¹² and of any response;
- 1961 (3) a copy of any relevant screening opinion¹³ received by the person making the request and of any accompanying statement of reasons; and
- 1962 (4) any representations that the person making the request wishes to make¹⁴.

When a person makes such a request he must send to the relevant planning authority a copy of that request, but that copy need not include the matters mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above¹⁵. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must notify in writing the person making the request of any points on which he or the Assembly considers the information so provided is insufficient to enable him or the Assembly to make a scoping direction and may request the relevant planning authority to provide such information as it can on any of those points¹⁶.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may not make a scoping direction in response to such a request until he or it has consulted the person making the request and the consultation bodies¹⁷, but must, within five weeks beginning with the date of receipt of that request or such longer period as he or the Assembly may reasonably require, make a direction and send a copy to the person who made the request and to the relevant planning authority¹⁸. Before making a scoping direction the Secretary of State or the Assembly must take into account the specified¹⁹ matters²⁰.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has made a scoping direction in response to a request under these provisions, neither he nor the Assembly nor the relevant planning authority is precluded from requiring of the person who made the request additional information in connection with any statement that may be submitted by that person as an environmental statement in connection with an application for planning permission²¹ for the same development²² as was referred to in the request²³.

492-500 Screening; in general ... Procedure to facilitate preparation of environmental statements

For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, in relation to England only, an undetermined ROMP application must be treated as if it were a ROMP application received by the authority with whom it is lodged on or after 15 November 2000, and SI 1999/293, subject to certain modifications, applies accordingly: see the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (Mineral Permissions and Amendment) (England) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/1556, reg 2. 'Undetermined ROMP application' means a ROMP application which was received by the authority with whom it was lodged before 15 November 2000 but which was not determined by 22 July 2008; 'ROMP application' means an application to a relevant mineral planning authority to determine the conditions to which a planning permission is to be subject under (1) the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 2 para 2(2) (PARA 720); (2) the Environment Act 1995 Sch 13 para 9(1) (see PARA 734); or the Environment Act 1995 Sch 14 para 6(1) (see PARA 750).

500. Procedure to facilitate preparation of environmental statements.

Any person who intends to submit an environmental statement¹ to the relevant planning authority² or the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁴ under the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁵ may give notice in writing⁶ to that authority or to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under these provisions⁷. Such a notice must include the information necessary to identify the land⁸ and the nature and purpose of the development⁹, and must indicate the main environmental consequences to which the person giving the notice proposes to refer in his environmental statement¹⁰.

The recipient of such a notice, or of a written statement made pursuant to the specified procedures concerning applications for planning permission¹¹, must:

- 1963 (1) notify the consultation bodies¹² in writing of the name and address of the person who intends to submit an environmental statement and of the duty imposed on the consultation bodies¹³ to make information available to that person; and
- 1964 (2) inform in writing the person who intends to submit an environmental statement of the names and addresses of the bodies so notified¹⁴.

The relevant planning authority and any body notified in accordance with heads (1) and (2) above must¹⁵, if requested by the person who intends to submit an environmental statement, enter into consultation with that person to determine whether the authority or body has in its possession any information which he or it considers relevant to the preparation of the environmental statement and, if it has, the authority or body must make that information available to that person¹⁶; but this provision does not require the disclosure of information which is capable of being treated as confidential¹⁷, or must¹⁸ be so treated¹⁹. A reasonable charge reflecting the cost of making the relevant information available may be made by an authority or body which makes information available in accordance with this provision²⁰.

501. Procedure where an environmental statement is submitted to a local planning authority.

When an applicant making an EIA application¹ submits to the relevant planning authority² a statement which he refers to as an environmental statement³ for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁴, he must provide the authority with three additional copies of the statement for transmission to the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶ and, if at the same time he serves a copy⁷ of the statement on any other body, he must:

- 1965 (1) serve with it a copy of the application and any plan submitted with the application, unless he has already served these documents on the body in question;
- 1966 (2) inform the body that representations may be made to the relevant planning authority; and
- 1967 (3) inform the authority of the name of every body whom he has so served and of the date of service⁸.

When a relevant planning authority receives in connection with an EIA application such a statement as is first mentioned above, the authority must:

- 1968 (a) send to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, within 14 days of receipt of the statement, three copies of the statement and a copy of the relevant application and of any documents submitted with the application;
- 1969 (b) inform the applicant of the number of copies required to enable the authority to comply with head (c) below; and
- 1970 (c) forward to any consultation body which has not received a copy direct from the applicant a copy of the statement and inform any such consultation body that it may make representations⁹.

The applicant must send the copies required for the purposes of head (c) above to the relevant planning authority¹⁰.

The relevant planning authority may not determine the application until the expiry of 14 days from the last date on which a copy of the statement was served in accordance with these provisions¹¹.

Where an application for planning permission¹ has been made without a statement which the applicant refers to as an environmental statement² for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999³, and the applicant proposes to submit such a statement, he must, before submitting it, comply with the following requirements⁴:

1971 (1) the applicant must publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land⁵ is situated a notice stating:

191. (a) his name and that he is the applicant for planning permission and the name and address of the relevant planning authority⁶;

192. (b) the date on which the application was made and, if it be the case, that it has been referred to the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁸ for determination or is the subject of an appeal to him or to the Assembly;

193. (c) the address or location and the nature of the proposed development⁹;

- 194. (d) that a copy of the application and of any plan and other documents submitted with it together with a copy of the environmental statement may be inspected by members of the public at all reasonable hours;
- 195. (e) an address in the locality in which the land is situated at which those documents may be inspected, and the latest date on which they will be available for inspection, being a date not less than 21 days later than the date on which the notice is published;
- 196. (f) an address, whether or not the same as that given under head (e) above, in the locality in which the land is situated at which copies of the statement may be obtained;
- 197. (g) that copies may be obtained there so long as stocks last;
- 198. (h) if a charge is to be made for a copy, the amount of the charge;
- 199. (i) that any person wishing to make representations about the application should make them in writing, before the date named in accordance with head (e) above, to the relevant planning authority or, in the case of an application referred to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly or in the case of an appeal, to the Secretary of State; and
- 200. (j) in the case of an application referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly or of an appeal, the address to which representations should be sent¹⁰;

- 1972 (2) the applicant must, unless he has not, and was not reasonably able to acquire, such rights as would enable him to do so, post on the land a notice containing the information specified in head (1) above, except that the date named as the latest date on which the documents will be available for inspection must be not less than 21 days later than the date on which the notice is first posted¹¹;

- 1973 (3) the notice mentioned in head (2) above must:

- 201. (a) be left in position for not less than seven days in the 28 days immediately preceding the date of the submission of the statement; and
- 202. (b) be affixed firmly to some object on the land and sited and displayed in such a way as to be easily visible to, and readable by, members of the public without going on to the land¹².

The statement, when submitted, must be accompanied by:

- 1974 (i) a copy of the notice mentioned in head (1) above certified by or on behalf of the applicant as having been published in a named newspaper on a date specified in the certificate; and

- 1975 (ii) a certificate by or on behalf of the applicant which states either:

- 203. (A) that he has posted a notice on the land in compliance with these provisions and when he did so, and that the notice was left in position for not less than seven days in the 28 days immediately preceding the date of the submission of the statement, or that, without any fault or intention on his part, it was removed, obscured or defaced before seven days had elapsed and he took reasonable steps for its protection or replacement, specifying the steps taken; or
- 204. (B) that the applicant was unable to comply with heads (2) and (3) above because he did not have the necessary rights to do so; that he has taken such reasonable steps as are open to him to acquire those rights; and has been unable to do so, specifying the steps taken¹³.

Where an applicant indicates that he proposes to provide such a statement and in such circumstances as are mentioned above, the relevant planning authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, or the inspector¹⁴, as the case may be, must, unless disposed to refuse the permission sought, suspend consideration of the application or appeal until receipt of the statement and the other documents mentioned in heads (i) and (ii) above and may not determine it during the period of 21 days beginning with the date of receipt of the statement and the other documents so mentioned¹⁵.

506. Further information and evidence respecting environmental statements.

Where the relevant planning authority¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³, or an inspector⁴, is dealing with an application or appeal in relation to which the applicant or appellant has submitted a statement which he refers to as an environmental statement⁵ for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁶, and is of the opinion that the statement should contain additional information in order to be an environmental statement, it or he must notify the applicant or appellant in writing accordingly, and the applicant or appellant must provide that additional information ('further information')⁷. The following provisions apply in relation to further information, except in so far as the further information is provided for the purposes of an inquiry⁸ and the request for that information so made stated that it was to be provided for such purposes⁹:

- 1980 (1) the recipient of further information pursuant to the above provisions must publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land¹⁰ is situated a notice stating:

- 205. (a) the name of the applicant for planning permission or the appellant, as the case may be, and the name and address of the relevant planning authority;
 - 206. (b) the date on which the application was made and, if it be the case, that it has been referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly for determination or is the subject of an appeal to him or to it;
 - 207. (c) the address or location and the nature of the proposed development¹¹;
 - 208. (d) that further information is available in relation to an environmental statement which has already been provided;
 - 209. (e) that a copy of the further information may be inspected by members of the public at all reasonable hours;
 - 210. (f) an address in the locality in which the land is situated at which the further information may be inspected and the latest date on which it will be available for inspection, being a date not less than 21 days later than the date on which the notice is published;
 - 211. (g) an address, whether or not the same as that given pursuant to head (f) above, in the locality in which the land is situated at which copies of the further information may be obtained;
 - 212. (h) that copies may be obtained there so long as stocks last;
 - 213. (i) if a charge is to be made for a copy, the amount of the charge;
 - 214. (j) that any person wishing to make representations about the further information should make them in writing, before the date specified in accordance with head (f) above, to the relevant planning authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, or the inspector, as the case may be; and
 - 215. (k) the address to which representations should be sent¹²;
- 243
- 1981 (2) the recipient of the further information must send a copy of it to each person to whom the statement to which it relates was¹³ sent¹⁴;
 - 1982 (3) where the recipient of the further information is the relevant planning authority it must send to the Secretary of State or the Assembly three copies of the further information¹⁵;
 - 1983 (4) the recipient of the further information may by notice in writing require the applicant or appellant to provide such number of copies of the further information as is specified in the notice, being the number required for the purposes of head (2) or head (3) above¹⁶;
 - 1984 (5) where information is so requested, the relevant planning authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, or the inspector, as the case may be, must suspend determination of the application or appeal, and may not determine it before the expiry of 14 days after the date on which the further information was sent to all persons to whom the statement to which it relates was sent or the expiry of 21 days after the date that notice of it was published in a local newspaper, whichever is the later¹⁷;
 - 1985 (6) the applicant or appellant who provides further information in accordance with these provisions must ensure that a reasonable number of copies of the information is available at the address named in the notice published pursuant to head (1) above as the address at which such copies may be obtained¹⁸;
 - 1986 (7) a reasonable charge reflecting printing and distribution costs may be made to a member of the public for a copy of the further information made available in accordance with head (6) above¹⁹.

The relevant planning authority or the Secretary of State or Assembly, or an inspector, may in writing require an applicant or appellant to produce such evidence as it or he may reasonably call for to verify any information in the applicant's or appellant's environmental statement²⁰.

Where particulars of a planning application are placed on Part I of the register¹, the relevant planning authority² must take steps to secure that there is also placed on that Part a copy of any relevant:

- 1987 (1) screening opinion³;
- 1988 (2) screening direction⁴;
- 1989 (3) scoping opinion⁵;
- 1990 (4) scoping direction⁶;

- 1993 (7) environmental statement, including any further information¹⁰;
- 1994 (8) statement of reasons accompanying any of the above¹¹.

Where the relevant planning authority adopts a screening opinion or scoping opinion, or receives a request for a screening opinion¹² or a screening direction¹³, a copy of a screening direction, a scoping direction, or such a direction as is referred to in head (6) above before an application is made for planning permission for the development¹⁴ in question, the authority must take steps to secure that a copy of the opinion, request, or direction and any accompanying statement of reasons is made available for public inspection at all reasonable hours at the place where the appropriate register, or relevant section of that register, is kept; and copies of those documents must remain so available for a period of two years¹⁵.

508. Duties to inform the public and the Secretary of State or the Assembly of final decisions.

Where an EIA application¹ is determined by a local planning authority², the authority must:

1995 (1) in writing³, inform the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁵ of the decision;

1996 (2) inform the public of the decision, by publishing a notice in a newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land⁶ is situated, or by such other means as are reasonable in the circumstances; and

1997 (3) make available for public inspection at the place where the appropriate register⁷, or relevant section of that register, is kept a statement containing:

216. (a) the content of the decision and any conditions attached thereto;

217. (b) the main reasons and considerations on which the decision is based; and

218. (c) a description, where necessary, of the main measures to avoid, reduce and, if possible, offset the major adverse effects of the development⁸.

Where an EIA application is determined by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, or by an inspector⁹, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must notify the relevant planning authority¹⁰ of the decision and provide the authority with such a statement as is mentioned in head (3) above¹¹. The relevant planning authority must, as soon as reasonably practicable after receipt of such a notification, comply with heads (2) and (3) above in relation to the decision so notified as if it were a decision of the authority¹².

(g) Special Cases

509. Development by a local planning authority.

Where the relevant planning authority¹ is also, or would be, the applicant, whether alone or jointly with any other person, the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999² apply to a Schedule 1 application³ or Schedule 2 application⁴, or proposed application, subject to prescribed modifications⁵.

An authority which is minded to make a planning application in relation to which it would be the relevant planning authority may adopt a screening opinion⁶ or request the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁸, in writing⁹ to make a screening direction¹⁰.

A relevant planning authority which proposes to carry out development¹¹ which it considers may be:

- 1998 (1) permitted development of a specified description¹²; or
- 1999 (2) development for which permission would be granted but for the restriction of the grant of permission by old simplified planning zone schemes or enterprise zone orders¹³, may adopt a screening opinion or request the Secretary of State or the Assembly to make a screening direction¹⁴.

A request under the above provisions must be accompanied by:

- 2000 (a) a plan sufficient to identify the land¹⁵;
- 2001 (b) a brief description of the nature and purpose of the development and of its possible effects on the environment; and
- 2002 (c) such other information or representations as the authority may wish to provide or make¹⁶.

An authority making such a request must send to the Secretary of State or the Assembly any additional information he or it may request in writing to enable him or it to make a direction¹⁷.

Assessment of Environmental Impact/(g) Special Cases/510. Restriction of grant of permission by old simplified planning zone schemes or enterprise zone orders.

510. Restriction of grant of permission by old simplified planning zone schemes or enterprise zone orders.

Any adoption or approval of a simplified planning zone scheme¹, order designating an enterprise zone² or approval of a modified scheme in relation to an enterprise zone³ which had effect immediately before 24 March 1999 to grant planning permission⁴ ceased, on and after that date, to have effect to grant planning permission for Schedule 1 development⁵, and ceased to have effect to grant planning permission for Schedule 2 development⁶ unless either:

- 2003 (1) the relevant planning authority⁷ has adopted a screening opinion⁸; or
- 2004 (2) the Secretary of State⁹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰ has made a screening direction¹¹, to the effect that the particular proposed development is not EIA development¹². This provision does not, however, affect the completion of any development¹³ begun before that date¹⁴.

Development in England and Wales likely to have significant effects in another EEA state.

(h) Development with Significant Transboundary Effects

514. Development in England and Wales likely to have significant effects in another EEA state.

Where it comes to the attention of the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the attention of the National Assembly for Wales² that development proposed to be carried out in England or Wales is the subject of an EIA application³ and is likely to have significant effects on the environment in another EEA state⁴, or where another EEA state likely to be significantly affected by such development so requests, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must:

- 2020 (1) send to the EEA state as soon as possible and no later than their date of publication in the London Gazette referred to in head (2) below, the specified particulars⁵ and, if he or the Assembly thinks fit, the specified information⁶; and
- 2021 (2) publish the information in head (1) above in a notice placed in the London Gazette indicating the address where additional information is available; and
- 2022 (3) give the EEA state a reasonable time in which to indicate whether it wishes to participate in the procedure for which the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁷ provide⁸.

Where an EEA state indicates, in accordance with head (3) above, that it wishes to participate in the procedure for which the 1999 Regulations provide, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must as soon as possible send to that EEA state the following information:

- 2023 (a) a copy of the application concerned;
- 2024 (b) a copy of the environmental statement⁹ in respect of the development¹⁰ to which that application relates; and
- 2025 (c) relevant information regarding the procedure under the 1999 Regulations, but only to the extent that such information has not been provided to the EEA state earlier in accordance with head (1) above¹¹. The Secretary of State or the Assembly, in so far as he or it is concerned, must also arrange for the particulars and information referred to above to be made available, within a reasonable time, to the specified authorities¹² and the public concerned in the territory of the EEA state likely to be significantly affected¹³ and must ensure that those authorities and the public concerned are given an opportunity, before planning permission¹⁴ for the development is granted, to forward to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, within a reasonable time, their opinion on the information supplied¹⁵.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must¹⁶:

- 2026 (i) enter into consultations with the EEA state concerned regarding, inter alia, the potential significant effects of the development on the environment of that EEA state and the measures envisaged to reduce or eliminate such effects; and
- 2027 (ii) determine in agreement with the other EEA state a reasonable period of time for the duration of the consultation period¹⁷.

Where an EEA state has been consulted in accordance with heads (i) and (ii) above, on the determination of the application concerned the Secretary of State or the Assembly must inform the EEA state of the decision and must forward to it a statement of:

- 2028 (A) the content of the decision and any conditions attached thereto;
- 2029 (B) the main reasons and considerations on which the decision is based; and
- 2030 (C) a description, where necessary, of the main measures to avoid, reduce and, if possible, offset the major adverse effects of the development¹⁸.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/B. DECLINING DETERMINATION OF APPLICATIONS/516. Power of local planning authority to decline to determine subsequent application.

B. DECLINING DETERMINATION OF APPLICATIONS

516. Power of local planning authority to decline to determine subsequent application.

Partly as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales¹, a local planning authority² may decline to determine a relevant application³ if:

- 2035 (1) any of the statutory conditions is satisfied; and
- 2036 (2) the authority thinks there has been no significant change in the relevant considerations⁴ since the relevant event⁵.

The statutory conditions are:

- 2037 (a) that in the period of two years ending with the date on which the application mentioned above is received the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁷ has refused a similar application⁸ referred⁹ to him or to it¹⁰;
- 2038 (b) that in that period the Secretary of State or the Assembly has dismissed an appeal against the refusal of a similar application or an appeal against a failure to take a decision¹¹ in respect of a similar application¹²;
- 2039 (c) that in that period the local planning authority has refused more than one similar application and there has been no appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly against any such refusal¹³.

Until the provisions set out above are brought into force in relation to Wales, however, and in respect of applications which are received by the local planning authority in Wales before before that date¹⁴ and in England before 24 August 2005¹⁵, the following provisions apply. A local planning authority may decline to determine an application for planning permission for the development of any land if:

- 2040 (i) within the period of two years ending with the date on which the application is received, the Secretary of State or the Assembly has refused a similar application¹⁶ referred to him or to it¹⁷ or has dismissed an appeal against the refusal of a similar application¹⁸; and
- 2041 (ii) in the opinion of the authority there has been no significant change since the refusal or, as the case may be, dismissal mentioned in head (i) above in the development plan, so far as material to the application, or in any other material considerations¹⁹.

1 le as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. The provisions set out in the text were brought into force in relation to England on 24 August 2005 (see the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 5 and Savings) Order 2005, SI 2005/2081, art 2; and PARA 4 note 8 ante) but at the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed for their commencement in relation to Wales.

2 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

3 For these purposes, a relevant application is: (1) an application for planning permission for the development of any land; (2) an application for approval in pursuance of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 60(2) (see PARA 254 ante); s 70A(5) (s 70A substituted by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 43(1), partly as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales: see note 1 supra). For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante; for the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante; and for the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

4 For these purposes, the relevant considerations are: (1) the development plan so far as material to the application; (2) any other material considerations: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70A(6) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). For the meaning of 'development plan' see PARA 91 ante; and as to material considerations see PARA 485 ante.

5 Ibid s 70A(1) (as substituted: see note 3 supra). For these purposes, the relevant event is: (1) for the purposes of s 70A(2), (4) (as so substituted) (see heads (a), (c) in the text), the refusal of the similar application; (2) for the purposes of s 70A(3) (as so substituted) (see head (b) in the text), the dismissal of the appeal: s 70A(7) (as so added and substituted).

6 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

7 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70A (as substituted), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

8 An application for planning permission is similar to another application if, and only if, the local planning authority thinks that the development and the land to which the applications relate are the same or substantially the same: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70A(8) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

9 Ie under ibid s 76A (as added) (major infrastructure projects in England: see PARA 481 ante) or s 77 (as amended) (see PARA 483 ante).

10 Ibid s 70A(2) (as substituted (see note 3 supra).

11 Ie under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78(2) (as amended): see PARA 598 post.

12 Ibid s 70A(3) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

13 Ibid s 70A(4) (as substituted: see note 3 supra).

14 See the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 43(5).

15 See note 1 supra.

16 For these purposes, an application for planning permission for the development of any land is only to be taken to be similar to a later application if the development and the land to which the applications relate are in the opinion of the local planning authority the same or substantially the same: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70A(2) (as added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 17(1)).

17 Ie under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended): see PARA 483 ante.

18 The reference in head (i) in the text to an appeal against the refusal of an application includes an appeal under ibid s 78(2) (as amended) in respect of an application: s 70A(3) (as added: see note 16 supra).

19 Ibid s 70A(1) (as added: see note 16 supra).

TEXT AND NOTE 13--Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70A(4) amended: Planning Act 2008 Sch 7 para 2(1), (2) (in force in relation to England).

FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/B. DECLINING DETERMINATION OF APPLICATIONS/517. Power to decline to determine overlapping application.

517. Power to decline to determine overlapping application.

As from a day to be appointed¹, and in relation only to applications received by the authority after that day², a local planning authority³ may decline to determine an application for planning permission⁴ for the development⁵ of any land⁶ which is made at a time when any of the statutory conditions applies in relation to a similar application⁷. The statutory conditions are:

2042 (1) that a similar application is under consideration by the local planning authority and the determination period⁸ for that application has not expired⁹;

2043 (2) that a similar application is under consideration¹⁰ by the Secretary of State¹¹ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales¹² and the Secretary of State or the Assembly has not issued his or its decision¹³;

2044 (3) that a similar application:

219. (a) has been granted by the local planning authority;

220. (b) has been refused by that authority; or

221. (c) has not been determined by that authority within the determination period,

247

2045 and the time within which an appeal could be made¹⁴ to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly has not expired¹⁵.

The determination of applications received by the local planning authority before the appointed day may be refused under the original statutory provisions which are set out in heads (i) and (i) of the previous paragraph¹⁶.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/C. DECISION ON APPLICATION/(A) Outline Planning Permission/519. Outline planning permission to be granted subject to statutory conditions.

C. DECISION ON APPLICATION

(A) OUTLINE PLANNING PERMISSION

519. Outline planning permission to be granted subject to statutory conditions.

'Outline planning permission' means planning permission¹ granted, in accordance with the provisions of a development order², with the reservation for subsequent approval by the local planning authority³ or, as the case may be, by the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁵, of matters not particularised in the application ('reserved matters')⁶.

Where outline planning permission is granted for development⁷ consisting in or including the carrying out of building⁸ or other operations, it must be granted⁹ subject to conditions to the effect:

- 2048 (1) that, in the case of any reserved matter¹⁰, application for approval must be made not later than the expiration of three years¹¹ beginning with the date of the grant of outline planning permission¹²; and
- 2049 (2) in relation to England where the application is received after 24 August 2005, and, as from a day to be appointed¹³, in relation to Wales, that the development to which the permission relates must be begun¹⁴ not later than the expiration of two years¹⁵ from the final approval of the reserved matters¹⁶ or, in the case of approval on different dates, the final approval of the last such matter to be approved¹⁷; or
- 2050 (3) in relation to applications in England received before 24 August 2005, and at the date at which this title states the law in relation to Wales, that the development to which the permission relates must be begun not later than the expiration of five years¹⁸ from the date of the grant of outline planning permission or, if later, that it must be begun as set out in head (2) above¹⁹.

If outline planning permission is granted without the conditions so required, it is deemed to have been granted subject to those conditions²⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 252 ante.

3 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

4 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

5 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 92 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 92(1). When granting outline planning permission the local planning authority is not required to give full particulars as it is unlikely that all particulars would be available on an outline planning permission application: R v Rochdale Metropolitan Borough Council, ex p Tew [1999] 3 PLR 74. See also R v Rochdale Metropolitan Borough Council, ex p Milne (2000) 81 P & CR 27 (full knowledge does not require every available piece of information). An off-site mitigation measure imposed by the Secretary of State is not a 'reserved matter' for these purposes: R (on the application of Murray) v Hampshire County Council [2003] All ER (D) 174 (May), CA.

When consideration is being given to the impact on the environment in the context of a planning decision, it is permissible for the decision-maker to contemplate the likely decisions that others will take in relation to details where those others have the interests of the environment as one of their objectives; the decision-maker is not, however, entitled to leave the assessment of likely impact to a future occasion simply because he contemplates that the future decision-maker will act competently. Constraints must be placed on the planning permission within which future details can be worked out, and the decision-maker must form a view about the likely details and their impact on the environment: Smith v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2003] EWCA Civ 262 at [33], [2003] 2 P & CR 162, [2003] All ER (D) 36 (Mar) per Waller LJ.

7 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'building operations' see PARA 218 ante.

10 See R v Bromley London Borough Council, ex p Sievers (1980) 41 P & CR 294, DC.

11 The authority concerned with the terms of an outline planning permission may, in applying the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 92(2) (as amended), substitute, or direct that there be substituted, for the periods of three years or two years referred to therein such other periods respectively, whether longer or shorter, as the authority considers appropriate: s 92(4) (amended in relation to England only by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 51(2)(c), (6) in respect of applications received by the authority after 24 August 2005; prospectively amended in relation to Wales, as from a day to be appointed under s 121; at the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed). For other purposes (ie in relation to Wales and in relation to applications in England received before that date), the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 92(4) (as originally enacted) also refers to the period of five years.

The authority may also specify, or direct that there be specified, separate periods under ibid s 92(2)(a) (see head (1) in the text) in relation to separate parts of the development to which the planning permission relates; and, if the authority does so, the condition required by s 92(2)(b) (as amended) (see heads (2) in the text) must then be framed correspondingly by reference to those parts, instead of by reference to the development as a whole: s 92(5).

In considering whether to exercise its powers under s 92(4) (as amended), s 92(5), the authority must have regard to the provisions of the development plan and to any other material considerations: s 92(6). For these purposes, 'the authority concerned' means (1) the local planning authority or the Secretary of State or the Assembly, in the case of planning permission granted by them; (2) in the case of planning permission deemed to be granted under s 90(1) (as amended) (see PARA 238 ante), the department on whose direction planning permission is deemed to be granted; and (3) in the case of planning permission deemed to be granted under s 90(2) (see PARA 238 ante), the relevant Secretary of State: see s 93(1). For the meaning of 'development plan' see PARA 91 ante; and as to material considerations see PARAS 477-485 ante.

12 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 92(2)(a).

13 See note 17 infra.

14 As to when development has been begun for these purposes see PARA 221 ante. See also Agecrest Ltd v Gwynedd County Council [1998] JPL 325 (for work to be considered to have been begun as part of a development to which planning permission relates, an intention to develop when the work was carried out must be found); distinguished in Coghurst Wood Leisure Park Ltd v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions and Rother District Council [2002] EWHC 1091 (Admin), [2002] All ER (D) 458 (May), [2003] JPL 206.

15 As to the alteration of this period see note 11 supra.

16 For these purposes, a reserved matter is treated as finally approved (1) where an application for approval is granted; or (2) in a case where the application is made to the local planning authority and on an appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly against the authority's decision on the application the Secretary of State or the Assembly grants the approval, when the appeal is determined: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 93(2). In the case of applications for planning permission for development to which the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 3 applies (see PARA 893 post), the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 93(2) has effect with the omission of s 93(2)(b) and the word 'or' immediately preceding it: Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 5(1)(c), Sch 1.

17 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 92(2)(b) (amended in relation to England only by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 51(2), (a), (b), (6); prospectively amended in relation to Wales, as from a day to be appointed under s 121; at the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed).

18 See note 11 supra.

19 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 92(2)(b) (as originally enacted).

Where a local planning authority grants planning permission, the fact that any of the conditions of the permission are required by the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 91 (as amended) (see PARA 537 post) or s 92 (as amended) to be imposed, or are deemed thereby to be imposed, does not prevent the conditions being the subject of an appeal under s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 post) against the decision of the authority: s 93(3). In the case of planning permission, whether outline or other, which has conditions attached to it by or under s 91 (as amended) or s 92 (as amended): (1) development carried out after the date by which the conditions require it to be carried out is treated as not authorised by the permission; and (2) an application for approval of a reserved matter, if it is made after the date by which the conditions require it to be made, is treated as not made in accordance with the terms of the permission: s 93(4).

In the case of applications for planning permission for development to which the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 3 applies (see PARA 893 post), the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 93(3) is to be omitted: Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 5(1)(c), Sch 1.

Without prejudice to the generality of the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 ss 3-5, Sch 3 paras 1, 2, notwithstanding the repeal by that Act of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 s 292(1), Sch 24 (as amended), the provisions of Sch 24 (as amended) continue to have effect, in so far as they are not specifically reproduced in the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 Sch 3 and remain capable of having effect, with any reference in those provisions to any provision of the repealed enactments which is reproduced in the consolidating Acts being taken, so far as the context otherwise permits, as including a reference to the corresponding provision of those Acts: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 Sch 3 para 3. 520. Reserved matters.

Where an application is made to the local planning authority¹ for outline planning permission², the authority may grant permission subject to a condition specifying reserved matters³ for the authority's subsequent approval⁴.

Where the authority which is to determine an application for outline planning permission is of the opinion that, in the circumstances of the case, the application ought not to be considered separately from all or any of the reserved matters, it must within the period of one month beginning with the receipt of the application notify the applicant that the authority is unable to determine the application unless further details are submitted, specifying the further details the authority requires⁵.

2 For the meaning of 'outline planning permission' see PARAS 467 note 5, 519 ante. Notwithstanding the requirements relating to reserved matters, an outline planning permission is a complete grant of planning permission and may not be varied after the date on which it is granted: Lewis Thirkwell Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1978] JPL 844; Centre Hotels (Cranston) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Hammersmith and Fulham London Borough Council [1982] JPL 108.

4 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 3(1). Where subsequent approval of detailed proposals for access within the boundaries of the site is so required, a local planning authority may not make approval conditional on the acquisition by the developer of rights outside the land currently under his control: Medina Borough Council v Proberun Ltd (1990) 61 P & CR 77, sub nom Proberun Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1990] 3 PLR 79, CA. A planning authority is not required to consider the need for an assessment of environmental impact at the reserved matters application stage: R v Hammersmith and Fulham London Borough Council, ex p Trustees of the Council for the Protection of Rural England (London Branch) (1999) 81 P & CR 73, CA. See also R (on the application of Barker) v Bromley London Borough Council [2001] EWCA Civ 1766, [2002] 2 P & CR 96. Approval of reserved matters, where such approval is only one of the conditions imposed on a grant of outline planning permission, may not amount to a discharge of all the conditions: see Darlington Borough Council v Lingfield Properties Ltd [2004] EWHC 3185 (QB), [2005] All ER (D) 190 (Feb).

UPDATE

520 Reserved matters

TEXT AND NOTES--Where layout is a reserved matter the application for outline planning permission must state the approximate location of buildings, routes and open spaces included in the development proposed: SI 1995/419 art 3(3) (art 3(3)-(5) added, in relation to England, by SI 2006/1062, and, in relation to Wales, by SI 2008/2336). Where scale is a reserved matter the application for outline planning permission must state the upper and lower limit for the height, width and length of each building included in the development proposed: SI 1995/419 art 3(4). Where access is a reserved matter the application for outline planning permission must state the area or areas where access points to the development proposed will be situated: art 3(5).

NOTE 4--Where it becomes apparent at the reserved matters application stage that a project is likely to have significant effects on the environment, EEC Council Directive 85/337 is to be interpreted as requiring an environmental impact assessment to be carried out at that stage: Case C-290/03 R (on the application of Barker) v Bromley LBC [2006] QB 764, ECJ. Barker, cited, reversed: [2006] UKHL 52, [2006] 3 WLR 1209.

Application for approval of reserved matters; in general.

521. Application for approval of reserved matters; in general.

An application¹ for approval of reserved matters²:

- 2051 (1) must be made in writing to the local planning authority³ and must give sufficient information to enable the authority to identify the outline planning permission⁴ in respect of which it is made;
- 2052 (2) must include such particulars, and be accompanied by such plans, as are necessary to deal with the matters reserved in the outline planning permission; and
- 2053 (3) must, except where the authority indicates that a lesser number is required, or where the application is made using electronic communications⁵, be accompanied by three copies of the application and the plans and drawings submitted with it⁶.

Where a planning authority has determined at the outline planning stage that an environmental impact assessment⁷ is unnecessary and has granted outline planning permission subject to the reservation of certain matters for later approval, it need not require such an assessment in relation to the approval of reserved matters⁸.

1 More than one application may be made in respect of different reserved matters, or as alternatives to the same reserved matters, or in respect of different parts of the site: Heron Corpn Ltd v Manchester City Council [1978] 3 All ER 1240, [1978] 1 WLR 937, CA.

The local planning authority is not entitled to refuse an application for approval of reserved matters on grounds other than the reserved matter or matters which go to the principle of the development itself: Hamilton v West Sussex County Council [1958] 2 QB 286, [1958] 2 All ER 174. The authority is, however, entitled to treat an application in respect of reserved matters as a fresh application for planning permission if it shows an alteration in the nature of the development for which the outline permission was granted: Shemara Ltd v Luton Corpn (1967) 18 P & CR 520; Calcaria Construction Co (York) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1974) 27 P & CR 435; cf Hamilton v West Sussex County Council supra. See also Chalgray Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1976) 33 P & CR 10 (application in respect of reserved matters showed new access). The question whether conditions may be imposed on the approval of reserved matters was left open in Chelmsford Corpn v Secretary of State for the Environment (1971) 22 P & CR 880; cf R v Newbury District Council, ex p Stevens and Partridge (1992) 65 P & CR 438 (local planning authority has power to give conditional approval of a reserved matter).

Conditional Grant of Planning Permission/522. Conditional grant of planning permission; in general.

(B) CONDITIONAL GRANT OF PLANNING PERMISSION

522. Conditional grant of planning permission; in general.

Conditions may be imposed¹ on the grant of planning permission²:

- 2054 (1) for regulating the development³ or use⁴ of any land⁵ under the control of the applicant, whether or not it is land in respect of which the application was made, or requiring the carrying out of works on any such land⁶, so far as appears to the local planning authority⁷ to be expedient for the purposes of or in connection with the development authorised by the permission⁸;
- 2055 (2) for requiring the removal of any buildings or works⁹ authorised by the permission, or the discontinuance of any use of land so authorised, at the end of a specified period, and the carrying out of any works required for the reinstatement of land at the end of that period¹⁰.

Where:

- 2056 (a) planning permission is granted for development consisting of or including the carrying out of building¹¹ or other operations subject to a condition that the operations shall be commenced not later than a time specified in the condition¹²; and
- 2057 (b) any building or other operations are commenced after the time so specified¹³, the commencement and carrying out of those operations do not constitute development for which that permission was granted¹⁴. In general, operations carried out in breach of a condition cannot be relied upon as material operations capable of commencing the development¹⁵ for the statutory purposes¹⁶.

4 For the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

6 The land need not be in the ownership of the applicant provided that he has the necessary rights over the land to comply with the proposed condition: George Wimpey & Co Ltd v New Forest District Council [1979] JPL 314. A condition in respect of land that is outside the application site or not under the control of the applicant is valid as long as compliance is possible: Davenport v Hammersmith and Fulham London Borough Council (1999) 78 P & CR 421, [1999] JPL 1122, DC.

7 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 72(1)(a). As to the imposition of conditions generally see PARA 523 post. At the date at which this title states the law, s 72(1)(a) is modified in its application, by virtue of s 299(2) (as amended; prospectively repealed: see PARA 454 ante), to the making and determination of applications in respect of Crown land for planning permission as follows: for the words 'any land under the control of the applicant (whether or not it is land in respect of which the application was made)' there is to be substituted 'the land in respect of which the application is made': see the Town and Country Planning (Crown Land Applications) Regulations 1995, SI 1995/1139, reg 2, Schedule para 1.

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 5 Pt I (paras 1-6) (as amended) (see PARA 711 et seq post) has effect for the purposes of making special provision with respect to the conditions which may be imposed on the grant of planning permission for development consisting of the winning and working of minerals or involving the depositing of refuse or waste materials: s 72(5) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 21, Sch 1 paras 1, 2). For these purposes, except in so far as the context otherwise requires, 'depositing of refuse or waste materials' includes the depositing of mineral waste: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 336(1) (definition added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 1 paras 1, 12(a)). For the meanings of 'the winning and working of minerals' and 'depositing of mineral waste' see PARA 16 notes 2-3 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'buildings or works' see PARA 43 note 9 ante. See also Delta Design Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions (1999) 80 P & CR 76, [2000] 4 PLR 1, CA.

10 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 72(1)(b). A planning permission granted subject to such a condition as is mentioned in s 72(1)(b) is referred to as 'planning permission granted for a limited period': s 72(2). Section 72(2) has effect subject to Sch 5 para 1(6)(a) (see PARA 711 post): s 72(5).

Where permission purported to be granted subject to its expiring on a specified date, it was construed as subject to a condition that the use would then be discontinued: Truvox Ltd v Harrow Corp'n (1959) 173 Estates Gazette 627; Francis v Yiewsley and West Drayton UDC [1958] 1 QB 478 at 493, [1957] 3 All ER 529 at 538, 539, CA, per Parker LJ.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/C. DECISION ON APPLICATION/(B) Conditional Grant of Planning Permission/523. Conditions which may be imposed.

523. Conditions which may be imposed.

The power to impose conditions on the grant of planning permission¹, although wide, is not unlimited². In particular, a condition must have a planning purpose³, must fairly and reasonably relate to the permitted development⁴, and must be such as a reasonable planning authority could properly impose⁵. Furthermore, a condition must be certain in the sense of being capable of being given a sensible or ascertainable meaning⁶. If a condition is declared by the court⁷ to be invalid, the planning permission itself will be a nullity unless the offending condition can be severed from the permission, although a condition which is fundamental or important cannot be severed⁸.

A condition may restrict the use of premises according to the personal circumstances of the occupier, and may in its application continue indefinitely⁹.

The local planning authority must state in writing the reasons for imposing any conditions¹⁰; and in the construction or interpretation of a condition the reasons thus stated should be regarded¹¹.

A condition duplicating an existing statutory prohibition is unnecessary and should not be imposed: Westminster City Council v Secretary of State for the Environment [1991] 2 PLR 44. Where a condition requires the making of an application, the question of whether certain documents amount to such an application is, in the absence of specific rules, one of fact and degree to be answered by the judge: Tesco Stores Ltd v North Norfolk District Council (1999) 78 P & CR 359, CA. See also R v Bristol City Council, ex p Anderson (1999) 79 P & CR 358, [1999] COD 532, CA.

For suggested models of acceptable and unacceptable conditions see Appendices A, B; and as to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

3 'Planning purposes' may include the provisions of the development plan: Newbury District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment [1981] AC 578 at 618, [1980] 1 All ER 731 at 754, HL, per Lord Scarman. A condition may not be imposed for some ulterior purpose, however desirable that purpose may seem in the public interest: Pyx Granite Co Ltd v Ministry of Housing and Local Government [1958] 1 QB 554 at 572, [1958] 1 All ER 625 at 633, CA, per Lord Denning; Newbury District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment supra at 599 and at 739 per Lord Dilhorne and at 619 and 755 per Lord Scarman. See also Nourish v Adamson [1998] JPL 859 (condition intended to protect appearance of local countryside was valid). Where no application is made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 288 (as amended) (see PARA 47 ante) to challenge the making of a condition imposed by the Secretary of State, the court will proceed on the basis that the condition means what, on its face, it manifestly does mean: R v Stratford upon Avon District Council, ex p Lane [1998] PLCR 148. It is only appropriate to impose a condition on a grant of planning permission if permission can be granted subject to that condition: see Tapecrow Ltd v First Secretary of State [2005] All ER (D) 51 (May) at [18] per James Goudie QC (sitting as a deputy judge of the High Court).

If a total change of use is only justified in so far as it enables maintenance of a listed building's appearance, a condition requiring demolition must be said to relate to the development: Delta Design Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions (1999) 80 P & CR 76, [2000] 4 PLR 1, CA. In the case of a planning permission granted subject to the construction of a motorway link that is subsequently cancelled, the revocation of that permission will not amount to an effective embargo on all development on that site: R v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions, ex p Kohlerdome Corp Ltd [1999] EGCS 30.

A condition is unreasonable if (1) it requires the applicant to take on at his own expense a significant part of the duties of the local planning authority or to dedicate land to the public use (Hall & Co Ltd v Shoreham-by-Sea UDC [1964] 1 All ER 1, [1964] 1 WLR 240, CA (condition required the applicant to construct a service road and make it available for use by neighbouring landowners); R v Hillingdon London Borough Council, ex p Royco Homes Ltd [1974] QB 720, [1974] 2 All ER 643, DC (condition required houses to be built by the applicant to be let to tenants nominated by the local authority); Britannia (Cheltenham) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Tewkesbury Council [1978] JPL 554 (dedication of land to public use; appeal dismissed on different grounds sub nom Robert Hitchins Builders Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Tewkesbury District Council [1979] JPL 534, CA); MJ Shanley Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and South Bedfordshire District Council [1982] JPL 380, DC (proposed provision of open space for public use); Bradford City Metropolitan Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1986) 53 P & CR 55, [1986] 1 EGLR 199, CA (condition that developers should widen road at their own expense as part of planning permission manifestly unreasonable)); (2) if it takes away the substance of the permission (Kent County Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1976) 33 P & CR 70 at 79 per Sir Douglas Franks QC sitting as a deputy judge); or (3) if compliance with the condition is not within the applicant's control (Hayns v Secretary of State for the Environment (1977) 36 P & CR 317 (provision of vision splays on land not under control of applicant)). However, the mere fact that a condition has no reasonable prospect of being fulfilled does not, by itself, mean that planning permission must be refused (British Railways Board v Secretary of State for the Environment [1994] JPL 32, HL) but the underlying requirement that a condition must be reasonable remains (Carter Commercial Developments Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [2002] EWHC 1200 (Admin), [2003] JPL 35). See also Kingsway Investments (Kent) Ltd v Kent County Council [1969] 2 QB 332, [1969] 1 All ER 601, CA (reversed sub nom Kent County Council v Kingsway Investments (Kent) Ltd [1971] AC 72, [1970] 1 All ER 70, HL); Pedgrift v Oxfordshire County Council (1991) 63 P & CR 246, CA. As to the relationship between environmental and planning controls see R v Kenet District Council, ex p Somerfield Property Co Ltd [1999] JPL 361. A negative condition (a 'Grampian condition') may, however, be imposed to the effect eg that development of the site is not to be begun until works have been carried out on other land: Grampian Regional Council v City of Aberdeen District Council (1983) 47 P & CR 633, HL (decided under the equivalent Scottish legislation); and see George Wimpey & Co Ltd v New Forest District Council [1979] JPL 314; cf Merritt v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2000] 3 PLR 125 (policy against granting planning permission subject to Grampian condition not to be applied as a mandatory requirement); R (on the application of Orchard (Development) Holdings plc) v First Secretary of State [2005] All ER (D) 09 (Jul) ('Grampian' condition proposed by claimant too imprecise). Quaere whether a planning authority can assert that a condition it has itself imposed is unreasonable: Pedgrift v Oxfordshire County Council supra at 258-259 per Staughton LJ.

Subject to the requirement that conditions must fairly relate to the permitted development, there appears to be no principle requiring a local planning authority to refrain from conditions abrogating existing use rights: Kingston-upon-Thames Royal London Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment [1974] 1 All ER 193 at 196, [1973] 1 WLR 1549 at 1553, DC, per Lord Widgery CJ, distinguishing Minister of Housing and Local Government v Hartnell [1965] AC 1134, [1965] 1 All ER 490, HL. See also Prosser v Minister of Housing and Local Government (1968) 67 LGR 109, DC. As to conditions requiring the suppression of an existing use of another site see Pyx Granite Co Ltd v Ministry of Housing and Local Government [1958] 1 QB 554 at 573, [1958] 1 All ER 625 at 633, CA, per Lord Denning, approving Selected Appeals VII/12 (permission for factory on new site; condition requiring closure of existing works improper). A condition may be imposed restricting the use of premises to a particular use to the exclusion of other uses within the same use class: City of London Corp v Secretary of State for the Environment (1971) 23 P & CR 169.

A condition should not be lightly set aside on grounds of unreasonableness; a benevolent construction is to be given to the discretion exercised by a public representative body in carrying out functions entrusted by Parliament: Chertsey UDC v Mixnam's Properties Ltd [1965] AC 735 at 760, [1964] 2 All ER 627 at 637, HL, per Lord Guest; cf Kruse v Johnson [1898] 2 QB 91, DC (reasonableness of byelaws); and see LOCAL GOVERNMENT VOL 69 (2009) PARA 564.

6 As a planning permission is a public document, it is essential that any obligation contained in it is clearly and expressly imposed; there is no room for imposing a condition by implication: see Sevenoaks District Council v First Secretary of State [2004] EWHC 771 (Admin), [2004] 14 EG 141 (CS), [2004] All ER (D) 421 (Mar). A condition will be void if it is incapable of being given a definite or ascertainable meaning; mere ambiguity does not invalidate a condition: Fawcett Properties Ltd v Buckingham County Council [1961] AC 636, [1960] 3 All ER 503, HL (condition requiring cottages to be occupied by members of the agricultural population upheld). In MJ Shanley Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and South Bedfordshire District Council [1982] JPL 380, DC a proposed condition that the first opportunity to buy houses be given to local people was held to be invalid and unenforceable because it did not give any indication as to the method or terms on which the first opportunity was to be offered. See also *David Lowe & Sons Ltd v Musselburgh Corp*n 1974 SLT 5, Ct of Sess (condition fixing the ratio of private houses to local authority houses void for uncertainty); Alderson v Secretary of State for the Environment (1984) 49 P & CR 307, 270 Estates Gazette 225, CA; Slough Industrial Estates Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1986] 2 EGLR 201, 280 Estates Gazette 1257 (conditions requiring local occupation upheld). The doctrine of contra proferentes does not apply to the interpretation of planning conditions (Crisp from the Fens Ltd v Rutland County Council (1950) 114 JP 105, 48 LGR 210, CA); rather, they should be construed in a benevolent manner (Carter Commercial Developments Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [2002] EWHC 1200 (Admin), [2003] JPL 35). The fact that there may be practical difficulties in enforcing a condition does not render it invalid: Bizony v Secretary of State for the Environment [1976] JPL 306; Kent County Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1976) 33 P & CR 70. It is doubtful whether the equitable remedy of rectification is in principle available in respect of a notification of planning consent: Fisher v Wychavon District Council [2001] JPL 694, [2000] All ER (D) 1755, CA. As to the desirability of interpreting a condition in a common sense way see Northampton Borough Council v First Secretary of State [2005] EWHC 168 (Admin) at [26], [2005] All ER (D) 97 (Feb) per Sullivan J. As to the correction of errors in decisions by the Secretary of State or an inspector see the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 56; and PARA 56 ante.

7 A decision of a local planning authority to impose a condition may be challenged either by way of appeal to the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78(1)(a) (see PARA 598 post) or by way of application to the High Court for judicial review (see PARA 650 post). The Secretary of State or the Assembly may reverse or vary any part of the decision of the local planning authority: see s 79(1)(b); and PARA 601 post. Where the original owner of land has failed to use his statutory right of appeal against the imposition of a condition, it is not appropriate for a successor in title to challenge the imposition of the condition by an application for judicial review: see R v Elmbridge Borough Council, ex p Health Care Corp Ltd and Prime Commercial Properties (1991) 63 P & CR 260.

(C) DEVELOPMENT WITHOUT COMPLIANCE WITH CONDITIONS PREVIOUSLY ATTACHED

524. Determination of application to develop land without compliance with conditions previously attached.

The following provisions apply to applications for planning permission¹ for the development² of land³ without complying with conditions subject to which a previous planning permission was granted⁴.

On such an application the local planning authority⁵ must consider only the question of the conditions subject to which planning permission should be granted, and:

- 2058 (1) if the authority decides that planning permission should be granted subject to conditions differing from those subject to which the previous permission was granted, or that it should be granted unconditionally, the authority must grant planning permission accordingly; and
- 2059 (2) if the authority decides that planning permission should be granted subject to the same conditions as those subject to which the previous permission was granted, the authority must refuse the application⁶.

The above provisions do not, however, apply if the previous planning permission was granted subject to a condition as to the time within which the development to which it related was to be begun and that time has expired without the development having been begun⁷.

Subject to transitional provisions⁸, and partly as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales⁹, however, planning permission must not be granted under the above provisions to the extent that it has effect to change a condition subject to which a previous planning permission was granted by extending the time within which:

- 2060 (a) a development must be started;
- 2061 (b) an application for approval of reserved matters¹⁰ must be made¹¹.

In considering an appeal against a refusal to grant planning permission without compliance with conditions previously attached, an inspector has a discretion to consider whether or not it was originally appropriate to impose the condition, but must consider whether the condition is justified at the time that he determines the appeal¹².

5 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 73(2). When considering an application under s 73(2), a local planning authority must consider the reason for and function of the planning permission conditions, and the degree to which they make a proposed development acceptable, which involves considering the relative impact on material planning considerations of adhering to the existing conditions, rather than allowing new conditions: Allied London Property Investment Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1996) 72 P & CR 327. Where an application has been made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 73 (as amended), it is open to the council to reconsider the principle of the development: R v Leicester City Council, ex p Powergen UK plc (2000) 81 P & CR 47, CA; Kebbell Development (t/a Kebbell Homes) v First Secretary of State [2003] EWCA Civ 1855, [2003] All ER (D) 116 (Dec). The council may reconsider the principle of the development if the effect of granting the permission would be analogous to a renewal of permission: Pye v Secretary of State for the Environment and North Cornwall District Council [1999] PLCR 28. It has been held, in the context of planning permission granting mining rights (as to which see PARA 710 et seq post) that an application under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 73 (as amended) may challenge the lawfulness as well as the planning merits of a condition: see Earthline Ltd v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2002] EWCA Civ 1599, [2003] 1 P & CR 393, [2002] All ER (D) 64 (Nov).

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 73(4). Section 73(4) refers to a previous planning permission and not an application for approval of reserved matters: R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Corby Borough Council (1994) 68 P & CR 544.

8 The Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 51(3) (see note 11 infra) has effect only in relation to applications which are received by the local planning authority after its commencement: s 51(6). Furthermore, in relation to England only and during the period of one year beginning on 24 August 2005, s 51(3) has no effect in relation to an application to change, vary or discharge a condition subject to which a previous planning permission was granted before that date: see the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 5 and Savings) Order 2005, SI 2005/2081, art 4(2).

9 Ie as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121; at the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed in relation to Wales.

10 Ie within the meaning of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 92 (as amended): see PARA 519 ante.

524 Determination of application to develop land without compliance with conditions previously attached

TEXT AND NOTES--As to the duty of a local planning authority in England to consult specified persons before granting planning permission pursuant to the 1990 Act s 73 or replacement planning permission subject to a new time limit, see the Town and Country Planning (General Permitted Development) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 10B (added by SI 2009/2261).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(v) Determination of Applications/C. DECISION ON APPLICATION/ (D) Development Already Carried Out/525. Planning permission for development already carried out.

(D) DEVELOPMENT ALREADY CARRIED OUT

525. Planning permission for development already carried out.

On an application made to a local planning authority¹, the planning permission² which may be granted includes planning permission for development³ carried out:

- 2062 (1) without planning permission;
- 2063 (2) in accordance with planning permission granted for a limited period⁴; or
- 2064 (3) without complying with some condition subject to which planning permission was granted⁵, before the date of the application⁶.

Planning permission for such development may be granted so as to have effect from:

- 2065 (a) the date on which the development was carried out; or
- 2066 (b) if it was carried out in accordance with planning permission granted for a limited period, the end of that period⁷.

In all respects save that the development has been commenced, an application for planning permission under these provisions is a conventional planning application and in dealing with it the local planning authority must have regard to the provisions of the development plan, so far as material, and to any other material considerations⁸. In the absence of any provision preventing the authority from considering the planning merits of the development proposed in the application, it is bound to consider the planning merits of permitting the development to continue⁹.

1 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'planning permission granted for a limited period' see PARA 522 note 10 ante.

5 As to the grant of planning permission subject to conditions see PARAS 522-523 ante. Although the need for a retrospective application under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 73A (as added) may be triggered by the fact that there has been a breach of condition, the local planning authority, in considering the planning merits of the application, is not required to confine its attention to the appropriateness of the condition: Wilkinson v Rosendale Borough Council [2002] EWHC 1204 (Admin) at [51], [2003] JPL 82, [2002] All ER (D) 501 (May) per Sullivan J. (E) DEPARTURE APPLICATIONS

526. In general.

A local planning authority¹ may, in such cases and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by directions given² by the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁴, grant permission for development⁵ which does not accord with the provisions of the development plan⁶ in force in the area in which the land to which the application relates is situated⁷. An application for planning permission for development which does not accord with one or more provisions of the development plan in force in the area in which the application site is situated is known as a 'departure application'⁸.

In 1999, the Secretary of State directed that a local planning authority is not to grant planning permission on a departure application unless it complies with any notification requirement imposed in relation to that application⁹ and the relevant period¹⁰ has expired or the Secretary of State has issued a decision¹¹. It may, however, grant planning permission on a departure application without complying with the notification requirements if the authority imposes such conditions on the permission as will ensure, in its opinion, that if the development is carried out in accordance with those conditions it will be in accordance with the provisions of the development plan¹².

9 See the Town and Country Planning (Development Plans and Consultation) (Departures) Directions 1999 para 2(1). The Secretary of State must be notified of a departure application which a local planning authority does not propose to refuse if it is for (1) development which consists of or includes the provision of more than 150 houses or flats or more than 5,000 square metres of gross retail, leisure, office or mixed commercial floor space; (2) development of land belonging to a planning authority by that authority or any other party, or for the development of any land by such an authority, whether alone or jointly with any other person; or (3) any other development which, by reason of its scale or nature or the location of the land, would significantly prejudice the implementation of the development plan's policies and proposals: see PARA 3.

Where a copy of the application is sent to the Secretary of State pursuant to para 3 (see note 9 supra), that period is 21 days beginning with the date notified to the local planning authority by the Secretary of State as the date of receipt of the items specified in PARA 3; and if, before the expiry of that 21-day period, the Secretary of State has notified the local planning authority that he does not intend to issue a direction calling in the application under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended) (see PARA 483 ante), the local authority may proceed to determine the application: see the Town and Country Planning (Development Plans and Consultation) (Departures) Directions 1999 para 4.

D. NOTIFICATION OF DECISION

(A) TIMETABLE FOR DECISIONS BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE

527. Time in which Secretary of State to take decisions; in general.

Schedule 2 to the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004¹ contains provisions about the time in which the Secretary of State² must take certain decisions³. Those provisions do not, however, apply in relation to any decision taken in the exercise of a function⁴ in relation to Wales if the function is exercisable in relation to Wales by the National Assembly for Wales⁵ by virtue of an order⁶ under the Government of Wales Act 1998⁷.

The Secretary of State may by order specify decisions or descriptions of decisions to which a timetable is not to apply⁸. A timetable is not to apply:

- 2067 (1) to a decision of the First Secretary of State⁹ on an appeal against a planning decision or failure to take such a decision¹⁰ which is to be made by a person appointed by him¹¹;
- 2068 (2) to a decision of the First Secretary of State on an appeal against a planning decision or failure to take such a decision¹² or a called-in application¹³ when connected with a decision:
- 248 222. (a) on an application referred to him under the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 relating to major infrastructure projects¹⁴; or
- 223. (b) which is to be made by a person other than him¹⁵;
- 249 2069 (3) to a decision of the First Secretary of State to which the provisions of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 regarding connected decisions¹⁶ apply unless it is a decision falling within the specified descriptions¹⁷ of decision¹⁸.

1. I.e. the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 55(1), Sch 2 (paras 1-8): see the text to note 8 infra; and PARA 528 et seq post.

3. Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 55(1).

4. For the meaning of 'function' see PARA 2 note 1 ante (definition applied by ibid s 117(1), (5)).

5. As to the exercise of planning functions by the National Assembly for Wales see PARA 20 ante.

6. I.e. an order under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 22: see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS. See the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and PARA 20 ante.

8. Ibid Sch 2 para 3. As to the exercise of this power see the Town and Country Planning (Timetable for Decisions) (England) Order 2005, SI 2005/205; and the text and notes 9-18 infra.

9 For these purposes, any reference to 'the First Secretary of State' is, in relation to applications and appeals to which the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 266 (as amended) applies (applications for planning permission by statutory undertakers: see PARA 1013 post), to be treated as a reference to the First Secretary of State and the appropriate minister: Town and Country Planning (Timetable for Decisions) (England) Order 2005, SI 2005/205, art 1(2), (3).

10 Ie a 'section 78 appeal'. 'Section 78 appeal' means an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 post): Town and Country Planning (Timetable for Decisions) (England) Order 2005, SI 2005/205, art 1(2).

11 Ibid art 2(1). As to the determination of appeals by appointed persons see PARA 621 et seq post.

12 See note 10 supra.

13 'Called-in application' means an application for planning permission or for the approval of any local planning authority required under a development order which has been referred to the First Secretary of State under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended) (see PARA 483 ante): Town and Country Planning (Timetable for Decisions) (England) Order 2005, SI 2005/205, art 1(2), (3).

16 Ie the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 Sch 2 para 2: see PARA 528 post.

17 Ie unless it is a decision to which the Town and Country Planning (Timetable for Decisions) (England) Order 2005, SI 2005/205, art 2(4) applies (see note 18 infra): art 2(3).

18 Ibid art 2(3). Subject to art 2(5), art 2(4) applies to any of the following decisions which are connected with a decision on a section 78 appeal or a called-in application: (1) a decision on an appeal against an enforcement notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as amended) (see PARA 603 post); (2) a decision on an appeal under s 78 (as amended) as applied to applications for express consent for the display of advertisements by the Town and Country Planning (Control of Advertisements) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/666, reg 15 (appeals to the Secretary of State: see PARA 833 post); (3) a decision on an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 208 (as amended) (appeals against notices under s 207 (as amended) requiring the replacement of trees: see PARA 885 post); (4) a decision on a compulsory purchase order made by a local authority under s 226 (as amended) (compulsory acquisition of land for development etc: see PARAS 934-935 post) or by the First Secretary of State under s 228 (as amended) (compulsory acquisition of land by the First Secretary of State: see PARA 939 post); (5) a decision on an application for listed building consent or conservation area consent referred to the First Secretary of State under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 12 (as amended) (see PARA 1115 post) or on an appeal to the First Secretary of State under s 20 (as amended) (see PARA 1186 post): Town and Country Planning (Timetable for Decisions) (England) Order 2005, SI 2005/205, arts 1(2), 2(4). Article 2(4) does not, however, apply to a decision which is connected with a decision on a section 78 appeal or a called-in application to which, by virtue of art 2(1) or (2) (see heads (1)-(2) in the text), a timetable is not to apply: art 2(5).

Timetable for Decisions by the Secretary of State/528. Secretary of State to make timetable for decisions.

528. Secretary of State to make timetable for decisions.

The Secretary of State¹ must make one or more timetables for the purposes of decisions to which the relevant statutory provisions² apply³. Subject to the specified exclusions⁴, those provisions apply:

- 2070 (1) to any decision which must be taken by the Secretary of State on the reference of a planning application to him⁵ or on an appeal to him⁶ against a planning decision or a failure to take such a decision⁷;
- 2071 (2) to a decision not mentioned in head (1) above if each of the following two conditions applies⁸:
- 250 224. (a) that the Secretary of State thinks the decision is connected with a decision mentioned in head (1) above⁹;
- 225. (b) that the Secretary of State is either required by virtue of any enactment¹⁰ to take the decision or, in any other case, directs by virtue of a power under any enactment that the decision must be referred to him¹¹.
- 251

A timetable may make different provision for different decisions or different descriptions of decision¹². It has effect from such time as the Secretary of State determines¹³, must set out the time within which the decision must be taken¹⁴ and may set out the time within which any other step to be taken for the purposes of the decision must be taken¹⁵.

A timetable made under these provisions must be published in such form and manner as the Secretary of State thinks appropriate¹⁶.

529. Notice of timetable.

The Secretary of State¹ must notify the following persons as soon as practicable of the published timetable² which applies to a decision³:

- 2072 (1) the applicant or appellant, as the case may be, in relation to the decision;
- 2073 (2) the local planning authority⁴ for the area to which the decision relates;
- 2074 (3) any other person who requests such notification⁵.

The Secretary of State may, however, direct that the timetable is subject to such variation⁶ as he specifies in the notice so given⁷. If the Secretary of State acts under this power, the notice so given must also specify the reasons for the variation⁸.

The timetable notified under these provisions is the applicable timetable⁹.

(B) DECISIONS BY LOCAL PLANNING AUTHORITIES

532. Time periods for decision on application for planning permission or approval of reserved matters.

Where a valid application for planning permission or for the approval of reserved matters¹ has been received² by a local planning authority³, the authority must within the specified period⁴ give the applicant notice of its decision⁵ or notice that the application has been referred to the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁷.

The period so specified is:

- 2075 (1) a period of eight weeks beginning with the date when the application was received by a local planning authority or, if it falls to an authority to determine an EIA application⁸, 16 weeks;
- 2076 (2) except where the applicant has already given notice of appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, such extended period as may be agreed in writing between the applicant and the local planning authority by which the application falls to be determined; or
- 2077 (3) where a fee due in respect of an application has been paid by a cheque which is subsequently dishonoured, the appropriate period specified in head (1) or head (2) above calculated without regard to any time between the date when the authority sent the applicant written notice of the dishonouring of the cheque and the date when the authority is satisfied that it has received the full amount of the fee⁹.

A local planning authority may not determine an application for planning permission¹⁰, where any notice of the application has been:

- 2078 (a) given by site display¹¹, before the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the date when the notice was first displayed by site display;
- 2079 (b) served on an owner of the land or a tenant of an agricultural holding¹² or an adjoining owner or occupier¹³, before the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the date when the notice was served on that person;
- 2080 (c) given by local advertisement¹⁴, before the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the date on which the notice was published¹⁵; and, where more than one of the prescribed periods applies under heads (a) to (c) above, the local planning authority may not determine the application before the end of the later or latest of such periods¹⁶.

A local planning authority must provide such information about applications¹⁷, including information as to the manner in which any such application has been dealt with, as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may by direction require; and any such direction may include provision as to the persons to be informed and the manner in which the information is to be provided¹⁸.

1 le an application under the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 4 (as amended) (approval of reserved matters: see PARA 521 ante) or under the Town and Country Planning (Applications) Regulations 1988, SI 1988/1812, reg 3 (as amended) (planning permission: see PARA 448 note 8 ante).

2 For these purposes, the date when the application was received is taken to be the date when each of the following events has occurred: (1) the application form or application in writing has been lodged with the authority mentioned in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 5(1) (as amended) (see PARA 450 ante); (2) any certificate or documents required by the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 or the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419 (as amended), has or have been lodged with that authority; (3) where it falls to an authority to determine an EIA application, the environmental statement required to be submitted in respect of the application has been submitted, together with the documents required to accompany that statement; and (4) any fee to be paid in respect of the application has been paid to that authority and, for this purpose, lodging a cheque for the amount of a fee is to be taken as payment: art 20(3) (modified in relation to EIA applications by the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 32(2)(b)). As to fees for planning applications see PARA 459 et seq ante.

3 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

4 le the period specified in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 20(2): see heads (1)-(3) in the text. A decision given out of time may be voidable: James v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1965] 3 All ER 602 at 606, sub nom James v Secretary of State for Wales [1966] 1 WLR 135 at 142, CA, per Lord Denning MR (revsd in part sub nom James v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1968] AC 409, [1966] 3 All ER 964, HL). Decisions by Local Planning Authorities/534. Written notice of decision or determination relating to planning application.

534. Written notice of decision or determination relating to planning application.

In relation to England, when the local planning authority¹ gives notice of a decision or determination on an application for planning permission² or for approval of reserved matters³ and:

- 2081 (1) planning permission is granted, the notice must include a summary of the authority's reasons for the grant and a summary of the policies and proposals in the development plan⁴ which are relevant to the decision;
- 2082 (2) planning permission is granted subject to conditions⁵, the notice must include a summary of the authority's reasons for the grant together with a summary of the policies and proposals in the development plan which are relevant to the decision to grant permission and must also state clearly and precisely the authority's full reasons for each condition imposed, specifying all policies and proposals in the development plan which are relevant to the decision;
- 2083 (3) planning permission is refused, the notice must state clearly and precisely the authority's full reasons⁶ for the refusal, specifying all policies and proposals in the development plan which are relevant to the decision; and
- 2084 (4) where the Secretary of State⁷ has given a direction restricting the grant of planning permission for the development⁸ for which application is made or where he or a government department⁹ has expressed the view that the permission should not be granted, either wholly or in part, or should be granted subject to conditions, the notice must give details of the direction or of the view expressed¹⁰.

In the case of notification required by head (2), head (3) or head (4) above, the notice must be accompanied by a notification in the prescribed terms¹¹ or substantially in those terms¹².

In relation to Wales, however, when the local planning authority gives notice of a decision or determination on an application for planning permission or for approval of reserved matters, and a permission or approval is granted subject to conditions or the application is refused, the notice must:

- 2085 (a) state clearly and precisely the authority's full reasons for the refusal or for any condition imposed, specifying all policies and proposals in the development plan which are relevant to the decision; and
- 2086 (b) where the National Assembly for Wales¹³ has given a direction restricting the grant of permission for the development for which application is made or where it or a government department has expressed the view that the permission should not be granted, either wholly or in part, or should be granted subject to conditions, give details of the direction or of the view expressed, and must be accompanied by a notification in, or substantially in, the prescribed terms¹⁴.

Where the applicant for planning permission has submitted an environmental statement¹⁵ and the local planning authority has decided, having taken environmental information¹⁶ into consideration, to grant permission, whether unconditionally or subject to conditions, the notice given to the applicant¹⁷ must include a statement that environmental information has been taken into consideration by the authority¹⁸.

At the date at which this title states the law, when planning permission¹ is granted for any development² which will result in the provision:

2087 (1) of a building³ or premises to which the public is to be admitted whether on payment or otherwise⁴;

2088 (2) of any of the following, being in each case premises in which persons are employed to work:

226. (a) office premises, shop premises and railway premises to which the Offices, Shops and Railway Premises Act 1963⁵ applies;

227. (b) premises which are deemed to be such premises for the purposes of the 1963 Act; or

228. (c) factories⁶;

2089 (3) of a building intended for the purposes of a university, university college or college, or of a school or hall of a university;

2090 (4) of a building intended for the purposes of an institution within the higher education sector⁷;

2091 (5) of a building intended for the purposes of a school⁸ or an institution which provides higher education⁹ or further education¹⁰, or both, and is maintained or assisted by a local education authority¹¹;

2092 (6) of a building intended for the purposes of an institution within the further education sector¹², the local planning authority¹³ granting the planning permission must draw the attention of the person to whom the permission is granted to specified statutory provisions¹⁴ relating to the disabled¹⁵.

The provisions set out above are, however, prospectively repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, as from a day to be appointed¹⁶ under that Act¹⁷.

(vi) Effect of Planning Permission

536. Effect of planning permission.

Any grant of planning permission¹ to develop² land³ enures⁴, except in so far as the permission otherwise provides, for the benefit of the land and of all persons for the time being interested in it⁵.

Where planning permission is granted for the erection⁶ of a building⁷, the grant of permission may specify the purposes for which the building may be used⁸. If no purpose is so specified, the permission is to be construed as including permission to use the building for the purpose for which it is designed⁹.

In construing a planning permission, the general rule is that regard may be had only to the permission itself, including the reasons stated in it¹⁰. Where, however, the planning permission incorporates the application and other documents, they may be looked at to construe the planning permission and to ascertain its scope¹¹. Furthermore, where the validity of a planning permission is challenged, it is permissible to look at the background circumstances to see if the permission has been issued by mistake or without authority¹². A planning permission may be construed as imposing limitations on the permitted use of land and buildings¹³.

Where a condition of planning permission requires the carrying out of work in connection with the permitted development, that condition may be treated as planning permission to carry out works¹⁴.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(vii) Duration of Planning Permission/A. IN GENERAL/537. General condition limiting duration of planning permission.

(vii) Duration of Planning Permission

A. IN GENERAL

537. General condition limiting duration of planning permission.

Every planning permission¹ granted² or deemed to be granted³ must⁴ be granted or, as the case may be, is deemed to be granted, subject to the condition that the development⁵ to which it relates must be begun not later than the expiration of:

- 2093 (1) three years⁶ (subject to transitional provisions⁷ and partly as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales⁸), beginning with the date on which the permission is granted or, as the case may be, deemed to be granted; or
- 2094 (2) such other period⁹, whether longer or shorter, beginning with that date as the authority concerned¹⁰ with the terms of planning permission may direct¹¹.

If planning permission is granted without the condition so required, it is deemed to have been granted subject to the condition that the development to which it relates must be begun not later than the expiration of three years¹² beginning with the date of the grant¹³. If, however, any proceedings are begun to challenge the validity of a grant of planning permission or of a deemed grant of planning permission, then, subject to transitional provisions¹⁴ and partly as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales¹⁵, the period before the end of which the development to which the planning permission relates is required to be begun in pursuance of the above provisions must be taken to be extended by one year¹⁶.

Nothing in the above provisions applies to:

- 2095 (a) any planning permission granted by a development order¹⁷ or local development order¹⁸;
- 2096 (b) any planning permission granted for development carried out before the grant of that permission¹⁹;
- 2097 (c) any planning permission granted for a limited period²⁰;
- 2098 (d) any planning permission for development consisting of the winning and working of minerals²¹ or involving the depositing of mineral waste²² which is granted, or deemed to be granted, subject to a condition that the development to which it relates must be begun before the expiration of a specified period after:
- 254 229. (i) the completion of other development consisting of the winning and working of minerals already being carried out by the applicant for the planning permission; or
230. (ii) the cessation of depositing of mineral waste already being carried out by the applicant for the planning permission;
- 255 2099 (e) any planning permission granted by an enterprise zone scheme²³;
- 2100 (f) any planning permission granted by a simplified planning zone scheme²⁴; or
- 2101 (g) any outline planning permission²⁵.

B. COMPLETION NOTICES

538. Termination of planning permission by reference to time limit; completion notices.

The following provisions apply where:

- 2102 (1) a planning permission¹ is subject to a condition² that the development³ to which the permission relates must be begun before the expiration of a particular period, that development has been begun within that period, but that period has elapsed without the development having been completed; or
- 2103 (2) development has been begun in accordance with planning permission under a simplified planning zone scheme⁴ but has not been completed by the time the area ceases to be a simplified planning zone⁵; or
- 2104 (3) development has been begun in accordance with planning permission under an enterprise zone scheme⁶ but has not been completed by the time the area ceases to be an enterprise zone⁷.

If the local planning authority⁸ is of the opinion that the development will not be completed within a reasonable period, it may serve a notice ('a completion notice') stating that the planning permission will cease to have effect at the expiration of a further period specified in the notice⁹. The period so specified must be not less than 12 months after the notice takes effect¹⁰.

A completion notice must be served:

- 2105 (a) on the owner¹¹ of the land¹²;
- 2106 (b) on the occupier of the land; and
- 2107 (c) on any other person who, in the opinion of the local planning authority, will be affected by the notice¹³.

The local planning authority may withdraw a completion notice at any time before the expiration of the period specified in it as the period at the expiration of which the planning permission is to cease to have effect¹⁴. If the authority does so, it must immediately give notice of the withdrawal to every person who was served with the completion notice¹⁵.

539. Effect of completion notice.

A completion notice¹ does not take effect unless and until it is confirmed by the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales³. In confirming a completion notice the Secretary of State or the Assembly may substitute some longer period for that specified in the notice as the period at the expiration of which the planning permission⁴ is to cease to have effect⁵.

If, within such period as may be specified in a completion notice, which must not be less than 28 days from its service, any person on whom the notice is served so requires, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, before confirming the notice, must give him and the local planning authority⁶ an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly for the purpose⁷.

If a completion notice takes effect, the planning permission referred to in it becomes invalid at the expiration of the period specified in the notice, whether the original period⁸ or a longer period substituted under the above provisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁹.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² to be expedient that a completion notice³ should be served in respect of any land⁴, he or the Assembly may himself or itself serve such a notice⁵. The Secretary of State or the Assembly may not, however, serve such a notice without consulting⁶ the local planning authority⁷.

For these purposes, any reference to the local planning authority in England is to be construed as a reference to the county planning authority or the district planning authority as the Secretary of State thinks appropriate: see s 1(5)(c) (as amended), Sch 1 para 20(2). Schedule 1 para 20(2) does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). (viii) Revocation and Modification of Planning Permission

541. Local planning authority's power to revoke or modify planning permission.

If it appears to the local planning authority¹ that it is expedient to revoke or modify any permission to develop land² granted on an application duly made³, the authority may by order revoke or modify the permission to such extent as it considers expedient⁴. In exercising its functions⁵ the authority must have regard to the development plan⁶ and to any other material considerations⁷.

The power so conferred may be exercised⁸:

2108 (1) where the permission relates to the carrying out of building⁹ or other operations, at any time before those operations have been completed;

2109 (2) where the permission relates to a change of the use¹⁰ of any land, at any time before the change has taken place¹¹.

The revocation or modification of permission for the carrying out of building or other operations does not affect so much of those operations as has previously been carried out¹².

1 For these purposes, references to the local planning authority are to be construed in relation to development consisting of the winning and working of minerals as references to the mineral planning authority: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 97(5) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 21, 84(6), Sch 1 paras 1, 4, Sch 19 Pt I). As to compensation for the revocation of planning permission see PARA 914 et seq post.

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 5 Pt II (paras 7-9) (as amended) (see PARAS 712, 717 post) has effect for the purpose of making special provision with respect to the conditions that may be imposed by an order under s 97 (as amended) which revokes or modifies permission for development (1) consisting of the winning or working of minerals; or (2) involving the depositing of refuse or waste materials: s 97(6) (added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 1 paras 1, 4). For the meaning of 'depositing of refuse or waste materials' see PARA 522 note 8 ante.

A local planning authority may not simply call back a planning permission once granted with a view to amendment or otherwise, but must follow the proper procedure: R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Reinisch (1971) 22 P & CR 1022 at 1025 per Widgery LJ. UPDATE

541 Local planning authority's power to revoke or modify planning permission

TEXT AND NOTES--A local planning authority in England may make a change to any planning permission relating to land in its area if it is satisfied that the change is not material: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 96A(1) (s 96A added by the Planning Act 2008 s 190(1), (2)). See further the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 96A(2)-(8).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/4. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(viii) Revocation and Modification of Planning Permission/542. Opposed cases.

542. Opposed cases.

An order for the revocation or modification of any permission to develop land¹ does not, unless unopposed², take effect unless it is confirmed by the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁴.

Where a local planning authority⁵ submits such an order to the Secretary of State or the Assembly for confirmation, it must serve notice on:

- 2110 (1) the owner⁶ of the land affected;
- 2111 (2) the occupier of the land affected; and
- 2112 (3) any other person who, in the authority's opinion, will be affected by the order⁷.

The notice must specify the period, not being less than 28 days from the service of the notice, within which any person on whom it is served may require the Secretary of State or the Assembly to give him an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose⁸. If, within that period, such a person so requires, before the Secretary of State or the Assembly confirms the order, he or it must give such an opportunity both to that person and to the local planning authority⁹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may confirm an order so submitted either without modification or subject to such modifications as he or it considers expedient¹⁰.

DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(7) DISCRETIONARY PERMISSION FOR DEVELOPMENT/(viii) Revocation and Modification of Planning Permission/543. Unopposed cases.

543. Unopposed cases.

The following provisions apply where:

- 2113 (1) the local planning authority¹ has made an order revoking or modifying any permission to develop land²; and
- 2114 (2) the owner³ and the occupier of the land and all persons who in the authority's opinion will be affected by the order have notified the authority in writing that they do not object to it⁴.

Instead of submitting the order to the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶ for confirmation, the authority must advertise in the prescribed manner⁷ the fact that the order has been made; and the advertisement must specify:

- 2115 (a) the period, not being less than 28 days from the date the advertisement first appears, within which persons affected by the order may give notice to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that they wish for an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly for the purpose; and
- 2116 (b) the period, not being less than 14 days from the expiration of the period referred to in head (a) above, at the expiration of which, if no such notice is given to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the order may take effect without being confirmed by him or by it⁸.

The authority must also serve notice to the same effect on the persons mentioned in head (2) above⁹; and it must send a copy of any advertisement published to the Secretary of State or the Assembly not more than three days after the publication¹⁰.

If no person claiming to be affected by the order has given notice to the Secretary of State or Assembly under head (a) above within the period referred to in that head, and the Secretary of State or Assembly has not directed within that period that the order be submitted to him or to it for confirmation, the order takes effect at the expiry of the period referred to in head (b) above, without being confirmed by the Secretary of State or Assembly as otherwise¹¹ required¹².

The above provisions do not, however, apply:

- 2117 (i) to an order revoking or modifying a planning permission granted or deemed to have been granted¹³ by the Secretary of State or the Assembly; or
- 2118 (ii) to an order modifying any conditions to which a planning permission is¹⁴ subject¹⁵.

544. Revocation or modification of planning permission by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² that it is expedient that an order should be made revoking or modifying any permission to develop land³, he or the Assembly may himself or itself make such an order⁴; but may not make such an order without consulting⁵ the local planning authority⁶.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly proposes to make such an order, he or it must serve notice on the local planning authority⁷. The notice must specify the period, which must not be less than 28 days from the date of its service, within which the authority may require an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose⁸. If, within that period, the authority so requires, before the Secretary of State or the Assembly makes the order, he or it must give the authority such an opportunity⁹.

Such an order which is made has the same effect as if it had been made by the local planning authority and confirmed by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly¹⁰.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 100(3). In England, the local planning authority which the Secretary of State is so required to consult, or to serve with a notice of his proposals under s 100(4) (see the text and note 7 infra), is the county planning authority or the district planning authority, as he thinks appropriate; and references in s 100(2)-(4) to the local planning authority are to be construed accordingly: see s 1(5)(c) (as amended), Sch 1 para 20(1). Schedule 1 para 20(1) does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). As to local planning authorities generally see PARA 28 et seq ante; as to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; and as to county planning authorities and district planning authorities see PARA 28 ante.

In the case of applications for planning permission for development to which the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 3 applies (see PARA 893 post), the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 100 (as amended) has effect with the omission of s 100(3)-(6): Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 5(1)(c), Sch 1.

(i) Certificates of Lawfulness

545. Application for certificate of lawfulness of existing use etc; in general.

If any person wishes to ascertain whether any existing use¹ of buildings² or other land³ is lawful⁴, he may make an application for the purpose to the local planning authority⁵ specifying the land and describing the use, and the local planning authority, if provided with information satisfying it of the lawfulness of the use at the time of the application, must issue a certificate to that effect⁶. These provisions are discussed in more detail in a later part of this title⁷.

Orders requiring discontinuance of use or alteration or removal of buildings or works.

(ii) Discontinuance Orders; in general

546. Orders requiring discontinuance of use or alteration or removal of buildings or works.

If, having regard to the development plan¹ and to any other material considerations, it appears to a local planning authority² that it is expedient in the interests of the proper planning of its area, including the interests of amenity³:

2119 (1) that any use⁴ of land⁵ should be discontinued, or that any conditions should be imposed on the continuance of a use of land; or the authority may by order:

2120 (2) that any buildings or works⁶ should be altered or removed,

- 2121 (a) require the discontinuance of that use; or
- 2122 (b) impose such conditions as may be specified in the order on the continuance of it; or
- 2123 (c) require such steps as may be so specified to be taken for the alteration or removal of the buildings or works, as the case may be⁷.

Where the requirements of such an order will involve the displacement of persons residing in any premises, it is the duty of the local planning authority, in so far as there is no other residential accommodation suitable to the reasonable requirements of those persons available on reasonable terms, to secure the provision of such accommodation in advance of the displacement⁸.

The provisions set out above do not apply to the use of any land for development consisting of the winning and working of minerals⁹ or involving the depositing of refuse or waste materials¹⁰ except as specially¹¹ provided¹².

1 For the meaning of 'development plan' see PARA 91 ante.

2 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante; and as to the local planning authorities exercising functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 102 (as amended) (see the text and notes 3-8 infra; and PARA 547 post) see PARA 214 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'amenity' is not limited to present amenity but includes past or future amenity: Re Lamplugh (1967) 19 P & CR 125. As to the meaning of 'amenity' generally see PARA 158 note 8 ante.

A discontinuance order is registrable as a local land charge: see LAND CHARGES. A local planning authority is not bound to make a discontinuance order where the requisite circumstances exist and may instead encourage a voluntary discontinuance eg by granting planning permission for residential development in an area which will be incompatible with an existing industrial use: see R v Exeter City Council, ex p JL Thomas & Co Ltd [1991] 1 QB 471, [1990] 1 All ER 413. DEVELOPMENT CONTROL; IN GENERAL/(8) CONTROL OF EXISTING USES; IN GENERAL/(ii) Discontinuance Orders; in general/547. Planning permission granted by discontinuance order.

547. Planning permission granted by discontinuance order.

A discontinuance order¹ may grant planning permission² for any development³ of the land⁴ to which the order relates, subject to such conditions as may be specified in the order⁵; and the planning permission which may be so granted includes planning permission, subject to such conditions as may be specified in the order, for development carried out before the date on which the order was submitted⁶ to the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁸ for confirmation⁹.

The provisions set out above do not apply to the use of any land for development consisting of the winning and working of minerals¹⁰ or involving the depositing of refuse or waste materials¹¹ except as specially¹² provided¹³.

548. Procedure for making orders; objections.

Where a local planning authority¹ submits a discontinuance order² to the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁴ for his or its confirmation⁵, the authority must serve notice on:

- 2124 (1) the owner⁶ of the land⁷ affected;
- 2125 (2) the occupier of that land; and
- 2126 (3) any other person who in the opinion of the authority will be affected by the order⁸.

The notice must specify the period, not being less than 28 days from the service of the notice, within which any person on whom it is served may require the Secretary of State or the Assembly to give him an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose⁹; and, if within that period such a person so requires, before the Secretary of State or Assembly confirms the order, he or it must give such an opportunity both to that person and to the local planning authority¹⁰.

549. Confirmation of orders by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

A discontinuance order¹ does not take effect unless it is confirmed by the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales³, either without modification or subject to such modifications as he or it considers expedient⁴. The power of the Secretary of State or the Assembly so to confirm an order subject to modifications includes power:

- 2127 (1) to modify any provision of the order granting planning permission⁵;
- 2128 (2) to include in the order any grant of planning permission which might have been included in the order as submitted to him or to the Assembly⁶.

Where an order has been so confirmed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the local planning authority⁷ must serve a copy of the order on the owner⁸ and occupier of the land⁹ to which the order relates¹⁰.

The Secretary of State does not have to apply an onerous burden of proof in considering whether to approve a discontinuance order; he merely has to be satisfied that the making of the order is expedient in the interests of the proper planning of the area: see Chant v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2002] EWHC 1440 (Admin), [2002] All ER (D) 11 (Jul).

550. Secretary of State's or Assembly's power to make discontinuance orders.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² that it is expedient that a discontinuance order should be made³, he or the Assembly may himself or itself make such an order⁴. He or it may not, however, do so without consulting⁵ the local planning authority⁶ and must, where he or the Assembly proposes to make such an order, serve notice on that authority⁷. The notice must specify the period, not being less than 28 days from the date of service of the notice, within which the authority may require an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose⁸; and, if within that period the authority so requires, before the Secretary of State or the Assembly makes the order, he or it must give the authority such an opportunity⁹.

5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL

(1) INTRODUCTION

551. Meaning of 'breach of planning control' and 'taking enforcement action'.

For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990:

- 2129 (1) carrying out development¹ without the required planning permission²; or
- 2130 (2) failing to comply with any condition or limitation subject to which planning permission has been granted, constitutes a breach of planning control³; and

- 2131 (a) the issue of an enforcement notice⁴; or
- 2132 (b) the service of a breach of condition notice⁵, constitutes taking enforcement action⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'planning permission' includes permission under the Town and Country Planning Act 1947 Pt III (ss 12-36) (repealed), the Town and Country Planning Act 1962 Pt III (ss 12-44) (repealed) or the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 Pt III (ss 22-53) (repealed): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171A(3) (s 171A added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 4(1)). For the meaning of 'planning permission' generally see PARA 43 note 6 ante.

3 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171A(1) (as added: see note 2 supra).

4 Ie as defined in ibid s 172 (as substituted): see PARA 561 post.

5 Ie as defined in ibid s 187A (as added): see PARA 583 post.

6 Ibid s 171A(2) (as added: see note 2 supra). Local planning authorities in England are expected to have regard to the policy guidance contained in PPG18--Enforcing Planning Control in deciding whether enforcement action is expedient to remedy a breach of planning control, where earlier attempts to do so by informal negotiation have proved unsuccessful: see ODPM (ex-DOE) Circular 10/97 Enforcing Planning Control--Legislative Provisions and Procedural Requirements para 10. As to policy guidance generally see PARA 9 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/ (1) INTRODUCTION/552. Time limits.

552. Time limits.

Where there has been a breach of planning control¹ consisting in the carrying out without planning permission² of building³, engineering⁴, mining⁵ or other operations in, on, over or under land⁶, no enforcement action may be taken⁷ after the end of the period of four years beginning with the date on which the operations were substantially completed⁸.

Where there has been a breach of planning control consisting in the change of use of any building⁹ to use as a single dwelling house, no enforcement action may be taken after the end of the period of four years beginning with the date of the breach¹⁰.

In the case of any other breach of planning control, no enforcement action may be taken after the end of the period of ten years beginning with the date of the breach¹¹.

The above provisions do not, however, prevent:

- 2133 (1) the service of a breach of condition notice¹² in respect of any breach of planning control if an enforcement notice¹³ in respect of the breach is in effect; or
- 2134 (2) taking further enforcement action in respect of any breach of planning control if, during the period of four years ending with that action being taken, the local planning authority has taken or purported to take enforcement action in respect of that breach¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'breach of planning control' see PARA 551 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'planning permission' for these purposes see PARA 551 note 2 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'building operations' see PARA 218 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'engineering operations' see PARA 219 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'mining operations' see PARA 220 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'taking enforcement action' see PARA 551 ante.

8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171B(1) (s 171B added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 4(1)). A holistic approach is to be adopted to the construction of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171B(1) (as so added) and regard must be had to the totality of the operations which the person originally contemplated and intended to carry out: see Sage v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2003] UKHL 22, [2003] 2 All ER 689, [2003] 1 WLR 983; applied in Brown v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 2800 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 252 (Nov); R (on the application of Dennis) v Sevenoaks District Council [2004] EWHC 2758 (Admin), [2005] JPL 791, [2004] All ER (D) 223 (Nov). Although a breach of a planning condition becomes immune from enforcement proceedings because of the length of time it has continued, subsequent breaches will not also enjoy immunity: see St Anselm Development Co Ltd v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 1592 (Admin), [2004] 1 P & CR 404, [2003] All ER (D) 200 (Jun).

For transitional provisions which applied until 27 July 1992 see the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 (Commencement No 5 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2905, art 5(1)(a); the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 (Commencement No 11 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1992, SI 1992/1630, art 2.

9 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

10 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171B(2) (as added: see note 8 supra). See Moore v Secretary of State for the Environment (1998) 77 P & CR 114, CA, in which it was held (1) for a building to be a 'dwelling house', it does not have to be occupied as a permanent residence by one or more persons; and (2) a self-contained unit of residential accommodation does not cease to be classed as a dwelling house merely because it is managed, together with other such units, for the overall commercial purpose of providing holiday or other temporary lettings; applied in Bloomfield v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [1999] EGCS 38. See also R (on the application of Lee) v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 2139 (Admin), [2003] 38 LS Gaz R 36, [2003] All ER (D) 21 (Sep) (caravans inside a barn used for residential accommodation; use for more than four years but less than ten; held that it did not follow from the fact that the caravans were not part of the building that their 'use' was not part of the 'use' of the building; that use was as a dwelling house, although that would not necessarily be the case where the caravans were merely stored, or used for some occasional purpose); Van Dyck v Secretary of State for the Environment, Doncaster Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1992) 91 LGR 459, [1993] 1 EGLR 186, CA (if a whole house is divided into two flats, then it is perfectly possible to find within the terms of the statute in respect of each new flat a change of use of part of the building (the original whole house) to use as a single dwelling house). See also Arun District Council v First Secretary of State [2005] All ER (D) 38 (Oct) (planning permission granted for building of extension to form accommodation for a dependent relative, subject to conditions that it would only be occupied by the relative and that upon vacation the extension would at no time be occupied or disposed of as a separate independent unit; the extension was later rented out to students; held that this was not a change of use subject to the four-year time limit for enforcement under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171B(2) (as added) but a breach of condition subject to the ten-year limit under s 171B(3) (as added) (see the text and note 11 infra).

11 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171B(3) (as added: see note 8 supra). The test is (1) whether there has been a continuous breach of the planning control throughout each year for the necessary period of 10 years (North Devon District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment [1998] PLCR 356; Lynch v Secretary of State for the Environment [1999] JPL 354); (2) to compare the present use with the previous use, or use at the earliest time within the time limit, and assess whether there has been any material change since that time (Thurrock Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2001] EWHC Admin 128, [2001] All ER (D) 286 (Feb); affd [2002] EWCA Civ 226, [2002] All ER (D) 373 (Feb)). The defence is not available for the offence under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 224(3) (as amended) of unlawfully displaying advertisements: see Wyatt v Jarrad [1998] 2 PLR 81, DC; and PARA 830 post.

For transitional provisions which applied until 27 July 1992 see the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 (Commencement No 5 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2905, art 5(1)(b); the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 (Commencement No 11 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1992, SI 1992/1630, art 2. As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

12 For the meaning of 'breach of condition notice' see PARA 583 post.

13 If, in the case of any breach of planning control, the time for issuing an enforcement notice had expired, before 2 January 1992, by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 172(4)(b) (as originally enacted), nothing in s 171B (as added) enables any enforcement action to be taken in respect of that breach: Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 4(2); Planning and Compensation Act 1991 (Commencement No 5 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2905, art 3. For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 post.

14 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171B(4) (as added: see note 8 supra); William Boyer (Transport) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1996) 160 LG Rev 387, CA. The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 171B(4)(b) (as so added) may be used by a planning authority where two enforcement notices contain differing descriptions of the same development: Jarmain v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions [2000] 2 PLR 126, CA; distinguished in Fidler v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 2003 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 17 (Oct) affd [2004] EWCA Civ 1295, 148 Sol Jo LB 1214, [2004] All ER (D) 141 (Oct)). See also Sanders v First Secretary of State [2004] EWHC 1194 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 407 (May).

A defendant in criminal proceedings can, however, challenge the validity of a breach of condition notice on the grounds that it was not served within the time limit set out in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171B(3) (as added): see Dilieto v Ealing London Borough Council [2000] QB 381, [1998] 2 All ER 885, DC.

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171B(4)(b) (as so added) (see head (2) in the text) does not permit the taking of further enforcement action in respect of any breach of planning control where, immediately before the commencement of that provision, the local planning authority could not have issued an enforcement notice relating to that breach (Planning and Compensation Act 1991 (Commencement No 5 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2905, art 5(2)); but this does not apply where any proceedings under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 in respect of the breach pursuant to the issue or purported issue of an enforcement notice by the local planning authority had not been finally determined before the commencement of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171B(4)(b) (as so added) (Planning and Compensation Act 1991 (Commencement No 5 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2905, art 5(3)).

ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/ (1) INTRODUCTION/553. Register of enforcement notices, stop notices and breach of condition notices; in general.

553. Register of enforcement notices, stop notices and breach of condition notices; in general.

Every district planning authority¹, every local planning authority² for an area in Wales and the council of every metropolitan district³ or London borough⁴ must keep, in such manner as may be prescribed by a development order⁵, a register containing such information as may be so prescribed with respect to:

- 2135 (1) enforcement notices⁶;
- 2136 (2) stop notices⁷; and
- 2137 (3) breach of condition notices⁸, which relate to land⁹ in its area¹⁰.

A development order may make provision:

- 2138 (a) for the entry relating to any enforcement notice, stop notice or breach of condition notice, and everything relating to any such notice, to be removed from the register in such circumstances as may be specified in the order; and
- 2139 (b) for requiring a county planning authority¹¹ to supply to a district planning authority such information as may be so specified with regard to enforcement notices issued and stop notices and breach of condition notices served by the county planning authority¹².

Every register so kept must be available for inspection by the public at all reasonable hours¹³.

554. Contents of register.

The register of enforcement notices, stop notices and breach of condition notices¹ must contain the following information with respect to every enforcement notice² issued in relation to land³ in the area of the authority maintaining the register:

2140 (1) the address of the land to which the notice relates or a plan by reference to which its situation can be ascertained;

2141 (2) the name of the issuing authority;

2142 (3) the date of issue of the notice;

2143 (4) the date of service of copies of the notice;

2144 (5) a statement or summary of the breach of planning control⁴ alleged and the requirements of the notice, including the period within which any required steps are to be taken;

2145 (6) the date specified in the notice as the date on which it is to take effect;

2146 (7) information on any postponement of the date specified as the date on which the notice will take effect⁵ and the date of the final determination or withdrawal of any appeal;

2147 (8) the date of service and, if applicable, of withdrawal of any stop notice⁶ referring to the enforcement notice, together with a statement or summary of the activity prohibited by any such stop notice;

2148 (9) the date, if any, on which the local planning authority is satisfied that steps required by the notice for remedying any injury to amenity⁷ have been taken⁸.

That register must also contain the following information with respect to every breach of condition notice served in relation to land in the area of the authority maintaining the register:

- 2149 (a) the address of the land to which the notice relates or a plan by reference to which its situation can be ascertained;
- 2150 (b) the name of the serving authority;
- 2151 (c) the date of service of the notice;
- 2152 (d) details of the relevant planning permission sufficient to enable it to be identified;
- 2153 (e) a statement or summary of the condition which has not been complied with and the requirements of the notice, including the period allowed for compliance⁹.

All entries relating to an enforcement notice, stop notice or breach of condition notice must be removed from the register if:

- 2154 (i) in the case of an enforcement notice or stop notice, the relevant enforcement notice is quashed by the Secretary of State¹⁰ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales¹¹;
- 2155 (ii) in the case of a breach of condition notice, the notice is quashed by a court;
- 2156 (iii) in any other case, the relevant notice is withdrawn¹².

The information must be entered in the register as soon as practicable and in any event within 14 days of the occurrence to which it relates¹³. Every register must include an index for enabling a person to trace any entry in the register by reference to the address of the land to which the notice relates¹⁴.

The register must either be kept at the principal office of the local planning register authority¹⁵ or that part of the register which relates to land in part of that authority's area must be kept at a place within or convenient to that part¹⁶.

16 Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 26(7).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/ (1) INTRODUCTION/555. Crown land.

555. Crown land.

At the date at which this title states the law, notwithstanding any interest of the Crown in Crown land¹, any restrictions or powers imposed or conferred by the statutory provisions relating to enforcement² apply and are exercisable³ in relation to Crown land to the extent of any interest⁴ in it for the time being held otherwise than by or on behalf of the Crown⁵.

As from a day to be appointed⁶, however, the above provisions are repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004⁷ and new provision is made regarding enforcement in relation to the Crown. As from such a day, and despite the general application of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 to the Crown⁸, no act or omission done or suffered by or on behalf of the Crown constitutes an offence under that 1990 Act⁹. A local planning authority¹⁰ must not take any step for the purposes of enforcement in relation to Crown land¹¹ unless it has the consent of the appropriate authority¹²; and the appropriate authority may give such consent subject to such conditions as it thinks appropriate¹³. A step taken for the purposes of enforcement is anything done in connection with the enforcement of anything required to be done¹⁴ or prohibited by or under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹⁵; and this includes entering land, bringing proceedings and the making of an application¹⁶ but does not include service of a notice¹⁷ or the making of an order, other than by a court¹⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'Crown land' for these purposes see PARA 11 note 1 ante.

2 I.e the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt VII (ss 171A-196C) (as amended): see PARA 551 et seq ante, PARA 556 et seq post.

3 I.e subject to ibid s 296(2)(a) (as amended and prospectively repealed). In relation to land which for the time being is Crown land, no order or notice may be made, issued or served under any of the provisions of s 171C (as added) (see PARA 559 post), s 172 (as substituted) (see PARA 561 post), s 173A (as substituted) (see PARA 566 post), s 183 (as amended) (see PARAS 577-579 post), s 187A (as added) (see PARA 583 post) or s 187B (as added) (see PARA 585 post) or under any of those provisions as applied by any order or regulations made under Pt VIII (ss 197-225) (as amended) (see PARA 769 et seq post) without the consent of the appropriate authority: s 296(2)(a) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 45(2); prospectively repealed: see the text and notes 6-7 infra). For the meaning of 'the appropriate authority' for these purposes see PARA 11 note 20 ante.

4 A person who is entitled to occupy Crown land by virtue of a licence in writing is treated for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 296(1)(c) (as amended) so far as applicable to Pt VII (ss 171A-196C) (as amended) as having an interest in land: s 293(4) (prospectively repealed: see the text and notes 6-7 infra).

5 See ibid s 296(1)(c) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 45(1); prospectively repealed (see the text and notes 6-7 infra)); and PARA 11 ante at head (c) in the text. Although, until the changes made by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (see PARA 13 et seq ante) are fully in force the Crown does not require planning permission for development (see Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food v Jenkins [1963] 2 QB 317, [1963] 2 All ER 147, CA; Lord Advocate v Dumbarton District Council [1990] 2 AC 580, [1990] 1 All ER 1, HL), government departments in general consult with local planning authorities before carrying out development which otherwise would require planning permission. Land held, used or occupied by National Health Service bodies is subject to normal planning controls, subject to certain transitional provisions: see the National Health Service and Community Care Act 1990 s 60(1); and HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARAS 94, 136.

As to the position where enforcement notices are issued against a private individual who is subsequently declared bankrupt, his trustee in bankruptcy then disclaiming the land in question so that it vests in the Crown, see Goodacre v Wealden District Council [2003] EWHC 3432 (QB), [2003] All ER (D) 320 (Dec), where at [38]-[39] the text to notes 1-5 in the previous reissue of this title is cited with approval by John Leighton Williams QC (sitting as a deputy judge of the High Court). The prohibition of enforcement of planning control against the Crown does not extend to private interests not held on behalf of the Crown and Parliament cannot be taken to have intended Crown privilege to act as a cloak to prevent enforcement of planning control against private interests: Goodacre v Wealden District Council supra.

6 le as from a day to be appointed under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 121. At the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed with respect to the repeals cited in note 7 infra, and 6 August 2004 had been appointed for limited purposes only: see PARA 13 note 8 ante.

7 See the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 ss 84(1), 120, Sch 9. At the date at which this title states the law, that repeal was not in force.

8 See the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 292A (as added, partly as from a day to be appointed); and PARA 14 ante.

9 Ibid s 296A(1) (ss 296A, 296B prospectively added by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 84(2), as from a day to be appointed: see note 6 supra).

10 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

11 For the meaning of 'Crown land' for these purposes see PARA 14 ante.

12 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 296A(2) (as added: see note 9 supra). For the meaning of 'appropriate authority' for these purposes see PARA 14 note 15 ante.

13 Ibid s 296A(3) (as added: see note 9 supra).

14 To the extent that an interest in land is a Crown interest or a Duchy interest, anything which requires or is permitted to be done by or in relation to the owner of the interest in land must be done by or in relation to the appropriate authority: ibid s 296B(1), (2) (as added: see note 9 supra). For the meaning of 'Crown interest' for these purposes see PARA 14 ante; and for the meaning of 'Duchy interest' see PARA 11 note 1 ante. An interest in land includes an interest only as occupier of the land: s 296B(3) (as so added).

15 Ibid s 296A(4) (as added: see note 9 supra).

16 Ibid s 296A(5) (as added: see note 9 supra).

17 As to the service of notices generally see PARA 54 ante.

18 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 296A(6) (as added: see note 9 supra).

UPDATE

555 Crown land

TEXT AND NOTES 6, 7--Day now appointed and repeals in force: SI 2006/1281.

NOTES 8-12--The National Assembly for Wales Commission is to be treated as a Crown body for the purposes of the 1990 Act s 296A: National Assembly for Wales Commission (Crown Status) (No 2) Order 2007, SI 2007/1353, art 4(1), (2)(d).

PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(2) RIGHTS OF ENTRY/556. Right of entry without warrant.

(2) RIGHTS OF ENTRY

556. Right of entry without warrant.

Any person duly authorised in writing by a local planning authority¹ may at any reasonable hour enter any land²:

- 2157 (1) to ascertain whether there is or has been any breach of planning control³ on the land or any other land;
- 2158 (2) to determine whether any of the enforcement powers⁴ conferred on a local planning authority should be exercised in relation to the land or any other land;
- 2159 (3) to determine how any such power should be exercised in relation to the land or any other land;
- 2160 (4) to ascertain whether there has been compliance with any requirement imposed as a result of any such power having been exercised in relation to the land or any other land, if there are reasonable grounds for entering for the purpose in question⁵.

Any person duly authorised⁶ in writing by the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁸ may at any reasonable hour enter any land to determine whether an enforcement notice⁹ should be issued in relation to the land or any other land, if there are reasonable grounds for entering for that purpose¹⁰.

1 For these purposes, and for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 ss 196B, 196C (as added) (see PARAS 557-558 post), references to a local planning authority include, in relation to a building situated in Greater London, a reference to the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England (commonly known as 'English Heritage'): s 196C(8) (added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 11(1)). As to local planning authorities generally see PARA 28 et seq ante; for the meaning of 'building' see PARA 2 note 10 ante; as to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; and as to English Heritage see PARA 1058 post.

2 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante. As to entry onto Crown land, however, see PARA 555 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'breach of planning control' see PARA 551 ante.

4 Ie any of the powers conferred by the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt VII (ss 171A-196C) (as amended): see PARAS 551-553 ante, PARA 557 et seq post.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 196A(1) (s 196A added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 11(1)). Admission to any building used as a dwelling house may not be demanded as of right by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 196A(1) (as so added) or s 196A(2) (as so added) unless 24 hours' notice of the intended entry has been given to the occupier of the building: s 196A(4) (as so added). For guidance on the exercise of such rights of entry see ODPM (ex-DOE) Circular 10/97 Enforcing Planning Control--Legislative Provisions and Procedural Requirements; and as to the status of policy guidance see PARA 9 ante.

6 The Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales may not so authorise any person without consulting the local planning authority: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 196A(3) (as added: see note 5 supra). In England, the local planning authority which the Secretary of State is required so to consult is the county planning authority or the district planning authority as he thinks appropriate: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 1(5) (as amended), Sch 1 para 20(1) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 53(8)). The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1 para 20(1) (as so amended) does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). For the meaning of 'consult' see PARA 2 note 1 ante; and as to county planning authorities and district planning authorities in England see PARA 28 ante. See also notes 7-8 infra.

7 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

557. Right of entry under warrant.

If it is shown to the satisfaction of a justice of the peace on sworn information in writing:

- 2161 (1) that there are reasonable grounds for entering any land¹ for any specified purpose²; and
- 2162 (2) either that admission to the land has been refused³ or a refusal is reasonably apprehended or that the case is one of urgency, the justice may issue a warrant authorising any person duly authorised in writing by a local planning authority⁴ or, as the case may be, by the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁶, to enter the land⁷.

A warrant authorises entry on one occasion only and that entry must be:

- 2163 (a) within one month from the date of the issue of the warrant; and
- 2164 (b) at a reasonable hour, unless the case is one of urgency⁸.

1 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante. As to entry onto Crown land, however, see PARA 555 ante.

2 Ie for any of the purposes mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 196A(1) or (2) (as added): see PARA 556 ante.

3 For these purposes, admission to land is regarded as having been refused if no reply is received to a request for admission within a reasonable period: ibid s 196B(2) (s 196B added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 11(1)).

4 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' for these purposes see PARA 556 note 1 ante.

558. Additional rights and duties.

A person authorised to enter any land¹ in pursuance of a right of entry conferred under or by virtue of the provisions described above²:

- 2165 (1) must, if so required, produce evidence of his authority and state the purpose of his entry before so entering;
- 2166 (2) may take with him such other persons as may be necessary; and
- 2167 (3) on leaving the land must, if the owner³ or occupier is not then present, leave it as effectively secured against trespassers as he found it⁴.

If any damage is caused to land or chattels in the exercise of such a right of entry, compensation⁵ may be recovered by any person suffering the damage from the authority which gave the written authority for the entry or, as the case may be, from the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, from the National Assembly for Wales⁷.

Any person who wilfully obstructs a person acting in the exercise of a right of entry is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale⁸.

If any person who enters any land, in exercise of a right of entry, discloses to any person any information obtained by him while on the land as to any manufacturing process or trade secret, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine, or to both, or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum⁹; but this provision does not apply if the disclosure is made by a person in the course of performing his duty in connection with the purpose for which he was authorised to enter the land¹⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante. As to entry onto Crown land, however, see PARA 555 ante.

ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(3) PLANNING CONTRAVENTION NOTICES/559. Power to require information about operations or activities on land.

(3) PLANNING CONTRAVENTION NOTICES

559. Power to require information about operations or activities on land.

Where it appears to the local planning authority¹ that there may have been a breach of planning control² in respect of any land³, the authority may serve notice to that effect (a 'planning contravention notice') on any person who:

- 2168 (1) is the owner⁴ or occupier of the land or has any other interest in it; or
- 2169 (2) is carrying out operations on the land⁵ or is using it for any purpose⁶.

A planning contravention notice may require the person on whom it is served to give such information as to:

- 2170 (a) any operations being carried out on the land, any use⁷ of the land and any other activities⁸ being carried out on the land; and
- 2171 (b) any matter relating to the conditions or limitations subject to which any planning permission⁹ in respect of the land has been granted, as may be specified in the notice¹⁰.

The notice may¹¹ require the person on whom it is served, so far as he is able;

- 2172 (i) to state whether or not the land is being used for any purpose specified in the notice or any operations or activities specified in the notice are being or have been carried out on the land;
- 2173 (ii) to state when any use, operations or activities began;
- 2174 (iii) to give the name and postal address of any person known to him to use or to have used the land for any purpose or to be carrying out, or have carried out, any operations or activities on the land;
- 2175 (iv) to give any information he holds as to any planning permission for any use or operations or any reason for planning permission not being required for any use or operations;
- 2176 (v) to state the nature of his interest, if any, in the land and the name and postal address of any other person known to him to have an interest in the land¹².

A planning contravention notice may give notice of a time and place at which:

- 2177 (A) any offer which the person on whom the notice is served may wish to make to apply for planning permission, to refrain from carrying out any operations or activities or to undertake remedial works; and
- 2178 (B) any representations which he may wish to make about the notice, will be considered by the authority; and the authority must give him an opportunity to make in person any such offer or representations at that time and place¹³.

A planning contravention notice must inform the person on whom it is served of the likely consequences of his failing to respond to the notice and, in particular that enforcement action may be taken¹⁴ and of the circumstances¹⁵ in which no compensation is payable¹⁶.

Any requirement of a planning contravention notice must be complied with by giving information in writing to the local planning authority¹⁷.

The service of a planning contravention notice does not affect any other power exercisable in respect of any breach of planning control¹⁸.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 171C(1) (as added: see note 5 supra). Electronic communications may not be used for the service of a planning contravention notice: see s 329(3B)(a) (as added); and PARA 54 note 4 ante. As to the service of notices generally see PARA 54 ante. Service of a planning contravention notice is an optional procedure and there is no requirement to serve such a notice before going on to consider other forms of enforcement action: see ODPM (ex-DOE) Circular 10/97 Enforcing Planning Control--Legislative Provisions and Procedural Requirements Annex 1. As to the status of such policy guidance see PARA 9 ante.

560. Non-compliance with planning contravention notice.

If, at any time after the end of the period of 21 days beginning with the day on which a planning contravention notice¹ has been served on any person, he has not complied with any requirement of the notice, he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale². Such an offence may be charged by reference to any day or longer period of time and a person may be convicted of a second or subsequent such offence by reference to any period of time following the preceding conviction for such an offence³. It is, however, a defence for a person charged with such an offence to prove that he had a reasonable excuse for failing to comply with the requirement⁴.

If any person:

- 2179 (1) makes any statement purporting to comply with a requirement of a planning contravention notice which he knows to be false or misleading in a material particular; or
- 2180 (2) recklessly makes such a statement which is false or misleading in a material particular,

he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale⁵.

(4) ENFORCEMENT NOTICES

(i) In general

561. Issue and service of enforcement notice.

The local planning authority¹ may issue a notice (an 'enforcement notice')² where it appears to the authority that:

- 2181 (1) there has been a breach of planning control³; and
- 2182 (2) it is expedient to issue the notice, having regard to the provisions of the development plan⁴ and to any other material considerations⁵.

The service of the notice must take place:

- 2183 (a) not more than 28 days after its date of issue; and
- 2184 (b) not less than 28 days before the date specified in it as the date on which it is to take effect⁶.

A copy of the notice must be served:

- 2185 (i) on the owner⁷ and on the occupier⁸ of the land⁹ to which it relates; and
- 2186 (ii) on any other person having an interest in the land, being an interest which, in the opinion of the authority, is materially affected by the notice¹⁰.

Where it appears to the local planning authority by which or on behalf of which an enforcement notice is to be issued that the matters constituting the breach of planning control comprise or include:

- 2187 (A) Schedule 1 development¹¹ or Schedule 2 development¹², it must, before the enforcement notice is issued, adopt a screening opinion¹³;
- 2188 (B) EIA development¹⁴, it must serve with a copy of the enforcement notice a notice (a 'regulation 25 notice') which must include the screening opinion required by head (1) above and the required written statement¹⁵ of the reasons for its conclusion and require a person who gives notice of an appeal against the enforcement notice¹⁶ to submit to the Secretary of State¹⁷ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁸, with the notice four copies of an environmental statement¹⁹ relating to that EIA development²⁰.

The authority by which a regulation 25 notice has been served must send a copy of it to the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the consultation bodies²¹ and where an authority provides the Secretary of State or Assembly with a copy of a regulation 25 notice it must also provide him or it with a list of the other persons to whom a copy of the notice has been or is to be sent²².

Any person on whom a regulation 25 notice is served may apply to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly for a screening direction²³.

The relevant planning authority²⁴ and any person, other than the Secretary of State or the Assembly, to whom a copy of the regulation 25 notice has been sent ('the consultee') must, if requested by the person on whom the regulation 25 notice was served, enter into consultation with that person to determine whether the consultee has in his possession any information which that person or the consultee considers relevant to the preparation of an environmental statement and, if it has, the consultee must make any such information available to that person²⁵.

The relevant planning authority must make available for public inspection at all reasonable hours at the place where the appropriate register²⁶, or relevant part of that register, is kept a copy of every regulation 25 notice given by the authority²⁷. Copies of those documents must remain so available for a period of two years or until they are entered in Part II of the register²⁸, whichever is the sooner²⁹.

1 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 An enforcement notice is a nullity and thus devoid of legal effect if it is defective upon its face: see Miller-Mead v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1963] 2 QB 196 at 226-227, [1963] 1 All ER 459 at 470, CA, per Upjohn LJ (an enforcement notice would be a nullity if it 'was hopelessly ambiguous and uncertain, so that the owner or occupier could not tell in what respect it was alleged that he had developed land without permission or ... failed to comply with a condition or ... that he could not tell with reasonable certainty what steps he had to take to remedy the alleged breaches'). An enforcement notice may, however, be valid notwithstanding minor discrepancies remediable upon appeal unless the totality of the notice amounts to an injustice: Patel v Betts [1978] JPL 109, DC. See also Coventry Scaffolding Co (London) Ltd v Parker [1987] JPL 127, DC (enforcement notice did not precisely identify land; what had to be decided in such a case was whether, in the light of surrounding circumstances, the recipient of the notice was sufficiently and clearly apprised of the effect of the notice and of what he had to do pursuant to it, so as to decide whether it was just or unjust to hold him to it; omission held not to be a fundamental error so as to render the enforcement notice a nullity); Epping Forest District Council v Matthews [1987] JPL 132, DC (enforcement notice corrected by inspector on appeal held not to be a nullity); Ferris v Secretary of State for the Environment (1988) 57 P & CR 127 (alleged material change of use from single family occupation to multiple paying occupation; local planning authority did not have to specify in the notice the base use from which the material change of use was alleged to have been made); International Society for Krishna Consciousness v Secretary of State for the Environment and Hertsmere Borough Council (1991) 64 P & CR 85 (enforcement notice, read as a whole and bearing in mind that it would be read by an informed recipient, did state sufficiently precisely what was alleged and what steps the recipients were required to take; notice not a nullity). For guidance in drafting an enforcement notice see ODPM (ex-DOE) Circular 10/97 Enforcing Planning Control--Legislative Provisions and Procedural Requirements Annex 2; and as to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

Without prejudice to the generality of the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 ss 3-5, Sch 3 paras 1, 2, notwithstanding the repeal by that Act of the Town and Country Planning Act 1971 s 292 (1), Sch 24 Pt VI (paras 31-40), the provisions of Sch 24 Pt VI (paras 31-40) (enforcement notices served under previous enactments) continue to have effect, in so far as they are not specifically reproduced in the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 Sch 3 and remain capable of having effect, with any reference in those provisions to any provision of the repealed enactments which is reproduced in the consolidating Acts being taken, so far as the context otherwise permits, as including a reference to the corresponding provision of those Acts: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 Sch 3 para 3. For the meaning of 'the repealed enactments' and 'the consolidating Acts' see PARA 2 note 5 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'breach of planning control' see PARA 551 ante. The local planning authority is not obliged to satisfy itself that a breach of planning control has in fact occurred before issuing an enforcement notice and the notice is not invalidated by the authority's failure to do so (ZZZ Incorporated v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 1092 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 201 (Apr)); but the notice may be quashed on appeal (see PARA 603 et seq post) if no breach is found to have occurred (Tidswell v Secretary of State for the Environment (1976) 34 P & CR 152). The authority must, however, be able to show that it did appear to the authority that a breach had occurred: R v Rochester upon Medway City Council, ex p Hobday (1989) 58 P & CR 424, [1989] 2 PLR 38. For guidance as to the circumstances in which an enforcement notice should be issued see PPG18--Enforcing Planning Control.

4 For the meaning of 'development plan' see PARA 91 ante.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 172(1) (s 172 substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 5(1)). See eg Fisher v Secretary of State for Local Government and the Regions [2002] EWHC 2251 (Admin), [2003] 1 P & CR 257, [2002] 44 EG 168 (CS) (deposit of waste material); R v Caradon District Council, ex p Knott (1999) 80 P & CR 154 (enforcement notice quashed because issued without a proper planning purpose); Exmouth Marina Ltd v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 1500 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 10 (Jun) (on appeal against enforcement notice, inspector failed properly to consider proposals to modify structure in question). More than one breach of planning control may be alleged in a single enforcement notice so served: Valentina of London Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1992] JPL 1151, (1992) Times, 21 May. An enforcement notice may be issued in respect of a site consisting of several owners or occupiers, it not being necessary to issue a notice in respect of each planning unit (Rawlins v Secretary of State for the Environment, Gregory v Secretary of State for the Environment [1990] 1 PLR 110, CA); and there is no requirement to limit enforcement procedure to a site or sites which do not overlap one another (Ramsey v Secretary of State for the Environment [1991] 2 PLR 112). An enforcement notice may be served in respect of the whole of an area of land even though a notice has already been served in respect of part of that land: Biddle v Secretary of State for the Environment [1999] JPL 835. A local planning authority is not prevented from issuing a fresh enforcement notice where the Secretary of State (or, now, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales) has previously allowed an appeal and quashed an enforcement notice under the Town and Country

Planning Act 1990 s 176(3) (see PARA 609 post) since s 176(3) provides procedural grounds for allowing an appeal and does not amount to a determination of the merits of the grounds of appeal: R v Wychavon District Council and the Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Saunders (1991) 64 P & CR 120.

As to the validity of enforcement notices see PARA 44 ante; and as to appeals against enforcement notices see PARA 603 et seq post.

The power to issue an enforcement notice is discretionary and the decision by a local planning authority whether or not to issue a notice may not be challenged except on the ground that its issue was arbitrary or capricious: see Perry v Stanborough (Developments) Ltd (1977) 244 Estates Gazette 551 (authority's action in refusing to enforce a condition relating to construction of access roads from a development site to other sites, leaving the matter as one for negotiation between adjoining owners, upheld). 'I see no reason why the authority are not perfectly entitled in the exercise of the very wide discretion conferred upon them (and them alone) by the statute, to say simply that they do not propose to take enforcement action': Perry v Stanborough (Developments) Ltd supra at 555 per Fox J.

Estoppel does not normally operate to restrain enforcement of planning control (see Western Fish Products Ltd v Penwith District Council [1981] 2 All ER 204, CA; Bedfordia Plant Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and North Bedfordshire District Council [1981] JPL 122, DC; R v East Sussex County Council, ex p Reprotech (Pebsham) Ltd [2002] UKHL 8, [2002] 4 All ER 58, [2003] 1 WLR 348); and it is unhelpful to introduce private law concepts of estoppel into planning law (see R v East Sussex County Council, ex p Reprotech (Pebsham) Ltd supra; and ESTOPPEL vol 16(2) (Reissue) PARA 961). As to the related concept of legitimate expectation see JUDICIAL REVIEW vol 61 (2010) PARA 649. As to the limited circumstances in which the authority may be bound by an officer acting without specific delegated powers see Lever Finance Ltd v Westminster (City) London Borough Council [1971] 1 QB 222, [1970] 3 All ER 496, CA; Western Fish Products Ltd v Penwith District Council supra; Bedfordia Plant Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and North Bedfordshire District Council supra. Where enforcement proceedings have already been brought unsuccessfully, the doctrine of issue estoppel may, however, prevent the authority from issuing a fresh notice in respect of the same breach of control: Thrasyvoulou v Secretary of State for the Environment [1988] QB 809, [1988] 2 All ER 781, CA; affd [1990] 2 AC 273, [1990] 1 All ER 65, HL; and see R (on the application of Exmouth Marina Ltd) v First Secretary of State [2004] EWHC 3166 (Admin) at [10], [2004] All ER (D) 167 (Jun) per Judge Rich QC. As to issue estoppel see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 12 (2009) PARA 1179 et seq.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 172(3) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). Electronic communications may not be used for service of a copy of an enforcement notice by a local planning authority: see s 329(3B)(b) (as added); and PARA 54 note 4 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 17 note 1 ante. A freeholder who lets at less than a rack rent is not an owner for these purposes: London Corp'n v Cusack-Smith [1955] AC 337, [1955] 1 All ER 302, HL. See also Courtney-Southan v Crawley UDC [1967] 2 QB 930, [1967] 2 All ER 246, DC.

8 A licensee may be an occupier of the land: Stevens v Bromley London Borough Council [1972] Ch 400, [1972] 1 All ER 712, CA (although certain caravan dwellers were licensees, they were held to be occupiers for these purposes and entitled to be served with copies of the enforcement notice). A licensee was stated to be so entitled if he could satisfy tests of (1) degree of control over the land; and (2) duration of such control: see Stevens v Bromley London Borough Council supra at 413 and at 721 per Edmund Davies LJ.

562. Enforcement by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² to be expedient that an enforcement notice³ should be issued in respect of any land⁴, he or the Assembly may issue such a notice⁵; but may not do so without consulting⁶ the local planning authority⁷.

An enforcement notice issued by the Secretary of State or the Assembly has the same effect as a notice issued by the local planning authority⁸. Electronic communications may not be used for the service of such an enforcement notice⁹.

In relation to an enforcement notice issued by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 178 (as amended) (see PARA 568 post) and s 181 (as amended) (see PARA 571 post) apply as if for any reference therein to the local planning authority there were substituted a reference to the Secretary of State or the Assembly: s 182(4). For these purposes, any reference to the local planning authority in England is to be construed as a reference to the county planning authority or the district planning authority, as the Secretary of State thinks appropriate: see s 1(5)(c) (as amended), Sch 1 para 20(2). Schedule 1 para 20(2) does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). The Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682 (as amended), except regs 7, 8 (see PARA 606 post), apply with respect to enforcement notices issued by the Secretary of State under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 182 as they apply with respect to such notices issued by local planning authorities (1) as if for references to a local planning authority there were substituted references to the Secretary of State (Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682, reg 11(a)); and (2) subject to certain other specified amendments (see PARAS 564 notes 4, 14, 608 post). Similarly, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394, except regs 6, 7, apply to enforcement notices issued by the Assembly under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 182 as they apply to such notices issued by local planning authorities (1) as if for references to a local planning authority there were substituted references to the Assembly (Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394, reg 10(a)); and (2) subject to certain other specified amendments (see PARAS 564 notes 4, 14, 608 post).

563. Contents of enforcement notice; in general.

An enforcement notice¹ must state:

- 2189 (1) the matters which appear to the local planning authority² to constitute the breach of planning control³; and
- 2190 (2) the relevant statutory provision⁴ within which, in the opinion of the authority, the breach falls⁵.

A notice complies with head (1) above if it enables any person on whom a copy of it is served to know what those matters are⁶.

An enforcement notice must specify the steps which the authority requires to be taken⁷, or the activities which the authority requires to cease, in order to achieve, wholly or partly, any of the following purposes:

- 2191 (a) remedying the breach by making any development⁸ comply with the terms, including conditions and limitations, of any planning permission⁹ which has been granted in respect of the land¹⁰, by discontinuing any use¹¹ of the land or by restoring the land to its condition before the breach took place; or
- 2192 (b) remedying any injury to amenity¹² which has been caused by the breach¹³.

An enforcement notice may, for example, require:

- 2193 (i) the alteration or removal of any buildings or works¹⁴;
- 2194 (ii) the carrying out of any building¹⁵ or other operations;
- 2195 (iii) any activity on the land not to be carried on except to the extent specified in the notice; or
- 2196 (iv) the contour of a deposit of refuse or waste materials on land to be modified by altering the gradient or gradients of its sides¹⁶.

An enforcement notice must specify the date on which it is to take effect and takes effect¹⁷ on that date¹⁸.

An enforcement notice must specify the period at the end of which any steps are required to have been taken or any activities are required to have ceased and may specify different steps or activities¹⁹.

An enforcement notice must specify such additional matters as may be prescribed²⁰; and regulations may require every copy of an enforcement notice served²¹ to be accompanied by an explanatory note giving prescribed information as to the right²² of appeal²³.

Failure to provide the relevant period is not a mere technicality and to state that compliance with an enforcement notice must occur immediately after it takes effect does not purport to specify a period of time; such a notice is a nullity: see R (on the application of Lynes) v West Berkshire District Council [2002] EWHC 1828 (Admin), [2002] All ER (D) 339 (Jul). ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(4) ENFORCEMENT NOTICES/(i) In general/564. Additional matters to be specified in enforcement notice; copy notices.

564. Additional matters to be specified in enforcement notice; copy notices.

An enforcement notice¹ must specify:

- 2197 (1) the reasons why the local planning authority² considers it expedient to issue the notice;
- 2198 (2) all policies and proposals in the development plan³ which are relevant to the decision to issue an enforcement notice; and
- 2199 (3) the precise boundaries of the land to which the notice relates, whether by reference to a plan or otherwise⁴.

Every copy of an enforcement notice served⁵ by a local planning authority must be accompanied by an explanatory note which must include the following:

- 2200 (a) a copy of the statutory provisions⁶ relating to enforcement notices or a summary of those provisions including the following information:

- 231. (i) that there is a right of appeal to the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁸ against the enforcement notice;
- 232. (ii) that an appeal must be made by giving written notice of the appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly before the date specified in the enforcement notice as the date on which it is to take effect or by sending such notice to him or to the Assembly in a properly addressed, prepaid letter posted to him at such time that, in the ordinary course of post, it would be delivered to him or to the Assembly before that date or (where electronic communications⁹ are used to send such notice) by sending the notice to him or to the Assembly at such time that, in the ordinary course of transmission, it would be delivered to him or to it before that date;
- 233. (iii) the grounds on which an appeal may be brought¹⁰;
- 234. (iv) the fee payable¹¹ for the deemed application for planning permission¹² for the development¹³ alleged to be in breach of planning control in the enforcement notice;

- 2201 (b) notification that an appellant must submit to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, either when giving notice of appeal or within 14 days from the date on which the Secretary of State or the Assembly sends him a notice so requiring him, a statement in writing specifying the grounds on which he is appealing against the enforcement notice and stating briefly the facts on which he proposes to rely in support of each of those grounds;
- 2202 (c) a list of the names and addresses of the persons on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served¹⁴.

565. Replacement buildings.

Where an enforcement notice¹ is issued in respect of a breach of planning control² consisting of the demolition of a building³, the notice may require the construction of a building (a 'replacement building') which is as similar as possible to the demolished building⁴.

However, a replacement building:

- 2203 (1) must comply with any requirement imposed by any enactment⁵ applicable to the construction of buildings;

2204 (2) may differ from the demolished building in any respect which, if the demolished building had been altered in that respect, would not have constituted a breach of planning control;

2205 (3) must comply with any regulations made⁶ for these purposes⁷.

Where an enforcement notice requires the construction of a replacement building and all the requirements of the notice with respect to that construction have been complied with, planning permission⁸ is treated as having been granted⁹ in respect of development¹⁰ consisting of that construction¹¹.

566. Variation and withdrawal of enforcement notice.

The local planning authority¹ may:

2206 (1) withdraw an enforcement notice² issued by it; or

2207 (2) waive or relax any requirement of such a notice and, in particular, may extend any period specified³ at the end of which any steps are required to be taken or any activities are required to have ceased⁴; and the power so conferred may be exercised whether or not the notice has taken effect⁵.

The local planning authority must, immediately after exercising the powers so conferred, give notice of the exercise to every person who has been served with a copy of the enforcement notice or who would, if the notice were reissued, be served with a copy of it⁶.

The withdrawal of an enforcement notice does not, however, affect the power of the local planning authority to issue a further enforcement notice⁷.

3 In any period specified in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 173(9) (as substituted): see PARA 563 ante. Extension of a compliance period may be particularly appropriate in the case of a small business or a self-employed person: see PPG18--Enforcing Planning Control para 16.

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 173A(1) (s 173A added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 5(1)).

In relation to special enforcement notices, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 173A (as so added) has effect as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice, and with the substitution in s 173A(1)(b) (as so added) for the words 'section 173(9)' of the words 'section 294(6) and (7)': Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, reg 2, Schedule. As to special enforcement notices see PARA 572 post.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 173A(2) (as added: see note 4 supra). Before agreeing to withdrawal of an enforcement notice on a local council's behalf, the solicitor representing that council must have ostensible authority to do so: South Buckinghamshire District Council v Flanagan [2002] EWCA Civ 690, [2002] 1 WLR 2601.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 173A(3) (as added: see note 4 supra). Such notice may not be given using electronic communications: see PARA 54 note 4 ante. As to service of notices generally see PARA 54 ante.

7 Ibid s 173A(4) (as added: see note 4 supra). As to the exercise of powers under s 173A (as so added) in relation to Crown land see PARA 555 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(4) ENFORCEMENT NOTICES/(i) In general/567. Deemed grant of planning permission for development already carried out.

567. Deemed grant of planning permission for development already carried out.

Where an enforcement notice¹ in respect of any breach of planning control² could have required any buildings or works³ to be removed or any activity to cease, but does not do so, and all the requirements of the notice have been complied with, then, so far as the notice did not so require, planning permission⁴ is treated as having been granted⁵ in respect of development⁶ consisting of the construction of the buildings or works or, as the case may be, the carrying out of the activities⁷.

1 For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'breach of planning control' see PARA 551 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'buildings or works' and of references to their removal see PARA 43 note 9 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'planning permission' for these purposes see PARA 551 note 2 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 173(11) (substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 5(1)). As to the prohibition on granting planning permission without consideration of the environmental information where an environmental impact assessment may be required see PARA 491 ante. As to the service of two enforcement notices in respect of one planning unit see Millen v Secretary of State for the Environment and Maidstone Borough Council (1995) 73 P & CR 48. The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 173(11) (as so substituted) does not apply where an enforcement notice has been issued but no remedial steps have been specified: Tandridge District Council v Verrechia [2000] QB 318, [1999] 3 All ER 247, CA. Nor does it oblige a local planning authority to scour a planning unit for potential breaches of planning control, whether or not it has sufficient evidence to prove those breaches, for fear that planning permission for any such breaches may otherwise be deemed to be granted; the focus has to be on the particular breach of planning control identified in the enforcement notice and nothing else: see Maldon District Council v Hammond [2004] EWCA Civ 1073, [2004] All ER (D) 611 (Jul). See also Fidler v First Secretary of State [2004] EWCA Civ 1295, 148 Sol Jo LB 1214, [2004] All ER (D) 141 (Oct); Scott v Secretary of State for the Environment (16 October 2000, unreported), CA.

567 Deemed grant of planning permission for development already carried out

NOTE 7--Fidler, cited, reported at, [2005] JPL 510.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(4) ENFORCEMENT NOTICES/(i) In general/568. Execution and cost of works required by enforcement notice.

568. Execution and cost of works required by enforcement notice.

Where any steps required by an enforcement notice¹ to be taken are not taken within the period for compliance with the notice², the local planning authority³ may:

- 2208 (1) enter the land⁴ and take the steps; and
- 2209 (2) recover from the person who is then the owner⁵ of the land any expenses reasonably incurred⁶ by the authority in doing so⁷.

Any person who wilfully obstructs a person acting in the exercise of the powers so conferred is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale⁸.

Where a copy of an enforcement notice has been served in respect of any breach of planning control⁹:

- 2210 (a) any expenses incurred by the owner or occupier of any land for the purpose of complying with the notice; and
- 2211 (b) any sums paid¹⁰ by the owner of any land in respect of expenses incurred by the local planning authority in taking steps required by such a notice to be taken, are deemed to be incurred or paid for the use and at the request of the person by whom the breach of planning control was committed¹¹.

1 For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante.

2 As to the period for compliance see PARA 563 note 19 ante.

3 For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 178(1) (as substituted: see note 7 infra), any reference to the local planning authority is to be construed as a reference to the authority which issued the notice in question or, in the case of a notice issued by the Secretary of State or by the National Assembly for Wales, the authority named in the notice: see s 1(5)(c) (as amended), 1(6) (as added), Sch 1 para 12, Sch 1A para 4 (s 1(6), Sch 1A added by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 18, Sch 4). In relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1A para 4 (as so added) applies only in relation to any area for which, by virtue of any provision made under s 6, s 7 or s 8 (see PARAS 34-36 ante), there is more than one local planning authority: Sch 1A para 3 (as so added). In relation to England, Sch 1 para 12 does not apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). As to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; and as to local planning authorities generally see PARA 28 et seq ante.

4 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 17 note 1 ante.

6 The expenses so recoverable by a local planning authority are, until recovered, a charge that is binding on successive owners of the land to which the enforcement notice relates and the charge takes effect as from the date of the completion by the local planning authority of the steps required to be taken by the enforcement notice: Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 14(2).

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 178(1) (s 178(1), (6) substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 7(1)). The rights so conferred on a local planning authority are dependent on the existence of a valid enforcement notice: R v Greenwich London Borough Council, ex p Patel (1985) 51 P & CR 282, CA. As to whether enforcement action under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 178 (as amended) to remove gypsy families' caravans and mobile homes engages the claimants' Convention rights under the Human Rights Act 1998 see PARA 7 the text and notes 24-26 ante.

Regulations made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 may provide that (1) the Public Health Act 1936 s 276 (power of local authorities to sell materials removed in executing works under that Act subject to accounting for the proceeds of sale); (2) s 289 (power to require the occupier of any premises to permit works to be executed by the owner of the premises); and (3) s 294 (limit of liability of persons holding premises as agents or trustees in respect of the expenses recoverable under that Act) shall apply, subject to such adaptations and modifications as may be specified in the regulations, in relation to any steps required to be taken by an enforcement notice: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 178(3). Regulations so made applying the Public Health Act 1936 s 289 may include adaptations and modifications for the purpose of giving the owner of land to which an enforcement notice relates the right, as against all other persons interested in the land, to comply with the requirements of the enforcement notice: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 178(4). In exercise of the power so conferred the Secretary of State made the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 14(1). The provisions of the Public Health Act 1936 ss 276, 289 and 294 (see ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY AND PUBLIC HEALTH vol 45 (2010) PARAS 118, 123-124) apply in relation to steps required to be taken by an enforcement notice, to requirements of a notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 207(1) (enforcement of duties as to replacement of trees: see PARA 874 post) and to steps required to be taken by a notice under s 215 (proper maintenance of land: see PARA 887 post) as if: (a) references to a local authority were references to a local planning authority; (b) references (in whatever form) to the execution of works under the 1936 Act were references (i) in the case of an enforcement notice or a notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 215, to the taking of steps required to be taken by the notice; and (ii) in the case of a notice under s 207(1), to the planting of trees of specified sizes and species; (c) references in the Public Health Act 1936 s 289 to the occupier were references to a person having an interest in the premises other than the owner; and (d) the reference in s 294 to 'expenses under this Act' were a reference to expenses incurred in the taking of steps or the planting of trees, as the case may be: Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 14(1). For an example of a case where materials were removed and sold under these powers see Goodacre v Wealden District Council [2003] EWHC 3432 (QB), [2003] All ER (D) 320 (Dec).

Regulations under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 178(3) may also provide for the charging on the land of any expenses recoverable by a local planning authority under s 178(1) (as so substituted): s 178(5). As to the exercise of this power see note 6 supra.

8 Ibid s 178(6) (as substituted: see note 7 supra). For the meaning of 'the standard scale' see PARA 53 note 10 ante; and as to offences by corporations see PARA 55 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'breach of planning control' see PARA 551 ante.

10 Ie under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 178(1) (as substituted: see note 7 supra).

11 Ibid s 178(2) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 32, 84(6), Sch 7 paras 8, 25, Sch 19 Pt 1).

UPDATE568 Execution and cost of works required by enforcement notice

NOTE 7--See R (on the application of McCarthy) v Basildon DC [2009] EWCA Civ 13, [2009] LGR 1013 (decision to rely on enforcement notice not unlawful because at what moment, and in what manner, each claimant would be evicted had not been set out).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(4) ENFORCEMENT NOTICES/(i) In general/569. Offence where enforcement notice not complied with.

569. Offence where enforcement notice not complied with.

Where, at any time after the end of the period for compliance with an enforcement notice¹, any step required by the notice to be taken has not been taken or any activity required by the notice to case is being carried on, the person who is then the owner² of the land³ is in breach of the notice⁴.

Where the owner of the land is in breach of an enforcement notice, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to a fine or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20,000⁵; but in proceedings against any person for such an offence it is a defence for him to show that he did everything he could be expected to do to secure compliance with the notice⁶.

A person who has control of, or an interest in, the land to which an enforcement notice relates, other than the owner, must not carry on any activity which is required by the notice to cease or cause or permit such an activity to be carried on⁷; and a person who, at any time after the end of the period for compliance with the notice, contravenes these provisions is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to a fine or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20,000⁸.

An offence under the above provisions⁹ may be charged by reference to any day or longer period of time and a person may be convicted of a second or subsequent offence by reference to any period of time following the preceding conviction for such an offence¹⁰; and, where:

- 2212 (1) a person charged with such an offence has not been served with a copy of the enforcement notice; and
- 2213 (2) the notice is not contained in the appropriate register¹¹, it is a defence for him to show that he was not aware of the existence of the notice¹².

In determining the amount of any fine to be imposed on a person convicted of an offence under the above provisions¹³, the court must, in particular, have regard to any financial benefit which has accrued or appears likely to accrue to him in consequence of the offence¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante; and as to the period for compliance see PARA 563 note 19 ante. For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179 (as substituted) (see the text and notes 2-14 infra), an 'enforcement notice' means a notice issued by a planning authority which on its face complies with the requirements of the 1990 Act and which has not actually been quashed on appeal or by judicial review: see R v Wicks [1998] AC 92, [1997] 2 All ER 801, HL.

2 For the meaning of 'owner' see PARA 17 note 1 ante. As to proof of ownership see R v Ruttle, ex p Marshall (1988) 57 P & CR 299, DC; Walton v Sedgfield Borough Council [1999] JPL 541.

3 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179(1) (s 179 substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 8). A defendant who is prosecuted for an offence contrary to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179(1) (as substituted) is not entitled as a matter of right to put forward in such proceedings the defence that the enforcement notice relied upon by the prosecution is invalid on the grounds that the decision to issue it was ultra vires: see R v Wicks [1998] AC 92, [1997] 2 All ER 801, HL. An enforcement notice does not prohibit any activity for which there has been a grant of planning permission: Duguid v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions (2000) 82 P & CR 52, CA. As to the power of the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales, and of a local authority to require information as to interests in land see PARA 53 ante.

In relation to special enforcement notices, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179 (as so substituted) has effect as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice, and with the substitution in s 179(1), (2) (as so substituted) for the word 'owner' in each place that it occurs the word 'occupier': Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, reg 2, Schedule. As to special enforcement notices see PARA 572 post.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179(2), (8) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). As to offences by corporations see PARA 55 ante. When a prosecution is brought for an offence under s 179 (as so substituted) for failure to comply with an enforcement notice, it is essential for the information to allege the date by which the enforcement notice had to be complied with: Maltege Ltd v Workingham District Council, Frost v Wokingham District Council (1992) Times, 21 May, DC. It was held in R v Collet, R v Furminger, R v Nazari, R v Pope, R v Bandar [1994] 2 All ER 372, CA, that the offence is an absolute offence which does not require the prosecution to prove that the defendant had actual knowledge of the enforcement notice; however, this case was decided with specific reference to the wording of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179 as originally enacted. It is inappropriate to impose a compensation order for the offence unless it is a simple, straightforward case, in which the amount of compensation can be readily and easily ascertained: R v Briscoe (1994) 15 Cr App Rep (S) 699, CA. Where the defendant challenges the validity of an enforcement notice, the prosecution must prove that the notice has been made in compliance with the statutory requirements and has not been quashed on appeal or by judicial review: Palacegate Properties Ltd v Camden London Borough Council (2000) 82 P & CR 199, DC.

As to the application of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179(2) (as so substituted) to special enforcement notices see note 4 supra.

6 Ibid s 179(3) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). The fact that a defendant has done nothing can amount to a defence under s 179(3) (as so substituted) if there was not anything that he could reasonably have been expected to do: R v Wood [2001] EWCA Crim 1395, [2002] 1 PLR 1. As to whether the criminal conviction of gypsy who had breached an enforcement notice and failed to remove his caravan amounted to a breach of his Convention rights under the Human Rights Act 1998 see R v Clarke [2002] EWCA Crim 753, [2002] All ER (D) 36 (Mar) (the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179(3) (as substituted) should be read not in isolation but in the context of the statutory regime as a whole and the applicant's Convention rights would have been considered at an earlier stage when considering whether to issue the enforcement notice, or on an earlier challenge to its validity); and see further PARA 7 the text and notes 24-26 ante.

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179(4) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). In relation to special enforcement notices s 179(4) (as so substituted) is to be omitted: Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, Schedule.

8 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179(5), (8) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). In relation to special enforcement notices s 179(5) (as so substituted) is to be omitted: Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, Schedule.

9 Ie an offence under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179(2) or (5) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

10 Ibid s 179(6) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). In relation to special enforcement notices the words 'or (5)' in s 179(6) (as so substituted) are to be omitted: Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, Schedule.

11 Ie the appropriate register kept under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 188 (as amended): see PARA 553 ante.

13 See note 9 supra.

14 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 179(9) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). The court's obligation under s 179(9) (as so substituted) runs concurrently with its obligation under the statutory provisions with regard to sentencing generally (ie, now, the Criminal Justice Act 2003 s 164 (as amended)) to have regard to the seriousness of the offence and the financial circumstances of the offender: R v Browning [1996] 1 PLR 61, CA. As to sentencing principles and the defendant's ability to pay see also R v Turner-Thomas [2003] EWCA Crim 1841, [2003] All ER (D) 13 (Jun).

UPDATE

569 Offence where enforcement notice not complied with

NOTE 6--It is not a defence under s 179(3) for non-compliance with an enforcement notice due to no other alternative site where the activity could be continued being found: Wycombe DC v Jesse Wells [2005] EWHC 1012 (Admin), [2005] JPL 1640.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(4) ENFORCEMENT NOTICES/(i) In general/570. Effect of planning permission on enforcement notice.

570. Effect of planning permission on enforcement notice.

Where, after the service of a copy of an enforcement notice¹, planning permission² is granted for any development³ carried out before the grant of that permission, the notice ceases to have effect⁴ so far as inconsistent with that permission⁵.

The fact that an enforcement notice has wholly or partly ceased to have effect by virtue of these provisions does not affect the liability of any person for an offence in respect of a previous failure to comply, or secure compliance, with the notice⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'planning permission' for these purposes see PARA 551 note 2 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

4 'Ceases to have effect' means what it says and does not mean that, if temporary planning permission is granted, the enforcement notice has no effect only for as long as that temporary planning permission is in being: Cresswell v Pearson (1997) 75 P & CR 404, DC.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 180(1) (s 180 substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 26).

In relation to special enforcement notices, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 180(1) (as so substituted) has effect as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice and with the omission of the words 'or (b) a breach of condition notice': Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, reg 2, Schedule. As to special enforcement notices see PARA 572 post.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 180(3) (as substituted: see note 4 supra).

In relation to special enforcement notices s 180(3) (as so substituted) has effect as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice and with the omission of the words 'or breach of condition notice': Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, Schedule.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(4) ENFORCEMENT NOTICES/(i) In general/571. Enforcement notice to have effect against subsequent development.

571. Enforcement notice to have effect against subsequent development.

Compliance with an enforcement notice¹, whether in respect of:

- 2214 (1) the completion, removal or alteration of any buildings or works²;
- 2215 (2) the discontinuance of any use³ of land⁴; or
- 2216 (3) any other requirements contained in the notice, does not discharge the notice⁵.

Where, at any time after an enforcement notice takes effect:

- 2217 (a) any development is carried out on land by way of reinstating or restoring buildings or works which have been removed or altered in compliance with the notice; and
- 2218 (b) the local planning authority⁶ proposes⁷ to take any steps required by the enforcement notice for the removal or alteration of the buildings or works in consequence of the reinstatement or restoration, the local planning authority must, not less than 28 days before taking any such steps, serve on the owner⁸ and occupier of the land a notice of the authority's intention to do so⁹.

Where without planning permission¹⁰ a person carries out any development on land by way of reinstating or restoring buildings or works which have been removed or altered in compliance with an enforcement notice:

- 2219 (i) he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale; and
- 2220 (ii) no person is liable¹¹ for failure to take any steps required to be taken by an enforcement notice by way of removal or alteration of what has been so reinstated or restored¹².

1 For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'buildings or works' and of references to their removal see PARA 43 note 9 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 181(1) (s 181(1), (3)-(5) amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 27). Without prejudice to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 181(1) (as so amended): (1) any provision of an enforcement notice requiring a use of land to be discontinued operates as a requirement that it shall be discontinued permanently, to the extent that it is in contravention of Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended) (see PARA 217 et seq ante); and accordingly the resumption of that use at any time after it has been discontinued in compliance with the enforcement notice is to that extent in contravention of the enforcement notice (s 181(2)); (2) if any development is carried out on land by way of reinstating or restoring buildings or works which have been removed or altered in compliance with an enforcement notice, the notice is deemed, notwithstanding that its terms are not apt for the purpose, to apply in relation to the buildings or works as reinstated or restored as it applied in relation to the buildings or works before they were removed or altered; and, subject to s 181(4) (as so amended), the provisions of s 178(1), (2) (as amended) (see PARA 568 ante) apply accordingly (s 181(3) (as so amended)). For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

In relation to special enforcement notices the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 181 (as amended) has effect as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice, and subject to the following modifications: (a) in s 181(2) the words 'to the extent that it is contravention of Part III' are to be omitted; and (b) in s 181(3) (as so amended) all the words after 'were removed or altered' are to be omitted: Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, reg 2, Schedule. As to special enforcement notices see PARA 572 post.

6 For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 181(4)(b) (as amended: see note 5 supra), any reference to the local planning authority is to be construed as a reference to the authority which issued the notice in question or, in the case of a notice issued by the Secretary of State in England or by the National Assembly for Wales, the authority named in the notice: see s 1(5)(c) (as amended), 1(6) (as added), Sch 1 para 12, Sch 1A para 4 (s 1(6), Sch 1A added by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 18, Sch 4). In relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1A para 4 (as so added) applies only in relation to any area for which, by virtue of any provision made under s 6, s 7 or s 8 (see PARAS 34-36 ante), there is more than one local planning authority: Sch 1A para 3 (as so added). In relation to England, Sch 1 para 12 does not apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). As to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; and as to local planning authorities generally see PARA 28 et seq ante.

(ii) Crown Land

572. Special enforcement notices; in general.

At the date at which this title states the law, except with the consent of the appropriate authority¹, no enforcement notice² may be issued or served³ in relation to land⁴ which for the time being is Crown land⁵.

No enforcement notice may be issued⁶ in respect of development⁷ carried out by or on behalf of the Crown after 1 July 1948 on land which was Crown land at the time when the development was carried out⁸.

The following provisions apply to development of Crown land carried out otherwise than by or behalf of the Crown at a time when no person is entitled to occupy it by virtue of a private interest⁹. Where:

2221 (1) it appears to a local planning authority¹⁰ that such development has taken place in its area; and

2222 (2) the authority considers it expedient to do so having regard to the provisions of the development plan¹¹ and to any other material considerations, the authority may issue a notice (a 'special enforcement notice')¹². No special enforcement notice may, however, be issued except with the consent of the appropriate authority¹³.

A special enforcement notice must specify:

- 2223 (a) the matters alleged to constitute such development; and
- 2224 (b) the steps which the authority issuing the notice requires to be taken for restoring the land to its condition before the development took place or for discontinuing any use¹⁴ of the land which has been instituted by the development¹⁵.

A special enforcement notice must also specify:

- 2225 (i) the date on which it is to take effect ('the specified date'); and
- 2226 (ii) the period within which any such steps as are mentioned in head (b) above are to taken¹⁶.

A special enforcement notice may specify different periods for the taking of different steps¹⁷.

Not later than 28 days after the date of the issue of a special enforcement notice and not later than 28 days before the specified date, the local planning authority which issued the notice must serve a copy of it:

- 2227 (A) on the person who carried out the development alleged in the notice;
- 2228 (B) on any person who is occupying the land when the notice is issued; and
- 2229 (C) on the appropriate authority¹⁸;

but the local planning authority need not serve a copy of the notice on the person mentioned in head (A) above if the authority is unable, after reasonable inquiry, to identify or trace him¹⁹.

The above provisions are, however, prospectively repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004²⁰, subject to transitional arrangements²¹. The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 will, in general, bind the Crown²² but this is subject to any express provision²³ made²⁴ including the enforcement provisions previously discussed²⁵.

The Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales may by regulations apply to special enforcement notices and to appeals under s 295(3) such other provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, with such modifications as he or it thinks fit, as he or it thinks necessary or expedient: s 295(6). As to the transfer of functions under s 295, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante. The provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 specified in the Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, reg 2, Schedule apply to special enforcement notices and to appeals against such notices under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 295(3) (see PARA 612 post) as if the references in those provisions to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice and subject to the further modifications specified in the Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, Schedule: reg 2. 572 Special enforcement notices; in general

TEXT AND NOTE 20--Repeals now in force: SI 2006/1281.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(5) TEMPORARY STOP NOTICES/573. Power to issue temporary stop notice.

(5) TEMPORARY STOP NOTICES

573. Power to issue temporary stop notice.

Partly as from a day to be appointed in relation to Wales¹, if the local planning authority² thinks:

- 2230 (1) that there has been a breach of planning control³ in relation to any land⁴;
and
- 2231 (2) that it is expedient that the activity, or any part of the activity, which amounts to the breach is stopped immediately, the authority may issue a temporary stop notice⁵. The notice must be in writing⁶ and must:

- 2232 (a) specify the activity which the authority thinks amounts to the breach;
- 2233 (b) prohibit the carrying on of the activity, or of so much of the activity as is specified in the notice;
- 2234 (c) set out the authority's reasons for issuing the notice⁷.

A temporary stop notice may be served⁸ on any of the following:

- 2235 (i) the person who the authority thinks is carrying on the activity;
- 2236 (ii) a person who the authority thinks is an occupier of the land;
- 2237 (iii) a person who the authority thinks has an interest in the land⁹.

The authority must display on the land a copy of the notice¹⁰ and a statement of the effect of the notice and of the provisions¹¹ setting out the circumstances in which its contravention is an offence¹². A temporary stop notice has effect from the time a copy of it is first displayed in pursuance of this requirement¹³ and ceases to have effect:

- 2238 (A) at the end of the period of 28 days starting on the day the copy notice is so displayed;
- 2239 (B) at the end of such shorter period starting on that day as is specified in the notice; or 2240 (c) if it is withdrawn by the local planning authority¹⁴.

574. Restrictions affecting temporary stop notices.

A temporary stop notice¹ does not prohibit:

2241 (1) the use of a building² as a dwelling house³;

2242 (2) the carrying out of an activity of such description or in such circumstances as is prescribed⁴; and in England the stationing of a caravan on any land⁵ in the specified circumstances⁶ is prescribed for the purposes of head (2) above, unless the local planning authority⁷ considers that the risk of harm to a compelling public interest arising from the stationing of the caravan is so serious so as to outweigh any benefit, to the occupier of the caravan, in the stationing of the caravan for the period for which the temporary stop notice has effect⁸.

A temporary stop notice does not prohibit the carrying out of any activity which has been carried out, whether or not continuously, for a period of four years⁹ ending with the day on which the copy of the notice is first displayed¹⁰ in accordance with the statutory requirements¹¹; but this does not prevent a temporary stop notice prohibiting:

- 2243 (a) activity consisting of or incidental to building, engineering, mining or other operations; or
- 2244 (b) the deposit of refuse or waste materials¹².

A second or subsequent temporary stop notice must not be issued in respect of the same activity unless the local planning authority has first taken some other enforcement action¹³ in relation to the breach of planning control which is constituted by the activity¹⁴.

- 5 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.
- 6 The specified circumstances are that (1) the caravan is stationed on the land immediately before the issue of the temporary stop notice; and (2) the caravan is at that time occupied by a person as his main residence: Town and Country Planning (Temporary Stop Notice) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/206, art 2(2)(a), (b).

575. Offences relating to temporary stop notices.

A person commits an offence if he contravenes a temporary stop notice¹ which has been served² on him or a copy of which has been displayed³ in accordance with the statutory requirements⁴ and is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20,000⁵ or on conviction on indictment to a fine⁶. In determining the amount of the fine the court must have regard in particular to any financial benefit which has accrued or has appeared to accrue to the person convicted in consequence of the offence⁷.

Contravention of a temporary stop notice includes causing or permitting the contravention of the notice⁸; and an offence may be charged by reference to a day or a longer period of time⁹. A person may be convicted of more than one such offence in relation to the same temporary stop notice by reference to different days or periods of time¹⁰.

A person does not, however, commit an offence under the above provisions if he proves:

- 2245 (1) that the temporary stop notice was not served on him; and
- 2246 (2) that he did not know, and could not reasonably have been expected to know, of its existence¹¹.

ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(5) TEMPORARY STOP NOTICES/576. Compensation for loss or damage directly attributable to prohibition effected by temporary stop notice.

576. Compensation for loss or damage directly attributable to prohibition effected by temporary stop notice.

If and only if a temporary stop notice¹ is issued and at least one of the specified conditions applies², then a person who at the time the notice is served has an interest in the land³ to which the notice relates is entitled to be compensated by the local planning authority⁴ in respect of any loss or damage directly attributable to the prohibition effected by the notice⁵. The specified conditions are:

- 2247 (1) the activity which is specified in the notice is authorised by planning permission⁶ or a development order⁷ or local development order⁸;

- 2248 (2) a certificate of lawfulness of the existing use or development⁹ in respect of the activity is issued¹⁰ or granted on an appeal¹¹;
 2249 (3) the authority withdraws the notice¹².

A claim for such compensation must be made to the local planning authority within the prescribed time¹³ and in the prescribed¹⁴ manner¹⁵.

The loss or damage in respect of which compensation is so payable in respect of a prohibition includes any sum payable in respect of a breach of contract caused by the taking of action necessary to comply with the prohibition¹⁶.

No compensation is so payable:

- 2250 (a) in respect of the prohibition in a temporary stop notice of any activity which, at any time when the notice is in force, constitutes or contributes to a breach of planning control¹⁷; or 2251 (b) in the case of a claimant who was required to provide specified information¹⁸, in respect of any loss or damage suffered by him which could have been avoided if he had provided the information or had otherwise co-operated with the local planning authority when responding to the notice¹⁹.

(6) STOP NOTICES

577. Service of stop notice; validity.

Where the local planning authority¹ considers it expedient that any relevant activity² should cease before the expiry of the period for compliance³ with an enforcement notice, it may, when it serves the copy of the enforcement notice or afterwards, serve a notice (a 'stop notice') prohibiting the carrying out of that activity on the land⁴ to which the enforcement notice relates, or any part of that land specified in the stop notice⁵.

A stop notice may not, however, be served where the enforcement notice has taken effect⁶.

A stop notice may be served by the local planning authority on any person who appears to the authority to have an interest in the land or to be engaged in any activity prohibited by the notice⁷.

Where a stop notice has been served in respect of any land, the local planning authority may display there a notice (a 'site notice'):

- 2252 (1) stating that a stop notice has been served and that any person contravening it may be prosecuted⁸;
- 2253 (2) giving the date when the stop notice takes effect; and
- 2254 (3) indicating its requirements⁹.

A stop notice is not invalid by reason that a copy of the enforcement notice to which it relates was not duly served¹⁰ if it is shown that the local planning authority took all such steps as were reasonably practicable to effect proper service¹¹.

1 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 For these purposes, 'relevant activity' means any activity specified in the enforcement notice as an activity which the local planning authority requires to cease and any activity carried out as part of that activity or associated with that activity: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 183(2) (s 183(1)-(5) substituted, and s 183(5A) added, by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 9(1)). For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante.

3 As to the period for compliance with an enforcement notice see PARA 563 note 19 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante. As to stop notices in relation to Crown land see PARA 555 ante.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 183(1) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to service see note 7 infra. A stop notice which uses wording which incorporates matters of fact and degree is not void even though it leaves the person served with the stop notice the problem of judging what is permissible behaviour: R v Runnymede Borough Council, ex p Sarvan Singh Seehra (1986) 53 P & CR 281 (applicant prohibited from using land for religious devotion otherwise than as incidental to enjoyment of dwelling house).

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 183(3) (as substituted: see note 2 supra). As to when an enforcement notice takes effect see PARA 563 ante. For guidance on the use of stop notices see PPG18--Enforcing Planning Control; and as to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante.

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 183(6). Electronic communications may not be used for the service of a stop notice by a local planning authority: see PARA 54 note 4 ante. As to the service of notices generally see PARA 54 ante.

In relation to special enforcement notices, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 183 (as amended) has effect as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice and with the substitution in s 183(6) for the words 'have an interest in' of the words 'be occupying': Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, reg 2, Schedule. As to special enforcement notices see PARA 572 ante.

In relation to special enforcement notices, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 184 (as amended) has effect as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice, and with the substitution in s 184(8) (as so amended) for the words 'section 172' of the words 'section 295(1)': Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, Schedule.

578. Contents of stop notice.

A stop notice¹ must refer to the enforcement notice² to which it relates and must have a copy of the notice annexed to it³. The stop notice must specify the date on which it will take effect and it cannot be contravened until that date⁴. That date must not be:

- 2255 (1) earlier than three days after the date when the notice is served unless the local planning authority⁵ considers that there are special reasons for specifying an earlier date and a statement of those reasons is served with the stop notice; and
- 2256 (2) later than 28 days from the date when the notice is first served on any person⁶.

A stop notice may not prohibit:

- 2257 (a) the use of any building⁷ as a dwelling house⁸; or 2258 (b) the carrying out of any activity if the activity has been carried out, whether continuously or not, for a period of more than four years ending with the service of the notice; and, for these purposes, no account is to be taken of any period during which the activity was authorised by planning permission⁹.

9 Ibid s 183(5) (as substituted: see note 8 supra). Section 183(5) (as so substituted) does not prevent a stop notice prohibiting any activity consisting of, or incidental to, building, engineering, mining or other operations or the deposit of refuse or waste materials: s 183(5A) (as added: see note 8 supra). NOTE 8--The 1990 Act s 183(4) is not incompatible with the European Convention on Human Rights art 14 (see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) PARA 164): R (on the application of Wilson) v Wychavon DC [2007] EWCA Civ 52, [2007] 2 WLR 798 (exemption afforded to dwelling houses not extended to residential caravans; differential treatment justified).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(6) STOP NOTICES/579. Withdrawal and cessation of stop notice.

579. Withdrawal and cessation of stop notice.

The local planning authority¹ may at any time withdraw a stop notice², without prejudice to its power to serve another notice, by serving notice to that effect on persons served with the stop notice³. If the local planning authority so withdraws a stop notice in respect of which a site notice⁴ was displayed, the authority must display a notice of the withdrawal in place of the site notice⁵.

A stop notice ceases to have effect when:

- 2259 (1) the enforcement notice⁶ to which it relates is withdrawn or quashed; or
- 2260 (2) the period for compliance with the enforcement notice⁷ expires; or
- 2261 (3) notice of the withdrawal of the stop notice is first served⁸.

A stop notice also ceases to have effect if or to the extent that the activities prohibited by it cease, on a variation of the enforcement notice, to be relevant activities⁹.

580. Service of stop notice by the Secretary of State or the Assembly.

If it appears to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² to be expedient that a stop notice³ should be served in respect of any land⁴, he or the Assembly may himself or itself serve such a notice⁵ but may not do so without consulting⁶ the local planning authority⁷.

A notice so served by the Secretary of State or the Assembly has the same effect as if it had been served by the local planning authority⁸. Electronic communications may not be used for the service of such a stop notice⁹.

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 185(3). For these purposes, any reference to the local planning authority in England is to be construed as a reference to the county planning authority or the district planning authority, as the Secretary of State thinks appropriate: see s 1(5)(c) (as amended), Sch 1 para 20(2). Schedule 1 para 20(2) does not, however, apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). 581. Compensation for loss due to stop notice.

Where a stop notice¹ is served², compensation may be payable in respect of a prohibition contained in the notice only if:

- 2262 (1) the enforcement notice³ is quashed on specified grounds⁴;
- 2263 (2) the enforcement notice is varied on specified grounds⁵ so that any activity the carrying out of which is prohibited by the stop notice ceases to be a relevant activity⁶;
- 2264 (3) the enforcement notice is withdrawn by the local planning authority⁷ otherwise than in consequence of the grant by it of planning permission⁸ for the development⁹ to which the notice relates; or
- 2265 (4) the stop notice is withdrawn¹⁰.

A person who, when the stop notice is first served, has an interest in or occupies the land¹¹ to which the notice relates is entitled to be compensated by the local planning authority in respect of any loss or damage directly attributable to the prohibition contained in the notice or, in a case within head (2) above, the prohibition of such of the activities prohibited by the stop notice as cease to be relevant activities¹².

A claim for such compensation must be made to the local planning authority within the prescribed time¹³ and in the prescribed¹⁴ manner¹⁵.

The loss or damage in respect of which compensation is so payable in respect of a prohibition includes any sum payable in respect of a breach of contract caused by the taking of action necessary to comply with the prohibition¹⁶.

No compensation is so payable:

- 2266 (a) in respect of the prohibition in a stop notice of any activity which, at any time when the notice is in force, constitutes or contributes to a breach of planning control¹⁷; or

2267 (b) in the case of a claimant who was required to provide specified information¹⁸, in respect of any loss or damage suffered by him which could have been avoided if he had provided the information or had otherwise co-operated with the local planning authority when responding to the notice¹⁹.

Except in so far as may be otherwise provided by any regulations made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, any question of disputed compensation under Pt VII (ss 171A-196C) (as amended) (see PARA 551 et seq ante, PARA 582 et seq post) must be referred to and determined by the Lands Tribunal: s 186(6). In relation to the determination of any such question, the provisions of the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 2 (as amended) and s 4 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND) apply subject to any necessary modifications and to the provisions of any regulations made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990: s 186(7).

In relation to special enforcement notices, s 186 (as amended) has effect as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice, and with the substitution for s 186(1) (a)-(c) (as amended) of the following: '(a) the special enforcement notice is quashed; (b) the special enforcement notice is varied so that any activity the carrying out of which is prohibited by the stop notice ceases to be a relevant activity; (c) the special enforcement notice is withdrawn by the local planning authority': Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, reg 2, Schedule. 13 The time within which any such claim as is mentioned in the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 12(1) (see note 14 infra) must be served is 12 months from the date of the decision in respect of which the claim is made, or such longer period as the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales may at any time in any particular case allow: reg 12(2). 15 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 186(3). Compensation payable under s 186 (as amended) carries interest at the rate for the time being prescribed under the Land Compensation Act 1961 s 32 (see COMPULSORY ACQUISITION OF LAND vol 18 (2009) PARA 641) from the date of service of the stop notice until payment: see the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 80(1), Sch 18 Pt I (as amended).

If, after a payment has been so made by any person (a) it is agreed or determined that he is not liable to pay the compensation or interest; or (b) by reason of any agreement or determination, any payment under s 80(2) is shown to have been excessive, the payment or, as the case may be, excess is recoverable by that person: s 80(3). 581 Compensation for loss due to stop notice

NOTES--Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in this paragraph are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

NOTE 10--Reference to the Lands Tribunal is now to the Upper Tribunal; Land Compensation Act 1961 s 2 omitted: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 186(6), (7) (amended by SI 2009/1307).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(6) STOP NOTICES/582. Contravention of stop notice.

582. Contravention of stop notice.

If any person contravenes a stop notice¹ after a site notice² has been displayed or the stop notice has been served on him, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to a fine or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding £20,000³. In determining the amount of any fine to be imposed on a person convicted of such an offence, the court must, in particular, have regard to any financial benefit which has accrued or appears likely to accrue to him in consequence of the offence⁴.

Any such offence may be charged by reference to any day or longer period of time; and a person may be convicted of a second or subsequent such offence by reference to any period of time following the preceding conviction for such an offence⁵.

In any proceedings for such an offence it is, however, a defence for the accused to prove:

- 2268 (1) that the stop notice was not served on him; and
- 2269 (2) that he did not know, and could not reasonably have been expected to know, of its existence⁶.

1 For these purposes, references to contravening a stop notice include causing or permitting its contravention: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187(1B) (s 187(1)-(2A) substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 9(4)). For the meaning of 'stop notice' see PARA 577 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'site notice' see PARA 577 ante.

3 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187(1), (2) (as substituted: see note 1 supra). As to offences by corporations see PARA 55 ante. In the absence of any evidence to the contrary, a prosecution based upon a stop notice which asserts on its face that the council considers it expedient to prevent the activity is effective: R v Pettigrove and Roberts (1990) 62 P & CR 355, CA. Once it is apparent that the stop notice was validly brought into existence and served and is valid on its face, it is the obligation of the recipient to observe it; and any arguments relating to ancillary use must be dealt with by way of appeal against the enforcement notice and not by way of a defence to criminal proceedings: R v Pettigrove and Roberts supra.

In relation to special enforcement notices, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187 (as amended) has effect as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice: Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, reg 2, Schedule. As to special enforcement notices see PARA 572 ante.

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187(2A) (as substituted: see note 1 supra).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/(7) BREACH OF CONDITION NOTICES/583. Breach of condition notices.

(7) BREACH OF CONDITION NOTICES

583. Breach of condition notices.

Where planning permission¹ for carrying out any development² of land³ has been granted subject to conditions⁴, the local planning authority⁵ may, if any of the conditions is not complied with, serve a notice (a 'breach of condition notice') on:

- 2270 (1) any person who is carrying out or has carried out the development; or
- 2271 (2) any person having control of the land, requiring him to secure compliance with such of the conditions as are specified in the notice⁶.

A breach of condition notice must specify the steps which the authority considers ought to be taken, or the activities which the authority considers ought to cease, to secure compliance with the conditions specified in the notice⁷.

The authority may by notice served on the person responsible⁸ withdraw the breach of condition notice, but its withdrawal does not affect the power to serve on him a further breach of condition notice in respect of the conditions specified in the earlier notice or any other conditions⁹.

The period allowed for compliance with the notice is:

- 2272 (a) such period of not less than 28 days beginning with the date of service of the notice as may be specified in the notice; or
- 2273 (b) that period as extended by a further notice served by the local planning authority on the person responsible¹⁰.

If, at any time after the end of the period allowed for compliance with the notice:

- 2274 (i) any of the conditions specified in the notice is not complied with; and
- 2275 (ii) the steps specified in the notice have not been taken or, as the case may be, the activities specified in the notice have not ceased, the person responsible is in breach of the notice¹¹.

If the person responsible is in breach of the notice, he is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 3 on the standard scale¹². Such an offence may be charged by reference to any day or longer period of time; and a person may be convicted of a second or subsequent offence by reference to any period of time following the preceding conviction for such an offence¹³.

It is, however, a defence for a person charged with such an offence to prove:

- 2276 (A) that he took all reasonable measures to secure compliance with the conditions specified in the notice; or
- 2277 (B) where the notice was served on him by virtue of head (2) above, that he no longer had control of the land¹⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'planning permission' for these purposes see PARA 551 note 2 ante.

2 For these purposes, references to carrying out any development include causing or permitting another to do so: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187A(13)(b) (s 187A added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 2). For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'conditions' includes limitations: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187A(13)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). As to the grant of planning permission subject to conditions see PARAS 522-523 ante.

5 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187A(1), (2) (as added: see note 2 supra). The burden of rebutting the reasonable inference that the owner of the land is the person in control of the land falls upon the owner himself: Nourish v Adamson [1998] JPL 859.

The conditions which may be specified in a notice served by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187A(2)(b) (as so added) (see head (2) in the text) are any of the conditions regulating the use of the land: s 187A(4) (as so added). Where a building fails to comply with planning permission requirements, any condition attached to the permission does not apply to the unauthorised building: Handoll v Warner, Goodman & Street (1994) 93 LGR 293, CA. Electronic communications may not be used to serve a breach of condition notice: see PARA 54 note 4 ante. As to service of notices generally see PARA 54 ante. For guidance on breach of condition notices see ODPM (ex-DOE) Circular 10/97 Enforcing Planning Control--Legislative Provisions and Procedural Requirements Annex 4; for a model form of breach of condition notice see Annex 4, Appendix; and as to the 584. Effect of planning permission on breach of condition notice.

Where, after the service of a breach of condition notice¹, planning permission² is granted for any development³ carried out before the grant of that permission, the notice ceases to have effect so far as inconsistent with that permission⁴.

Where, after a breach of condition notice has been served, any condition to which the notice relates is discharged, the notice ceases to have effect so far as it requires any person to secure compliance with the condition in question⁵.

The fact that a breach of condition notice has wholly or partly ceased to have effect by virtue of these provisions does not affect the liability of any person for an offence in respect of a previous failure to comply, or secure compliance, with the notice⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'breach of condition notice' see PARA 583 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'planning permission' for these purposes see PARA 551 note 2 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

(8) INJUNCTIONS

585. Injunctions.

Where a local planning authority¹ considers it necessary or expedient for any actual or apprehended breach of planning control² to be restrained by injunction, it may apply to the court³ for an injunction, whether or not the authority has exercised, or is proposing to exercise, any of its other statutory powers⁴ relating to enforcement⁵. On such an application the court may grant such an injunction as it thinks appropriate for the purpose of restraining the breach⁶. If the court grants an interim injunction, it may exercise its discretion not to require a local planning authority to give an undertaking in damages⁷.

Rules of court may provide for such an injunction to be issued against a person whose identity is unknown⁸. Without prejudice to the court's power to make an order for service by an alternative method or an order dispensing with service⁹, an applicant for such an injunction must, in the claim form, describe the defendant by reference to (1) a photograph; (2) a thing belonging to or in the possession of the defendant; or (3) any other evidence, with sufficient particularity to enable service to be effected¹⁰. The applicant must file¹¹ in support of the application evidence by witness statement or affidavit:

- 2278 (a) verifying that he was unable to ascertain, within the time reasonably available to him, the defendant's identity;
- 2279 (b) setting out the action taken to ascertain the defendant's identity; and
- 2280 (c) verifying the means by which the defendant has been described in the application and that the description is the best that the applicant is able to provide¹².

There is no requirement that an injunction has to be confined to the area in respect of which an enforcement notice has been issued¹³.

1 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 For the meaning of 'breach of planning control' see PARA 551 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'the court' means the High Court or the county court: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187B(4) (s 187B added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 3).

4 Ie any of its powers under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt VII (ss 171A-196C) (as amended): see PARA 551 et seq ante, PARA 586 et seq post.

5 Ibid s 187B(1) (as added: see note 3 supra). For general policy guidance as to injunctions to restrain breaches of planning control see ODPM (ex-DOE) Circular 10/97 Enforcing Planning Control--Legislative Provisions and Procedural Requirements Annex 5; and as to the status of such guidance see PARA 9 ante. As to injunctions generally see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 331 et seq; and as to injunctions in relation to Crown land see PARA 555 ante. See also eg Kettering Borough Council v Perkins [1999] JPL 166; Wealden District Council v Krushandal [1999] JPL 174, CA. As to the importance of following the council's own internal procedures when authorising proceedings for an injunction see Kirklees Borough Council v Brook [2004] EWHC 2841 (Ch) at [22], [2004] All ER (D) 101 (Dec) per Lloyd J (proceedings for an injunction are the most serious that a planning authority can take by way of enforcement, because of the sanction of committal to prison for breach of an injunction; in the case in question there was no valid delegation of authority allowing any officer to take the decision to bring such proceedings). For an example of a case where a suspended committal order was made see South Bedfordshire District Council v Price [2005] EWHC 2031 (QB), [2005] All ER (D) 129 (Sep).

The functions of a local planning authority under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187B (as so added) are exercisable by any body having the functions of taking enforcement action in respect of the breach in question: see s 1(5)(c) (as amended) Sch 1 para 12A (added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 53(7)); the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 1(6) (as added and amended), Sch 1A para 5 (Sch 1A added by the Local Government (Wales) Act 1994 s 18, Sch 4). In relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1A para 5 (as so added) applies only in relation to any area for which, by virtue of any provision made under s 6, s 7 or s 8 (see PARAS 34-36 ante), there is more than one local planning authority: Sch 1A para 3 (as so added). In relation to England, Sch 1 para 12A (as added) does not apply in Greater London: Sch 1 para 21(1). For the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 2 note 1 ante; for the meaning of 'taking enforcement action' see PARA 551 ante; as to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; and as to local planning authorities generally see PARA 28 et seq ante.

6 Ibid s 187B(2) (as added: see note 3 supra). The court has jurisdiction to grant interim injunctions and mandatory injunctions to enforce actual breaches of planning control: Runnymede Borough Council v Harwood, Croydon London Borough Council v Gladden (1994) 92 LGR 561, [1994] JPL 723, CA (applied in South Hams District Council v Halsey [1996] 3 PLR 38, CA). Once an injunction has been granted, it cannot be discharged except where there has been a significant change of circumstances since the order was made: Salisbury District Council v Le Roi [2001] EWCA Civ 1490, [2002] 1 P & CR 501, CA. Similar considerations apply to its suspension pending a further planning appeal: see Waverley Borough Council v Lee [2003] EWHC 29 (Ch), [2003] All ER (D) 30 (Jan); further proceedings [2003] EWHC 941 (QB), [2003] All ER (D) 64 (Mar).

The jurisdiction of the court under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 187B (as added) is an original, not a supervisory, jurisdiction, and in all cases the court has to decide whether in all the circumstances it is just and proportionate, in the Convention sense, to exercise its discretion under that provision to grant the relief sought against the particular defendant: South Buckinghamshire District Council v Porter, Chichester District Council v Searle, Wrexham County Borough Council v Berry, Hertsmere Borough Council v Harty [2003] UKHL 26, [2003] All ER (D) 312 (May), affg [2001] EWCA Civ 1549, [2002] 1 All ER 425, [2002] 1 WLR 1359, CA (a case involving enforcement action against four gypsy families living in mobile homes in breach of planning control and enforcement notices; for a discussion of the competing objectives of protecting the environment and whatever countervailing rights the families had see [2001] EWCA Civ 1549 at [38]-[41] per Simon Brown LJ; and see further PARA 7 the text and notes 24-26 ante). Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/5. ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/ (9) CERTIFICATES OF LAWFUL USE OR DEVELOPMENT/(i) Certificate of Lawfulness of Existing Use or Development ('CLEUD')/586. Certificate of lawfulness of existing use or development ('CLEUD'); in general.

(9) CERTIFICATES OF LAWFUL USE OR DEVELOPMENT

(i) Certificate of Lawfulness of Existing Use or Development ('CLEUD')

586. Certificate of lawfulness of existing use or development ('CLEUD'); in general.

If any person wishes to ascertain whether:

- 2281 (1) any existing use¹ of buildings² or other land³ is lawful⁴;
- 2282 (2) any operations which have been carried out in, on, over or under land are lawful; or
- 2283 (3) any other matter constituting a failure to comply with any condition or limitation subject to which planning permission has been granted is lawful⁵, he may make an application for the purpose to the local planning authority⁶ specifying the land and describing the use, operations or other matter⁷.

If, on such an application, the local planning authority is provided with information satisfying it of the lawfulness at the time of the application of the use, operations or other matter described in the application, or that description as modified by the local planning authority or a description substituted by it, it must issue a certificate to that effect; and in any other case it must refuse the application⁸.

Such a certificate must:

- 2284 (a) specify the land to which it relates;
- 2285 (b) describe the use, operations or other matter in question⁹;
- 2286 (c) give the reasons for determining the use, operations or other matter to be lawful; and
- 2287 (d) specify the date of the application for the certificate¹⁰.

Such a certificate may be issued:

- 2288 (i) for the whole or part of the land specified in the application; and
- 2289 (ii) where the application specifies two or more uses, operations or other matters, for all of them or some one or more of them; and must be in such form as may be prescribed by a development order¹¹.

Such a certificate does not affect any matter constituting a failure to comply with any condition or limitation subject to which planning permission has been granted unless that matter is described in the certificate¹².

The lawfulness of any use, operations or other matter for which such a certificate is in force is to be conclusively presumed¹³; and such a certificate in respect of any use also has effect for the purposes of specified enactments¹⁴ as if it were a grant of planning permission¹⁵.

1 For the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante. It has been held that a dormant use may be classed as an 'existing use' for these purposes: Panton v Secretary of State for the Environment [1999] 1 PLR 92.

2 For the meaning of 'building' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

4 For these purposes, uses and operations are lawful at any time if (1) no enforcement action may then be taken in respect of them, whether because they did not involve development or require planning permission or because the time for enforcement action has expired or for any other reason; and (2) they do not constitute a contravention of any of the requirements of any enforcement notice then in force: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 191(2) (ss 191, 193 substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 10(1)); and see R v Epping Forest District Council, ex p Philcox [2002] PLCR 32, [2000] NPC 146, [2000] All ER (D) 2216, CA. For the meaning of 'taking enforcement action' see PARA 551 ante; for the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante; for the meaning of 'planning permission' for these purposes see PARA 551 note 2 ante; and for the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante.

5 For these purposes, any matter constituting a failure to comply with any condition or limitation subject to which planning permission has been granted is lawful at any time if (1) the time for taking enforcement action in respect of the failure has then expired; and (2) it does not constitute a contravention of any of the requirements of any enforcement notice or breach of condition notice then in force: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 191(3) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). For the meaning of 'breach of condition notice' see PARA 583 ante. 15 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 191(7) (as substituted: see note 4 supra). Without prejudice to the generality of the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 (Commencement No 11 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1992, SI 1992/1630, art 3(1), the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 192(4) (as originally enacted) (conclusiveness of established use certificates for the purposes of an appeal to the Secretary of State against an enforcement notice) continues to apply for the purpose of established use certificates, within the meaning of s 192 (as originally enacted), granted under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 notwithstanding the repeal of s 192 (as originally enacted) and its substitution by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 10(1): Planning and Compensation Act 1991 (Commencement No 11 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1992 art 3(2). 586 Certificate of lawfulness of existing use or development ('CLEUD'); in general

NOTE 4--Where an application for a certificate of lawfulness of existing use or development under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 191 is made, it is not permissible to aggregate days of individual use with events based use for the purposes of establishing that the limitation on permitted temporary events use is excluded and that there is immunity from enforcement action: Miles v National Assembly for Wales [2007] EWHC 10 (Admin), [2007] JPL 1235.

NOTE 13--A right to use land for a purpose described in a certificate of lawful use can be lost by abandonment; such a certificate declares conclusively that at the point in time the certificate refers to that particular use is lawful: M & M (Land) Ltd v Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government [2007] EWHC 489 (Admin), [2007] 2 P & CR 399.

ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/ (9) CERTIFICATES OF LAWFUL USE OR DEVELOPMENT/(ii) Certificate of Lawfulness of Proposed Use or Development ('CLOPUD')/587. Certificate of lawfulness of proposed use or development ('CLOPUD'); in general.

(ii) Certificate of Lawfulness of Proposed Use or Development ('CLOPUD')

587. Certificate of lawfulness of proposed use or development ('CLOPUD'); in general.

If any person wishes to ascertain whether:

- 2290 (1) any proposed use¹ of buildings² or other land³; or
- 2291 (2) any operations proposed to be carried out in, on, over or under land, would be lawful⁴, he may make an application for the purpose to the local planning authority⁵ specifying the land and describing the use or operations in question⁶.

If, on such an application, the local planning authority is provided with information satisfying it that the use or operations described in the application would be lawful if instituted or begun at the time of the application, the authority must issue a certificate to that effect; and in any other case it must refuse the application⁷.

Such a certificate must:

- 2292 (a) specify the land to which it relates;
- 2293 (b) describe the use or operations in question⁸;
- 2294 (c) give the reasons for determining the use or operations to be lawful; and
- 2295 (d) specify the date of the application for the certificate⁹.

Such a certificate may be issued:

- 2296 (i) for the whole or part of the land specified in the application; and
- 2297 (ii) where the application specifies two or more uses, operations or other matters, for all of them or some one or more of them; and must be in such form as may be prescribed by a development order¹⁰.

Such a certificate does not affect any matter constituting a failure to comply with any condition or limitation subject to which planning permission has been granted unless that matter is described in the certificate¹¹.

The lawfulness of any use or operations for which such a certificate is in force is to be conclusively presumed unless there is a material change, before the use is instituted or the operations are begun, in any of the matters relevant to determining such lawfulness¹².

It has been held that it is generally appropriate to apply for a certificate under the above provisions rather than to apply to the court for a declaration that a proposed use would be lawful¹³.

Partly as from a day to be appointed¹⁴, if:

- 2298 (A) certain internal operations are included in the statutory definition of 'development' by means of a development order¹⁵;
- 2299 (B) at the date the development order comes into force a certificate under the above provisions is in force in respect of the operations; and
- 2300 (C) before that date no such operations have been begun, then the certificate is of no effect¹⁶.

589. Applications for certificates of lawfulness of existing or proposed use or development.

An application for a certificate of lawfulness of existing or proposed use or development¹ must be made in such manner as may be prescribed by a development order² and must include such particulars, and be verified by such evidence, as may be required by such an order or by any directions given under such an order or by the local planning authority³.

An application for such a certificate must be in writing⁴ and must, in addition to specifying the land and describing the use, operations or other matter in question⁵, include the specified⁶ information⁷. Such an application must be accompanied by:

- 2301 (1) a plan identifying the land to which the application relates;
- 2302 (2) such evidence verifying the information included in the application as the applicant can provide;
- 2303 (3) a statement setting out the applicant's interest in the land, the name and address of any other person known to the applicant to have an interest in the land and whether any such other person has been notified of the application⁸.

Where such an application specifies two or more uses, operations or other matters, the plan which accompanies the application must indicate to which part of the land each such use, operation or matter relates⁹.

Where an application for a certificate of lawfulness of proposed use or development¹⁰ is made in respect of Crown land¹¹, it must, in addition to the documents required by heads (1) to (3) above, be accompanied by:

- 2304 (a) a statement that the application is made¹² in respect of Crown land; and 2305 (b) where the application is made by a person authorised in writing by the appropriate authority¹³, a copy of that authorisation¹⁴.

The local planning authority may by notice in writing require the applicant to provide such further information as may be specified to enable the authority to deal with the application¹⁵.

590. Applications relating to county matters.

A county planning authority¹ in England must, before determining an application for a certificate of lawful use or development², give the district planning authority, if any³, for the area in which the relevant land⁴ lies a period of at least 14 days, from the date of receipt of the application by the district planning authority, within which to make recommendations about the manner in which the application is determined; and the county planning authority must take any such recommendations into account⁵.

A county planning authority must:

- 2306 (1) on determining such an application, as soon as reasonably practicable notify the district planning authority, if any, of the terms of its decision; or
- 2307 (2) if any such application is referred to the Secretary of State⁶, inform the district planning authority, if any, of the date when the application was so referred and, when notified to it, of the terms of the decision⁷.

591. Register of applications for certificates.

The register of planning applications¹ kept by the local planning register authority² must contain the following information in respect of every application for a certificate of lawfulness of existing or proposed use or development³ relating to the authority's area:

- 2308 (1) the name and address of the applicant;
- 2309 (2) the date of the application;
- 2310 (3) the address or location of the land⁴ to which the application relates;
- 2311 (4) the description of the use, operations or other matter included in the application;
- 2312 (5) the decision, if any, of the local planning authority⁵ in respect of the application and the date of such decision;
- 2313 (6) the reference number, date and effect of any decision of the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, of the National Assembly for Wales⁷ on an appeal in respect of the application⁸.

ENFORCEMENT; IN GENERAL/ (9) CERTIFICATES OF LAWFUL USE OR DEVELOPMENT/(iii) Procedure on Application for CLEUD or CLOPUD/592. Procedure for dealing with applications.

592. Procedure for dealing with applications.

Provision may be made by a development order¹ for regulating the manner in which applications for certificates of existing or proposed use or development² are to be dealt with by local planning authorities³; and, in particular, such an order may provide for requiring the authority to give:

- 2314 (1) to any applicant within such time as may be prescribed by the order such notice as may be so prescribed as to the manner in which his application has been dealt with; and
- 2315 (2) to the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁵ and to such other persons as may be prescribed by or under the order, such information as may be so prescribed with respect to such applications made to the authority, including information as to the manner in which any application has been dealt with⁶.

Where the local planning authority receives such an application and any fee required to be paid in respect of the application⁷, the authority must, as soon as reasonably practicable, send to the applicant an acknowledgment of the application⁸; and, where, after sending such an acknowledgment, the local planning authority considers that the application is invalid⁹, it must, as soon as practicable, notify the applicant that his application is invalid¹⁰.

The local planning authority must give the applicant written notice¹¹ of its decision within a period of eight weeks beginning with the date of receipt by the authority of the application and any fee required to be paid in respect of the application or, except where the applicant has already given notice of appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, within such extended period as may be agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the authority¹².

Where an application is refused, in whole or in part, including a case in which the authority modifies the description of the use, operations or other matter in the application or substitutes an alternative description for that description, the notice of decision must state clearly and precisely the authority's full reasons for its decision and must include a statement to the effect that, if the applicant is aggrieved¹³ by the decision, he may appeal¹⁴ to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁵.

(iv) Revocation of CLEUD or CLOPUD

593. Power to revoke certificates of lawfulness of existing or proposed use or development.

A local planning authority¹ may revoke a certificate of lawfulness of existing or proposed use or development² if, on the application for the certificate:

- 2316 (1) a statement was made or document used which was false in a material particular; or
- 2317 (2) any material information was withheld³.

594. Procedure on revocation of certificate.

Where a local planning authority¹ proposes to revoke² a certificate of lawfulness of existing or proposed use or development³, the authority must, before it revokes the certificate, give notice of that proposal to:

- 2318 (1) the owner of the land affected;
- 2319 (2) the occupier of the land affected;
- 2320 (3) any other person who will, in the authority's opinion, be affected by the revocation; and
- 2321 (4) in the case of a case of a certificate issued by the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁵ on an appeal⁶, to him or to the Assembly⁷.

A notice so issued must invite the person on whom the notice is served to make representations on the proposal to the authority within 14 days of service of the notice; and the authority may not revoke the certificate until the expiry of all such periods allowed for making representations have expired⁸.

An authority must give written notice of any revocation⁹ to every person on whom notice of the proposed revocation was so served¹⁰.

(v) Offences

595. Offences.

If any person, for the purpose of procuring a particular decision on an application, whether by himself or another, for the issue of a certificate of lawfulness of existing or proposed use or development¹:

- 2322 (1) knowingly or recklessly makes a statement which is false or misleading in a material particular;
- 2323 (2) with intent to deceive, uses any document which is false or misleading in a material particular; or 2324 (3) with intent to deceive, withholds any material information, he is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years or a fine, or to both, or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum².

A magistrates' court may³ try an information in respect of any such offence whenever laid⁴.

(10) DISCONTINUANCE ORDERS ETC

596. Penalties for contravention of discontinuance orders etc.

Any person who without planning permission¹;

235. (1) uses land², or causes or permits land to be used for any purpose for which an order³ has required that its use shall be discontinued, or in contravention of any condition imposed by such an order⁴; or

236. (2) resumes, or causes or permits to be resumed, development⁵ consisting of the winning and working of minerals⁶ or involving the depositing of mineral waste⁷ the resumption of which an order⁸ has prohibited; or

237. (3) contravenes, or causes or permits to be contravened, any specified requirement¹⁰, is guilty of an offence and liable on conviction on indictment to a fine or on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum¹¹.

Any person who contravenes any requirement of a suspension order¹² or who causes or permits any requirement of such an order to be contravened is likewise guilty of an offence¹³ and liable to the like penalties¹⁴.

It is, however, a defence for a person charged with any such offence to prove that he took all reasonable measures and exercised all due diligence to avoid commission of the offence by himself or any person under his control¹⁵; but, if in any case this defence involves an allegation that the commission of the offence was due to the act or default of another person or due to reliance on information supplied by another person, the person charged is not, without the leave of the court, entitled to rely on the defence unless he has, within a period ending seven clear days before the hearing, served on the prosecutor a notice in writing giving such information identifying or assisting in the identification of the other person as was then in his possession¹⁶.

In relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 1A para 4 (as so added) applies only in relation to any area for which, by virtue of any provision made under s 6, s 7 or s 8 (see PARAS 34-36 ante), there is more than one local planning authority: Sch 1A para 3 (as so added). GENERAL/598. Rights of appeal and functions of local planning authority where certain appeals are made.

6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL

(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY

(i) Appeals regarding Planning Applications and Decisions

A. IN GENERAL

598. Rights of appeal and functions of local planning authority where certain appeals are made.

Where a local planning authority¹:

- 2328 (1) refuses an application for planning permission² or grants it subject to conditions³;
- 2329 (2) refuses an application for any consent, agreement or approval of that authority required by a condition imposed on a grant of planning permission or grants it subject to conditions; or
- 2330 (3) refuses an application for any approval of that authority required under a development order⁴ or a local development order⁵ or grants it subject to conditions, the applicant may by notice appeal to the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁷.

A person who has made such an application may also appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly if the local planning authority has done none of the following:

- 2331 (a) given notice to the applicant of its decision on the application;
- 2332 (b) given notice to the applicant that it has exercised its power⁸ to decline to determine the application;
- 2333 (c) given notice to him that the application has been referred to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in accordance with directions given⁹ by him or by it, within such period as may be prescribed by a development order or within such extended period as may at any time be agreed upon in writing between the applicant and the authority¹⁰.

Any such appeal must be made by notice served within such time and in such manner as may be prescribed by a development order¹¹. The time so prescribed for the service of such a notice must, however, be not less than 28 days from the date of notification of the decision or, in the case of an appeal under heads (a) to (c) above, 28 days from the end of the prescribed period¹² or, as the case may be, the period¹³ as so extended¹⁴.

The following provisions apply, partly as from a day to be appointed¹⁵, if a person who has made an application for planning permission¹⁶ appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under heads (a) to (c) above¹⁷. At any time before the end of the additional period¹⁸ the local planning authority may give the notice referred to in those heads¹⁹. If the local planning authority so gives notice that its decision is to refuse the application:

- 2334 (i) the appeal must be treated as an appeal²⁰ against the refusal;

- 2335 (ii) the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give the person making the appeal an opportunity to revise the grounds of the appeal;
- 2336 (iii) the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give such a person an opportunity to change any option the person has chosen relating to the procedure for the appeal²¹.

If, however, the local planning authority so gives notice that its decision is to grant the application subject to conditions the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give the person making the appeal the opportunity:

- 2337 (A) to proceed with the appeal as an appeal²² against the grant of the application subject to conditions;
- 2338 (B) to revise the grounds of the appeal;
- 2339 (C) to change any option the person has chosen relating to the procedure for the appeal²³.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must not issue his or its decision on the appeal before the end of the additional period²⁴.

The submission of an environmental statement on such an appeal is discussed below²⁵.

1 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 As to refusal of planning permission see PARA 486 ante. For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante. On its true construction, the word 'application' in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) (see the text and notes 3-14 infra) includes an application that the local planning authority considered to be invalid; thus a determination of invalidity by the authority does not exclude a right of appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly on the question of validity: see R v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions, ex p Bath and North East Somerset District Council [1999] 4 All ER 418, [1999] 1 WLR 1759, CA (where, however, the court suggested that there may be requests for planning permission which are so deficient in form and substance that no reasonable authority or Secretary of State can reasonably treat them as 'applications' within the meaning of the legislation).

3 As to the grant of planning permission subject to conditions see PARAS 522-523 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 252 ante.

5 As to local development orders see PARA 419 et seq ante.

6 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

7 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78(1) (amended by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 40(2)(e), partly as from a day to be appointed under s 121; at the date at which this title states the law, that amendment was not fully in force). As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended), s 78A (as added) so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

As to the procedure on the determination of appeals under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) see PARA 618 et seq post. Section 78 (as amended) does not apply to applications for planning permission to which the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 3 applies: see PARA 893 note 8 post.

The fact that an appeal is pending does not prevent the service of an enforcement notice: Davis v Miller [1956] 3 All ER 109, [1956] 1 WLR 1013, DC. As to appeals against enforcement notices on the grounds that permission ought to have been granted see PARA 603 post.

10 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78(2) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 17(2); prospectively amended by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 43(2), as from a day to be appointed under s 121; until the coming into force of that amendment, the words 'or under s 70B' (see note 8 supra) are omitted). A failure by the local authority to decide an application is not deemed to be a refusal for any other purpose: Edwick v Sunbury-on-Thames UDC (1959) 12 P & CR 38, CA.

For the purposes of the application of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 79(1) (see PARA 601 post), s 253(2)(c) (as amended) (see HIGHWAYS, STREETS AND BRIDGES vol 21 (2004 Reissue) PARA 798), s 266(1)(b) (see PARA 1013 post) and s 288(10)(b) (see PARA 47 ante) in relation to an appeal under s 78(2) (as so amended), it is assumed that the authority decided to refuse the application in question: s 78(5). As to notice of appeal see PARA 599 post.

In determining for the purposes of s 78 (as amended) the time which has elapsed without the relevant planning authority giving notice to the applicant of its decision in a case where (1) the authority has notified an applicant in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/293, reg 7(2) (see PARA 495 ante) that the submission of an environmental statement is required; and (2) the Secretary of State or the Assembly has given a screening direction in relation to the development in question (see PARA 494 ante), no account is to be taken of any period before the issue of the direction: reg 32(1).

12 Ie the period prescribed as mentioned in ibid s 78(2) (as amended): see the text to note 10 supra.

13 Ie the extended period mentioned in ibid s 78(2) (as amended): see the text to note 10 supra.

14 Ibid s 78(4).

17 Ibid s 78A(1) (s 78A added by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 50(1), partly as from a day to be appointed: see note 15 supra). The appeal referred to in the text is an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78(2) (as amended).

18 The additional period is the period prescribed by development order for the purposes of ibid s 78A (as added) and which starts on the day on which the person appeals under s 78(2) (as amended): s 78A(6) (as added: see note 17 supra).

19 Ibid s 78A(2) (as added: see note 17 supra).

20 Ie an appeal under ibid s 78(1) (as amended): see the text to notes 1-7 supra.

24 Ibid s 78A(5) (as added: see note 17 supra).

25 See PARA 618 post. Where an environmental statement was submitted with the original application, three copies of that statement and of any further information, where relevant, must be submitted on the appeal: see PARA 503 ante.

598 Rights of appeal and functions of local planning authority where certain appeals are made

TEXT AND NOTES--Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78(4A)-(4D) added: Planning Act 2008 Sch 11 paras 1, 2 (in force in relation to England).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(i) Appeals regarding Planning Applications and Decisions/A. IN GENERAL/599. Notice of appeal.

599. Notice of appeal.

An applicant who wishes to appeal to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² against a planning decision or failure to take such a decision³ must give notice of appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly by:

- 2340 (1) serving on him or on it within the specified time⁴ a form obtained from him or from it, together with such of the documents specified in heads (a) to (g) below as are relevant to the appeal;
- 2341 (2) serving on the local planning authority⁵ a copy of the form mentioned in head (1) above, as soon as reasonably practicable, together with a copy of any relevant document mentioned in head (e) below⁶.

The documents so specified are:

- 2342 (a) the application made to the local planning authority which has occasioned the appeal;
- 2343 (b) all plans, drawings and documents sent to the authority in connection with the application;
- 2344 (c) all correspondence with the authority relating to the application;
- 2345 (d) any certificate in relation to notice of the application provided to the authority⁷;
- 2346 (e) any other plans, documents or drawings relating to the application which were not sent to the authority;
- 2347 (f) the notice of the decision, if any;
- 2348 (g) if the appeal relates to an application for approval of certain matters in accordance with a condition on a planning permission, the application for that permission, the plans submitted with that application and the planning permission granted⁸.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may refuse to accept a notice of appeal from an applicant if the documents so required are not served on him or on it within the specified time limit⁹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may provide, or arrange for the provision of, a website for use for such purposes as he or it thinks fit which relate to such appeals as are described above¹⁰ and which are capable of being carried out electronically¹¹. Where a person gives notice of appeal to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly using electronic communications¹², the person is to be taken to have agreed:

- 2349 (i) to the use of such communications for all purposes relating to his appeal which are capable of being carried out electronically;
- 2350 (ii) that his address¹³ for the purpose of such communications is the address incorporated into, or otherwise logically associated with, his notice of appeal; and
- 2351 (iii) that his deemed agreement under this provision is to subsist until he gives notice¹⁴ that he wishes to revoke the agreement¹⁵.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(i) Appeals regarding Planning Applications and Decisions/A. IN GENERAL/600. Publicity for appeals.

600. Publicity for appeals.

The statutory provisions relating to notice¹ apply to any appeal to the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³ against a planning decision or failure to take such a decision⁴ as they apply to applications for planning permission⁵.

If the local planning authority⁶ has failed to satisfy the statutory requirements for publicity⁷ in respect of an application for the planning permission at the time any appeal is made to the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁸, those requirements continue to apply as if such appeal to him or to it had not been made⁹; and, when the local planning authority has satisfied those requirements, it must inform the Secretary of State or the Assembly that it has done so¹⁰.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(i) Appeals regarding Planning Applications and Decisions/A. IN GENERAL/601. Determination of appeals.

601. Determination of appeals.

The Secretary of State¹ must make one or more timetables for the purposes of decisions which he must take on an appeal against planning decisions and failure to take such decisions².

On such an appeal the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 2352 (1) allow or dismiss the appeal; or
- 2353 (2) reverse or vary any part of the decision of the local planning authority⁴, whether the appeal relates to that part of it or not, and may deal with the application as if it had been made to him or to the Assembly in the first instance⁵.

Before so determining an appeal, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, if either the appellant or the local planning authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly for the purpose⁶. He or the Assembly must, in determining the appeal, take into account any representations⁷ made, where any notice of the appeal has been served:

- 2354 (a) on an owner of the land or a tenant of an agricultural holding⁸; or
- 2355 (b) on an adjoining owner or occupier⁹, within 21 days beginning with the date when the notice was served on that person, provided that the representations are made by any person who satisfies the Secretary of State or the Assembly that he is such an owner, tenant or occupier¹⁰.

If, before or during the determination of such an appeal in respect of an application for planning permission to develop¹¹ land¹², the Secretary of State or the Assembly forms the opinion that, having regard to the general considerations for the determination of applications¹³, the conditions which may be imposed on the grant of planning permission¹⁴, the development order and any directions given under that order, planning permission for that development:

- 2356 (i) could not have been granted by the local planning authority; or
- 2357 (ii) could not have been granted otherwise than subject to the conditions imposed, he or the Assembly may decline to determine the appeal or to proceed with the determination¹⁵.

If, at any time before or during the determination of such an appeal, it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that the appellant is responsible for undue delay in the progress of the appeal, he or it may:

- 2358 (A) give the appellant notice that the appeal will be dismissed unless the appellant takes, within the period specified in the notice, such steps as are specified in the notice for the expedition of the appeal; and
- 2359 (B) if the appellant fails to take those steps within that period, dismiss the appeal accordingly¹⁶.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must give notice of his or its decision to every person who has made representations which he or it was required to take into account in accordance with head (a) above¹⁷. His or its decision on such an appeal is final¹⁸. The validity of such a decision may, however, be challenged on certain statutory grounds¹⁹ or on an application for judicial review²⁰; and it has been held that, notwithstanding the absence of a right to a further appeal on the facts, the decision-making process on such appeals is not incompatible with the right to a fair hearing before an impartial and independent tribunal²¹ because the judicial review jurisdiction of the High Court constitutes a sufficient review of the legality of the decisions and of the procedures followed²².

In the absence of express statutory provisions permitting him to do so, the Secretary of State has no power to reinstate an appeal which has been withdrawn²³.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 See the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 55, Sch 2; and PARA 527 et seq ante. Note that Sch 2 does not apply to decisions on such appeals to be taken by the National Assembly for Wales. The appeals referred to in the text are appeals under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended): see PARA 598 ante. There are, however, a number of specified exclusions: see the Town and Country Planning (Timetable for Decisions) (England) Order 2005, SI 2005/205; and PARA 527 ante.

3 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 79 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

See further R v East Kesteven RDC, ex p Sleaford and District White City Sports Stadium Co [1947] 1 All ER 310, DC (refusal on ground of overriding need to preserve land for agricultural use valid). The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 79 (as amended) does not apply to applications for planning permission to which the Town and Country Planning General Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1492, reg 3 applies: see PARA 893 note 8 post.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 79(2). Section 79(2) does not apply to an appeal (1) referred to a planning inquiry commission under s 101 (as amended) (see PARA 704 post) (s 79(3)); or (2) which falls to be determined by an appointed person (see Sch 6 para 2(2) (as amended); and PARA 623 post).

Where an appeal against a refusal of planning permission is conducted by way of an informal hearing, as opposed to a public local inquiry, the absence of an accusatorial procedure places an inquisitorial burden upon the inspector hearing the appeal. There is a danger that the more relaxed atmosphere of an informal hearing could lead, not to a full and fair hearing, but rather to a less than thorough examination of the issues: see Dyason v Secretary of State for the Environment and Chiltern District Council (1998) 75 P & CR 506, [1998] JPL 778, CA.

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 79(7), Sch 6 (as amended) (see PARA 621 et seq post) applies to appeals under s 78 (as amended), including appeals under s 78 (as amended) as applied by or under any other provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990: s 79(7).

Subject to s 79(2), the provisions of s 70 (as amended) (see PARA 486 ante), s 72(1), (5) (as amended) (see PARA 522 ante), s 73 (as amended) (see PARA 524 ante), s 73A (as added) (see PARA 525 ante) and Sch 5 Pt 1 (paras 1-6) (as amended) (see PARA 711 et seq post) apply, with any necessary modifications, in relation to an appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under s 78 (as amended) as they apply in relation to an application for planning permission which falls to be determined by the local planning authority; and a development order may apply, with or without modifications, to such an appeal any requirements imposed by a development order by virtue of s 65 (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 468 ante) or s 71 (as amended) (see PARA 473 ante): s 79(4) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 19). APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(ii) Appeals against Enforcement Notices; in general/603. Right of appeal.

(ii) Appeals against Enforcement Notices; in general

603. Right of appeal.

A person having an interest in the land¹ to which an enforcement notice² relates or a relevant occupier³ may appeal to the Secretary of State⁴ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁵ against the notice, whether or not a copy of it has been served on him⁶.

An appeal may be brought on any of the following grounds:

- 2364 (1) that, in respect of any breach of planning control⁷ which may be constituted by the matters stated in the notice, planning permission⁸ ought to be granted or, as the case may be, the condition or limitation concerned ought to be discharged;
- 2365 (2) that those matters have not occurred;
- 2366 (3) that those matters, if they occurred, do not constitute a breach of planning control;
- 2367 (4) that, at the date when the notice was issued, no enforcement action could be taken in respect of any breach of planning control which may be constituted by those matters⁹;
- 2368 (5) that copies of the enforcement notice were not duly served¹⁰;
- 2369 (6) that the steps required by the notice to be taken, or the activities required by the notice to cease, exceed what is necessary to remedy any breach of planning control which may be constituted by those matters or, as the case may be, to remedy any injury to amenity¹¹ which has been caused by any such breach;
- 2370 (7) that any period specified in the notice¹² falls short of what should reasonably be allowed¹³.

Such an appeal must be made:

- 2371 (a) by giving written notice of the appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly before the date specified in the enforcement notice as the date on which it is to take effect; or
- 2372 (b) by sending such notice to him in a properly addressed and prepaid letter posted to him or to the Assembly at such time that, in the ordinary course of post, it would be delivered to him or to the Assembly before that date; or
- 2373 (c) by sending such notice to him or to the Assembly using electronic communications¹⁴ at such time that, in the ordinary course of transmission, it would be delivered to him or to the Assembly before that date¹⁵.

A person who so gives notice must submit to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, either when giving the notice or within the prescribed time¹⁶, a statement in writing:

- 2374 (i) specifying the grounds on which he is appealing against the enforcement notice; and
- 2375 (ii) giving such further information as may be prescribed¹⁷.

If, where more than one ground is specified in that statement, the appellant does not give information required under head (ii) above in relation to each of those grounds within the prescribed time, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may determine the appeal without considering any ground as to which the appellant has failed to give such information within that time¹⁸.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must¹⁹, if either the appellant or the local planning authority so desires, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by it for the purpose²⁰.

Where an appeal is so brought, the enforcement notice is of no effect²¹ pending the final determination²² or the withdrawal of the appeal²³; and, where any person has appealed to the Secretary of State or the Assembly against an enforcement notice, no person is entitled, in any other proceedings instituted after the making of the appeal, to claim that the notice was not duly served on the person who appealed²⁴.

The submission of an environmental statement on an enforcement appeal is discussed below²⁵.

1 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante. Rights of appeal against listed building enforcement notices are discussed in a later part of this title: see PARA 1186 et seq post. As to appeals against enforcement notices relating to trees see PARAS 885-886 post.

3 For these purposes, 'relevant occupier' means a person who (1) on the date on which the enforcement notice is issued occupies the land to which the notice relates by virtue of a licence; and (2) continues so to occupy the land when the appeal is brought: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174(6) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 ss 32, 74(6), Sch 7 paras 8, 22, Sch 19 Pt 1). See also Buckinghamshire County Council v Secretary of State for the Environment, Transport and the Regions (2000) 81 P & CR 342, [2001] 1 PLR 38 (principal shareholder of company renting building to which enforcement notice related was 'relevant occupier').

5 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174(1). As to procedure on appeals see PARA 604 et seq post. Where a claimant appeals against an enforcement notice, the onus of proof is on him to demonstrate that the notice is invalid: Hill v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2003] EWCA Civ 1904, [2003] All ER (D) 339 (Nov). It is not normally appropriate to challenge the validity of such a notice in criminal proceedings arising out of a failure to comply with it: see R v Wicks [1998] AC 92, [1997] 2 All ER 801, HL. That decision is not, however, concerned with whether the courts are prevented altogether or after a certain date from dealing with an allegation of unlawfulness but only with the type of proceedings in which the issue can be raised: see Earthline Ltd v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2002] EWCA Civ 1599 at [22], [2003] 1 P & CR 393, [2002] All ER (D) 64 (Nov), per Keene LJ.

7 For the meaning of 'breach of planning control' see PARA 551 ante.

8 For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante,

9 For the meaning of 'taking enforcement action' see PARA 551 ante. For an example of an unsuccessful appeal under head (4) in the text see MDJ Light Brothers Ltd v First Secretary of State [2003] All ER (D) 158 (May).

13 Ibid s 174(2) (substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 6(1)). The burden of proof in an appeal against an enforcement notice is upon the appellant in so far as establishing that no breach of planning control has occurred against which enforcement action may be taken: Nelsovil Ltd v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1962] 1 All ER 423, [1962] 1 WLR 404, DC; ZZZ Incorporated v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 1092 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 201 (Apr).

14 For the meaning of 'electronic communications' see PARA 54 note 2 ante.

15 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174(3) (substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 6(1); amended in relation to England by the Town and Country Planning (Electronic Communications) (England) Order 2003, SI 2003/956, arts 1(2), (3); and in relation to Wales by the Town and Country Planning (Electronic Communications) (Wales) (No 1) Order 2004, SI 2004/3156, art 1(2), (3)). As to the service of notices generally see PARA 54 ante.

16 The prescribed time is 14 days: see PARA 605 post. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 16 note 5 ante.

17 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174(4); and see Miller-Mead v Minister of Housing and Local Government [1963] 2 QB 196, [1963] 1 All ER 459, CA.

18 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174(5).

19 Ie subject to ibid s 176(4): see PARA 609 post.

20 Ibid s 175(3). Section 175(6), Sch 6 (as amended) (see PARA 621 et seq post) applies to appeals under s 174 (as amended), including appeals under s 174 (as amended) as applied by regulations under any other provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990: s 175(6). Section 175(3) does not apply to appeals which so fall to be determined by an appointed person: see Sch 6 para 2(2) (as amended) and PARA 623 post.

21 Ie subject to any order under ibid s 289(4A) (as added): see PARA 648 post.

22 For these purposes, 'final determination' of an appeal against an enforcement notice does not necessarily occur when an appeal to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under ibid s 174 (as amended) is determined since such an appeal is not an entirely self-contained procedure but may be subject to a further appeal to the High Court on a point of law under s 289 (as amended) (see PARA 648 post), in which case the court may remit the case to the Secretary of State or the Assembly for rehearing and determination (see CPR Sch 1 RSC Ord 94 r 13(7); and PARA 649 post). Accordingly, by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 175(4) (as amended: see note 23 infra), an enforcement notice is of no effect where the appeal procedure under s 289 (as amended) is still alive; and, if the case is remitted to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the notice has no effect until any further appeal under s 289 (as amended) is disposed of: R v Kuxhaus [1988] QB 631, [1988] 2 All ER 705, CA. As to the court's power to give interim effect to an enforcement notice, however, see the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289(4A) (as added); and PARA 648 post.

As to the limited extent to which the doctrine of issue estoppel may prevent the authority from issuing a fresh notice in respect of the same breach of planning control see Thrasyvoulou v Secretary of State for the Environment [1988] QB 809, [1988] 2 All ER 781, CA; affd [1990] 2 AC 273, [1990] 1 All ER 65, HL; and PARA 561 note 5 ante.

23 Ibid s 175(4) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 6(2)). As to the acceptance in error of an invalid appeal see R v Melton and Belvoir Justices, ex p Tynan (1977) 33 P & CR 214, DC. It is important not to attach too much significance to procedural requirements with regard to the appeal notice; thus where an appeal notice referred in error to an enforcement notice which had been withdrawn, rather than to the notice against which the appeal was made, it was held that the notice of appeal was not invalid and the inspector should have proceeded to hear the appeal against the latter enforcement notice: see R (on the application of McKay) v First Secretary of State [2005] EWCA Civ 774, [2005] All ER (D) 48 (Jun); distinguished in R (on the application of Corbett) v First Secretary of State [2005] All ER (D) 244 (Jul), [2005] 30 EG 88 (CS).

24 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 175(5). By virtue of the Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 6, Sch 4 para 1(1)(a), Table, PARA 1(3), the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 175 (as amended) has effect, until a day to be appointed by the Secretary of State, with the addition of the following subsection:

35 '(7) subsection (5) of section 250 of the Local Government Act 1972 (which authorises a Minister holding an inquiry under that section to make orders with respect to the costs of the parties) shall apply in relation to any proceedings before the Secretary of State on an appeal under s 174 as if those proceedings were an inquiry held by the Secretary of State under s 250'.

The day so appointed was 2 January 1992: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 (Appointed Day No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2698, art 3(1). Article 3(1) has effect, however, only for the purposes of awards of costs in relation to proceedings which give rise to a hearing (art 3(2)); and nothing in art 3 applies in relation to any proceedings occasioned by an application referred to the Secretary of State or an appeal made to him before 2 January 1992, or by an order or notice submitted or sent to the Secretary of State before that date for his confirmation or approval (art 4).

In relation to special enforcement notices, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 175(5), (7) has effect as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice: Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, reg 2, Schedule. As to special enforcement notices see PARA 572 ante.

603 Right of appeal

TEXT AND NOTES--Where the Secretary of State has given a decision in proceedings on an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt VII (ss 171A-196C) against an enforcement notice (1) the appellant; (2) the local planning authority; or (3) another person having an interest in the land to which the notice relates, may appeal to the High Court against the decision on a point of law: CPR 52.20(1) (CPR 52.20 added by SI 2007/2204). In such a statutory appeal, any person may apply for permission to file evidence; or to make representations at the appeal hearing: CPR 52.12A(1) (CPR 52.12A added by SI 2007/2204). Such an application must be made promptly: CPR 52.12A(2) (CPR 52.12A as so added).

604. Power to make regulations.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may by regulations prescribe the procedure which is to be followed on appeals against enforcement notices³. He or it may in particular⁴:

- 2376 (1) require the local planning authority⁵ to submit, within such time as may be prescribed⁶, a statement indicating the submissions which it proposes to put forward on the appeal;
- 2377 (2) specify the matters to be included in such a statement;
- 2378 (3) require the authority or the appellant to give such notice of such an appeal as may be prescribed⁷;
- 2379 (4) require the authority to send to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, within such period from the date of the bringing of the appeal as may be prescribed, a copy of the enforcement notice and a list of the persons served with copies of it⁸.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

5 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

6 The prescribed time is 14 days: see PARA 606 post. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see PARA 16 note 5 ante.

7 The notice to be so prescribed must be such notice as in the opinion of the Secretary of State or the Assembly is likely to bring the appeal to the attention of persons in the locality in which the land to which the enforcement notice relates is situated: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 175(2). As to public notification of the appeal see PARA 606 post. For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

8 Ibid s 175(1). As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 3 ante.

In exercise of the power conferred by s 175 (as amended) the Secretary of State has made (1) the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682, regs 6-11 (as amended) (see PARAS 605-608 post); and (2) the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683 (as amended) (see PARAS 631-633 post). The National Assembly for Wales has made (a) the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394, regs 5-10 (as amended) (see PARAS 605-608 post); and (b) the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395 (as amended) (see PARAS 631-633 post).

The Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682 (as amended), except regs 7, 8 (see PARA 606 post), apply to enforcement notices issued by the Secretary of State under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 182 (see PARA 562 ante), to appeals made to him against such notices and to appeals against notices issued by him under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 46 (as amended) (see PARA 1152 post) as they apply to such notices issued by local planning authorities and to appeals made against them (1) as if for references to a local planning authority there were substituted references to the Secretary of State; and (2) subject to other specified amendments (see PARA 564 notes 4, 14 ante, PARA 607 note 7 post): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682, reg 11. Similarly, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394 (as amended), except regs 6, 7 (see PARA 606 post), apply to enforcement notices issued by the Assembly under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 182 (see PARA 562 ante), to appeals made to it against such notices and to appeals against notices issued by it under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 46 (as amended) as they apply to such notices issued by local planning authorities and to appeals made against them (1) as if for references to a local planning authority there were substituted references to the Assembly; and (2) subject to other specified amendments (see PARA 564 notes 4, 14 ante, PARA 607 note 7 post): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394, reg 10.

604-606 Power to make regulations ... Local planning authority to send copy of notice to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(ii) Appeals against Enforcement Notices; in general/605. Statement of appeal.

605. Statement of appeal.

A person who makes an appeal¹ to the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³ against an enforcement notice⁴ must submit to him or to it a statement in writing⁵:

- 2380 (1) specifying the grounds on which he is appealing against the notice; and
- 2381 (2) setting out briefly the facts on which he proposes to rely in support of each of those grounds⁶.

If such a statement is not included with the appeal he must:

- 2382 (a) deliver it to the Secretary of State not later than 14 days from the date on which the Secretary of State sends him a notice requiring him to do so⁷; or
- 2383 (b) in relation to Wales, send it to the Assembly so that it is received by the Assembly not later than 14 days from the date on which the Assembly sends the appellant a notice requiring him to do so⁸.

Upon receipt of the statement the Secretary of State or the Assembly must notify the local planning authority⁹ in writing that an appeal has been made and copy to the authority the appeal and the statement so made¹⁰.

1 le under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174(3) (as substituted and amended) (see PARA 603 ante) or under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 39(2) (as substituted and amended: see PARA 1193 post).

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

3 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 564 note 1 ante. Rights of appeal against listed building and conservation area enforcement notices are discussed in a later part of this title: see PARA 1191 et seq post. As to appeals against enforcement notices relating to trees see PARAS 885-886 post.

5 The following provisions apply where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement in the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682, Pt 3 (regs 6-10A) (as amended) to give or send any statement, notice or other document to any other person ('the recipient'): reg 10A(1) (reg 10A added by SI 2003/956). For these purposes 'electronic communication' has the meaning given in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682, reg 3(1) (definition as so added). The requirement is to be taken to be fulfilled where the document transmitted by means of the electronic communication is (1) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (2) legible in all material respects; and (3) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference; and for these purposes, 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the notice or document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: reg 10A(2), (3) (as so added). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for this purpose 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: reg 10A(4) (as so added). A requirement that any notice or other document should be in writing is fulfilled where that document meets the criteria in heads (1)-(3) supra, and 'written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: reg 10A(5) (as so added). Where a person makes an appeal to the Secretary of State under reg 6 using electronic communications, the person is to be taken to have agreed: (a) to the use of such communications for all purposes relating to his appeal which are capable of being carried out electronically; (b) that his address for the purpose of such communications is the address incorporated into, or otherwise logically associated with, his statement of appeal; (c) that his deemed agreement under this provision is to subsist until he gives notice in accordance with reg 10A(7) (as added) that he wishes to revoke the agreement: reg 10A(6) (as so added). Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for the purposes of an appeal under the 2002 Regulations, he must give notice in writing (i) withdrawing any address notified to the Secretary of State or to a local planning authority for that purpose; or (ii) revoking any agreement entered into with the Secretary of State or with a local planning authority for that purpose, and such withdrawal or revocation is to be final and is to take effect on a date specified by the person in the notice but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: reg 10A(7) (as so added).

For similar provisions with regard to the use of electronic communications in appeals to the National Assembly for Wales for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394, Pt 3 (regs 5-9A) (as amended) see regs 9A(1)-(6), 12A (added by SI 2004/3157). As to the transmission of documents generally see the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394, reg 12 (substituted by SI 2004/3157).

607. Statement by local planning authority.

Where an appeal has been made to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² against an enforcement notice³ issued by a local planning authority⁴, the authority must submit to him or to it and to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served a statement indicating the submissions which the authority proposes to put forward on the appeal, including:

- 2384 (1) a summary of the authority's response to each of the grounds on which the appeal is brought by the appellant;
- 2385 (2) a statement whether the authority would be prepared to grant planning permission⁵ for the matters alleged in the enforcement notice to constitute the breach of planning control⁶, or grant listed building consent⁷ or conservation area consent⁸ for the works to which the listed building enforcement notice⁹ or conservation area enforcement notice¹⁰ relates, as the case may be, and, if so, particulars of the conditions, if any, which the authority would wish to impose on the permission or consent¹¹.

Any statement which is so required to be submitted must be submitted within six weeks of the starting date¹².

When the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers that he or it has received all the documents required to enable him or it to entertain the appeal, he or the Assembly must send a notice¹³ to this effect to the appellant and the local planning authority¹⁴.

608. Statement by the Secretary of State or the Assembly where he or it issued the enforcement notice.

Where an appeal has been made to the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales² against an enforcement notice³ which he or it has issued⁴, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must serve⁵ on the appellant a statement indicating the submissions which he or it proposes to put forward on the appeal⁶. The statement must include a summary of his or its response to each ground of appeal pleaded by the appellant and must be served within six weeks of the starting date⁷.

When the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers that he or it has received all the documents required to enable him or it to entertain the appeal, he or the Assembly must send a notice to this effect to the appellant and the local planning authority⁸.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 564 note 1 ante. 608 Statement by the Secretary of State or the Assembly where he or it issued the enforcement notice

NOTES--Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in this paragraph are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(ii) Appeals against Enforcement Notices; in general/609. Determination of appeal.

609. Determination of appeal.

On an appeal against an enforcement notice¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 2386 (1) correct any defect, error or misdescription in the enforcement notice; or
- 2387 (2) vary the terms of the enforcement notice, if he or it is satisfied that the correction or variation will not cause injustice to the appellant or the local planning authority⁴.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly determines to allow the appeal, he or it may quash the notice⁵; and he or the Assembly must give any directions necessary to give effect to his or its determination on the appeal⁶.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2388 (a) may dismiss an appeal if the appellant fails to submit a statement in writing⁷ within the prescribed time⁸; and
- 2389 (b) may allow an appeal and quash the enforcement notice if the local planning authority fails to comply with any requirement of the relevant regulations⁹ within the prescribed period¹⁰.

Where it would otherwise be a ground for determining an appeal against an enforcement notice in favour of the appellant that a person required to be served with a copy of the enforcement notice was not served, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may disregard that fact if neither the appellant nor that person has been substantially prejudiced¹¹ by the failure to serve him¹².

It has been held that separate appeals against individual enforcement notices are to be treated individually, each on its own merits¹³.

1 le an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as amended): see PARA 603 ante. For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante. The determination of appeals against listed building and conservation area enforcement notices is discussed in a later part of this title: see PARA 1191 et seq post. As to appeals against enforcement notices relating to trees see PARAS 885-886 post.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

3 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 176 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 176(1) (s 176(1), (2), (2A) substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 23). As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

The power to correct or vary the notice so long as no injustice is done to the appellant or the local planning authority may be used to vary the steps required to be taken by the appellant or to extend the time limits set by the notice; but the Secretary of State may not thereby set requirements exceeding what is necessary to remedy the relevant breach, especially if to do so would interfere with established uses: see Mansi v Elstree RDC (1964) 16 P & CR 153, DC (land used for the sale of produce etc but sales from a glasshouse on the land had intensified until it became primarily a shop; local planning authority served an enforcement notice requiring the sale of goods to be discontinued; court directed the minister to amend the notice so as to safeguard the appellant's established right to carry on retail trade as a subsidiary use). See also Clare and Ridgeway Ltd v Minister of Housing and Local Government (1970) 217 Estates Gazette 873, DC; Decorative and Caravan and Paints Ltd v Minister of Housing and Local Government (1970) 214 Estates Gazette 1355, DC; Trevors Warehouses Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment and Solihull Metropolitan District Council (1972) 23 P & CR 215, DC; Day and Mid-Warwickshire Motors Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1979] JPL 538, DC; Newport v Secretary of State for the Environment (1980) 40 P & CR 261, DC; Cleaver v Secretary of State for the Environment and Warwick District Council [1981] JPL 38, DC. The Secretary of State may also prescribe different steps from those originally required: see Murfitt v Secretary of State for the Environment (1980) 40 P & CR 254, DC.

There is no duty upon the Secretary of State to use the power in order to protect or preserve obvious ancillary usages: see Cord v Secretary of State for the Environment and Torbay Borough Council [1981] JPL 40, DC; North Sea Land Equipment v Secretary of State for the Environment and Thurrock Borough Council [1982] JPL 384; Haigh v Secretary of State for the Environment and Kirklees Borough Council [1983] JPL 40.

It has been held to be the duty of the Secretary of State to get an enforcement notice in order by curing errors in it so long as that would be possible without doing injustice to the parties: see Hammersmith London Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1975) 30 P & CR 19, DC (Secretary of State held to have a duty to get an enforcement notice in order and that, in doing so, he was entitled to amend the 'label' given in the notice to the activity complained of if he considered it unsuitable; phrase 'guest house' unsuitable and the Secretary of State could properly substitute 'lodging house' or 'hostel'). The power to vary a notice has been held to be wider than the power to correct one, and either may be exercised if no injustice will be done thereby to the appellant or to the local planning authority: see Wealden District Council v Secretary of State for the Environment and Innocent [1983] JPL 234; Harrogate Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment and Proctor [1987] JPL 288. The power of correction or variation under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 176(1) (as substituted) does not, however, permit the Secretary of State to make an addition to a local planning authority's enforcement notice which could not have been included in the first place: Tandridge District Council v Verrechia [2000] QB 318, [1999] 3 All ER 247, CA.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(ii) Appeals against Enforcement Notices; in general/610. Grant or modification of planning permission on appeals against enforcement notices.

610. Grant or modification of planning permission on appeals against enforcement notices.

On the determination of an appeal against an enforcement notice¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 2390 (1) grant planning permission⁴ in respect of the matters stated in the enforcement notice as constituting a breach of planning control, whether in relation to the whole or any part of those matters or in relation to the whole or any part of the land⁵ to which the notice relates;
- 2391 (2) discharge any condition or limitation⁶ subject to which planning permission was granted;
- 2392 (3) determine whether, on the date on which the appeal was made, any existing use⁷ of the land was lawful, any operations which had been carried out in, on, over or under the land were lawful or any matter constituting a failure to comply with any condition or limitation subject to which planning permission was granted was lawful and, if so, issue⁸ a certificate of lawful use or development⁹.

In considering whether so to grant planning permission, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must have regard to the provisions of the development plan¹⁰, so far as material to the subject matter of the enforcement notice, and to any other material considerations¹¹.

In relation to a grant of planning permission or a determination under the above provisions the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's decision is final¹².

Where particulars of any planning permission granted by the Secretary of State or the Assembly on an appeal against an enforcement notice are entered in Part II of the register¹³ the relevant planning authority¹⁴ must take steps to secure that that Part also contains a copy of any of the specified documents relating to environmental impact assessment¹⁵ as are relevant to the development for which planning permission has been granted¹⁶.

1 le an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as amended): see PARA 603 ante. For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante. Appeals against listed building and conservation area enforcement notices are discussed in a later part of this title: see PARA 1191 et seq post. As to appeals against enforcement notices relating to trees see PARAS 885-886 post.

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

3 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

4 The planning permission which may be so granted is any planning permission which might be granted on an application under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt III (ss 55-106B) (as amended) (see PARA 217 et seq ante): s 177(3) (s 177(1)(a), (1)(c), (1A), (1B), (3), substituted, and s 177(5) amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 24).

Where an appeal against an enforcement notice is brought under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as amended), the appellant is deemed to have made an application for planning permission in respect of the matters stated in the enforcement notice as constituting a breach of planning control: s 177(5) (as so amended).

Where (1) the statement under s 174(4) (see PARA 603 ante) specified the ground mentioned in s 174(2)(a) (as substituted) (see PARA 603 ante at head (1) in the text); (2) any fee is payable under regulations made by virtue of s 303 (as amended) (see PARA 458 ante) in respect of the application deemed to be made by virtue of the appeal; and (3) the Secretary of State or the Assembly gives notice in writing to the appellant specifying the period within which the fee must be paid, then, if that fee is not paid within that period, the appeal, so far as brought on that ground, and the application lapse at the end of that period: s 177(5A) (added by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 6(3)). As to the fee payable see PARAS 461-462 ante.

Any planning permission so granted on an appeal is treated as granted on an application deemed to have been made by the appellant: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(6). For the meaning of 'planning permission' see PARA 43 note 6 ante; for the meaning of 'breach of planning control' see PARA 551 ante; and for the meaning of 'development' see PARA 217 ante.

The combined effect of ss 174, 177 (as amended) is to impose a duty on an inspector considering separate appeals against enforcement notices in relation to separate parts of a site to treat each individual appeal as a separate application for planning permission. Each appeal is to be treated individually and on its own merits: Bruschweiler v Secretary of State for the Environment and Chelmsford Borough Council (1994) 70 P & CR 150, [1994] EGCS 206.

5 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

6 Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly so discharges a condition or limitation, he or it may substitute another condition or limitation for it, whether more or less onerous: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(4).

7 For the meaning of 'use' see PARA 221 note 4 ante.

8 le under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 191 (as substituted): see PARA 586 ante. The provisions of s 191(5)-(7) (as substituted) (see PARA 586 ante), s 193(4) (as substituted) (see PARAS 586-587 ante), so far as it relates to the form of the certificate, s 193(6), (7) (as substituted) (see PARAS 466, 593 respectively ante) and s 194 (as substituted) (see PARA 595 ante) apply for the purposes of s 177(1)(c) (as substituted: see note 4 supra) as they apply for the purposes of s 191 (as substituted), but as if (1) any reference to an application for a certificate were a reference to the appeal and any reference to the date of such an application were a reference to the date on which the appeal is made; and (2) references to the local planning authority were references to the Secretary of State or the Assembly: s 177(1A), (1B) (as so substituted). As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

9 Ibid s 177(1) (as amended: see note 4 supra).

10 For the meaning of 'development plan' see PARA 91 ante.

11 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177(2). For the purposes of s 69 (as substituted) (see PARA 466 ante), the Secretary of State's or Assembly's decision is treated as having been given by him or by it in dealing with an application for planning permission made to the local planning authority: s 177(8). As to material considerations see PARA 485 ante.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(ii) Appeals against Enforcement Notices; in general/612. Special enforcement notices; in general.

612. Special enforcement notices; in general.

At the date at which this title states the law, the following provisions apply. Any person¹ who carried out the development² alleged in a special enforcement notice³ and any person who is occupying the land⁴ when the notice is issued may appeal against the notice to the Secretary of State⁵ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶ on the ground that the matters alleged in the notice have not taken place or do not constitute such development⁷. A person may so appeal against a special enforcement notice whether or not he was served with a copy of it⁸.

These provisions are, however, prospectively repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004⁹.

1 Ie any such person as is mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 295(1)(a) or (b) (prospectively repealed): see PARA 572 ante.

2 Ie development to which ibid s 294 (prospectively repealed) applies: see PARA 572 ante.

On an appeal against a refusal or failure to give a decision on an application for a certificate of existing or proposed lawful use or development¹, if and in so far as the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ is satisfied:

2395 (1) in the case of an appeal where the application is refused or is refused in part⁴, that the authority's refusal is not well-founded; or

2396 (2) in the case of an appeal where the authority does not give notice of its decision within the prescribed period⁵, that, if the authority had refused the application, its refusal would not have been well-founded, he or the Assembly must grant the appellant a certificate of existing or proposed lawful use or development⁶ accordingly or, in the case of a refusal in part, modify the certificate granted by the authority on the application⁷. Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly grants such a certificate on an appeal, he or it must give notice to the local planning authority⁸ of that fact⁹.

If and so far as the Secretary of State or the Assembly is satisfied that the authority's refusal is or, as the case may be, would have been well-founded, he or it must dismiss the appeal¹⁰.

The decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on such an appeal is final¹¹.

(iv) Appeals regarding Planning Obligations

615. Introduction.

Under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004, new provisions are made for the procedures under which developers may make a planning contribution¹. Once those provisions come into force, the system under which negotiated planning obligations operate will move from primary legislation to the regulations to be made under the 2004 Act². At the date at which this title states the law, the relevant provisions of the 2004 Act were not in force and the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 with regard to planning obligations continued to apply³. The following paragraphs set out the arrangements for appeals in relation to such obligations⁴.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Appeals regarding Planning Obligations/616. Right of appeal.

616. Right of appeal.

Where a local planning authority¹:

- 2397 (1) fails to give a notice of modification or discharge of a planning obligation²;
or
- 2398 (2) determines that a planning obligation shall continue to have effect without modification, the applicant may appeal to the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁴.

Such an appeal must be made by notice served within such period and in such manner as may be prescribed⁵. It must be made with six months of:

- 2399 (a) the date of the notice of the decision giving rise to the appeal; or
- 2400 (b) in the case of an appeal under head (1) above, the expiry of the specified period⁶; or within such longer period as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may, at any time, allow⁷. The appeal must be made on a form obtained from the Secretary of State or the Assembly, must include the information specified in the form and must be accompanied by a copy of:

- 2401 (i) the application made to the local planning authority which has occasioned the appeal;
- 2402 (ii) the certificate which accompanied the application⁸;
- 2403 (iii) the instrument by which the planning obligation which is the subject of the application was entered into;
- 2404 (iv) any correspondence with the authority relating to the application; and
- 2405 (v) the notice of decision, if any⁹.

An appellant must send a copy of the completed notice of appeal form to the local planning authority at the same time as the appeal is made to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁰.

As to the prospective repeal of the provisions set out in the text see further PARA 241 ante.

For the purposes of an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 106B(1)(a) (as so substituted) (see head (1) in the text), it is assumed that the authority has determined that the planning obligation shall continue to have effect without modification: s 106B(2) (as so substituted).

Section 106A(6)-(9) (as substituted; prospectively repealed) (see PARA 249 ante) applies in relation to appeals to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under s 106B (as substituted) as it applies in relation to applications to authorities under s 106A (as substituted): s 106B(4) (as so substituted). APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(1) RIGHTS OF APPEAL TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Appeals regarding Planning Obligations/617. Determination of appeal.

617. Determination of appeal.

Before determining an appeal relating to a planning obligation¹, the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ must, if either the applicant or the authority so wishes, give each of them an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or the Assembly for the purpose⁴.

The determination of such an appeal by the Secretary of State or the Assembly is final⁵.

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 106B(5) (s 106B substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 12(1); prospectively repealed by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 ss 118, 120, Sch 6 para 5, Sch 9, as from a day to be appointed under s 121; at the date at which this title states the law, no such day had been appointed). As to the prospective repeal of the provisions set out in the text see further PARA 241 ante.

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 106B(7), Sch 6 (as respectively substituted and amended) (see PARA 621 et seq post) applies to appeals under s 106B (as substituted): s 106B(7) (as substituted and prospectively repealed: see note 4 supra). The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 106B(4) (sic) (as substituted; prospectively repealed) (see PARA 616 ante) does not apply to appeals which so fall to be determined by an appointed person: see Sch 6 para 2(2) (as amended) and PARA 623 post. Quaere whether, by analogy with the other provisions listed in Sch 6 para 2(2) (as amended), the intended reference is to s 106B(5) (as substituted) and not s 106B(4) (as substituted).

Appeals under s 106B (as so substituted and prospectively repealed) are prescribed for the purposes of Sch 6 para 1(1) (as amended) as a class of appeals which are to be determined by a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purpose instead of by him or by the Assembly: see the Town and Country Planning (Modification and Discharge of Planning Obligations) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/2832, reg 8. As to such appeals (known as 'transferred appeals') see PARA 621 et seq post.

The duty imposed on a planning inspector hearing such an appeal is to decide the case, not to undertake research on behalf of the parties; and he is not obliged to take into account a relevant decision of a colleague which has not been drawn to his attention: see Granchester Retail Park v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 92 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 34 (Jan).

(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY

(i) Submission of Environmental Statements on Appeal

618. Appeals against planning decisions etc without an environmental statement.

Where on consideration of an appeal against a planning decision or failure to take such a decision¹ it appears to the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales³ that:

- 2406 (1) the relevant application is a Schedule 1 application⁴ or Schedule 2 application⁵; and
- 2407 (2) the development⁶ in question has not been the subject of a screening opinion⁷ or screening direction⁸; and
- 2408 (3) the relevant application is not accompanied by a statement referred to by the appellant as an environmental statement⁹ for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999¹⁰, the relevant provisions with regard to making a screening direction¹¹ apply as if the appeal were a request for a screening direction made¹² by the appellant¹³.

Where an inspector¹⁴ is dealing with an appeal and a question arises as to whether the relevant application is an EIA application¹⁵ and it appears to the inspector that it may be such an application, the inspector must refer that question to the Secretary of State or the Assembly and may not determine the appeal, except by refusing planning permission¹⁶, before he receives a screening direction¹⁷. Where it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that the relevant application is an EIA application and is not accompanied by a statement referred to by the appellant as an environmental statement for the purposes of the 1999 Regulations, he or the Assembly must notify the appellant in writing¹⁸ that the submission of an environmental statement is required and must send a copy of that notification to the relevant planning authority¹⁹. An appellant who receives such a notification may within three weeks beginning with the date of the notification write to the Secretary of State or the Assembly stating that he proposes to provide an environmental statement²⁰. If the appellant does not write in accordance with this provision, the Secretary of State or the Assembly or, where relevant, the inspector is under no duty to deal with the appeal; and at the end of the three-week period he or the Assembly must inform the appellant that no further action is being taken on the appeal²¹.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has given a notification that the submission of an environmental statement is required²², he or it or, where relevant, the inspector may determine the appeal only by refusing planning permission if the appellant does not submit an environmental statement and comply with the requirements²³ concerning publicity²⁴.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(i) Submission of Environmental Statements on Appeal/619. Enforcement appeals without an environmental statement.

619. Enforcement appeals without an environmental statement.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² is considering an appeal against an enforcement notice³ and the matters which are alleged to constitute the breach of planning control comprise or include unauthorised EIA development⁴, and the documents submitted to him or to the Assembly for the purposes of the appeal do not include a statement referred to by the appellant as an environmental statement⁵ for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁶, the following procedure applies⁷. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must within the period of three weeks beginning with the day on which he or it receives the appeal, or such longer period as he or it may reasonably require, notify the appellant in writing of the specified⁸ requirements regarding submission of an environmental statement⁹. Notice need not, however, be so given where the appellant has submitted a statement which he refers to as an environmental statement for the purposes of the 1999 Regulations to the Secretary of State or the Assembly for the purposes of an appeal against a planning decision or a failure to take such decision¹⁰ which:

- 2409 (1) relates to the development to which the enforcement appeal relates; and
- 2410 (2) is to be determined at the same time as that enforcement appeal; and that statement, any further information¹¹, and the representations, if any, made in relation to it are to be treated¹² as the environmental statement and representations¹³.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must send to the relevant planning authority¹⁴ a copy of any notice sent to the appellant under the above provisions¹⁵. If an appellant to whom notice has been so given fails to comply with the specified requirements¹⁶, the deemed application¹⁷ and the ground (a) appeal¹⁸, if any, lapse at the end of the period specified or allowed, as the case may be¹⁹. As soon as reasonably practicable after the occurrence of that event, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must notify the appellant and the local planning authority²⁰ in writing that the deemed application and the ground (a) appeal, if any, have lapsed²¹.

Where, however, on consideration of an appeal against an enforcement notice it appears to the Secretary of State or the Assembly that the matters which are alleged to constitute the breach of planning control comprise or include Schedule 1 development²² or Schedule 2 development²³ and, in either case, no screening opinion²⁴ has been adopted and no screening direction²⁵ has been made in respect of that development, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, before any notice is served pursuant to the above provisions²⁶, make such a screening direction²⁷. If the Secretary of State or Assembly considers that he or it has not been provided with sufficient information to make a screening direction he or the Assembly must notify the applicant and the authority by which the regulation 25 notice²⁸ was served of the matters in respect of which he or the Assembly requires additional information; and the information so requested must be provided by the applicant within such reasonable period as may be specified in the notice²⁹. If an appellant to whom such notice has been given fails to comply with the requirements of that notice, the application which is deemed to have been made by virtue of the appeal made³⁰ ('the deemed application') and the appeal in so far as it is brought under the ground that, in respect of any breach of planning control which may be constituted by the matters stated in the enforcement notice, planning permission ought to be granted or, as the case may be, the condition or limitation concerned ought to be discharged³¹ ('the ground (a) appeal'), lapses at the end of the period specified in the notice³².

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(i) Submission of Environmental Statements on Appeal/620. Enforcement appeals where an environmental statement is submitted.

620. Enforcement appeals where an environmental statement is submitted.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² receives, in connection with an enforcement appeal³ and otherwise than by way of a statement submitted in connection with an appeal against a planning decision or failure to take a decision⁴, a statement which the appellant refers to as an environmental statement⁵ for the purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) (England and Wales) Regulations 1999⁶, he or the Assembly must:

2411 (1) send a copy of that statement to the relevant planning authority⁷, advise the authority that the statement will be taken into consideration in determining the deemed application and the ground (a) appeal⁸, if any, and inform that authority that it may make representations⁹; and

2412 (2) notify the persons to whom a copy of the relevant regulation 25 notice¹⁰ was sent that the statement will be taken into consideration in determining the deemed application and the ground (a) appeal, if any, and inform them that they may make representations and that, if they wish to receive a copy of the statement or any part of it, they must notify the Secretary of State or the Assembly of their requirements within seven days of the receipt of the Secretary of State's or Assembly's notice; and 2413 (3) respond to requirements notified in accordance with head (2) above by providing a copy of the statement or of the part requested, as the case may be¹¹.

The above provisions apply in relation to further information received¹² by the Secretary of State or the Assembly as they apply to such a statement as is referred to above¹³.

Where an authority receives a copy of a statement or further information by virtue of head (1) above, it must publish in a local newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land¹⁴ is situated a notice stating:

- 2414 (a) the name of the appellant and that he has appealed to the Secretary of State or the Assembly against the enforcement notice;
- 2415 (b) the address or location of the land to which the notice relates and the nature of the development¹⁵;
- 2416 (c) that a copy of the statement or further information may be inspected by members of the public at all reasonable hours;
- 2417 (d) an address in the locality in which the land is situated at which the statement or further information may be inspected, and the latest date on which it will be available for inspection, being a date not less than 21 days later than the date on which the notice is published;
- 2418 (e) that any person wishing to make representations about any matter dealt with in the statement or further information should make them in writing, no later than 14 days after the date named in accordance with head (d) above, to the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and
- 2419 (f) the address to which any such representations should be sent¹⁶.

The authority must as soon as practicable after publication of a notice in accordance with these provisions send to the Secretary of State or the Assembly a copy of the notice certified by or on behalf of the authority as having been published in a named newspaper on a date specified in the certificate¹⁷. Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly receives such a certificate he or the Assembly may not determine the deemed application or the ground (a) appeal in respect of the development to which the certificate relates until the expiry of 14 days from the date stated in the published notice as the last date on which the statement or further information was available for inspection¹⁸.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(ii) Whether Appeals to be Determined by Appointed Person/621. Power to make regulations prescribing classes of appeals to be transferred.

(ii) Whether Appeals to be Determined by Appointed Person

621. Power to make regulations prescribing classes of appeals to be transferred.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may by regulations prescribe classes of appeals³ which are to be determined by a person appointed by him or the Assembly ('an appointed person') for the purpose instead of by the Secretary of State or by the Assembly⁴. Such appeals are known as 'transferred appeals'⁵. Those classes of appeals must be so determined except in such classes of case as may for the time being be prescribed or as may be specified in directions given by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁶; and regulations so made may provide for the giving of publicity to any directions so given by him or by it⁷.

The above provisions do not, however, affect any provision in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 or any instrument made under it that an appeal is to lie to, or a notice of appeal is to be served on, the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁸.

There are similar powers to prescribe classes of appeals under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990⁹ and the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990¹⁰. These are discussed in later parts of this title¹¹.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 As to appeals under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 ante), s 106B (as substituted; prospectively repealed) (see PARA 616 ante), s 174 (as amended) (see PARA 603 ante), s 195 (as amended) (see PARA 613 ante) and s 208 (as amended) (see PARA 885 post) and under the Environment Act 1995 s 96(1), Sch 13 paras 6(11), (12), 11(1), Sch 14 para 91(1) (see PARA 740 post).

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 para 1(1), (5) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 54(1), (2); and by the Environment Act 1995 s 120(1), Sch 22 para 44). As to the exercise of this power see the Town and Country Planning (Determination of Appeals by Appointed Persons) (Prescribed Classes) Regulations 1997, SI 1997/420; the Town and Country Planning (Modification and Discharge of Planning Obligations) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/2832, reg 8; and PARA 617 note 4 ante, PARA 622 et seq post. As to the making of regulations generally see PARA 3 ante.

If, before or during the determination of an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) which is to be or is being determined in accordance with Sch 6 para 1 (as amended), the Secretary of State or the Assembly forms the opinion mentioned in s 79(6) (see PARA 601 ante), he or it may direct that the determination is not to be begun or proceeded with: Sch 6 para 7.

Where an appointed person is an officer of the relevant government department or of the Assembly, the functions of determining an appeal and doing anything in connection therewith conferred on him by Sch 6 (as amended) (see PARA 623 et seq post) are treated for the purposes of the Parliamentary Commissioner Act 1967 or, as the case may be, of the Government of Wales Act 1998 Sch 9 (as amended; prospectively repealed by the Public Services Ombudsman (Wales) Act 2005 s 39, Sch 6 paras 65, 69, as from a day to be appointed under s 40; at the date at which this title states the law, those repeals were not in force) (see PARA 23 ante; and ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 45): (1) if he was appointed by the Secretary of State for the time being having general responsibility in planning matters in relation to England, as functions of that department; and (2) if he was appointed by the Assembly, as functions of the Assembly: see the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 para 8(2) (modified by the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and by the Transfer of Functions (Transport, Local Government and the Regions) Order 2002, SI 2002/2626, art 20, Sch 2 para 15(1), (5)). The relevant government department at the date at which this title states the law is the Office of the Deputy Prime Minister: see PARA 19 ante. For the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 2 note 1 ante.

5 See the Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 2(1) (as so renumbered); the Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172); the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 2(1) (as so renumbered); and PARA 634 et seq post.

6 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 para 1(2). On the giving by the Secretary of State or the Assembly of such a direction he or it may by notice in writing enclosing a copy of the direction require the local planning authority for every area in respect of which the direction has effect to publish as soon as may be a notice in at least one newspaper circulating in the area; and such notice must contain a concise statement of the direction and must specify the place or places where a copy of the direction may be seen at all reasonable hours: Town and Country Planning (Determination of Appeals by Appointed Persons) (Prescribed Classes)

Regulations 1997, SI 1997/420, reg 5(1). For these purposes, 'local planning authority' means, as respects any class of appeal, a local planning authority against whose decision (or failure to take a decision) an appeal of that class may be made: reg 5(2). APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(ii) Whether Appeals to be Determined by Appointed Person/622. Jurisdiction.

622. Jurisdiction.

Subject to the exceptions set out below¹, the following classes of appeal are prescribed² as appeals to be determined by a person appointed by the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁴ instead of being determined by the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2420 (1) appeals against planning decisions and failure to take such decisions⁵, including appeals against refusal of, or the failure to take a decision on, an application for express consent to display an advertisement⁶;
- 2421 (2) appeals against enforcement notices⁷;

- 2422 (3) appeals⁸ against the refusal of or failure to give a decision on an application for a certificate of lawfulness of an existing or proposed use or development⁹;
- 2423 (4) appeals¹⁰ relating to planning obligations¹¹.

The following classes of appeal are, however, reserved for determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2424 (a) appeals by statutory undertakers¹² against planning decisions and failure to take such decisions¹³ where the relevant application related to land¹⁴ which is operational land¹⁵ or in which the statutory undertakers propose to acquire an interest¹⁶;
- 2425 (b) appeals by statutory undertakers against enforcement notices¹⁷ where the breach of planning control¹⁸ alleged in the enforcement notice consists in the carrying out of development on land such as is described in head (a) above, or failure to comply with a condition or limitation on a grant of planning permission for development of any such land;
- 2426 (c) appeals against enforcement notices¹⁹ relating to development²⁰ in respect of which an environmental statement is required²¹ for the statutory purposes²².

Appeals falling within heads (1) to (4) above are known as 'transferred appeals'²³ and appeals falling within heads (a) to (c) above are known as 'non-transferred appeals'²⁴. Transferred appeals and non-transferred appeals under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 and the Planning (Hazardous Substances) Act 1990 are discussed in later parts of this title²⁵.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(ii) Whether Appeals to be Determined by Appointed Person/623. Powers and duties of appointed persons.

623. Powers and duties of appointed persons.

An appointed person¹ has the same powers and duties as the Secretary of State² or the National Assembly for Wales³ has⁴ in relation to appeals⁵.

If both the parties express a wish not to appear and be heard, the appeal may be determined without their being heard⁶; but, if either of the parties expresses a wish to appear and be heard, the appointed person must give them both an opportunity of doing so⁷.

Where an appeal has been determined by an appointed person, his decision is treated as that of the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, that of the Assembly⁸; and the validity of that decision may not, except as provided by the relevant provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁹, be questioned in any proceedings whatsoever¹⁰.

Where in any enactment¹¹ there is a reference to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in a context relating to or capable of relating to:

- 2427 (1) an appeal to which these provisions¹² apply; or
- 2428 (2) any thing done or authorised or required to be done by, to or before the Secretary of State or the Assembly on or in connection with any such appeal, then, so far as the context permits, it is to be construed, in relation to an appeal determined or falling to be determined by an appointed person, as a reference to him¹³.

The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 79(2) (see PARA 601 ante), s 106B(4) (as substituted and prospectively repealed) (see PARA 616 ante), s 175(3) (see PARA 603 ante), s 196(1) (as amended) (see PARA 613 ante) and s 208(5) (see PARA 886 post) do not apply to an appeal which falls to be determined by an appointed person; but, before the appeal is determined, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must ask the appellant and the local planning authority whether they wish to appear before, and be heard by, the appointed person: Sch 6 para 2(2) (as so amended). Schedule 6 para 2(2) (as so amended) does not, however, apply in the case of an appeal under s 78 (as amended) if the appeal is referred to a planning inquiry commission under s 101 (as amended) (see PARA 704 et seq post): Sch 6 para 2(5). As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

An inspector (ie an appointed person) has a duty to take into account relevant decisions of his colleagues but this duty only extends to decisions drawn to his attention: see Granchester Retail Park v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 92 (Admin) at [26], [2003] All ER (D) 34 (Jan), per Jackson J, and the authorities there cited. See also JS Bloor Sudbury Ltd v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 1898 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 279 (Jul) (matter coming before the local authority on two different occasions; doctrines of res judicata and issue estoppel do not apply to decisions of inspectors but previous inspector's decision a material consideration which second inspector obliged to take into account). Where a matter is treated by the parties as not material, it is not incumbent on a planning inspector to seek that matter out, even if there are indications that it might be material to the appeal before him: R (on the application of Taussig) v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 3281

It is not open to an inspector, in deciding whether a proposed development is in conformity with a local policy, to introduce into that policy a new test of 'material harm': see Richmondshire District Council v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 1627 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 352 (Jun). In deciding an appeal against the refusal of planning permission for development of a site on a residential basis, an inspector is under no duty to express a view as to the future possibilities should an application emerge in relation to mixed development of the site: Chris Jaram Developments Ltd v First Secretary of State [2004] EWHC 1220 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 110 (May). An inspector is entitled to refuse to consider the argument that an application for planning permission was originally made under a misapprehension and is not to be criticised for deciding the matter on the basis upon which it comes before him: Fasuyi v First Secretary of State [2003] EWHC 1457 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 92 (Jun).

TEXT AND NOTES 1-5--1990 Act Sch 6 para 2(1), (2) further amended: Planning Act 2008 s 198(1), (3) (in force in relation to England).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(ii) Whether Appeals to be Determined by Appointed Person/624. Determination of appeals by the Secretary of State or the Assembly instead of by an inspector.

624. Determination of appeals by the Secretary of State or the Assembly instead of by an inspector.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may, if he or it thinks fit, direct that an appeal which would otherwise fall to be determined by an appointed person³ is instead be determined by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁴. Such a direction must state the reasons for which it is given and must be served on the person, if any, so appointed, the appellant, the local planning authority⁵, and any person who has made representations relating to the subject matter of the appeal which the authority is required⁶ to take into account⁷.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must give the appellant, the local planning authority and any person who has made representations⁸ an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly for that purpose if:

2429 (1) the reasons for the direction raise matters with respect to which any of those persons have not made representations; or 2430 (2) in the case of an appellant or the local planning authority, either of them was not asked⁹ whether he or it wished to appear before, and be heard by, the appointed person, or expressed no wish in answer to that question, or expressed a wish to appear and be heard but was not given an opportunity of doing so¹⁰.

In determining the appeal, the Secretary of State or the Assembly may take into account any report made to him or to it by any person previously appointed to determine the appeal¹¹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may by a further direction revoke a direction given by him or by it under the above provisions at any time before the determination of the appeal¹². Such a further direction must state the reasons for which it is given and must be served on the person, if any, previously appointed to determine the appeal, the appellant, the local planning authority and any person who has made representations relating to the subject matter of the appeal which the authority is required¹³ to take into account¹⁴. Where such a further direction has been given, anything done by or on behalf of the Secretary of State or the Assembly in connection with the appeal which might have been done by the appointed person, including any arrangements made for the holding of a hearing or local inquiry, is to be treated, unless that person directs otherwise, as having been done by him¹⁵.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under Sch 6 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'an appointed person' see PARA 621 ante.

4 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 para 3(1).

If the appeal does not fall within the guidelines to which the Secretary of State is to have regard when deciding not to call in an appeal under Sch 6 para 3(1), his refusal to do so cannot be categorised as perverse or absurd: see eg Morbaine Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment, South Northamptonshire Council v Secretary of State for the Environment (1995) 70 P & CR 224, (1995) 160 LG Rev 281, CA.

5 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

6 Ie under any provision of a development order made by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 71(2)(a) (as substituted): see PARA 473 ante. For the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 252 ante.

7 Ibid Sch 6 para 3(2) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 32, Sch 7 paras 8, 54(1), (4)). Where in consequence of such a direction an appeal falls to be determined by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 which are relevant to the appeal apply to it, subject to Sch 6 para 3(4)-(6) (see the text and notes 8-10 infra), as if Sch 6 (as amended) had never applied to it: Sch 6 para 3(3).

8 Ie any such representations as are mentioned in ibid Sch 6 para 3(2) (as amended): see the text to notes 5-7 supra.

9 Ie in pursuance of ibid Sch 6 para 2(2) (as amended): see PARA 623 ante.

10 Ibid Sch 6 para 3(4). Schedule 6 para 3(4) does not, however, apply in the case of an appeal under s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 ante) if the appeal is referred to a planning inquiry commission under s 101 (as amended) (see PARA 704 post): Sch 6 para 3(5).

Except as provided by Sch 6 para 3(4), the Secretary of State or the Assembly need not give any person an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed for the purpose, or of making fresh representations or making or withdrawing any representations already made: Sch 6 para 3(6).

11 Ibid Sch 6 para 3(7).

12 Ibid Sch 6 para 4(1).

13 See note 6 supra.

14 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 para 4(2) (amended by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 Sch 7 paras 8, 54(1), (4)). Where such a further direction has been given, the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 (as amended) relevant to the appeal apply, subject to Sch 6 para 4(4) (see the text to note 15 infra), as if no direction under Sch 6 para 3 (as amended) had been given: Sch 6 para 4(3).

At any time before the appointed person¹ has determined the appeal the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ may:

- 2431 (1) revoke that person's appointment; and
- 2432 (2) appoint another person⁴ to determine the appeal instead⁵.

Where such a new appointment is made, the consideration of the appeal or any inquiry or other hearing in connection with it must be begun afresh⁶.

Whether or not the parties to an appeal have asked for an opportunity to appear and to be heard, an appointed person¹:

- 2433 (1) may hold a local inquiry in connection with the appeal; and
- 2434 (2) must do so if the Secretary of State² or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales³ so directs⁴.

Where an appointed person holds a hearing⁵ or holds an inquiry⁶, an assessor may be appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to sit with the appointed person at the hearing or inquiry to advise him on any matters arising, notwithstanding that the appointed person is to determine the appeal⁷. The statutory requirements with regard to evidence at such an inquiry are discussed in a later part of this title⁸.

The costs of any such hearing or inquiry must⁹ be defrayed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁰.

The detailed rules with regard to hearings before an inspector appointed to hear an appeal are discussed below¹¹; and the rules with regard to inquiries held by an inspector so appointed are discussed in a later part of this title¹².

10 Ibid Sch 6 para 6(3). The Local Government Act 1972 s 250(2)-(5) (as amended) (evidence at and costs of local inquiries: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 105) applies to an inquiry held by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 para 6 with the following adaptations: (1) for the references in the Local Government Act 1972 s 250(4) (recovery of costs of holding inquiry) to the minister causing the inquiry to be held there must be substituted references to the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and (2) for the reference in s 250(5) (orders as to costs of the parties) to the minister causing the inquiry to be held there must be substituted a reference to the appointed person or the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 para 6(4).

The appointed person or the Secretary of State or Assembly has the same power to make orders under the Local Government Act 1972 s 250(5) in relation to proceedings under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 (as amended) (see PARA 621 et seq ante) which do not give rise to an inquiry as he has in relation to such an inquiry: Sch 6 para 6(5).

Schedule 6 (as amended) has effect with the omission of Sch 6 para 6(5) until a day to be appointed by the Secretary of State: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 s 6, Sch 4 paras 1(1)(a), Table, 1(3), 7. The day so appointed was 2 January 1992: Planning (Consequential Provisions) Act 1990 (Appointed Day No 1 and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/2698, art 3(1). Article 3(1) has effect, however, only for the purposes of awards of costs in relation to proceedings which give rise to a hearing (art 3(2)); and nothing in art 3 applies in relation to any proceedings occasioned by an application referred to the Secretary of State or an appeal made to him before 2 January 1992, or by an order or notice submitted or sent to the Secretary of State before that date for his confirmation or approval (art 4).

(iii) Determination of Certain Appeals by Written Representations

A. POWER TO MAKE REGULATIONS

627. Procedure on certain appeals and applications; power to make regulations.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may by regulations prescribe the procedure to be followed in connection with proceedings under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 where he or the Assembly is required, before reaching a decision, to give any person an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly and which are to be disposed of without an inquiry or hearing to which rules under the Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992³ apply⁴.

The regulations may in particular make provision as to the procedure to be followed:

- 2435 (1) where steps have been taken with a view to the holding of such an inquiry or hearing which does not take place; or
- 2436 (2) where steps have been taken with a view to the determination of any matter by a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the proceedings are the subject of a direction that the matter is instead to be determined by the Secretary of State or the Assembly; or 2437 (3) where steps have been taken in pursuance of such a direction and a further direction is made revoking that direction, and may provide that such steps are to be treated as compliance, in whole or in part, with the requirements of the regulations⁵.

The regulations may also:

- 2438 (a) provide for a time limit within which any party to the proceedings must submit representations in writing and any supporting documents;
- 2439 (b) prescribe the time limit, which may be different for different classes of proceedings, or enable the Secretary of State or the Assembly to give directions setting the time limit in a particular case or class of case;
- 2440 (c) empower the Secretary of State or the Assembly to proceed to a decision taking into account only such written representations and supporting documents as were submitted within the time limit; and
- 2441 (d) empower the Secretary of State or the Assembly, after giving the parties written notice of his or its intention to do so, to proceed to a decision notwithstanding that no written representations were made within the time limit, if it appears to him or to the Assembly that he or it has sufficient material before him or before it to enable him, or to enable the Assembly, to reach a decision on the merits of the case⁶.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iii) Determination of Certain Appeals by Written Representations/B. APPEALS REGARDING PLANNING APPLICATIONS AND DECISIONS/628. Jurisdiction.

B. APPEALS REGARDING PLANNING APPLICATIONS AND DECISIONS

628. Jurisdiction.

In relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000¹ apply where an appellant against a planning decision or a failure to take such a decision² informs the Secretary of State³ in the notice of appeal⁴ that he wishes the appeal to be disposed of on the basis of written representations⁵. Where an appeal against a planning decision or a failure to take such a decision⁶ is not being disposed of on the basis of written representations and the appellant and the local planning authority⁷ inform the Secretary of State that they wish it to be disposed of on that basis, those 2000 Regulations apply to the proceedings to such extent as the Secretary of State may specify having regard to any steps already taken in relation to those proceedings⁸.

Where an appeal arises from an application in respect of which the Mayor of London⁹ has directed the local planning authority to refuse the application and where the written representations procedure is adopted in accordance with the above provisions, the 2000 Regulations apply subject to prescribed modifications¹⁰.

In relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003¹¹ apply where an appellant¹²:

- 2442 (1) against a planning decision or a failure to take such a decision;
- 2443 (2) against a decision relating to a consent under a tree preservation order¹³;
- or
- 2444 (3) against a decision requiring the planting of trees¹⁴, informs the National Assembly for Wales¹⁵ in the relevant notice¹⁶ of a wish for the appeal to be disposed of on the basis of written representations¹⁷; and for these purposes 'appeal' also includes certain applications¹⁸. Where an appeal such as is described in head (1) or head (2) above is not being disposed of on the basis of written representations and the appellant and the local planning authority inform the Assembly that they wish it to be disposed of on that basis, those 2003 Regulations apply to the appeal to such extent as the Assembly may specify having regard to any steps already taken in relation to the appeal¹⁹.

Where an appellant or, as the case may be, the appellant and the local planning authority, informs the Secretary of State or the Assembly of a wish for the appeal to be disposed of on the basis of written representations and so informs him or it using electronic communications²⁰, the appellant is to be taken to have agreed:

- 2445 (a) to the use of such communications for all purposes of the relevant regulations²¹ relating to his appeal which are capable of being carried out electronically;
- 2446 (b) that his address for the purpose of such communications is the address incorporated into, or otherwise logically associated with, his communication so informing the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and
- 2447 (c) that his deemed agreement under these provisions is to subsist until he gives notice²² that he wishes to revoke the agreement²³.

The relevant regulations²⁴ cease to apply to an appeal if the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly informs the appellant and the local planning authority that he or it will afford to them an opportunity of attending and taking part in a hearing or a local inquiry held by a person appointed by him or by it for the purpose²⁵. There is, however, no statutory requirement to order an inquiry or hearing to determine an appeal which both parties have indicated they are content to be dealt with by way of written representations²⁶.

1 Ie the Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628 (as amended): see PARAS 629-630 post.

2 For these purposes, 'appellant' means a person giving notice of appeal to the Secretary of State; and 'notice of appeal' means a notice of appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 ante): Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956). The 2000 Regulations do not, however, appear to apply to appeals relating to consents under tree preservation orders. In England, the procedure on such appeals continues to be regulated by the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, Pt IV (regs 11-16) (revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2003/390). As to tree preservation orders see PARA 850 et seq post.

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

4 As to the notice of appeal see note 2 supra; and as to the use of electronic communications see the text and notes 18-21 infra.

5 Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 3(1). 'Written representations' includes supporting documents; and 'document' includes a photograph, map or plan: reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra). Identical definitions apply in Wales: see the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3157).

6 Ie an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended): see PARA 598 ante.

7 For these purposes, 'local planning authority' means the body which was responsible for dealing with the application occasioning the appeal: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra). As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante. A similar definition applies in Wales: see the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3157).

8 Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 3(2).

9 As to the Mayor of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 81.

10 See the Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 11.

11 Ie the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390 (as amended): see PARAS 629-630 post.

12 For these purposes, 'appellant' means (1) in the case of an application referred to the Assembly under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended) (see PARA 483 ante) or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 12 (as amended) (see PARA 1115 post) or s 19 (as amended) (see PARA 1131 post), the person who made that application to the local planning authority; (2) in the case of an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 ante) or under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 20 (as amended) (see PARA 1186 post), the person whose application was refused, granted subject to conditions or not determined, by the local planning authority; and in the case of an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 208 (as amended) (see PARA 885 post), the person on whom a notice has been served under s 207(1) (see PARA 874 post): Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra). See also note 13 infra.

13 For these purposes, references to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) include references to that section as applied to applications for tree preservation orders made under that Act: Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra). As to such appeals see PARAS 883-884 post.

14 In an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 208 (as amended): see PARA 885 post.

15 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

16 For these purposes, 'relevant notice', in relation to an appeal brought under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (as amended) or s 208 (as amended) or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 20 (as amended) (see PARA 1186 post), means a written notice served by the appellant notifying the Assembly of his wish that the appeal be disposed of on the basis of written representations: Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra).

17 Ibid reg 3(1). Notices or documents required or authorised to be sent or supplied under the 2003 Regulations may be sent or supplied by post or by using electronic communications to transmit the notice or document (as the case may be) to a person at such address as may for the time being be specified by that person for such purpose: reg 12 (added by SI 2004/3157). As to the use of electronic communications see the text and notes 20-23 infra.

18 For these purposes, 'appeal' in relation to the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended) (see PARA 483 ante) or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 12 (as amended) (see PARA 1115 post) or s 19 (as amended) (see PARA 1131 post), means the determination of an application which has been referred to the Assembly, but does not include an application which is deemed to have been so referred by virtue of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 13(3) (applications by local planning authorities: see PARA 1115 post): Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra).

19 Ibid reg 3(2).

20 For these purposes, 'electronic communication' has the meaning given in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616): Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra); Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra).

In relation to England, for these purposes, and in relation to the use of electronic communications for any purpose of the 2000 Regulations which is capable of being effected electronically, the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purposes of such communications, except that, where those regulations impose an obligation on any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the obligation is not fulfilled unless the person on whom it is imposed provides a postal address; and references to notices, representations or other documents, or to copies of such things, include references to such things or copies of them in electronic form: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 2(2) (reg 2(2)-(7) added by SI 2003/956). The following provisions apply where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement in those regulations to give or send any statement, notice or other document to any other person ('the recipient'): Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 2(3) (as so added). The requirement will be taken to be fulfilled where the notice or other document transmitted by means of the electronic communication is (1) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (2) legible in all material respects; and (3) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference; and for these purposes, 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the notice or other document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: reg 2(4), (5) (as so added). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it will be taken to have been received on the next working day; and, for this purpose, 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: reg 2(6) (as so added). A requirement in the 2000 Regulations that any document should be in writing is fulfilled where that document meets the criteria in reg 2(4) (as so added); and 'written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: reg 2(7) (as so added).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(2)-(7) (added by SI 2004/3157). Notices or documents required or authorised to be sent or supplied under the 2003 Regulations may be sent or supplied by post or using electronic communications to transmit the notice or document (as the case may be) to a person at such address as may for the time being be specified by that person for such purpose: Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 12 (substituted by SI 2004/3157).

21 In all purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628 (as amended), or, as the case may be, of the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390 (as amended).

22 In accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 11A (as added) or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 12A (as added). Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for any purpose of the relevant regulations which is capable of being effected electronically, the person must give notice in writing (1) withdrawing any address notified to the Secretary of State (or, as the case may be, to the Assembly) or to a local planning authority for that purpose; or (2) revoking any agreement entered into with the Secretary of State (or, as the case may be, with the Assembly) or with a local planning authority for that purpose, and such withdrawal or revocation is to be final and is to take effect on a date specified by the person in the notice but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 11A (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 12A (added by SI 2004/3157).

NOTE 2--In relation to England, SI 1999/1892 Pt IV (regs 11-16) now Pt 4 (regs 11-17) (substituted by SI 2008/2260 and amended by SI 2008/3202).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iii) Determination of Certain Appeals by Written Representations/B. APPEALS REGARDING PLANNING APPLICATIONS AND DECISIONS/629. Procedure before determination of the appeal.

629. Procedure before determination of the appeal.

The relevant regulations applying to appeals against planning decisions or failure to take such decisions which are to be determined on the basis of written representations¹ make provision with regard to:

- 2448 (1) notification of the starting date²;
- 2449 (2) notice to interested persons³;
- 2450 (3) the appeals questionnaire⁴;
- 2451 (4) representations by the parties in relation to the appeal⁵;
- 2452 (5) representations by third parties⁶; and
- 2453 (6) the extension of time limits⁷.

1 As to the relevant regulations see PARA 628 ante.

2 The Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales must, as soon as practicable after receipt of the notice of appeal, advise the appellant and the local planning authority in writing of (1) the starting date; (2) the reference number allocated to the appeal; and (3) the address to which written communications to the Secretary of State or the Assembly about the appeal are to be sent: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 4; Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 4. 'Starting date' means the date of (1) the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's written notice to the appellant and the local planning authority that he or it has received all the documents required to enable him or it to entertain the appeal; or (2) the date of his or its written notice as described supra, whichever is later: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3157). As to the use of electronic communications see PARA 628 the text and notes 20-23 ante.

As to notification of the starting date see also the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 12 (revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2003/390); and as to the circumstances in which that provision applies see PARA 628 note 2 ante.

3 The local planning authority must give written notice of the appeal within two weeks of the starting date to (1) any person notified or consulted in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (or, in Wales, the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 and the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990) or a development order about the application which has given rise to the appeal; and (2) any other person who made representations to the local planning authority about that application: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 5(1); Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 5(1). Such a notice must (a) state the name of the appellant and the address of the site to which the appeal relates; (b) describe the application; (c) set out the matters notified to the appellant and local planning authority under the provisions set out in note 2 supra; (d) state that copies of any representations made by any person mentioned in heads (1)-(2) supra will be sent to the Secretary of State (or, in Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales) and the appellant; (e) state that any such representations will be considered by the Secretary of State or the Assembly when determining the appeal unless any person mentioned in heads (1)-(2) supra withdraws them within six weeks of the starting date; and (f) state that further written representations may be submitted to the Secretary of State or the Assembly within six weeks of the starting date: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 5(2); Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 5(2).

Note that the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, Pt IV (regs 11-16) (revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2003/390) does not make equivalent provision to that set out in this note.

4 The local planning authority must within two weeks of the starting date submit to the Secretary of State and copy to the appellant (or, in Wales, must send to the Assembly, and copy to the appellant, so as to be received within two weeks of the starting date) (1) a completed questionnaire; (2) a copy of each of the documents referred to in it; and the questionnaire must state the date on which it is submitted to the Secretary of State or the Assembly: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 6(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 6(1), (2). 'Questionnaire' means a document in the form supplied by the Secretary of State or, in Wales, by the Assembly to local planning authorities for the purpose of proceedings under the relevant regulations; and for this purpose a form is taken to be supplied where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published it on a website and has notified the local planning authority of (a) publication of the form on the website; (b) the address of the website; and (c) the place on the website where the form may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 2(1) (renumbered and amended by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 2(1) (renumbered and amended by SI 2004/3157). For the meaning of 'document' see PARA 628 note 5 ante.

See also the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 13 (revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2003/390).

5 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 7 (as amended). The notice of appeal and the documents accompanying it comprise the appellant's representations in relation to the appeal: reg 7(1). The local planning authority may elect to treat the questionnaire and the documents submitted with it as its representations in relation to the appeal; and, where it does so, it must notify the Secretary of State and the appellant accordingly when submitting the questionnaire or sending the copy in accordance with reg 6 (see note 4 supra): reg 7(2). Where the local planning authority does not elect as so described, it must submit two copies of its written representations to the Secretary of State within six weeks of the starting date: reg 7(3). If the appellant wishes to make any further representations to those in reg 7(1), he must submit two copies of those further representations to the Secretary of State within six weeks of the starting date: reg 7(4). Any representations made to the Secretary of State under reg 7(3), (4) are to be dated and submitted to the Secretary of State on the date they bear: reg 7(5). The Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of any representations made to him by the local planning authority to the appellant and must send a copy of any representations made to him by the appellant to the local planning authority: reg 7(6). The appellant and the local planning authority must submit two copies of any comments they have on each other's representations to the Secretary of State within nine weeks of the starting date; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of these further comments to the other party: reg 7(7). The Secretary of State may disregard further information from the appellant and the local planning authority which was not submitted within nine weeks of the starting date unless that further information has been requested by him: reg 7(8). Where a party to which reg 7 (as amended) applies elects to use electronic communications for submitting, sending, copying, or sending a copy of any representations, questionnaire or other document, reg 7 (as amended) has effect subject to the following modifications: (1) where the party so electing is the local planning authority, reg 7(3), (7) applies to it as if the words 'two copies of' were omitted; (2) where the party so electing is the appellant, reg 7(4), (7) applies to him as if the words 'two copies of' were omitted; (3) where the party so electing is, by virtue of the application of reg 11, the Mayor of London, reg 7(4A) (added for those purposes by reg 11) applies as if the words 'three copies of' were omitted: reg 7(9) (added by SI 2003/956). For the meaning of 'electronic communications' see PARA 628 note 20 ante; as to their use see PARA 628 the text and notes 20-23 ante; and as to the Mayor of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 81.

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 7(1)-(9) (amended by SI 2004/3157) which makes similar provision but refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State and specifies that the relevant representations and copies must be sent so as to be received within the prescribed time limits.

See also the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 14 (revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2003/390).

It is incumbent on the parties to a planning appeal, where the written representations procedure is used, to place before the inspector as part of their written representations the material on which they rely; the inspector is entitled to reach his decision on the basis of the material put before him and need not inquire whether there is additional evidence or information which might support the claimant's case: see West v First Secretary of State [2005] EWHC 729 (Admin), [2005] All ER (D) 378 (Apr).

6 If an interested person notified under the provisions set out in note 3 supra wishes to submit representations to the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, to the Assembly, he must do so within six weeks of the starting date (or, in Wales, so that they are received within six weeks of the starting date); and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must (1) send to the appellant and the local planning authority, as soon as practicable after receipt, a copy each of all of the representations received from interested parties; and (2) specify a period of not less than two weeks within which any comments on the representations must be submitted: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 8(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 8(1), (2). The Secretary of State or the Assembly may, however, disregard comments made by the local planning authority under head (2) supra where the authority has failed to notify interested persons in accordance with the provisions set out in note 3 supra: Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 8(3); Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 8(3).

Note that the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, Pt IV (regs 11-16) (revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2003/390) does not make equivalent provision to that set out in this note.

7 The Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the Assembly may in a particular case give directions setting later time limits than those prescribed by the relevant regulations: see the Town and Country Planning (Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/1628, reg 9; the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/390, reg 9.

See also the Town and Country Planning (Trees) Regulations 1999, SI 1999/1892, reg 15 (revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2003/390).

Appeals by Written Representations/B. APPEALS REGARDING PLANNING APPLICATIONS AND DECISIONS/630. Decision on appeal.

630. Decision on appeal.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may proceed to a decision on an appeal against a planning decision or a failure to take such a decision³ taking into account only such written representations⁴ as have been submitted within the relevant time limits⁵. He or it may also, after giving the appellant⁶ and the local planning authority⁷ written notice⁸ of his or its intention to do so, proceed to a decision on an appeal notwithstanding that no written representations have been made within the relevant time limits if it appears to him or to the Assembly that he or it has sufficient material before him or before it to enable him or it to reach a decision on the merits of the case⁹.

Provision is made for the notification of the Assembly's decision¹⁰.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 ie on such an appeal as is described in PARA 628 ante.

630 Decision on appeal

NOTES 5, 9--In relation to England, SI 1999/1892 reg 16 substituted by SI 2008/2260.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iii) Determination of Certain Appeals by Written Representations/C. ENFORCEMENT APPEALS/631. Jurisdiction.

C. ENFORCEMENT APPEALS

631. Jurisdiction.

In relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002¹ apply where an appellant² informs the Secretary of State³ in the notice of appeal⁴ that he wishes the appeal to be disposed of on the basis of written representations⁵. Where an enforcement appeal⁶ is not being disposed of on the basis of written representations and the appellant and the local planning authority⁷ inform the Secretary of State that they wish it to be disposed of on that basis, those 2002 Regulations apply to the proceedings to such extent as the Secretary of State may specify having regard to any steps already taken in relation to those proceedings⁸.

Similarly, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003⁹ apply where an appellant¹⁰ informs the National Assembly for Wales¹¹ in the notice of appeal of a wish for the appeal to be disposed of on the basis of written representations¹². Where an appeal against an enforcement notice¹³ or an appeal against a listed building or conservation area enforcement notice¹⁴ is not being disposed of on the basis of written representations and the appellant and the local planning authority inform the Assembly that they wish it to be disposed of on that basis, those 2003 Regulations apply to the proceedings to such extent as the Assembly may specify having regard to any steps already taken in relation to those proceedings¹⁵.

Where an appellant or, as the case may be, the appellant and the local planning authority, informs the Secretary of State or the Assembly of a wish for the appeal to be disposed of on the basis of written representations and so informs him or it using electronic communications¹⁶, the appellant is to be taken to have agreed:

- 2454 (1) to the use of such communications for all purposes of the relevant regulations¹⁷ relating to his appeal which are capable of being carried out electronically;
- 2455 (2) that his address for the purpose of such communications is the address incorporated into, or otherwise logically associated with, his communication so informing the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and
- 2456 (3) that his deemed agreement under these provisions is to subsist until he gives notice¹⁸ that he wishes to revoke the agreement¹⁹.

The relevant regulations cease to apply to proceedings if the Secretary of State or the Assembly informs the appellant and the local planning authority that he or it will give them an opportunity of appearing before and being heard by a person appointed by him or by the Assembly for the purpose²⁰.

Appeals against enforcement notices requiring the planting of trees²¹ in Wales which are to be disposed of on the basis of written representations are not, however, governed by the 2003 Regulations referred to above but by the Town and Country Planning (Referrals and Appeals) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003²² which have already been discussed²³.

1 Ie the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683 (as amended): see PARAS 632-633 post.

2 'The appellant' means a person giving notice of appeal to the Secretary of State under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as amended) (see PARA 603 ante) or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 39 (as amended) (see PARAS 1193, 1197 post): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956).

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

4 For these purposes, 'notice of appeal' means a notice of appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174(3) (as substituted) (see PARA 603 ante) or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 39(2) (as substituted and amended) (see PARAS 1193, 1197 post): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra). An identical definition applies in Wales: see the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3157).

5 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 3(1). 'Written representations' includes supporting documents; and 'document' includes a photograph, map or plan: reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra). Identical definitions apply in Wales: see the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395 (as renumbered: see note 4 supra). As to the use of electronic communications see the text and notes 16-19 infra.

6 Ie an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as amended) (see PARA 603 ante) or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 39 (as amended) (see PARAS 1193, 1197 post).

7 For these purposes, 'local planning authority' means the body which issued the relevant enforcement notice; and 'enforcement notice' means a notice issued under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 172(1) (as substituted) (see PARA 561 ante) or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 38(1) (see PARA 1146 post): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra). Identical definitions apply in Wales: see the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395 (as renumbered: see note 4 supra).

8 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 3(2).

9 Ie the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395 (as amended): see PARAS 632-633 post.

10 'The appellant' means a person giving notice of appeal to the Assembly: ibid reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 4 supra).

11 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

13 Ie an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174 (as amended): see PARA 603 ante.

14 Ie an appeal under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 39 (as amended): see PARAS 1193, 1197 post.

15 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 3(2).

16 For these purposes, 'electronic communication' has the meaning given in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 2 supra); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 4 supra).

See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 2(2)-(7) (added by SI 2003/956). For these purposes, and in relation to the use of electronic communications for any purpose of the 2002 Regulations which is capable of being carried out electronically, the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purposes of such communications, except that where those regulations impose an obligation on any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the obligation is not to be fulfilled unless the person on whom it is imposed provides a postal address; and references to notices, representations, or other documents, or to copies of such documents, include references to such documents or copies of them in electronic form: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 2(2) (as so added). Regulation 2(4)-(7) (as so added) applies where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement in regs 4-8 (as amended) (see PARA 632 post) that representations or other documents should be sent or submitted to any other person ('the recipient'): reg 2(3) (as so added). The requirement is to be taken to be fulfilled where the document transmitted by means of the electronic communication is (1) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (2) legible in all material respects; and (3) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference; and 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: reg 2(4), (5) (as so added). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for this purpose 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: reg 2(5) (as so added). A requirement in the 2002 Regulations that any notice or document should be in writing is fulfilled where that document meets the criteria in heads (1)-(3) supra, and (except in reg 5) 'written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: reg 2(7) (as so added).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 2(2)-(7) (added by SI 2004/3157). Notices or documents required or authorised to be served, sent or supplied under those 2003 Regulations may be served, sent or supplied by post or using electronic communications to serve, send or supply the notice or document (as the case may be) to a person at such address as may for the time being be specified by the person for that purpose: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 11 (substituted by SI 2004/3157).

17 Ie all purposes of the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683 (as amended), or of the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395 (as amended).

18 Ie under the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 10A (as added) or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 11A (as added). Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for any purpose under the relevant regulations which is capable of being carried out electronically, the person must give notice in writing (1) withdrawing any address notified to the Secretary of State (or, in Wales, to the Assembly) or to a local planning authority for that purpose; or (2) revoking any agreement entered into with the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or with a local planning authority for that purpose, and such withdrawal or revocation is to be final and is to take effect on a date specified by the person in the notice but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 10A (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 11A (added by SI 2004/3157).

19 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 3(2A) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 3(2A) (added by SI 2004/3157). The references in the text to notes 1-15 supra to an appeal being disposed of on the basis of written representations are not to be taken to preclude the use of electronic communications in accordance with the provisions set out in the text and note 16 supra and in accordance with the provisions cited in this note: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 3(2A) (as so added); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 3(2A) (as so added).

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iii) Determination of Certain Appeals by Written Representations/C. ENFORCEMENT APPEALS/632. Procedure before determination of the appeal.

632. Procedure before determination of the appeal.

The relevant regulations applying to enforcement appeals which are to be determined on the basis of written representations¹ make provision with regard to:

- 2457 (1) notification of the starting date²;
- 2458 (2) notice to interested persons³;
- 2459 (3) the appeals questionnaire⁴;
- 2460 (4) representations by the parties in relation to the appeal⁵;

- 2461 (5) representations by third parties⁶; and
 2462 (6) the extension of time limits⁷.

1 As to the relevant regulations see PARA 631 ante.

2 The Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales must, as soon as practicable after receipt of the written notice of appeal, advise the appellant and the local planning authority in writing of (1) the starting date; (2) the reference number allocated to the appeal; (3) the address to which written communications to the Secretary of State or the Assembly about the appeal are to be sent; and (4) the ground, or grounds, under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 174(2) (as substituted) (see PARA 603 ante) or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 39(1) (as amended) (see PARAS 1193, 1197 post), as the case may be, on which the appeal has been brought: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 4; Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 4. 'Starting date' means the date of the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's written notice to the appellant and the local planning authority under these provisions: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3157). For the meaning of 'appellant' see PARA 631 notes 2, 10 ante; for the meaning of 'notice of appeal' see PARA 631 note 4 ante; and for the meaning of 'local planning authority' for these purposes see PARA 631 note 7 ante. As to the Secretary of State and the Assembly see PARAS 19-20 ante; and as to the use of electronic communications see PARA 631 the text and notes 16-19 ante.

3 The local planning authority must, within two weeks of the starting date, give written notice of the appeal to any (1) person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; (2) occupier of property in the locality in which the land to which the enforcement notice relates is situated; and (3) other person who in the opinion of the local planning authority is affected by the breach of planning control or contravention of listed building or conservation area control which is alleged in the enforcement notice: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 5(1); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 5(1). The notice so given must include: (a) the name of the appellant and the address of the land to which the appeal relates; (b) the starting date; (c) the reference number allocated to the appeal; (d) a description of the alleged breach of control; (e) in the case of an appeal against an enforcement notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 172 (as substituted) (see PARA 561 ante), a statement setting out the specified additional matters; (f) the ground, or grounds, under s 174(2) (as substituted) or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 39(1) (as amended), as the case may be, on which the appeal is made; (g) a statement that representations may be submitted to the Secretary of State within six weeks of the starting date (or, in Wales, may be submitted to the Assembly so as to be received by it within six weeks of the starting date) and the address to which such representations should be sent; (h) a statement that any representations made by any person mentioned in heads (1)-(3) supra will be sent to the appellant and the local planning authority; and (i) a statement that any such representations will be considered by the Secretary of State or the Assembly when determining the appeal unless any person mentioned in heads (1)-(3) supra withdraws them within six weeks of the starting date: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 5(2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 5(2). The specified additional matters referred to in head (e) supra are the additional matters specified in the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682, reg 4 or, as the case may be, in the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394, reg 3 (see PARA 564 ante): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra), reg 5(2)(e); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 2 supra), reg 5(2)(e).

4 The local planning authority must submit to the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, to the Assembly, and copy to the appellant within two weeks of the starting date (or in Wales, so as to be received within two weeks of that date) (1) a completed questionnaire; and (2) a copy of each of the documents referred to in it; and the questionnaire must state the date on which it is submitted to the Secretary of State or the Assembly: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 6(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 6(1), (2). 'Questionnaire' means a document in the form supplied by the Secretary of State or, in Wales, by the Assembly to local planning authorities for the purpose of proceedings under the relevant regulations, and for this purpose a form is taken to be supplied where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published it on a website and has notified a local planning authority of (a) publication of the form on the website; (b) the address of the website; and (c) the place on the website where the form may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 2 supra); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 2 supra).

5 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 7 (as amended). The notice of appeal, the documents accompanying it and any statement submitted under the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682, reg 6 (see PARA 605 ante) is to comprise the appellant's representations in relation to the appeal: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 7(1). The local planning authority may elect to treat the questionnaire, the documents submitted with it and the statement submitted under the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682, reg 9 (see PARA 607 ante) as its representations in relation to the appeal; and, where it does so, it must notify the Secretary of State and the appellant accordingly when submitting the questionnaire or sending the copy in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 6 (see note 4 supra): reg 7(2). If the appellant wishes to make any further representations to those in reg 7(1), he must submit two copies of those further representations to the Secretary of State within six weeks of the starting date: reg 7(3). Where the local planning authority does not elect as described in reg 7(2), it must submit two copies of its written representations to the Secretary of State within six weeks of the starting date and these must include (1) a summary of the local planning authority's response to each of the grounds on which the appeal is brought; and (2) a statement as to whether it would be prepared to grant planning permission for the matters alleged in the enforcement notice to constitute a breach of planning control, or to grant listed building consent or conservation area consent for the works to which the listed building enforcement notice or conservation area enforcement notice relates, as the case may be, and, if so, particulars of the conditions, if any, which the authority would wish to impose on the permission or consent: reg 7(4). Any representations made to the Secretary of State under reg 7(3) or (4) are to be dated and submitted to the Secretary of State on the date they bear: reg 7(5). The Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of any representations made to him by the local planning authority to the appellant and must send a copy of any representations made to him by the appellant to the local planning authority: reg 7(6). The appellant and the local planning authority must submit two copies of any comments they have on each other's representations to the Secretary of State within nine weeks of the starting date; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of these further comments to the other party: reg 7(7). The Secretary of State may disregard further information from the appellant and the local planning authority which was not submitted within nine weeks of the starting date unless that further information has been requested by him: reg 7(8). Where a party to which reg 7 (as amended) applies elects to use electronic communications for submitting, sending, copying, or sending a copy of any representations, questionnaire or other document, reg 7 (as amended) has effect subject to the following modifications (a) where the party so electing is the appellant, in reg 7(3) and (7) omit the words 'two copies of'; (b) where the party so electing is the local planning authority, in reg 7(4) and (7) omit the words 'two copies of': reg 7(9) (added by SI 2003/956).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 7(1)-(9) (reg 7(9) added by SI 2004/3157) which refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State, and to the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394, regs 5, 8.

6 If an interested person notified under the provisions set out in note 3 supra wishes to submit representations to the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, to the Assembly, he must do so within six weeks of the starting date (or, in Wales, so as to be received within six weeks of the starting date): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 8(1); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 8(1). The Secretary of State or the Assembly must (1) send to the appellant and the local planning authority, as soon as practicable after receipt, a copy each of all of the representations received from interested persons; and (2) specify a period of not less than two weeks within which any comments on the representations must be submitted; but he or the Assembly may disregard comments made by the local planning authority under head (2) supra where the authority failed to notify interested persons in accordance with the provisions set out in note 3 supra: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 8(2), (3); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 8(2), (3).

7 The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in a particular case give directions setting later time limits than those prescribed by the relevant regulations: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2683, reg 9; Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Written Representations Procedure) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/395, reg 9.

633. Decision on appeal.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may proceed to a decision on an enforcement appeal³ taking into account only such written representations⁴ as have been submitted within the relevant time limits⁵. He or the Assembly may also, after giving the appellant and the local planning authority written notice⁶ of his or its intention to do so, proceed to a decision on an appeal notwithstanding that no written representations have been made within the relevant time limits if it appears to him or to the Assembly that he or it has sufficient material before him or before the Assembly to enable him or it to reach a decision on the merits of the case⁷.

(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals

A. APPEALS REGARDING PLANNING APPLICATIONS AND DECISIONS

634. Jurisdiction.

The Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000¹ apply in relation to any hearing² held in England for the purposes of a non-transferred or a transferred appeal³ made on or after 1 August 2000 against a planning decision or failure to take such a decision under the specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁴ or of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990⁵, but do not apply to any hearing by reason of the application of any provision mentioned above by any other enactment⁶. Where a hearing is held into an appeal arising from an application in respect of which the Mayor of London⁷ has directed the local planning authority to refuse the application, the 2000 Rules apply subject to prescribed modifications⁸.

Similarly, the Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003⁹ apply in relation to any hearing¹⁰ caused by the National Assembly for Wales¹¹ to be held in Wales for the purposes of a non-transferred or transferred appeal¹² made on or after 1 June 2003 before it determines:

- 2463 (1) an application for planning permission referred to it¹³, or an appeal to it¹⁴, under specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹⁵, including an appeal made the specified provision¹⁶ of that Act as it is applied to tree preservation orders¹⁷;
- 2464 (2) an application for listed building consent referred to it¹⁸, or for the variation or discharge of conditions referred to it¹⁹, or an appeal to it²⁰ under specified provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990²¹;
- 2465 (3) an application for conservation area consent referred to it²² or an appeal to it²³ under specified provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 as those provisions are applied²⁴ in relation to such consent; or
- 2466 (4) an appeal against the service of a tree preservation enforcement notice²⁵ under specified provisions²⁶ of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990²⁷.

Those rules do not, however, apply to any hearing by reason of the application of any provision mentioned in heads (1) to (4) above by any other enactment²⁸.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals/A. APPEALS REGARDING PLANNING APPLICATIONS AND DECISIONS/635. Pre-hearing procedure; in general.

635. Pre-hearing procedure; in general.

The local planning authority¹ must, on receipt of the relevant notice², forthwith inform the Secretary of State³ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁴ and the appellant⁵ in writing⁶ of the name and address of any statutory party⁷ who has made representations to the authority⁸. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable thereafter, inform the appellant and the local planning authority in writing of the name and address of any statutory party who has made representations to him or to it⁹.

The local planning authority must ensure that within two weeks of the starting date¹⁰;

- 2467 (1) the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) and the appellant have received a completed questionnaire¹¹ and a copy of each of the documents referred to in it;
- 2468 (2) any statutory party and other person who made representations to the local planning authority about the application occasioning the appeal¹², has been notified that an appeal has been made and of the address to which and of the period within which they may make representations to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly¹³.

Where a hearing is to be held for the purposes of a transferred appeal¹⁴, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must notify the name of the inspector¹⁵ to every person entitled to appear at or take part in¹⁶ the hearing¹⁷. Where, however, the Secretary of State or the Assembly appoints another inspector instead of the person previously appointed and it is not practicable to notify the new appointment before the hearing is held, the inspector holding the hearing must, at its commencement, announce his name and the fact of his appointment¹⁸.

The appellant and the local planning authority must ensure that, within six weeks of the starting date, two copies of their hearing statement¹⁹ have been received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and a copy has been received by any statutory party²⁰. The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing require the appellant and the local planning authority to provide such further information about the matters contained in their hearing statement as he or it may specify²¹. Any statutory party, and any person who made representations to the local planning authority about the application occasioning the appeal or who was notified about the application occasioning the appeal, must ensure that the Secretary of State or the Assembly has received three copies of any written comments they wish to make concerning the appeal within six weeks of the starting date²². The appellant and the local planning authority must ensure that the Secretary of State or the Assembly has received two copies, and any statutory party a copy, of any comments the local planning authority and the appellant wish to make on:

- 2469 (a) each other's hearing statement;
- 2470 (b) comments made pursuant to the above provisions²³; and
- 2471 (c) comments made to them by any other person, within nine weeks of the starting date²⁴.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must send, as soon as practicable after receipt, a copy of any hearing statement received by him or by it²⁵, of any further information provided²⁶ and of any comments received²⁷ from, in each case, the appellant or the local planning authority to the other of those two parties²⁸. He or the Assembly must also send a copy of any written comments made by persons pursuant to the above provisions²⁹ to the local planning authority and the appellant³⁰.

The local planning authority must afford to any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity³¹ to inspect, and where practicable, take copies of:

- 2472 (i) the local planning authority's completed questionnaire, hearing statement and any document copied to the authority³²; and
- 2473 (ii) further information provided by the authority³³ and comments made by the authority³⁴, and must specify in its hearing statement the time and place where such opportunity is to be afforded³⁵.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must send to the inspector, as soon as practicable after receipt, any hearing statement, document, part of any document or written comments received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly within the relevant period specified³⁶ for receiving such documents³⁷. In the case of a non-transferred appeal, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, and in the case of a transferred appeal, the inspector, may in determining the appeal disregard any comments made³⁸ which are received after the relevant period specified for receipt³⁹.

1 For these purposes, 'local planning authority' means the body which was responsible for dealing with the application occasioning the appeal: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172). As to the appeals to which the relevant rules apply see PARA 634 ante; and as to local planning authorities generally see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 'The relevant notice' means the Secretary of State's or Assembly's written notice informing the appellant and the local planning authority that a hearing is to be held: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra). As to the use of electronic communications see note 6 infra.

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

4 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

5 In relation to Wales, 'appellant', in the case of an application, means the applicant: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra). There is no equivalent definition in relation to England.

6 As to the use of electronic communications see, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(2)-(8) (added by SI 2003/956). In those 2000 Rules, and in relation to the use of electronic communications for any purpose of those rules which is capable of being effected electronically, the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purposes of such communications, except that where those rules impose an obligation on any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the obligation is not to be fulfilled unless the person on whom it is imposed provides a postal address; and references to statements, notices, or other documents, or to copies of such documents, include references to such documents or copies of them in electronic form: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(2) (as so added). Rule 2(4)-(8) (as added) applies where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement in those rules to give or send any statement, notice or other document to any other person ('the recipient'): r 2(3) (as so added). The requirement is to be taken to be fulfilled where the document transmitted by means of the electronic communication is (1) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (2) legible in all material respects; and (3) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference; and 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the statement, notice or document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: r 2(4), (5) (as so added). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for this purpose 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: r 2(6) (as so added). A requirement in those rules that any document should be in writing is fulfilled where that document meets the criteria in heads (1)-(3) supra and 'written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: r 2(7) (as so added). A requirement in those rules to send more than one copy of a statement or other document may be complied with by sending one copy only of the statement or other document in question: r 2(8) (as so added). Notices or documents required or authorised to be sent or supplied under those rules may be sent or supplied by post or by using electronic communications to send or supply the notice or document (as the case may be) to a person at such address as may for the time being be specified by the person for that purpose: r 19 (substituted by SI 2003/956). For these purposes, 'electronic communication' has the meaning given in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616); and 'document' includes a photograph, map or plan: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra).

Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for any purpose under those rules which is capable of being effected electronically, the person must give notice in writing (a) withdrawing any address notified to the Secretary of State or to a local planning authority for that purpose; or (b) revoking any agreement entered into with the Secretary of State or with a local planning authority for that purpose; and such withdrawal or revocation is to be final and is to take effect on a date specified by the person in the notice but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: r 19A (added by SI 2003/956).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, rr 2(2)-(8), 19, 19A, which refer to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State (rr 2(2)-(8), 19A added, and r 19 substituted, by SI 2004/3172); and for the relevant definitions see the Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra). Any obligation imposed by those 2003 Rules to send more than one copy of a statement or other document may, where sending is carried out using electronic communications, be complied with by sending one copy only of the statement or (as the case may be) document in question: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 18(3) (added by SI 2004/3172).

7 For these purposes, 'statutory party' means (1) a person mentioned in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 19(1)(b)(i) (see PARA 474 ante at head (2)(a) in the text) whose representations the Secretary of State or the Assembly is required by art 19(3) to take into account in determining the appeal to which a hearing relates; and such a person whose representations the local planning authority was required by art 19(1) to take into account in determining the application occasioning the appeal; and (2) a person whose representations the Secretary of State or the Assembly is required by the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 6(3)(b), (5) (see PARA 1114 post) to take into account in determining the appeal to which a hearing relates and a person whose representations the local planning authority was required by reg 6(3)(b) to take into account in determining the application occasioning the appeal: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra).

8 Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 4(1); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 4(1).

9 See note 8 supra.

10 'Starting date' means the date of the (1) Secretary of State's or Assembly's written notice to the appellant and the local planning authority that he or it has received all the documents required to enable him or the Assembly to entertain the appeal; or (2) relevant notice, whichever is the later: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra).

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may at any time in any particular case allow further time for the taking of any step which is required or enabled to be taken by virtue of the relevant rules, and references in those rules to a day by which, or a period within which, any step is required or enabled to be taken are to be construed accordingly: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 18(1); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 18(1). Where a hearing is to be held in respect of a transferred appeal, an inspector may in place of the Secretary of State or the Assembly allow such further time: see the Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 10(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 10(1), (2).

11 'Questionnaire' means a document in the form supplied by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to local planning authorities for the purpose of proceedings under the relevant rules; and for this purpose a form is taken to be supplied where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published it on a website and has notified the local planning authority of (1) publication of the form on the website; (2) the address of the website; and (3) the place on the website where the form may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 1 supra); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 1 supra).

12 As to the appeals to which the rules set out in the text apply see PARA 634 ante.

13 Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 4(2); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 4(2).

14 For the meaning of 'transferred appeal' see PARA 634 notes 3, 12 ante.

15 For these purposes, 'inspector' means, in relation to a transferred appeal, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to determine an appeal: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra). In relation to a non-transferred appeal, 'inspector' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to hold a hearing or a reopened hearing: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(1) (as so renumbered); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (as so renumbered). For the meaning of 'non-transferred appeal' see PARA 634 notes 3, 12 ante.

16 As to the persons so entitled see PARA 638 post.

17 Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 5(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 5(1), (2).

18 Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 5(3); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 5(3).

19 'Hearing statement' means, and is comprised of, a written statement which contains full particulars of the case which a person proposes to put forward at a hearing and copies of any documents which that person intends to refer to or put in evidence: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 1 supra).

20 Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 6(1); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 6(1).

21 Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 6(2); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 6(2). Such information must be provided in writing and the appellant or the local planning authority, as the case may be, must ensure that two copies are received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and a copy is received by any statutory party within such period as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may reasonably require: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 6(2); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 6(2).

Where a hearing is to be held in respect of a transferred appeal, an inspector may in place of the Secretary of State or the Assembly take such steps as the Secretary of State or the Assembly is required or enabled to take under or by virtue of the rules cited in this note; and where an inspector requires further information or copies pursuant to those rules, that information or copies must be sent to him: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 10(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 10(1), (2).

22 Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 6(3); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 6(3).

23 Ie pursuant to the rules cited in note 22 supra.

24 Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 6(4); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 6(4).

25 Ie pursuant to the rules cited in note 20 supra.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals/A. APPEALS REGARDING PLANNING APPLICATIONS AND DECISIONS/636. Date and notification of hearing.

636. Date and notification of hearing.

The date fixed by the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales² for the holding of a hearing³ must be:

- 2474 (1) not later than 12 weeks after the starting date⁴, unless he or it considers such a date impracticable; or
- 2475 (2) the earliest date after that period which he or it considers to be practicable⁵.

Unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly agrees a lesser period of notice with the appellant⁶ and the local planning authority⁷, he or the Assembly must give not less than four weeks' written notice⁸ of the date, time and place fixed by him or by the Assembly for the holding of a hearing to every person entitled to appear at or take part in⁹ the hearing¹⁰.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may vary the date fixed for the holding of a hearing, whether or not the date as varied is within the period of 12 weeks mentioned above¹¹. He or the Assembly may also vary the time or place for the holding of a hearing and must give such notice of any variation as appears to him or to the Assembly to be reasonable¹².

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing¹³ require the local planning authority to take one or both of the following steps:

- 2476 (a) not less than two weeks¹⁴ before the date fixed for the holding of a hearing, to publish a notice of the hearing in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land¹⁵ is situated;
- 2477 (b) to send a notice of the hearing to such persons or classes of persons as he or the Assembly may specify, within such period as he or it may specify¹⁶.

Every notice of hearing so published or sent must contain:

- 2478 (i) a clear statement of the date, time and place of the hearing and of the powers enabling the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or the inspector¹⁷ to determine the appeal in question;

- 2479 (ii) a written description of the land sufficient to identify approximately its location;
- 2480 (iii) a brief description of the subject matter of the appeal; and
- 2481 (iv) details of where and when copies of the local planning authority's completed questionnaire¹⁸ and documents¹⁹ sent by and copied to the authority²⁰ may be inspected²¹.

Where a hearing is to be held in respect of a transferred appeal²², an inspector may in place of the Secretary of State or the Assembly take such steps as he or it is required or enabled to take under or by virtue of the provisions set out above²³.

637. Whether hearings procedure or local inquiry is appropriate.

If either the appellant¹ or the local planning authority² at any time before or during the hearing³ is of the opinion that the hearings procedure⁴ is inappropriate in determining the appeal⁵ and that the appeal should not proceed in this way then they may inform the Secretary of State⁶ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁷ before the hearing, or the inspector⁸ during the hearing, of their opinion and the reasons for it⁹. Either:

- 2482 (1) the Secretary of State or the Assembly, before the hearing, must, after consulting the other party who may inform him or it of his opinion¹⁰, decide whether an inquiry¹¹ should be arranged instead¹²; or
- 2483 (2) the inspector, during the hearing, must, after consulting the other party who may inform the inspector of his opinion¹³, decide whether the hearing should be closed and an inquiry held instead¹⁴.

If at any time during a hearing it appears to the inspector that the hearings procedure is inappropriate, he may, after consulting the appellant and the local planning authority, decide to close the proceedings and arrange for an inquiry to be held instead¹⁵.

UPDATE

637 Whether hearings procedure or local inquiry is appropriate

TEXT AND NOTES 1-14--This provision is now subject to r 8(3), (4): SI 2000/1626 r 8(1) (amended by SI 2009/455). In the case of an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (see PARA 833), if either the appellant or the local planning authority at any time before or during a hearing is of the opinion that the hearings procedure is inappropriate to determine the appeal and that the appeal should not proceed in this way then they may inform the Secretary of State in writing, before the hearing, or the inspector, during the hearing and the reasons for it: SI 2000/1626 r 8(3) (added by SI 2009/455). Where r 8(3) applies, the Secretary of State must consult the other party, who may inform the Secretary of State of his opinion in writing, before exercising the power in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 319A(4): SI 2000/1626 r 8(4) (added by SI 2009/455).

TEXT AND NOTES 6-9--After 'may inform the Secretary of State' read 'in writing': SI 2000/1626 r 8(1) (amended by SI 2009/455).

TEXT AND NOTES 10-12--In head (1), after 'may inform him or it of his opinion' read 'in writing': SI 2000/1626 r 8(1)(a) (amended by SI 2009/455).

TEXT AND NOTE 15--An appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 78 (see PARA 833) is now excepted from this provision: SI 2000/1626 r 8(2) (amended by SI 2009/455).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals/A. APPEALS REGARDING PLANNING APPLICATIONS AND DECISIONS/638. Participation in and procedure at the hearing; site inspections.

638. Participation in and procedure at the hearing; site inspections.

The persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing¹ are the appellant², the local planning authority³ and any statutory party⁴; but nothing in the above provision prevents the inspector⁵ from permitting any other person to appear at or take part in a hearing, and such permission must not be unreasonably withheld⁶. Any person entitled or permitted to appear or take part may do so on his own behalf or be represented by any other person⁷.

Except as otherwise provided in the relevant rules⁸, the inspector is to determine the procedure at a hearing⁹. A hearing must take the form of a discussion led by the inspector and cross-examination is not to be permitted unless the inspector considers that cross-examination is required to ensure a thorough examination of the main issues¹⁰, in which case he must consider, after consulting the appellant and the local planning authority, whether the hearing should be closed and an inquiry¹¹ held instead¹².

At the start of the hearing the inspector must identify what are, in his opinion, the main issues to be considered at the hearing and any matters on which he requires further explanation from any person entitled or permitted to appear or take part¹³; but nothing in the above provision precludes any person so entitled or permitted from referring to issues which that person considers relevant to the consideration of the appeal but which were not issues so identified by the inspector¹⁴.

A person entitled to appear at or take part in a hearing is to be entitled to call evidence but, subject to that and to the specific provisions set out below¹⁵, the calling of evidence is otherwise to be at the inspector's discretion¹⁶. The inspector may refuse to permit the giving or production of evidence or the presentation of any other matter which he considers to be irrelevant or repetitious; but where he refuses to permit the giving of oral evidence, the person wishing to give the evidence may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing before the close of the hearing¹⁷.

The inspector may require any person appearing or present at a hearing who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave¹⁸ and may refuse to permit that person to return or permit him to return only on such conditions as he may specify¹⁹; but any such person may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing before the close of the hearing²⁰. The inspector may proceed with a hearing in the absence of any person entitled to appear at or take part in it²¹.

The inspector may allow any person to alter or add to a hearing statement²² so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the hearing; but he must, if necessary by adjourning the hearing, give every other person entitled to appear or take part who is appearing at or taking part in the hearing an adequate opportunity of considering any fresh matter or document²³. He may take into account any written representation or evidence or any other document received by him from any person before a hearing opens or during the hearing provided that he discloses it at the hearing²⁴.

The inspector may from time to time adjourn a hearing and, if the date, time and place of the adjourned hearing are announced at the hearing before the adjournment, no further notice is to be required²⁵.

Where it appears to the inspector that one or more matters would be more satisfactorily resolved by adjourning the hearing to the appeal site he may adjourn the hearing to that site and conclude the hearing there provided he is satisfied that:

- 2484 (1) the hearing would proceed satisfactorily and that no party would be placed at a disadvantage;
- 2485 (2) all parties present at the hearing would have the opportunity to attend the adjourned hearing; and
- 2486 (3) the local planning authority, the appellant or any statutory party has not raised reasonable objections to it being continued at the appeal site²⁶.

Unless the hearing is to be so adjourned to the appeal site, the inspector may inspect the land²⁷ during the hearing or after its close and must inspect the land if requested to do so by the appellant or the local planning authority before or during the hearing²⁸. Where the inspector intends to make such an inspection, he must ask the appellant and the local planning authority whether they wish to be present²⁹. Where either of them has indicated a wish to be present the inspector must announce the date and time at which he proposes to make the inspection during the hearing and must make the inspection in the company of:

- 2487 (a) the appellant and the local planning authority; and
- 2488 (b) at the inspector's discretion, any other person entitled or permitted to appear at or take part in the hearing who is appearing or taking part, or did appear at or take part in it³⁰.

The inspector is not, however, bound to defer a site inspection where any person mentioned in heads (a) and (b) above is not present at the time appointed³¹.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals/A. APPEALS REGARDING PLANNING APPLICATIONS AND DECISIONS/639. Procedure after the hearing.

639. Procedure after the hearing.

Where a hearing¹ has been held for the purposes of a non-transferred appeal², then after the close of the hearing, the inspector³ must make a report in writing⁴ to the Secretary of State⁵ or, if the hearing was held in Wales, to the National Assembly for Wales⁶ which must include his conclusions and his recommendations or his reasons for not making any recommendations⁷. When making his or its determination the Secretary of State or the Assembly may disregard any written representations, evidence or other document⁸ received after the hearing has closed⁹. If, after the close of the hearing, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2489 (1) differs from the inspector on any matter of fact mentioned in, or appearing to him or to it to be material to, a conclusion reached by the inspector; or
- 2490 (2) takes into consideration any new evidence or new matter of fact, not being a matter of government or Assembly policy, and is for that reason disposed to disagree with a recommendation made by the inspector, he or the Assembly may not come to a decision which is at variance with that recommendation without:

- 2491 (a) first notifying the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing¹⁰ who appeared at or took part in it of his or its disagreement and the reasons for it; and
- 2492 (b) affording them an opportunity of making written representations to him or to the Assembly or, if he or it has taken into consideration any new evidence or new matter of fact, not being a matter of government or Assembly policy, of asking for the reopening of the hearing¹¹.

Those making written representations or requesting the hearing to be reopened pursuant to head (b) above must ensure that such representations or such a request are or is received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly within three weeks¹² of the date of his or its notification under that head¹³. The Secretary of State or the Assembly may, as he or it thinks fit, cause a hearing to be reopened, and must do so if asked by the appellant¹⁴ or the local planning authority¹⁵ in the circumstances¹⁶ and within the period¹⁷ mentioned above¹⁸. Where a hearing is reopened, whether by the same or a different inspector, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must send to the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing who appeared at or took part in it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further evidence is invited¹⁹.

Where a hearing has been held for the purposes of a transferred appeal²⁰, then when making his decision the inspector may disregard any written representations or evidence or any other document received after the hearing has closed²¹. If, after the close of the hearing, an inspector proposes to take into consideration any new evidence or any new matter of fact, not being a matter of government or Assembly policy, which was not raised at the hearing and which he considers to be material to his decision, he may not come to a decision without first:

- 2493 (i) notifying persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing who appeared at or took part in it of the matter in question; and 2494 (ii) affording them an opportunity of making written representations to him or of asking for the reopening of the hearing; and they must ensure that such written representations or such a request to reopen the hearing are or is received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly within three weeks of the date of the notification²². An inspector may, as he thinks fit, cause a hearing to be reopened and he must do so if asked by the appellant or the local planning authority in the circumstances and within the period mentioned above²³. Where a hearing is reopened the inspector must send to the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing who appeared at or took part in it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further evidence is invited²⁴.

TEXT AND NOTE 22--In head (i), the notification must be in writing: SI 2000/1626 r 14(3) (amended by SI 2009/455).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals/A. APPEALS REGARDING PLANNING APPLICATIONS AND DECISIONS/640. Notification of decision and procedure if decision is subsequently quashed.

640. Notification of decision and procedure if decision is subsequently quashed.

Where a hearing¹ has been held for the purposes of a non-transferred appeal², then the Secretary of State³ or, if the hearing was held in Wales, the National Assembly for Wales⁴ must notify his or its decision on an appeal⁵, and his reasons for it, in writing⁶ to all persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing⁷ who did appear or take part and to any other person who, having appeared at or taken part in the hearing, has asked to be notified of the decision⁸. Where a copy of the inspector's⁹ report¹⁰ is not sent with the notification of the decision, the notification must be accompanied by a statement of his conclusions and of any recommendations made by him; and if a person entitled to be notified of the decision has not received a copy of that report, he must be supplied with a copy of it on written application¹¹ to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly¹².

Where a hearing has been held for the purposes of a transferred appeal¹³, then an inspector must notify his decision on an appeal, and his reasons for it, in writing to all persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing who did appear or take part and to any other person who, having appeared at or taken part in the hearing, has asked to be notified of the decision¹⁴. Any person so entitled to be notified of the inspector's decision may apply to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in writing¹⁵ for an opportunity¹⁶ of inspecting any documents listed in the notification and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must afford him that opportunity¹⁷.

Where a decision of the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or an inspector on an appeal in respect of which a hearing has been held is quashed in proceedings before any court¹⁸, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2495 (1) must send to the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing who appeared at or took part in it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further representations are invited for the purposes of his or its further consideration of the appeal;
- 2496 (2) must afford to those persons the opportunity of making written representations to him or to the Assembly in respect of those matters or of asking for the reopening of the hearing¹⁹; and
- 2497 (3) may, as he or the Assembly thinks fit, cause the hearing to be reopened or an inquiry held instead, whether by the same or a different inspector²⁰.

1 For the meaning of 'hearing' for these purposes see PARA 634 notes 2, 10 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'non-transferred appeal' see PARA 634 notes 3, 12 ante.

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

4 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

5 le on such an appeal as is described in PARA 634 ante.

6 Notification in writing of a decision and reasons is also to be taken to have been given to a person for these purposes where (1) the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the person have agreed that decisions and reasons so required to be given in writing may instead be accessed by that person on a website; (2) the decision and reasons are a decision and reasons to which that agreement applies; (3) the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published the decision and reasons on a website; (4) the person is notified of (a) the publication of the decision and reasons on a website; (b) the address of the website; (c) the place on the website where the decision and reasons may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 15(2A) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 15(2A) (added by SI 2004/3172).

7 As to the persons so entitled see PARA 638 ante.

8 Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 15(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 15(1), (2).

9 For the meaning of 'inspector' see PARA 635 note 15 ante.

10 For these purposes, 'report' does not include any documents appended to the inspector's report; but any person who has received a copy of the report may apply to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in writing for an opportunity of inspecting any such documents and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must afford him that opportunity: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 15(4); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 15(4). A person so applying must ensure that his application is received within six weeks of the Secretary of State's or Assembly's decision: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 15(5)(b); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 15(5)(b). For these purposes, an opportunity is to be taken to have been afforded to a person where that person is notified of (1) publication of the relevant documents on a website; (2) the address of the website; (3) the place on the website where the documents may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 15(4A) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 15(4A) (added by SI 2004/3172). For the meaning of 'document' see PARA 635 note 6 ante; and as to the extension of time limits see PARA 635 note 10 ante.

11 A person so applying to the Secretary of State or the Assembly must ensure that his application is received within four weeks of the date of the Secretary of State's or Assembly's decision: Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1626, r 15(5)(a); Town and Country Planning (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1271, r 15(5)(a). Jurisdiction.

B. ENFORCEMENT APPEALS

641. Jurisdiction.

The Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002¹ apply in relation to any hearing² held in England for the purposes of a non-transferred or a transferred appeal³ made on or after 23 December 2002 under:

2498 (1) the specified provisions⁴ of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 regarding appeals against enforcement notices⁵;

2499 (2) the specified provisions⁶ of that Act regarding appeals against the refusal or non-determination of an application for a certificate of lawful use or development⁷;

2500 (3) the specified provisions⁸ of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 regarding appeals against listed building enforcement notices⁹ or conservation area enforcement notices¹⁰.

Those rules do not, however, apply to any hearing by reason of the application of any provision mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above by or under any other enactment¹¹.

Similarly, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003¹² apply in relation to any hearing¹³ held in Wales for the purposes of a non-transferred or a transferred appeal¹⁴ made on or after 1 June 2003 under the statutory provisions mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above, but do not apply to any hearing by reason of the application of any such provision by or under any other enactment¹⁵.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals/B. ENFORCEMENT APPEALS/642. Pre-hearing procedure; in general.

642. Pre-hearing procedure; in general.

The Secretary of State¹ or, if the hearing is to be held in Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² must, as soon as practicable after it is determined to hold a hearing³ under the relevant rules⁴, inform the appellant and the local planning authority⁵ in writing⁶ that a hearing is to be held⁷. The local planning authority must send to the Secretary of State and the appellant within two weeks of the starting date⁸ (or, if the hearing is to be held in Wales, send to the Assembly and the appellant so as to be received within two weeks of the starting date) a completed questionnaire⁹ and a copy of each of the documents referred to in it¹⁰. In the case of an enforcement appeal, it must also, within that two-week period, notify any:

- 2501 (1) person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served;
- 2502 (2) occupier of property in the locality in which the land¹¹ to which the enforcement notice relates is situated; and
- 2503 (3) other person who in the opinion of the local planning authority is affected by the breach of planning control¹² or contravention of listed building or conservation area control¹³ which is alleged in the enforcement notice, that an appeal has been made and of the address to which and of the period within which they may make representations to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁴.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must notify the name of the inspector¹⁵ to every person entitled to appear at or take part¹⁶ in the hearing¹⁷. Where, however, he or the Assembly appoints another inspector instead of the person previously appointed and it is not practicable to notify the new appointment before the hearing is held, the inspector holding the hearing must, at its commencement, announce his name and the fact of his appointment¹⁸.

The appellant and the local planning authority must send two copies of their hearing statement¹⁹ to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly within six weeks of the starting date²⁰. He or the Assembly may in writing require the appellant and the local planning authority to provide such further information about the matters contained in their hearing statement as he or it may specify²¹.

Any person who was notified about the appeal under heads (1) to (3) above must send to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly three copies of any written comments they wish to make concerning the appeal within six weeks of the starting date (or, if the hearing is to be held in Wales, so that they are received within six weeks of that date)²². The appellant and the local planning authority must send to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly two copies of any comments the local planning authority and the appellant wish to make on:

- 2504 (a) each other's hearing statement;
- 2505 (b) comments made pursuant to the above provisions²³; and
- 2506 (c) comments made to them by any other person, within nine weeks of the starting date (or, if the hearing is to be held in Wales, so that they are received within nine weeks of that date)²⁴.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must send, as soon as practicable after receipt, a copy of any hearing statement received by him or by it²⁵, further information provided²⁶ and any comments received²⁷ from, in each case, the appellant or the local planning authority to the other of those two parties²⁸. He or it must also send a copy of any written comments made by persons notified about the appeal²⁹ to the local planning authority and the appellant³⁰.

The local planning authority must give any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity³¹ to inspect, and where practicable, take copies of the local planning authority's completed questionnaire, hearing statement and any document copied to the authority³² and of further information provided by the authority³³ and comments made by the authority³⁴ under the above provisions, and must specify in its hearing statement the time and place where such documents may be inspected³⁵.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must send to the inspector, as soon as practicable after receipt, any hearing statement, document, part of any document or written comments sent to him or to it within the relevant period specified³⁶ for sending such documents³⁷. In the case of a non-transferred appeal, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, and in the case of a transferred appeal, the inspector, may in determining the appeal disregard any comments made³⁸ which are sent after the relevant specified period³⁹.

2 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'hearing' for these purposes see PARA 641 notes 2, 13 ante.

4 As to the relevant rules see PARA 641 ante.

5 For these purposes, 'local planning authority' means in relation to (1) an enforcement appeal, the body which issued the relevant enforcement notice; (2) an appeal against the refusal or non-determination of an application for a certificate of lawful use or development, the body to which that application was made; 'enforcement appeal' means an appeal against an enforcement notice; 'enforcement notice' means a notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 172 (as substituted) (see PARA 561 ante) or under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 38 (as amended) (see PARA 1146 post); and 'certificate of lawful use or development' means a certificate under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 191 or s 192 (each as substituted) (see PARA 586 et seq ante): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172).

6 As to the use of electronic communications see, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 2(2)-(8) (added by SI 2003/956). In those 2002 Rules, and in relation to the use of electronic communications for any purpose of those rules which is capable of being carried out electronically, the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purposes of such communications, except that where those rules impose an obligation on any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the obligation is not to be fulfilled unless the person on whom it is imposed provides a postal address; and references to statements, notices, applications, or other documents or to copies of such documents, include references to such documents or copies of them in electronic form: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 2(2) (as so added). Rule 2(4)-(8) (as so added) applies where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement in those rules that a statement or other document should be sent or given to any other person ('the recipient'): r 2(3) (as so added). The requirement is to be taken to be fulfilled where the document transmitted by means of the electronic communication is (1) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (2) legible in all material respects; and (3) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference; and for these purposes 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the notice or document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: r 2(4), (5) (as so added). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for this purpose 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: r 2(6) (as so added). A requirement in those 2002 Rules that any notice or document should be in writing is fulfilled where that document meets the criteria in heads (1)-(3) supra, and 'written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: r 2(7) (as so added). A requirement in those rules to send more than one copy of a statement or other document may be complied with by sending one copy only of the statement or document in question: r 2(8) (as so added). For these purposes, 'electronic communication' has the meaning assigned to that term by the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616); and 'document' includes a photograph, map or plan: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra).

Notices or documents required or authorised to be sent or supplied under the 2002 Rules may be sent or supplied by post or by using electronic communications to send or supply the notice or document (as the case may be) to a person at such address as may for the time being be specified by the person for that purpose: r 19 (substituted by SI 2003/956). Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for any purpose which under those rules is capable of being carried out electronically, the person must give notice in writing withdrawing any address notified to the Secretary of State or to a local planning authority for that purpose, or revoking any agreement entered into with the Secretary of State or with a local planning authority for that purpose, and such withdrawal or revocation is to be final and is to take effect on a date specified by the person in the notice but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 20 (added by SI 2003/956).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, rr 2(2)-(8), 19, 20, which refer to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State (rr 2(2)-(8), 20 added, and r 19 substituted, by SI 2004/3172).

7 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 4(1); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 4(1).

8 For these purposes, where the hearing is to be held in England, 'starting date' means the date of the (1) Secretary of State's written notice to the appellant and the local planning authority that he has received all the documents required to enable him to entertain the appeal pursuant to the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682, reg 10 (see PARA 607 the text to notes 13-14 ante); or (2) relevant notice, whichever is later; and 'the relevant notice' means the Secretary of State's written notice under the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 4(1) (see the text and notes 1-7 supra) informing the appellant and the local planning authority that a hearing is to be held: r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra). Where the hearing is to be held in Wales, 'starting date' means the date of the Assembly's written notice to the appellant and the local planning authority that it has received all the documents required to enable it to entertain the appeal pursuant to the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394, reg 9 (see PARA 607 the text to notes 13-14 ante); or (2) relevant notice, whichever is later; and 'the relevant notice' means the Assembly's written notice informing the appellant and the local planning authority that a hearing is to be held: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra).

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may at any time in any particular case allow further time for the taking of any step which is required or enabled to be taken pursuant to the relevant rules, and references in those rules to a day by which, or a period within which, any step is required or enabled to be taken are to be construed accordingly: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 18(1); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 18(1). Where a hearing is to be held or has been held for the purposes of a transferred appeal, an inspector may take such steps as the Secretary of State or the Assembly is enabled to take under or by virtue of this power to extend time limits, in place of the Secretary of State or the Assembly: see the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 10(1), (2); the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 10(1), (2). For the meaning of 'transferred appeal' see PARA 641 notes 3, 14 ante; and for the meaning of 'inspector' see note 15 infra.

9 For these purposes, 'questionnaire' means a document in the form supplied by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to local planning authorities for the purpose of proceedings under the relevant rules; and for this purpose a form is taken to be supplied where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published it on a website and has notified the local planning authority, in a manner for the time being agreed between the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the authority for that purpose, of (1) publication of the form on the website; (2) the address of the website; and (3) the place on the website where the form may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 5 supra); the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 5 supra).

10 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 4(2)(a); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 4(2)(a).

11 For these purposes, 'land' means the land or building to which the hearing relates: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra).

12 For the meaning of 'breach of planning control' see PARA 551 ante.

13 As to contravention of listed building control and contravention of conservation area control see PARAS 1110, 1175 post.

14 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 4(2)(b); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 4(2)(b).

15 For these purposes, 'inspector' means (1) in relation to a transferred appeal, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to determine an appeal; (2) in relation to a non-transferred appeal, a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to hold a hearing or a reopened hearing: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra). For the meaning of 'non-transferred appeal' see PARA 641 notes 3, 14 ante.

16 As to the persons so entitled see PARA 645 post.

17 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 7(1); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 7(1).

18 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 7(2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 7(2).

19 For these purposes, 'hearing statement' means, and consists of, a written statement which contains full particulars of the case which a person proposes to put forward at a hearing and copies of any documents which that person intends to refer to or put in evidence: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra).

20 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 5(1); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 5(1). As to the extension of time limits see note 8 supra.

21 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 5(2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 5(2). Such information must be provided in writing and the appellant or the local planning authority, as the case may be, must send two copies to the Secretary of State or the Assembly within such period as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may reasonably require: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 5(2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 5(2). As to the use of electronic communications see note 6 supra.

Where a hearing is to be held or has been held for the purposes of a transferred appeal, an inspector may take such steps as the Secretary of State or the Assembly is required or enabled to take under or by virtue of the rules cited supra, in place of the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and where an inspector requires further information or copies pursuant to those rules that information or those copies must be sent to him: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 10(1)-(3); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 10(1)-(3).

22 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 5(3); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 5(3).

23 Ie pursuant to the rules cited in note 22 supra.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals/B. ENFORCEMENT APPEALS/643. Date and notification of hearing.

643. Date and notification of hearing.

The date fixed by the Secretary of State¹ for the holding of a hearing² in England, or by the National Assembly for Wales³ for the holding of a hearing⁴ in Wales, must be:

- 2507 (1) not later than 12 weeks after the starting date⁵, unless he or it considers such a date impracticable; or
- 2508 (2) the earliest date after that period which he or it considers to be practicable⁶.

Unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly agrees a lesser period of notice with the appellant and the local planning authority⁷, he or the Assembly must give not less than four weeks' written notice⁸ of the date, time and place fixed by him or by it for the holding of a hearing to every person entitled to appear at or take part in⁹ the hearing¹⁰.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may vary the date fixed for the holding of a hearing, whether or not the date as varied is within the period of 12 weeks mentioned above¹¹. He or it may also vary the time or place for the holding of a hearing and must give notice of any such variation as appears to him or to the Assembly to be reasonable¹².

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing¹³ require the local planning authority to take one or both of the following steps:

- 2509 (a) not less than two weeks¹⁴ before the date fixed for the holding of a hearing, to publish a notice of the hearing in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land¹⁵ is situated;
- 2510 (b) to send a notice of the hearing to such persons or classes of persons as he or the Assembly may specify, within such period as he or it may specify¹⁶.

Every notice of hearing so published or sent must contain:

- 2511 (i) a clear statement of the date, time and place of the hearing and of the powers enabling the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or the inspector¹⁷ to determine the appeal in question;
- 2512 (ii) a written description of the land sufficient to identify approximately its location;
- 2513 (iii) a brief description of the subject matter of the appeal; and
- 2514 (iv) details of where and when copies of the local planning authority's completed questionnaire¹⁸ and documents¹⁹ sent by and copied to the authority²⁰ may be inspected²¹.

Where a hearing is to be held in respect of a transferred appeal²², an inspector may in place of the Secretary of State or the Assembly take such steps as he or it is required or enabled to take under or by virtue of the provisions set out above²³.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals/B. ENFORCEMENT APPEALS/644. Whether hearings procedure or local inquiry is appropriate.

644. Whether hearings procedure or local inquiry is appropriate.

If either the appellant or the local planning authority¹ at any time before or during the hearing² is of the opinion that the hearings procedure³ is inappropriate in determining the appeal⁴ and that the appeal should not proceed in this way then he or it may inform the Secretary of State⁵ before the hearing, if it is to be held in England, the National Assembly for Wales⁶ before the hearing, if it is to be held in Wales, or the inspector⁷, during the hearing, of that opinion and the reasons for it⁸. Either:

- 2515 (1) the Secretary of State or the Assembly before the hearing must, after consulting the other party who may inform him or it of his opinion⁹, decide whether an inquiry¹⁰ should be arranged instead¹¹; or
- 2516 (2) the inspector during the hearing must, after consulting the other party who may inform the inspector of his opinion¹², decide whether the hearing should be closed and an inquiry held instead¹³.

If at any time during a hearing it appears to the inspector that the hearings procedure is inappropriate, he may, after consulting the appellant and the local planning authority, decide to close the proceedings and arrange for an inquiry to be held instead¹⁴.

APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals/B. ENFORCEMENT APPEALS/645. Participation in and procedure at the hearing; site inspections.

645. Participation in and procedure at the hearing; site inspections.

The persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing¹ are:

- 2517 (1) the appellant;
- 2518 (2) the local planning authority²;
- 2519 (3) in the case of an enforcement appeal³, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice⁴ has been served; and
- 2520 (4) in the case of an enforcement appeal or an appeal against the refusal or non-determination of an application for a certificate of lawful use or development⁵, any person having an interest in the land⁶.

Nothing in heads (1) to (4) above, however, prevents the inspector⁷ from permitting any other person to appear at or take part in a hearing, and such permission is not to be unreasonably withheld⁸. Any person entitled or permitted to appear or take part may do so on his own behalf or be represented by any other person⁹.

Except as otherwise provided in the relevant rules¹⁰, the inspector is to determine the procedure at a hearing¹¹. A hearing must take the form of a discussion led by the inspector and cross-examination is not to be permitted unless the inspector considers that cross-examination is required to ensure a thorough examination of the main issues¹². Where the inspector considers that cross-examination is so required he must consider, after consulting the appellant and the local planning authority, whether the hearing should be closed and an inquiry¹³ held instead¹⁴.

At the start of the hearing the inspector must identify what are, in his opinion, the main issues to be considered at the hearing and any matters on which he requires further explanation from any person entitled or permitted to appear or take part¹⁵; but nothing in that provision precludes any person entitled or permitted to appear or to take part from referring to issues which that person considers relevant to the consideration of the appeal but which were not issues so identified by the inspector¹⁶.

A person entitled to appear at or take part in a hearing is to be entitled to call evidence but, subject to that and to the specific rules set out below¹⁷, the calling of evidence is otherwise to be at the inspector's discretion¹⁸. The inspector may refuse to permit the giving or production of evidence or the presentation of any other matter which he considers to be irrelevant or repetitious; but where he refuses to permit the giving of oral evidence, the person wishing to give the evidence may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing¹⁹ before the close of the hearing²⁰.

The inspector may require any person appearing or present at a hearing who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave²¹ and may refuse to permit that person to return or may permit him to return only on such conditions as he may specify²²; but any such person may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing before the close of the hearing²³. The inspector may proceed with a hearing in the absence of any person entitled to appear at it²⁴.

The inspector may allow any person to alter or add to a hearing statement²⁵ so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the hearing; but he must, if necessary by adjourning the hearing, give every other person entitled to appear or take part who is appearing at or taking part in the hearing an adequate opportunity of considering any fresh matter or document²⁶. He may take into account any written representation or evidence or any other document received by him from any person before a hearing opens or during the hearing provided that he discloses it at the hearing²⁷.

The inspector may from time to time adjourn a hearing and, if the date, time and place of the adjourned hearing are announced at the hearing before the adjournment, no further notice is to be required²⁸.

Where it appears to the inspector that one or more matters would be more satisfactorily resolved by adjourning the hearing to the appeal site he may adjourn the hearing to that site and conclude the hearing there provided he is satisfied that:

- 2521 (a) the hearing would proceed satisfactorily and that no party would be placed at a disadvantage;
- 2522 (b) all parties present at the hearing would have the opportunity to attend the adjourned hearing;
- 2523 (c) the local planning authority and the appellant have not raised reasonable objections to it being continued at the appeal site²⁹.

Unless the hearing is to be adjourned to the appeal site pursuant to the above provisions, the inspector may inspect the land during the hearing or after its close and must inspect the land if requested to do so by the appellant or the local planning authority before or during the hearing³⁰. Where the inspector intends to make such an inspection, he must ask the appellant and the local planning authority whether they wish to be present³¹. Where the appellant or the local planning authority have indicated a wish to be present the inspector must announce the date and time at which he proposes to make the inspection during the hearing and must make the inspection in the company of:

- 2524 (i) the appellant, the local planning authority and any other person who has an interest in the land; and
- 2525 (ii) at the inspector's discretion, any other person entitled or permitted to appear at or take part in the hearing who is appearing or taking part or who did appear at or take part in it³².

The inspector is not, however, bound to defer such an inspection where any person mentioned in heads (i) and (ii) above is not present at the time appointed³³.

 The Secretary of State or the Assembly may at any time before the close of a hearing request from any person entitled to appear additional copies of the following: (1) a hearing statement or comments sent in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 5 (as amended) or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 5 (as amended) (see PARA 642 ante); or (2) any other document or information sent to the Secretary of State or the Assembly before or during a hearing, and may specify the time within which such copies should be sent to him or to it and any person so requested must ensure that the copies are sent within the specified period: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 18(2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 18(2). APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(2) PROCEDURE ON DETERMINATION OF APPEALS TO THE SECRETARY OF STATE OR THE ASSEMBLY/(iv) Hearing of Transferred and Non-transferred Appeals/B. ENFORCEMENT APPEALS/646. Procedure after the hearing.

646. Procedure after the hearing.

Where a hearing¹ has been held for the purposes of a non-transferred appeal², then after the close of the hearing, the inspector³ must make a report in writing⁴ to the Secretary of State⁵, if the hearing was held in England, or to the National Assembly for Wales⁶, if the hearing was held in Wales, which must include his conclusions and his recommendations or his reasons for not making any recommendations⁷. When making his or its determination the Secretary of State or the Assembly may disregard any written representations, evidence or other document⁸ received after the hearing has closed⁹. If, after the close of the hearing, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2526 (1) differs from the inspector on any matter of fact mentioned in, or appearing to him or to the Assembly to be material to, a conclusion reached by the inspector; or
- 2527 (2) takes into consideration any new evidence or new matter of fact, not being a matter of government or Assembly policy,

and is for that reason disposed to disagree with a recommendation made by the inspector, he or the Assembly may not come to a decision which is at variance with that recommendation without first notifying the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing¹⁰ who appeared at or took part in it of his or its disagreement and the reasons for it¹¹. Where persons so entitled who appeared at or took part in the hearing are so notified, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give them an opportunity to make written representations to him or to it or, if he or the Assembly has taken into consideration any new evidence or new matter of fact, not being a matter of government or Assembly policy, to ask for the reopening of the hearing¹². Those making written representations or requesting the hearing to be reopened pursuant to the above provisions must send such representations or requests to the Secretary of State within three weeks of the date of his notification under those provisions or, if the hearing was held in Wales, must send them so as to be received by the Assembly within three weeks of the date of the Assembly's notification¹³. The Secretary of State or the Assembly may, as he or it thinks fit, cause a hearing to be reopened, and must do so if asked by the appellant or the local planning authority¹⁴ in the circumstances and within the period mentioned above¹⁵. Where a hearing is so reopened, whether by the same or a different inspector, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must send to the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing who appeared at it or took part in it a written statement of the matters on which further evidence is invited¹⁶.

Where a hearing has been held for the purposes of a transferred appeal¹⁷, then when making his decision the inspector may disregard any written representations or evidence or any other document received after the hearing has closed¹⁸. If, after the close of the hearing, an inspector proposes to take into consideration any new evidence or any new matter of fact, not being a matter of government or Assembly policy, which was not raised at the hearing and which he considers to be material to his decision, he must not come to a decision without first:

- 2528 (a) notifying persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing who appeared at or took part in it of the matter in question; and
- 2529 (b) giving them an opportunity to make written representations to him or to ask for the reopening of the hearing; and they must send such written representations or requests to reopen the hearing to the Secretary of State within three weeks of the date of the notification or, if the hearing was held in Wales, must send them so as to be received by the Assembly within three weeks of the date of the notification¹⁹. An inspector may, as he thinks fit, cause a hearing to be reopened and he must do so if asked by the appellant or the local planning authority in the circumstances and within the period mentioned above²⁰. Where a hearing is so reopened the inspector must send to the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing who appeared at or took part in it a written statement of the matters on which further evidence is invited²¹.

Notification of decision; procedure if decision is subsequently remitted for rehearing and redetermination.

647. Notification of decision; procedure if decision is subsequently remitted for rehearing and redetermination.

Where a hearing¹ has been held for the purposes of a non-transferred appeal², then the Secretary of State³, if the hearing was held in England, or the National Assembly for Wales⁴, if the hearing was held in Wales, must notify his or its decision on an appeal⁵, and his or its reasons for that decision, in writing⁶ to:

- 2530 (1) the appellant and the local planning authority⁷;
- 2531 (2) all persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing⁸ who did appear or take part; and
- 2532 (3) any other person who, having appeared at or taken part in the hearing, has asked to be notified of the decision⁹.

Where a copy of the inspector's¹⁰ report¹¹ is not sent with the notification of the decision or published on a website¹², the notification must be accompanied by a statement of his conclusions and of any recommendations made by him; and if a person entitled to be notified of the decision has not received a copy of that report, he must be supplied with a copy of it on written application to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹³.

Where a hearing has been held for the purposes of a transferred appeal¹⁴, then an inspector must notify his decision on an appeal¹⁵, and his reasons for it, in writing to:

- 2533 (a) the appellant and the local planning authority;
- 2534 (b) all persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing who did appear or take part; and
- 2535 (c) any other person who, having appeared at or taken part in the hearing, has asked to be notified of the decision¹⁶.

Any person so entitled to be notified of the inspector's decision may apply to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in writing¹⁷ for an opportunity¹⁸ to inspect any documents listed in the notification and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give him that opportunity¹⁹.

Where an appeal for which a hearing has been held is remitted by any court to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly for rehearing and redetermination²⁰, he or the Assembly:

- 2536 (i) must send to the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the hearing who appeared at or took part in it a written statement of the matters on which further representations are invited in order for him or the Assembly to consider the appeal further;
- 2537 (ii) must give those persons the opportunity to make written representations to him or to it on those matters or to ask for the reopening of the hearing²¹; and
- 2538 (iii) may, as he or the Assembly thinks fit, cause the hearing to be reopened or an inquiry held instead, whether by the same or a different inspector²².

1 For the meaning of 'hearing' for these purposes see PARA 641 notes 2, 13 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'non-transferred appeal' for these purposes see PARA 641 notes 3, 14 ante.

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

4 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

5 I.e. an appeal such as is described in PARA 641 ante.

6 Notification in writing of a decision and reasons is to be taken to have been given to a person for these purposes where (1) the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the person have agreed that decisions, reasons, and copies of reports so required to be given in writing may instead be accessed by that person on a website; (2) the decision and reasons are a decision and reasons to which that agreement applies; (3) the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published the decision and reasons on a website; (4) the person is notified of (a) the publication of the decision and reasons on a website; (b) the address of the website; (c) the place on the website where the decision and reasons may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 15(2A) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 15(2A) (added by SI 2004/3172).

7 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' for these purposes see PARA 642 note 5 ante.

8 As to the persons so entitled see PARA 645 ante.

10 For the meaning of 'inspector' for these purposes see PARA 642 note 15 ante.

11 For these purposes, 'report' does not include any documents appended to the inspector's report; but any person who has received a copy of the report may apply to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in writing for an opportunity to inspect any such documents and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give him that opportunity: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 15(4); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 15(4). The application must be sent to the Secretary of State within six weeks of the date of his decision, or so as to be received by the Assembly within six weeks of the date of its decision: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 15(5)(b); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 15(5)(b). For these purposes an opportunity is to be taken to have been given to a person where that person is notified of (1) publication of the relevant documents on a website; (2) the address of the website; (3) the place on the website where the documents may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 15(4A) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 15(4A) (added by SI 2004/3172). As to the use of electronic communications to make the application, and for the meaning of 'document' see PARA 642 note 6 ante.

12 I.e. in accordance with the rules cited in note 6 supra.

13 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 15(3); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 15(3). A person so applying to the Secretary of State must send his application to him within four weeks of the Secretary of State's decision, and a person so applying to the Assembly must send it so as to be received by the Assembly within four weeks of its decision: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure)

(England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 15(5)(a); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 15(5)(a).

17 A person so applying to the Secretary of State must send his application to him within six weeks of the date of the inspector's decision; and a person so applying to the Assembly must send his application so as to be received by the Assembly within six weeks of that decision: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 16(4); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 16(4).

18 For these purposes, an opportunity is to be taken to have been given to a person where that person is notified of (1) publication of the relevant documents on a website; (2) the address of the website; (3) the place on the website where the documents may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 16(3A) (added by SI 2003/956; Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 16(3A) (added by SI 2004/3172).

20 As to appeals to the High Court, and other methods of challenging a decision, see PARA 43 et seq ante, PARAS 648-650 post.

21 Those persons making representations or asking for the hearing to be reopened under head (ii) in the text must send such representations or requests to the Secretary of State within three weeks of the date of the written statement sent under head (i) in the text, or to the Assembly so as to be received within three weeks of the date of that statement: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 17(2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 17(2).

22 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 17(1)(a)-(c); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 17(1)(a)-(c). If the Secretary of State or the Assembly reopens the hearing, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 6(2)-(6) (as amended) or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 6(2)-(6) (as amended) (see PARA 643 ante) apply as if the references to a hearing were to a reopened hearing: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2684, r 17(1)(c); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Hearings Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1268, r 17(1)(c).

(3) APPEALS TO THE HIGH COURT

648. Appeals relating to enforcement notices etc.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² gives a decision³ in proceedings:

- 2539 (1) on an appeal⁴ against an enforcement notice⁵, the appellant or the local planning authority⁶ or any other person having an interest in the land⁷ to which the notice relates may, according as rules of court⁸ provide, either appeal to the High Court against the decision on a point of law⁹ or require the Secretary of State or the Assembly to state and sign a case for the opinion of the High Court¹⁰; and at any stage of the proceedings on any such appeal the Secretary of State or the Assembly may state any question of law arising in the course of the proceedings in the form of a special case for the decision of the High Court¹¹;
- 2540 (2) on an appeal¹² against an enforcement notice relating to the planting of trees¹³, the appellant or the local planning authority or any person, other than the appellant, on whom the notice was served may, according as rules of court may provide, either appeal to the High Court against the decision on a point of law or require the Secretary of State or the Assembly to state and sign a case for the opinion of the High Court¹⁴; and, where proceedings are so brought, the notice is of no effect pending the final determination of those proceedings and any rehearing and determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁵.

In proceedings brought by virtue of the above provisions in respect of an enforcement notice, the High Court or, as the case may be, the Court of Appeal may, on such terms, if any, as the court thinks fit, which may include terms requiring the local planning authority to give an undertaking as to damages or any other matter, order that the notice shall have effect, or have effect to such extent as may be specified in the order, pending the final determination of those proceedings and any rehearing and determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹⁶.

No proceedings in the High Court may, however, be brought by virtue of the above provisions except with the leave of that court; and no appeal to the Court of Appeal may be so brought except with the leave of the Court of Appeal or the High Court¹⁷.

The procedure for challenging the validity of enforcement notices and of other decisions and orders has already been discussed¹⁸. Appeals to the High Court relating to listed building and conservation area enforcement notices¹⁹ are discussed in a later part of this title²⁰.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289 (as amended), so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 For these purposes, 'decision' includes a direction or order; and references to the giving of a decision are to be construed accordingly: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289(7). A letter from the Secretary of State declining jurisdiction on an appeal is a decision for these purposes: Wain v Secretary of State for the Environment (1978) 39 P & CR 82; but cf Co-operative Retail Services Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment [1980] 1 All ER 449, [1980] 1 WLR 271, CA (cited in PARA 43 note 17 ante).

5 For the meaning of 'enforcement notice' see PARA 561 ante.

6 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

7 For the meaning of 'land' see PARA 2 note 10 ante.

8 In relation to any proceedings in the High Court or the Court of Appeal brought by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289 (as amended) the power to make rules of court includes power to make rules (1) prescribing the powers of the High Court or of the Court of Appeal with respect to the remitting of the matter with the opinion or direction of the court for rehearing and determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly; and (2) providing for the Secretary of State or the Assembly, either generally or in such circumstances as may be prescribed by the rules, to be treated as a party to any such proceedings and to be entitled to appear and to be heard accordingly: s 289(5). Rules of court may also provide for the High Court or, as the case may be, the Court of Appeal to give directions as to the exercise, until such proceedings in respect of an enforcement notice are finally concluded and any rehearing and determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly has taken place, of any other powers in respect of the matters to which such a notice relates: s 289(5A) (substituted by the Planning and Compensation Act 1991 s 6(5)). As to the procedure relating to appeals under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289(1), (2) see PARA 649 post.

9 If there is no evidence for a particular finding or if the tribunal does not take into account at all a relevant consideration, there could well be grounds of appeal raising a question of law. The contention that a tribunal has failed to give adequate weight to evidence or sufficient consideration to a particular circumstance does not afford such grounds; and the weight which a tribunal gives to a particular piece of evidence on a particular consideration is a matter for that tribunal: ELS Wholesale (Wolverhampton) Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1987) 56 P & CR 69, [1987] JPL 844, DC.

10 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289(1). Section 289 (as amended) applies to a correction notice issued under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 57 (see PARA 56 ante) as if it were a decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly mentioned in (1) s 289(1), if the decision document in respect of which the correction notice is given records a decision mentioned in the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 59(4)(b) (see PARA 56 note 4 head (2) ante), not being a decision mentioned in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 177 (as amended) (see PARA 610 ante); or (2) s 289(2) (see the text and notes 12-14 infra), if the decision document in respect of which the correction notice is given records a decision mentioned in the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 59(4)(c) (see PARA 56 note 4 head (3) ante): s 58(4).

On an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289 (as amended) the court should not itself receive evidence unless it is argued that the inspector at the planning inquiry has not properly summarised the evidence or has disregarded evidence: Clarke v Secretary of State for the Environment (1992) 65 P & CR 85, [1992] 3 PLR 146, CA. The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289 (as amended) applies to appeals against special enforcement notices under s 295(3) (prospectively repealed) (see PARA 612 ante) as if the references therein to an enforcement notice were references to a special enforcement notice and with the substitution in s 289(1) for the words 'Part VII' of the words 'section 295(3)': Town and Country Planning (Special Enforcement Notices) Regulations 1992, SI 1992/1562, reg 2, Schedule.

11 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289(3). A decision on a case stated by virtue of s 289(3) is deemed to be a judgment of the court within the meaning of the Supreme Court Act 1981 s 16 (as amended) (jurisdiction of the Court of Appeal to hear and determine appeals from any judgment of the High Court: see COURTS vol 10 (Reissue) PARA 639): Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 289(4). NOTE 11--Appointed day is 1 October 2009: SI 2009/1604.

NOTE 16--Following a successful appeal against an enforcement notice, the court is entitled, on remitting a matter for rehearing and determination, to limit the rehearing and determination only to those questions which gave rise to the successful appeal: R (on the application of Perrett) v Secretary of State for Communities and Local Government [2009] EWHC 234 (Admin), [2009] JPL 1151, [2009] All ER (D) 120 (Apr) (affd: [2009] EWCA Civ 1365, [2010] 2 All ER 578).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(3) APPEALS TO THE HIGH COURT/649. Applications for permission to appeal and procedure on appeal to the High Court.

649. Applications for permission to appeal and procedure on appeal to the High Court.

An application for permission to appeal to the High Court under the specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹ or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990² must be made within 28 days after the date on which notice of the decision was given to the applicant³. An application must:

2541 (1) include, where necessary, any application to extend the time for applying;

- 2542 (2) be in writing⁴ setting out the reasons why permission should be granted, and if the time for applying has expired, the reasons why the application was not made within that time;
- 2543 (3) be made by filing it⁵ together with the decision, a draft appellant's notice, and a witness statement or affidavit⁶ verifying any facts relied on;
- 2544 (4) before being filed under head (3) above, be served⁷ together with the draft appellant's notice and a copy of the witness statement or affidavit to be filed with the application, upon the specified persons⁸; and
- 2545 (5) be accompanied by a witness statement or affidavit giving the names and addresses of, and the places and dates of service on, all persons who have been served with the application and, if any person who ought to be served has not been served, the witness statement or affidavit must state that fact and the reason for it⁹.

An application must be heard by a single judge¹⁰ and, unless the court otherwise orders, be heard not less than 21 days after it was filed¹¹. Any person served with the application is entitled to appear and be heard¹². If on the hearing of an application the court is of opinion that any person who ought to have been served has not been served, the court may adjourn the hearing on such terms, if any, as it may direct in order that the application may be served on that person¹³. If the court grants permission:

- 2546 (a) it may impose such terms as to costs and as to giving security as it thinks fit;
- 2547 (b) it may give directions; and
- 2548 (c) the appellant's notice by which the appeal is to be brought must be served and filed within seven days of the grant¹⁴.

Any respondent who intends to use a witness statement or affidavit at the hearing must file it and serve a copy of it on the applicant as soon as is practicable and in any event, unless the court otherwise allows, at least two days before the hearing; and the court may allow the applicant to use a further witness statement or affidavit¹⁵.

An appeal lies to the High Court on a point of law against a decision of the Secretary of State¹⁶ or the National Assembly for Wales¹⁷ under the specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹⁸ or the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990¹⁹ at the instance of any person or authority entitled to appeal under any of those provisions respectively²⁰. Any such appeal, and any case stated²¹, must be heard and determined by a single judge unless the court directs that the matter is to be heard and determined by a Divisional Court²².

The persons to be served with the appellant's notice by which an appeal to the High Court is brought²³ are:

- 2549 (i) the Secretary of State or the Assembly;
- 2550 (ii) the local planning authority²⁴ which served the notice or gave the decision, as the case may be, or, where the appeal is brought by that authority, the appellant or applicant in the proceedings in which the decision appealed against was given;
- 2551 (iii) in the case of an appeal with regard to an enforcement notice²⁵, any other person having an interest in the land to which the notice relates; and
- 2552 (iv) in the case of an appeal against a decision in proceedings with regard to an enforcement notice relating to the planting of trees²⁶, any other person on whom the notice to which those proceedings related was served²⁷.

The court hearing any such appeal may remit the matter to the Secretary of State or the Assembly to the extent necessary to enable him or it to provide the court with such further information in connection with the matter as the court may direct²⁸.

Where the court is of opinion that the decision appealed against was erroneous in point of law, it may not set aside or vary that decision but must remit the matter to the Secretary of State or the Assembly with the opinion of the court for rehearing and determination by him or by the Assembly²⁹. The court may give directions as to the exercise, until an appeal such as is mentioned in head (iii) above is finally concluded and any rehearing and determination by the Secretary of State or the Assembly has taken place, of the power to serve, and institute proceedings (including criminal proceedings) concerning, a stop notice³⁰ and a breach of condition notice³¹.

648-649 Appeals to the High Court

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/6. APPEALS ETC; IN GENERAL/(4) JUDICIAL REVIEW; MALADMINISTRATION/650. In general.

(4) JUDICIAL REVIEW; MALADMINISTRATION

650. In general.

Where there is no specific provision in the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 enabling the validity of an order or decision made thereunder to be challenged¹, an application may be made for judicial review².

Decisions made by local planning authorities, as, for example, to grant planning permission³, to issue enforcement notices and stop notices⁴, to refuse to accept as valid an application for planning permission⁵, or that a planning permission has lapsed⁶ may be judicially reviewed; and decisions made by the Secretary of State⁷ or, in relation to Wales, by the National Assembly for Wales⁸, as, for example, whether or not to award costs⁹, not to call in a planning application¹⁰, to refuse to accept jurisdiction to determine an appeal¹¹, to order a fresh inquiry or to reopen an inquiry¹² may likewise be judicially reviewed. The Court of Appeal has, however, expressed a note of dissatisfaction at the way the availability of the remedy of judicial review can be exploited as a commercial weapon by rival potential developers to frustrate and delay their competitors' approved developments¹³.

An applicant for judicial review must have a sufficient interest in the matter to which the application relates¹⁴.

Decisions of local authorities, the Secretary of State or the Assembly in relation to such matters are also susceptible to review by the appropriate ombudsman¹⁵.

1 As to challenging the validity of certain orders and decisions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Pt XII (ss 284-292) (as amended) see PARA 43 et seq ante; and as to appeals to the High Court relating to certain enforcement etc notices see PARAS 648-649 ante.

2 As to judicial review generally see JUDICIAL REVIEW. As to time limits for making applications in cases involving planning matters see eg R (on the application of Young) v Oxford City Council [2003] JPL 232, [2002] All ER (D) 226 (Jun), CA (a potential applicant for judicial review is entitled to seek information from a local planning authority as to the procedures it has followed; he cannot know if he has an arguable case unless he does so, and it is undesirable to set in motion the process of litigation before an effort has been made to resolve the issue through pre-trial correspondence. However, the obligation to apply promptly remains a feature of the law and should not be ignored by applicants in the expectation that the word 'promptly' is a dead letter). As to the consequences of delay see eg R (on the application of Gavin) v Haringey London Borough Council [2003] EWHC 2591 (Admin), [2003] All ER (D) 57 (Nov). A challenge to an earlier decision may become academic if it has been overtaken by decisions on later planning applications: see eg R (on the application of Meritgold Ltd) v Barnet London Borough Council [2004] EWHC 268 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 231 (Jan) (unsuccessful attempt to challenge local planning authority's exercise of power under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 70A (as added) (see PARA 516 ante) to decline to determine earlier application). See also R v Ceredigion County Council, ex p McKeown [1998] 2 PLR 1, [1998] PLCR 90; R v Newbury District Council, ex p Chieveley Parish Council [1999] PLCR 51, [1998] All ER (D) 367, CA; R v Camden London Borough Council, ex p Williams [2000] 2 PLR 93, [2000] JPL 1147; R (on the application of Malster) v Ipswich Borough Council [2001] EWHC 711 (Admin), [2001] All ER (D) 107 (Aug), [2002] PLCR 251; R (on the application of Friends Provident Life Office) v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2001] EWHC Admin 820, [2002] 1 WLR 1450, [2001] All ER (D) 274 (Oct). As to the procedure on an application for judicial review see CPR Pt 54; Practice Direction--Judicial Review PD 54; and JUDICIAL REVIEW vol 61 (2010) PARA 660.

For an example of an unsuccessful application (1) where the appropriate claim was a claim in damages against the local planning authority, rather than judicial review of the inspector's decision to quash enforcement notices, see R (on the application of Nunn) v First Secretary of State [2005] EWCA Civ 101, (2005) Times, 8 February, [2005] All ER (D) 113 (Feb); (2) on the grounds that the local planning authority had misunderstood the legal advice it was given, see R (on the application of Manning) v South Lakeland District Council [2005] EWHC 242 (Admin), [2005] All ER (D) 100 (Feb). As to whether it is appropriate to award costs against an unsuccessful claimant when permission to apply for judicial review is refused see R (on the application of Mount Cook Land Ltd) v Westminster City Council [2003] EWCA Civ 1346, [2003] All ER (D) 222 (Oct).

Where there are no statutory or procedural rules governing a planning control committee meeting, the court is entitled to quash the decision where the facts disclose a procedural unfairness: see eg R (on the application of Tromans) v Cannock Chase District Council [2004] EWCA Civ 1036, [2004] LGR 735, [2004] All ER (D) 504 (Jul). Judicial review is not, however, an appropriate remedy merely because there has been some unfairness in the proceedings before the committee, in circumstances when there is a further right of appeal capable of dealing with the underlying dispute as to the planning merits of the decision: R (on the application of Taylor) v Maidstone Borough Council [2004] EWHC 257 (Admin), [2004] All ER (D) 57 (Feb).

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(i) In general/651. Secretary of State's or Assembly's power to hold local inquiries.

7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL

(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES

(i) In general

651. Secretary of State's or Assembly's power to hold local inquiries.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² may cause a local inquiry³ to be held for the purposes of the exercise of any of his or its functions⁴ under any of the provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁵. He or the Assembly is also authorised or required to hold a local inquiry for other statutory purposes relating to town and country planning⁶.

In certain cases the inquiry which the Secretary of State or the Assembly is authorised or required to hold is expressed to be a public local inquiry⁷.

The Planning Inspectorate, whose members preside at such local inquiries, has been discussed in an earlier part of this title⁸.

Independent examinations of development plan documents under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004⁹, and examinations in public of proposals for unitary development plans¹⁰ in England and Wales or for structure plans¹¹ in England and local inquiries with regard to proposals for local plans¹² in England under the relevant provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, so far as still applying¹³, have also already been discussed¹⁴.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the transfer of functions under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 320, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Assembly see the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999, SI 1999/672, art 2, Sch 1 (as amended); and as to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 Any inquiry held under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 320 is designated for the purposes of the Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 s 16(2) (as amended): see PARA 653 post. The provisions of the Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 also apply for the purposes of inquiries etc held under certain other provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990: see eg s 42(6) (as amended; repealed with savings); and PARA 202 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'functions' see PARA 2 note 1 ante.

5 Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 320(1). The Local Government Act 1972 s 250(2)-(5) (as amended) (evidence and costs at local inquiries: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 105) applies to an inquiry held by virtue of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 320: s 320(2). The Secretary of State's, Assembly's or inspector's decision as to costs may be challenged: see eg Newport Borough Council v Secretary of State for Wales (1997) 74 P & CR 147, [1998] 1 PLR 47, CA; R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p North Norfolk District Council [1994] 2 PLR 78; Ealing London Borough Council v Secretary of State for the Environment [1993] 2 PLR 12; R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Rochford District Council [2000] 3 All ER 1018. In considering whether to make a costs order against a party to a planning appeal, an inspector is not precluded from taking into account conduct before the appeal proceedings: R v Secretary of State for the Environment, ex p Rochford District Council supra.

The procedure to be followed at local inquiries and hearings held in connection with certain applications under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 is prescribed by regulations: see PARA 659 et seq post.

6 See eg the New Towns Act 1981 s 1(4), Sch 1 para 3; and PARA 1316 post.

7 See note 6 supra. The effect of the word 'public' appears to be that every member of the public would have standing to bring before the inquiry any relevant matters: Local Government Board v Arlidge [1915] AC 120 at 147-148, HL, per Lord Moulton. In any event it is customary for members of the public to be heard at local inquiries: see PARA 659 et seq post. As to public inquiries generally see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 15.

652. Planning inquiries generally to be held in public.

At any local inquiry held under specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹ oral evidence must be heard in public and documentary evidence must be open to public inspection². If, however, the Secretary of State³ (acting concurrently with the National Assembly for Wales⁴ in relation to Wales)⁵ is satisfied in the case of any such inquiry:

- 2553 (1) that the giving of evidence of a particular description or, as the case may be, making it available for inspection would be likely to result in the disclosure of information as to national security or the measures taken or to be taken to ensure the security of any premises or property; and
- 2554 (2) that the public disclosure of that information would be contrary to the national interest, he may direct that evidence of the description indicated in the direction shall only be heard or, as the case may be, be open to inspection at that inquiry by such persons or persons of such descriptions as he may specify in the direction⁶.

In relation to England, if the Secretary of State is considering giving such a direction the Attorney General may appoint a person to represent the interests of any person who will be prevented from hearing or inspecting any evidence at a local inquiry if the direction is given⁷; and if before the Secretary of State gives such a direction no person is so appointed, the Attorney General may at any time so appoint a person for the purposes of the inquiry⁸. The Lord Chancellor may by rules make provision:

- 2555 (a) as to the procedure to be followed by the Secretary of State before he gives such a direction in a case where a person has been so appointed⁹;
- 2556 (b) as to the functions¹⁰ of a person appointed¹¹ as described above¹².

If the matter in respect of which a local inquiry to which the above provisions apply¹³ is to be held relates to Wales, the above references¹⁴ to the Attorney General must be read as references to the Counsel General to the National Assembly for Wales¹⁵. The Assembly may by regulations¹⁶ make provision¹⁷ in connection with such a local inquiry¹⁸; and if it acts under this power, rules made by the Lord Chancellor under the provisions set out above¹⁹ do not have effect in relation to the inquiry²⁰.

If a person is appointed as described above²¹ ('the appointed representative') the Secretary of State or the Assembly may direct any person who he or it thinks is interested in the inquiry in relation to a matter mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above ('the responsible person') to pay the fees and expenses of the appointed representative²². If the appointed representative and the responsible person are unable to agree the amount of the fees and expenses, the amount must be determined by the Secretary of State or the Assembly²³. He or it must cause the amount agreed between the appointed representative and the responsible person or determined by him or by the Assembly to be certified²⁴. An amount so certified is recoverable from the responsible person as a civil debt²⁵. If, however, a person is so appointed, but no inquiry is held²⁶, then the above provisions²⁷ apply in respect of the fees and expenses of the person appointed as if the inquiry had been held²⁸.

653. Discretionary inquiries; in general.

The Lord Chancellor and the Secretary of State¹ may by order designate any inquiry or hearing held or to be held in pursuance of a power conferred by any statutory provision² specified or described in the order, or any class of such inquiries or hearings³.

The following inquiries have been so designated:

- 2557 (1) any inquiry held under the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960⁴;
- 2558 (2) any inquiry held under the New Towns Act 1981⁵;

2559 (3) any inquiry caused to be held under specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁶ by the Secretary of State in exercise of any of his functions under that Act⁷.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'statutory provision' means a provision contained in, or having effect under, any enactment: Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 s 16(1).

3 Ibid s 16(2) (amended by virtue of the Transfer of Functions (Lord Advocate and Secretary of State) Order 1999, SI 1999/678, art 2(1), Schedule). The Lord Chancellor's function under the Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 s 16(2) (as so amended) is a protected function for the purposes of the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 s 19: see s 19(5), Sch 7 para 4.

The following provisions of the Tribunals and Inquiries Act 1992 accordingly apply to any such inquiry: s 1(1)(c) (supervision by the Council on Tribunals); s 9 (as amended) (power to make rules regulating procedure); and s 10 (as amended) (reasons to be given for decisions of ministers after holding of inquiry or where inquiry could have been required to be held). 654. Procedure at local inquiries; in general.

The procedure to be followed at local inquiries is in most cases prescribed by procedural rules¹. In the absence of such rules, however, the procedure to be followed at such an inquiry is a matter for the discretion of the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales or for the inspector². The inspector is bound to observe the rules of natural justice³. He is not, however, bound by the rules of evidence applicable in the courts of law, but may take into account any material which has probative value⁴. Procedural rules now generally provide that copies of the inspector's or assessor's report and other documents are to be furnished to the parties and to other interested persons⁵; this may be done by making them available on an accessible website⁶.

It is an offence to obstruct or intimidate a witnesses at any inquiry held under statutory authority or to punish him for any evidence he has given, unless his evidence was given in bad faith⁷.

When considering an appeal against a decision of a local planning authority or deciding whether to confirm a scheme or order made by that authority, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must act fairly between the parties. After the inquiry has closed, he or the Assembly may not hear one side without letting the other know and may not accept from third parties fresh evidence which supports the case of one side without giving the other side an opportunity to answer it⁸. Subject to the rules of natural justice, and to any procedural rules, the Secretary of State or the Assembly, in reaching his or its decision, is performing an administrative function; in addition to the inspector's report he or it may take into account any relevant information⁹ and may have regard to questions of policy¹⁰.

Where the subject matter is a scheme prepared by the department of the Secretary of State, objectors should be given sufficient information about the reasons relied upon by the department to enable them to challenge the accuracy of the facts and the validity of any arguments upon which the departmental reasons are based¹¹. After receiving the report of the local inquiry into a proposal originated by his own department, the Secretary of State is taking a policy decision and is not required to observe the principles of natural justice in that process¹². It is unusual for there to be a hearing or inquiry as part of the policy review process and in the absence of a statutory provision the court cannot force an inquiry to be held. Furthermore, there is no authority for the proposition that, having lawfully adopted a policy, fairness requires that the Secretary of State himself should have to make arrangements to research into whether there has been a change in circumstances to justify a change in policy¹³.

The validity of the final decision may be challenged on an application to the High Court¹⁴ but the court is generally reluctant to hear challenges during the course of a planning inquiry¹⁵. On any challenge before the court it is generally undesirable that the inspector should be subjected to cross-examination but this may be allowed in the interests of justice where the court has evidence from which it can be inferred that he may have acted improperly¹⁶.

Where the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² is required in proceedings under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, before reaching a decision, to give any person an opportunity of appearing before, and being heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly, then he or the Assembly has power to make orders³ with respect to the parties' costs⁴. That power applies in relation to proceedings to which these provisions apply which do not give rise to a local inquiry as it does in relation to a local inquiry⁵, but only for the purposes of the awards of costs in relation to proceedings which give rise to a hearing⁶.

2560 (1) for the purposes of any proceedings under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990, the Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² is required, before a decision is reached, to give any person an opportunity, or ask any person whether he wishes, to appear before, and be heard by, a person appointed by him or by the Assembly, and arrangements are made for a local inquiry or hearing to be held;

2561 (2) the inquiry or hearing does not take place; and

2562 (3) if it had taken place, the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or a person appointed by him or by it would have had power to make an order under the Local Government Act 1972³ requiring any party to pay any costs of any other party, the power to make such an order may be exercised, in relation to costs incurred for the purposes of the inquiry or hearing, as if it had taken place⁴.

657. Costs in relation to certain local inquiries in London.

The following provisions apply where:

- 2563 (1) the local planning authority¹ for a London borough² refuses an application for planning permission³;
2564 (2) that refusal is in compliance with a direction made by the Mayor of London⁴ in accordance with provision made in a development order⁵; and 2565 (3) an appeal against the refusal is made⁶ to the Secretary of State⁷.

If the Secretary of State causes a local inquiry to be held⁸ to determine the appeal, then:

- 2566 (a) the costs incurred by the Secretary of State in relation to the inquiry must be paid:

259

238. (i) by the Mayor of London, if he is not a party to the inquiry and if the Secretary of State decides that the Mayor acted unreasonably in making the direction in accordance with which the local planning authority refused the planning permission; or

239. (ii) if the Mayor is a party or if the Secretary of State does not so decide, by such local authority or party to the inquiry as he may direct;

260

2567 and the Secretary of State may cause the amount of the costs so incurred to be certified, and any amount so certified and directed to be paid by the Mayor or by any authority or person is recoverable from the Mayor or from that authority or person by the Secretary of State summarily as a civil debt⁹;

2568 (b) the Secretary of State may make orders as to the costs of the parties to the inquiry and as to the parties by whom the costs are to be paid; and:

261

240. (i) the parties by whom the costs are ordered to be paid may include the Mayor of London if he is not a party to the inquiry and if the Secretary of State decides that the Mayor acted unreasonably in making the direction in accordance with which the local planning authority refused the planning permission;

241. (ii) every such order may be made a rule of the High Court on the application of any party named in the order¹⁰.

262

If the appeal does not give rise to such a local inquiry but there is a hearing¹¹, or if arrangements are made for a local inquiry in relation to the appeal and the inquiry does not take place¹², head (b) above applies¹³.

658. Costs of qualifying procedures.

The following provisions apply if the appropriate authority¹ appoints a person to carry out or hold a qualifying procedure, that is to say:

- 2569 (1) an independent examination under the relevant provisions of the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004²;
- 2570 (2) a local inquiry or other hearing to consider objections to a simplified planning zone scheme or to alterations to such a scheme³;
- 2571 (3) the consideration of such objections as are mentioned in head (2) above⁴ by a person appointed for the purpose⁵.

The appropriate authority may:

- 2572 (a) require the whole or any part of the costs borne by it⁶ in relation to the qualifying procedure to be paid by the local planning authority⁷ causing the qualifying procedure to be held⁸;
- 2573 (b) cause the amount of any such costs to be certified; and any amount so certified and required by it to be paid by a local planning authority is recoverable from that authority as a civil debt⁹.

What may be so recovered by the appropriate authority is the entire administrative cost of, or incidental to, the qualifying procedure, so far as borne by that authority, including, in particular, such reasonable amount or element as it may determine in respect of the general staff costs and overheads of its department¹⁰.

The cost of, or incidental to, a qualifying procedure which does not take place may be recovered by the appropriate authority from the local planning authority from which it would have been recoverable, had the qualifying procedure taken place, to the same extent, and in the same way, as the cost of, or incidental to, a qualifying procedure which does take place¹¹.

1 For these purposes, the appropriate authority is: (1) the Secretary of State if the local planning authority causing the procedure to be carried out or held is in England; (2) the National Assembly for Wales if the local planning authority causing the procedure to be carried out or held is in Wales: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 303A(1B) (s 303A added by the Town and Country Planning (Costs of Inquiries etc) Act 1995 s 1(1); the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 303A(1)-(1B) substituted, s 303A(2)-(6), (10) amended, and s 303A(9A) added, by the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 118(1), Sch 6 paras 1, 11). As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

2 le under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 s 20 (see PARA 108 ante) or s 64 (see PARA 138 ante).

3 le under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 7 para 8(1)(a): see PARA 437 ante.

4 le the consideration of objections under ibid Sch 7 para 8(1)(b): see PARA 437 ante.

5 Ibid s 303A(1), (1A) (as substituted: see note 1 supra). For transitional purposes in relation to England, s 303A(as originally added) applies in any case where, at any time after its coming into force, the Secretary of State appoints any person to hold, or as one of the persons who are to hold, a qualifying inquiry, that is to say: (1) to hold a local inquiry or other hearing under s 16 (as amended; repealed with savings) (see PARA 165 ante) or s 42 (as amended; repealed with savings) (see PARA 202 ante) or under Sch 7 para 8(1)(a) (see PARA 437 ante); (2) to consider objections under Sch 7 para 8(1)(a) (see PARA 437 ante); or (3) to conduct an examination in public under s 35B(1) (as substituted; repealed with savings) (see PARA 188 ante): see s 303A(1) (as originally added); the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 (Commencement No 2, Transitional Provisions and Savings) Order 2004, SI 2004/2202, art 4(a), Sch 2; and PARA 125 ante. The Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 303A (as originally added) also continues to have effect in relation to Wales for certain transitional purposes: see PARA 148 note 11 ante, PARA 979 note 8 post.

6 For these purposes, any reference to costs borne by the appropriate authority includes a reference to costs which, apart from the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 303A (as added), would fall, or would have fallen, to be borne by it: s 303A(10)(a) (as added and amended: see note 1 supra).

7 For these purposes, references to a local planning authority causing a qualifying inquiry [sic] to be held include references to a requirement under the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004 on the authority to submit a plan to the appropriate authority for independent examination: Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 303A(9A) (as added: see note 1 supra).

8 Ibid s 303A(2) (as added and amended: see note 1 supra).

9 Ibid s 303A(3) (as added and amended: see note 1 supra).

10 Ibid s 303A(4) (as added and amended: see note 1 supra). For the purposes of s 303A(4) (as so added and amended), the appropriate authority may by regulations prescribe a standard daily amount in relation to any description of qualifying procedure and any description of person appointed to hold it, or appointed as one of the persons who are to hold it; and where, in relation to a qualifying procedure of that description, a person of that description is or has been so appointed, what may be recovered in respect of that qualifying procedure by virtue of the appointment of that person (in addition to what may be recovered by virtue of the appointment of any other person) is: (1) the prescribed standard amount from time to time applicable in the case of that qualifying procedure and that person in respect of each day, or an appropriate proportion of that amount in respect of a part of a day, on which that person is engaged in the holding of, or is otherwise engaged on work connected with, the qualifying procedure; (2) any costs actually incurred on travelling or subsistence allowances payable to that person in connection with the qualifying procedure; (3) any costs attributable to the appointment of an assessor to assist that person (or, in a case where that person is appointed as one of the persons who are to hold the qualifying procedure, an appropriate proportion of any costs attributable to the appointment of an assessor to assist those persons); and (4) any other costs attributable to the appointment of that person: s 303A(5) (as so added and amended). As to the exercise of this power in relation to England see the Town and Country Planning (Costs of Inquiries etc) (Standard Daily Amount) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/421. The standard daily amount prescribed under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 303A(5) (as so added and amended) is: (a) in relation to inquiries opening on or after 31 March 2004 and before 31 March 2005, £622; and (b) in relation to inquiries opening on or after 31 March 2005, £679: reg 3. For similar provision in relation to Wales see the Town and Country Planning (Costs of Inquiries etc) (Standard Daily Amount) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/371.

In the application of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 303A(2)-(6) (as originally added) in relation to an examination in public under s 35B(1) (as substituted; repealed with savings: see PARA 188 ante), there must be left out of account any person who is appointed to conduct, or is appointed as one of the persons who are to conduct, the examination and whose remuneration, and travelling or subsistence allowances (if any), in respect of that appointment are (whether by agreement or arrangement or otherwise) to be paid to him by the local planning authority causing the examination to be held: s 303A(7) (as added (see note 1 supra); repealed with savings). The Secretary of State may by regulations prescribe a standard daily amount in relation to any description of person who is appointed to conduct, or is appointed as one of the persons who are to conduct, an examination in public under s 35B(1) (as so substituted and repealed) and whose remuneration, and travelling or subsistence allowances (if any), in respect of that appointment are to be paid as mentioned in s 303A(7)(b) (as so added and repealed); and where: (i) a standard daily amount is so prescribed in relation to any description of person; (ii) a person of that description is or has been appointed to conduct, or is or has been appointed as one of the persons who are to conduct, such an examination, and (iii) the remuneration, and travelling or subsistence allowances (if any), of that person in respect of that appointment are to be paid as mentioned in s 303A(7)(b) (as so added and repealed), the amount of the remuneration so payable to that person by the local planning authority in question in respect of the appointment must be the prescribed standard amount from time to time applicable in the case of that person in respect of each day, or an appropriate proportion of that amount in respect of a part of a day, on which that person is engaged in the conduct of, or is otherwise engaged on work connected with, that examination (whether that examination does or does not take place): s 303A(8) (as so added and repealed). The Secretary of State may also by regulations under s 303A(8) (as so added and repealed) prescribe, in relation to any description of person, the rates or amounts of any travelling or subsistence allowances payable as mentioned in 303A(7)(b) (as so added and repealed) by a local planning authority causing an examination in public under s 35B(1) (as substituted and repealed) to be held to a person of that description appointed to conduct, or appointed as one of the persons who are to conduct, the examination: s 303A(9) (as so added and repealed). As to the exercise of this power see the Town and Country Planning (Costs of Inquiries etc) (Examination in Public) (England) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1716, regs 2-5, Schedule; and PARA 188 note 7 ante.

For the purposes of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 303A(as originally added or as added and amended: see note 1 supra), any reference to any remuneration or allowance being paid or payable to a person includes a reference to its being paid or payable for him: s 303A(10)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

11 Ibid s 303A(6) (as added and amended: see note 1 supra). See also note 10 supra.

A. MAJOR INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS IN ENGLAND

659. Application of rules.

The Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005¹ apply in relation to any local inquiry caused by the Secretary of State² to be held in England before he determines an application relating to a development of national or regional importance referred to him under the relevant provision³ of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁴. Where the Mayor of London⁵ has directed the local planning authority⁶ to refuse the application, those 2005 Rules apply with prescribed modifications⁷.

The Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002⁸ continue, however, to apply in relation to any application which has not been determined on 24 August 2005⁹; but where a decision of the Secretary of State on an application in relation to a major infrastructure project¹⁰ to which the 2002 Rules applied is subsequently quashed in proceedings before any court, the application is to be redetermined in accordance with the 2005 Rules¹¹.

1 le the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115: see the text and notes 2-11 infra; and PARA 660 et seq post. The 2005 Rules came into force on 24 August 2005: r 1(1).

2 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 20 ante.

3 le under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 76A(4)(a) (as added): see PARA 481 ante.

4 Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 1(2).

5 As to the Mayor of London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 81.

6 As to local planning authorities see PARA 28 et seq ante.

7 See the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, rr 1(3), 27.

8 le the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223 (revoked with savings). Those rules applied in relation to any local inquiry relating to a major infrastructure project caused by the Secretary of State to be held in England before he determined an application for planning permission referred to him, or an appeal to him, under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 77 (as amended) (see PARA 483 ante) or s 78 (as amended) (see PARA 598 ante); (2) an application for listed building consent referred to him, or for variation or discharge of conditions referred to him, or an appeal to him under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 12 (as amended) (see PARA 1115 post), s 12 (as amended) as applied by s 19 (as amended) (see PARA 1131 post) or s 20 (as amended) (see PARA 1186 post); (3) an application for conservation area consent referred to him, or an appeal to him, under s 12 (as amended) (including an application to which s 12 (as amended) is applied by s 19 (as amended)), as those sections are applied by s 74(3) (see PARA 1176 post) or under s 20 (as amended) as s 20 (as amended) is applied by s 74(3) (see PARA 1190 post); but do not apply to any local inquiry by reason of the application of any provision mentioned in heads (1)-(3) supra by any other enactment: Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 3(1) (as so revoked). Where a major infrastructure project inquiry was held into an application, or an appeal arising from such an application, in respect of which the Mayor of London had directed the local planning authority to refuse the application, the 2002 Rules applied subject to modifications: see r 25 (as so revoked).

9 See the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 28(2). Subject to that, the 2002 Rules are otherwise revoked to the extent that they apply to any local inquiry to which the 2005 rules apply: Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 28(1).

10 The Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 2, Schedule (revoked with savings) defined 'major infrastructure project' as development of a description listed infra:

37 (1) crude-oil refineries (excluding undertakings manufacturing only lubricants from crude oil) and installations for the gasification and liquefaction of 500 tonnes or more of coal or bituminous shale per day;

38 (2) installations:

33. (a) for the reprocessing of irradiated nuclear fuel;

34. (b) designed (i) for the production or enrichment of nuclear fuel; (ii) for the processing of irradiated nuclear fuel or high-level radioactive waste; (iii) for the final disposal of irradiated nuclear fuel; (iv) solely for the final disposal of radioactive waste; or (v) solely for the storage (planned for more than 10 years) of irradiated nuclear fuels or radioactive waste in a different site than the production site;

34

- 39 (3) integrated chemical installations, that is to say, installations for the manufacture on an industrial scale of substances using chemical conversion processes, in which several units are juxtaposed and are functionally linked to one another and which are:
- 35. (a) for the production of base organic chemicals;
35
 - 36. (b) for the production of basic inorganic chemicals;
36
 - 37. (c) for the production of phosphorous-, nitrogen- or potassium-based fertilisers (simple or compound fertilisers);
37
 - 38. (d) for the production of basic plant health products and of biocides;
38
 - 39. (e) for the production of basic pharmaceutical products using a chemical or biological process; or 39
 - 40. (f) for the production of explosives;
40
- 40 (4) the following projects:
- 41. (a) construction of airports with a basic runway length of 2,100 metres or more;
41
 - 42. (b) construction of a new runway which allows an addition to the number of occasions on which aircraft may take off or land;
42
 - 43. (c) extension of any runway by more than 100 metres;
43
 - 44. (d) construction of a new airport terminal, or the expansion of an existing terminal, which provides additional capacity for more than 5 million passengers per annum;
44
 - 45. (e) construction of facilities which provide additional capacity for more than 100,000 tonnes of air cargo per annum;
45
 - 46. (f) construction of tramways, railways (including elevated and underground railways), suspended lines or similar lines of a particular type, used exclusively or mainly for passenger transport, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
46
- 41 (5) the following projects:
- 47. (a) inland waterways, canalisation and flood-relief works where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
47
 - 48. (b) ports for inland-waterway traffic which permit the passage of vessels of over 1,350 tonnes;
48
 - 49. (c) trading ports, piers for loading and unloading connected to land and outside ports (excluding ferry piers) which can take vessels of over 1,350 tonnes;
49
 - 50. (d) construction of other harbours and port installations including fishing harbours, where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare;
50
- 42 (6) waste water treatment plants with a capacity exceeding 150,000 population equivalent;
- 43 (7) extraction of petroleum and natural gas for commercial purposes where the amount extracted exceeds 500 tonnes per day in the case of petroleum and 500,000 cubic metres per day in the case of gas;

- 44 (8) dams and other installations designed for the holding back or permanent storage of water, where a new or additional amount of water held back or stored exceeds 10 million cubic metres;
- 45 (9) pipelines for the transport of gas, oil or chemicals where the area of the works exceeds 1 hectare or, in the case of a gas pipeline, the installation has a design operating pressure exceeding 7 bar gauge;
- 46 (10) quarries and open-cast mines and deep mines where the production level is greater than 2 million tonnes per annum;
- 47 (11) installations for storage of petroleum, petrochemical or chemical products with a capacity of 200,000 tonnes or more.

The 2005 Rules, however, contain no such detailed definition.

UPDATE

659-660 Application of rules, Pre-inquiry procedure

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/A. MAJOR INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS IN ENGLAND/660. Pre-inquiry procedure.

660. Pre-inquiry procedure.

The Secretary of State¹ must notify the applicant and the local planning authority² in writing³ that an inquiry⁴ is to be held (the 'relevant notice')⁵. The Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005⁶ set out the procedure with regard to:

- 2574 (1) the preliminary information to be supplied by the local planning authority⁷;
- 2575 (2) registration of persons interested in participating in the inquiry⁸;
- 2576 (3) the appointment of a technical adviser⁹;
- 2577 (4) mediation¹⁰;
- 2578 (5) the procedure for pre-inquiry and other meetings¹¹;
- 2579 (6) publicity for the inspector's notes of pre-inquiry meetings and recommendations¹²;
- 2580 (7) the receipt of statements of case etc¹³;
- 2581 (8) the inquiry timetable¹⁴; and
- 2582 (9) notification of the appointment of an assessor¹⁵.

The Secretary of State may at any time in any particular case allow further time for the taking of any step which is required or enabled to be taken by virtue of the 2005 Rules¹⁶; and may at any time before the close of an inquiry request from any person entitled to appear¹⁷ additional copies of certain specified documents¹⁸.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'local planning authority' means, in relation to a referred application, the body which would otherwise have dealt with the application; and 'referred application' means an application which is referred to the Secretary of State for determination: Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 2(1).

3 As to the use of electronic communications see ibid r 3. Where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement of the 2005 Rules to give or send any statement, notice or other document to any other person ('the recipient'), the requirement is to be taken to be fulfilled where the statement, notice or other document transmitted by means of the electronic communication is (1) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (2) legible in all material respects; and (3) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference; and for these purposes 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the statement, notice or document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: r 3(2)-(4). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for this purpose 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: r 3(5). A requirement of the 2005 Rules that any document must be in writing is fulfilled where that document satisfies the criteria in heads (1)-(3) supra: r 3(6). A requirement in those 2005 Rules to send more than one copy of a statement, notice or other document may be complied with by sending one copy only of the statement, notice or other document in question: r 3(7). Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for any purpose of those rules which is capable of being effected electronically, he must give notice in writing: (a) withdrawing any address notified to the Secretary of State or to a local planning authority for that purpose; or (b) revoking any agreement entered into with the Secretary of State or with a local planning authority for that purpose; and such withdrawal or revocation is to be final and takes effect on a date specified by the person in the notice being not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: r 3(8).

In the 2005 Rules, and in relation to the use of electronic communications for any purpose of those rules which is capable of being carried out electronically: (i) the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purposes of such communications, except that where any provision of those Rules requires any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the requirement is not to be fulfilled unless the person subject to the requirement provides a postal address; (ii) references to statements, notices, or other documents, or to copies of such documents, include references to such documents or copies of them in electronic form: r 3(1). 'Electronic communication' has the same meaning as in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616); and 'document' includes a photograph, map or plan: Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 2(1).

Notices or documents required or authorised to be sent under the 2005 Rules may be sent: (A) by post; or (B) by using electronic communications to send or supply the notice or document (as the case may be) to a person at such address as may for the time being be specified by the person for that purpose: r 26(1). Where the local planning authority is under an obligation to afford to any person who so requests an opportunity to inspect and take copies of any document, an opportunity is to be taken to have been afforded to a person where the person is notified of publication of the relevant document on a website, the address of the website and the place on the website where the document may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: r 26(2).

4 For these purposes, 'inquiry' means an inquiry in relation to which the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, apply (see PARA 659 ante); and where an inquiry is conducted by means of concurrent sessions, it includes any such session: r 2(1).

5 Ibid r 4.

6 See ibid rr 5-13; and heads (1)-(9) in the text.

7 See ibid r 5. The local planning authority must on receipt of the relevant notice forthwith inform the Secretary of State and the applicant in writing of the name and address of any statutory party who has made representations to the authority; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable thereafter, inform the applicant and the local planning authority in writing of the name and address of (1) any statutory party who has made representations to him; and (2) any other persons who are known to have a right to appear at the inquiry or to have an interest in the proposal: r 5(1). Where r 5(2) applies, the local planning authority must forthwith after receipt of the relevant notice inform the person concerned of the inquiry and, unless he has already done so, that person must thereupon give the local planning authority a written statement of the reasons for making the direction, expressing the view or making the representations, as the case may be: r 5(2). Rule 5(2) applies where (a) the Secretary of State has given to the local planning authority a direction restricting the grant of planning permission for which application was made; (b) in a case relating to listed building consent, the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England ('English Heritage') has given to the local planning authority a direction pursuant to the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 14(2) (see PARA 1117 post) as to how the application is to be determined; (c) the Secretary of State or any other Minister of the Crown or any government department, or any body falling within the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 15(1)(c) (see PARA 664 note 2 head (3) post), has expressed in writing to the local planning authority the view that the application should not be granted either wholly or in part, or should be granted only subject to conditions; or (d) any person consulted in pursuance of a development order has made representations to the local planning authority about the application: r 5(3). For the meaning of 'development order' see PARA 252 ante and for the meaning of 'listed building consent' see PARA 1109 post (definitions applied by r 2(1)); and as to English Heritage see PARA 1058 post. 'Statutory party', in relation to a referred application to which the 2005 Rules apply, means (i) a person mentioned in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 19(1)(b)(i) (see PARA 474 ante) whose representations the Secretary of State is required by art 19(3) to take into account in determining the application; and (ii) a person whose representations the Secretary of State is required by the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 6(3)(b), (5) (see PARA 1114 post) to take into account in determining the application: Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 2(1).

For the information to be supplied under the 2002 Rules see the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 4 (revoked with savings).

8 See the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 6. On receipt of the relevant notice, the local planning authority must: (1) send to each person notified or known to the local planning authority to have a right to appear at the inquiry or to have an interest in the proposal a copy of the statement sent by the Secretary of State under r 9(2)(a)(ii) (see PARA 661 post) and a copy of the registration form; and (2) publish by local advertisement a notice stating (a) that the 2005 Rules apply to the local inquiry; (b) the matters contained in the statement sent by the Secretary of State under r 9(2)(a)(ii); (c) the arrangements for the first pre-inquiry meeting; and (d) that persons interested in participating in the inquiry should obtain from the local planning authority a copy of the registration form: r 6(1). The registration form must include the address to which completed forms must be returned, and the date by which that must be done. It must request the following information: (i) the name, address and telephone number of the person registering; (ii) the name, address and telephone number of any agent, or, in the case of an organisation, of the contact person; (iii) whether or not the person registering has an interest in any land which will be affected by the proposal; (iv) whether or not the person registering is likely to want to be represented formally and to play a major part in the inquiry; (v) if not, whether or not the person registering will wish to give oral evidence at the inquiry or will wish only to submit representations in writing: r 6(2). 'By local advertisement', in relation to a notice, means (A) by publication of the notice in at least one newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land to which the application relates is situated; and (B) where the local planning authority maintains a website for the purpose of advertisement of applications, by publication of the notice on the website; 'registration form' means a form for completion by persons who wish to participate in the inquiry; and 'land' means the land or building to which an inquiry relates; r 2(1).

For the registration procedure under the 2002 Rules see the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 5 (revoked with savings).

9 See the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 7. If it appears to the Secretary of State that evidence to be given to the inquiry is, or is likely to be, of such technical or scientific nature that the inquiry would be conducted more efficiently and expeditiously if an expert and independent assessment of that evidence were to be made, he may at any time appoint a technical adviser for that purpose: r 7(1). A technical adviser must be a person appearing to the Secretary of State to have such qualifications and experience as enable him to conduct an expert assessment of scientific or technical evidence to be given to the inquiry: r 7(2). Where the Secretary of State appoints a technical adviser, he may in writing require the local planning authority to publish by local advertisement and within such period as he may specify a notice stating the name of the person so appointed and specifying the evidence to be assessed: r 7(3). The technical adviser must, in consultation with the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry either jointly or separately, assess the evidence so specified and must report his assessment in writing to the inspector: r 7(4). The technical adviser's report must include a description of any areas of disagreement between the parties and must state his view of the significance of each such disagreement: r 7(5). The inspector must within seven days of receipt of the technical adviser's report circulate it: r 7(6). The technical adviser must give evidence on his report at the inquiry and is to be subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness: r 7(7). The inspector may allow the technical adviser to alter or add to his report so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the inquiry; but he must (if necessary by adjourning the inquiry) give every other person entitled to appear who is appearing at the inquiry an adequate opportunity of considering any such alteration or addition: r 7(8). For these purposes, 'inspector' includes a lead inspector and an additional inspector; 'additional inspector' means an inspector appointed by the Secretary of State under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 76B(3)(a) (as added) and 'lead inspector' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State under s 76A(4)(b) (as added) (see PARA 482 ante): Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 2(1). A requirement imposed on the Secretary of State or the inspector to circulate a document is met by sending a copy of that document to (1) the local planning authority; (2) the applicant; and (3) each major participant; but nothing in this provision requires the Secretary of State or the inspector to send a copy of a document to the person from whom it was received: r 2(2), (4). 'Major participant' means a person who has indicated in accordance with r 6(2)(d) (see note 8 supra) that he is likely to want to be represented formally and to play a major part in the inquiry: r 2(1).

For the procedure for appointing a technical adviser under the 2002 Rules see the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 10 (revoked with savings).

10 See the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 8. If it appears to the Secretary of State that (1) there is an absence of agreement between persons entitled to appear at the inquiry on a matter which is relevant to the inquiry; (2) the inquiry would be conducted more efficiently and expeditiously if agreement could be reached in relation to that matter or any disagreement in relation to it could be defined and narrowed; and (3) such a result is capable of being achieved by mediation, then he may at any time appoint a mediator for that purpose: r 8(1). A mediator must be a person appearing to the Secretary of State to have been trained in mediation techniques by an independent mediation organisation: r 8(2). Where the Secretary of State appoints a mediator, he may in writing require the local planning authority to publish by local advertisement and within such period as he may specify a notice stating the name of the person so appointed and the matter in relation to which he is to mediate: r 8(3). The mediator must determine the procedure for the mediation: r 8(4). Within seven days from the conclusion of the mediation, the mediator must give to the inspector a report describing the mediation procedure and its outcome and the inspector must, as soon as practicable after receipt, circulate the report: r 8(5). The inspector must permit any person entitled to appear at the inquiry to address him on the report referred to in reg 8(5), but the mediator may not give evidence at the inquiry: r 8(6).

For the procedure for mediation under the 2002 Rules see the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 11 (revoked with savings).

14 See the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 12. The inspector must at a pre-inquiry meeting held in accordance with r 9 (see PARA 661 post) propose a timetable for the proceedings at, or at part of, an inquiry, and specify the date by which any proof of evidence and summary sent in accordance with r 17(1) (see PARA 663 post), and any statement of common ground sent in accordance with r 18(1) (see PARA 663 post), must be received by the Secretary of State, and must give written notice of the date so specified to every person entitled to appear at the inquiry: r 12(1). The inspector must, as soon as practicable after the pre-inquiry meeting referred to in r 12(1), make recommendations to the Secretary of State on the proposed timetable: r 12(2). The inspector must no later than four weeks before the start of the inquiry send to every person entitled to appear at the inquiry a copy of the timetable for the proceedings approved by the Secretary of State: r 12(3). The inspector may subsequently vary the timetable mentioned in r 12(2) but he may not do so before the start of the inquiry without the approval of the Secretary of State: r 12(4).

As to the inquiry timetable under the 2002 Rules see the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 8 (revoked with savings).

15 Where the Secretary of State appoints an assessor, he must notify every person entitled to appear at the inquiry of the name of the assessor and of the matters on which he is to advise the inspector: Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 13. 'Assessor' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State to sit with an inspector at an inquiry or reopened inquiry to advise the inspector on such matters arising as the Secretary of State may specify: r 2(1).

17 As to the persons entitled to appear see PARA 664 post.

18 See the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 25. The specified documents are (1) an outline statement sent in accordance with r 9 (see PARA 661 post); (2) a statement of case or comments sent in accordance with r 11 (see PARA 662 post); (3) a proof of evidence sent in accordance with r 17 (see PARA 664 post); or (4) any other document or information sent to the Secretary of State before or during an inquiry: r 25(1)(a)-(d). He may specify the time within which such documents should be received by him (r 25(1)) and any person so requested must ensure that the copies are received by the Secretary of State within the period specified (r 25(2)).

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/A. MAJOR INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS IN ENGLAND/661. Pre-inquiry meeting.

661. Pre-inquiry meeting.

The Secretary of State¹ must hold a pre-inquiry meeting². The following provisions apply to the pre-inquiry meeting, or where there is more than one, to the first pre-inquiry meeting:

- 2583 (1) the Secretary of State must send, with the relevant notice³, notice of his intention to hold a pre-inquiry meeting and a statement of the matters which, in his view, are the matters to be considered at the inquiry⁴; and where another Minister of the Crown or a government department has expressed in writing to the Secretary of State a view that the application should not be granted either wholly or in part, or should be granted only subject to conditions⁵, the Secretary of State must set this out in his statement⁶;
- 2584 (2) the Secretary of State must send a copy of the statement described in head (1) above to the minister or government department concerned and to each major participant⁷; and
- 2585 (3) the local planning authority⁸ must publish by local advertisement⁹ a notice of the Secretary of State's intention to hold a pre-inquiry meeting and of the statements sent in accordance with head (1) above¹⁰.

The applicant, the local planning authority and each major participant must ensure that within eight weeks of the date of the relevant notice the prescribed number of copies of their outline statement¹¹ have been received by the Secretary of State¹². The local planning authority and each major participant must identify in their outline statement any part of an environmental statement prepared by the applicant with which they disagree and the grounds for any such disagreement¹³.

The Secretary of State may in writing require any other person who has notified him of an intention or a wish to appear at the inquiry to send an outline statement to him, and that person must ensure that the statement is received by the Secretary of State within four weeks of the date of the Secretary of State's written requirement¹⁴.

The Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, circulate¹⁵ each outline statement sent¹⁶ in accordance with the above provisions¹⁷.

The pre-inquiry meeting or, where there is more than one, the first pre-inquiry meeting, must be held within 16 weeks of the date of the relevant notice¹⁸. The Secretary of State must give not less than three weeks' written notice of the pre-inquiry meeting to:

- 2586 (a) the applicant;
- 2587 (b) the local planning authority;
- 2588 (c) each major participant;
- 2589 (d) any person known at the date of the notice to be entitled to appear at the inquiry; and
- 2590 (e) any other person whose presence at the pre-inquiry meeting appears to him to be desirable; and he may require the local planning authority to take, in relation to notification of the pre-inquiry meeting, one or more of the steps which he may require the authority to take¹⁹ in relation to notification of the inquiry²⁰.

The inspector²¹ must preside at the pre-inquiry meeting²² and must determine the matters to be discussed and the procedure to be followed²³. He may require any person present at the pre-inquiry meeting who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave and may refuse to permit that person to return or to attend any further pre-inquiry meeting, or may permit him to return or attend only on such conditions as he may specify²⁴.

The inspector may at any time and for any purpose connected with the inquiry²⁵ hold such other meetings, including pre-inquiry meetings, as he considers necessary and he must arrange for such notice to be given of such meetings as appears to him necessary²⁶.

If the Secretary of State requests any further information from the applicant, the local planning authority or any major participant at the pre-inquiry meeting, they must ensure that the prescribed number of copies of it²⁷ have been received by him within such period as he may specify; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, circulate all information so received by him²⁸.

As soon as practicable

- 2591 (i) after the end of each pre-inquiry meeting the inspector must prepare a note of the proceedings at that meeting and must send a copy of that note to the Secretary of State²⁹;
- 2592 (ii) after sending the copy of the note to the Secretary of State, the inspector must circulate it³⁰;
- 2593 (iii) after making recommendations to the Secretary of State on a timetable for the proceedings³¹ or the matters which he is directed to consider³², the inspector must circulate a copy of those recommendations³³.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/A. MAJOR INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS IN ENGLAND/662. Statements of case.

662. Statements of case.

The applicant must:

- 2594 (1) ensure that within four weeks from the conclusion of the pre-inquiry meeting¹ or within such other period as the Secretary of State² may specify in writing³, two copies of his statement of case⁴ have been received by the Secretary of State; and
- 2595 (2) as soon as reasonably practicable after sending the statement to the Secretary of State, send a copy of it to every other person entitled to appear⁵ at the inquiry⁶.

The local planning authority⁷, each major participant⁸ and any other person who is required to send a statement of case⁹ must:

- 2596 (a) ensure that within six weeks from the conclusion of the pre-inquiry meeting or within such other period as the Secretary of State may specify in writing, two copies of their statement of case have been received by the Secretary of State; and
- 2597 (b) as soon as reasonably practicable after sending the statement to the Secretary of State, send a copy of it to every other person entitled to appear¹⁰ at the inquiry¹¹.

The local planning authority must include the prescribed details¹² in its statement of case and, where applicable, within the specified period¹³ send a copy of its statement of case to the person concerned¹⁴. The local planning authority and each major participant must in their statements of case identify each part of the applicant's statement of case with which they agree and each part with which they do not agree, and must state the reasons for each disagreement¹⁵.

The Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt of each statement of case received by him, deposit it¹⁶.

The applicant, the local planning authority and any major participant may in writing request from any other person who is required to provide a statement of case a copy of any document¹⁷, or of the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list of documents comprised in that person's statement of case; and any such document, or relevant part, must be sent, as soon as practicable, to the person who requested it¹⁸. The Secretary of State may in writing require any other person, who has notified him of an intention or wish to appear at the inquiry, to send to him two copies of that person's statement of case¹⁹; and must as soon as practicable inform that person of the name and address of every person to whom his statement of case is required to be sent²⁰.

The Secretary of State or the inspector²¹ may in writing require any person, who has sent to him a statement of case in accordance with the above provisions, to provide a specified number of additional copies of the statement or such further information about the matters contained in the statement as he may specify; and may specify the time within which the copies or information are to be received by him²². Any person required to provide additional copies or further information must:

- 2598 (i) ensure that the additional copies have been received by the Secretary of State or the inspector, as the case may be, within the specified time;
- 2599 (ii) ensure that two copies of the further information have been received by the Secretary of State or the inspector, within the specified time; and the Secretary of State or the inspector must, as soon as practicable after receipt, deposit that further information; and
- 2600 (iii) as soon as reasonably practicable after sending the further information to the Secretary of State or the inspector, send a copy of it to every other person entitled to appear²³ at the inquiry²⁴.

Any person other than the applicant who sends a statement of case to the Secretary of State must send with it a copy of any document or the relevant part of any document referred to in the list comprised in that statement, unless a copy of the document or part of the document in question is already available²⁵ for inspection²⁶. The Secretary of State must send a written statement of the specified matters²⁷ to any person from whom he has required a statement of case²⁸.

The local planning authority must afford to any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity to inspect and, where practicable, take copies of:

- 2601 (A) any statement of case, written comments, information or other document a copy of which has been sent to the local planning authority in accordance with these provisions; and
- 2602 (B) the local planning authority's statement of case together with a copy of any document, or of the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list comprised in that statement, and any written comments, information or other documents sent by the local planning authority pursuant to these provisions, subject to the payment by that person of a reasonable charge²⁹.

If the local planning authority, the applicant, major participant or any other person who sends a statement of case under these provisions wishes to comment on another person's statement of case they must ensure that within four weeks of its receipt, two copies of their written comments have been received by the Secretary of State; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, deposit such comments³⁰. They must also, as soon as practicable after sending their comments to the Secretary of State, send a copy of them to every other person entitled to appear³¹ at the inquiry³².

The Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send to the inspector any statement of case, document or further information or written comments sent to him in accordance with the above provisions and received by him within the relevant period, if any, specified therein³³.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/A. MAJOR INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS IN ENGLAND/663. Date and notification of the inquiry.

663. Date and notification of the inquiry.

The date fixed by the Secretary of State¹ for the holding of the inquiry² must be, unless he considers such a date impracticable, not later than ten weeks after the conclusion of the pre-inquiry meeting³. Where the Secretary of State considers it impracticable to fix a date in accordance with this requirement, however, the date fixed must be the earliest date after the end of the period mentioned above which he considers to be practicable⁴.

Unless the Secretary of State agrees a lesser period of notice with the applicant and the local planning authority⁵, he must give not less than four weeks' written notice⁶ of the date, time and place fixed by him for the holding of an inquiry to every person entitled to appear at the inquiry⁷.

The Secretary of State may vary the date fixed for the holding of an inquiry, whether or not the date as varied is within the period mentioned above⁸; and the notice requirements⁹ apply to a variation of a date as they applied to the date originally fixed¹⁰. The Secretary of State may also vary the time or place for the holding of an inquiry and must give such notice of any variation as appears to him to be reasonable¹¹.

The Secretary of State may in writing require the local planning authority to take one or more of the following steps:

- 2603 (1) not less than two weeks before the date fixed for the holding of an inquiry, to publish by local advertisement¹² and in the London Gazette a notice of the inquiry;
- 2604 (2) to send a notice of the inquiry to such persons or classes of persons as he may specify, within such period as he may specify; or
- 2605 (3) to post a notice of the inquiry in such places near to the land¹³, and within such period, as he may specify¹⁴.

Where the land is under the control of the applicant he must:

- 2606 (a) if so required in writing by the Secretary of State, affix a notice of the inquiry firmly to the land or to some object on or near the land, in such manner as to be readily visible to and legible by members of the public; and
- 2607 (b) not remove the notice, or cause or permit it to be removed, for such period before the inquiry as the Secretary of State may specify¹⁵.

Every notice of inquiry so published, sent or posted or so affixed¹⁶ must contain:

- 2608 (i) a clear statement of the date, time and place of the inquiry and of the powers enabling the Secretary of State to determine the application in question;
- 2609 (ii) a written description of the land sufficient to identify approximately its location;
- 2610 (iii) a brief description of the subject matter of the application; and
- 2611 (iv) details of where and when copies of any documents sent by and copied to the local planning authority¹⁷ may be inspected¹⁸.

² See ibid r 15. The persons entitled to appear at an inquiry are (1) the applicant; (2) the local planning authority; (3) any of the following bodies if the land is situated in their area and they are not the local planning authority: (a) a county or district council; (b) a National Park authority; (c) an enterprise zone authority designated under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 32 (as amended) (see PARA 1491 et seq post); (d) the Broads Authority, within the meaning of the Norfolk and Suffolk Broads Act 1988; (e) a housing action trust specified in an order made under the Housing Act 1988 s 67(1) (as amended) (see HOUSING vol 22 (2006 Reissue) PARA 332); (f) an urban development corporation established by order of the Secretary of State under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 s 135(1) (see PARA 1429 post); (4) where the land is in an area previously designated as a new town, the Commission for the New Towns; (5) any statutory party; (6) any major participant; (7) the council of the parish in which the land is situated, if that council made representations to the local planning authority in respect of the application in pursuance of a provision of a development order; (8) where the application was required to be notified to the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England (commonly known as 'English Heritage') under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 14 (see PARA 1117 post), the Commission; (9) any other person who has sent a statement of case in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 11(2) (see PARA 662 ante): r 15(1). Nothing in r 15(1) prevents the inspector from permitting any other person to appear at an inquiry, and such permission must not be unreasonably withheld: r 15(2). Any person entitled or permitted to appear may do so on his own behalf or be represented by any other person: r 15(3).

For the meaning of 'local planning authority' for these purposes see PARA 660 note 2 ante; for the meaning of 'statutory party' see PARA 660 note 7 ante; for the meaning of 'major participant' see PARA 660 note 9 ante; for the meaning of 'inspector' see PARA 660 note 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'the land' see PARA 660 note 8 ante. As to the Broads Authority see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 101 (2009) PARA 734; as to the Commission for the New Towns see PARA 1383 et seq post; and as to English Heritage see PARA 1058 post.

As to the persons entitled to appear at an inquiry under the 2002 Rules see the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 13 (revoked with savings).

³ See the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 16. Where: (1) the Secretary of State or the Commission has given a direction described in r 5(3)(a) or (b) (see PARA 660 note 7 ante); or (2) the Secretary of State or any other Minister of the Crown or any government department, or any body falling within r 15(1)(c) (see note 2 supra), has expressed a view described in r 5(3)(c) (see PARA 660 note 7 ante) and the local planning authority has included the terms of the expression of view in a statement sent in accordance with r 9(2) (see PARA 661 ante); or (3) another Minister of the Crown or any government department has expressed a view described in r 5(3)(c) and the Secretary of State has included its terms in a statement sent in accordance with r 9(2) (see PARA 661 ante), the applicant, the local planning authority or a person entitled to appear may, not later than four weeks before the date of an inquiry, apply in writing to the Secretary of State for a representative of the Secretary of State or of the other minister, department or body concerned to be made available at the inquiry: r 16(1). Where an application is made in accordance with r 16(1), the Secretary of State must make a representative available to attend the inquiry or, as the case may be, send the application to the other minister, department or body concerned, who must make a representative available to attend the inquiry: r 16(2). Any person attending an inquiry as a representative in pursuance of r 16 must state the reasons for the direction or expressed view and must give evidence and be subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness: r 16(3). Nothing in r 16(3), however, requires a representative of a minister or a government department to answer any question which in the opinion of the inspector is directed to the merits of government policy: r 16(4).

As to representatives of government departments etc at an inquiry under the 2002 Rules see the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 14 (revoked with savings).

4 See the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 17. Any person entitled to appear at an inquiry, who proposes to give, or to call another person to give, evidence at the inquiry by reading a proof of evidence, must send two copies, in the case of the local planning authority and the applicant, or three copies in any other case, to the Secretary of State; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, deposit each such proof of evidence: r 17(1). Where a proof of evidence so sent contains more than 1,500 words, it must be accompanied by a written summary, and the Secretary of State must deposit the summary: r 17(2). Where a person sends copies of a proof of evidence and summary (if any), that person must at the same time send a copy to every other person specified or referred to in r 15(1) unless the person so specified or referred to has indicated in writing that he does not require to be sent a copy: r 17(3). The proof of evidence and any summary must be received by the Secretary of State no later than the date specified by the inspector pursuant to r 12(1)(b) (see PARA 660 note 14 ante): r 17(4). The Secretary of State must send to the inspector, as soon as practicable after receipt, any proof of evidence together with any summary sent to him in accordance with r 17 and received by him within the relevant period, if any, specified therein: r 17(5). Where a written summary is provided in accordance with r 17(2), only that summary is to be read at the inquiry, unless the inspector permits or requires otherwise: r 17(6). Any person required by r 17 to send copies of a proof of evidence to the Secretary of State must send with them the same number of copies of the whole, or the relevant part, of any document referred to in the proof of evidence, unless a copy of the document or part of the document in question is already available for inspection pursuant to r 11(13) (see PARA 662 ante): r 17(7). The Secretary of State or the inspector may in writing require any person who has sent a copy of a proof of evidence or summary in accordance with r 17 to provide such additional copies of the proof or summary as he may specify and may specify the time within which the copy of the proof or summary is to be received by him: r 17(8). Any person required to provide additional copies must ensure that the copies have been received by the Secretary of State or inspector within the specified time: r 17(9). For the meaning of 'deposit' see PARA 662 note 16 ante.

As to proofs of evidence at an inquiry under the 2002 Rules see the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 15 (revoked with savings).

5 See the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 18. 'Statement of common ground' means a written statement prepared jointly by the local planning authority and the applicant, which contains agreed factual information about the proposal which is the subject of the application: r 2(1). The local planning authority and the applicant must together prepare an agreed statement of common ground: r 18(1). Where an agreed statement of common ground is prepared in accordance with r 18(1), the applicant must: (1) ensure that, by the date specified by the inspector under r 12(1)(b) (see PARA 660 note 14 ante), two copies of the statement have been received by the Secretary of State; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, deposit that statement; (2) at the same time as he sends the statement to the Secretary of State, send a copy of it to every other person specified or referred to in r 15(1)(c)-(i) (see note 2 heads (3)-(9) supra); and (3) afford to any other person who so requests a reasonable opportunity to inspect and, where practicable and on payment of a reasonable charge, take copies of the statement: r 18(2).

As to statements of common ground at an inquiry under the 2002 Rules see the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 16 (revoked with savings).

NOTE 2--SI 2005/2115 r 15(1) amended: SI 2008/2831.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/A. MAJOR INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS IN ENGLAND/665. Procedure at the inquiry; site inspections.

665. Procedure at the inquiry; site inspections.

Except as otherwise provided in the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005,¹ the inspector² must determine the procedure at an inquiry³. At the start of the inquiry the inspector must identify the matters to be considered at the inquiry, and any matters on which he requires further explanation from the persons entitled or permitted to appear⁴; but nothing in that requirement precludes any person entitled or permitted to appear from referring to matters which they consider relevant to the consideration of the application or appeal but which were not matters so identified by the inspector⁵.

Unless in any particular case the inspector otherwise determines, the applicant is to begin and to have the right of final reply; and the other persons entitled or permitted to appear are to be heard in such order as the inspector may determine⁶. A person entitled to appear at an inquiry is entitled to call evidence and the applicant, the local planning authority and any major participant⁷ are entitled to cross-examine persons giving evidence, but, subject to this and to the exceptions set out below⁸, the calling of evidence and the cross-examination of persons giving evidence is otherwise at the discretion of the inspector⁹.

The inspector may refuse to permit the:

- 2616 (1) giving or production of evidence;
- 2617 (2) cross-examination of persons giving evidence; or
- 2618 (3) presentation of any other matter,

which he considers to be irrelevant or repetitious; but where he refuses to permit the giving of oral evidence, the person wishing to give the evidence may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing before the close of the inquiry¹⁰. The inspector may refuse to permit the cross-examination of persons giving evidence, or may require such cross-examination to cease, if it appears to him that permitting such cross-examination or allowing it to continue, as the case may be, would have the effect that the inquiry timetable¹¹ could not be met¹².

Where a person gives evidence at an inquiry by reading a summary of his proof of evidence¹³:

- 2619 (a) the proof of evidence¹⁴ is to be treated as tendered in evidence, unless the person required to provide the summary notifies the inspector that he now wishes to rely on the contents of that summary alone; and
- 2620 (b) the person whose evidence the proof of evidence contains is then to be subject to cross-examination on it to the same extent as if it were evidence he had given orally¹⁵.

The inspector may direct that facilities are to be afforded to any person appearing at an inquiry to take or obtain copies of documentary evidence open to public inspection¹⁶. He may require any person appearing or present at an inquiry who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave and either refuse to permit that person to return or permit him to return only on such conditions as he may specify, but any such person may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing before the close of the inquiry¹⁷.

The inspector may also:

- 2621 (i) allow any person to alter or add to a statement of case¹⁸ received by the Secretary of State or by him¹⁹ or a proof of evidence received by the Secretary of State²⁰ so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the inquiry; but he must (if necessary by adjourning the inquiry) give every other person entitled to appear who is appearing at the inquiry an adequate opportunity of considering any such alteration or addition²¹;
- 2622 (ii) proceed with an inquiry in the absence of any person entitled to appear at it²²;
- 2623 (iii) take into account any written representation or evidence or any other document received by him from any person before an inquiry opens or during the inquiry provided that he discloses it at the inquiry²³;
- 2624 (iv) from time to time adjourn an inquiry and, if the date, time and place of the adjourned inquiry are announced at the inquiry before the adjournment, no further notice is required²⁴.

Any person who appears at an inquiry and makes closing submissions must by the close of the inquiry provide the inspector with a copy of his closing submission in writing²⁵.

The inspector may make an unaccompanied inspection of the land²⁶ before or during an inquiry without giving notice of his intention to the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry²⁷. During an inquiry or after its close, the inspector:

- 2625 (A) may inspect the land in the company of the applicant and the local planning authority; and
- 2626 (B) must make such an inspection if so requested by the applicant or the local planning authority before or during an inquiry²⁸.

In all cases where the inspector intends to make an accompanied site inspection he must announce during the inquiry the date and time at which he proposes to make it²⁹; but he is not bound to defer an inspection of the kind referred to heads (A) and (B) above where any person mentioned in those heads is not present at the time appointed³⁰.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/A. MAJOR INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS IN ENGLAND/666. Procedure after inquiry.

666. Procedure after inquiry.

After the close of an inquiry¹, the lead inspector² must by such date as the Secretary of State³ may determine make a report in writing to the Secretary of State which must include:

- 2627 (1) his consideration of the application;
- 2628 (2) the consideration by any additional inspector⁴ of the matters relating to the application which that additional inspector has been directed to consider;
- 2629 (3) his conclusions; and
- 2630 (4) his recommendations or his reasons for not making any recommendations⁵.

Where the Secretary of State determines a date by which the lead inspector is to report to him, he must give notice in writing⁶ of that determination to the inspector and to all parties entitled to appear at the inquiry⁷.

Where an assessor⁸ has been appointed, he may, after the close of the inquiry, make a report in writing to the inspector in respect of the matters on which he was appointed to advise⁹. Where an assessor makes a report in accordance with this provision, the inspector must append it to his own report and must state in his own report how far he agrees or disagrees with the assessor's report and, where he disagrees with the assessor, his reasons for that disagreement¹⁰.

When making his decision the Secretary of State may disregard any written representations, evidence or any other document received after the close of the inquiry¹¹. If, after the close of an inquiry, the Secretary of State:

- 2631 (a) differs from an inspector on any matter of fact mentioned in, or appearing to him to be material to, a conclusion reached by the inspector; or
- 2632 (b) takes into consideration any new evidence or new matter of fact (not being a matter of government policy), and is for that reason disposed to disagree with a recommendation made by the lead inspector, he may not come to a decision which is at variance with that recommendation without first notifying the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry who appeared at it of his disagreement and the reasons for it and affording them an opportunity of making written representations to him or (if the Secretary of State has taken into consideration any new evidence or new matter of fact, not being a matter of government policy) of asking for the reopening of the inquiry¹². Those persons so making written representations or requesting the inquiry to be reopened must ensure that such representations or requests are received by the Secretary of State within three weeks of the date of the Secretary of State's notification¹³.

The Secretary of State may, as he thinks fit, cause an inquiry to be reopened¹⁴. He must do so if asked by the applicant or the local planning authority¹⁵ in the circumstances¹⁶ and within the period¹⁷ mentioned above¹⁸. Where an inquiry is reopened, whether by the same or a different lead inspector, the Secretary of State must send to the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry who appeared at it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further evidence is invited¹⁹.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/A. MAJOR INFRASTRUCTURE PROJECTS IN ENGLAND/667. Notification of Secretary of State's decision; procedure if that decision is later quashed.

667. Notification of Secretary of State's decision; procedure if that decision is later quashed.

The Secretary of State¹ must, as soon as practicable, notify his decision on an application, and his reasons for it, in writing² to:

- 2633 (1) all persons entitled to appear³ at the inquiry⁴ who did appear; and
- 2634 (2) any other person who, having appeared at the inquiry, has asked to be notified of the decision⁵.

Where a copy of the lead inspector's report⁶ is not sent with the notification of the decision, the notification must be accompanied by a statement of his conclusions and of any recommendations made by him, and if a person entitled to be notified of the decision has not received a copy of that report, he must be supplied with a copy of it on written application⁷ to the Secretary of State⁸.

Where a decision of the Secretary of State on an application in respect of which an inquiry has been held is quashed in proceedings before any court⁹, the Secretary of State:

- 2635 (a) must send to the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry who appeared at it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further representations are invited for the purposes of his further consideration of the application;
- 2636 (b) must afford to those persons the opportunity of making written representations to him in respect of those matters or of asking for the reopening of the inquiry¹⁰; and
- 2637 (c) may, as he thinks fit, cause the inquiry to be reopened, whether by the same or a different lead inspector¹¹.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 Notification in writing of a decision and reasons is to be taken to have been given to a person for these purposes where (1) the Secretary of State and the person have agreed that decisions and reasons required under this rule to be given in writing may instead be accessed by that person via a website; (2) the decision and reasons are a decision and reasons to which that agreement applies; (3) the Secretary of State has published the decision and reasons on a website; and (4) the person is notified, in manner for the time being agreed between him and the Secretary of State, of (a) the publication of the decision and reasons on a website; (b) the address of the website; and (c) the place on the website where the decision and reasons may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 22(2).

3 As to the persons entitled or permitted to appear see PARA 664 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'inquiry' for these purposes see PARA 660 note 4 ante.

As to the procedure after an inquiry under the 2002 Rules see the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/1223, r 20 (revoked with savings).

6 For these purposes 'report' includes any assessor's report appended to an inspector's report and an additional inspector's report appended to the lead inspector's report but does not include any other documents so appended; but any person who has received a copy of the report may apply to the Secretary of State in writing, within six weeks of the date of the Secretary of State's decision, for an opportunity of inspecting any such documents and the Secretary of State must afford him that opportunity: Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 22(4). For the meanings of 'lead inspector' and 'additional inspector' see PARA 660 note 9 ante; and for the meaning of 'assessor' see PARA 660 note 15 ante.

7 Any person so applying to the Secretary of State must ensure that his application is received by the Secretary of State within four weeks of the Secretary of State's determination: ibid r 22(5).

8 Ibid r 22(3).

9 As to challenging the validity of a decision see PARAS 43 et seq, 650 ante.

10 Those persons making representations or asking for the inquiry to be reopened under the Town and Country Planning (Major Infrastructure Project Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2005, SI 2005/2115, r 23(1) (b) (see head (b) in the text) must ensure that such representations or requests are received by the Secretary of State within three weeks of the date of the written statement sent under r 23(1)(a) (see head (a) in the text): r 23(3).

11 Ibid r 23(1). If he does so, r 14(3)-(9) (see PARA 663 ante) applies as if the references to an inquiry were references to a reopened inquiry: r 23(2).

Where a decision under the 2002 Rules is quashed, the application must be redetermined in accordance with the 2005 Rules: see PARA 659 ante.

B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS

668. Application of rules.

Rules have been made¹ which apply in relation to any local inquiry caused by the Secretary of State² to be held in England before he determines an appeal made on or after 23 December 2002:

- 2638 (1) under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 against an enforcement notice³;
- 2639 (2) under that Act against the refusal or non-determination of an application for a certificate of lawful use or development⁴;
- 2640 (3) under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 against a listed building enforcement notice⁵ or under that Act⁶ against a conservation area enforcement notice⁷.

Those rules do not, however, apply to any local inquiry by reason of the application of any provision mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above by or under any other enactment⁸.

Rules have also been made⁹ which apply in relation to any local inquiry caused by the National Assembly for Wales¹⁰ to be held in Wales before it determines an appeal made on or after 1 June 2003 such as is described in heads (1) to (3) above¹¹.

UPDATE

668-669 Application of rules, Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/669. Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications.

669. Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications.

Rules have been made¹ in relation to the pre-inquiry procedure for local inquiries² caused by the Secretary of State³ to be held in England, or by the National Assembly for Wales⁴ to be held in Wales, before the determination of certain enforcement and other appeals⁵. Those rules set out the procedure with regard to:

- 2641 (1) preliminary information to be supplied by the local planning authority⁶;
- 2642 (2) notification of the name of the inspector⁷;
- 2643 (3) the procedure where a pre-inquiry meeting is to be held⁸;
- 2644 (4) service of a statement of matters by the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁹;
- 2645 (5) service of statements of case etc¹⁰;
- 2646 (6) the inspector's further powers to hold pre-inquiry meetings¹¹;
- 2647 (7) the inquiry timetable¹²;
- 2648 (8) the appointment of an assessor¹³.

Provision is also made for the service of documents¹⁴, for any purposes of the relevant rules which are capable of being carried out electronically, by the use of electronic communications¹⁵.

1 See PARA 668 ante.

2 I.e. local inquiries to which the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686 (as amended), or the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269 (as amended), apply: see PARA 668 ante.

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

4 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

5 See the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, rr 4-10, 12 (as amended); the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, rr 4-10, 12 (as amended); and the text and notes 6-13 infra.

6 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 4. The Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after it is determined to hold an inquiry under the 2002 Rules, inform the appellant and the local planning authority in writing that an inquiry is to be held: r 4(1). The local planning authority must within two weeks of the starting date: (1) send to the Secretary of State and the appellant a completed questionnaire and a copy of each of the documents referred to in it (r 4(2)(a)); (2) in the case of an enforcement appeal, notify any: (a) person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; (b) occupier of property in the locality in which the land to which the enforcement notice relates is situated; and (c) other person who in the opinion of the local planning authority is affected by the breach of planning control or contravention of listed building or conservation area control which is alleged in the enforcement notice, that an appeal has been made and of the address to which and of the period within which they may make representations to the Secretary of State (r 4(2)(b)).

'Questionnaire' means a document in the form supplied by the Secretary of State to local planning authorities for the purpose of proceedings under the 2002 Rules, and for this purpose a form is taken to be supplied where the Secretary of State has published it on a website and has notified the local planning authority of publication of the form on the website, the address of the website and the place on the website where the form may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: r 2(1) (renumbered and amended by SI 2003/956). 'Local planning authority' means in relation to an enforcement appeal, the body which issued the relevant enforcement notice and in relation to an appeal against the refusal or non-determination of an application for a certificate of lawful use or development, the body to which the application was made: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 2(1) (as so renumbered). 'Enforcement appeal' means an appeal against an enforcement notice; and 'enforcement notice' means a notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 172 (as substituted) (see PARA 561 ante) or under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 38 (as amended) (see PARA 1146 post): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 2(1) (as so renumbered). 'Starting date' means the date of the (i) Secretary of State's written notice to the appellant and the local planning authority that he has received all the documents required to enable him to entertain the appeal pursuant to the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, 2002/2682, reg 10 (see PARA 607 ante); or (ii) relevant notice, whichever is the later; and 'relevant notice' means the Secretary of State's written notice under the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 4(1) informing the appellant and the local planning authority that an inquiry is to be held: r 2(1) (as so renumbered).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 4(1), (2), which refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State. For the relevant definitions see r 2(1) (renumbered and amended by SI 2004/3172).

The Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly may at any time in any particular case allow further time for the taking of any step which is required or enabled to be taken by virtue of the applicable 2002 or 2003 Rules, and references in those rules to a day by which, or period within which, any step is required or enabled to be taken are to be construed accordingly: see the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 23; the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 23.

Notices or documents required or authorised to be served, sent or supplied under the 2002 or 2003 Rules may be served, sent or supplied by post or by using electronic communications to serve, send or supply the notice or document (as the case may be) to a person at such address as may for the time being be specified by the person for that purpose: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 25 (substituted by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 25 (added by SI 2004/3172). See further notes 14-15 infra.

7 In relation to England, the Secretary of State, and in relation to Wales, the Assembly, must notify the name of the inspector to every person entitled to appear at the inquiry; and where he or it appoints another inspector instead of the person previously appointed and it is not practicable to notify the new appointment before the inquiry is held, the inspector holding the inquiry must, at its commencement, announce his name and the fact of his appointment: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 5(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 5(1), (2). 'Inspector' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to hold the relevant inquiry or reopened inquiry: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 6 supra); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 6 supra).

8 See PARA 670 post.

9 The Secretary of State in relation to England or the Assembly in relation to Wales may, before an inquiry is held, serve on the local planning authority, the appellant, any person required to serve a statement of case pursuant to the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 8(6) or the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 8(6) (see PARA 671 post) and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served, a written statement of the matters about which he or the Assembly particularly wishes to be informed for the purposes of his or its consideration of the appeal: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 7; Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 7.

10 See PARA 671 post.

11 See PARA 670 post.

12 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 10. The inspector must prepare a timetable for the proceedings at, or at part of, an inquiry where (1) a pre-inquiry meeting is held; or (2) it appears to the Secretary of State likely that an inquiry will last for four days or more: r 10(1). In respect of shorter inquiries or those where no pre-inquiry meeting is held the inspector may at any time prepare a timetable for the proceedings at, or at part of, an inquiry: r 10(2). The inspector may, at any time, vary the timetable so prepared: r 10(3). The inspector may specify in a timetable so prepared a date by which any proof of evidence and summary sent in accordance with r 16(1) (see PARA 673 post) must be sent to the Secretary of State: r 10(4).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 10(1)-(4).

13 In relation to England, where the Secretary of State appoints an assessor he must notify every person entitled to appear at the inquiry of the name of the assessor and of the matters on which he is to advise the inspector: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 12. 'Assessor' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State to sit with an inspector at an inquiry or reopened inquiry to advise the inspector on such matters arising as the Secretary of State may specify: r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 6 supra).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 12; and for the meaning of 'assessor' see r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 6 supra).

14 'Document' includes a photograph, map or plan: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 2(1); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 2(1) (both as renumbered: see note 6 supra).

15 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 2(2)-(8) (added by SI 2003/956). In the 2002 Rules, and in relation to the use of electronic communications for any purpose of those rules which is capable of being carried out electronically: (1) the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purposes of such communications, except that where those rules impose an obligation on any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the obligation is not to be fulfilled unless the person on whom it is imposed provides a postal address; (2) references to statements, notices, summaries, applications, or other documents, or to copies of such documents, include references to such documents or copies of them in electronic form: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 2(2) (as so added). Rule 2(4)-(8) (as so added) applies where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement in those rules that an application, notice, or other document should be made, sent or given to any other person ('the recipient'): r 2(3) (as so added). The requirement is to be taken to be fulfilled where the application, notice, or other document or (in the case of an agreement) the text concluding the agreement which is transmitted by means of the electronic communication is (a) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (b) legible in all material respects; and (c) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference (r 2(4) (as so added)); and 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the notice or document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a notice or document in printed form (r 2(5) (as so added)). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for this purpose 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: r 2(6) (as so added). A requirement in the 2002 Rules that any notice or other document should be in writing is fulfilled where the document transmitted meets the criteria in r 2(4) (as so added), and 'written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: r 2(7) (as so added). A requirement in those rules to send more than one copy of a statement or other document may be complied with by sending one copy only of the statement or document in question: r 2(8) (as so added). For these purposes, 'electronic communication' has the meaning given in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 6 supra).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 2(2)-(8) (added by SI 2004/3172).

Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for any purpose of the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686 (as amended), or as the case may be, any purpose of the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269 (as amended), which is capable of being effected electronically, he must give notice in writing: (1) withdrawing any address notified to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or to a local planning authority for that purpose; or (2) revoking any agreement entered into with the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or with a local planning authority for that purpose; and such withdrawal or revocation is to be final and to take effect on a date specified by the person in the notice but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 25A (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 25A (added by SI 2004/3172).

UPDATE

668-669 Application of rules, Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/670. Pre-inquiry meetings.

670. Pre-inquiry meetings.

If the Secretary of State¹ expects a local inquiry² to be held in England before the determination of certain enforcement and other appeals to last for four days or more, or if the National Assembly for Wales³ expects such a local inquiry⁴ to be held in Wales to last for eight days or more, he or the Assembly must hold a pre-inquiry meeting⁵ unless he or it considers it unnecessary⁶. He or the Assembly may hold a pre-inquiry meeting for shorter inquiries if it appears to him or to the Assembly to be necessary⁷.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly decides to hold a pre-inquiry meeting the following provisions apply:

- 2649 (1) he or the Assembly must send to the appellant and the local planning authority⁸ notice of his or its intention to hold a pre-inquiry meeting and a statement of the matters about which he or it particularly wishes to be informed for the purposes of his or its consideration of the appeal in question;
- 2650 (2) the local planning authority must publish in a newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land⁹ is situated a notice of the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's intention to hold a pre-inquiry meeting and of the statement sent in accordance with head (1) above; and
- 2651 (3) the appellant and the local planning authority must send two copies of their outline statement¹⁰ to the Secretary of State within eight weeks of the starting date¹¹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the local planning authority's outline statement to the appellant and a copy of the appellant's outline statement to the local planning authority¹². He or the Assembly may in writing require any other person who has notified him or it of an intention or a wish to appear at the inquiry to send an outline statement to him or to the Assembly, to the appellant and to the local planning authority¹³; and a person so required to send an outline statement must send it to the Secretary of State or the Assembly, the appellant and the local planning authority within four weeks of the date on which the Secretary of State or the Assembly so requires¹⁴.

The pre-inquiry meeting, or where there is more than one, the first pre-inquiry meeting, must be held within 16 weeks of the starting date¹⁵. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must give not less than three weeks' written notice¹⁶ of the pre-inquiry meeting to:

- 2652 (a) the appellant;
- 2653 (b) the local planning authority;
- 2654 (c) any person known at the date of the notice to be entitled to appear at the inquiry¹⁷; and
- 2655 (d) any other person whose presence at the pre-inquiry meeting appears to him or to the Assembly to be desirable¹⁸.

The inspector¹⁹ must preside at the pre-inquiry meeting²⁰. He must determine the matters to be discussed and the procedure to be followed²¹. He may require any person present at the pre-inquiry meeting who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave and may refuse to permit that person to return to or attend any further pre-inquiry meeting, or may permit him to return or attend only on such conditions as he may specify²².

Where a pre-inquiry meeting has been so held, the inspector may hold a further pre-inquiry meeting and he must arrange for such notice to be given of a further pre-inquiry meeting as appears to him necessary²³.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly requests any further information from the appellant or the local planning authority at the pre-inquiry meeting, they must send two copies of it to him or to the Assembly and, in the case of an enforcement appeal²⁴, a copy to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice²⁵ has been served, within four weeks of the conclusion of the pre-inquiry meeting²⁶. Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly so receives further information he or it must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of such further information received from the appellant to the local planning authority and send a copy of such further information received from the local planning authority to the appellant²⁷.

Where no pre-inquiry meeting is held pursuant to the above provisions, an inspector may hold one if he thinks it necessary²⁸. An inspector must give not less than two weeks' written notice of a pre-inquiry meeting he proposes to hold under this power to:

- 2656 (i) the appellant;
- 2657 (ii) the local planning authority;
- 2658 (iii) any person known at the date of the notice to be entitled to appear at the inquiry; and
- 2659 (iv) any other person whose presence at the pre-inquiry meeting appears to him to be desirable²⁹.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/671. Statements of case.

671. Statements of case.

The local planning authority¹ must, within six weeks of the starting date² of a local inquiry to be held before the determination of certain enforcement and other appeals³ or, where a pre-inquiry meeting⁴ is held⁵, within four weeks of the conclusion of that pre-inquiry meeting, serve two copies of its statement of case⁶ on the Secretary of State⁷ or, if the inquiry is held in Wales, on the National Assembly for Wales⁸. The authority must also, in the case of an enforcement appeal⁹, so serve a copy on any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice¹⁰ has been served¹¹.

The appellant must:

2660 (1) in the case of an appeal where no pre-inquiry meeting is held, within six weeks of the starting date; or

2661 (2) in any case where a pre-inquiry meeting is held, within four weeks of the conclusion of that pre-inquiry meeting, serve two copies of his statement of case on the Secretary of State or the Assembly and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, a copy on any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served¹². The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the local planning authority's statement of case to the appellant and a copy of the appellant's statement of case to the local planning authority¹³. The appellant and the local planning authority may in writing¹⁴ each require the other to send them a copy of any document¹⁵, or the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list of documents comprised in that party's statement of case; and any such document, or relevant part, must be sent, as soon as practicable, to the party who required it¹⁶.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing require any other person, who has notified him or it of an intention or a wish to appear at the inquiry, to serve:

- 2662 (a) copies of their statement of case on him or on the Assembly within four weeks of being so required; and
- 2663 (b) in the case of an enforcement appeal, simultaneously, a copy of their statement of case on any person specified by the Secretary of State or the Assembly;

and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of each such statement of case to the local planning authority and to the appellant¹⁷. He or it must also, as soon as practicable, send to any person from whom he or it so requires a statement of case a copy of the statements of case of the appellant and the local planning authority and inform that person of the name and address of every person to whom his statement of case is required to be sent¹⁸.

The Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or the inspector¹⁹ may in writing require any person who has served on him or on it a statement of case in accordance with the provisions set out above to provide such further information about the matters contained in the statement of case as he or it may specify and may specify the time within which the information is to be sent to him or to it²⁰. A local planning authority or appellant required to provide further information must send within the time specified two copies of that information in writing to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or, as the case may be, the inspector and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, a copy to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served²¹. The Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or, as the case may be, the inspector, must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information received from the local planning authority to the appellant and a copy of the further information received from the appellant to the local planning authority²². Any other person required to provide further information must send within the time specified three copies of that information in writing to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or, as the case may be, to the inspector and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, a copy to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; and the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or, as the case may be, the inspector, must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information to the local planning authority and the appellant²³. Any person other than the appellant who serves a statement of case on the Secretary of State or the Assembly must send with it a copy of any document or the relevant part of any document referred to in the list comprised in that statement, unless a copy of the document or part of the document in question is already available²⁴ for inspection²⁵.

Unless he or it has already done so, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, within 12 weeks of the starting date, send a written statement of the specified matters²⁶ to:

- 2664 (i) the appellant;
- 2665 (ii) the local planning authority;
- 2666 (iii) in the case of an enforcement appeal, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; and
- 2667 (iv) any person from whom he or the Assembly has required a statement of case²⁷.

The local planning authority must give any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity²⁸ to inspect and, where practicable, take copies of:

- 2668 (A) any statement of case, written comments, further information or other document a copy of which has been sent to the local planning authority in accordance with the provisions set out above; and
- 2669 (B) the local planning authority's completed questionnaire²⁹ and statement of case together with a copy of any document, or of the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list comprised in that statement, and any written comments, information or other documents sent by the local planning authority pursuant to those provisions³⁰.

If the local planning authority or the appellant wishes to comment on another person's statement of case, they must send within nine weeks of the starting date two copies of their written comments to the Secretary of State or the Assembly and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, a copy of their written comments to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the written comments received from the appellant to the local planning authority and a copy of the written comments received from the local planning authority to the appellant³¹. Any person, other than the local planning authority or the appellant, who serves a statement of case on the Secretary of State or the Assembly under the provisions set out above and who wishes to comment on another person's statement of case, must send, not less than four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry, three copies of their written comments to the Secretary of State or the Assembly and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, a copy of their written comments to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the written comments to the local planning authority and to the appellant³². The Secretary of State or the Assembly must also, as soon as practicable after receipt, send to the inspector any statement of case, document or further information or written comments sent to him or to it in accordance with the relevant provisions³³ and within the relevant period, if any, specified therein³⁴.

TEXT AND NOTE 31--After 'starting date' add 'or, where a pre-inquiry meeting has been held, within seven weeks of the conclusion of that meeting,': SI 2003/1269 r 8(14) (amended by SI 2007/2285).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/672. Date and notification of the inquiry.

672. Date and notification of the inquiry.

The date fixed by the Secretary of State¹ for the holding of a local inquiry in England, or by the National Assembly² for Wales for the holding of such an inquiry in Wales, before the determination of certain enforcement and other appeals³ must be, unless he or the Assembly considers such a date impracticable, not later than 22 weeks after the starting date⁴ or, in a case where a pre-inquiry meeting⁵ is held, eight weeks after the conclusion of that meeting⁶. Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers it impracticable to fix a date in accordance with the above requirements, the date fixed must be the earliest date after the end of the relevant period mentioned above which he or it considers to be practicable⁷.

Unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly agrees a lesser period of notice with the appellant and the local planning authority⁸, he or the Assembly must give not less than four weeks' written notice⁹ of the date, time and place fixed by him or by it for the holding of an inquiry to every person entitled to appear at the inquiry¹⁰.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may vary the date fixed for the holding of an inquiry, whether or not the date as varied is within the relevant period¹¹ mentioned above¹². He or the Assembly may also vary the time or place for the holding of an inquiry and must give such notice as appears to him or to the Assembly to be reasonable¹³.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing¹⁴ require the local planning authority to take one or more of the following steps:

- 2670 (1) not less than two weeks before the date fixed for the holding of an inquiry, to publish a notice of the inquiry in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land¹⁵ is situated;
- 2671 (2) to send a notice of the inquiry to such persons or classes of persons as he or the Assembly may specify, within such period as he or it may specify; or
- 2672 (3) to post a notice of the inquiry in a conspicuous place near to the land, within such period as he or the Assembly may specify¹⁶.

Where the land is under the control of the appellant, he must:

- 2673 (a) if so required in writing by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, affix a notice of the inquiry firmly to the land or to some object on or near the land, in such manner as to be readily visible to and legible by members of the public; and
- 2674 (b) not remove the notice, or cause or permit it to be removed, for such period before the inquiry as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify¹⁷.

Every notice of inquiry so published, sent or posted¹⁸ or so affixed¹⁹ must contain:

- 2675 (i) a clear statement of the date, time and place of the inquiry and of the powers enabling the Secretary of State or the Assembly to determine the appeal in question;
- 2676 (ii) a written description of the land sufficient to identify approximately its location;
- 2677 (iii) a brief description of the subject matter of the appeal; and
- 2678 (iv) details of where and when copies of the local planning authority's completed questionnaire²⁰ and any document²¹ sent by and copied to the authority²² may be inspected²³.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/673. Appearances at the inquiry; evidence.

673. Appearances at the inquiry; evidence.

Rules have been made¹ in relation to appearances at, and evidence before, local inquiries² caused by the Secretary of State³ to be held in England, or caused by the National Assembly for Wales⁴ to be held in Wales, before the determination of certain enforcement and other appeals⁵. Those rules make provision with regard to:

- 2679 (1) the persons entitled to appear at such an inquiry⁶;
- 2680 (2) the information to be provided by all parties⁷;
- 2681 (3) the availability of representatives of government departments and other authorities at the inquiry⁸;
- 2682 (4) proofs of evidence⁹;
- 2683 (5) preparation of a statement of common ground¹⁰;
- 2684 (6) the provision of additional copies of documents and information¹¹.

1 See PARA 668 ante.

2 The inquiries to which the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686 (as amended) or the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269 (as amended) apply: see PARA 668 ante.

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

4 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

5 See the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, rr 13-17 (as amended); the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, rr 13-17 (as amended); and the text and notes 6-10 infra.

6 In relation to England, the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry are (1) the appellant; (2) the local planning authority; (3) any of the following bodies if the land is situated in their area and they are not the local planning authority: (a) a county or a district council; (b) an enterprise zone authority designated under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 32 (as amended) (see PARA 1491 et seq post); (c) the Broads Authority, within the meaning of the Norfolk and Suffolk Broads Act 1988; (d) a housing action trust specified in an order made under the Housing Act 1988 s 67(1) (as amended) (see HOUSING vol 22 (2006 Reissue) PARA 332); (4) where the land is in an area previously designated as a new town, the Commission for the New Towns; (5) in the case of an enforcement appeal, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; (6) in the case of an appeal under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 195 (as amended) (see PARA 613 ante), any person having an interest in the land; (7) the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England (commonly known as 'English Heritage') where (a) the inquiry relates to an enforcement notice under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 38 (as amended); (b) the listed building is in Greater London; and (c) if an application for listed building consent had been made for the works set out in the enforcement notice, the Commission would have been notified of the application under a direction given under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 15(5) (see PARAS 1118-1119 post); (8) any other person who has served a statement of case in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 8(6) (see PARA 671 ante) or who has sent an outline statement in accordance with r 6(4) (see PARA 670 ante): r 13(1). Nothing in r 13(1) prevents the inspector from permitting any other person to appear at an inquiry and such permission must not be unreasonably withheld: r 13(2).

In relation to Wales, the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry are: (i) those listed in heads (1)-(6) supra; (ii) where the inquiry relates to an enforcement notice under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 38 (as amended) and, where an application for listed building consent had been made for the works set out in the enforcement notice, the National Assembly would have been notified of the application pursuant to a direction given under s 15(5), Cadw; and (iii) any other person who has served a statement of case in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 8(6) see PARA 671 ante) or who has sent an outline statement in accordance with 6(4) see PARA 670 ante): r 13(1). Nothing in r 13(1) prevents the inspector from permitting any other person to appear at an inquiry and such permission must not be unreasonably withheld: r 13(2).

Any person entitled or permitted to appear may do so on his own behalf or be represented by any other person: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 13(3); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 13(3).

For the meaning of 'local planning authority' for these purposes see PARA 669 note 6 ante; for the meaning of 'inspector' see PARA 669 note 7 ante; and for the meaning of 'the land' see PARA 670 note 9 ante. As to Greater London see LONDON GOVERNMENT vol 29(2) (Reissue) PARA 29; as to the Broads Authority see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 101 (2009) PARA 734; as to the Commission for the New Towns see PARA 1383 et seq post; as to English Heritage see PARA 1058 post; and as to Cadw see PARA 70 note 9 ante.

7 Any person entitled or permitted to appear at the inquiry, who proposes to give, or call another person to give, evidence at the inquiry, must send in writing to the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, to the Assembly no later than four weeks before the inquiry (1) an estimate of the time required to present all their evidence; and (2) the number of witnesses that they intend to call to give evidence: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 14; Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 14. As to the use of electronic communications see PARA 669 note 15 ante.

8 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 15. Where the Secretary of State or any other Minister of the Crown or any government department has expressed in writing to the local planning authority a view on an appeal and the authority refers to that view in a statement prepared pursuant to r 8(1) (see PARA 671 ante), the appellant may, not later than four weeks before the date of an inquiry, apply in writing to the Secretary of State for a representative of the Secretary of State or of the other minister or department concerned to be made available at the inquiry: r 15(1). Where an application is made in accordance with r 15(1), the Secretary of State must make a representative available to attend the inquiry or, as the case may be, send the application to the other minister or department concerned, who must make a representative available to attend the inquiry: r 15(2). A person attending an inquiry as a representative pursuant to r 15 must state the reasons for the expressed view and must give evidence and be subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness: r 15(3). Nothing in r 15(3), however, requires a representative of a minister or government department to answer any question which, in the opinion of the inspector, is directed to the merits of government policy: r 15(4).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 15(1)-(3), which refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State. Nothing in r 15(3) requires a representative of the Assembly to answer any question which, in the opinion of the inspector, is directed to the merits of Assembly policy or requires a representative of a minister or government department to answer any question which, in the opinion of the inspector, is directed to the merits of government policy: r 15(4).

9 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 16 (as amended). Any person entitled to appear at an inquiry who proposes to give, or to call another person to give, evidence at the inquiry by reading a proof of evidence, must (1) subject to r 16(2), send two copies, in the case of the local planning authority and the appellant, or three copies in the case of any other person, of the proof of evidence together with a written summary, to the Secretary of State; and (2) in the case of an enforcement appeal, simultaneously send copies of these to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of each proof of evidence together with any summary to the local planning authority and the appellant: r 16(1). No written summary is, however, to be required where the proof of evidence proposed to be read contains no more than 1,500 words: r 16(2). The proof of evidence and any summary must be sent to the Secretary of State no later than four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry, or, where a timetable has been prepared pursuant to r 10 (see PARA 669 note 12 ante) which specifies a date by which the proof of evidence and any summary is to be sent to the Secretary of State, that date: r 16(3). The Secretary of State must send to the inspector, as soon as practicable after receipt, any proof of evidence together with any summary sent to him pursuant to r 16 (as amended) within the relevant period specified in that rule: r 16(4). Where a written summary is provided in accordance with r 16(1), only that summary is to be read at the inquiry, unless the inspector permits or requires otherwise: r 16(5).

Any person required by r 16 (as amended) to send copies of a proof of evidence to the Secretary of State, or any other person, must send with them the same number of copies of the whole, or the relevant part, of any document referred to in the proof of evidence, unless a copy of the document or part of the document in question is already available for inspection pursuant to r 8(13) (see PARA 671 ante): r 16(7). The local planning authority must give any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity to inspect and, where practicable, take copies of any document sent to or by the authority in accordance with r 16 (as amended): r 16(7). For these purposes, an opportunity is to be taken to have been given to a person where the person is notified of publication of the relevant document on a website, the address of the website, the place on the website where the document may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: r 16(8) (added by SI 2003/956).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 16(1)-(8) (amended by SI 2004/3172), which refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State.

10 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 17 (as amended). The local planning authority and the appellant must together prepare an agreed statement of common ground and must send it to the Secretary of State and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served, not less than four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry: r 17(1). The local planning authority must give any person who asks a reasonable opportunity to inspect, and where practicable, take copies of the statement of common ground sent to the Secretary of State: r 17(2). For these purposes an opportunity is to be taken to have been given to a person where the person is notified of publication of the statement of common ground on a website, the address of the website, the place on the website where the document may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: r 17(3) (added by SI 2003/956).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 17(1)-(3) (amended by SI 2004/3172), which refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State.

'Statement of common ground' means a written statement prepared jointly by the local planning authority and the appellant, which contains agreed factual information about the development, breach of conditions or works which are the subject of the appeal: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172).

11 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 24. The Secretary of State may at any time before the close of the inquiry request from any person entitled to appear additional copies of the following: (1) an outline statement sent in accordance with r 6 (see PARA 670 ante); (2) a statement of case or comments sent in accordance with r 8 (as amended) (see PARA 671 ante); (3) a proof of evidence sent in accordance with 16 (as amended) (see note 9 supra); (4) any other document or information sent to the Secretary of State before or during an inquiry, and may specify the time within which such copies should be sent to him: r 24(1). Any person so requested must send the copies to the Secretary of State within the period specified: r 24(2).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 24(1), (2), which refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State and to the relevant provisions of those rules.

NOTE 6--SI 2002/2686 r 13(1) amended: SI 2008/2831.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/674. Procedure at the inquiry; site inspections.

674. Procedure at the inquiry; site inspections.

Except as otherwise provided in the relevant rules¹, the inspector² is to determine the procedure at a local inquiry³ caused by the Secretary of State⁴ to be held in England, or caused by the National Assembly for Wales⁵ to be held in Wales, before the determination of certain enforcement and other appeals⁶.

At the start of the inquiry the inspector must identify what are, in his opinion, the main issues to be considered at the inquiry and any matters on which he requires further explanation from the persons entitled or permitted to appear⁷; but nothing in this requirement precludes any person entitled or permitted to appear from referring to issues which that person considers relevant to the consideration of the appeal but which were not issues so identified by the inspector⁸.

Unless the inspector otherwise determines, the appellant is to begin and to have the right of final reply; and the other persons entitled or permitted to appear are to be heard in such order as the inspector may determine⁹. A person entitled to appear at an inquiry is to be entitled to call evidence and the appellant, the local planning authority¹⁰ and, in the case of an enforcement appeal¹¹, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice¹² has been served is to be entitled to cross-examine persons giving evidence, but, subject to that and to the exceptions set out below¹³, the calling of evidence and the cross-examination of persons giving evidence is otherwise to be at the discretion of the inspector¹⁴. The inspector may refuse to permit the:

- 2685 (1) giving or production of evidence;
- 2686 (2) cross-examination of persons giving evidence; or
- 2687 (3) presentation of any matter,

which he considers to be irrelevant or repetitious; but where he refuses to permit the giving of oral evidence, the person wishing to give the evidence may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing¹⁵ before the close of the inquiry¹⁶. Where a person gives evidence at an inquiry by reading a summary of his proof of evidence¹⁷, the proof of evidence¹⁸ is then to be treated as tendered in evidence, unless the person required to provide the summary notifies the inspector that he now wishes to rely on the contents of that summary alone, and the person whose evidence the proof contains is to be subject to cross-examination on it to the same extent as if it were evidence he had given orally¹⁹.

The inspector may direct that facilities must be made available to any person appearing at an inquiry to take or obtain copies of documentary evidence open to public inspection²⁰.

The inspector may:

- 2688 (a) require any person appearing or present at an inquiry who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave; and
- 2689 (b) refuse to permit that person to return; or
- 2690 (c) permit him to return only on such conditions as he may specify, but any such person may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing before the close of the inquiry²¹. The inspector may proceed with an inquiry in the absence of any person entitled to appear at it²².

The inspector may allow any person to alter or add to a statement of case served²³, so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the inquiry; but he must, if necessary by adjourning the inquiry, give every other person entitled to appear who is appearing at the inquiry an adequate opportunity of considering any fresh matter or document²⁴. The inspector may take into account any written representation or evidence or other document received by him from any person before an inquiry opens or during the inquiry provided that he discloses it at the inquiry²⁵.

The inspector may from time to time adjourn an inquiry and, if the date, time and place of the adjourned inquiry are announced at the inquiry before the adjournment, no further notice is to be required²⁶.

Where the Secretary of State expects the inquiry to last for four days or more, or the Assembly expects the inquiry to last for eight days or more, any person who appears at the inquiry and makes closing submissions must, before the close of the inquiry, provide the inspector with a copy of that person's closing submissions in writing²⁷.

The inspector may make an unaccompanied inspection of the land²⁸ before or during an inquiry without giving notice of his intention to the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry²⁹. During an inquiry or after its close, the inspector:

- 2691 (i) may inspect the land in the company of the appellant, the local planning authority, any person with an interest in the land and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; and
- 2692 (ii) must make such an inspection if so requested by the appellant or the local planning authority before or during an inquiry³⁰.

In all cases where the inspector intends to make an accompanied site inspection he must announce during the inquiry the date and time at which he proposes to make it³¹; but he is not bound to defer an inspection of the kind referred to in heads (i) and (ii) above where any person mentioned in those heads is not present at the time appointed³².

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/675. Procedure after inquiry.

675. Procedure after inquiry.

After the close of a local inquiry¹ caused by the Secretary of State² to be held in England, or caused by the National Assembly for Wales³ to be held in Wales, before the determination of certain enforcement and other appeals, the inspector⁴ must make a report in writing to the Secretary of State or the Assembly which must include his conclusions and his recommendations or his reasons for not making any recommendations⁵. Where an assessor⁶ has been appointed, he may, after the close of the inquiry, make a report in writing to the inspector in respect of the matters on which he was appointed to advise⁷. In such a case the inspector must append the assessor's report to his own report and must state in his own report how far he agrees or disagrees with the assessor's report and, where he disagrees with the assessor, his reasons for that disagreement⁸.

When making his decision the Secretary of State or the Assembly may disregard any written representations, evidence or any other document⁹ received after the close of the inquiry¹⁰. If, after the close of an inquiry, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2693 (1) differs from the inspector on any matter of fact mentioned in, or appearing to him or to the Assembly to be material to, a conclusion reached by the inspector¹¹; or
- 2694 (2) takes into consideration any new evidence or new matter of fact, not being a matter of government or Assembly policy, and is for that reason disposed to disagree with a recommendation made by the inspector, he or the Assembly may not come to a decision which is at variance with that recommendation without first notifying the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry who appeared at it of that disagreement and the reasons for it¹². Any person so notified must be given the opportunity to make written representations¹³ to the Secretary of State or the Assembly or, if the Secretary of State or the Assembly has taken into consideration any new evidence or new matter of fact, not being a matter of government or Assembly policy, to ask for the reopening of the inquiry¹⁴.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may, as he or it thinks fit, cause an inquiry to be reopened, and must do so if asked by the appellant or the local planning authority¹⁵ in the circumstances¹⁶ and within the period¹⁷ mentioned above¹⁸. Where an inquiry is reopened under these provisions, whether by the same or a different inspector, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must send to the persons entitled to appear¹⁹ at the inquiry who appeared at it a written statement of the matters on which further evidence is invited²⁰.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC

APPEALS/676. Notification of Secretary of State's or Assembly's decision; procedure following remitting of appeal.

676. Notification of Secretary of State's or Assembly's decision; procedure following remitting of appeal.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² must, as soon as practicable after reaching his or its decision, notify his or its decision on a relevant enforcement or other appeal³, and his or its reasons for it in writing⁴ to:

- 2695 (1) the appellant and the local planning authority⁵;
- 2696 (2) all other persons entitled to appear at the inquiry⁶ who did appear; and
- 2697 (3) any other person who, having appeared at the inquiry, has asked to be notified of the decision⁷.

Where a copy of the inspector's report⁸ is not sent with the notification of the decision or published on a website⁹, the notification must be accompanied by a statement of his conclusions and of any recommendations made by him, and if a person entitled to be notified of the decision has not received a copy of that report, he must be supplied with a copy of it on written application¹⁰ to the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹¹.

Where an appeal in respect of which a relevant local inquiry¹² has been held is remitted by any court to the Secretary of State or, in relation to Wales, to the Assembly for rehearing and redetermination, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2698 (a) must send to the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry who appeared at it a written statement of the matters on which further representations are invited in order for him or it to consider the appeal further;
- 2699 (b) must give those persons the opportunity of making written representations to him or to the Assembly about those matters or asking for the reopening of the inquiry¹³; and
- 2700 (c) may, as he or the Assembly thinks fit, cause the inquiry to be reopened, whether by the same or a different inspector¹⁴.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 I.e. an appeal before the determination of which a local inquiry has been held to which the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686 (as amended) or the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269 (as amended) apply: see PARA 668 ante.

4 Notification of a decision and reasons is to be taken to have been given to a person for these purposes where: (1) the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the person have agreed that decisions and reasons so required to be given in writing may instead be accessed by that person on a website; (2) the decision and reasons are a decision and reasons to which that agreement applies; (3) the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published the decision and reasons on a website; (4) the person is notified, in a manner for the time being agreed between him and the Secretary of State or the Assembly, of (a) the publication of the decision and reasons on a website; (b) the address of the website; (c) the place on the website where the decision and reasons may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 21(1A) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 21(1A) (added by SI 2004/3172).

5 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' for these purposes see PARA 669 note 6 ante.

6 As to the persons entitled to appear see PARA 673 ante.

7 Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 21(1); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 21(1).

8 For these purposes, 'report' includes any assessor's report appended to the inspector's report but does not include any other documents so appended; but any person who has received a copy of the report may apply to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in writing, within six weeks of the date of the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's decision, for an opportunity of inspecting any such documents and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must give him that opportunity: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 21(3); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 21(3). An opportunity is to be taken to have been afforded to a person for these purposes where that person is notified of: (1) publication of the relevant documents on a website; (2) the address of the website; (3) the place on the website where the documents may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 21(3A) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 21(3A) (added by SI 2004/3172).

9 Ie in accordance with the provisions set out in note 4 supra.

10 Any person so applying to the Secretary of State or the Assembly must send his application to the Secretary of State or Assembly within four weeks of his or its determination: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2686, r 21(4); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1269, r 21(4). C. OTHER REFERRED APPLICATIONS AND APPEALS

677. Application of rules.

Rules have been made¹ which apply in relation to any local inquiry which is not a major infrastructure project inquiry² and which is caused by the Secretary of State³ to be held in England before he determines:

- 2701 (1) an application for planning permission⁴ referred to him⁵, or an appeal to him⁶, under specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁷;
- 2702 (2) an application for listed building consent⁸ referred to him⁹, or for variation or discharge of conditions referred to him¹⁰, or an appeal to him¹¹ under specified provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990¹²;
- 2703 (3) an application for conservation area consent¹³ referred to him¹⁴, or an appeal to him¹⁵ under the relevant provisions¹⁶ of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990¹⁷.

Those rules do not, however, apply to any local inquiry by reason of the application of any provision mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above by any other enactment¹⁸. Where such a local inquiry is held into an application, or an appeal arising from such an application, in respect of which the Mayor of London¹⁹ has directed the local planning authority to refuse the application, the relevant rules apply subject to modifications²⁰.

Rules have also been made²¹ which apply in relation to any local inquiry which is caused by the National Assembly for Wales²² to be held in Wales before it determines:

- 2704 (a) an application under the statutory provisions mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above referred to it, or an appeal to it under the statutory provisions mentioned in those heads;
- 2705 (b) an appeal made under specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 as they are applied to tree preservation orders²³;
- 2706 (c) an appeal against the service of a tree preservation enforcement notice²⁴ under specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990²⁵;

but those rules do not apply to any local inquiry by reason of the application of any provision mentioned in heads (a) to (c) above by any other enactment²⁶. The rules applying in Wales apply whether or not the inquiry relates to a major infrastructure project²⁷.

678. Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications.

Rules have been made¹ in relation to the pre-inquiry procedure for local inquiries² caused by the Secretary of State³ to be held in England, or by the National Assembly for Wales⁴ to be held in Wales, before the determination of certain referred applications and appeals⁵. Those rules set out the procedure with regard to:

- 2707 (1) preliminary information to be supplied by the local planning authority⁶;
- 2708 (2) the procedure where a pre-inquiry meeting is to be held⁷;
- 2709 (3) service of statements of case etc⁸;
- 2710 (4) the inspector's further powers to hold pre-inquiry meetings⁹;
- 2711 (5) the inquiry timetable¹⁰;
- 2712 (6) the appointment of an assessor¹¹.

Provision is also made for the service of documents¹², for any purposes of the relevant rules which are capable of being carried out electronically, by the use of electronic communications¹³.

1 See PARA 677 ante.

2 I.e. local inquiries to which the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624 (as amended) (revoked in so far as applying to major infrastructure project inquiries by virtue of SI 2002/1223) or the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266 (as amended), apply: see PARA 677 ante.

3 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

4 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

5 See the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, rr 4-9 (as amended); the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, rr 4-9 (as amended); and the text and notes 6-12 infra.

6 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 4. The local planning authority must, on receipt of the relevant notice, forthwith inform the Secretary of State and the applicant in writing of the name and address of any statutory party who has made representations to the authority; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable thereafter, inform the applicant and the local planning authority in writing of the name and address of any statutory party who has made representations to him: r 4(1). 'Relevant notice' means the Secretary of State's written notice informing the applicant and the local planning authority that an inquiry is to be held: r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956).

Where: (1) the Secretary of State has given to the local planning authority a direction restricting the grant of planning permission for which application was made; or (2) in a case relating to listed building consent, the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England (commonly known as 'English Heritage': see PARA 1058 post) has given a direction to the local planning authority pursuant to the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 14(2) (see PARA 1117 post) as to how the application is to be determined; or (3) the Secretary of State or any other Minister of the Crown or any government department, or any body falling within the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 11(1)(c) (see PARA 682 note 3 post), has expressed in writing to the local planning authority the view that the application should not be granted either wholly or in part, or should be granted only subject to conditions; or (4) any person consulted in pursuance of a development order has made representations to the local planning authority about the application, then the local planning authority must forthwith after the starting date inform the person concerned of the inquiry and, unless he has already done so, that person must thereupon give the local planning authority a written statement of the reasons for making the direction, expressing the view or making the representations, as the case may be: r 4(2), (3). Subject to r 4(5), the local planning authority must ensure that within two weeks of the starting date: (a) the Secretary of State and the applicant have received a completed questionnaire and a copy of each of the documents referred to in it; (b) any statutory party, and other person who made representations to the local planning authority about the application occasioning the appeal, has been notified that an appeal has been made and of the address to which and of the period within which they may make representations to the Secretary of State: r 4(4). The requirements of r 4(4) do not, however, apply in respect of referred applications: r 4(5). For the meaning of 'referred application' see PARA 677 note 5 ante.

The Secretary of State may at any time in any particular case allow further time for the taking of any step which is required or enabled to be taken by virtue of the 2000 Rules, and references in those rules to a day by which, or a period within which, any step is required or enabled to be taken are to be construed accordingly: r 20.

For these purposes, 'local planning authority' means, in relation to a referred application, the body which would otherwise have dealt with the application; and in relation to an appeal, the body which was responsible for dealing with the application occasioning the appeal: r 2(1) (as so renumbered). 'Applicant' in the case of an appeal, means the appellant; 'statutory party' means: (i) a person mentioned in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 19(1)(b)(i) (see PARA 474 ante at head (2)(a) in the text) whose representations the Secretary of State is required by art 19(3) to take into account in determining the referred application or appeal to which an inquiry relates (see PARA 474 ante); and, in the case of an appeal, such a person whose representations the local planning authority was required by art 19(1) to take into account in determining the application occasioning the appeal (see PARA 474 ante); and (ii) a person whose representations the Secretary of State is required by the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 6(3)(b), (5) to take into account in determining the referred application or appeal to which an inquiry relates (see PARA 1114 post); and in the case of an appeal, a person whose representations the local planning authority was required by reg 6(3)(b) to take into account in determining the application occasioning the appeal (see PARA 1114 post); and 'starting date' means the date of the Secretary of State's written notice to the applicant and the local planning authority that he has received all the documents required to enable him to entertain the application or appeal, or the date of the relevant notice, whichever is the later: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 2(1) (as so renumbered).

In relation to Wales, the local planning authority must, on receipt of the relevant notice, forthwith inform the Assembly and the applicant in writing of the name and address of any statutory party who has made representations to the local planning authority; and the Assembly must, as soon as practicable thereafter, inform the applicant and the local planning authority in writing of the name and address of any statutory party who has made representations to the Assembly: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 4(1). Where (A) the Assembly has given to the local planning authority a direction restricting the grant of planning permission for which application was made; or (B) the Assembly, any Minister of the Crown or government department, or any body falling within r 11(1)(c) (see PARA 682 post), has expressed in writing to the local planning authority the view that the application should not be granted either wholly or in part, or should be granted only subject to conditions; or (C) any person consulted in pursuance of a development order has made representations to the local planning authority about the application, then the local planning authority must forthwith after the starting date inform the person concerned of the inquiry and, unless the person concerned has already done so, that person must thereupon give the local planning authority a written statement of the reasons for making the direction, expressing the view or making the representations, as the case may be: r 4(2), (3). Subject to r 4(5), the local planning authority must ensure that within two weeks of the starting date the National Assembly and the applicant have received a completed questionnaire and a copy of each of the documents referred to in it: r 4(4)(a). It must also ensure that any statutory party and any other person who made representations to the local planning authority about the application occasioning the appeal has been notified that an appeal has been made and of the address to which, and of the period within which, that person may make representations to the Assembly: r 4(4)(b). The requirements of r 4(4) do not, however, apply in respect of referred applications: r 4(5). As to the extension of time limits see r 20; and for the relevant definitions see r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172).

7 See PARA 679 post.

8 See PARA 680 post.

9 See PARA 679 post.

10 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 8. The inspector must arrange a timetable for the proceedings at, or at part of, an inquiry where (1) a pre-inquiry meeting is held pursuant to r 5 (see PARA 679 post); or (2) it appears to the Secretary of State likely that an inquiry will last for eight days or more: r 8(1). The inspector may arrange a timetable for the proceedings at, or at part of, any other inquiry (r 8(2)); and may, at any time, vary the timetable so arranged (r 8(3)). The inspector may specify in a timetable arranged pursuant to r 8 a date by which any proof of evidence and summary sent in accordance with r 13(1) (see PARA 682 note 5 post) is to be received by the Secretary of State: r 8(4).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 8(1)-(4), which refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State.

'Inspector' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, by the Assembly to hold an inquiry or a reopened inquiry: see the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 6 supra); the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 6 supra).

11 Where the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly appoints an assessor, he or the Assembly must notify every person entitled to appear at the inquiry of the name of the assessor and of the matters on which he is to advise the inspector: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 9; Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 9. 'Assessor' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to sit with an inspector at an inquiry or reopened inquiry to advise the inspector on such matters arising as the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly may specify: see the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 6 supra); the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 6 supra).

12 'Document' includes a photograph, map or plan: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 6 supra); the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 6 supra).

13 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 2(2)-(8) (added by SI 2003/956). In the 2000 Rules, and in relation to the use of electronic communications for any purpose of those rules which is capable of being carried out electronically, the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purposes of such communications, except that where those rules impose an obligation on any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the obligation is not to be fulfilled unless the person on whom it is imposed provides a postal address (r 2(2)(a) (as so added)); and references to statements, notices, or other documents, or to copies of such documents, include references to such documents or copies of them in electronic form (r 2(2)(b) (as so added)). Rule 2(4)-(8) (as so added) applies where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement in those rules to give or send any statement, notice or other document to any other person ('the recipient'): r 2(3) (as so added). The requirement is to be taken to be fulfilled where the notice or other document transmitted by means of the electronic communication is (1) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (2) legible in all material respects; and (3) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference; and for these purposes 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the statement, notice or document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: r 2(4), (5) (as so added). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for this purpose 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: r 4(6) (as so added). A requirement in the 2000 Rules that any document should be in writing is fulfilled where that document meets the criteria in r 4(4) (as so added), and 'written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: r 4(7) (as so added). A requirement in those rules to send more than one copy of a statement or other document may be complied with by sending one copy only of the statement or other document in question: r 4(8) (as so added).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 2(2)-(8) (added by SI 2004/3172).

For these purposes, 'electronic communication' has the meaning given in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 6 supra); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 2(1) (as renumbered and amended: see note 6 supra).

Notices or documents required or authorised to be sent or supplied under the 2000 or, as the case may be, the 2003 Rules may be sent or supplied by post or by using electronic communications to send or supply the notice or document (as the case may be) to a person at such address as may for the time being be specified by the person for that purpose: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 22 (substituted by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 22 (substituted by SI 2004/3172).

Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for any purpose of the 2000 or 2003 Rules which is capable of being effected electronically, he must give notice in writing: (a) withdrawing any address notified to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or to a local planning authority for that purpose; or (b) revoking any agreement entered into with the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or with a local planning authority for that purpose; and such withdrawal or revocation is to be final and to take effect on a date specified by the person in the notice but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 22A (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 22A (added by SI 2004/3172).

UPDATE

677-678 Application of rules, Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

678 Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications

NOTE 6--For 'relevant notice' read 'notice under SI 2000/1624 r 3A' (see PARA 677): SI 2000/1624 r 4(1) (amended by SI 2009/455). Definition of 'relevant notice' omitted in consequence: SI 2000/1625 r 2(1) (amended by SI 2009/455). 'Starting date' now means the date of the notice given by the Secretary of State under r 3A above: SI 2000/1624 r 2(1) (definition substituted by SI 2009/455). See also SI 2003/1266 r 4(A) (added by SI 2007/2285). Local planning authority's notification must be in writing: SI 2000/1624 r 4(4) (amended by SI 2009/455).

NOTE 11--Secretary of State's notification must be in writing: SI 2000/1624 r 9 (amended by SI 2009/455).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/C. OTHER REFERRED APPLICATIONS AND APPEALS/679. Pre-inquiry meetings.

679. Pre-inquiry meetings.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² must hold a pre-inquiry meeting³ if he or it expects a relevant inquiry⁴ to last for eight days or more, unless he or the Assembly considers it is unnecessary⁵. He or the Assembly must also hold a pre-inquiry meeting in respect of shorter inquiries, if it appears to him or it to be necessary⁶.

Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly decides to hold a pre-inquiry meeting the following provisions apply:

- 2713 (1) the Secretary of State or the Assembly must send with the relevant notice⁷:
263

- 242. (a) notice of his or its intention to hold a pre-inquiry meeting; and
- 243. (b) a statement of the matters about which he or it particularly wishes to be informed for the purposes of his or its consideration of the application or appeal in question⁸;

- 2714 (2) the Secretary of State or the Assembly must send a copy of the statement described in head (1) above to the minister or government department concerned;
- 2715 (3) the local planning authority⁹ must publish in a newspaper circulating in the locality in which the land is situated a notice of the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's intention to hold a pre-inquiry meeting and of the statement sent in accordance with head (1)(a) above; and
- 2716 (4) the applicant¹⁰ and the local planning authority must ensure that within eight weeks of the starting date¹¹ two copies of their outline statement¹² have been received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly¹³.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the local planning authority's outline statement to the applicant and a copy of the applicant's outline statement to the local planning authority¹⁴.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing¹⁵ require any other person who has notified him or it of an intention or a wish to appear at the inquiry to send an outline statement to him (or to the Assembly), to the applicant and to the local planning authority and the person must ensure that they are received by the Secretary of State (or the Assembly), the applicant and the local planning authority within four weeks of the date of the Secretary of State's or the Assembly's written requirement¹⁶.

The pre-inquiry meeting or, where there is more than one, the first pre-inquiry meeting, must be held within 16 weeks of the starting date¹⁷. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must give not less than three weeks' written notice of the pre-inquiry meeting to:

- 2717 (i) the applicant;
- 2718 (ii) the local planning authority;
- 2719 (iii) any person known at the date of the notice to be entitled to appear at the inquiry¹⁸; and
- 2720 (iv) any other person whose presence at the pre-inquiry meeting appears to him or to the Assembly to be desirable; and he or the Assembly may require the local planning authority to take, in relation to notification of the pre-inquiry meeting, one or more of the steps which he or it may require¹⁹ the authority to take in relation to notification of the inquiry²⁰.

The inspector²¹ must preside at the pre-inquiry meeting²² and must determine the matters to be discussed and the procedure to be followed²³. He may require any person present at the pre-inquiry meeting who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave²⁴ and may refuse to permit that person to return or to attend any further pre-inquiry meeting, or may permit him to return or attend only on such conditions as he may specify²⁵. Where a pre-inquiry meeting has been held²⁶ the inspector may hold a further pre-inquiry meeting and he must arrange for such notice to be given of a further pre-inquiry meeting as appears to him necessary²⁷.

If the Secretary of State or the Assembly requests any further information from the applicant or the local planning authority at the pre-inquiry meeting, they must ensure that two copies of it have been received by him or by it and a copy has been received by any statutory party²⁸ within four weeks of the conclusion of the pre-inquiry meeting²⁹. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information received from the applicant to the local planning authority and a copy of the further information received from the local planning authority to the applicant³⁰.

Where no pre-inquiry meeting is held pursuant to the above provisions, an inspector who thinks it necessary may hold one³¹. An inspector must give not less than two weeks' written notice of a pre-inquiry meeting which he proposes to hold under this power to:

- 2721 (A) the applicant;
- 2722 (B) the local planning authority;
- 2723 (C) any statutory party; and
- 2724 (D) any other person whose presence at the pre-inquiry meeting appears to the inspector to be desirable³².

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 'Pre-inquiry meeting' means a meeting held before an inquiry to consider what may be done with a view to securing that the inquiry is conducted efficiently and expeditiously, and where two or more such meetings are held references to the conclusion of a pre-inquiry meeting are references to the conclusion of the final meeting: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172).

4 I.e. a local inquiry to which the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624 (as amended), or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266 (as amended), apply: see PARA 677 ante.

5 Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 5(1)(a); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 5(1)(a).

6 Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 5(1)(b); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 5(1)(b).

7 For the meaning of 'relevant notice' see PARA 678 note 6 ante.

8 Where another Minister of the Crown or a government department has expressed in writing to the Secretary of State or the Assembly a view which is mentioned in the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 4(2)(c) or, as the case may be, in the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 4(1)(c) (see PARA 678 note 6 ante), the Secretary of State or the Assembly must set this out in his or its statement: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 5(2)(a)(ii); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 5(2)(a)(ii).

9 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' for these purposes see PARA 678 note 6 ante.

10 For the meaning of 'applicant' for these purposes see PARA 678 note 6 ante.

11 As to the extension of time limits see PARA 678 note 6 ante; and for the meaning of 'starting date' see PARA 678 note 6 ante.

12 'Outline statement' means a written statement of the principal submissions which a person proposes to put forward at an inquiry: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 3 supra); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 3 supra). Where the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 4(2) or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 4(2) (see PARA 678 note 6 ante) applies, the local planning authority must: (1) include in its outline statement (a) the terms of any direction given together with a statement of the reasons for it; and (b) any view expressed or representation made on which the authority intends to rely in its submissions at the inquiry; and (2) within the period mentioned in head (4) in the text, send a copy of its outline statement to the person concerned: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 5(4); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 5(4).

PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/C. OTHER REFERRED APPLICATIONS AND APPEALS/680. Statements of case.

680. Statements of case.

The local planning authority¹ must ensure that within:

- 2725 (1) six weeks of the starting date²; or
- 2726 (2) where a pre-inquiry meeting is held pursuant to the statutory requirements³, four weeks of the conclusion of that pre-inquiry meeting, two copies of its statement of case⁴ have been received by the Secretary of State⁵ in relation to a relevant inquiry⁶ held in England or by the National Assembly for Wales⁷ in relation to a relevant inquiry⁸ held in Wales⁹. The authority must also ensure that a copy of its statement of case has been received by any statutory party¹⁰.

The applicant¹¹ must ensure that within:

- 2727 (a) six weeks of the starting date, in the case of an appeal or a referred application¹² where no pre-inquiry meeting is held pursuant to the statutory requirements¹³; or
- 2728 (b) in any case where a pre-inquiry meeting is so held, four weeks of the conclusion of that pre-inquiry meeting, two copies of his statement of case have been received by the Secretary of State and a copy of his statement of case has been received by any statutory party¹⁴.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the local planning authority's statement of case to the applicant and a copy of the applicant's statement of case to the local planning authority¹⁵. The applicant and the local planning authority may in writing¹⁶ each require the other to send them a copy of any document, or of the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list of documents comprised in the party's statement of case; and any such document, or relevant part, must be sent, as soon as practicable, to the party who required it¹⁷.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing require any other person, who has notified him or it of an intention or wish to appear at an inquiry, to send:

- 2729 (i) three copies of that person's statement of case to him (or to the Assembly) within four weeks of being so required; and
- 2730 (ii) a copy of that statement of case to any statutory party;

and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of each such statement of case to the local planning authority and to the applicant¹⁸. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must also, as soon as practicable, send to a person from whom he or it so requires a statement of case a copy of the statements of case of the applicant and the local planning authority and must inform that person of the name and address of every person to whom his statement of case is required to be sent¹⁹.

The Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or the inspector²⁰ may in writing require any person who has sent to him or to the Assembly a statement of case in accordance with the above provisions to provide such further information about the matters contained in the statement of case as he or the Assembly may specify and may specify the time within which the information is to be received²¹. A local planning authority or applicant required to provide further information must ensure that two copies of that information in writing have been received by the Secretary of State (or the Assembly), or as the case may be, by the inspector, within the specified time and that a copy has been received by any statutory party within the specified time²². The Secretary of State (or the Assembly), or as the case may be, the inspector must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information received from the local planning authority to the applicant and a copy of the further information received from the applicant to the local planning authority²³. Any other person required to provide further information must ensure that three copies of that information in writing have been received by the Secretary of State (or the Assembly), or as the case may be, by the inspector within the specified time and that a copy has been received by any statutory party within the specified time²⁴. The Secretary of State (or the Assembly), or as the case may be, the inspector must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information to the local planning authority and the applicant²⁵.

Any person other than the applicant who sends a statement of case to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly must send with it a copy of any document or of the relevant part of any document referred to in the list comprised in that statement, unless a copy of the document or part of the document in question is already available²⁶ for inspection²⁷. Unless he or it has already done so, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must within 12 weeks of the starting date send a written statement of the specified matters²⁸ to:

- 2731 (A) the applicant;
- 2732 (B) the local planning authority;
- 2733 (C) any statutory party; and
- 2734 (D) any person from whom he has required a statement of case²⁹.

The local planning authority must afford to any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity³⁰ to inspect and, where practicable, take copies of any statement of case, written comments, information or other document a copy of which has been sent to the local planning authority in accordance with the above provisions, and of the local planning authority's completed questionnaire³¹ and statement of case together with a copy of any document, or of the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list comprised in that statement, and any written comments, information or other documents sent by the local planning authority pursuant to those provisions³².

If the local planning authority or the applicant wishes to comment on another person's statement of case they must ensure that within nine weeks of the starting date two copies of their written comments have been received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and that a copy of their written comments has been received by any statutory party³³. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the written comments received from the applicant to the local planning authority and a copy of the written comments received from the local planning authority to the applicant³⁴. Any person who sends a statement of case to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly under the above provisions and who wishes to comment on another person's statement of case must ensure that not less than four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry three copies of his written comments have been received by the Secretary of State and a copy of his written comments has been received by any statutory party³⁵. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the written comments to the local planning authority and the applicant³⁶. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send to the inspector any statement of case, document or further information or written comments sent to him or to it in accordance with the above provisions and received by him or by it within the relevant period, if any, specified therein³⁷.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/C. OTHER REFERRED APPLICATIONS AND APPEALS/681. Date and notification of the inquiry.

681. Date and notification of the inquiry.

The date fixed by the Secretary of State¹ or by the National Assembly for Wales² for the holding of a relevant inquiry³ must, unless he or it considers such a date impracticable, be not later than 22 weeks⁴ after the starting date⁵ or, in a case where a pre-inquiry meeting⁶ is held pursuant to the statutory requirements⁷, eight weeks after the conclusion of that meeting⁸. Where, however, the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers it impracticable to fix a date in accordance with the above provisions, the date fixed must be the earliest date after the end of the relevant period mentioned above which he or the Assembly considers to be practicable⁹.

Unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly agrees a lesser period of notice with the applicant¹⁰ and the local planning authority¹¹, he or the Assembly must give not less than four weeks' written notice¹² of the date, time and place fixed by him or by it for the holding of an inquiry to every person entitled to appear¹³ at the inquiry¹⁴.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may vary the date fixed for the holding of an inquiry, whether or not the date as varied is within the relevant period¹⁵ mentioned above¹⁶. He or the Assembly may also vary the time or place for the holding of an inquiry and must give such notice of any variation as appears to him or to it to be reasonable¹⁷.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing¹⁸ require the local planning authority to take one or more of the following steps:

- 2735 (1) not less than two weeks before the date fixed for the holding of an inquiry, to publish a notice of the inquiry in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land¹⁹ is situated;

- 2736 (2) to send a notice of the inquiry to such persons or classes of persons as he or the Assembly may specify, within such period as he or it may specify; or 2737 (3) to post a notice of the inquiry in a conspicuous place near to the land, within such period as he or it may specify²⁰.

Where the land is under the control of the applicant he must:

- 2738 (a) if so required in writing by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, affix a notice of the inquiry firmly to the land or to some object on or near the land, in such manner as to be readily visible to and legible by members of the public; and 2739 (b) not remove the notice, or cause or permit it to be removed, for such period before the inquiry as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify²¹.

Every notice of inquiry so published, sent or posted²² or so affixed²³ must contain:

- 2740 (i) a clear statement of the date, time and place of the inquiry and of the powers enabling the Secretary of State or the Assembly to determine the application or appeal in question;
 2741 (ii) a written description of the land sufficient to identify approximately its location;
 2742 (iii) a brief description of the subject matter of the application or appeal; and 2743 (iv) details of where and when copies of the local planning authority's completed questionnaire²⁴ and any documents²⁵ sent by and copied to the authority²⁶ may be inspected²⁷.

Appearances at the inquiry; evidence.

682. Appearances at the inquiry; evidence.

Rules have been made¹ in relation to appearances at or participation in, and evidence in relation to, relevant local inquiries². Those rules make provision with regard to:

2744 (1) the persons entitled to appear at or participate in such an inquiry³;

- 2745 (2) the availability of representatives of government departments and other authorities at the inquiry⁴;
- 2746 (3) proofs of evidence⁵;
- 2747 (4) preparation of a statement of common ground⁶;
- 2748 (5) the provision of additional copies of documents and information⁷.

1 See PARA 677 ante.

2 See the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, rr 11-15, 21 (as amended); the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, rr 11-15, 21 (as amended); and the text and notes 3-7 infra. As to the local inquiries to which those rules apply see PARA 677 ante.

3 The persons entitled to appear at a relevant local inquiry held in England are: (1) the applicant; (2) the local planning authority; (3) any of the following bodies if the land is situated in their area and they are not the local planning authority: (a) a county or district council; (b) an enterprise zone authority designated under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 32 (as amended) (see PARA 1491 et seq post); (c) the Broads Authority, within the meaning of the Norfolk and Suffolk Broads Act 1988; (d) a housing action trust specified in an order made under the Housing Act 1988 s 67(1) (as amended) (see HOUSING vol 22 (2006 Reissue) PARA 332); (4) where the land is in an area previously designated as a new town, the Commission for the New Towns; (5) any statutory party; (6) the council of the parish in which the land is situated, if that council made representations to the local planning authority in respect of the application in pursuance of a provision of a development order; (7) where the application was required to be notified to the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England (commonly known as 'English Heritage') under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 14, the Commission; (8) any other person who has sent a statement of case in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 6(6) (see PARA 680 ante) or who has sent an outline statement in accordance with r 5(5) (see PARA 679 ante): r 11(1). Nothing in r 11(1), however, prevents the inspector from permitting any other person to appear at an inquiry, and such permission must not be unreasonably withheld: r 11(2).

The persons entitled to take part in a relevant local inquiry held in Wales are: (i) the applicant; (ii) the local planning authority; (iii) any of the following bodies if the land is situated in their area and the body is not the local planning authority: (A) a county or county borough council; (B) an enterprise zone authority designated under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 2 (as amended); (C) a housing action trust specified in an order made under the Housing Act 1988 s 67(1) (as amended); (iv) where the land is in an area previously designated as a new town, the Commission for the New Towns; (v) any statutory party; (vi) the council of the community in which the land is situated, if that council made representations to the local planning authority in respect of the application in pursuance of a provision of a development order; (vii) any other person who has sent a statement of case in accordance with the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 6(6) or who has sent an outline statement in accordance with r 5(5): r 11(1). Nothing in r 11(1), however, precludes the inspector from permitting any other person to take part in an inquiry; and such permission is not to be unreasonably withheld: r 11(2).

Any person entitled or permitted to appear or take part may do so on his own behalf or be represented by any other person: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 11(3); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 11(3).

As to the Broads Authority see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 101 (2009) PARA 734; as to the Commission for the New Towns see PARA 1383 et seq post; and as to English Heritage see PARA 1058 post.

4 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 12. Where (1) the Secretary of State or the Commission has given a direction described in r 4(2)(a) or (b) (see PARA 678 note 6 ante); or (2) the Secretary of State or any other Minister of the Crown or any government department, or any body falling within r 11(1)(c) (see note 3 head (3) supra), has expressed a view described in r 4(2)(c) (see PARA 678 note 6 ante) and the local planning authority has included the terms of the expression of view in a statement sent in accordance with r 5(2) (see PARA 679 ante) or r 6(1) (see PARA 680 ante); or (3) another Minister of the Crown or any government department has expressed a view described in r 4(2)(c) and the Secretary of State has included its terms in a statement sent in accordance with r 5(2) (see PARA 679 ante) or r 6(12) (see PARA 680 ante), the applicant, the local planning authority or a person entitled to appear may, not later than four weeks before the date of an inquiry, apply in writing to the Secretary of State for a representative of the Secretary of State or of the other minister, department or body concerned to be made available at the inquiry: r 12(1). Where an application is made in accordance with r 12(1), the Secretary of State must make a representative available to attend the inquiry or, as the case may be, send the application to the other minister, department or body concerned, who must make a representative available to attend the inquiry: r 12(2). Any person attending an inquiry as a representative in pursuance of r 12 must state the reasons for the direction or expressed view and must give evidence and be subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness (r 12(3)); but nothing in r 12(3) requires a representative of a minister or a government department to answer any question which in the opinion of the inspector is directed to the merits of government policy (r 12(4)). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 12. Where (a) the National Assembly for Wales has given a direction described in r 4(2)(a); or (b) the Assembly, any Minister of the Crown or government department, or any body falling within r 11(1)(c) (see note 3 head (iii) supra) has expressed a view described in r 4(2)(b) and the local planning authority has included the terms of the expression of view in a statement sent in accordance with r 5(2) or 6(1); or (c) a Minister of the Crown or government department has expressed a view described in r 4(2)(b) and the National Assembly has included its terms in a statement sent in accordance with r 5(2) or r 6(12), the applicant, the local planning authority or a person entitled to take part in an inquiry may, not later than four weeks before the date of an inquiry, apply in writing to the Assembly for a representative of the Assembly or of the minister, department or body concerned to be made available at the inquiry: r 12(1). Where an application is made in accordance with r 12(1), the Assembly must make a representative available to attend the inquiry or, as the case may be, send the application to the minister, department or body concerned, who must make a representative available to attend the inquiry: r 12(2). Any person attending an inquiry as a representative in pursuance of r 12 must state the reasons for the direction or expressed view and give evidence and is to be subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness (r 12(3)); but nothing in r 12(3) requires a representative of the Assembly to answer any question which, in the opinion of the inspector, is directed to the merits of Assembly policy or requires any minister or government department to answer any question which, in the opinion of the inspector, is directed to the merits of government policy (r 12(4)). As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

5 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 13 (as amended). Any person entitled to appear at an inquiry who proposes to give, or to call another person to give, evidence at the inquiry by reading a proof of evidence, must (1) send two copies, in the case of the local planning authority and the applicant, or three copies in the case of any other person, of the proof of evidence together with any written summary, to the Secretary of State; and (2) simultaneously send copies of these to any statutory party; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of each proof of evidence together with any summary to the local planning authority and the applicant: r 13(1). No written summary is, however, to be required where the proof of evidence proposed to be read contains no more than 1,500 words: r 13(2). The proof of evidence and any summary must be received by the Secretary of State no later than four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry, or, where a timetable has been arranged pursuant to r 8 (see PARA 678 note 10 ante) which specifies a date by which the proof of evidence and any summary is to be received by the Secretary of State, that date: r 13(3). The Secretary of State must send to the inspector, as soon as practicable after receipt, any proof of evidence together with any summary sent to him in accordance with r 13 (as amended) and received by him within the relevant period, if any, specified in that rule: r 13(4). Where a written summary is provided in accordance with r 13(1), only that summary is to be read at the inquiry, unless the inspector permits or requires otherwise: r 13(5). Any person required by r 13 (as amended) to send copies of a proof of evidence to the Secretary of State must send with them the same number of copies of the whole, or the relevant part, of any document referred to in the proof of evidence, unless a copy of the document or part of the document is already available for inspection pursuant to r 6(13) (as amended) (see PARA 680 ante): r 13(6). The local planning authority must afford to any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity to inspect and, where practicable, take copies of any document sent to or by them in accordance with r 13 (as amended): r 13(7). For these purposes an opportunity is to be taken to have been afforded to a person where the person is notified of publication of the relevant document on a website, the address of the website, the place on the website where the document may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: r 13(8) (added by SI 2003/956).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 13(1)-(8) (r 13(8) added by SI 2004/3172), which refers to written statements of evidence rather than proofs of evidence, and to the Assembly rather than the Secretary of State.

6 The local planning authority and the applicant must: (1) together prepare an agreed statement of common ground; and (2) ensure that the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly receives it and that any statutory party receives a copy of it not less than four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 14(1); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 14(1). 'Statement of common ground' means a written statement prepared jointly by the local planning authority and the applicant, which contains agreed factual information about the proposal which is the subject of the application or appeal: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172).

The local planning authority must afford to any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity to inspect, and where practicable, take copies of the statement of common ground sent to the Secretary of State or the Assembly: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 14(2); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 14(2). For these purposes an opportunity is to be taken to have been afforded to a person where the person is notified of publication of the statement of common ground on a website, the address of the website, the place on the website where the document may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 14(3) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 14(3) (added by SI 2003/3172).

7 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 21 (as amended). The Secretary of State may at any time before the close of an inquiry request from any person entitled to appear additional copies of the following: (1) an outline statement sent in accordance with r 5 (see PARA 679 ante); (2) a statement of case or comments sent in accordance with r 6 (as amended) (see PARA 680 ante); (3) a proof of evidence sent in accordance with r 13 (as amended) (see note 5 supra); or (4) any other document or information sent to the Secretary of State before or during an inquiry, and may specify the time within which such copies should be received by him: r 21(1). Any person so requested must ensure that the copies are received by the Secretary of State within the period specified: r 21(2).

For similar provisions in relation to Wales regarding the transmission of extra copies to the Assembly see the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 21(1), (2). Any obligation imposed by those rules to send more than one copy of a statement or other document may, where sending is effected using electronic communications, be complied with by transmitting one copy only of the statement or, as the case may be, document in question using such communications: r 21(3) (added by SI 2004/3172).

As to the use of electronic communications see further PARA 678 note 13 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/C. OTHER REFERRED APPLICATIONS AND APPEALS/683. Procedure at the inquiry; site inspections.

683. Procedure at the inquiry; site inspections.

Except as otherwise provided in the relevant rules¹, the inspector² must determine the procedure at a relevant local inquiry³. At the start of the inquiry the inspector must identify what are, in his opinion, the main issues to be considered at the inquiry and any matters on which he requires further explanation from the persons entitled or permitted to appear⁴; but nothing in this requirement precludes any person entitled or permitted to appear from referring to issues which that person considers relevant to the consideration of the application or appeal but which were not issues so identified by the inspector⁵.

Unless in any particular case the inspector otherwise determines, the local planning authority⁶ is to begin and the applicant⁷ is to have the right of final reply; and the other persons entitled or permitted to appear are to be heard in such order as the inspector may determine⁸.

A person entitled to appear at an inquiry is to be entitled to call evidence and the applicant, the local planning authority and any statutory party⁹ are to be entitled to cross-examine persons giving evidence, but, subject to that and to the exceptions set out below¹⁰, the calling of evidence and the cross-examination of persons giving evidence is otherwise to be at the discretion of the inspector¹¹. The inspector may refuse to permit the:

- 2749 (1) giving or production of evidence;
- 2750 (2) cross-examination of persons giving evidence; or
- 2751 (3) presentation of any other matter,

which he considers to be irrelevant or repetitious; but where he refuses to permit the giving of oral evidence, the person wishing to give the evidence may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing before the close of the inquiry¹².

Where a person gives evidence at an inquiry by reading a summary of his proof of evidence¹³, the proof of evidence¹⁴ is to be treated as tendered in evidence, unless the person required to provide the summary notifies the inspector that he now wishes to rely on the contents of that summary alone¹⁵. The person whose evidence the proof of evidence contains is then to be subject to cross-examination on it to the same extent as if it were evidence he had given orally¹⁶.

The inspector may direct that facilities are to be afforded to any person appearing at an inquiry to take or obtain copies of documentary evidence open to public inspection¹⁷. He may require any person appearing or present at an inquiry who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave¹⁸ and may refuse to permit that person to return¹⁹ or permit him to return only on such conditions as he may specify²⁰. Any such person may, however, submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing²¹ before the close of the inquiry²².

The inspector may allow any person to alter or add to a statement of case received by the Secretary of State²³ (if the inquiry is held in England) or by the National Assembly for Wales²⁴ (if the inquiry is held in Wales) or by him, so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the inquiry; but he must, if necessary by adjourning the inquiry, give every other person entitled to appear who is appearing at the inquiry an adequate opportunity of considering any fresh matter or document²⁵.

The inspector may proceed with an inquiry in the absence of any person entitled to appear at it²⁶. He may take into account any written representation or evidence or any other document received by him from any person before an inquiry opens or during the inquiry provided that he discloses it at the inquiry²⁷.

The inspector may from time to time adjourn an inquiry and, if the date, time and place of the adjourned inquiry are announced at the inquiry before the adjournment, no further notice is to be required²⁸.

In respect of any inquiry that the Secretary of State or the Assembly expects to last for eight or more days, any person who appears at the inquiry and makes closing submissions must by the close of the inquiry provide the inspector with a copy of his closing submission in writing²⁹.

The inspector may make an unaccompanied inspection of the land³⁰ before or during an inquiry without giving notice of his intention to the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry³¹. During an inquiry or after its close, the inspector:

- 2752 (a) may inspect the land in the company of the applicant, the local planning authority and any statutory party; and 2753 (b) must make such an inspection if so requested by the applicant or the local planning authority before or during an inquiry³².

In all cases where the inspector intends to make an accompanied site inspection he must announce during the inquiry the date and time at which he proposes to make it³³; but he is not bound to defer such an inspection as is mentioned in heads (a) and (b) above where any person mentioned in those heads is not present at the time appointed³⁴.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/C. OTHER REFERRED APPLICATIONS AND APPEALS/684. Procedure after inquiry.

684. Procedure after inquiry.

After the close of a relevant local inquiry¹, the inspector² must make a report in writing³ to the Secretary of State⁴ (if the inquiry was held in England) or to the National Assembly for Wales⁵ (if the inquiry was held in Wales) which must include his conclusions and his recommendations or his reasons for not making any recommendations⁶. Where an assessor⁷ has been appointed, he may, after the close of the inquiry, make a report in writing to the inspector in respect of the matters on which he was appointed to advise⁸; and if he does so, the inspector must append it to his own report and must state in his own report how far he agrees or disagrees with the assessor's report and, where he disagrees with the assessor, his reasons for that disagreement⁹.

When making his or its decision the Secretary of State or the Assembly may disregard any written representations, evidence or any other document¹⁰ received after the close of the inquiry¹¹.

If, after the close of an inquiry, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2754 (1) differs from the inspector on any matter of fact¹² mentioned in, or appearing to him to be material to, a conclusion reached by the inspector; or
- 2755 (2) takes into consideration any new evidence¹³ or new matter of fact, not being a matter of government or Assembly policy, and is for that reason disposed to disagree with a recommendation made by the inspector, he or the Assembly may not come to a decision which is at variance with that recommendation without first notifying the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry¹⁴ who appeared at it of his or its disagreement and the reasons for it and affording them an opportunity of:

- 2756 (a) making written representations to him or to the Assembly; or
- 2757 (b) if the Secretary of State or the Assembly has taken into consideration any new evidence or new matter of fact, not being a matter of government or Assembly policy, of asking for the reopening of the inquiry¹⁵.

Those persons so making written representations or requesting the inquiry to be reopened must ensure that such representations or requests are received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly within three weeks of the date of his or its notification¹⁶.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may, as he or it thinks fit, cause an inquiry to be reopened¹⁷. He or the Assembly must do so if asked by the applicant¹⁸ or the local planning authority¹⁹ in the circumstances²⁰ and within the period²¹ mentioned above²². Where an inquiry is reopened, whether by the same or a different inspector, the Secretary of State or the Assembly must send to the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry who appeared at it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further evidence is invited²³.

12 The question of whether an area falls within the curtilage of a building is not a question solely of primary fact, but one which involves the application of planning judgment to findings of primary fact, and does not required to be notified under head (1) in the text: George Wimpey Ltd v First Secretary of State [2004] All ER (D) 139 (Sep). The question of whether a development would be detrimental to the character of the locality is a matter of opinion or judgment, but it does not necessarily follow that such a matter may not also be a matter of fact for these purposes: see Portsmouth Water plc v Secretary of State for the Environment (1993) 66 P & CR 410 (where it was held that the Secretary of State's difference of opinion was not a difference on a matter of fact); Coal Contractors Ltd v Secretary of State for the Environment (1995) 68 P & CR 285, [1995] JPL 421 (difference clearly one of opinion not difference as to fact) (both decided under previous rules).

684 Procedure after inquiry

TEXT AND NOTES 14, 15--After the words 'without first notifying' add 'in writing': SI 2000/1924 r 17(5) (amended by SI 2009/455).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(ii) Inquiries before Decisions by the Secretary of State or the Assembly/C. OTHER REFERRED APPLICATIONS AND APPEALS/685. Notification of Secretary of State's or Assembly's decision; procedure if that decision is later quashed.

685. Notification of Secretary of State's or Assembly's decision; procedure if that decision is later quashed.

The Secretary of State¹ or, in relation to Wales, the National Assembly for Wales² must, as soon as practicable, notify his or its decision on a relevant application or appeal³, and his or its reasons for it in writing⁴ to:

- 2758 (1) all persons entitled to appear at the inquiry⁵ who did appear; and
- 2759 (2) any other person who, having appeared at the inquiry, has asked to be notified of the decision⁶.

Where a copy of the inspector's report⁷ is not sent with the notification of the decision, the notification must be accompanied by a statement of his conclusion and of any recommendations made by him, and if a person entitled to be notified of the decision has not received a copy of that report, he must be supplied with a copy of it on written application⁸ to the Secretary of State or the Assembly⁹.

Where a decision of the Secretary of State or the Assembly on an application or appeal in respect of which a relevant inquiry¹⁰ has been held is quashed in proceedings before any court¹¹, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2760 (a) must send to the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry who appeared at it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further representations are invited for the purposes of his or the Assembly's further consideration of the application or appeal;
- 2761 (b) must afford to those persons the opportunity of making written representations to him or to the Assembly in respect of those matters or of asking for the reopening of the inquiry¹²; and
- 2762 (c) may, as he or the Assembly thinks fit, cause the inquiry to be reopened, whether by the same or a different inspector¹³.

1 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

2 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

3 I.e. an application or appeal before the determination of which an inquiry has been held to which the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624 (as amended), or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266 (as amended), apply: see PARA 677 ante.

4 Notification in writing of a decision and reasons is to be taken to have been given to a person for these purposes where (1) the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the person have agreed that decisions and reasons so required to be given in writing may instead be accessed by that person on a website; (2) the decision and reasons are a decision and reasons to which that agreement applies; (3) the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published the decision and reasons on a website; (4) the person is notified, in a manner for the time being agreed between him and the Secretary of State or the Assembly, of (a) the publication of the decision and reasons on a website; (b) the address of the website; (c) the place on the website where the decision and reasons may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 18(1A) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 18(1A) (added by SI 2004/3172).

5 As to the persons entitled to appear at or participate in the inquiry see PARA 680 note 3 ante.

6 Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 18(1); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 18(1).

7 For these purposes, 'report' includes any assessor's report appended to the inspector's report but does not include any other documents so appended; but any person who has received a copy of the report may apply to the Secretary of State or the Assembly in writing, within six weeks of the date of the Secretary of State's or Assembly's decision, for an opportunity of inspecting any such documents and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must afford him that opportunity: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 18(3); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 18(3). As to the extension of time limits see PARA 678 note 6 ante. For these purposes an opportunity is to be taken to have been afforded to a person where that person is notified of (1) publication of the relevant documents on a website; (2) the address of the website; (3) the place on the website where the documents may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 18(3A) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 18(3A) (added by SI 2004/3172). For the meanings of 'inspector' and 'assessor' see PARA 678 notes 10-11 ante.

8 Any person so applying must ensure that his application is received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly within four weeks of the Secretary of State's or Assembly's determination: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 18(4); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 18(4).

10 If an inquiry has been held to which the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624 (as amended), or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266 (as amended), apply: see PARA 677 ante.

11 As to challenging the validity of decisions see PARAS 43 et seq, 650 ante.

12 Those persons making representations or asking for the inquiry to be reopened under head (b) in the text must ensure that such representations or requests are received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly within three weeks of the date of the written statement sent under head (a) in the text: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 19(2); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 19(2).

13 Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 19(1); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 19(1). If he or the Assembly does so, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 10(3)-(8) (as amended) or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 10(3)-(8) (as amended) (see PARA 681 ante) applies as if the references to an inquiry were references to a reopened inquiry: Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 19(1); Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1266, r 19(1).

The power to reopen the inquiry under the Town and Country Planning (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1624, r 19 is discretionary and the Secretary of State is justified in not exercising it where he has all the relevant facts before him: see eg R (on the application of Hammerson UK Properties Ltd) v Secretary of State for Transport, Local Government and the Regions [2002] EWHC 270 (Admin), [2002] All ER (D) 138 (Feb).

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/A. IN GENERAL/686. Application of rules.

(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors

A. IN GENERAL

686. Application of rules.

Rules have been made¹ which apply in relation to any local inquiry held in England by an inspector² before he determines an appeal to the Secretary of State³:

- 2763 (1) in relation to an application for planning permission⁴ under the relevant provision of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990⁵;
- 2764 (2) in relation to an application for listed building consent⁶ or conservation area consent⁷ under specified provisions⁸ of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990⁹.

Those rules do not, however, apply to any local inquiry by reason of the application of any provision mentioned in heads (1) and (2) above by any other enactment¹⁰. Where an inquiry is held into an appeal arising from an application in respect of which the Mayor of London¹¹ has directed the local planning authority¹² to refuse the application, the relevant rules apply subject to modifications¹³.

Rules have also been made¹⁴ which apply in relation to any local inquiry held in Wales by an inspector¹⁵ before he determines an appeal to the National Assembly for Wales:

- 2765 (a) in relation to such an application as is referred to in heads (1) and (2) above;
- 2766 (b) in relation to an application made under specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 as they are applied to tree preservation orders¹⁶;
- 2767 (c) against the service of a tree preservation enforcement notice¹⁷ under specified provisions of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990¹⁸;

but those rules do not apply to any local inquiry by reason of the application of any provision mentioned in heads (a) to (c) above by any other enactment¹⁹.

before Appeals determined by Inspectors/A. IN GENERAL/687. Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications.

687. Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications.

Rules have been made¹ in relation to the pre-inquiry procedure for local inquiries² held in England or Wales by an inspector³ before he determines a relevant appeal⁴ to the Secretary of State⁵ or to the National Assembly for Wales⁶. Those rules set out the procedure with regard to:

- 2768 (1) preliminary information to be supplied by the local planning authority⁷;
- 2769 (2) notification of the name of the inspector⁸;
- 2770 (3) the procedure where a pre-inquiry meeting is to be held⁹;
- 2771 (4) service of statements of case etc¹⁰;
- 2772 (5) the inquiry timetable¹¹;
- 2773 (6) the appointment of an assessor¹².

Provision is also made for the service of documents¹³, for any purposes of the relevant rules which are capable of being carried out electronically, by the use of electronic communications¹⁴.

1 See PARA 686 ante.

2 In local inquiries to which the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625 (as amended), or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267 (as amended), apply: see PARA 686 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'inspector' for these purposes see PARA 686 notes 2, 15 ante.

4 In such an appeal as is described in PARA 686 ante.

5 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

6 See the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, rr 4-9 (as amended); the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, rr 4-9 (as amended); and the text and notes 7-12 infra. As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

7 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 4. The local planning authority must, on receipt of the relevant notice, forthwith inform the Secretary of State and the appellant in writing of the name and address of any statutory party who has made representations to the authority; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable thereafter, inform the appellant and the local planning authority in writing of the name and address of any statutory party who has made representations to him: r 4(1). Where (1) the Secretary of State has given to the local planning authority a direction restricting the grant of planning permission for which application was made; or (2) in a case relating to listed building consent, the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England (commonly known as 'English Heritage') has given a direction to the local planning authority pursuant to the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 14(2) (see PARA 1117 post) as to how the application is to be determined; or (3) the Secretary of State or any other Minister of the Crown or any government department, or any body falling within the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 11(1)(c) (see PARA 691 post), has expressed in writing to the local planning authority the view that the application should not be granted either wholly or in part, or should be granted only subject to conditions; or (4) any person consulted in pursuance of a development order has made representations to the local planning authority about the application, then the local planning authority must forthwith after the starting date inform the person concerned of the inquiry and, unless he has already done so, that person must thereupon give the local planning authority a written statement of the reasons for making the direction, expressing the view or making the representations, as the case may be: r 4(2), (3). The local planning authority must ensure that within two weeks of the starting date the Secretary of State and the appellant have received a completed questionnaire and a copy of each of the documents referred to in it and that any statutory party and other person who made representations to the local planning authority about the application occasioning the appeal have been notified that an appeal has been made and of the address to which and of the period within which they may make representations to the Secretary of State: r 4(4).

The Secretary of State may at any time in any particular case allow further time for the taking of any step which is required or enabled to be taken by virtue of the 2000 Rules, and references in those rules to a day by which, or a period within which, any step is required or enabled to be taken are to be construed accordingly: r 21.

An inspector may in place of the Secretary of State take such steps as the Secretary of State is required or enabled to take under or by virtue of r 21, and also by virtue of r 6(6)-(10), (14), (15) (see PARA 689 the text and notes 15-20, 28-31 post), r 10 (as amended) (see PARA 690 post), r 12(1), (2) (see PARA 691 post), and r 22 (see PARA 691 post); and where an inspector requires further information or copies pursuant to r 6(8) (see PARA 689 the text and note 18 post) or r 22, that information or copies must be sent to him: r 13. An inspector may similarly act in place of the Assembly: see the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 13.

For these purposes, 'relevant notice' means the Secretary of State's written notice informing the appellant and the local planning authority that an inquiry is to be held; 'statutory party' means: (a) a person mentioned in the Town and Country Planning (General Development Procedure) Order 1995, SI 1995/419, art 19(1)(b)(i) (see PARA 474 ante at head (2)(a) in the text) whose representations the inspector is required by art 19(3) to take into account in determining the appeal to which an inquiry relates (see PARA 474 ante); and such a person whose representations the local planning authority was required by art 19(1) to take into account in determining the application occasioning the appeal (see PARA 474 ante); and (b) a person whose representations the inspector is required by the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Regulations 1990, SI 1990/1519, reg 6(3)(b), (5) to take into account in determining the appeal to which an inquiry relates (see PARA 1114 post); and a person whose representations the local planning authority was required by reg 6(3)(b) to take into account in determining the application occasioning the appeal (see PARA 1114 post); and 'starting date' means the date of the Secretary of State's written notice to the applicant and the local planning authority that he has received all the documents required to enable him to entertain the application or appeal, or the date of the relevant notice, whichever is the later: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956). 'Questionnaire' means a document in the form supplied by the Secretary of State to local planning authorities for the purpose of proceedings under the 2000 Rules, and for this purpose a form is taken to be supplied where the Secretary of State has published it on a website and has notified the local planning authority, in a manner for the time being agreed between the Secretary of State and the authority for that purpose, of publication of the form on the website, the address of the website and the place on the website where the form may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 2(1) (as so renumbered and amended). For the meaning of 'local planning authority' see PARA 686 note 12 ante.

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 4. The local planning authority must, on receipt of the relevant notice, forthwith inform the Assembly and the appellant in writing of the name and address of any statutory party who has made representations to the local planning authority; and the Assembly must, as soon as practicable thereafter, inform the appellant and the local planning authority in writing of the name and address of any statutory party who has made representations to the Assembly: r 4(1). Where: (i) the Assembly has given to the local planning authority a direction restricting the grant of planning permission for which application was made; or (ii) the Assembly, any Minister of the Crown or government department, or any body falling within r 11(1)(c) (see PARA 695 post) has expressed in writing to the local planning authority the view that the application should not be granted either wholly or in part, or should be granted only subject to conditions; or (iii) any person consulted in pursuance of a development order has made representations to the local planning authority about the application, then the local planning authority must forthwith after the starting date inform the person concerned of the inquiry and, unless the person concerned has already done so, that person must thereupon give the local planning authority a written statement of the reasons for making the direction, expressing the view or making the representations, as the case may be: r 4(2), (3). The local planning authority must ensure that within two weeks of the starting date the Assembly and the appellant have received a completed questionnaire and a copy of each of the documents referred to in it and any statutory party, and other person who made representations to the local planning authority about the application occasioning the appeal, have been notified that an appeal has been made and of the address to which, and of the period within which, they may make representations to the Assembly: r 4(4). For the relevant definitions for these purposes see r 2(1) (renumbered and amended by SI 2004/3172).

The Assembly may at any time in any particular case allow further time for the taking of any step which is required or enabled to be taken by virtue of the 2003 Rules; and references in those rules to a day by which, or a period within which, any step is required or enabled to be taken are to be construed accordingly: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 21.

8 The Secretary of State or the Assembly must notify the name of the inspector to every person entitled to appear at the inquiry; but where the Secretary of State or the Assembly appoints another inspector instead of the person previously appointed and it is not practicable to notify the new appointment before the inquiry is held, the inspector holding the inquiry must, at its commencement, announce his name and the fact of his appointment: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 5(1), (2); Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 5(1), (2).

9 See PARA 688 post.

10 See PARA 689 post.

11 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 8. In respect of all inquiries that appear to the Secretary of State likely to last for eight days or more, the inspector must prepare a timetable for the proceedings: r 8(1). In respect of shorter inquiries, the inspector may at any time prepare a timetable for the proceedings at, or at part of, an inquiry: r 8(2). The inspector may, at any time, vary the timetable so arranged (r 8(3)) and may specify in a timetable so arranged a date by which any proof of evidence and summary sent in accordance with r 14(1) (see PARA 691 post) is to be received by him (r 8(4)).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 8(1)-(4), which refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State.

12 Where the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly appoints an assessor, he or the Assembly must notify every person entitled to appear at the inquiry of the name of the assessor and of the matters on which he is to advise the inspector: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 9; Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 9. 'Assessor' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to sit with an inspector at an inquiry or reopened inquiry to advise the inspector on such matters arising as the Secretary of State or, as the case may be, the Assembly may specify: see the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 7 supra); the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 7 supra).

13 'Document' includes a photograph, map or plan: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 7 supra); Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 7 supra).

14 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 2(2)-(8) (added by SI 2003/956). In the 2000 Rules, and in relation to the use of electronic communications for any purpose of those rules which is capable of being carried out electronically, the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purposes of such communications, except that where those rules impose an obligation on any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the obligation is not to be fulfilled unless the person on whom it is imposed provides a postal address (r 2(2)(a) (as so added)); and references to statements, notices, or other documents, or to copies of such documents, include references to such documents or copies of them in electronic form (r 2(2)(b) (as so added)). Rule 2(4)-(8) (as so added) applies where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement in those rules to give or send any statement, notice or other document to any other person ('the recipient'): r 2(3) (as so added). The requirement is to be taken to be fulfilled where the notice or other document transmitted by means of the electronic communication is (1) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (2) legible in all material respects; and (3) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference; and for these purposes 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the statement, notice or document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: r 2(4), (5) (as so added). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for this purpose 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: r 2(6) (as so added). A requirement in the 2000 Rules that any document should be in writing is fulfilled where that document meets the criteria in r 2(4) (as so added) (see heads (1)-(3) supra), and 'written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: r 2(7) (as so added). A requirement in those rules to send more than one copy of a statement or other document may be complied with by sending one copy only of the statement or other document in question: r 2(8) (as so added).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 2(2)-(8) (added by SI 2004/3172).

For these purposes, 'electronic communication' has the meaning given in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616): Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 7 supra); Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 7 supra).

Notices or documents required or authorised to be sent or supplied under the 2000 or, as the case may be, the 2003 Rules may be sent or supplied by post or by using electronic communications to send or supply the notice or document (as the case may be) to a person at such address as may for the time being be specified by the person for that purpose: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 23 (substituted by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 23 (substituted by SI 2004/3172).

Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for any purpose of the 2000 or 2003 Rules which is capable of being effected electronically, he must give notice in writing: (a) withdrawing any address notified to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or to a local planning authority for that purpose; or (b) revoking any agreement entered into with the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or with a local planning authority for that purpose; and such withdrawal or revocation is to be final and to take effect on a date specified by the person in the notice but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 23A (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 23A (added by SI 2004/3172).

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/A. IN GENERAL/688. Statement of matters and pre-inquiry meetings.

688. Statement of matters and pre-inquiry meetings.

An inspector¹ may, within 12 weeks of the starting date², send to the appellant, the local planning authority³ and any statutory party⁴ a written statement of the matters about which he particularly wishes to be informed for the purposes of his consideration of the appeal⁵ in question⁶.

An inspector must hold a pre-inquiry meeting⁷:

- 2774 (1) if he expects an inquiry⁸ to last for eight days or more, unless he considers it is unnecessary; or
- 2775 (2) in respect of shorter inquiries, if it appears to him necessary⁹.

He must give not less than two weeks' written notice¹⁰ of a pre-inquiry meeting to:

- 2776 (a) the appellant;
- 2777 (b) the local planning authority;
- 2778 (c) any statutory party;
- 2779 (d) any other person known to be entitled to appear at or participate in the inquiry¹¹; and
- 2780 (e) any other person whose presence at the meeting appears to him to be desirable¹².

The inspector must preside at the pre-inquiry meeting¹³ and must determine the matters to be discussed and the procedure to be followed¹⁴. He may require any person present at the pre-inquiry meeting who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave and may refuse to permit that person to return or to attend any further pre-inquiry meeting, or may permit him to return or attend only on such conditions as he may specify¹⁵.

If the inspector requests any further information from the appellant or the local planning authority at the pre-inquiry meeting, they must ensure that two copies of it¹⁶ have been received by him and a copy has been received by any statutory party within four weeks of the conclusion of the pre-inquiry meeting¹⁷. The inspector must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information received from the local planning authority to the appellant and a copy of the further information received from the appellant to the local planning authority¹⁸.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/A. IN GENERAL/689. Statements of case.

689. Statements of case.

The local planning authority¹ must ensure that, within six weeks of the starting date², two copies³ of its statement of case⁴ have been received by the Secretary of State⁵, if the relevant local inquiry⁶ is held in England, or by the National Assembly for Wales⁷, if the inquiry⁸ is held in Wales⁹. The authority must also ensure that a copy of its statement of case has been received by any statutory party¹⁰.

The appellant must ensure that, within six weeks of the starting date, two copies of his statement of case have been received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and a copy has been received by any statutory party¹¹. The Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the local planning authority's statement of case to the appellant and a copy of the appellant's statement of case to the local planning authority¹².

The appellant and the local planning authority may in writing¹³ each require the other to send them a copy of any document, or of the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list of documents comprised in their statement of case; and any such document, or relevant part, must be sent, as soon as practicable, to the party who required it¹⁴.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing require any other person who has notified him or it of an intention or a wish to appear at an inquiry to send:

- 2781 (1) three copies of that person's statement of case to him or to the Assembly within four weeks of being so required; and
- 2782 (2) a copy of that statement of case to any statutory party;

and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of each such statement of case to the local planning authority and the appellant¹⁵. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must also, as soon as practicable, send to any person from whom he requires a statement of case in accordance with heads (1) and (2) above a copy of the statements of case of the appellant and the local planning authority and must inform that person of the name and address of every person to whom his statement of case is required to be sent¹⁶.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing require any person who has sent a statement of case in accordance with the relevant rules¹⁷ to provide such further information about the matters contained in the statement of case as he or it may specify and may specify the time within which the information is to be received¹⁸. A local planning authority or appellant required to provide further information must ensure that:

- 2783 (a) two copies of that information in writing have been received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly within the specified time; and
- 2784 (b) a copy has been received by any statutory party within the specified time;

and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information received from the local planning authority to the appellant and a copy of the further information received from the appellant to the local planning authority¹⁹. Any other person required to provide further information must ensure that:

- 2785 (i) three copies of that information in writing have been received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly within the specified time; and
- 2786 (ii) a copy has been received by any statutory party within the specified time;

and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information to the local planning authority and the appellant²⁰.

Any person other than the appellant who sends a statement of case to the Secretary of State or the Assembly must send with it a copy of any document, or the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list comprised in that statement, unless a copy of the document or part of the document in question is already available²¹ for inspection²². The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send to the inspector²³ any statement of case, document, further information and written comments sent to him or to it in accordance with the above provisions and received by him or by it within the relevant period, if any, specified therein²⁴.

The local planning authority must afford to any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity²⁵ to inspect and, where practicable, take copies of:

- 2787 (A) any statement of case, written comments, information or other document a copy of which has been sent to the local planning authority in accordance with the above provisions; and
- 2788 (B) the local planning authority's completed questionnaire²⁶ and statement of case together with a copy of any document, or of the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list comprised in that statement, and any written comments, information or other documents sent by the local planning authority pursuant to those provisions²⁷.

If the local planning authority or the appellant wish to comment on another person's statement of case they must ensure that within nine weeks of the starting date two copies of their written comments have been received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and that a copy of their written comments has been received by any statutory party²⁸. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the written comments received from the local planning authority to the appellant and copy of the written comments received from the appellant to the local planning authority²⁹. Any person who sends a statement of case to the Secretary of State or the Assembly under the above provisions and who wishes to comment on another person's statement of case must ensure that within nine weeks of the starting date three copies of his written comments have been received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly and that a copy of his written comments has been received by any statutory party³⁰. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the written comments to the local planning authority and the appellant³¹.

1 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' for these purposes see PARA 686 note 12 ante.

2 As to the extension of time limits, and for the meaning of 'starting date' see PARA 687 note 7 ante.

3 Where electronic communications are used, only one copy need be sent: see PARA 687 note 14 ante.

4 'Statement of case' means, and is comprised of, a written statement which contains full particulars of the case which a person proposes to put forward at an inquiry and a list of any documents which that person intends to refer to or put in evidence: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172). For the meaning of 'document' see PARA 687 note 13 ante. The local planning authority must (1) include in its statement of case (a) details of the time and place where the opportunity to inspect and take copies described in the text to notes 25-27 infra is to be afforded (including, in any case in which the local planning authority relies on the provision set out in note 25 infra, the details mentioned in that provision); and (b) where the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 4(2) or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 4(2) applies (see PARA 687 note 7 ante), the terms of any direction given together with a statement of the reasons therefor and any view expressed or representation made on which it intends to rely in its submissions at the inquiry; and (2) where the rule referred to in head (1)(b) supra applies, within the period mentioned in the text to note 2 supra, send a copy of its statement of case to the person concerned: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 6(2) (amended by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 6(2) (amended by SI 2004/3172).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/A. IN GENERAL/690. Date and notification of inquiry.

690. Date and notification of inquiry.

The date fixed by the Secretary of State¹ for the holding of a relevant local inquiry² in England, or by the National Assembly for Wales³ for the holding of such an inquiry⁴ in Wales, must be:

- 2789 (1) not later than 20 weeks⁵ after the starting date⁶ unless he or the Assembly considers such a date impracticable; or 2790 (2) the earliest date after that period which he or it considers to be practicable⁷.

Unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly agrees a lesser period of notice with the appellant and the local planning authority⁸, he or the Assembly must give not less than four weeks' written notice⁹ of the date, time and place fixed by him for the holding of an inquiry to every person entitled to appear at, or participate in¹⁰, the inquiry¹¹.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may vary the date fixed for the holding of an inquiry, whether or not the date as varied is within the period of 20 weeks mentioned above¹². He or it may also may vary the time or place for the holding of an inquiry and must give such notice of any such variation as appears to him or to it to be reasonable¹³.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing require the local planning authority to take one or more of the following steps:

- 2791 (a) not less than two weeks before the date fixed for the holding of an inquiry, to publish a notice of the inquiry in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land¹⁴ is situated;
- 2792 (b) to send a notice of the inquiry to such persons or classes of persons as he or the Assembly may specify, within such period as he or it may specify; or
- 2793 (c) to post a notice of the inquiry in a conspicuous place near to the land, within such period as he or it may specify¹⁵.

Where the land is under the control of the appellant he must;

- 2794 (i) if so required in writing¹⁶ by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, affix a notice of the inquiry firmly to the land or to some object on or near the land, in such manner as to be readily visible to and legible by members of the public; and
- 2795 (ii) not remove the notice, or cause or permit it to be removed, for such period before the inquiry as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify¹⁷.

Every notice of inquiry so published, sent or posted¹⁸ or so affixed¹⁹ must contain:

- 2796 (A) a clear statement of the date, time and place of the inquiry and of the powers enabling the inspector²⁰ to determine the appeal in question;
- 2797 (B) a written description of the land sufficient to identify approximately its location;
- 2798 (C) a brief description of the subject matter of the appeal; and
- 2799 (D) details of where and when copies of the local planning authority's completed questionnaire²¹ and any documents²² sent by and copied to the authority²³ may be inspected²⁴.

691. Appearances at the inquiry; evidence.

Rules have been made¹ in relation to appearances at or participation in, and evidence in relation to, relevant local inquiries². Those rules make provision with regard to:

- 2800 (1) the persons entitled to appear at or participate in such an inquiry³;
- 2801 (2) the availability of representatives of government departments and other authorities at the inquiry⁴;
- 2802 (3) proofs of evidence⁵;
- 2803 (4) preparation of a statement of common ground⁶;
- 2804 (5) the provision of additional copies of documents and information⁷.

² See the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, rr 11, 12, 14, 15, 22 (as amended); the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, rr 11, 12, 14, 15, 22 (as amended); and the text and notes 3-7 infra. The inquiries referred to in the text are inquiries to which the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625 (as amended), or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267 (as amended), apply: see PARA 686 ante.

³ The persons entitled to appear at an inquiry held in England are (1) the appellant; (2) the local planning authority; (3) any of the following bodies if the land is situated in their area and they are not the local planning authority: (a) a county or district council; (b) an enterprise zone authority designated under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 32 (as amended) (see PARA 1491 et seq post); (c) the Broads Authority, within the meaning of the Norfolk and Suffolk Broads Act 1988; (d) a housing action trust specified in an order made under the Housing Act 1988 s 67(1) (as amended) (see HOUSING vol 22 (2006 Reissue) PARA 332); (4) where the land is in an area previously designated as a new town, the Commission for the New Towns; (5) any statutory party; (6) the council of the parish in which the land is situated, if that council made representations to the local planning authority in respect of the application in pursuance of a provision of a development order; (7) where the application was required to be notified to the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission for England (commonly known as 'English Heritage') under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 14 (as amended) (see PARA 1117 post), the Commission; (8) any other person who has sent a statement of case in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 6(6) (see PARA 689 ante): r 11(1). Nothing in r 11(1) prevents the inspector from permitting any other person to appear at an inquiry, and such permission must not be unreasonably withheld: r 11(2).

The persons entitled to take part in an inquiry held in Wales are: (i) the appellant; (ii) the local planning authority; (iii) any of the following bodies if the land is situated in their area and the body is not the local planning authority: (A) a county or county borough council; (B) an enterprise zone authority designated under the Local Government, Planning and Land Act 1980 Sch 32 (as amended); (C) a housing action trust specified in an order made under the Housing Act 1988 s 67(1) (as amended); (iv) where the land is in an area previously designated as a new town, the Commission for the New Towns; (v) any statutory party; (vi) the council of the community in which the land is situated, if that council made representations to the local planning authority in respect of the application in pursuance of a provision of a development order; (vi) any other person who has sent a statement of case in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 6(6) (see PARA 689 ante): r 11(1). Nothing in r 11(1) precludes the inspector from permitting any other person to take part in an inquiry; and such permission is not to be unreasonably withheld: r 11(2).

Any person entitled or permitted to appear or take part may do so on his own behalf or be represented by any other person: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 11(3); Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 11(3).

For the meanings of 'local planning authority', 'applicant' and 'statutory party' for these purposes see PARA 687 note 7 ante; for the meaning of 'the land' see PARA 690 note 14 ante; and for the meaning of 'inspector' see PARA 686 notes 2, 15 ante. As to the Broads Authority see WATER AND WATERWAYS vol 101 (2009) PARA 734; as to the Commission for the New Towns see PARA 1383 et seq post; and as to English Heritage see PARA 1058 post.

4 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 12. Where (1) the Secretary of State or the Commission has given a direction described in r 4(2)(a) or (b) (see PARA 687 note 7 ante); or (2) the Secretary of State or any other Minister of the Crown or any government department, or any body falling within r 11(1)(c) (see note 3 head (3) supra), has expressed a view described in r 4(2)(c) (see PARA 687 note 7 ante) and the local planning authority has included its terms in a statement served in accordance with r 6(1) (see PARA 689 ante), the appellant, the local planning authority or a person entitled to appear may, not later than four weeks before the date of an inquiry, apply in writing to the Secretary of State for a representative of the Secretary of State or of the other minister, department or body concerned to be made available at the inquiry: r 12(1). Where an application is so made, the Secretary of State must make a representative available to attend the inquiry or, as the case may be, send the application to the other minister, department or body concerned, who must make a representative available to attend the inquiry: 12(2). The inspector may act in place of the Secretary of State under r 12(1), (2): see PARA 687 note 7 ante. As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

Any person attending an inquiry as a representative in pursuance of r 12 must state the reasons for the direction or expressed view and is to give evidence and be subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness (r 12(3)); but nothing in r 12(3) requires a representative of a minister or a government department to answer any question which in the opinion of the inspector is directed to the merits of government policy (r 12(4)).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 12. Where the Assembly has given a direction described in r 4(2)(a) (see PARA 687 note 7 ante); or (b) the Assembly, any Minister of the Crown or government department, or any body falling within r 11(1)(c) (see note 3 head (iii) supra) has expressed a view described in r 4(2)(b) (see PARA 687 note 7 ante) and the local planning authority has included its terms in a statement served in accordance with r 6(1) (see PARA 689 ante), the appellant, the local planning authority or a person entitled to take part in an inquiry may, not later than four weeks before the date of an inquiry, apply in writing to the Assembly for a representative of the Assembly or of the minister, department or body concerned to be made available at the inquiry: r 12(1). Where an application is made in accordance with r 12(1), the Assembly must make a representative available to attend the inquiry or, as the case may be, send the application to the minister, department or body concerned, who must make a representative available to attend the inquiry: r 12(2). The inspector may act in place of the Assembly under r 12(1), (2): see PARA 687 note 7 ante. As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

Any person attending an inquiry as a representative in pursuance of r 12 must state the reasons for the direction or expressed view and give evidence and is to be subject to cross-examination to the same extent as any other witness (r 12(3)); but nothing in r 12(3) requires a representative of the Assembly to answer any question which, in the opinion of the inspector, is directed to the merits of Assembly policy or requires a representative of a minister or government department to answer any question which, in the opinion of the inspector, is directed to the merits of government policy (r 12(4)).

5 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 14 (as amended). Any person entitled to appear at an inquiry who proposes to give, or to call another person to give, evidence at the inquiry by reading a proof of evidence must simultaneously send two copies of the proof of evidence, in the case of the local planning authority and the appellant, and three copies in the case of any other person, to the Secretary of State together with any written summary, and one copy of these to any statutory party; and the Secretary of State must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of each proof of evidence together with any summary to the local planning authority and the appellant: r 14(1). No written summary is, however, to be required where the proof of evidence proposed to be read contains no more than 1,500 words: r 14(2). The proof of evidence and any summary must be received by the Secretary of State no later than (1) four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry; or (2) where a timetable has been arranged pursuant to r 8 (see PARA 687 note 11 ante), which specifies a date by which the proof of evidence and any summary are to be received by the Secretary of State, that date: r 14(3). As to the extension of time limits see PARA 687 note 7 ante; and as to the use of electronic communications see PARA 686 note 14 ante.

The Secretary of State must send to the inspector, as soon as practicable after receipt, any proof of evidence together with any summary sent to him in accordance with r 14 (as amended) and received by him within the relevant period, if any, specified therein: r 14(4). Where a written summary is provided in accordance with r 14(1), only that summary is to be read at the inquiry, unless the inspector permits or requires otherwise: r 14(5). Any person required by r 14 (as amended) to send copies of a proof of evidence to the inspector must send with them the same number of copies of the whole, or the relevant part, of any document referred to in the proof of evidence, unless a copy of the document or part of the document in question is already available for inspection pursuant to r 6(13) (see PARA 689 ante): r 14(7). The local planning authority must afford to any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity to inspect and, where practicable, take copies of any document sent to or by the authority in accordance with r 14 (as amended): r 14(7). For these purposes an opportunity is to be taken to have been afforded to a person where the person is notified, in a manner for the time being agreed between him and the local planning authority for that purpose, of: (a) publication of the relevant document on a website; (b) the address of the website; (c) the place on the website where the document may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: r 14(8) (added by SI 2003/956).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 14(1)-(8) (amended by SI 2004/3172), which refers to written statements of evidence rather than to proofs of evidence and to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State.

6 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 15 (as amended). The local planning authority and the appellant must (1) together prepare an agreed statement of common ground; and (2) ensure that the Secretary of State and any statutory party receives a copy of it, not less than four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry: r 15(1). 'Statement of common ground' means a written statement prepared jointly by the local planning authority and the appellant and which contains agreed factual information about the proposal which is the subject of the appeal: r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956). The local planning authority must afford to any person, who so requests, a reasonable opportunity to inspect and, where practicable, take copies of the statement of common ground sent to the Secretary of State: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 15(2). For these purposes, an opportunity is to be taken to have been afforded to a person where the person is notified, in a manner for the time being agreed between him and the local planning authority for that purpose, of: (a) publication of the statement of common ground on a website; (b) the address of the website; (c) the place on the website where the document may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: r 15(3) (added by SI 2003/956).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 15(1)-(3) (amended by SI 2004/3172), which refers to the Assembly rather than to the Secretary of State. For the relevant definition see the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172).

7 The Secretary of State may at any time before the close of an inquiry held in England request from any person entitled to appear additional copies of the following: (1) a statement of case sent in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 6 (as amended) (see PARA 689 ante); (2) a proof of evidence sent in accordance with r 14 (as amended) (see note 5 supra); or (3) any other document or information sent to the Secretary of State before or during an inquiry, and may specify the time within which such copies should be received by him: r 22(1). Any person so requested must ensure that the copies are received by the Secretary of State within the period specified: r 22(1). The inspector may act in place of the Secretary of State under r 22: see PARA 687 note 7 ante.

Similarly, the Assembly may at any time before the close of an inquiry held in Wales request from any person entitled to take part additional copies of the following: (a) a statement of case sent in accordance with the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 6 (as amended) (see PARA 689 ante); (b) a statement of evidence sent in accordance with r 14 (as amended) (see note 5 supra); or (c) any other document or information sent to the Assembly before or during an inquiry, and may specify the time within which such copies should be received by it: r 22(1). Any person so requested must ensure that the copies are received by the Assembly within the period specified: r 22(2). The inspector may act in place of the Assembly under r 22 (as amended): see PARA 687 note 7 ante. Any obligation imposed by the 2003 Rules to send more than one copy of a statement or other document may, where sending is effected using electronic communications, be complied with by sending one copy only of the statement or (as the case may be) document in question: r 22(3) (added by SI 2004/3172).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/A. IN GENERAL/692. Procedure at the inquiry; site inspections.

692. Procedure at the inquiry; site inspections.

Except as otherwise provided in the relevant rules¹, the inspector² must determine the procedure at an inquiry³. At the start of the inquiry the inspector must identify what are, in his opinion, the main issues to be considered at the inquiry and any matters on which he requires further explanation from the persons entitled or permitted to appear⁴ or to take part⁵; but nothing in this requirement precludes any person so entitled or permitted from referring to issues which they consider relevant to the consideration of the appeal but which were not issues so identified by the inspector⁶.

Unless in any particular case the inspector otherwise determines, the local planning authority⁷ is to begin and the appellant is to have the right of final reply; and the other persons entitled or permitted to appear or to take part are to be heard in such order as the inspector may determine⁸. A person entitled to appear at an inquiry is to be entitled to call evidence and the appellant, the local planning authority and any statutory party⁹ are to be entitled to cross-examine persons giving evidence, but, subject to that and to the exceptions set out below¹⁰, the calling of evidence and the cross-examination of persons giving evidence is otherwise to be at the discretion of the inspector¹¹.

The inspector may refuse to permit the:

- 2805 (1) giving or production of evidence;
- 2806 (2) cross-examination of persons giving evidence; or
- 2807 (3) presentation of any other matter,

which he considers to be irrelevant or repetitious; but where he refuses to permit the giving of oral evidence, the person wishing to give the evidence may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing¹² before the close of the inquiry¹³.

Where a person gives evidence at an inquiry by reading a summary of his proof of evidence¹⁴:

- 2808 (a) the proof of evidence¹⁵ is to be treated as tendered in evidence, unless the person required to provide the summary notifies the inspector that he now wishes to rely on the contents of the summary alone; and
- 2809 (b) the person whose evidence the proof of evidence contains is then to be subject to cross-examination on it to the same extent as if it were evidence he had given orally¹⁶.

The inspector may direct that facilities are to be afforded to any person appearing at an inquiry to take or obtain copies of documentary evidence open to public inspection¹⁷. He may require any person appearing or present at an inquiry who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave and may refuse to permit that person to return, or permit him to return only on such conditions as he may specify; but any such person may submit to him any evidence or other matter in writing before the close of the inquiry¹⁸. The inspector may proceed with an inquiry in the absence of any person entitled to appear at it¹⁹.

The inspector may allow any person to alter or add to a statement of case received²⁰ by the Secretary of State²¹ (or by the National Assembly for Wales)²² or by him, so far as may be necessary for the purposes of the inquiry; but he must, if necessary by adjourning the inquiry, give every other person entitled to appear who is appearing at the inquiry an adequate opportunity of considering any fresh matter or document²³. The inspector may take into account any written representation or evidence or any other document received by him from any person before an inquiry opens or during the inquiry provided that he discloses it at the inquiry²⁴.

The inspector may from time to time adjourn an inquiry and, if the date, time and place of the adjourned inquiry are announced before the adjournment, no further notice is to be required²⁵.

In respect of any inquiry that the Secretary of State or the Assembly expects to last for eight or more days, any person who appears at the inquiry and makes closing submissions must by the close of the inquiry provide the inspector with a copy of their closing submissions in writing²⁶.

The inspector may make an unaccompanied inspection of the land²⁷ before or during an inquiry without giving notice of his intention to the persons entitled to appear at the inquiry²⁸. During an inquiry or after its close, the inspector may:

- 2810 (i) inspect the land in the company of the appellant, the local planning authority and any statutory party; and
- 2811 (ii) must make such an inspection if so requested by the appellant or the local planning authority before or during an inquiry²⁹.

In all cases where the inspector intends to make an accompanied inspection he must announce during the inquiry the date and time at which he proposes to make it³⁰; but he is not bound to defer an inspection of the kind referred to in heads (i) and (ii) above where any person mentioned in those heads is not present at the time appointed³¹.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/A. IN GENERAL/693. Procedure after inquiry.

693. Procedure after inquiry.

Where an assessor¹ has been appointed, he may after the close of the inquiry² make a report in writing³ to the inspector⁴ in respect of the matters on which he was appointed to advise, and where he does so the inspector must state in his notification of his decision⁵ that such a report was made⁶.

When making his decision the inspector may disregard any written representations or evidence or any other document⁷ received after the close of the inquiry⁸.

If, after the close of an inquiry, an inspector proposes to take into consideration any new evidence or any new matter of fact (not being a matter of government policy or National Assembly for Wales⁹ policy) which was not raised at the inquiry and which he considers to be material to his decision, he must not come to a decision without first:

- 2812 (1) notifying the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry¹⁰ who appeared at it or took part in it of the matter in question; and
- 2813 (2) affording them an opportunity of making written representations to him or of asking for the reopening of the inquiry; and they must ensure that such written representations or request to reopen the inquiry are received by the Secretary of State¹¹ or the Assembly within three weeks¹² of the date of the notification¹³.

An inspector may, as he thinks fit, cause an inquiry to be reopened, and he must do so if asked by the appellant or the local planning authority¹⁴ in the circumstances and within the period mentioned¹⁵ above¹⁶. Where an inquiry is reopened, the inspector must send to the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry who appeared at or took part in it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further evidence is invited¹⁷.

693 Procedure after inquiry

TEXT AND NOTES 9-13--In head (1), after the word 'notifying' add 'in writing': SI 2000/1925 r 18(3) (amended by SI 2009/455).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/A. IN GENERAL/694. Notification of decision; procedure if decision is subsequently quashed.

694. Notification of decision; procedure if decision is subsequently quashed.

The inspector¹ must, as soon as practicable, notify his decision on a relevant appeal², and his reasons for it, in writing³ to:

- 2814 (1) all persons entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry⁴ who did appear or take part; and
- 2815 (2) any other person who, having appeared at or taken part in the inquiry, has asked to be notified of the decision⁵.

Any person so entitled to be notified of the inspector's decision may apply to the Secretary of State⁶ or to the National Assembly for Wales⁷ in writing⁸ for an opportunity to inspect any documents⁹ listed in the notification and any report made by an assessor¹⁰ and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must afford him that opportunity¹¹. Any application so made must be received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly within six weeks of the date of the decision¹².

Where a decision of an inspector on an appeal in respect of which an inquiry¹³ has been held is quashed in proceedings before any court¹⁴, the Secretary of State or the Assembly:

- 2816 (a) must send to the persons entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry who appeared at or took part in it a written statement of the matters with respect to which further representations are invited for the purposes of his or its further consideration of the appeal; and
- 2817 (b) must afford to those persons the opportunity of making written representations to him or to the Assembly in respect of those matters or of asking for the reopening of the inquiry¹⁵; and
- 2818 (c) may, as he or the Assembly thinks fit, cause the inquiry to be reopened, whether by the same or a different inspector¹⁶.

1 For the meaning of 'inspector' see PARA 686 notes 2, 15 ante.

2 Ie such an appeal as is described in PARA 686 ante.

3 Notification in writing of a decision and reasons is to be taken to have been given to a person for these purposes where (1) the Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales and the person have agreed that decisions and reasons so required to be given in writing may instead be accessed by that person via a website; (2) the decision and reasons are a decision and reasons to which that agreement applies; (3) the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published the decision and reasons on a website; (4) the person is notified, in a manner for the time being agreed between him and the Secretary of State or the Assembly, of (a) the publication of the decision and reasons on a website; (b) the address of the website; (c) the place on the website where the decision and reasons may be accessed, and how they may be accessed: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 19(1A) (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 19(1A) (added by SI 2004/3172).

4 As to such persons see PARA 691 ante.

As to the duty to give reasons see eg Secretary of State for the Environment v MJT Securities Ltd (1997) 75 P & CR 188, CA (decided under previous rules).

6 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

7 As to the Assembly see PARA 20 ante.

8 As to the use of electronic communications see PARA 687 note 14 ante.

9 For the meaning of 'document' see PARA 687 note 13 ante.

10 For the meaning of 'assessor' see PARA 687 note 11 ante.

As to the extension of time limits see PARA 687 note 7 ante.

13 Is an inquiry to which the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625 (as amended), or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267 (as amended), apply: see PARA 686 ante.

14 As to challenging the validity of a decision see PARAS 43 et seq, 650 ante.

15 Those persons making representations or asking for the inquiry to be reopened under head (b) in the text must ensure that such representations or requests are received by the Secretary of State or the Assembly within three weeks of the date of the written statement sent under head (a) in the text: Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2000, SI 2000/1625, r 20(2); Town and Country Planning Appeals (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1267, r 20(2).

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/695. Application of rules.

B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS

695. Application of rules.

Rules have been made¹ which apply in relation to any local inquiry held in England by an inspector² before he determines an appeal made on or after 23 December 2002:

- 2819 (1) under the relevant provision of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990³ against an enforcement notice⁴;
- 2820 (2) under the relevant provision of that Act⁵ against the refusal or non-determination of an application for a certificate of lawful use or development⁶;
- 2821 (3) under the relevant provisions of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990⁷ against a listed building enforcement notice⁸ or a conservation area enforcement notice⁹.

Those rules do not, however, apply to any local inquiry by reason of the application of any provision mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above by or under any other enactment¹⁰.

Rules have also been made¹¹ which apply in relation to any local inquiry held in Wales by an inspector¹² before the inspector determines an appeal under the provisions mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above made on or after 1 June 2003¹³. Again, those rules do not apply to any local inquiry by reason of the application of any provision mentioned in those heads by or under any other enactment¹⁴.

1 See the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685 (as amended); and PARA 696 et seq post.

2 For these purposes, 'inspector' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 Sch 6 (paras 1-8) (as amended) (see PARA 621 et seq ante) or, as the case may be, the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 Sch 3 (paras 1-8 (as amended) (see PARA 1199 et seq post) to determine an appeal: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956). As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante.

UPDATE

695-696 Application of rules, Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/696. Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications.

696. Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications.

Rules have been made¹ in relation to the pre-inquiry procedure for local inquiries² held in England or Wales by an inspector³ before he determines a relevant enforcement or other appeal⁴. Those rules set out the procedure with regard to:

- 2822 (1) preliminary information to be supplied by the local planning authority⁵;
- 2823 (2) notification of the name of the inspector⁶;
- 2824 (3) the procedure where a pre-inquiry meeting is to be held⁷;
- 2825 (4) service of statements of case etc⁸;
- 2826 (5) the inquiry timetable⁹;
- 2827 (6) the appointment of an assessor¹⁰.

Provision is also made for the service of documents¹¹, for any purposes of the relevant rules which are capable of being carried out electronically, by the use of electronic communications¹².

1 See PARA 695 ante.

2 I.e. a local inquiry to which the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685 (as amended), or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270 (as amended), apply: see PARA 695 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'inspector' see PARA 695 notes 2, 12 ante.

4 See the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, rr 4-8, 10, 22 (as amended); the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, rr 4-8, 10, 22 (as amended); and the text and notes 5-10 infra. The appeal referred to in the text is such an appeal as is described in PARA 695 ante.

5 The Secretary of State or the National Assembly for Wales must, as soon as practicable after it is determined to hold an inquiry under the relevant rules, inform the appellant and the local planning authority in writing that an inquiry is to be held; and the local planning authority must within two weeks of the starting date: (1) send to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly, and to the appellant, a completed questionnaire and a copy of each of the documents referred to in it; (2) in the case of an enforcement appeal, notify any (a) person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served; (b) occupier of property in the locality in which the land to which the enforcement notice relates is situated; and (c) other person who in the opinion of the local planning authority is affected by the breach of planning control or contravention of listed building or conservation area control which is alleged in the enforcement notice, that an appeal has been made and of the address to which and of the period within which they may make representations to the Secretary of State or the Assembly: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 4(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 4(1), (2). As to the Secretary of State and the Assembly see PARAS 19-20 ante.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may at any time in any particular case allow further time for the taking of any step which is required or enabled to be taken by virtue of the relevant 2002 or 2003 Rules, and references in those rules to a day by which, or period within which, any step is required or enabled to be taken are to be construed accordingly: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 22; Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 22. An inspector may in place of the Secretary of State or the Assembly take such steps as he or it is required or enabled to take under or by virtue of r 22 of the relevant rules and also under or by virtue of r 6(6)-(10), (14), (15) (see PARA 698 post), r 9 (see PARA 699 post), and r 23 (see PARA 700 post) of those rules; and where an inspector requires further information or copies pursuant to r 6(8) or r 23 of those rules, that information or copies must be sent to him: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 14; Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 14.

For these purposes, 'local planning authority' means in relation to (i) an enforcement appeal, the body which issued the relevant enforcement notice; (ii) an appeal against the refusal or non-determination of an application for a certificate of lawful use or development, the body to which the application was made; 'enforcement appeal' means an appeal against an enforcement notice; 'enforcement notice' means a notice under the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 s 172 (as substituted) (see PARA 561 ante) or under the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 s 38 (as amended) (see PARA 1146 post); and 'land' means the land or building to which an inquiry relates: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172). 'Starting date' means the date of the (A) Secretary of State's or Assembly's written notice to the appellant and the local planning authority that he has received all the documents required to enable him to entertain the appeal pursuant to the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (England) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2682, reg 10 or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement Notices and Appeals) (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/394, reg 9 (see PARA 607 ante); or (B) relevant notice, whichever is the later; 'relevant notice' means the Secretary of State's or Assembly's written notice under the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 4(1) or, as the case may be, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 4(1) informing the appellant and the local planning authority that an inquiry is to be held; and 'questionnaire' means a document in the form supplied by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to local planning authorities for the purpose of proceedings under the relevant 2002 or 2003 Rules, and for this purpose a form is taken to be supplied where the Secretary of State or the Assembly has published it on a website and has notified the local planning authority, in a manner for the time being agreed between the Secretary of State or the Assembly and the authority for that purpose, of publication of the form on the website, of the address of the website, and of the place on the website where the form may be accessed, and how it may be accessed: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 2(1) (as so renumbered and amended); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 2(1) (as so renumbered and amended).

6 The Secretary of State or the Assembly must notify the name of the inspector to every person entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry; but where he or it appoints another inspector instead of the person previously appointed and it is not practicable to notify the new appointment before the inquiry is held, the inspector holding the inquiry must, at its commencement, announce his name and the fact of his appointment: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 5(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 5(1), (2).

7 See PARA 697 post.

8 See PARA 698 post.

9 In respect of inquiries that appear to the Secretary of State or the Assembly likely to last for four days or more, the inspector must prepare a timetable for the proceedings; and in respect of shorter inquiries, the inspector may at any time prepare a timetable for the proceedings at, or at part of, an inquiry: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 8(1), (2); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 8(1), (2). The inspector may, at any time, vary the timetable so prepared; and he may specify in a timetable so prepared a date by which any proof of evidence and summary sent in accordance with r 15(1) of the relevant 2002 or 2003 Rules (see PARA 700 post) must be sent to him: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 8(3), (4); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 8(3), (4).

10 Where the Secretary of State or the Assembly appoints an assessor he or it must notify every person entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry of the name of the assessor and of the matters on which he is to advise the inspector: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 10; Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 10. 'Assessor' means a person appointed by the Secretary of State or the Assembly to sit with an inspector at an inquiry or reopened inquiry to advise the inspector on such matters arising as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra).

11 For these purposes, 'document' includes a photograph, map or plan: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra).

12 See, in relation to England, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 2(2)-(8) (added by SI 2003/956). In the 2002 Rules, and in relation to the use of electronic communications for any purpose of those rules which is capable of being carried out electronically, the expression 'address' includes any number or address used for the purposes of such communications, except that where those rules impose an obligation on any person to provide a name and address to any other person, the obligation is not to be fulfilled unless the person on whom it is imposed provides a postal address (Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 2(2)(a) (as so added)); and references to statements, notices, or other documents, or to copies of such documents, include references to such documents or copies of them in electronic form (r 2(2)(b) (as so added)). Rule 2(4)-(8) (as so added) applies where an electronic communication is used by a person for the purpose of fulfilling any requirement in those rules to give or send any statement, notice or other document to any other person ('the recipient'): r 2(3) (as so added). The requirement is to be taken to be fulfilled where the notice or other document transmitted by means of the electronic communication is (1) capable of being accessed by the recipient; (2) legible in all material respects; and (3) sufficiently permanent to be used for subsequent reference; and for these purposes 'legible in all material respects' means that the information contained in the statement, notice or document is available to the recipient to no lesser extent than it would be if sent or given by means of a document in printed form: r 2(4), (5) (as so added). Where the electronic communication is received by the recipient outside the recipient's business hours, it is to be taken to have been received on the next working day; and for this purpose 'working day' means a day which is not a Saturday, Sunday, bank holiday or other public holiday: r 2(6) (as so added). A requirement in the 2000 Rules that any document should be in writing is fulfilled where that document meets the criteria in r 2(4) (as so added) (see heads (1)-(3) supra), and 'written' and cognate expressions are to be construed accordingly: r 2(7) (as so added). A requirement in those rules to send more than one copy of a statement or other document may be complied with by sending one copy only of the statement or other document in question: r 2(8) (as so added).

See further, in relation to Wales, the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 2(2)-(8) (added by SI 2004/3172).

For these purposes, 'electronic communication' has the meaning given in the Electronic Communications Act 2000 s 15(1) (as amended) (see CIVIL PROCEDURE vol 11 (2009) PARA 947; TELECOMMUNICATIONS AND BROADCASTING vol 45(1) (2005 Reissue) PARA 616): Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 2(1) (as renumbered: see note 5 supra).

Notices or documents required or authorised to be sent or supplied under the relevant 2002 or, as the case may be, the 2003 Rules may be sent or supplied by post or by using electronic communications to send or supply the notice or document (as the case may be) to a person at such address as may for the time being be specified by the person for that purpose: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 24 (substituted by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 24 (substituted by SI 2004/3172).

Where a person is no longer willing to accept the use of electronic communications for any purpose of the relevant 2002 or 2003 Rules which is capable of being effected electronically, he must give notice in writing: (a) withdrawing any address notified to the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or to a local planning authority for that purpose; or (b) revoking any agreement entered into with the Secretary of State (or the Assembly) or with a local planning authority for that purpose; and such withdrawal or revocation is to be final and to take effect on a date specified by the person in the notice but not less than seven days after the date on which the notice is given: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 24A (added by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 24A (added by SI 2004/3172).

695-696 Application of rules, Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications

Certain persons or indorsements mentioned in these paragraphs are specified for the purposes of Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 37, Schs 5, 6 (meaning of 'regulator' for the purposes of imposing civil sanctions): see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) PARA 196A.

696 Pre-inquiry procedure; use of electronic communications

NOTE 5--SI 2003/1270 r 4(1) amended: SI 2007/2285.

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/697. Statement of matters and pre-inquiry meetings.

697. Statement of matters and pre-inquiry meetings.

An inspector¹ may, within 12 weeks² of the starting date³, send to the appellant, the local planning authority⁴ and, in the case of an enforcement appeal⁵, any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice⁶ has been served, a written statement of the matters about which he particularly wishes to be informed for the purposes of his consideration of the enforcement or other appeal⁷.

An inspector must hold a pre-inquiry meeting⁸:

- 2828 (1) if he expects a relevant inquiry⁹ to last for four days or more, unless he considers it is unnecessary; or
- 2829 (2) for shorter inquiries, if it appears to him necessary¹⁰.

An inspector must give not less than two weeks' written notice¹¹ of a pre-inquiry meeting to:

- 2830 (a) the appellant;
- 2831 (b) the local planning authority;

- 2832 (c) any other person known to be entitled to appear at or take part in the inquiry¹²; and
- 2833 (d) any other person whose presence at the pre-inquiry meeting appears to him to be desirable¹³.

The inspector must preside at the pre-inquiry meeting¹⁴ and must determine the matters to be discussed and the procedure to be followed¹⁵. He may require any person present at the pre-inquiry meeting who, in his opinion, is behaving in a disruptive manner to leave and may refuse to permit that person to return or to attend any further pre-inquiry meeting, or may permit him to return or attend only on such conditions as he may specify¹⁶.

An inspector may request any further information from the appellant or the local planning authority at the pre-inquiry meeting¹⁷. The appellant and the local planning authority must, within four weeks of the conclusion of the pre-inquiry meeting:

- 2834 (i) send two copies¹⁸ of any further information so requested to the inspector; and
- 2835 (ii) in the case of an enforcement notice appeal, send a copy to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served¹⁹; and the inspector must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information received from the local planning authority to the appellant and a copy of any further information received from the appellant to the local planning authority²⁰.

PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/698. Statements of case.

698. Statements of case.

The local planning authority¹ must, within six weeks² of the starting date³, serve two copies⁴ of its statement of case⁵ on the Secretary of State⁶, in the case of a relevant inquiry to be held in England⁷, or on the National Assembly for Wales⁸, in the case of a relevant inquiry⁹ to be held in Wales¹⁰. In the case of an enforcement appeal¹¹, it must also serve a copy on any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice¹² has been served¹³. The appellant must, within six weeks of the starting date, serve two copies of his statement of case on the Secretary of State or on the Assembly and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, a copy on any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served¹⁴. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the local planning authority's statement of case to the appellant and a copy of the appellant's statement of case to the local planning authority¹⁵.

The appellant and the local planning authority may in writing¹⁶ each require the other to send them a copy of any document, or the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list of documents comprised in that party's statement of case; and any such document, or relevant part, must be sent, as soon as practicable, to the party who required it¹⁷.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing require any other person who has notified him or it of an intention or a wish to appear at or take part in the inquiry¹⁸ to serve:

- 2836 (1) three copies of that person's statement of case on him or on the Assembly within four weeks of being so required; and
- 2837 (2) in the case of an enforcement appeal, simultaneously, a copy of his statement of case on any person specified by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of each such statement of case to the local planning authority and to the appellant¹⁹. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable, send to any person from whom he or it so requires a statement of case a copy of the statements of case of the appellant and the local planning authority and must inform that person of the name and address of every person to whom his statement of case is required to be sent²⁰.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing require any person who has served on him or on it a statement of case in accordance with the above provisions to provide such further information about the matters contained in the statement of case as he or the Assembly may specify and may specify the time within which the information must be sent²¹. A local planning authority or appellant required to provide further information must send within the time specified:

- 2838 (a) two copies of that information in writing to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly; and
- 2839 (b) in the case of an enforcement appeal, a copy to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served, and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information received from the local planning authority to the appellant and a copy of the further information received from the appellant to the local planning authority²². Any other person required to provide further information must send within the time specified:

- 2840 (i) three copies of that information in writing to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly; and
- 2841 (ii) in the case of an enforcement appeal, a copy to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served,

and the Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the further information to the local planning authority and the appellant²³.

Any person other than the appellant who serves a statement of case on the Secretary of State or the Assembly must send with it a copy of any document, or of the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list comprised in that statement, unless a copy of the document or part of the document in question is already available²⁴ for inspection²⁵.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send to the inspector²⁶ any statement of case, document, further information and written comments sent to him or to the Assembly in accordance with the above provisions and received by him or by it within the relevant period, if any, specified therein²⁷.

The local planning authority must give any person who so requests a reasonable opportunity²⁸ to inspect and, where practicable, take copies of:

- 2842 (A) any statement of case, written comments, further information or other document a copy of which has been sent to the local planning authority in accordance with the above provisions; and

2843 (B) the local planning authority's completed questionnaire²⁹ and statement of case together with a copy of any document, or of the relevant part of any document, referred to in the list comprised in that statement, and any written comments, information or other document sent by the local planning authority pursuant to those provisions³⁰.

If the local planning authority or the appellant wish to comment on another person's statement of case, they must send, within nine weeks of the starting date, two copies of their written comments to the Secretary of State or the Assembly and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, a copy of their written comments to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served³¹. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the written comments received from the appellant to the local planning authority and a copy of the written comments received from the local planning authority to the appellant³². Any person, other than the local planning authority or the appellant, who serves a statement of case on the Secretary of State or the Assembly under the above provisions and who wishes to comment on another person's statement of case must send, not less than four weeks before the date fixed for the holding of the inquiry, three copies of his written comments to the Secretary of State or to the Assembly and, in the case of an enforcement appeal, a copy of his written comments to any person on whom a copy of the enforcement notice has been served³³. The Secretary of State or the Assembly must, as soon as practicable after receipt, send a copy of the written comments to the local planning authority and to the appellant³⁴.

1 For the meaning of 'local planning authority' for these purposes see PARA 696 note 5 ante.

2 As to the extension of time limits see PARA 696 note 5 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'starting date' see PARA 696 note 5 ante.

4 Where electronic communications are used, only one copy need be sent: see PARA 696 note 12 ante.

5 'Statement of case' means, and is comprised of, a written statement which contains full particulars of the case which a person proposes to put forward at an inquiry, and a list of any documents which that person intends to refer to or put in evidence: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 2(1) (renumbered by SI 2004/3172). The local planning authority must include in its statement of case details of the time and place where the opportunity will be given to inspect and take copies described in the text to notes 28-30 infra and including, in any case in which the local planning authority relies on the provision set out in note 28 infra, the details mentioned in that provision: Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 6(2) (amended by SI 2003/956); Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (Wales) Rules 2003, SI 2003/1270, r 6(2) (amended by SI 2004/3172). For the meaning of 'document' see PARA 696 note 12 ante.

6 As to the Secretary of State see PARA 19 ante. The inspector may act in place of the Secretary of State for the purposes of certain provisions of the Town and Country Planning (Enforcement) (Determination by Inspectors) (Inquiries Procedure) (England) Rules 2002, SI 2002/2685, r 6 (as amended): see PARA 696 note 5 ante.

TEXT AND NOTE 31--After 'starting date' add 'or, where a pre-inquiry meeting has been held, within seven weeks of the conclusion of that meeting,': SI 2003/1270 r 6(14) (amended by SI 2007/2285).

Halsbury's Laws of England/TOWN AND COUNTRY PLANNING (VOLUME 46(1) (REISSUE) PARAS 1-550; VOLUME 46(2) (REISSUE) PARAS 551-1008; VOLUME 46(3) (REISSUE) PARAS 1009-1508)/7. PLANNING INQUIRIES; IN GENERAL/(1) LOCAL INQUIRIES/(iii) Inquiries before Appeals determined by Inspectors/B. ENFORCEMENT ETC APPEALS/699. Date and notification of the inquiry.

699. Date and notification of the inquiry.

The date fixed by the Secretary of State¹ for the holding of a relevant inquiry² in England, or by the National Assembly for Wales³ for the holding of a relevant inquiry⁴ in Wales, must be:

- 2844 (1) not later than 20 weeks⁵ after the starting date⁶ unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly considers such a date impracticable; or
- 2845 (2) the earliest date after that period which he or it considers to be practicable⁷.

Unless the Secretary of State or the Assembly agrees a lesser period of notice with the appellant and the local planning authority⁸, he or it must give not less than four weeks' written notice⁹ of the date, time and place fixed by him or by the Assembly for the holding of an inquiry to every person entitled to appear at the inquiry¹⁰.

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may vary the date fixed for the holding of an inquiry, whether or not the date as varied is within the period of 20 weeks mentioned above¹¹. He or it may also vary the time or place for the holding of an inquiry and must give such notice as appears to him or to it to be reasonable¹².

The Secretary of State or the Assembly may in writing¹³ require the local planning authority to take one or more of the following steps:

- 2846 (a) not less than two weeks before the date fixed for the holding of an inquiry, to publish a notice of the inquiry in one or more newspapers circulating in the locality in which the land¹⁴ is situated;
- 2847 (b) to send a notice of the inquiry to such persons or classes of persons as he or the Assembly may specify, within such period as he or it may specify; or
- 2848 (c) to post a notice of the inquiry in a conspicuous place near to the land, within such period as he or it may specify¹⁵.

Where the land is under the control of the appellant, he must:

- 2849 (i) if so required in writing by the Secretary of State or the Assembly, affix a notice of the inquiry firmly to the land or to some object on or near the land, in such manner as to be readily visible to and legible by members of the public; and
- 2850 (ii) not remove the notice, or cause or permit it to be removed, for such period before the inquiry as the Secretary of State or the Assembly may specify¹⁶.

Every notice of inquiry so published, sent or posted¹⁷, or so affixed¹⁸, must contain:

- 2851 (A) a clear statement of the date, time and place of the inquiry and of the powers enabling the inspector¹⁹ to determine the appeal in question;
- 2852 (B) a written description of the land sufficient to identify approximately its location;
- 2853 (C) a brief description of the subject matter of the appeal; and
- 2854 (D) details of where and when copies of the local planning authority's completed questionnaire²⁰ and any document²¹ sent by and copied to the authority pursuant to the relevant statutory provisions²² may be inspected²³.
